

College Theater "One Acts" Tonight

Four Organizations Sponsor Education Week This Year

An estimated ten million parents will visit schools during American Week, to see their sons and daughters at work in the classroom, meet the teachers, and learn something about modern educational systems. Founded in 1921, American Education Week is sponsored by the National Education Association and the American Legion, together with the United States Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Much Cooperation

The founding of American Education Week grew out of conditions revealed by the World War draft. Twenty-five percent of the men examined were found to be illiterate; 29 percent were physically unfit. When members of the newly-formed American Legion viewed those facts, they saw opportunity to serve their country after the war by helping to correct them. When they decided that a campaign of education appeared to be the only answer, they consulted with officers of the National Education Association and the United States Office of Education. As a result of these conferences, the first American Education Week was observed in 1921. This year, for the first time, the National Congress of

Noted Actress On Assembly Program

Miss Sylvia Anne Johnson, a dramatic reader and a platform artist with a lovely voice, will present an assembly program Thursday, November 9, at 10:00 A. M.

She is a graduate of the Chicago Music Conservatory, and has played the leading roles in "The Immanuel," "Claudia," and "Light of Ages." Her program will consist of "Feminine Fancies" and character sketches in costume. The two possible sketches are "The Patroness" and "Mission Gardens". "The Patroness" consists of four parts: the breakfast, sending the children off to school, domestic quibbles and the preparation for the club meeting. "Mission Gardens" is the story of the romance of Leandra, a Mexican girl, and her lover, Juan.

Critics Enthusiastic

The following statements are comments of critics concerning her programs. "A whole cast of actresses rolled into one." "Variety—sheer melodramatic power—theatrical entertainment." "Not just a speaker, not just a reader, not just an actress, but a delightful combination of all these rolled into one with just enough touch of the theater to make each character live and breathe before her audience."

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

A mighty factor in making American life what it has become is to be seen in our Educational system. We have tried, with success, to bring educational opportunity to the masses. No other people have gone so far in opening the door of opportunity to everyone. It is, then, fitting that we give some thought to the educational system that has done so much for our people. This week has been set aside for the consideration of our system of general education. Let us give this fundamental element in American life our earnest attention.

E. T. Smith

To The Patrons, Students And Teachers Of American Schools

Let us take note, as we again observe American Education Week throughout our Nation, that education in our democracy teaches the practice of reason in human affairs.

I refer not only to education that may come from books. I include education in fair play on the athletic field and on the debating platform; I include education for tolerance through participation in full, free discussion in the classroom. Practice in the scientific method by our young people may be more important than learning the facts of science. From kindergarten through college our schools train us to use the machinery of reason; parliamentary practice; the techniques of cooperation; how to accept with good grace the will of a majority; how to defend by logic and facts our deep convictions. This is education for the American way of life.

Our schools also bring us face to face with men and women with whom we shall share life's struggles. In their lives and ours, struggle will never be absent; the struggle of every individual against the stream of life; the struggle and competition among individuals, groups, institutions, States, and nations. To the resolution of conflicts and struggles of life, democracy supplies no easy answer. The easy answer, the quick but incomplete answer, is force; tanks and torpedoes, guns and bombs. Democracy calls instead for the application of the rule of reason to solve conflicts. It calls for fair play in canvassing facts, for discussion, and for calm and orderly handling of difficult problems. These vital skills we Americans must acquire in our schools.

In our schools our coming generations must learn the most difficult art in the world the successful management of democracy. Let us think of our schools during this American Education Week not only as buildings of stone and wood and steel; not only as places to learn how to use hand and brain; but as training centers in the use and application of the rule of reason in the affairs of men. And let us hope that out of our schools may come a generation which can persuade a bleeding world to supplant force with reason.

Senior Ball Committee Selected

Plans for the annual Senior Ball are well under way with the selection of the necessary committees. The Ball will be held in the Training School gym on December 9.

General Chairman

Norman Benson has been appointed general chairman. His experience in the technical work of College Theater and his efficient handling of all work he has done in the past should make him a capable man for this position.

Responsibility for the decorations is in the hands of Co-chairmen Evelyn Sonnenberg, outstanding art student, and Joe Ophoven, prominent in staging and lighting work of College Theater. To assist them are Eileen De Horn, Bob Bishop, John Yurkovich, Louis Hamel and Ben Kordus, all of whom show artistic and practical ability.

Advertising and tickets will be handled by Ed Durand, chairman, Jim Duecker and Bob Unger. These boys have had experience in this work. Rita Russell, chairman, Lorraine Johnson, Anita Madsen, and Ethel Stoltenberg will arrange for the programs. In charge of Invitations and Chaperones will be Ula Mae Knutson, chairman, assisted by Kathryn Houg, Janette Van Natta, and Florence Smith.

Rueben Belongia, will act as chairman of the music committee. He will be assisted by Phil Dakin, Harold Scheel and John Anderson, who are prominent in music at C.S.T.C. Refreshments will be handled by Elida Torkelson, chairman, Marguerite Benn, Corinne Sandmire, and Ethel Hill, all able Home Ec.

Need of Cooperation

With the selection of such capable and talented all-round committees, the Senior Ball should prove to be an enjoyable party. However, the work of the committees is only half the job. The student body must support such activities in every way possible. Let's make this year's Senior Ball so successful that it will never be forgotten.

Each Play Under Student Direction

First Curtain Rises At 8:15 P. M. Sharp

College Theater presents to the faculty and student body of Central State three one-act plays this evening in the college auditorium. Tonight's productions are the result of four weeks of intensive work, and the plays will get under way promptly at 8:15.

Must Present Activity Tickets

Students will be admitted upon presentation of activity tickets, and faculty members are cordially invited to attend gratis.

Order of Presentation

The plays will go on in the following order: first, The Inn of Return, a mystery play directed by Merville Merverden; second, Eugene O'Neills' Ile, directed by Harlow Henninger; and last on the evening's bill will be a comedy, Let's Honey-moon Again, directed by Earle Siebert.

Krider Stage Manager

Stage Manager Don Krider, will handle the "whole business" backstage, and Norman Benson will be at the switchboard. Special effects are under the direction of Jim Unger, and makeup is being managed by Madelyn Davel.

Three Act December 13

Work on a three-act comedy, Mr. Prin Passes By will begin next week. Mr. Burroughs will direct this production, and it will be staged by College Theater. Tryouts for acting and technical work have not been held as yet, but announcements concerning these tryouts will be made shortly. All interested people please watch the Theater board for further notices.

Swing Out Friday Night With Men's Glee Club

First call to all you "jitter-ers" and "jivers"! The Central State Men's Glee Club calls you to attention! These are the orders—A big, "beautious", bountiful, and "bodacious" swing session is gonna be held Friday night in the Training School gym. You can't afford to miss it, cuz' we're all gonna be there—yes, all of us. So grab your hat about 8:30 and come on over. Whose furnishing the music? You've guessed it—Frances Mae and her Coeds, of course. How much coin? That's easy—two bits per each. And You're gonna have fun—and that means FUN. Our vocal vibrators can waltz, too. So for all of you "merry widows" here's good news—we've arranged a dance program to please anyone and everyone, so we'll be seein' you Friday night!

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE

What we consider to be one of the finest of the present national administration's innovations has been the splendid attempt to aid higher education by the establishment of N.Y.A. assistance to students. Seldom have we found cause to complain of the administration of this aid, but inasmuch as a new ruling has been promulgated, to what we consider the injustice of students accepting aid of this nature—and to the injustice of our own C.S.T.C. N.Y.A. recipients, we would like to make a strong protest.

Recently, it was ordered that students who have been classified as City N.Y.A. workers would either have to reduce their schedules to a maximum of 12 credit hours or suffer dismissal.

We consider this to be an arbitrary and unjust ruling. Let's consider the facts!

N.Y.A. students have been considered for this aid on their scholastic records. It is safe to say that the scholastic average of this group is well above that of the school as a whole. Therefore, it would seem that they would well be able to carry any additional burdens to better advantage than those to whom studies were more difficult.

In addition, consider the fact that these workers do not work more than thirteen hours a week—an insignificant number of hours.

And to conclude the summation, remember that the number of hours lost in reducing school hours, is more than can be made up in a summer school. As a consequence, even with summer school attendance, it would be necessary to extend the time spent in college beyond the four years, usually necessary.

It is utterly impossible for school officials to tell an individual that he will either have to carry less hours or quit working at the bowling alley twenty hours a week, or at the corner filling station twenty-five hours a week, or even from slinging hash for one's board for thirty hours a week—all of which working times are beyond the N.Y.A. limit. Yet, with the threat of loss of assistance, many students have had to curtail their studies.

So on the one hand John Doe can carry 17 hours of school work and as many hours work as is necessary for his support, and on the other, students with high scholastic records are denied the privilege of both working a reasonable number of hours and carrying a reasonable number of credits. We don't think it is fair. We wish that someone would do something about it.

We want to make it clear that no official in this school is responsible for this ruling—that it is purely an order of the national administration.

THE MEGAPHONE

Comes the Pan-Hellenic dance and goes in the files another pledge period, goes the questions "Why did I join? or "Should I join?". Comes the answers:

Oscar Stish, rabid frat active: "A fraternity or sorority is an essential part of college life. If you graduate from college without having belonged to a social greek organization, you miss half the fun of going to school.

In the first place, to join isn't expensive. The dues, once you're in, are negligible compared with the wealth of return. In the second place, you make a number of staunch friends whom otherwise you probably wouldn't even know. You gain prestige in the eyes of your schoolmates. Teachers regard you a little higher (you do have to have a 1.5 average to pledge, you know). You have an unswerving backing in everything you undertake, be it running for a school office or looking for a job. You rate a little higher with the opposite sex. Even when you have been graduated a number of years and return to visit, you still have a group of friends who have taken your place as actives. You constantly have opportunity to do something for your school in one way or another. These are but a few of the advantages in belonging to the Greeks. If you can't see them, do not join us."

Says William Willip, dyed-in-the-wool Independent: "Join the greeks? I should say not! In the first place, I wouldn't spend the money. Why should I waste ten to fifteen dollars that I could otherwise use right handily? Besides what good will it do me? I have friends now. I wouldn't care to injure those friendships by joining an organization they didn't like or to which they didn't belong. I'll get a job just as quick without belonging. My teachers don't care if I belong or not. I have a number of dates and a lot of fun. My grades are as high as and perhaps higher, than a good many greeks. I haven't time anyway. Greeks—bosh!"

Freshman, this column was entirely for your benefit. Come next semester a good many of you will be asked to pledge either a fraternity or sorority. The decision will be entirely up to you. No one can make up your mind quite so well as yourself. If you are rushed, think it over thoroughly; consider all the aspects of greek organizations. Do not leap and regret. We have given you a few arguments pro and con—think them over before you decide one way or the other.

Yup, it's me again here to tell you nice readers what is going on. Although the vacation caused a break for some of you it never seems to end the old story gossip.

You really missed something during the vacation, so it is told, in not seeing Bernstein's love life from Whitewater. Rumor has it that our gay Casanova is to become one soon—but who can tell—that little thing is likely to happen to the best of us.

Our Rapids friend, one Hatch by name, tried to stop a little squabble between two so-called urchins. It seems the little fellows turned on our friend and made quick work of him; boy, was Hatch's face red.

Our dorm has quite a boy in Chet Caskey. He daily brings his girl friend, Mae Lundquist, a bag of kisses. Well, that's one way to do it, Chet.

From the looks of some of our college romances the old saying is coming true—a woman is just a grown-up Girl Scout with a frying pan in one hand and a knife in the other. Of course, I'm not mentioning any names, but if the shoe fits, put it on.

Now that the elections are over and the independents have found that they really have some organized power, let's see if they can really do something to prove their worth.

I guess the days of Sir Walter Raleighs (and I don't mean cigarettes) are not gone forever, as some people seem to believe. Quite a few of the fellows, including one Fe Bohan and Frank Koehn, met their girls at the bus the other night. Was it just "chivalrousness" or did you really miss her, Fe and Frank?

Ruth Rathke had us fooled at the beginning of the year. To look at her you would really think she might have been the stay-at-home type, but things seem to be shaping up somewhat differently. How about it, Connor?

Betty Richards says she goes to Madison to see her sister, but she insists upon it so strongly that we sometimes wonder.

What bass singer in the Glee Club is going in quite a big way for one of the girls about the campus. Well, good luck to Gus and Waldo.

Romances really blossomed out the other night on the trip to Wausau. Don't worry boys. I won't mention any of your names.

And so I must sign off for the week because this column is just like a woman's dress—long enough to cover the subject and short enough to be interesting.

With sincere sympathy the student body wishes to console Mr. and Mrs. Evans on the death of Mrs. Evans' father, Mr. E. K. Springer of Oak Park, Illinois. Mr. Springer died Sunday of a heart attack at his home.

Locals Drop Game To Whitewater

Last Home Game Played Before Small Crowd Due To Convention Vacation

Playing their last home game of the season before a small crowd of townspeople and students, the Pointers lost a 6-3 decision to an alert, but by no means superior, Whitewater eleven. The fact that Point made fifteen first downs to their opponents three just about tells the story. Point scored first when Slotwinski kicked a field goal near the end of the second quarter. The Quackers came back in the third quarter to score a touchdown. From then on the Point tried a barrage of passes, completing a good percentage, but were unable to get into the pay dirt.

Outstanding for the locals were Louis Posluszny, Ted Fritsch, and Bill Carnahan in the backfield and Greg Dorscha, Roy Otto and Tony Anderson in the line.

Whitewater's mainstays were Farina and Strobacker.

PIGSKIN PERSONALITIES

RAY WIERSIG

One of the important cogs in the athletic set-up of any school is the student manager. Though he is often forgotten, he is always on the job taking lots of razzing and doing plenty of work. Ray is on his third year as manager and really knows his way around down there. Quiet and unassuming, he is seldom noticed as he goes about his work, but the results are there and that's what counts. Ray's understudy, "Doc" Kulidas will have a big task next year when he is head man.

FRANKIE KOEHN

One of the most likeable fellows around our campus is Frankie (Dynamite) Koehn. Frank hails from Little Chute and is the only "non-Hollander" in Town. He prepped at Kimberly where he started in football. During his Junior and Senior year he scored at least one touchdown in every game. After high school he ran the family theater which is his pride and joy. His long suit is talking about his brothers of whom he is very proud. He is awfully fond of dogs and is the proud owner of a cocker spaniel. Has played lots of football for C.S.T.C. and has two good years left.

By Jim Duecker "ON THE BALL" And Mason Atwood

Though football season has not yet come to an end, several enthusiastic basketball candidates have been working out daily for several weeks. The opening game is less than a month away, however, so it's just about time to begin thinking about the hardcourt prospects.

Several authorities on football have suggested that a new system of scoring be used. They think the number of first downs made should count. Such a system would certainly have helped the Pointers this year. In the last two home games the locals have made 26 first downs to their opponents 5.

Is our face red? We didn't recognize Frankie Koehn in last weeks issue either. We offer our apologies for the error and can only say that it's just one of those things.

After Saturday's game, Art Mansfield, an official who knows his football, was heard to say that Louis Posluszny could carry the mail for any big ten team. This should make us all feel proud, even though we knew it all of the time.

The boys had a fine trip to Superior two weeks ago, but were beat on one of those passes again. The gang agrees that Superior had a better team than any team in our conference and those Superior backs can really run. It was so cold the boys on the bench had on overcoats and caps to keep warm.

Pointers Look For Second Conference Victory Saturday

The 1939 football season is on its final lap and Central State's gridders will be gunning for a second conference victory when they meet Platteville, at Platteville, Saturday. Defeated in their last four encounters, three of which could just as well have been victories, the Pointers are anything but discouraged. The workouts this week will probably be light with much emphasis on pass defense, a department that has been woefully weak in previous games.

Squad Is Intact

The squad should be in fairly good shape for the season's finale. Louis Posluszny and Bob Reading received ankle and hand injuries respectively last Saturday but may be ready to go this week. The rest of the squad is intact and will be set to go Saturday. The team will leave here Friday morning and probably will return sometime Sunday.

CLUB AND SOCIETY

RURAL LIFE HALOWEEN PARTY

The Rural Life Club held its annual Halloween party Monday evening, October 20, in the Training School Gym. The evening's entertainment started with games and during the interims Jesse Johnson gave several interesting character imitations. Following the games an enjoyable period of dancing took place, after which refreshments were served. There was a very noticeable atmosphere of happiness and friendliness pervading the party.

"HOME EC" CLUB

The Home Ec Club Meeting was held at 7:30 o'clock, Monday evening in the Sims cottage. The highlight of the evening's session was the presentation of a very interesting talk on Home Economics Extension Service. A display of linens from China was shown by Miss Irene Skutley, a graduate of C.S.T.C. and she is now Portage County Home Demonstration Agent.

Plans for Christmas charity and party were discussed. Refreshments ended the social gathering.

WHERE'S GEORGE?

—Not gone to Schusters but—

George Sappenfield, popular young Sophomore, has contracted a "sure" case of scarlet fever. For the information of those gastronomically inclined, who do not know him, a steak and George are "just like that", and he is greatly missed by the frequenters of the Empire.

George is confined in the Marshfield Isolation Hospital. His friends can do their part in breaking the isolation by dropping him a line.

GRAMMAR ROUND TABLE

Monday night the Grammar Round Table had its second social meeting of the year—a scavenger hunt. Miss Eleanor Breeden was chairman of the entertainment committee.

Three groups of seven were sent out at eight o'clock and were told to return at nine with one man's shoe, size eleven, a black toothbrush, a straw hat, and a 1919 penny. One cabinet came from the basement of the Eat Shop and one was rescued from the third floor of the dormitory. The size eleven shoe was begged, borrowed, or stolen from one of the fraternity houses, and Tony Porter loaned his straw fishing hat to the cause. One group had a hard time finding a black toothbrush, so they took a plain one to a gas station and borrowed some black paint, and their list was complete.

After all had returned, prizes were awarded and chili was served.

"CHI DELT" AUMNI BALNQUET

Alumni members of state chapters of Chi Delta Rho fraternity held their annual banquet Thursday evening, November 2, in the Martin Hotel, Milwaukee. This growing alumni organization has increased its activity in the last few years, and with the cooperation of the active chapters has molded to-gether an organized group which has these get-to-gether once each year. Francis Weingartner represented Alpha chapter Thursday evening, and a host of Alpha "Alums" attended also.

NEWMAN NEWS

At the meeting of the Newman Club to be held Thursday, November 9, plans for Newman Week will be completed. This event will start with Holy Communion and a breakfast at St. Stephens Church, Sunday, November 12. Other activities will take place during the week.

The meeting Thursday will be mostly social.

C.S.T.C. Alumni Enjoy Luncheon At Milwaukee

The alumni of C.S.T.C. held the annual luncheon in the Pere Marquette Room of the Schroeder Hotel in Milwaukee on Thursday during the meeting of the W.E.A. About eighty-five people were present and many who could not stay came to greet their friends among the faculty and former students.

Miss Morris Toast Mistress

Miss Margaret Morris of Antigo made a charming toast mistress and called upon Isabell Seholl of the Milwaukee Vocation School and Clarence Van Raalte, principal of the State Graded School at Ogdensburg to talk for the Alumni group. Both gave vivid pictures of what C.S.T.C. means in the lives of her graduates. Dr. Robert Morrison who was present at an alumni gathering for the first time and Miss May Rowe, formerly on the staff of C.S.T.C. spoke.

E. T. Smith Speaks

In a most sincere manner Miss Morris then pledged the support of the alumni to President E. T. Smith and called upon him to address those present. Mr. Smith expressed his gratitude and pointed out ways in which our graduates are, and can be, a real power in the progress of C.S.T.C.

Before the meeting adjourned Miss Morris was elected president to succeed James Doolittle; Clarence Van Raalte vice president succeeding Sam Moreau, and Miss Bessie La Vigne was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Miss La Vigne had made the arrangements for the luncheon.

Norman "Buck" Weaver became a family man after his marriage last Friday to Mrs. Ruth Everest Gritz-macher of Wausau.

SPORTS - IN - SHORTS

It is never too late to join the ping-pong ladder tournament but the sooner you get in, the more fun you'll have. The object of the tournament is to get to the top of the ladder and stay there. No one is eliminated. For further details see the Game Room bulletin board.

Plans for the Badminton season are now complete. Girls, even if you've never played before—come on out Monday and Wednesday at five. (Those of you who know the game don't need encouragement—you'll be there). Then if you're interested in real competition, join the mixed group on Wednesday evenings at 7:30. All this begins Wednesday, November 15.

Also on November 15, there will be a regular meeting of W.A.A., followed by a board meeting, at 7:00 P. M. in the Game Room. Everybody please be there. For it is said, a word to the wise is sufficient: "Beware of automatic suspension".

C.S.T.C. Students See Tobacco Road

Twenty-eight college students traveled to Wausau in the college bus Monday evening to see the famed Broadway stage play, Tobacco Road. The most talked of production ever to play the American theater, Tobacco Road stars John Barton, world famous stage actor, in the role of Jeeter Lester. The story of the play is based upon the life of the "peasantry" of the American South—the miserable share-cropper living along tobacco road. This play has a new record for repeated performances on Broadway and on the road, surpassing the one time favorite, Abie's Irish Rose, which boasted well over 2500 performances.

Staged at Grand Theatre

Tobacco Road was presented on the stage of the Grand Theater in Wausau, and a capacity audience of over 1500 saw the production. This college group of twenty-eight was not, however, the only group from C.S.T.C. to make the trip. Several students and faculty members went in private cars, also.

Student Promoted

The trip was not the result of efforts on the part of any definite college organization. However, a greater share of those making the trip were members or participants in College Theater. It was the combined effort of all these twenty-eight people that made the trip possible. Earle Siebert was in charge of the trip, and made all arrangements for ticket reservations and the obtaining of the college bus.

Education Week Being Observed

Parents and Teachers joins these three original groups in the actual sponsoring of this special period set aside for educational interpretation. Cooperating in the observance are service clubs, civic groups, women's organizations and religious bodies all over the nation.

Specific Objectives

Since the founding of American Education Week much progress has been made in the eradication of illiteracy and the elimination of physical defects. The purposes of the project have gradually broadened so that the basic purpose has now become that of calling the attention of the American people to the fundamental place of education in a democratic nation. The specific objectives are: To increase public understanding and appreciation of the schools; to encourage every parent to visit his child's school at least once annually; to secure the participation of the people in improving the schools; to give pupils an appreciation of what the schools are doing for them; to encourage civic groups to give consideration to education; and to provide an annual period of special emphasis in all-year programs of educational interpretation.

Many Programs

Observance of American Education Week is usually accompanied by open house programs, entertainments by the schools, and meetings throughout the country of civic, social, and church groups devoted to consideration of the schools. One of the main objectives of this custom is to increase understanding and appreciation of the nation's schools by encouraging every parent to visit the school at least once annually.

C.S.T.C. Octette Sings In Michigan During Vacation

An octette composed of Central State Men's Glee Club members with director, Norman E. Knutzen, made a trip into Michigan during the teachers' convention holidays. The group sang several concerts for civic and high school audiences. The eight men included: Jerry O'Doherty and Herbert Upright, 1st tenors, Arthur Stapel and Dick Larson, 2nd tenors, Harold Torkelson and Russell Fredericks, 1st basses, Frederick Schwierske and Jerry Torkelson, 2nd basses.

Stay At Cottage

The group left Stevens Point a week ago today and stayed until Friday morning at Mr. Knutzen's cottage near Stambough, Michigan. Friday morning the octette sang at the Iron River high school, and in the afternoon appeared before a women's civic club in Stambough. That evening the group made another appearance in Stambough, singing for the Older Boy's Conference for Upper Michigan. On Saturday noon they sang at a banquet given by the same organization.

Stop At Crandon

The stop-over at Crandon to present a short program on Sunday afternoon at one of the churches provided a most welcome opportunity for the fellows to relieve muscles cramped from riding on the homeward trip. At 9:00 o'clock the same evening the car rolled into Point with its cargo of slightly tired but thoroughly satisfied singers.

giving their best to close another-wise dismal season with a win. Among those who will be singing their swan songs are Capt. Bohan, Rodger Bernstein, Ed Slotwinski, Hank Warner, Ernie Ruppel, Jim Duecker, and Bob Bishop.

Third Place In Balance

Platteville has a record similar to Point so far this season. They have won from Oshkosh and have lost to Whitewater and Milwaukee. The Pioneers boast a strong offense headed by "Butch" Perkins, all-conference fullback, and the Sheehan brothers, a pair of speedy halfbacks. This game will probably decide third place in the conference standings.

Ted Shawn Presents His Men Dancers

Ted Shawn with his "Ensemble of Men Dancers" and Jess Meeker at the piano will present an American Saga, "O, Libertad!" The program will be given in assembly on Wednesday, November fifteenth, at 10:00 A. M.

Act I, the "Past"

Act one of this presentation is a story of the "Past." The opening scene portrays the night when many of the chieftains of the Aztec emperor were invited to a banquet by invading Spaniards who plotted to slay them.

Scene one is followed by a portrayal of a Good Friday celebration of a "fanatic sect of Franciscans." After this act, Peonage is described by a dance which is based on the movements of the Mexican Peons at work in a sugar refinery. The last scene in act one represents the Spanish period in the state of California and is immediately followed by a rhythmic act which exemplifies the "Forty-Niners," and the Gold Rush.

Act II, the "Present"

The "Present" is the theme interpreted in the second act. However, the scene dates back to the campus of 1914, and is depicted with a serpentine dance. A break in the college life is the "Call to Arms" when American youth is sent to France. After the World War scene comes the "Jazz Decade," the "Depression," "Recovery," and a number of "Sport dances."

Act III, the "Future"

The third act is entitled the "Future."

The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph says of this program: "An epoch-making performance. Like Walt Whitman, Ted Shawn is expressing America."

Students must present their activity tickets in order to attend this program. It is to be one of the best entertainments of the year, so don't fail to see it.

Dr. Pierson Addresses "Rural Life" Meeting

Dr. Edgar F. Pierson was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Rural Life Club on Monday night. He pointed out the many opportunities for complete and satisfying living which are offered by the country, suggesting that our sympathy is probably due those people who live in congested areas and are deprived of much of the beauty of the natural world.

He compared various methods of farming in different localities and warned against attempts to instruct the native who has learned what fares best in his locality.

Other numbers on the program were a vocal quartette composed of Jean Luxem, Gladys Gilman, Opal Holts and Arvilla Brooks, a vocal trio in which Jerry O'Doherty, Wallace Wheeler and Malcolm Fryk sang, and a piano duet by O'Doherty and Wheeler.

As the first move toward preparation for entertaining the state Intercollegiate Rural Youth Group in the spring, Alice Linehan introduced Mr. Neale, who spoke on the organization and administration of the American Country Life Conference of which our organization is a unit. It was news to most of us that our College was host to the national organization in 1919. In the absence of Herbert Upright, Stanley Lepak led the group singing, while Laura Schreiber play accompaniments.

Young Progressives Will Hold Second Meeting

The Young Progressives of C. S. T. C. will hold their second meeting of the year on Tuesday, November 14. A very interesting and instructive meeting is being planned. Laurie Carlson of Bayfield will address the gathering. In addition to Mr. Carlson, Gerald Boileau of Wausau will talk. This organization is open to any student of the college.

At the last meeting the following officers were elected:

- Philip S. Anderson ..... President
- Donald Kordus ..... Vice President
- Jesse Johnson ..... Secretary
- Frank Splitic ..... Treasurer

These officers are elected for the duration of the year.

The purpose of this organization is to acquaint the students of the state with the proceedings in Madison.

National Art Week Brings Exhibit

This is National Art Week and in an attempt to make our students art conscious, Miss Carlsten invites every one of them to come in and see the Art exhibit which is being presented in her room.

The collection being shown is a loaned exhibit and is part of a former government subsidized W.P.A. project. It is now under the department of State Supervisor Callahan, who is preparing several loan exhibits.

It includes 10 water colors, one oil wash painting, "The Sleeping Beauty" and one dry painting, "Design of Two Deer." Almost all of the most prominent artists in Wisconsin are represented. The artists and their paintings are:

- Merton, Edward ..... Logging
- Lewandowski, Edmund ..... Three Fishermen
- Long, Willy ..... Poppies
- Raine, Earle ..... Snow Barns
- Powell, Louis ..... Lead Mine
- Jansen, Richard ..... Gas Tanks Seashore
