And A Good Time Was Had By All

The Sahara Club, that most stupendous of night clubs, overflowed with people from all parts of the state last Saturday evening. Young and old, date and stag, strolled beside the palm trees and cacti that bordered the floor. Candles on the tables surrounding the floor gave a soft, dim light to the room.

Guests were met at the entrance by charming co-eds who ushered them to the various tables, some of which had been reserved. Orders were taken for refreshments from the "Oasis," a bar across one corner. Dancing was a pleasure on the table and old, date and stag, strolled with people from all parts of the state.

The Floor Show: Following the Tap Dancers, who furnished delightful entertainment.

As we sat enjoying the floor show, we couldn’t help but feel very grateful to the W.A.A. who sponsored the evening.

Patrons were Mr. and Mrs. Harr and Mr. and Mrs. Morrison.

The night club, situated in the Training Gym, opened at nine p.m. and closed at 12—and we might close to the strains of "Why Don’t We Do This More Often?"

DUANE PHANEUF WINS VOCAL CONTEST

Duane Phaneuf took first place honors in the Annual Vocal Contest sponsored by the Wisconsin Federation of Music Clubs in the College Auditorium last Friday night. He is now eligible to participate in the state contest at Milwaukee beginning December fifth.

There will be twenty finalists at Milwaukee from which the best man and woman vocalist will be selected as the winners. The winners will appear with the Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra during one of the orchestra’s winter concerts.

Russell Frederick, also of Central State, sang in the contest. Miss Katherine Lazensky of Shawano was the winner in the women’s contest.

Mr. Norman E. Knutzen acted as General Chairman and Bob Malecki was General Secretary.

THE CURTAIN COMES DOWN

by Marcelle Martini

College Theater is to be commended for its excellent production of this year’s group of one-act plays presented last Thursday night. Of the three comedies, the last two far out shone The Bride Wore Red Panama, the first play. That was rather disconcerting. The title sounded promising; in fact, the plot was rather clever, but somehow the play didn’t go over very well, perhaps due to the fact that the climax was rather vague or obscure because the actors couldn’t hear very well.

D. J. Raddant really ran off with the honors in that play. She played her part very well—she had enough vitality to wake you up before it ended.

Robert Handeyes and Hannah Kaufman did a good job of directing Goodnight, Please, the story of the bank president, who, having worked twenty years in order to finally do what he wanted, decided to sleep a whole week, thereby disturbing his entire household and the bank. Russell Frederick, the leading character, was especially vivid.

Karl Mittalsteadt, the valet, did his usual good portrayal of a character study. Grant Thayer, a newcomer in College Theater, shows promise of good future performances.

The house really came down on Jack Ackerman’s version of Curse You, Jack Dalton. That was superb. Every part was selected. Each role was a leading role in itself. We had the hero, Gordon Halverson, in a screaming plaid shirt, hi-cuts, knickers, and his hair plastered down on his head—so handsome and brave! The siren, or seducer, was none other than Lilian La Marsh, who acted the part every inch, even to her black finger tips. Howard Stimm made a good villain—is The Reason...

According to figures released today, there is a reduction of 26% in the total enrollment in comparison with last year. An attempt was made to ascertain the reasons why 192 students who were here last semester did not re-enroll last September. It was found that 46 of them had transferred to other schools; 57 have taken work in other fields, 21 are in the various branches of the service, 13 are teaching, 26 are classified under miscellaneous, including 7 who are unaccounted for, and—27 were asked to withdraw.

The reduction in enrollment is caused less by enlistment in actual preparedness training activities than many people would assume. Many of those who are at work are planning to save in order that they may return to finish their college courses later. The increased demand for workers in both civilian and defense situations and the attractive wages offered seems to be responsible for most of the slump in our enrollment.

NEWMAN CLUB

At the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Newman Club last Thursday evening, plans were discussed for a Christmas party. Definite arrangements will be announced on the bulletin board by a committee, chosen by Catherine Dineen, acting president.

The next discussion meeting will be at the regular date, Thursday, November 27.

Tu d F ritsch To Lead Senior Class And Ball

Ted Fritsch is this year’s senior class president and king of the senior ball as a result of class elections held on Wednesday, November 12. He won by one vote over Bob Becker; Pete Terzinski is the vice-president, Dorothy Wirkus, secretary, and Madelene La Brot, treasurer.

Juniors nominated from the floor, voted yesterday. Results: President, Louie Pesluzny; Vice-president, Jim Kulidas; Secretary, Florence Theisen; Treasurer, Gertrude Rondeau.

Sophomores voted to circulate petitions for nominations. Elections held yesterday revealed the following results: President, Terry Kurtzweil; Vice-president, Frank Friday; Secretary, F. Moreau; Treasurer, Ruth Michelsen.

Freshmen chose nominees from the floor and voted yesterday. The following were elected: President, Don Walker; Vice-president, Beth Johnson; Secretary, George Frost; Treasurer, Dorothy Davids.

President Fritsch announced Tuesday that the Senior ball will be held in the training school gym on Saturday, December 13. Clarence Seg has been appointed Chairman of the affair and the various committees will be announced later.

What’s In A Name...

Plenty, brother—jes’ listen: we pawed through Ye Direcitere and found everything in the English grammar from participles to seasons—all in names. There are nouns everywhere: Book, Butter, Barber, Bee, one Buck, two Crowns, Campbells, Copps, Dodge, Fox, Frost, Fryer, Gardner, Gear and Geer, Grant, Horn, Hall, a Jayne (hmmmmm), Kobs, Markee, Pils, Pleet, Powers, Prey, Sparks, Pounders, Roe, Taylor, Rifleman, Valentine, Wright, W o d d en, and Sword (touch, Storm). And plenty of verbs: Bade, Born, Dunn, Foster, Gunning, Held, Owen (aren’t we all!), Pielch, Swett and Twist. Adjectives, too: Bair, Good, Rich, Short and Eager. And two colors—Brown and White (we searched in vain for Purple and Gold). Only one season: Winter—and one week-day; Friday. And, to top of list, we have the "griplies of Roth", a "Fahreng"—Roman, "try-anything Wunsch", Captain Jenks of the Horse Marines, Hampke of Humpke-Dumpke fame, and Dr. Jakel. Oddest name of the whole list was Puaria—you try it—we can’t.

Student Council?
THE POINTERS OF 1941

Space must be devoted in this week's issue to pay tribute to the Pointers of 1941! They won no championships this season; they won only three of their seven games and one of those wins was a non-confare affair.

So why the tribute? In the first place, only 22 men reported for football last season; barely enough for a scrimmage, barring injuries. Veterans were lost to the air corps and the army. It looked like a mighty tough situation. In the first half of the first game of the season, Louis Polsuszyn broke his leg and our all-conference halfback was lost for the season. Faced with a tough schedule, the Pointers really dug in. They played great ball under these handicaps in all the rest of their games in all kinds of weather. They asked no quarter and gave none. They scored on every team they met and won the game we wanted them to win, the one against Milwaukee. They came very close to winning their homecoming game with Whitewater.

No, they're not champs in the conference but they're champs to us!!

Of all the blouses he has seen, Sharon Tietz takes the prize. Just mention the word "lace collar" and she will show you what happens. You can connect Geer and Phyllis Behn with the first term, also. Sounds like the "Three Bears." Speaking of Geer reminds me of the fact that she is fire captain of Nelson Hall, and as you may have heard, Sharon picks a ducky time for fires. Two o'clock in the morning, a bell rings, and Fremont Street was the scene of a Panama parade. Her uniform is a riot—ask any dormite. Get a wiggle on. Get a wiggle on. That's the favorite chant at mealtime at the dorm. It isn't so bad when a table is asked in song in union but when they clamor for a solo, Can't you hear Mrs. Pflifer singing, Ba, Ba, Black sheep or Pokey Jones singing opera, or Pieher singing the second verse to a "Bicycle Built for Two"? THE NORMAL POINTER

Vol. 1 Stevens Point, Wis., Dec. 19, No. 1

Editor-in-Chief—Joy S. Hamilton

We present to you the first issue of our school paper. We believed as students that the advantages to be derived from the publication are many—the art of giving to our thoughts and clearest emotions. We do not easily acquire, but by persistent effort and practice we believe that every student—can acquire this ability. We believe that this will be of greater interest to our work, and by giving our universal support to it, we shall establish a fellowship which will be a source of satisfaction to us all.

The story was out for made its exit. A new, exciting idea began to develop. Supposing we could let the first editor of the Pointer—The chances were slim, but we deemed it worth a try. We had one clue. In an 1896 issue of the paper we were reading, Mr. Hamilton tendered his resignation at a meeting of the Press Association—and had accepted the position of the village schools at Snooper, Wis.

We worked on that clue, sending letters to people whom we thought might be able to shed some light on the information. Finally one day we sent an air mail to Portland, Ore—"But we'll stop here and let someone else finish the story."

Portland, Oregon October 23, 1941

Miss Hannah Kaufman Stevens Point, Wisconsin

Your favor of October 21st addressed to the City Hall was forwarded to me. You guessed right, as far as I am living the letter of the school work letter recalls old times. I shall never forget how I lobotomized on my first editorial. I wrote what I thought would make a full column, and hand and a scrub nail in the other—the back of the school desk was full of water. After going through the "wet work" room like they're going to be handy, they got around it. The "Goat Post" dance floor is getting better every day, and Waltzer alike—"Keep fit to music." Music was taken over C.S.T.C. and finally, after The Pointer's suicide, all classes and elections were held. "May the best man win" I guess everyone will agree that he did.

ELIAD M. BURROUGHS

English and Speech Teacher

Received his A.B. degree from Wabash College, Crawferville, Indiana; his A.M. degree from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan; and also attended Kings College of Oratory and Lyceum Arts, Pittsburg Pa.

Taught English and rhetoric in high school for two years, Kansas City for three years, Rockford, Illinois for two years and has been in Stevens Point since 1920.

Coached his oratorical students to win the state and interstate oratorical contest two successive years in Stevens Point.

Attended a district school in Indiana in his early life.

Worked on a farm while attending high school and college.

Traveled daily by train thirteen miles to high school and college. Wished how he never did it because he realized that half of college life is fellowship with other students.

Was headed for a possible career in baseball but this was terminated by two successive accidents.

Plays billiards consistently and a mighty good game at that.

Likes to play golf for it is one game in which all men can be made equal and he likes his handicap.

Known to his cronies as B. He has been interested in writing poetry for a number of years.

Presenting a weekly program of his own poetry as a part of an educational service in radio. The title of the program is "Here and Me" and is presented every Monday at 3:35 P.M.

Is the author of a "Manual Of Usage In English."

Is a member of the Tau Kappa Alpha fraternity, Sigma Tau, Delta national English fraternity, Sigma Delta Tau and the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity.

Teaches a two hour course in speech for all freshman. The interesting feature of this class is the three inch record that made them through the opening and at the end of the year. Gives this advice to the students: "LIFE IS A MIRROR OF KING AND SLAVE. IT IS JUST WHAT YOU ARE AND THEN GIVE TO THE WORLD THE BEST YOU HAVE TO GIVE AND THE BEST WILL COME BACK TO YOU."

When the printer set the type, it only made about three inches. Then I had to worry some more and write some more.

I well remember the Pointer as quite a paper. I would be pleased to see a copy of it.

I came out here in nineteen hundred and entered the lumber business, which I continued until five years ago. Am now retired, I played fullback on the first football team in 1895. Of course none of the Faculty of 1895 are still there. Tell the football squad I keep track of them and wish them every success this year.

Sincerely yours,

YWCA CONFERENCE AT RIVER FALLS

A delegation of Mae Hoffman, Mary Louise Butter, Dorothy Averill, Anita Campbell and Wilma Anderson from the Central State YWCA and Mrs. Walter Hoffman attended the Fall Area YWCA conference on Saturday, Nov. 15th at River Falls.

The main address of the conference was given by Frances Helen Mains, the new regional secretary of the Geneva region, on the subject of the YWCA of 1941-42 and what the "Y" can do in the world today.

Three discussion groups on Program planning, Membership and Finance, and Relations were conducted, in which the different associations could exchange ideas and get new ones.

PRIMARY COUNCIL
Miss Bessie Mae Allen, director of the Home Economics division, entertained the Primary Council last Monday evening with an account of her summer vacation in the Hawaiian Islands. Japanese and Chinese silks, costumes, necklaces of white jade, mats, and baskets of native plants were on display. Many leis from each of the seven islands were shown in replica of the real ones made of flowers worn in Hawaii. At the business meeting plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party to be held December 8, the next regular meeting.

Dormites Pleased With New Dining Service

The dining room at Nelson Hall has been in operation for more than a week now, and every dormite is pleased with the results. Well-balanced meals lead to singing and the dining room echoes....

The council, Mrs. Pfiffner and Mrs. Jelinek have been busy of late but Mrs. J. has been the busiest of all. Besides setting the dining room in operation, she has planned a tea for Sunday afternoon, November 23, and November 29, has been set aside for the formal opening dinner, when our faculty will dine with the dormites.

It was so cold during the DeKalb game that Coach Eddie Kotal sent Merle Jenks downtown to buy two dozen canvas gloves. Jenks returned with eighteen pairs and immediately the line-up was made. "The Northern Illinois" which is the official publication of the DeKalb institution said that the third touchdown was scored after the Pointers fumbled on the five yard line. This is not so. We did not fumble. With the ball on his own 35 yard line Jarvi on fourth down kicked a beautiful spiraling down the field which Frank Koehn missed. The ball rolled to the four yard line where Koehn let the DeKalb boys fall on it. One of the officials was quite behind the play ruled that the ball had made contact with Koehn's leg and thus gave DeKalb possession of the ball on Point's four yard line. The score previous to this was 13-6 in favor of the Illinois boys. The passing of Toms Jarvi was something worthwhile watching. He tossed two touchdown passes despite the wet ball and mud. On both instances the passes were perfect spirals. The coach of Sycamore High School who witnessed the game said that Ted Fritsch was one of the best passers in the state of Illinois and this includes the U. of Illinois and Northern Illinois. Frankie Koehn was also praised. He would have liked very much to have seen the Huskies and the Pointers meet on a dry field. This would have enabled Koehn, Fritsch, and Jarvi to put on a real show for the crowd said be. The Varsity club had a swell feed for the Mothers and Dads after the game. The Home Ec girls did the serving, members of our team were given pie and coffee. The majority of them had two and three helpings. The DeKalb students were disappointed when they found out that we couldn't stay for the dance. Northern Illinois Teachers were very hospitable to us. Northern Illinois gained 175 yards from scrimmage to 143 for the Pointers. They made 6 first downs to Central States 5.

GYM ANTIQUES

"Now our work is over," sighed Miss Greiling and all the WAA members, as the last dance was played at "Club Sahara" on Saturday night. With the dance being acclaimed such a great success there are no regrets, and I'll wager if the girls were asked to do it again the answer would be yes! Congratulations to WAA and the social committee for a great success.

It was a perfect day, and a few of the girls decided to play tackle football, and the results could not be explained and better than they have been in the poem written by Dorothy Davids.

"My poor bones are weary, my shoulder is lame.
My arm's out of joint (for that I'm to blame!)
My knees want to buckle, my back feels an ache—
I'm careful boud bending, for fear it will break.
There's something gone wrong on the back of my neck.
For it snaps when I move my extreme upper-deck.
My ribs don't act normal; they hurt when I walk
And I've a sore throat, and can hardly talk.
My big toe was stepped on; my arm aches as a hash.
I feel like I'd just made a ten story crash!

Nope, I'm not 65-80 won't be til next June—
I played tackle football yesterday afternoon.

Girls, don't forget to sign up for your favorite volleyball team. The competition looks "hot" and we dorms say we're coming out on top—Volleyball is now being played on Monday and Wednesday at four o'clock. Make plans for the "boy and girl" party that has been discussed. Ask that favorite gal of yours and remember, "All's fair in love and war."

Season To Open Here December 2nd Against Scott Field Cadets
Basketball is in full swing here at Central State. A squad of twenty men reported for the first practise to Coach Kotal a week ago today, Captain Pete Terzeny, Ray Terzeny, Hank Poskie and Ted Fritsch are the only returning lettermen. Ray Warren, all-conference center, is not enrolled in school this semester but intends to be with us during the second semester. The first game will be played on December 2, when Scott Field an Aeronautical base, invades our court.

Outstanding Freshmen who may expect to see considerable action are Bob Sparks, Clarence Buck, Wally Sturm and Al Helminksi. Ed Seyman is the outstanding Sophomore performer. Gordy Lewis, Bill Carnahan are the upperclassmen who nahan are the upperclassmen who looked impressive. Roy Lewis and Marv Hansman are transfers and will not be eligible for competition until the second semester. These two men will definitely help the team during the second semester when the brunt of the schedule is to be played. Other men out for the team are John Lueck, Jack Conant, Louie Erdman, Clarence Kloes, Rienhart Schroeder, Dick Guzman, and Marvin Abrahamson.

Pointers Lose To De Kalb 32-12

The Northern Illinois Teachers College Huskies, who are co-champions of the "Little Nineteen" Conference, defeated the Central State Pointers 32-12 on Saturday November 7 at DeKalb, Illinois. This contest brought the season to close for the Purple and Gold gridironers with a record of three victories and four defeats. The game was played before a large crowd of Mothers and Dads in a sea of mud and freezing weather. A game between the DeKalb "B" squad and Morton Junior College was played an hour before the Huskies and the Pointers went out on the field.

The record for the season is:

- Central State 47
- Eau Claire 0
- Whitewater 19

Phi Sigs Win Three To Take League Lead

The CSTC Bowling League swung back into action after a brief intermission for the Teachers Convention, last Thursday night at the South Side Alleys.

Last Thursday’s matches saw the Phi Sigma Epsilon boys take over the league lead by virtue of their taking three straight from the College Eat Shop. The Faculty upset the dope bucket by tipping the favored Sport Shop, winning two out of the three games. These feats knocked the Sport Shop from the top rung in the league. In the other games of the evening, the De Molay team got back into winning ways by taking the Underdogs, a revised Faculty team, two out of three. No matches will be held this weekend because of the Thanksgiving recess. The Standings:

there such thing? Although Margorie Mae Nelson didn’t have a leading role, her handling of the part of Eloise Dalton made it an outstanding one and unforgettable. The lack of a backdrop was especially amusing in Curse You, Jack Dalton. It was a hilarious melodrama well-directed, and especially well-pated. The audience was really very accommodating, when the villain should have had his ses he bowed to hurras, and vice-versa, but perhaps we are not properly educated as yet about behavior at melodramas!

We eagerly look forward to future productions, College Theater; the first ones were a great success.

One-Act Play Contest

The annual High-school one-act play contest was held in the college auditorium on Tuesday. High schools entered in the contest were Almond, Greenwood, Loyal, Scandinavia and Stevens Point. Two schools were awarded “A” rating by the judge, Mr. L. M. Burroughs. These were Stevens Point High, presenting the play, Prize Money, and Greenwood, which presented Not Quite Such a Goose. “B” rating was awarded to Loyal High school for their presentation of What Grandmother Knows.
