Committee On Radio And Visual Education Hear Reports On New Projects

The Committee on Radio and Visual Education, composed of members of the faculties of the University of Wisconsin and of Central State Teachers College who are interested in the development of radio and visual aids in education, met in the Office of the Dean of the School of Education of the University Monday afternoon, February twentieth.

This was the third meeting of the Committee and it was called to hear and discuss the report of a sub-committee outlining several possible research projects including experiments in the fields of Physical and Social Science on the Secondary and College level.

Dr. Reppen Delegate
The sub-committee was instructed to proceed to elaborate the plans for the projects proposed. Dr. Reppen was a delegate from Central State Teacher's College.

SENIORS NOTE!
Forum is sponsoring a number of assemblies in the near future. All students in the high school are especially urged to be present. The program for speakers is scheduled as follows:
March 16 Mr. Krause, Stevens Point
March 30 Mr. Bannerman, Wausau
April 13 Mr. Luther, Antigo

Debaters Return After Twin City Tourney; 101 Colleges, Universities Present

Laske, Haferbecher End Debate Work At St. Paul

The "Laske-Haferbecher" combination has finished its final debate season as representative of Central State Teachers College. Ben Laske and Gordon Haferbecher ended their debating careers at Stevens Point with the close of the Northwest Tournament at Saint Paul last week.

Both of these men have established enviable records in debate work while in school and will be lost to the squad by graduation this spring. For the past two years this team has been awarded the Lions Club plaque for excellence in debate. This award is made annually to the team winning the greatest percentage of its intercollegiate debates.

Ben, who was captain of the debate squad last year, was president of the Forensic Society this year, and finishes four years

Directors To Present Work Early In April

Wednesday, April 12, is the date that has been tentatively set for College Theater's first evening performance of the second semester according to a report from the Board of Directors. The program will consist of three one-act plays of different types.

The Board of Directors decided which three plays were to be voted upon by the College Theater membership. Two of the proposed plays were accepted. The board then selected an original to replace the rejected one and appointed the student directors.

Student Directors

The original play "Verdict by Tradition," which was written by Lawrence Jozwiak, will be directed by Barbara Gerdes. The play is a comedy and will be the second student-written play to be presented on the C.S.T.C. stage under College Theater supervision. The other one was "A Penny a Day" which was written by Phil Runkel. It was directed by Kathryn Becker last year.

The other two will be a highland farce, "Rory Aforesaid" and a tragedy, "Poverty." "Rory Aforesaid" was written by John Brandane and will be directed by Harlow Henninger. Betty Hanon will direct "Poverty" which was written by Hans Alin.

Tryouts for participation in these three plays were held last Tuesday, in Mr. Burroughs' and Mr. Jenkins' rooms and on the stage.

of debating activities. Gordon has been active in debate for the past two years and since that time has worked with his present team partner. Ben was business manager of the debate squad last year and Gordon assumed these duties this year. Gordon is this year's debate team captain and recently worked as chairman of the local invitational tournament.

Last year this team won 17 of 22 debates and this year 17 of 28 in intercollegiate competition. This gives them a record of 34 wins as against 16 losses, and these against the better college teams of the country. They have won debates from such formidable opponents as Carleton College, Hastings, St. Thomas, and St. Catherine, and St. Olaf, Hastings, St. Thomas, St. Cathryn, and Carleton have been major tournament winners during the past two years. Both Ben and Gordon are active in many other student activities around the college.

Local P.T.A. Sponsors Program At Endeavor

Tomorrow evening, March 9th, thirty members of the Men's Glee Club are traveling to Endeavor where they will present a concert to the public at Endeavor High School.

The appearance of the organization in that city last year was made before a capacity crowd, and is being sponsored by the same group, the Parent Teachers Association, this year.

Steiners To Attend

The organization will leave at 4:30 and will have supper at Hancock. The return trip will be made the same night. Dean Steiner and Mrs. Steiner will drive down for the evening, and Warren LeRoux is also furnishing a car. The old school bus will be used, and this will be the last time it is to be pressed into service.

The following program will be presented:
I Love a Parade ..... Arlen
Salutation ..... Bentz
Border Ballad ..... Maunders
Ave Maris Stella ..... Grieg
The Cossack ..... MacDowell
The Lost Chord (Solo by Russell

DEBATE SEASON CLOSES; SQUAD WINS 8 OUT OF 24 IN FINAL ROUND

Climaxing a successful season the college debate squad returned last Wednesday evening with their coach, Leland M. Burroughs, after winning eight of twenty-four debates against college teams of the United States. One hundred and one teams were entered for the three days of competition at the Northwest Debate Tourney at St. Paul.

Win 3 of 6

The teams of Ben Laske and Gordon Haferbecher, Jayne Akins and Jane Johnson, won three out of six of their debates. The other Stevens Point entries were Sara Anderson, Margaret Becker, Joe Ophoven and Ben Kordus.

Some of the outstanding teams which Central State met were Augustana, Gustavus Adolphus, Nebraska Wesleyan, and Omaha University.

Pump-Priming

Ben Kordus and Gordon Haferbecher debated before the Rotary Club Monday noon and Exchange Club in the evening. The subject considered was again the one-of-government-pump-priming.

Other members of the Forensic Society who have not been taking part in the inter-collegiate tournaments are making plans for the sponsoring of a High School Forensic Contest, to be held on Saturday, March 22, and Monday, March 24.

Covers Many Cities In Publicity Trip

The Central State Teachers College Band, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, makes its annual concert tour of Wisconsin cities from March 13 to 18. Fifty members of the band will make the tour in the new bus and a Greyhound bus.

Members of the band always look forward to this annual trip, and the concerts that are given in the various towns. Musical selections in the repertoire range from the well-known classics to modern music.

Itinerary

The first concerts of the tour will be presented on March 13 at Thorp and Bloomer. The other concerts follow: March 14—Neillsville, West Salem; March 15—Viroqua, Richland Center; March 16—Sauk City, Baraboo;

Announcement was made today that Miss Carmelita Wirkus of Edgar would lead the Junior Promenade with Prom King Marvin Olson in the P.J. Jacobs High School, April 29, 1939.

Miss Wirkus is an active Tau Beta and is enrolled in the sophomore class. She is also a member of the Primary Council.

Atwood Silent

Following Miss Wirkus and Olson in the grand march will be General Chairman Mason Atwood, who stated that he has not as yet selected his escort.

Promenaders will dance in a typical spring setting at their social season's most outstanding formal ball. One of radio's leading name bands, a colored swing band, will play for the ball.

Bernie Young's Music

Bernie Young's orchestra, which has been booked for the prom will be situated on the floor midway along the north wall. Bob Bretzke, chairman of the decorations committee, has selected the spring decoration motif. Maroon has been chosen

Gormley Advocates Dancing To Insure Poise, Grace And Dignity

All types of swing from 8:15-9:30.

"In this busy modern world, 8:15 until 9:30, Miss Gormley has set aside an hour and a quarter for a type of recreation all should enjoy. Modern music is swing out, from jitterbug to the old type of Grand Waltz.

In this busy modern world, leisure takes an added tang. Whether you are in an office, school, shop, or home, you feel the need of recreation when the long day's work is over. The normal person, who has been using his head or his hands for

THIS WEEK AND NEXT

The Men's Glee Club will present a program over WLBL this afternoon at 3:45.

Photo Club will meet at 4 P.M. today in Mr. Rogers' lecture room. Iris pictures will be taken at that time. Everyone is urged to be present because this is to be an important meeting.

4 P.M. today "Problems of the Day" will be heard over WLBL.

The Y.W.C.A. will meet Thursday, March 9 at Nelson Hall. Part of the time will be spent in a social hour in which tea etiquette will be discussed. It is important that everyone be there—the details of the Silver Tea shall be planned.

Grammar Round Table will meet next Monday, March 13 in Mr. Watson's room. Mr. Jayne will be featured on the program with a movie.

THE WISDOM CORNER

DOC BEN

It seems that whenever some columnist, writing in this sheet, digs up something that really is news and ought to be commented upon he gets a "panning" from all sides. It might be worth remembering in the future that we write what we think, we are guided by the interpretation we place on past experiences, our own and others. You may condemn us but the news must out. Whether it be faculty or students that are rubbed, the salient point still remains, if you can't explain your actions afterwards, perhaps it were better if you didn't act.

Each year the Iris, it seems, brings into the foreground one of my favorite gripping subjects. Fraternity conduct is such that occasionally they forget what makes it possible for them to exist. Whenever any organizations through their behavior over a span of years, demonstrate that they would sacrifice the school to further their own ends, it is time someone performed a major operation.

Rival groups sometimes become so obsessed with this spirit of rivalry that they lose sight of the whole. Obstinate they will pursue their course, regardless of the consequences.

To a casual observer the existing feud may seem trivial, but the grievances they hold toward each other may not be all air. Even when one was stronger than the other, it was still "the devil take care of the guy that comes between us". The weaker felt that it could not stoop to ask cooperation but would engage in more subtle but less obvious tactics. These so-called grievances are accumulative, gathering impetus for the coming storm.

I fear that there is a violent hurricane on the way. It can be forestalled. But the initiative must come from within. It must be handled by strong leadership. It must be driven home to every individual member. In the absence of a Student Senate, the obvious place to begin would be the Greek Council. There people should face the council. These people should face the fact that if they keep on at the pace they have set for themselves there can

TO A CHEMIST'S DAUGHTER
Slender girl with red-brown curls,

Lift your face this way,
I long to plant upon your lips
a kiss—

May I, someday?
I know 't would be a pleasure to hold you—

In my arms,
But you don't give me a bit of encouragement,

And alas! your charms
Are wasted.....
Won't you let me tell you
How I love you,—and you alone?
I want so very much to have you,
And call you my very own.....

Coupled with Greek Council initiative, a bit of well-directed faculty cooperation would add power to the solving of this important.

Here's to a happy solution!!!!

"Ain't It The Truth"

Every Monday night the Rural Life Club regales us in the Pointer office with some lusty vocalizing. They really clear the pipes and let loose and it's fine singing, but why, when Spring is just around the corner, do they open the program with "Jingle Bells"? Maybe they're trying to keep in mind that there are only 292 shopping days until Christmas.

You jitterbugs who like hot and sweet swing might get pally with Arnie Mossler and Glen Gilman. Glen and Arnie have an apartment down here on Main and have somehow managed to squeeze in a bed there among all their recording. This is on the level, they've really assembled a swing library worthy of a collector's eye.

When Bud Menzel attended the first pledge meeting at P.S.E. House last week, he was told with the rest of the pledges that there would be no gambling during pledge period. Buddy's face fell at this news. In fact, he looked quite as if some one stole his girl. Finally he piped up, "Do you guys know that you're taking away my livelihood?" Any "disbelievers of this yarn, just hand Bud a deck of cards and try not to act too surprised when he makes them do anything but talk.

And then there's the poor little Tau Gam pledge, called "Goo-goo", who put a modern Mother Goose rime on that estimable sisterhood's bulletin board the first day of pledging—

The rime, some little thing about Jack and Jill, evidently offended the ears of the more sensitive members of T.G.B. It was something that gave all of us who read it a laugh. We're willing to bet that "Goo-goo" hadn't read the verse very closely before she pinned it up, so take it easy on her at the next pledge meeting, Tau Gams.

The fraternities and sororities seem to be going in for mass production this year—at that it's about time—they've finally got over the old idea that the fewer pledges an outfit takes in, the ritzier is the outfit—glad to see the change of heart—

However, just a friendly word to the man with the beef—we don't deny your right to it but we've seen a lot of petitions come and go and all they've ever amounted to is a gang of autographs. Now we've always admired a nice bit of agitation, so we'll give you some hints. Start an Anti-Pointer Club, charge dues, get some nice red circulars printed telling why the Pointer is so lousy, and pass these out free in the halls. If that doesn't work, you can always throw a bomb in the Pointer office and put things out of commission permanently.

Meta and Pogy came back to school this Monday each with a new pair of wooden shoes with nice thick soles on them. The shoes make a clatter as they walk along—sort of to warn any cookie who gets smart that they're just as handy at kicking as they are at clacking.—Hope that all the gals don't get kickers like these or it's going to be tough on us males.

Is Experience The Best Teacher?

Experience is the best teacher, says the old saw. Its truth depends on the nature of the lesson. When a lesson can be learned without serious harm, experience is indeed the best, and sometimes the only teacher. But when learning a lesson entails damage to property, serious injury or death, then experience has applied the rod with a severity that defeats its purpose.

WE LEARN FROM EXPERIENCES OF OTHERS

When safety is the lesson to be learned, experience is the best teacher only when it is somebody else's experience. The experience of losing his life is wasted on the driver or pedestrian killed in an automobile accident. The experience of months in a hospital cot or of weeks in a law court is costly tuition for one's education in traffic safety. If we wish to avoid these dire costs, we must apply the experience of others to ourselves.

ASSIGNMENT FROM PASTEUR

On the occasion of the founding of the Institute Pasteur in 1888, Louis Pasteur closed his oration with the following words:

"Two opposing laws seem to me now in contest. The one, the law of blood and death, opening out each day new modes of destruction, forcing nations to be always ready for battle. The other, a law of peace, work, and health whose only aim is to deliver man from the calamities which beset him. The one seeks violent conquests, the other the relief of mankind. The one places a single life above all victories. The other sacrifices thousands of lives to the ambition of a single individual. . . Which of these laws will prevail, God alone knows. But of this we may be sure, that science in obeying the law of humanity, will always labor to enlarge the frontiers of life."

Fifty years have passed, but world problems remain much the same. Forces of destruction continually threaten the welfare of mankind, while science labors to preserve it.

Those who labor in the cause of accident prevention are carrying on in the tradition of the great "Pasteur." They include public officials, public spirited citizens and publicists, educators, engineers and safety experts. They too are enlarging the frontiers of life. May their unselfish efforts in this new conquest achieve success, as did those of Louis Pasteur and his associates on other social problems a half century ago.

CSTC Band To Make Annual Tour

March 17—Markesan, and Ne-koosa.

Soloists who will assist the band in these concerts are: Marguerite Adams—Baritone, Evelyn Schwingel—Xylophone, Kenneth Storandt—Clarinet, Fred Parfrey—Piccolo, Eyleene Atkins—Soprano, and a cornet trio—Arnold Jindrick, Arnold Mossler, and LaVerne Olingry.

Advertises College

The purpose of the band-tour, as stated by Fred Parfrey, student director of the band, is "not only to give band members a good time, and a chance to display talents, but primarily to advertise our college and its music department."

Several student directors will assist Mr. Michelsen in directing the musical selections in the concerts.

Money To Be Used By Committee On Building And Grounds

Acting President E. T. Smith stated that he had received a telegram from the United States Senator Alexander Wiley to the effect that Presidential approval of a W. P. A. project at Central State Teachers College totaling $10,108 had been given. This money covers improvements to buildings and grounds. After final approval is obtained by the state administrator, the project still depends upon the availability of funds.

The application for the funds was made last fall. The out-of-door improvements apply to the campus and also the athletic field while the building renovations are to be in the basement of the main building.

New Studio In Main

President Smith also announced that a substantial sum will be expended for a radio studio in the building. The studio will be used by students in connection with the new department of radio and visual education. The approval of this W. P. A. project had previously been received.

POINT TRIPS CONCORDIA 23-18 IN FINAL POINTERS LOSE TO QUAKEERS

Women "Trojans" Defeat Rurals In Tourney Finals

The basketball tournament ended last Wednesday when the "Trojans" defeated the "Rurals" 37 to 14. Betty Gustin was the high scorer of the game having made 13 points, Eleanor Theisen second high with 10 points. Four teams participated in the tournament. Following the game was the "Basketball Bite" supper and dancing.

Names

The victorious "Trojan" girls — G. Melchoir, E. Theisen, R. Ottem, N. Steiner, B. Gustin, J. Halvorsen, D. Ingham, A. Angus, and G. Zakrzewski will be awarded basketball medals in the near future.

Other Things

The volleyball tournament began Monday, March 6. Every girl who is interested will be put on a team and the more teams the better.

MIDGET, PHI SIGS CLASH FOR TITLE

The season of intramural basketball will come to an end tonight when the Phi Sigs will tackle the Midgets for the championship of the school. Both teams have been playing good ball all winter and a good game is expected. The seasons record of the two teams is almost identical. The Midgets have a record of seven wins and two losses while the Phi Sigs have eight wins as compared to one setback. The game will bring together the two intramural scoring aces in the persons of Bill Miller and Ken Parr.

Nimz And Warner Make Good 'Showing'

The basketball season came to an end last week with two games, one on Friday against Whitewater and on Saturday a non-conference game against Concordia at Milwaukee. Whitewater defeated Point in the last conference game of the season by a 45-32 score. In the game Saturday night, Point squeezed out a 23-18 victory over a non-conference foe, Concordia.

The Purgolds started the Whitewater game as though they meant business. Throughout the first half they played a good floor game and coupled this with some fairly accurate shooting. The half ended 24-23 for Kotal's boys. During the first half Hank Warner and Nimz stood out, their shooting and floor work was what kept the boys in the game. The rest of the squad added in to provide a smooth working unit. During the second half Austin, Whitewater center, found the hoop and Plyer also scored a few buckets. Shortly after the half had begun Whitewater had gained an eight point lead which the Purgolds, try as they might, could never overcome. The game ended with Whitewater pulling away to a 45-32 lead.

For Whitewater, Austin stood out with six field goals and four three throws for a total of sixteen mashers. For Point, Warner looked best with five baskets and one gift toss. A large crowd attended the game.

"Burch-barkS"

CHARLIE BURCH

When is the S-club going to strengthen itself to the extent that it can stand for something worthwhile in the school. How about a regular meeting night? The fraternities and sororities have them as well as all the other organizations in school which have any "oomph" at all. So far we have an S-club in name only. There aren't very many of the folks in school who do not belong to the organization that realize such a group exists here at all. How many of the S-club members know who the officers of the organization are?

Disregarding the most powerful team in the Conference (Protest), we didn't have such a bad season after all. We won 12 out of 17 games for a score of .705. That's not bad either when one takes into consideration the fact that the team was originally built around Freddie Nimz and then, all at once, he was taken away; thereby accomplishing the same result as knocking the foundation from under a scaffold.

When we think of our Varsity teams, we are too prone to forget the important part the student managers play in the course of the season. They put in plenty of long hours down there in the office dishing out equipment and the only pay they ever get is an S-sweater for their four years' work and more bawling-outs than the whole team (football and basketball) put together.

Take Listless Game At Milwaukee

On Saturday night, the basketball season came to a close with the Pointers pulling a 23-18 game out of the fire. A Concordia team which was defeated badly by Stevens Point here in the earlier part of the season put up a stubborn battle all the way through before losing to a tired Point team. We can attribute the Point showing to the fact that they played a hard game against Whitewater the night before. The half found the Purgolds ahead by an 8-7 score. During the second half the marksmanship of the Purple and Gold showed a great improvement and proved sufficient to gain a victory. The final score of 23-18 just about indicates the difference between the two teams.

For Stevens Point Hank Warner again lead the way with Hank Nimz tying him for scoring honors each making two buckets and three free throws. Last, of Concordia, was their most patient threat with four free throws.

The basketball team stayed in Milwaukee on both nights of the two day trip.
