"Frenchies" To Madison

Social Science Club In Active Discussion

Social Science Club held its fourth semi-monthly meeting Wednesday night in the President Sim's Library. A very interesting discussion pertaining to the Pure Foods and Drugs Law was carried on with Matt Knedle and Elroy Florence presenting prepared papers on the subject.

During the discussion it was noted that there are numerous loop holes in our present laws in relation to the adulteration of foods and drugs. Harmfulness of misrepresented goods was also discussed.

Pure Food Law

The general opinion of the group seemed to lean toward the possibilities of curbing "counterfeiting" and "racketeering" of the food and drug products by means of enlightenment of the public through education.

Budget Cut

The next regular meeting will be held March 22, when Bernard Johnson and Edwin Lietz will lead a timely discussion relative to the state budget allotments for the University and the nine state teachers colleges.

Grant Secured For New Radio Studios

President E. T. Smith announced last Monday that final approval of the $10,107 W.P.A. project had been received and that he expected the work on the new studios would begin by March 28. The new studios will be situated in the northeast part of the basement which was formerly occupied by Home-Economics rooms.

The plans for the new studios were drawn by Mr. J. D. Colby and Mr. Redmond in the State Engineers Office at Madison. Mr. Colby has been appointed to represent the school by President Smith.

W.P.A.!

The labor will be done by W.P.A. workers and the materials will be furnished by the state. The work will be supervised by Mr. Colby and Mr. Rusch, who is the director of the city W.P.A. projects.

New Press Box

Part of the allotment will be used for taking care of the camera and the building of a press box on Schmeckle field. A part will also be used to fix up College Theater's new office and work room.

Davis Plans Trip To Madison Play

Thirty-two students of French classes will go to Madison on Saturday, March 18 to attend a French stage play. Miss Mildred Davis, French teacher, has made arrangements for this trip, and will accompany the group to Madison. Starting from C.S.T.C. on Saturday morning, the students will attend the play at Bascom Hall in the afternoon.

Play in French

The play to be given is the well-known stage production "Prenz-garde! a la Pernture." This play will be presented in French by advanced students and faculty members of the French Department. The play was screened several years ago under the title "The Late Christopher Bean," starring Marie Dressler and Lionel Barrymore.

After the play, the French students will be entertained at a Tea served at the French house, "Mademoiselle Francaise."

College Theater Obtains New Student Designed Workroom

Work began last week on College Theater's new office and workroom which is the result of arrangements made by Dr. P. H. Falk and President Smith. The room is situated at the extreme northeast corner of the basement and was formerly a Home-Ec. kitchen. The work is expected to be completed in a week or so and will be ready for use for the Theater's next production.

Design

The plans and designs were done by the stage crew. This crew is also doing the construction work. These plans include: new cabinets for costumes, new shelves for properties, tables and sinks for make-up work, and space for changing of costumes. The need for such equipment and space had been noticed during other performances.

NOTICES

The senior class dues of $3.50 must be paid at the counter before April 15. If these are not paid before this date, diploma covers for delinquent members will not be ordered.

"Silver Tea" Planned By YWCA March 21st

Adopting the slogan, "a dime or two is the least you can do" the Y.W.C.A. is sponsoring a tea at the Home Ec. parlors March 21 in an effort to raise funds to send a delegate to The Y.W.C.A. Geneva Conference this summer.

The theme for this "silver" tea will be the official celebration of spring. According to one of the Y.W.C.A.'s the following can be said, "Come and celebrate Spring! Winter is officially over next Tuesday, March 21, and the Y.W.C.A. is making the most of it by giving a Silver Tea in the Home Economics Parlors from four to six p. m. This will be a good opportunity for everyone to get better acquainted, and to meet those people whom you've never met before.

Be There

Come on, boys, don't be sissies. Emily Post states that it is essential for every person to be able to conduct himself at a tea. This is your chance, so make the most of it.

Initiation For Newman Club Planned; Activities Are Defined In Notice

Final plans for the formal initiation of candidates for the Newman Club have been formulated and the date for the rites has been set for Thursday, March 16th.

This club is a national institution organized to perpetuate the practical theological work started by Cardinal Newman for the benefit of youth. Their program incorporates the practices of critical thinking, christian idealization, in conjunction with well-defined social activities.

Central State Boxing Squad Meets Ripon

The Central State Boxing Squad, coached by "Mick" McGuire, will meet the Ripon College team tonight in the training school gymnasium in the first inter-school card of the season.

Eight bouts will be staged in all divisions from 115 pounds up to and including the heavyweight class. The Ripon boys will attempt to even scores with the local "pugs" who are now one up in matches won. (Ripon held the Point to a draw in one card last season after having been defeated 6½ to 2½ by the Point team earlier in the season).

The following fellows have been picked as members of the squad:

Ben Kranski—115 pounds—Ben is much improved over last year and should make a good showing against anything Ripon can offer.

Jack Taylor—125—Although Jack fought in local bouts last year, it will be his first appearance on an inter-school card. He has shown promise of becoming a tough one to beat.

Trip Sponsored By French Students

Thirty-two students will make a trip to Milwaukee on Thursday, March 23 to attend a concert by the renowned pianist, Ignace Paderewski. The concert will be given in the south part of the Milwaukee Auditorium.

During the stay in Milwaukee, the students will stay at Hotel Medford. The rooms are being furnished gratis by the hotel management. The students have made the Medford their headquarters for three previous trips.

On these trips to Milwaukee, they saw Walter Hampden in "Cyrano de Bergerac," the Lunts in "Idiot's Delight," and the opera "Lohengrin."

The tickets are now available. They may be obtained from Marv Olson before Friday of this week.

Herrick Announces Plans For Session

ment of the teacher training program in the Wisconsin Teacher College Training Schools."

Between 100 and 150 guest faculty members of training schools will spend the forenoon either visiting classes in our own Training School or attending a panel discussion on "Training School Problems." The leader of the panel discussion has as yet not been chosen but he will be outstanding in the field of training school education.

Lunch At Nelson

The luncheon at noon has been temporarily scheduled to be held in Nelson Hall. The guests will be divided according to the following departments: Primary, Grammar, Junior, and Senior High School. At each division there will be a leader who will be in charge of informal discussions pertaining to departmental problems.

Cutright To Speak

The speaker at the luncheon will be Miss Prudence Cutright, Assistant City Superintendent at Minneapolis, Minnesota. Miss Cutright is a former C. S. T. C. Training School faculty member who was here when Mr. F. S. Hyer was principal. She is a recognized authority on problems arising in the training school setup.

The guests will then convene to the Training School where they will continue their departmental discussions of their own problems. At 4:00 o'clock there will be a mass meeting of all in attendance. A permanent training school faculty organization will (Continued to page 3, Col. 4)

Method and Knowledge

Two weeks ago I had the pleasure of discussing some educational problems of current interest with an educator who was recently honored in London for his exceptional work in the field of education.

The subject discussed was the importance of the development of method and acquisition of knowledge in training people for the teaching field. Both of these items, as everybody realizes, are of utmost importance but their individual importance varies depending on what type of teaching the people are being prepared for.

It is the opinion of many people that people training for high school and grade school work should be concerned more with method than acquiring a thorough and complete knowledge of their subjects. College teachers and instructors, on the other hand, should have more complete comprehension of their subjects. Research workers who often develop the finest details of a branch of study present an example of the extreme.

Very often in the field are found products that present two extremes—those with highly developed methods and little knowledge and those with a vast store of knowledge but unable to present it intelligibly to other people. Occasionally one finds a person who thoroughly knows his subject and presents it in an interesting way—a great teacher.

Here at CSTC are students who will someday be the leaders and workers in the field of education. Many, I believe, do not realize what opportunities are theirs.

Such critics as Dr. Garry C. Meyers have been very favorably impressed when visiting this college. Our people are taught the best and latest methods in teaching. It is up to the "individual" to acquire his knowledge of the subject which in many cases determines his success or failure as a teacher regardless of the methods drilled into him.

POINTS FROM Old Pointers

40 YEARS AGO

The season for basketball just now closing has been a most successful one for our school. The game has more than paid its way, financially, and has given exercise and recreation to a greater or less extent, to fully twenty per cent of all the students enrolled in the normal and preparatory departments. In addition, there are no less than ten teams in the grades of the practice school. Taken all in all, basketball has done more for the school, and at the same time cost less, than any of the other athletic sports in which we engage.

In view of these facts, it seems rather strange to the Censor, that so few of the schools have taken up the game as a regular winter sport. It is sometimes urged that the average high school or college student has enough of athletics if he plays football in the autumn, and goes in for baseball or field day in the spring. Perhaps this is true, but still the Censor wonders whether it would not be advisable to make a change from the present plan and have the student, when he enters school in the fall, fresh from the long summer vacation, turn his extra strength to mathematics or history, instead of football. When winter comes and the impetus gained through vacation is about exhausted then let him go into basketball for a month or two, to regain his strength, and improve his bodily condition generally. Then he will be ready to make the long pull to June.

Of course the Censor does not mean that during the spring and autumn months the student should do without physical exercise entirely. Some exercise is desirable, if not absolutely necessary, at all times; so in his plan of reformed athletics, the Censor would include some light gymnastics or field work in both autumn and spring.

THE WISDOM CORNER

DOC BEN

Hardly an hour passes without four or five "cocky" individuals parading up and down the halls wearing their hats, shouting, and acting as if they own the school plus the fixtures. I have seen faculty members do the same thing. This is a little thing but it is significant when one considers that principals and superintendents of schools are apt to pay us a visit. Seeing some of this childish witticism they form undesirable opinions of this school.

We are all children at times! That's one of the reasons people remain interesting; it keeps them from getting old, and it keeps the wrinkles from their faces. These facts are no excuse, however, for acting childish when bigger goals than ourselves are at stake.

As we age chronologically, there are standards of dignity to which we must adhere while we are in school. Society expects the school to teach us the art of conducting ourselves like men and women. Even in college, a juvenile prank is excusable when it is not made habitual—But—

With the new WPA allotment it might be possible to build a much-needed men's lounge. It seems that after being denied the privilege of having a men's lounge for some time we will be able to appreciate better a place of recreation and rest for the fatigued minds and bodies of our male students. The dispossessed Home Ec rooms would aptly suit such a purpose.

Last week's article appearing here might have been misconstrued. I did not wish to reflect political discredit upon the Iris. The editor, I feel sure, is doing his best. The Mardi Gras, however, is the overt expression of the undesirable practices of the fraternities.

The Rural Department may still sing "Jingle Bells" but they are already well on their way toward another 100% placement year.

Student Reaction To Proposed Budget Cut

by GEORGE QUANDT

The recommendations embodied in Governor Julius P. Heil's "Economy Budget" proposed for the biennium beginning July 1, 1959, and ending June 30, 1961, presents a problem in practical government which is commanding considerable attention throughout the state.

The problem of a proposed reduction in the state appropriation to the Board of Regents and Teachers' Colleges should be of vital concern to every teachers' college student. In dealing with any controversial issue it is useless and senseless to discuss the issues without having the "facts in the case" at one's fingertips. The problem must be viewed in as an unbiased way as possible, and conclusions should be reached from an assimilation of the facts alone.

Heil Submits "Economy Budget"

During the past gubernatorial campaign, Mr. Heil pledged support to a platform which called for a reduction in state government expenditures. The fact that he was elected by a democratic people would indicate that his ideas were in harmony with his. He further promised a government for the state which would be administered in a business-like way. The new budget which he drew up for the state for the 1959-61 period and submitted to the legislature became known as an "Economy Budget". This budget, which is at the present time still being considered by the Joint Committee of Finance and will soon be returned to the floor of the Assembly in Madison, may now be examined.

Teachers' Colleges Cut 17 Per Cent

The figures are from Exhibit II, page XIII, of the 1959 Wisconsin State Budget. The new budget would realize a "saving" of about two and three-quarters million dollars for the next two year period. The "saving" is about a million and a half dollars out of a yearly budget of approximately thirty-three million. This represents a 4% decrease under that 1957-59 budget level. Especially interesting are the percentages of change for the various items in the budget. Only a few representative ones may be here presented: Educational Aids 3% decrease; Board of Regents and Teachers' Colleges 17% decrease; Charitable and Pension Aids 7% increase; Legislature and Legislative Coms. 8% decrease; Emergency Board 30% increase; Administrative Boards 12% decrease; University of Wisconsin 12% decrease. It would appear that the teachers' colleges' cuts are highly discriminatory when the 17% is compared with the average reduction of 4%. The "Economy Budget" is more correctly described as a "Redistribution Budget". This discrimination in itself does not condemn the measure, however, but we must first consider whether the action is justified.

Four Per Cent Saving Realized

In the first place, then, it must be admitted that the executive budget is highly discriminatory. In the total 4% "saving," one-third of the entire amount is slashed from the budgets of the teachers' colleges of the state, whose budgets have never been large enough according to the institutions, to allow any "frills". No other important state agency that is receiving an appropriation in the budget of over one million dollars, was subjected to as serious a cut.

The second important fact is that enrollments are increasing at the teachers' colleges for several reasons: 1st, the number of high school graduates is increasing; 2nd, the individual frequently cannot afford the expense of attending the University or private colleges; 3rd, unlike Iowa and Minnesota, Wisconsin has no junior colleges; 4th, there is a demand for more teachers; 5th, teachers' colleges from the standpoint of geographical distribution and the caliber of work offered, are regarded as best able to provide a college education for their prospective teachers. In spite of the rise in the enrollment curve, the appropriation curve would be turned down.

Enviably Placement Record

The next basic conception is that big enrollments do not result in oversupply of teachers, and graduates of the teachers' colleges are being placed. By raising standards and lengthening the training period required for degrees, far less students will graduate in 1959 than graduated in 1929. Eighty-five per cent of the 1500 graduates in 1959 got teaching positions. All received the advantages of a college education. Some turned to other professions, to farming, and to business. This is an enviably placement record for any institution, especially at a time when unemployment is itself such an important problem.

The immediate problem is how 464 teachers in 9 colleges are to instruct 3000 students on a budget considerably less than the budget of 1929 which was planned for only 395 teachers and 5000 students. If the quality of the instruction is lowered, the ratings by national accrediting agencies may be adversely affected. The only other alternative will be the curtailment of enrollment in another year. Students in teachers' colleges are for the most part the children of farmers and wage earners and this would mean that the opportunity of a college education for any but the wealthier classes would be denied. The state is supporting institutions which are educating out-of-state students, as nearly 98% of the students in teachers' colleges this year are from Wisconsin. The cost of maintaining a student in these colleges is not high. For the United States, the cost is $294, while for the nine Wisconsin Teachers' Colleges, 1950-51, it was $243.85.

Finally, Wisconsin can afford to maintain education. It is the twelfth richest state on a per capita income basis. The responsibility for training teachers for public schools is one of the most serious obligations of the state. It is obvious that the teachers' colleges will not be able to render the full service expected of them under such heavy cuts as are proposed.

The only request of the students in Wisconsin's Teachers' Colleges is that the entire record be carefully considered so that no mistake be made.

SOCIETY LIFE

Miss Adda Tobias, primary teacher in the training school, has been sick for the past few days with the flu. A substitute teacher is taking her place in teaching the first grade.

Mr. Peter Michelson, director of the music department, was unable to accompany the band on the concert trip on Monday morning, because of illness. Mr. Herbert Steiner of the faculty accompanied the students.

Last week-end Miss Susan Colman accompanied by a group of students went to Madison. Miss Colman attended to some business and went shopping. Saturday evening the group attended the Wisconsin Players production "Barchester Towers" at Bascom Hall. Miss Davidoff returned to Stevens Point with the group on Sunday.

Tid Bits

Gene Connor who is teaching at Chetek visited the "Third Floor Gang" at Nelson Hall this week-end.

Ethel Hill, who has been ill at her home in Ashland, returned Monday.

Dorellan Lambert, of Wausau, was a guest of Ruth Johnson this week-end at North Sims cottage.

Loyola met in the Recreation Room at Nelson Hall Sunday afternoon. Lunch was served.

Ed Lightbody, who is a messenger in the State Assembly at Madison, visited here Monday.

Life is dull and dreary for Jerry Dunn, seeing as how all of his joy is away on the band trip. Cheer up, Jerry, it's only for five days.

Women's Fraternity Committee Announces Essay Contest; World's Fair Trip Is The Prize Offered

With the cooperation of outstanding leaders in our national life, New York City alumnae groups of the twenty-three national women's fraternities have just announced an essay contest devoted to a consideration of America's so-called "four freedoms", in 846 colleges and universities of the country, according to information received from Miss Sophie P. Woodman, chairman of the Fraternity Women's Committee for the New York World's Fair.

Information on the essay contest may be obtained from the office of this paper or from the committee's headquarters at the Hotel Beekman Tower, 3 Mitchell Place, New York headquarters of the National Panhellenic Fraternities.

Presidents of the universities and colleges, and heads and members of English departments have received announcements of the essay contest. The contest, however, is open to students in any department who wish to participate, and Miss Woodman pointed out, it is not confined to fraternity members. Also, she added, it is open both to men and women.

A trip to the World's Fair, with a one week's all-expense stay at the Committee headquarters, the Hotel Beekman Tower, New York, is the first prize in the contest. Second and third prizes are cash awards of $25 and $15 respectively, and an all-expense stay of one week at the Beekman Tower, not including railroad transportation. In the areas adjacent to New York, $100 first prize will be given in lieu of the round trip transportation to the Fair. Winners will be given special recognition at "Panhellenic Day" at the World's Fair.

In an effort to focus attention on some of the basic principles of our democracy, the New York Fraternity Committee is devoting its current annual essay contest to a consideration of the so-called "four freedoms" contained in the First Article of the Bill of Rights—freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of worship and freedom of peaceable assembly, as its official activity in conjunction with the Women's Advisory Committee for the Fair.

Students entering the contest will select as topics one of the questions submitted by nationally known men and women on these "four freedoms."

Governmental leaders who have supplied topics for the contest are: General John J. Pershing; Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State; and Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, of New York City.

Application blanks may be secured at the Pointer office.

There will be a 6:00 o'clock banquet for the directors and any other interested faculty guests. The speakers will be several leading city superintendents, representatives of the State Department of Education, and some representatives of Governor Heil's staff.

The idea for such a conference was born in C. S. T. C. Training School. Letters of congratulations have been received commending Central State for this leading spirit and some of the other colleges have notified that they would have a 100% attendance. This conference will hereafter be an annual affair.

of the outstanding boxers on the squad and has won a large percentage of his bouts.

Boxing fans will remember that he scored a knockout in 56 seconds over a Ripon opponent last year.

Frank Metcalf—145—Metcalf, like Taylor, will be making his first appearance, but he already has a reputation as a hard puncher.

Louis Drobnick—155—Louis recently won championship in his division at the Wisconsin Rapids Golden Gloves Tournament. He scored three successive victories and demonstrates his ability to take it as well as dish it out.

Dan Young—165—Young also fought in the Golden Gloves tournament and won two bouts before being eliminated. Dan is perhaps the hardest puncher on the squad and should prove plenty troublesome for the opponent.

Louie Lang—175—Louis has developed into a good puncher and made a fine showing in a recent Golden Gloves bout.

Fred Nimz—Heavyweight—Fred, although he doesn't seem to take his boxing too seriously, always provides plenty of opposition and this should prove to be one of the best bouts of the evening.

Students will be admitted with activity tickets. General admission is 40 cents, ringside seats—50 cents, and high school students—25 cents.

Phi Sigs Defeat Midgets; Dizzy Dopes Beat Maulers

Champions of intramural league were decided last Wednesday when the Phi Sigs took the measure of the Midgets by a 28 to 17 score. In the first game of the evening Dizzy Dopes defeated the Maulers 31 to 28 in an overtime game for consolation honors.

Both of the games were hard fought and scrappy from start to finish. In the Dizzy Dopes' victory there was never a definite answer until the end of the overtime which found the Dopes ahead. In this game "Lucky" Lewison was the big gun for the Dopes with fifteen points on a variety of seemingly impossible shots. Hills looked best on defense for the Dopes. For the Maulers, Sword, a guard, lead with eight points.

The Phi Sigs were led in scoring by Bill Miller with eight points and on defense by Roman Baker. Bill Mailer, a guard, was next in scoring with six points. For the Midgets Bud Menzel showed up best with seven points while Rene Stimart was best on defense.

Good Games

The games as a whole were worth a quarter of anybody's money and were played with as much class and fight as any basketball you care to see.

"SIZING 'EM UP"

Well, the basketball season is over and so we can start thinking of other things. However, suppose we just take a glance back over the season. We didn't do so badly when we consider everything. We hope that next year the teams in the conference will forget protests and try to beat us on their own hook.

Some of the boys who showed up well in the intra-mural league and who will bear watching for next year's college team are Ralph Urbanowski, Bill Miller, Rene Stimart, Bob Becher, Ken Parr, Ed Slorowski, Hank Poskie, Roman Baker, Jim Manning and many others. These boys looked like real college stuff in the games this winter.

In closing, folks, keep an eye on the sports program in school from now on. Even though basketball and football are our there is still plenty of tennis, track, and other things to be considered.

Speaking of tennis, Ernie Ruppel, George Quandt, Bill Winsor and a couple of others have been practicing in the gym quite a bit this winter. The Purple and the Gold should be ably represented this spring on the tennis court.

Incidentally Hank Poskie won the intramural free throw contest held in the gym this winter. He really showed the boys how to make free throws because he made the last twenty eight of his attempts good. Hank's record was forty out of fifty. Ken Parr was second in line with thirty seven out of fifty.
