Schmeckle's Classes Visit Madison, Poyntette

About 30 members of Mr. Schmeckle's Conservation classes traveled to Madison last Thursday, May 8, to visit the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory.

The Laboratory is a federal institution and the only one of its kind in the U.S. There are only seven others in the world. It was organized in 1910 in collaboration with the University of Wisconsin. All the experiments carried on there deal with only the products of the forest and their better use.

During the afternoon the students visited the Poyntette Fur and Game Farm.

There is a possibility that meals will be served in the dormitory next year.

ANTI-BRITISH ATTITUDE?

Of approximately 650 questionnaires reaching students of the college in the Pointer last week, only 74 were filled out and returned. From such a minor result no real opinions can be formed concerning the students' view on the war.

Ninety per cent of the 74 questionnaires answered "yes" to the question, "Do you believe that the United States must build an impregnable defense for the western hemisphere?" Six people believe that the United States ought to declare war on Germany.

As an attempt at getting a significant amount of student opinion, the questionnaire was a failure. We will have to be content to guess at what the rest of the student body believes.

Sword's Points

SHERMAN SWORD

The leadoff story this week concerns a visit Hitler made to the insane asylum at Stuttgart.

"A most interesting fact, My Fuehrer," pointed out the superintendent, "we have only two who think they are Napoleon, but there are seven who think they are you."

Hitler, very much flattered, asked to be taken to see them. He was conducted to the cell where the seven men were enthusiastically heiling one another.

The superintendent went away and returned in a few minutes.

"If you're ready, Fuehrer, we will continue the tour of the institution," he said.

Eight men rushed to the barred door and tried to get out. Finally lots were drawn. One of the eight was released—and is still at large.

A waiter in Chicago's "Pump Room" wheels his wagon of food specialties up to a patron's table and asks, "Will madame have something from our mechanized unit?"

Another Hitler story, if you don't mind. It concerns the two Jews sent to Germany to assassinate the Fuehrer. They waited for him in a car parked near a corner he was scheduled to pass at 12 o'clock, weapons of death in hand. Twelve o'clock passed, 12:15, and 12:30. "I hope nothing has happened to him," worried one of the would-be assassins.

Query... A guide escorting a group of women through a canning factory indicated a girl worker and said: "She puts the pork in the beans." "Where's the girl who takes it out?" asked one of the group.

A high wind prevented guests at a country house from playing badminton and interfered with other recreations.

"Well, the wind can't interfere with our drinking, anyhow," said one guest lounging on the terrace.

"But it makes whitecaps on my highball," complained another.

Speaking of drinking, how about the one about the drunk who was walking along the edge of the sidewalk. About every other step he'd slip into the gutter, then climb onto the curb again. After walking that way for about three blocks, he smiled, "Boy, what a long stairway!"

Little lessons in grammar... Will Rogers, when asked by a woman if he had had his evening meal, replied, "No, Ma'am, I ain't et yet." The woman corrected him immediately, telling him he should say "have not eaten." Rogers replied, "Ma'am, I know lots of guys who say 'have not eaten' who ain't et yet."

When he knew the end was inevitable,

Justice Oliver W. Holmes made a characteristic gesture. His friend, the then Prof. Felix Frankfurter, stood by his bed-side, concern written on his face. Nurses and physicians hovered about. I liked this one about the Brooklyn woman on a tour of the west. She stopped at a small hotel in Montana and, ever prepared, began to make sure of the location of the fire escape. She pushed open a door and discovered too late that it was the public bath and a man was taking a shower. Aghast, she withdrew explaining, "I'm sorry, I was looking for the fire escape." She proceeded a short distance down the hall only to turn suddenly and see this same man, dripping wet and with a small turkish towel wrapped around himself, running after her and asking nervously, "Where's the fire?"

180 COUPLES ATTEND PROM

One hundred and eighty couples enjoyed "A Night in the Jungle," the theme of the annual junior prom Saturday evening in the P.J. Jacobs High School gymnasium.

The jungle atmosphere was provided by large colored figures of wild animals on the gym walls. There were lions, monkeys, crocodiles and giraffes. In one corner the huge figure of a gorilla leered from a grove of palm trees behind a green light, and on the south wall pop was sold from a jungle hut.

Second in line in the grand march were Robert Becker, general chairman, and Miss Katherine Bowersock, a senior at this college.

Others in the receiving line were President and Mrs. Wm. C. Hansen, Regent and Mrs. Wilsón S. Delzell, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rogers.

Spectators were seated on the stage. The music was furnished by Ralph Miller's orchestra from Milwaukee.

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD

(By Associated Collegiate Press) The pioneer plainsman who could take one last look at the heavenly bodies before he closed his eyes each night in his openair bedroom had nothing on residents of McTyeire hall at Emory university. They too gaze at "heavenly bodies" as a prelude to sleep.

Faced with an edict banning the tacking of the work of such masters as Petty, Hurrell and Varga—not to mention that portrait of the One and Only—to the walls, they evolved the even more satisfactory idea of fastening said art masterpieces to the ceilings.

Now the McTyeire lullaby is "Look Up, Look Up."

We were going to aid a few of our pet opinions on the current situation this week, but after listening to all the speeches over the week end we are just a little confused. On Saturday night Lindbergh came on the radio to tell the American people that nothing they could do could possibly save England now... Then Sunday night Hoover told us that the only way Germany could hope to defeat England would be by direct invasion and that the "island fortress" could never be invaded by Hitler with the force he has. People looking up at the third story of the dorm last Friday were startled to see a Coco Cola sign prominent in one of the windows. It was one Jeanie Meydam had collected someplace...

Miss Mansur recommends the book "Win Your Wings" by Roscoe Turner for all prospective, young fliers. This Primary Aviation Training Manual covers in detail, complete, up-to-minute instruction on all phases of aviation. It follows the C.A.A. requirements and its study should qualify anyone to pass the written examinations for a private pilot certificate. The reader feels as though actually in the cockpit, making take-off, climbs, turns, landings, etc.

The advanced training is covered in Book II, a study of which should qualify anyone for a commercial pilot certificate.

The study of both books qualifies the reader for an instructor's rating.

Spring Styles For Men Reveal "Freedom" In Dress

1941 FASHION TREND—The American male in 1941 is going to demand freedom from the old monotony in dress. He will insist upon colorful, individualized varied attire. He will demonstrate the American traits of originality, love of adventure and open-mindedness as witness the rapid rise to popularity of the sports coats and slacks trend. For we are on our own now, and no longer look to Europe for fashion guidance. American designers are bringing to the old world of styles new blood, a new outlook, new vitality. Men realize that they have been too long in a conventional rut as regards their apparel. While American men have been leading the world in inventions, industry, science, they have been neglecting their own personalities and appearance. They have built hundred story skyscrapers, have achieved miraculous speed in the heavens, have made unbelievable technical advancements. But what about themselves? The bigness of the things they have created has dwarfed their own physical being and personality. The monotony and drabness of their clothes tends to breed a monotony and drabness in their thinking and their lives. Old clothes bring about an association of old ideas and habits. Dress governs the mood. New clothes, vigorous colors, individual designs lead to originality and courage of thought.

HAT FORECAST FOR SPRING — Color is one of the most important features of the new spring hats for men. For the most part, neutral shades and tones will reign supreme. Brown, in soft medium shades is fast regaining the important place it held a few years ago and will be the choice of most men.

Covert, a color containing brown, grey and green is gaining in popularity. Related to this is khaki, which has a more yellow cast than covert and also promises to be one of the favorite spring hat colors, especially when lightened up with bands of subdued bronze, blue or green. Blues and greens continue leading colors, both having a slight greyish cast. Grey in its medium shades is as good as ever.

In crown shapes, the crease rounded at back and pinched at front is becoming increasingly popular, as is the crown that tapers inward from the top of the hat band line. The pre-shaped crown has also come of age and is now accepted as a sensible way of giving the wearer a regular hat creased and shaped better than he is able to do it himself. Pre-shaped crowns cover a wide range from the round telescope to the conservative spread crease, and even the center crease.

Hat trims for spring have more novelty than for many years. The new gabardine band will be excellent for wear with mid-spring clothes. The mis-match band, is subdued harmonies of band and hat body is a first choice with many men. A whole new group of grosgrain bands, with pleated effects, club stripes and two- and three-tone shadow stripes, is a direct outgrowth of the draped pugree.

Watch for the two-tone hat, an innovation for sports and country wear. The whole brim, or in many cases, the under side of the brim only, is made of a contrasting color, and the effect gained by this use of color is very sporty and is going over already at cruise and sports resorts.

Brim edges, too, have a different touch this spring. The plain welt edge continues in vogue, but the new contrasting felt binding, and the gabardine binding are receiving a great deal of attention. Another novelty is lacing, or saddle stitching, found on sports and casual types, particularly the suede-finished felts.

(to be continued next week)

ORGANIZATIONS

L.S.A.

The last meeting of the season of the L.S.A., Lutheran students association, was held last Thursday, May 8, in Mr. Roger's room.

At this time a program was presented under the leadership of Jeannette Halvorsen.

After the program the following officers for 1941-42 were elected; President, Clarence Solberg; Vice-president, Gilbert Halvorsen; Secretary, Lorraine Torgerson; Treasurer, Ada Knutson, and Press Representative, Melba Waag.

The highlight of the evening was a short address by our spiritual adviser, Alf. Romstad, who has recently been installed as the new minister in the First English Lutheran church.

A picnic to conclude the year will be held Monday, May 19, at 5 o'clock at Iverson Park.

NEWMAN CLUB

Newman Club chose a very timely topic for discussion at its meeting Thursday night in the Rural Assembly. Father Geimer found himself faced with such questions as: "How and when should you go about this thing called courtship?" "How long should an engagement be?" From the subject of courtship the natural sequence seemed to be matrimony. Father Geimer guided the discussion of the church's stand on many questions that came up. The discussion was preceded by a business meeting where the main topic was the annual picnic. It is to be held on May 22nd at whatever place is decided upon by the committee. All those going watch the bulletin board. Let's have a big turn out!

OMEGA MU CHI

Monday the Omegas were the guests of their patronesses: Mrs. Charles Cashin, Mrs. Palmer Taylor, Mrs. Erwin Schwahn; honorary members: Mrs. Harold Tolo, Miss Adele Davidoff, Miss Zella Loomer; faculty advisors: Miss Sybil Mason, Miss Bertha Glennon; and Miss Susan Colman, at a 6 o'clock dinner at Eske Lodge. Many of the alums were present and after dinner the girls gathered around the fire place in the living room and sang the Sorority Songs.

ALPHA KAPPA RHO

The fraternity held its meeting in the recreation room of Nelson Hall on Monday evening. Installation of officers for the next semester was held.

After the business meeting Mr. Plank, an honorary member of the fraternity, gave an interesting and educational report on classical music in all its phases.

SOPHOMORE STUDENT TO GO TO WEST POINT

Bob Conant, sophomore, received notice this week from the 10th district congressman of his appointment to the West Point Military Academy. He obtained this honor through competitive examinations held this spring at Fort Snelling, Minnesota.

He must report at West Point July 1, when he will begin a four year college education in preparation for a career as an officer in the United States Army. Upon graduation cadets receive commissions as second lieutenants in the army with excellent opportunities for rapid advancement.

Student Assembly Judged a Success

The student assembly which was presented last Thursday morning by the Speech Class was heralded a huge success by the student body. We thought that "Mike" Kufel did exceptionally well; likewise did that man Friday. Many of the others should have honorable mention. Though the program was a little "amateurish" in places, those who participated in it deserve a rising vote of thanks for initiating student entertainment in assemblies.

We hear there is another assembly, of the musical variety, in the offing for Thursday, May 22, and we are all for it. May there be many more.

POINTER HEADS CHOSEN

C.S.T.C.'s campus. He is president of Chi Delta Rho Fraternity and has been active in intramural sports. At present he is the star hurler for the Chi Delt softball team. He is also a member of the Greek Council. Sword's experience in newspaper work began in high school where he worked on a paper staff. He has studied journalism at the University of Wisconsin, giving the major part of his time to lay-out work. His work as composition editor and feature writer this year has brought him face to face with the problems the paper must meet. His appointment as Editor-in-chief is merely a step-up for an experienced journalist. "As editors in the past have attempted to do," stated Sword, "I want to try to make the Pointer a news publication well worth the student's money."

POGGEMILLER'S POST IMPORTANT

As Business Manager, Janet Poggemiller will have the job of taking care of the financial problems of the paper which are bound to arise. In this she has had considerable experience. "Pogge" was business manager of the "Tower Times," high school newspaper publication of Madison East High School in 1937. Beginning on the Pointer staff two years ago as circulation manager, she has worked her way to the top.

At present "Pogge" is secretary-treasurer of Alpha Psi Omega and a member of College Theater. She has done outstanding work in both organizations. She is also a member of the primary council and although not a sorority member, Janet is one of C.S.T.C.'s leading "socialites." Commenting upon her new position for next year, Poggemiller stated, "My experience with the Pointer in the past should be a great help to me next year."
