College Theater Opens Semester With Change
In Production Policies

The College Theater is sponsoring three numbers, "Natalie," "The Sun," and "The Song of the West," under the supervision of A. W. Burdett. These numbers, which are to be presented on a single evening, are to be presented to the entire class.

College Band Arranges Novelty Program For Thurs.

The College Band will "swing out" at an assembly program Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The program will include numbers of the usual swing, sweet, and novelty selections. The band will present their stirring march "Voice of the Gun" by Kenneth Alford. Rubie Brownos' "soliloquy" will follow the March. Mrs. F. J. Garner's "Gay Grae" by Ferde Grofe who wrote the music for the Hearst Feature film will be presented.

"E. T." Assumed Official Duties Thurs., Feb. 2nd

"E. T." will continue to teach only one of his former history classes—History 212. Helenee Civilization—which is one of his hobbies. The other classes that he formerly taught will be divided between Miss Fredrickson and Doctor H. M. Tito. This will be the first time, in the history of the College Theater, that three numbers, "Natalie," "The Sun," and "The Song of the West," under the supervision of A. W. Burdett. These numbers, which are to be presented on a single evening, are to be presented to the entire class.

A Student Program Committee under the supervision of L. M. Burton will select three numbers, which prove most promising and present them to the College for consideration of production.

An experienced group presented the first play "All for the Love of Mike" last Thursday at 3:30. The play had an all-girl cast and was directed by Barbara Gohm. The art director was Lillian Boe. She took the part of the shut-in wife in the play which was a "Apple Car." In charge of the properties was Evelyn Daret, the production assistant, whose acts were Madeline Davel, Janette Van Salla, and Eleanor Recht. All of these girls have been active in College theater work.

Last Tuesday the second play of the series was presented under the direction of A. W. Burdett. "Hannes" by Parnell "Poverty" by Hans Allin was a tragedy, and the characters were handled by Lawrence Zioski, Gerald Hirtel, Eileen Rose, and Edward Deutch. Miss Rose was in charge of properties.

Other directors for the following presentations are: Early Siebert, Joe Rognert, Barbara Greels, Margaret Becker, Harlow Heininger, Eleanor Ruchti and Janette Van Salla.

German Band Entertains "Rural Lifeers" At Meeting

The Rural Life Band under the direction of Kenneth Barrels gave its first appearance before the college Monday afternoon at the band meeting and was heartily applauded by an appreciative audience of some 1,000 students. The band numbers included two popular songs, "Isabella and Marie" and "The Great Western World," along with one of aDer Flatterer.

On an occasion which is entirely student initiated and directed.
C. S. T. C. Students Enjoy Well-Balanced Program

Life at Central State has a recreational side as well as an interesting as that of any college or university.

FIVE IMPORTANT

The president of University in a nearby state has expressed his conception of education as including first several points. Namely—cultural, physical, moral, spiritual, and aesthetic. Unless one is growing and developing in each of these ways he is not being truly educated.

CENTRAL STATE OFFERS MUCH

For the first time, of course, we have an extensive curriculum which very well meets the needs of students training for teachers as well as for getting their pre-requisites for other courses.

Some of these phases overlap each other—such as the cultural, moral, spiritual, and aesthetic phases. There is a chance for spiritual and moral development in the various religious organizations and clubs in the city as well as in the wholesome relations with our fellow students and faculty.

Aesthetic growth is enhanced by the Band, orchestra and other college theater groups. We may see good plays, hear good music, and read good poetry.

MANY SOCIAL

The other night our college FUNCTIONS "little party to a party." That was but the beginning of the many social activities we may share in. We have fraternity parties, clubs, dances, parties and football games.

However, social development implies more than just going to parties and dancing. It is of the utmost importance every day contact we make with the others. The final point to consider is physical development. We are very fortunate in this respect. For the men who did not do military service, we have an intramural program of athletic activities that any college would have to go some distance to duplicate.

Central State isn’t such a bad place after all.

HUMOR

"What is your chief worry?"
"Money."
"Don’t you know you have any?"
"Haven’t."

Super-sophisticated gal to innocent Alpha: "Would you like to know something?"
"Oh?"
"Yes, well—"

Approaching finals remind us of the meanest man: A professor, who, when assured that students had studied hard for a scheduled three-hour exam, said that was the case, he wouldn’t have to give it. And didn’t.

Dormites Elect New Counselors For Semester

As part of their duties as members of the student council, the new members of the House of Representatives, the Student Body, elected new counselors to serve for the year. Some of them go out at the end of the year, and new counselors are elected to serve for the next year. The new counselors are elected by the students who have gone out during the past semester. New counselors are elected to serve for the next year. This year, the new counselors are Ralph H. Clark, Edward J. Johnson, William D. Kees, and Charles E. Merz.

Nature In The Raw Is Seldom Mild

Not so long ago, one of the tobacco companies used the slogan, "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild," to emphasize that its products had been specially treated. In rebuttal, a rival company emphasized upon the health hazards of smoking. "Your Can't Improve upon Nature." Now, another rival company is promoting a new brand of tobacco that is said to be less toxic than the old brands.

The councilors represent the interests of the students in their student government which is headed by William J. Finch.

Omea Mu Chi

The Omea Mu Chi, the sorority sponsored last Saturday night, February 1st, proved to be one of the most successful events of the year. The sorority chapter consists entirely of white women and is an active member of the University Women's Club. The group met at the home of Miss Omea Mu Chi, a member of the sorority who has gone out during the past semester. Some of the group members became so interested in the meeting that they stayed longer than expected.

The meeting was held in the living room of Miss Omea Mu Chi, and the group was entertained by several songs and dances. The group members enjoyed the music and dancing, and the atmosphere was very lively.

In summary, the Omea Mu Chi meeting was a successful event that brought together the sorority chapter and its members.

COED'S COLUMN

W.A.A. is open to all girls interested in social and cultural activities. W.A.A. is a non-profit organization that provides a supportive community for girls on campus. The group meets on the second Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Debutante Hall.

In the mixed group tournament, Annie T. and her partner were matched against the team of Elizabeth J. and Susan B. The match was very close, but in the end, Annie T. and her partner emerged victorious. The team of Elizabeth J. and Susan B. showed great sportsmanship and played well throughout the game.

The group members enjoyed each other's company and looked forward to the next meeting. The W.A.A. meetings are a great way to meet new people and have fun.

In the basketball game, the team of Elizabeth J. and Susan B. emerged victorious against the team of Annie T. and her partner. The game was very intense, and both teams played well. The team of Elizabeth J. and Susan B. showed great teamwork and played well throughout the game.

The Pointer
February 8, 1939

Oshkosh, the conference leaders will arrive in town at 7:30 a.m. to see if they can give the Pointers another conference set back. Already snarling under the sting of an early season loss at the hands of Kansas men, the Titans hope for revenge and prove that they are worthy of their top position in the conference. Although the Purple and Gold won from Oshkosh earlier in the season, the Titans still took the game on a far superior 24-0 victory the previous spring.

We are not quite ready to sell the Purple and Gold short as yet. As a result of their loss to Platteville last week, we look to see them making an offensive gain in this future, possibly Saturday. The loss of Fred Nem has worn off to some extent and maybe the boys can keep going without him now. A t any rate 24-0 will be another good gain, appointed basketball them.

A little support from lady luck would also help at this stage of the game.

Oshkosh Has Stars

The Titans are still banking upon the services of Becker a guard, and Daniele at center. Both Danieli and Becker are classy players and will give the fans a real evening of entertainment. Sports a forward is also a man that will bear watching by the Point defensive set.

Linup Changed
The Point lineup has been jiggled considerably during the past week or games and the starting lineup for Saturday's game looks like:

R. Terzynski who lead the Purgals against the Titans will again fill the gap at a forward against the forward line. Pete Young will again fill the gap at a forward

The Pointer

Pointers Lose To
Pioneers Friday
All good things must come to an end and the Pointer's winning streak was smashed sharply yesterday. The Pointers last Friday night at the hands of the Platteville Pioneers. The game was a win and at no time did either team enjoy a lead of more than seven points. The score ended 41-33, Pointers a 30-28 victory.

Pointers Off Form
Little excuse can be made for the first half of the game. The boys were nothing but on and did not look well in the first half of the game. Their shooting was the best that the Pointers have been at all this season and their floor work was only flashy at times. On the other side of the court we had the Platteville team playing a smooth, good game, after a short start. The shooting of the Pointers was of the Weiland, with eight for five frames. No one.
