"PEACE AIMS"

Since draft boards all over the country have set quotas of young Americans to southern army training camps the leaders of government have asked the American people to shelf their differences and "unite for the cause." Most observers will agree that the unity campaign has been artificial for the most part, solidarity has been rather weak. A feeling of indifference on the part of the American people has been sensed by wide awake newspaper columnists and news commentators since the outbreak of defense industry strikes yet but a few weeks ago. Dorothy Thompson stated Monday in her column in the SENTINEL, "This war is not popular in the United States. Making America, an "arsenal for democracy" is not really popular. ... This society is not cohesive, not united, not devoted to a common cause." I am confident that most level-headed Americans realize the fact.

Something has gone wrong with the machinery as originally conceived America is still the most anti-Nazi country in the world. America still wants Britain to defeat Germany. But the enthusiasm necessary for a "cause" is not there.

That article is very unfair and would leave a bad impression on C.S.T.C. students and Americans. From what I have heard, the students who really have something to say—say it. Some "gripes" just pass the day, and mean nothing by it and don't pretend to. Some grumble and complain to everybody but the proper places and this latter group hasn't gumption enough to complain if they had something to complain about.

If the gentlemen who wrote the article last week have anything concrete to say, why don't they say it and set an example of Americanism?

STUDENT SPARRING

I have read the article under "Student Sparring" from last week and feel "highly complimented" when the gentlemen say "Americans are afraid to express their opinions—" and so on. I wonder if they have investigated the matter fully or are just "talking.

Boxers Take It On Chin At Superior

The Central State Teachers College boxing squad opened its boxing season with a 7-1 defeat at the hands of Superior Teachers last Friday night at Superior. The speech indicates. Several close decisions went to Superior although the Yellow-jackets at a team looked more experienced and deserved to win.

Result:

120 lbs. Leonard Lally defeated Orlad Radke Central State.

Lally took the first round and second rounds and then rallied beautifully to win the third round. He flattened Lally's nose and cut his eye so badly that the bout was stopped. The decision was given to the Superior boy because the intercollegiate boxing rules state that when a fight is stopped on account of a cut the verdict is given to the one who is leading on points at the time of injury.

127 lbs. Ken Brenner, Central State, drew with Charles Wohlen, of Central State Teachers last Friday night at Superior.

Wohlen in a bout that had the crowd laughing at the Superior.

165 lbs. Bertagnoli, Superior, knocked out Myron Sharkey of Central State Teachers.

Sharkey easily won the first round but tired in the second and was a victim of a technical knock out. Bertagnoli was a terrific puncher and when Sharkey tired and quit fighting in close cost him his chance to win.

Howie Stimm carried the fight to Carl Larson who placed fourth in the national intercollegiate boxing tournament and won every round, but the decision even to Larson's surprise, was announced as a draw. Larson was as good as pre-season notices but he just couldn't cope with Stimm's speed and better condition.

165 lbs. Don Olson, Superior, knocked out Jay Swett, Central State, in the third round.

Swett took an awful lot of punishment from the best boxer and strongest puncher on the Superior team. Don Olson, a freshman, will go places in the national tournament next year.

175 lbs. Myron Sharkey, Superior, defeated Don Young, Central State.

Dan Young after staggering his opponent three times and failing to stop him lost a decision to Captain Wayne Shuman. Coach Menzel said after the bout that he thought Dannie had won the fight.

Heavyweight: Ray Lile, Superior knocked out Norman Hall, Central State, in the first round.

Norman Hall took a terrific left hook and a right cross which floored him in the first round. The referee stopped the bout and awarded it to Ray Lile. Coach Menzel said the punch looked good enough to defeat any heavyweight in the golden glove tournament of a magnitude of which he saw in Chicago last month.

COLLABORATION CORNER

It is spring! We saw a hornet inside the window in Burrough's room the other day.

Did you see the play? You should have been backstage—that's where the real drama was—a clock which had been borrowed for the occasion had a music box attached instead of an alarm. The darn thing happened to be set for 9:30 and promptly that hour it gave our with 'Smiles'. The stage crew and cast almost folded up. Nobody knew how to stop it so they put it back in a corner of the stage. They piled everything in the place on it but it played bravely on for several minutes before it ran down, leaving everybody in the last stages of hysterics.

When the Men's glee club stopped over at Muriel Jenks' home in Abbotsford a couple of weeks ago Mr. Jenks kept referring to Murriel Waid as "our Muriel"....What's the sense of digging gold out of the mines in South Africa and burying it at Fort Knox, Kentucky?

Bob Unger (the guy who's taking the fatal step Sunday) was in school last week. According to Bob, Charlie Burch married a gal from the Milwaukee State Teachers College a bit over a month ago....also...Walter Wheeler, another alum familiar to most of you older students, married a Miss Ormon a while ago.

Here are a few quips which we thought you might find interesting.

If you want your dream to come true, don't oversleep.

Don't brood—you're a man, not a hen.

Don't worry—the neighbors think just as many disagreeable things about you as you do about them.

Have you seen Sherm Sword's girl friend? If you haven't—get Sherm to introduce you. She's a good looker! Her name? Ask Sherm.

Warren Soetober won the heart of an admiring female at the last Glee Club concert at Merrill. News to you, Warren?

Shadow was singing so lustily in the bath the other night that the neighbor woman heard it and called up to compliment him....

Don't miss the boxing bouts! They promise to be exciting and gory....Why do mos' et holes in rugs? A. To see the floor show!

Johnny Cowan and Ray Minton have both sworn solemnly to avenge themselves on the one who gave our with the 'Smile'. The stage crew and cast almost folded up. Nobody knew how to stop it so they put it back in a corner of the stage.
