Girl Debaters Reach Finals

Becker, Murgatroyd
Win Six At St. Paul

Margaret Becker and Evelyn Murgatroyd, one of CSTC's women's debate teams, entered in the St. Thomas Debate Tournament at St. Paul, Minnesota, won six out of eight contests, reaching the women's semi-finals to cop high honors among Central State's four teams. The other women's team composed of Eleanor Ruchti and Virginia Johnson won 4 out of 4, and the men's team, consisting of Joe Ophoven and Jack Taylor won 3 out of 8. The team composed of Don Krider and Frank Splitke won four and lost four.

Augustana Team Champs

St. Olafs of Northfield, Minnesota, defeated the women's team in the semi-finals, but were nosed out in turn by this year's champs from Augustana, Illinois. Carleton College of Northfield, Minnesota, took the honors in the men's division. Dr. Tolo and L. M. Burroughs, Debate Coach, drove up to the border city in their cars. Mr. Burroughs judged the women's championship debate.

Health Center, Iris Relocated

Move To Apartment
Vacated By Stein

The Health Center has been moved into a location supplying more adequate facilities and larger rooms than were formerly used by this service. The present location is near the west entrance on the ground floor, in the apartment formerly occupied by Mr. Stein, the head engineer and his family.

Provision is made for a large reception room, and two treatment rooms. One will be used for nose and throat treatment, and the other needs. This will increase efficiency for dressings and miscellaneous because both Miss Neuberger, the nurse, and Doctor Marrs, can work at the same time. The two emergency rooms are equipped with beds in case of accident or illness requiring immediate care.

New Equipment Provided

The new rotary air compressor which uses three different kinds of medicine to spray into the patient's nose and throat, has proven very efficient in the treatment of colds.

The walls and floors have been redecorated, and additional furniture has been acquired from the South Sims Cottage.

Iris Staff Has New Office

This Iris Office will be moved to a room adjoining the Health Center. This location has an outside entrance which will eliminate going through the building and the unnecessary use of lights.

Pupils Try Art Of Broadcasting

CSTC radio studios were recently the scene of a half hour program sponsored by the fourth graders of the Training School, under the supervision of Miss Leah Diehl and Miss Gertie Hanson. Six children partook, each having written his own script. Participants were: Jim Coleman, announcer, Margaret Benn, Richard Kierig, Muriel Held, Barbara Bea, John Negaard, and Margot Van Wegenen.

Pupil Organization Emphasized

The theme of the broadcast from studio to studio was "Life in Switzerland." The children had studied about this country in both Geography and Reading classes with their student teachers, Robert Zetsche and Florence Smith. Each script was written by the child who presented it. In addition to the talks, a solo, "Alpine Shepherds", was sung by Muriel Held, and a duet, "The Herd Boy", was sung by Muriel Held and Margot Van Wegenen. The organization and manner in which the program was given was entirely arranged by the children.

Transcription Excellent Summary

As a conclusion to the children's broadcast, Miss Hanson played a transcription of a trip through Switzerland. This was a reading of one of her geography programs in the series of "Neighbors Round the World," which was presented over WHA last year. The types of yodeling demonstrated by a native Swiss gentleman, now residing in Madison, especially interested the children. Miss Hanson's recording served as an excellent summary of the study of Switzerland.

Type of Work Successful

As far as both children and teachers are concerned, this program proved of value. Now that the children have done this type of thing once, they are anxious to repeat it. It is hoped that before June an actual broadcast may be made by this group. This is the first time that the new studios have been used as part of regular classwork. Because the development of radio education in the classroom is one of the aims of the new radio program here, Miss Hanson is anxious to cooperate in staging more practice broadcasts in the future.

Each Play Under
Student Direction

Final preparations have been completed for College Theater's workshop one acts which will be presented for the students and faculty tonight. Joint Owners in Spain, a play having an all girl cast, will go on first. Madge Lee and La Rue Smith have combined their efforts to direct this comedy by Alice Brown. The second production will be Submerged by H. Stuart Cottman and Le Vergne Shaw. Betty Smith and Don Krider are the directors. The last play, another comedy, Three's a Crowd, is directed by Barbara Gerdes and Bob Unger. Stage Manager Jim Unger will put his staff through the paces backstage during the performance, Joe Ophoven will supervise the lighting, and Charles Stoltzenberg will manage the sound effects.

To Produce "Our Town"

College Theater has completed final arrangements to produce Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," on two nights, April 24 and 25. This three act combination of fantasy and reality is one of America's most popular plays to-day. L. M. Burroughs will direct, assisted by students to be chosen this week. Tryouts are in progress in Burroughs' room this week, the last one to be held Thursday from 3:00 to 4:00. Any student interested in acting is invited to attend these tryouts. The cast will be large, and the play presents a real opportunity for any type of actor.

Band To Give Annual Concert

Thursday, March 28, has been the date selected for the annual spring home concert to be given by the College Band, directed by Mr. Peter J. Michelsen, in the school auditorium. As an extra attraction, Mr. Michelsen has invited several of the alumni back to play with the band. The following are former members who have been invited to play in the concert: Ben Goldberg, Abbottsford; Leslie Hanson, Thorp; Gerald Eyler, Cadott; Ralph Abrahamson, Colby; Marguerite Adams Westfal, Bowler; Frederick Parfrey, Blair; Samuel Winch, Independence; Kenneth Storrant, Three Lakes; Norman Hinkley, Whitehall; Arnold Jindrick, Etrick.

The concert is sponsored by the merchants of the city. Tickets for students will be available at the office on March 26.

GOD BLESS AMERICA

Twice during the past week the song, "God Bless America", appeared on assembly programs. The words of that song are filled with a meaning and a truth that cannot help but convey a thrill of pride and hope into the heart of the listener.

Day after day accounts of deeds of war across the water appear in our papers. Authors, commentators, politicians, and propagandists are all busy supplying the public with their interpretation of events and with what they feel will be the outcome. In the minds of all, however, one question is all important—how long can our country maintain its present position?

The blessing of freedom is constantly endangered by forces at work both here and abroad. In order to steer away from disaster, our reading public must learn to discriminate between articles as to their purpose and their truth.

Prospects of war, though distant at present, may easily and quickly become very real. We do not want this—we want to continue to feel a pride in the blessing of freedom. We have something worth keeping—if we truly cherish it we cannot lose it.

"This nation already great, promises to rise higher as long as its leaders and idealists place a trust in its destiny. Let us thank God we have peace, but remember while we enjoy it, that the memories of our ancestors and the future of our children, and theirs, demand we act with fortitude and intelligence to maintain the integrity and security of America."

Shaatin' from the Lip

Sitting here with a face full of grease paint we can't help but think of the theatre. And when we think of the theatre we simultaneously think of our own little 'College Theatre here on ye olde CSTC campus. 'Tis a fine organization and is working hard to bring to the students the best in entertainment.

We've been wondering what that scaffolding just outside the east entrance to the school is. It ain't very pretty and as far as we can see it has very little function as yet.

The Rural Department is moving right along in their placement. The last we heard there were something like sixteen contracts signed by as many June graduates. The Rural Lifers must have something at that.

This is our shortest column of the year, folks. Time's a wastin' and we must be on stage for rehearsal.

THE MUSIC PARADE

The C.S.T.C. Concert Band has covered quite a lot of territory since the last time you readers glanced at this column. As a matter of fact, this organization played six concerts last Monday, Tuesday, and Friday, March 5th, 6th, and 8th.

Monday morning the bus left for Antigo. The first concert was given at 11:00 o'clock to the Senior High School students. They were an appreciative crowd and insisted on an encore after Mr. Michelsen had left the stand. At noon the band was ushered to the Home Ec. room for a most palatable dinner prepared by the bandmothers. After consuming sufficient calories to 'carry on' a short rest period as enjoyed before the 2:30 concert to the Junior High school and grade school pupils. Mr. Joe Bouschka, instructor of music in Antigo public schools, was guest conductor.

The Shawano concert in the evening was attended and well received by a large crowd. Many schools including Mattoon, Marion, and Clintonville, were represented by their respective band directors. Mr. Harold Schlimovitz, Shawano band director, conducted the band in "Tintagel", one of this year's tournament selections.

The Tuesday trip consisted of two concerts. Upon arrival in Green Lake a short rehearsal was held before enjoying a delicious ham dinner served by some rather attractive young waitresses. Guest conductors during the afternoon concert were Mr. Harold Dyer, band director from Ripon College, and Mr. Paul Byrd, director from Green Lake. The second concert, given at Scandinavia, was enjoyed as much by the band as by the attendants. Miss Katherine Christy, director of the Scandinavia High School Band led the band in a march and that was the one time that all eyes were on the director.

A concert was scheduled at Port Edwards last Friday evening. Again we were well fed and in good spirits. The concert was enjoyed by an unusually large crowd. Guest conductors included Mr. Don Radmar, Port Edwards Band director, and Mr. Norman Hinkley, C.S.T.C. alumnus and band director of Whitehall. "Hink", as everyone knows him, directed the band in "Them Basses" and at such a pace as to leave the brass section as well as the reeds gasping for breath.

Many members from the band gave a short history of their instrument to the Presbyterian Men's Club, Monday night, March 11th. Supper was served at 6:00 P.M. followed by the program. Mr. Michelsen introduced the following students who demonstrated their instruments:

Rollie McManners Bass Tuba
 John Frayne Baritone
 Phil Dakin French Horn
 Melvin Wunch Bass Clarinet
 Norbert Gonziorowski Tenor Saxophone
 Frank Pliner B flat Clarinet
 Eyleene Atkins Bassoon
 Betty Johnson Flute
 Ray Rozelle Oboe

The program was closed with the playing of several numbers by the entire group.

Tuesday night, March 12th, will find the band in Almond for a concert. This is the last definite concert date before Easter vacation.

The Black and Whites, of the St. Peter's cage loop ran away with the championship at the New London tournament last week. The team is composed almost entirely of CSTC students. Ken Parr came home with so many medals that he's thinking of running a tournament himself.

Howie Stimm, telling about his fight last Wednesday, said "I hit him, then I got up and hit him again." Anyway, Howie thinks boxing isn't half as bad as pledging. In a fight, you can at least hit back.

Dean Steiner raised his average in the bowling league considerably as the result of a high "158" game against the Pointers last week. He now boasts an average of 122 pins in 14 games.

Men's Badminton Tourney To Start

Badminton, a comparatively new form of indoor sport at CSTC is really going over big. A mixed doubles tournament is already underway and a men's singles tourney is all set to start. The pairings for this tournament, an elimination affair, have been announced and first round games will be played this week. The pairings are as follows:

George Quandt—Bye
Phil Anderson—Alex Mancheski
Louis Lang—Don Leton
Norm Halla—Clarence Solberg
Jerry O'Doherty—Herb Faulks
Len Ropella—Clyde Johnson
Mike Kufel—Ray Wiersig
Ernie Ruppel—Bye

Congratulations are in order for Jim Duecker, one of our graduating athletes. Jim has his name on the dotted line and will direct the athletic affairs of Menomonie (Wisconsin) high school next year.

This corner has received several criticisms on the distribution of publicity. We are very sorry that we forgot to mention that Dan Young was one of the undefeated members of last year's boxing team. If we have passed up anyone else we shall be glad to include them if we are told about the error.

Boxers Split With Keshena

Several hundred enthusiastic fans saw Central State's 1940 boxing team pound out four decisions in eight bouts to earn a draw with the Keshena Indians. Coach Louie Drobnick's men, four of whom had never been in a collegiate ring, showed promise of developing into a tough aggregation before the end of the season.

Point got off to a flying start when Brenner gained a decision over Al Cook in the 120 pound class. In the 125 pound division, Tourtilot scored a knockout over Tohm in the second round. The Indians then went into the lead when Dick Tucker and Mac Pherson pounded out decisions over Ropella and Negard at 135 and 147 pound respectively. Stimm came back after a poor start to outpoint Warrington, fighting at 111 pounds. The visitors came back in the next fight when Whitewing, 161 pounder, decided Louie Drobnick. Dan Young fought a good fight in the 168 pound contest to win over Len Tucker. With the Indians leading 4-3, Louie Lang proceeded to score a technical knockout over Boyd in the light heavyweight class.

The next match is scheduled for March 26, when the CSTC squad will travel to Ripon to take on the strong Ripon College squad.

The team standings in the CSTC bowling league received quite a jolt as a result of last week's games. The "fast-talking" Faculty quintet took 3 games from the Pointer team to move into second place, one game behind the Phi Sigs, who won two from Taylors. The Chi Delts lost 3 to the Eat Shop in the other match.

The individual leaders remained about the same with Bob Becker and "Snooky" Van Dyke close on the heels of Frankie Koehn who has led the league since the second week of competition.

Highlight of this week's matches is the Phi Sig-Faculty contest. The Phi Sigs need at least two out of three to retain the undisputed leadership. The schedule is as follows:

Phi Sigs vs. Faculty (+109)
Chi Delts vs. Taylors (+50)
Eat Shop vs. Pointer (+22)

The club meets again tonight to discuss further the foreign policy of the United States since 1918. Last Wednesday evening Aucutt led the discussion on foreign relations with France, and Ben Korpus continued the discussion by reading a paper prepared by Elroy Florence on foreign relations with Germany. The discussion tonight will center about America's foreign policy regarding Italy and Spain. Bernard Johnson and Phil Anderson will lead the evening's discussion.

Debaters Originate Tradition While Procrastinating

The trip which the debate teams took to St. Thomas College, Minneapolis, Minn., was filled with momentous incident and unique experience.

Most renowned of all is the story of the Four Roses. It seems that it is tradition for Augustana College, Sioux Falls, S. D., to present its women with a red rose for their opening debates. Rook, who has an eye for art, was bemoaning the fact that she had no rose. Dr. Tolo then promised every girl on the team such a flower if someone won and was eligible for the finals. That, thought "Doc", would be a greater incentive than to present them before. And lo, the girls won and the four roses were presented. C.S.T.C. has now begun a new tradition.

It also might be mentioned that, much to the delight of the fairer orators, the judges were fellows of the University of Minnesota Law School. However, Rook was plenty mad when one of them sat and laughed at her during her whole rebuttal. Later it was discovered that she and Virginia had won so decisively it was not necessary to even concentrate on the rebuttal.

The highlight of the trip occurred when V. Johnson became so angry she shed "The Grapes of Wrath" in the form of tears. And the fellows have this to say about the whole trip: "The girls knew more people and caused more delay than you'd find on the Green Bay and Western." (All apologies to Kay Tyler)

PLEDGING ENDS

Pledging will come to a final, and, we might say, a welcome conclusion this week when over fifty students of Central State Teachers College will be initiated into the various Greek organizations on the campus. The grand finale will be in the form of a Pan-Hellenic dance to be held at the Hotel Whiting on Saturday night. Music will be furnished by Benny Graham and his Band. The Omega Mu Chi and Tau Gamma Beta Sororities will hold their formal initiations in the dining rooms at the Hotel Whiting. The Phi Sigs will hold their formal initiations at the Belmont Cafe, and the Chi Delta Rho fraternity will have its formal initiation at the Chapter house on Clark Street. The chaperones for the Pan-Hellenic Dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morrison and Dr. and Mrs. Harold Tolo.

SPORTS -IN- SHORTS

Basketball

The exciting event has come again! After a great deal of practice and keen competition between the Girls' Basketball teams, all except four have been eliminated. Two more will be exempt this Wednesday afternoon when the semi-finals will be played. Beginning at four, the "Tigers" are scheduled to play the "Skyrockets" and the "Trojans", the "Bluestreaks". Judging from former tournament games, the girls will undoubtedly show plenty of action. They are loyal to their teams and play to win but above all exhibit good sportsmanship. More than that, they enjoy the sport! Just ask them.

Tumbling

Now that the ice is disappearing, W.A.A. is offering another form of tumbling to the girls of C. S. T. C. Twenty girls have already announced their interest and will meet regularly every Monday and Wednesday from four to five-thirty beginning March 27. Any others who wish to take part are requested to sign on the bulletin board before Easter vacation.

Spring Sports

Girls Glee Club To Wausau Fri.

The Girls' Glee Club will leave Stevens Point at 4:00 Friday, March 15, to go to Wausau where they will present the second out-of-town concert of this season. Previous to the concert at the Methodist Church, the girls will be entertained at a supper by the ladies of that church. Thirty-five people, seven more than appeared on the Almond Concert group, will make the trip, using the college bus and Mr. Michelsen's car.

In addition to the program presented at the home concert last Thursday evening, two new selections, "Lullabye, from the New World Symphony" by Dvorak, and "Holy Art Thou" from Handel's Largo, will be added.

Several changes in the personnel of the special chorus group will be made so that each girl in the glee club will make at least one out-of-town trip.

Public Colleges Are Advancing

The annual report of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, released on February 18, as usual made the headlines. Also as usual, only the sensational statements were featured, as in the 'New York Herald-Tribune': "Carnegie Study Assails Colleges' Gifts Scramble." The really startling conclusion in the report of the President of the Foundation, Dr. Walter A. Jessup, is that there is now a remarkable similarity in all respects between public and private institutions of higher learning. The two types of institution, Dr. Jessup indicates, "admit much the same type of student," turn out the same "end-product, the graduate," reveal indistinguishable attitudes "toward their social responsibilities," have much the same standards and working conditions for their faculties, and similar physical equipment.

There are significant differences between private and public colleges, however—and these quite unexpected. Dr. Jessup cites the most recent survey of the U. S. Office of Education to show that "private institutions expend relatively more for administration" (14.9 as against 9.6 per cent), whereas public colleges and universities spend proportionately more for research (8 as against 3.7 per cent). The relationships of both types of institution to the community are largely identical. "The pressures of society," said Dr. Jessup, "are much the same for the two kinds of institution, whether expressed informally, as in the case of the drop in the demand for courses in Greek or Latin, or directly, as in the case of meeting the legal requirements for the various professions."

As a result of general equality of standards and conditions, "publicly and privately controlled institutions

LIBRARY NOTES

Among the many new publications on the book shelf are some of political importance. Stephen Roushenbush tells us the causes of Fascism, and the reasons for its appeal to people who were once respondent to words such as "liberty" and "equality." These opinions are related in a new book, The March of Fascism, which "is not only a story of what has happened and what can happen; it also indicates the lines we must follow to make sure that it doesn't happen here. The author, Stephen Roushenbush, has been a teacher, manager in the oil and clothing industry, and secretary and chief investigator for the Senate Munitions Committee. He has discussed fascism with the men of Germany and Italy and the former Czechoslovakia.

Raymond Moley, a frequent advisor of President Roosevelt has written a political autobiography After Seven Years. This publication gives behind-the-scenes stories on early New Deal Activities such as the origin of the NRA, the Brain Trust, Bank Crisis, and Supreme Court Fight.

A discussion on College, the controversies which are now dividing conservative from progressive educators and the roots from which this opposition arose is found in volume entitled The College Charts Its Course by R. Freeman. This book shows how historical conceptions have guided American College Education in the past and how modern "proposals for changing college education are related to these former controversies."

Housing The Masses by Carol Aronovici is not the usual discussion of slum conditions and its evils, or European Housing conditions. It is a book which is concerned with long-range aspects of housing. The above new books and many others will be ready for circulation within a few days.

The Minnesota engineers decided to publish a list of jokes used by their professors. The jokes were classified and numbered so when a professor is in the mood of wisecracking, he can refer to the joke by number, thus saving time of the class period.

U. W. Haresfoot Coming To Wausau

Plans to bring the 42nd annual production of Haresfoot, musical comedy group at the University of Wisconsin, once more to Wausau during the spring recess vacation at the university have been successfully completed according to Sydney Jacobson, Appleton, president. The all-male troupe, numbering 65 students will present its show to a Wausau audience Tuesday April 16 at the Grand theater.

Five other Wisconsin cities in addition to Wausau and Madison will witness the current version of Haresfoot, including La Crosse, Green Bay, Appleton, Racine and Milwaukee. The show opens in La Crosse the day before appearing in Wausau from where it proceeds to Green Bay.

Authored by Bill Erin, La Crosse and Clark Carnes, Appleton, seniors in the school of letters and science and law respectively, the show this year is set in New Orleans, during the bustle and hilarity of Mardi Gras. A University of Wisconsin professor of domestic science on leave of absence who is in search of an elusive famous French chef and a more slippery recipe furnishes the general theme.

Haresfoot club appeared last year in Wausau when "Annex Me Another", a piercing political satire, was presented. Don Strutz, leading man of the show, was recently signed to the lead of a Broadway production now in rehearsal, "New Faces of 1940."

Madison, home of the musical comedy group which is the third of its kind in the nation, holds off its traditional formal premiere of the show until April 26, to be held in the new million-dollar Memorial union theater.

Students Enjoy Danube Singers

At an assembly program last Thursday morning, C.S.T.C. students and faculty were well entertained by the "Blue Danube Singers." Students especially enjoyed the great variety of selections and the excellent manner in which they were presented. The gestures vividly portrayed the story of the songs and made them more enjoyable to the audience. Students seemed to favor the compositions of Sigmund Romberg and other modern songs which were presented along with the more classical numbers.

In addition to the excellent performances and stage presence of Miss Arndt and Mr. Fritzgerald, one cannot overlook the superb piano technique of Mr. Skinner. His renditions of the works of Bach and Mozart were well received by an enthusiastic audience.

Angry Father: "What do you mean by bringing my daughter in at this hour of the morning?"

Gay Lad: "Had to be at work at eight."

find themselves competing for the favor of prospective students, faculty members, donors, and taxpayers. For the most part, they all are ready to adopt new programs and to abandon old ones if these changes can be made within the framework of their permanent commitments. Our academic predecessors might be a little surprised at our expensive publicity departments. The cost per capita of promotion in some institutions almost equals the entire per capita cost of instruction—the processing stage in industry—in others."

According to a survey made by Martha Shaffer under the direction of Dr. H. E. Schrammel of the Kansas State Teachers college at Emporia, students who work part time have a higher rating than the non-working students.

W. P. Carr, professor of economics at Loyola university told his students to bring a coin for their exam. When asked why, Mr. Carr said that the exam would consist of true and false questions and the coin would come in handy for flipping.

Turning the Leaves

(ED. NOTE—This is a column which will appear occasionally, bringing the reader a brief synopsis of popular books.)

"Alone," a story filled with the actual experiences of an explorer of our generation has been a "nation wide best seller." It is a book which would be of interest to those who are following the present expedition of Admiral Richard E. Byrd. Four years elapsed before Byrd decided to relate to the public his very intimate experience of Antarctica. The book "Alone" written by Richard E. Byrd is found in the CSTC library.

It was the middle of March, and the original plan to station three men at Bolling Advance weather Base, was impossible. Winter was coming on and there was no time to transport supplies for three men over this hazardous expanse. One man, Byrd, was all that could go. His shelter from wind and snow at Advance Base was a specially constructed shack which was sunk in a pit, fifteen feet long, eleven feet wide, and eight feet deep. Here he began his life of solitude. The available equipment permitted Little America to talk to him but he could only reply by means of the Morse code at which he was very inexperienced.

Then came the unfortunate days in May. May the twentieth the temperature was 74° below zero. May thirty-first, an accident occurred which brought him near death. Then came weeks filled with horror, fear and pain. There was improvement, then relapse. Would he ever recover? After many days of mental and physical agony he was able to get a message through to Little America. Attempts were made by the expeditioners at Little America to reach Advance Base but weather conditions forced them to turn back. They began again and this time succeeded in reaching the weakened explorer.

This is a great moving drama of our modern day and relates to us with sincerity and vividness the strife of a great scientist and explorer.

Anticipated Cost Reduction

It is anticipated that through this change costs of heating will be greatly reduced. The rough estimate for February indicates a saving of two hundred and sixty dollars. This can be attributed to the fact that it is no longer necessary to heat the west wing of the building incessantly in order to keep that apartment comfortably warm. President Smith deserves much credit for his cooperation and initiative in affecting these changes.

"Tiny" Grayson, a cadet at Clemson college, claims to be the world's tallest college student. He is seven feet, two inches tall and weighs 302 pounds.
