March 29 and 30 Set For Mens Glee Club's Annual Concert

Climaxing a season of extensive and diversified activities, the Men's Glee Club, directed by Norman E. Knutzen, presents its Spring Concert in the College Auditorium the evenings of March 29th and 30th at 8:15.

This popular program is presented annually by the organization and has become a highlight for music lovers in the vicinity. The diversified type of program given has always proven artistic and entertaining. All types of numbers are presented, from "The King's Horses" to "The Nordlund Love Song".

Special Features Presented

Many special features have been arranged for this year's program. Two high school organizations will present a group of numbers each, on successive evenings. The A Capella Choir of the Stevens Point High School, directed by Miss Dorothy Vetter, will appear on the Wednesday evening program. On Thursday evening the group of Madrigal Singers from Wausau Senior High School and directed by Miss Josephine Darrin are making their appearance. Miss Darrin's group made a distinct hit in their appearance with the glee club last year. The group sings about a table in a rather informal manner, copying the style of and type of numbers sung by the old English madrigal singers.

Other features in the evening programs will be a violin solo by Wenzel Albrecht, a soprano solo by Miss Dorothy Vetter, and a piano solo by Edward Plank.

Forensic Contest To Be Conducted April 21st

Forty candidates will participate in the annual district forensic contest which will be held at the high school April 21. The first place winners in this contest will compete in the state meet which will be held here later in the spring. The candidates participating in the contest were winners in the various league contests. There are eight leagues in the state.

C.S.T.C. to Furnish Judges

The Forensic Society of C. S. T. C. will provide five chairmen, and five timers for the contests. Roland M. Burroughs, Principal, F. Kraus and Ben Laske are judges.

There will be a single critic judge and the contests will start in the morning and continue throughout the day and evening.

Students Elected To Attend National Sigma Zeta Conclave

Sigma Zeta, National Honorary Fraternity, met last Wednesday, March 15. A business meeting was held during the first part of the evening at which Eileen Marx, Jeanette Winarski, Roland Cady, and Leo Lang were elected to attend the National Conclave in De Kalb, Illinois.

Purpose of Meet

The National Conclave is held at the home of one of the chapters. It is held for the purpose of carrying on national business affairs, the election of national officers for the ensuing year, and the election of editor for the Sigma Zeta. Grand Master Scientist, Howard W. Gould, of Northern State Teachers College, is at De Kalb.

Training School Will Develop Puppet "Project"

Miss Evelyn Sonnenberg, student art director at the Training School, is at present directing the seventh and eighth grade girls in a puppet project. She is being assisted by Miss Cornelia King and Miss Ruth Behnke.

Popular Comics

The puppets will consist of comic characters such as the Yokums, Mama, the Captain and the Kids, Maggie and Jiggs, Popeye and Olive Oil, Clowns, Blondie, Dagwood, and B a y Dumpling, Mickey and Minnie Mouse, and a Dutch family. These puppets will be constructed by the girls. The heads are made of paper mache. The pulp for these heads has been furnished by the local paper mill.

Christmas tree ornaments and jacks are being used for earrings for Mama of the Captain and the Kids. The students are also making the puppets' clothing, stages, and scenery.

The project is under the supervision of Miss Helen Bolley, Supervising Art and Music Teacher of the Training School. The students, upon the completion of their puppets, will stage a show open to the public. This will take place some time toward the end of April.

There will be participants in oratory, extemporaneous speaking, serious and humorous declamations.

The family of Rex B. Beeckler, one of the men whose names are inscribed on the Beeckler Memorial opposite the library on the second floor, Thursday placed a lovely bouquet of lilies and snapdragons before the memorial of their relative. Beeckler was a student here before he enlisted in April, 1918. He was the first man from this school to lose his life in the war.

French Class Travels To Madison For Plays

Thirty two French students, accompanied by Miss Mildred Davis, attended the French play "Prenez garde a la peinture" by Rene Fauchois at Bascom Hall Theatre, Madison on Saturday, March 18. The cast included faculty and graduate students of the French Department of the University of Wisconsin. The play was preceded by a "discours de bienvenue" (welcome speech) given by Professor H. A. Smith of the French department.

Many Americans are surprised when they learn that the successful stage and movie production "The Late Christopher Bean" was not an original play by Sidney Howard, but an English version of the French "Prenez garde a la peinture" by Fauchois. This play, presented for the first time in 1932 in Paris, met with such

TO THE EDITOR

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This department is conducted for students and faculty members whose opinions have no other means of printed dissemination. The letters do not represent the Pointer editorial policy, however, and the right of editing and rejecting contributions is reserved.)

Dear Editor:
I was very amused to see your "Ed. Note" at the bottom of Doc Ben's column last week. It does sound trivial to talk about students and teachers "acting as if they own the school plus the fixtures" as they parade up and down the halls. Come now, Mr. Laschkewitch, have you run out of good material with which to fill up your column? Your articles in the past have been, for the most part, interesting as well as informing. Don't start making your column a gossip informer. There are so many important things that might benefit the students and the College—so why expand your philosophy on such trite matters? Here's hoping your column this week is back to "normal."

A dissatisfied reader.

COURAGE

They called you coward because you have known fear,
And dared to say you knew it.
But they with craven hearts
Dared not confess their weakness,
And you who bravely faced the truth
They dared to brand a coward:

THE WISDOM CORNER

DOC BEN

We are all animals at heart, in spite of our so-called superior intellect over our cousins. After a period of winter hibernation, the whole universe seems to awaken at once. Have you arisen early lately and observed—or are you still in a state of coma? If you are sleeping, it is time you came to life—The universe is finding itself, prompted by the sun, it is coming into a realization, all its own, that it must be up and doing.

Nothing seems to be able to stop the driving force behind all the vigor expressed by our friends—the animals. But that is as it should be—they are pursuing a purpose, an end that is well directed, a goal is ahead of them. They are responding to the call of the Celestial, that they start anew.

Let us now look at the human side of the same story.

I notice students doing what appears to be the identical stunt (with the exception that they have no goal in mind). Instead of pursuing their studies more ardently and completing the achievement which they set for themselves at the beginning of the year, they are living as they call it. They stay out late at night—Having a good time—searching, searching—looking for something they can't find. I believe this is the forerunner of "Spring Fever"—that intangible, inexplicable, something which really is nothing but a rationalization for one's actions and an expression of a lack of will power.

The proper remedy to keep ourselves from completely reverting to animal actions (without the goal), is to drive that term paper to completion now. Keep busy for a few more weeks, and work ahead of ourselves to complete the study of those subjects wherein we have been hibernating so soundly for the past eight weeks.

The trend seems to be to forget them entirely, and then find, at the end of the semester, especially the week before examinations, that we must work night and day to get that coveted 1.5 average. A few seniors are wishing now that they had not rationalized their actions to the point where it seems as remote as an increase in the Teachers College Budget.

The analogy could be drawn in detail, but with humans it is hardly deemed necessary. Animal instincts are inherent within us, but are we justified in complying with their beckon by simply calling them by a "personal" name—"Buck Tragedy", "A Young Man's Fancy", or Spring Fever.

ED. NOTE: The opinions expressed in the above column are those of Mr. Laschkewitch and are not to be construed as reflecting the editorial policy of the Pointer.

"Ain't It The Truth"

Would the good Greek brotherhoods each be sending out their pledges to nip paddles from the pledges of the other? The actives always enter into the play with a lot more zip and determination than the neophytes, threatening rival actives with mayhem and rival houses with sabotage. It's great sport and the only ones to suffer are the pledges who lose their paddles—there ain't nobody they can talk back to—

We almost split our sides at this—it's the funniest of the year. Little Benny Laske, the "Not So Simple Simon" who has his fingers in all the school pies, missed the most important pie of all. (I've got my nursery rhymes mixed—Jack Horner's the gent I mean but the idea's the same). It seems that Benny won't graduate with his class in June—He's waited five years for the chance and now has to lose it, just because he forgot to sign an application to graduate. That's always the way—Those of us who go around with our heads among the mighty, thinking up pep demonstrations and such, often miss the less important things like graduating. We'll miss you in the parade, Benny.

Louie Drobnick's woman just couldn't stand the strain the other nite at the card with Ripon. Louie, one of the school's fancier leather pushers, was listed to fight the wind-up. His girl sat through all of the bouts until Louie came up to do his stuff; then her tenderer instincts came to the force and she left the gym and waited in the hall through the harrowing moments when her lad was giving his all for the old school. Her joy, glee, high spirits, and stuff, were unbanded when she heard the decision. If you don't know what it was, refer to the sports page. (Joe's been dying to have someone read it all year, anyway.)

It is always funny what a little mixed company will do to embolden some of the more hesitant Lathario's. Pledge 'Fuzz' Schneider was given a week to prepare himself with a date for the Phi Sig party Saturday nite, but was unable to muster enough courage to enlist the company of some fair damsel for the evening. Thus, he went to the party unescorted, but not for long. The gay music and dimmed lights transformed him into the Casanova of the evening, and he proceeded to cast his affections to all comers. At the close of the evening when Fuzz took inventory he found that he had made five dates; so by the time he fulfills these he should have become the most up and coming social climber of the season.

That strange tan cloaked figure out by the new bus at 8:30 last Monday morning was none other than Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt Faust, about his act of christening. Faust smashed his little flask of colored water on the radiator and muttered a few touching good luck phrases over the new vehicle. Now that the bus has been launched on its career so auspiciously, we can all feel safe to ride in it.

And while we're on the subject—Next time you set out to catch up a public speaker, Mr. Faust, don't pick one whose fame rests partly on his ability to reply to the question snappy with the retort snapper.

PROM TO HAVE DATING BUREAU

"Every one has a date" is the theme of the committee on arrangements for the Junior Prom to be held April 24. Rosalie Timm is in charge of a "dating bureau" which promises results for any and everybody regardless of race, creed, or color.

The Prom will be held on Saturday, April 24 despite any other conflicting reports. Due to the fact that it is Saturday and that dancing must cease at midnight the dance will last from 8:00 to 12:00.

A scheme for the dance is still undecided but will be planned very shortly by decoration chairman Bill Larson. There is no announcement made by King Charter in regard to his lady for the night but smart money is pointing at that "certain blonde" who often is seen in the royal company.

Don't forget. If you want a date..... see Rosalie Timm.

Wanted! A Poet..... It seems strange that in a school of this size, and with an attendance roll as large as this normal boasts, there is not some person possessing more than ordinary ability in the art of versification. There is nothing in the requirements of the school, so far as the Censor knows, which would in any way tend to exclude persons having the poetic gift. Possibly we have several poetic geniuses in our midst, who only await inspiration and encouragement to start them on the high road to success. The Censor suggests, therefore, that the Press Association, in order to hasten development along this line, offer prizes for the best poems submitted by students of the school on or before some specified date.

Student Opinion Solicited In Pointer Questionnaire

A CHALLENGE TO OUR READERS!!

Today the Pointer is starting a student-faculty poll to find out what the likes and dislikes of the students are in reference to the campus newspaper.

It has been the policy of this publication constantly to adopt new techniques whenever possible. More important than new techniques, however, is the flexible adaption of them to the desires of the student body. The Pointer is experimental in nature and scope and every effort is being made to have it "tailor-made" in accordance with what its readers want.

We have made mistakes. We will make more. That is inevitable. One of the reasons for this questionnaire is to find out what mistakes are being made, to trace them to their sources in order to avoid future errors.

The following questionnaire is intended for the students. Mimeographed questionnaires will be distributed to the faculty within the next few days.

1. Number the following in what you think is the correct descending order of importance: Sports, Public affairs, Society, School affairs, , ,
2. Is the news coverage, in your opinion, adequate?(yes, no).
3. Is the news coverage, in your opinion, accurate?(yes, no).
4. Does the paper, in your opinion, reflect student opinion(yes, no).
5. Do you approve of the personal column?(yes, no). Why
6. Does the makeup or format of the paper appeal to you?(yes, no). Why
7. Do we feature names of fraternities and sororities too much?(yes, no). If so how would you suggest remedying it?
8. Are any organizations favored in news articles?(yes, no). If so, which ones?
9. Other criticisms:

The above questionnaire may be filled out and dropped in the box at the Pointer Office or handed to any member of the staff. If you have other criticisms it would be appreciated if you would hand them in with the above blank..... Thank You.....

The All-School Budget Committee of the Milwaukee State Teachers College has organized to protest the 17% budget cut in the educational field. The committee has formed a "round-robin" petition which is being circulated among the students of Milwaukee State. Petitions have also been sent to the other teachers colleges in the state.

The aim of the Milwaukee Budget Committee in sending out these petitions to the other eight state colleges, is to secure the united effort of Wisconsin's future teachers in one big protest to stop this budget cut.

All Students Sign

Copies of this petition will be distributed to the student body at large and to the various organizations in the school. Anybody who has not had a previous opportunity to sign one of these petitions may do so at the Pointer Office. Any organization wanting a copy of this petition may get one from the editor of the Pointer.

The budget cut was recommended by Governor Julius P. Heil's "Economy Budget" proposed for the biennium beginning July, 1939 and ending June 30, 1941.

Reasons

The cut is being protested by the colleges for several reasons. First of all, enrollments are increasing at the state teachers colleges. An immediate problem the cut brings up is how 464 teachers in 9 colleges are to instruct 7300 students on a budget considerably less than the budget of 1929 which was planned for only 395 teachers and 5008 students. Furthermore, it has been pointed out

Heyer Names All Intra-Mural Team

The All-intramural Team was selected this week by Chuck Heyer. Heyer made his selections on the basis of team play, points scored, and value to the team. Of the five players who were honored, two were from the champion Phi Sig team—they being, Roman Baker, a guard, and Bill Miller, a forward. One, Ralph Urbanowski, of the Red Hots, was a high scoring forward. The center position went to Ken Parr, ace push shot artist of the runner up Midget Team. Sherman Sword of the Maulers was awarded the guard position. The race between Urbanowski and "Lucky" Lewison of the Dizzy Dopes was close—the position being awarded to Urbanowski because he played in one more game than did the Dopey sharp shooter.

"SIZING 'EM UP"

A large crowd saw the first boxing card last Wednesday evening and displayed more pep than was seen at any of the basketball games.

Lang and Young both finished off their opponents in fine style. It was Lang's first appearance on a local school card.

Closest decision of the evening went to Louie Drobnick who outpointed Oldanin in the final bout of the evening.

One of Ripon's classiest fighters was Francisco who won over Felix in the 135 pound class.

We noticed the local team is sporting some regular boxing togs.

It's probably just as well Freddie Nimz didn't get back from Denver—the fellow he was to have fought weighed 253 pounds.

We expect to see Quandt, Ruppel and Winsor playing tennis in the basement corridors if warm weather doesn't arrive soon.

It is hoped that a regular tennis team can be formed this year to compete with other Teachers Colleges teams.

Mick McGuire made his debut as boxing coach of C. S. C. C. last Wednesday night, putting a group of fighters in the ring that defeated the Ripon squad 5-4. The card was one of the best ever seen in a local arena despite its being the first one of the season. Stevens Point was forced to forfeit two bouts to Ripon, one in the one hundred and eighteen pound class and one in the heavy weight division.

Three new men donned the gloves for the first time for the Pointers in the persons of Frank Metcalf, Louie Lang, and Jack Taylor. Lang and Metcalf won their bouts while Taylor lost his by a close margin. All three of the men put up good fights and show promise of giving Stevens Point plenty of class in their respective divisions. Metcalf pounded out his victory the hard way going three rounds to gain his decision. Lang took a little less time in putting his man away on a technical K. O. in one minute and thirty eight seconds of the third round. Taylor put up a nice fight against a vastly more experienced man. Nevertheless Jack made it a fight all the way before surrendering the decision.

Young Has Knockout

The most exciting bout of the evening was Dan Young's one minute and fifty eight second knockout of Ed Jacot of Ripon. Danny wasted little time in wading in and throwing a few rights and lefts after which Jacot was a little bit dazed over the situation. Roman Baker although up against a taller man than himself fought a smart fight and had his man reeling and staggering at the final bell. Johnny Felix put up probably the gamest fight of the night when he came back, after being canvassed in the first round, to force the fight all the way. John lost a close decision to John Francisco. Louie Drobnick fought the windup against Terry Oldanin gaining a close decision at the end of three rounds of hard fighting.

The crowd was numbered about three hundred. The judges were Mr. Thompson of Stevens Point and Dr. Butler of Stevens Point. The referee was Heins of Wisconsin Rapids.
