First Conference Win; Score 63-41

Paced by Captain Pete Terzanski and Ray Warren, who scored 20 and 19 points respectively, the C.S.T.C. Pointers tumbled the Whitewater Teachers College quintet 63 to 41 in a contest played at Whitewater to capture their first conference victory.

The first half was hotly contested. Whitewater jumped to a 2 to 1 lead with a long shot by Britelli but two baskets in quick succession by Pete and Ray Terzanski extinguished this lead. This was the only lead held by the Agnew men during the game. They tried, however, to manage to tie the score at 15, 19 and 24. The score at the half was 27 to 20.

The Kotalmen turned on the heat during the second half and simply shot from beyond the ring to a 42 to 30 lead during the first seven minutes and then lurched to victory. Out of 22 free throws tried the Pointers made 19 for a 70.6 average. They made all of their penalty shots in the second half.

Opening the conference season last Saturday night the Pointers were able to improve their record to 1-0 when they defeated the St. Louis University 48 to 41 in a thrilling and exciting game played in the gymnasium. Behler led the Green Gulls with 20 points and Ray Terzanski compiled 15 for the Pointers.

Mr. Evans Goes To Florida.

Mr. Charles Evans spent the recent holidays in Florida. This was his fourth trip to that state. He traveled into the more tropical regions to observe and obtain tan cells.

Mr. Evans drove over 172 miles of highway to reach Key West, the southernmost part of the United States. He pointed out that this is farther south than Cairo, Egypt. When he reached the keys, a storm was in the making, and it reached its height during his stay. The wind reached a great velocity and covered most of the beach roads with water. Mr. Evans obtained a few hermit crabs before the beaches were combered and them all refuse blown in by the storm.

Marcus Island was one of Mr. Evans' stops. The only industry on this island is clamming. The natives wade out into the water at high tide and follow the water out. They feel for clams with their feet and pick them up with hooks.

At one time this island was ruled by a self-made king and queen. They controlled all activity and held the rest of the people in slavery. Mr. Evans was informed. This island at one time, he believed, was operating an base for smugglers.

Mr. Evans also visited Tarpon Springs. From there most of the sponges used in this country are obtained.

Mr. Hanse'n Moves

The women's team, and Roy Rogers, also the activities will be broadened, according to Mr. Hanse'n. The North Central Division includes clubs of Antigo, Neillsville, Stevens Point, Wausau and Wisconsin Rapids.

Mr. Rogers also won the first prize of $25 for the lightest division of the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce holiday home decorating contest.

Dr. Harold M. Tolo was appointed district governor of District No. 2 of the National Exchange Club, by Leland D. McCord, the national president. A district governor, Dr. Tolo becomes the national officer representing the National Exchange Club in this district, acting under authority of the national board of control.

The district includes clubs at Stevens Point, Appleton, Chippewa Falls, Chippewa, Fond du Lac, and Wausau. His duties include giving assistance to other clubs in programs and activities and stimulating their growth, and encouraging the formation of new clubs.

Dear Mr. President,

Since it is impossible to tell the members of the faculty and the students personally how much these messages console us in this earthly separation from mother, I appreciate the thought you have provided for my family to join me in expressing my thanks to the students who have been most comforting in their sympathy during these sad days.

"WITHIN OUR HEARTS"

Because it has been a part of the Pointer’s editorial policy to attempt to "stimulate student interest in public affairs," we have given most of our editorial space to questions of national importance. In a year with so many rapidly changing events, public affairs have come "closer" to the college student. Before the break in the campaign, we reviewed those events—already we have felt the effect of some of them, and in the near future we shall undoubtedly feel the "sting of sacrifice" in one way or another as a result of them.

Day by day it becomes more apparent that if democracy is to be in America, the youth of to-day, you and I, will be responsible for maintaining the situation. Our job will not be an easy one. Not for the first time must we determine the means of peace. It is the hour of our decision. It must be clear in the eyes of others what we believe in. As students, we must be strong and determined.

Guns and airplanes alone will not save democracy; they are but the tools which are used to enforce the demands of those at the control board. The new "force" which has gobbled up half of the continent is a new type of enemy which attacks us from within. It preys upon the weaknesses of man’s mental faculties. It is the "thief in the night" which does not whisper, "My dear fellow, I am ascending to power!". It is the wolf in sheep’s clothing, and places force before tolerance. Once accepted it rules the men. Let not that be our destiny! We must not only defend democracy by means of the "sword," but we must defend democracy within our hearts, for that is where democracy begins!

Round 'n About

As some of you very probably know C.S.T.C. was the forerunner for a song, "Fond of Tren," sung and his Pennsylvanians were handing them out to College students by universities all over the country. The new anthems and pep songs were given a "bang up" introduction on Friday, the College Smoker programs. Well, we made known that we wanted to bring them in and found a place in the waiting line, where the rule "First come, first served," was observed and there were plenty ahead of us. Now the entire project is at a standstill. The reason? The current ASCAP-radio battle. Waring is a member of ASCAP and so none of his songs may be used in public clubs. This "institutions of higher learning" are objecting because they would like to hear the songs of their alma mater over the air at games and "such." This isn’t pleasant for the maestro either and he has headed a committee of orchestra leaders like Eddie Dutrich and Johnny Green, so try to bring the two factions together, but see that it does not get for the present, an irresistible force has met an immovable object. And in the meantime, we are still set for a New Song.

No matter what radio or music publication you pick up the ASCAP-BMI con- test is being featured. According to the magazine our government is trying to stop the deadlock. It is not much concerned as to which is right or wrong, but is out to protect the public’s interest in music. What a story!

Paul Whiteman is starting a brand new sixteen man band. It will be four-squared of brass, reed, string, and rhythm, but will there be as much doubtling that Whiteman expects to have as many as six saxons and six strings. He is getting new blood for old and at a much reduced price, which is of course the reason for the rejuvenation.

 Writing a column after the holidays is a bit of a problem. We simply don't know what to write. . . . Caugh in the midst of indecision, we cautiously peak away at the typewriter, begging it to do something about our dilemma. But the keys seem to laugh at us, saying, "You've pounced on us for four months, making blunder out all sorts of horrible things. Do you think we'll pass up this chance of a break? It's your problem— you worry about it." What's a man to do when his own typewriter deserts him? Did FDR once say something about a stab in the back? He ain't seen nuttin'. Well, we'll just have to fight our way out of this Chin, up old man, carry on, and all that sort of stuff. . . . We resolve to try to give to Central State the best sport section it has ever had, which is only what it deserves. The Faculty Team No. 1 aggregation lost two tough games to the Schlice Rock Garden Team last Thursday night. They were beaten by two pins in the first game and by six pins in the third. Jack Turecek established a new three game series record of 658 the week before Christmas vacation. He bowed 234-210 & 214. Boxing candidates have been holding numerous workouts every night last week and this week. Coach Menzel has been applying pressure and it looks like the mitt men are in for a successful season. In the main Menzel has been working the fellows on left sash and the boys are developing a powerful punch. All of the boys reported in pretty fair shape and are gradually developing themselves into condition. Frisch and Parr are the boys selected to lead the Pointers on to victory next fall. Two more deserving fellows could hardly have been selected. Both are Juniors and were selected on the all-conference team. The intramural basketball league got under way Monday night. Three games were played before a capacity crowd in old gym. The Finns defeated the Bandits 12 to 11 in the opener. Bremen led the Finns to victory by scoring six points while Cowan and Wells each garnered four points for the losers. The game was close throughout. In the second game the Flashes routed the Phi Sig No. II team 31 to 14. Rasmussen was high point man for the Flashes with six field goals and a free throw. Ropella and Schunk scored eight and six points respectively. Sport Anderson netted nine points for the losers. The Phi Sig won the game on a forfeit as Rasmussen and Ropella are members of other teams. In the final game of the evening the Hawks defeated the Robins in a thriller 22-20. This had the crowd on its feet throughout the contest. The score at half was 12 to 11 in favor of the Robins.
