POINTERS HOST TO MILWAUKEE

FOUR GRIDDERS IN LAST HOME GAME

The Central State gridders will play host for the last time this season as they engage the Green Gulls of Milwaukee Saturday. The Peds have the same rating in the conference as the Pointers, having beaten Oshkosh and losing to Platteville and Whitewater. As a basis of their past performances, the game rates a "tossup" and should be one of the typical games which these two schools usually play.

The Klugemen came to town seeking revenge of last year's 21 to 19 defeat administered by the Purple and Gold. Two mainstays of last year's team, Ray Kroeka, crashing end, and Bob Eckenrod, flashy back, were in the lineup. With this exception, the Waver's team remains intact. Kenny Buehler, who is well known for his exploits on the gridiron, is still in all probability not to see action at halfback, as he sustained an injury to his ankle recently. Ken Keough, George Jablokis, Norm Geske, and Stan Drejer make up the outstanding returning lettermen.

The Pointers came out of the St. Cloud game nursing various injuries, but should be in shape Saturday. Coach Kotal definitely wants to win this one, so as to give the gridiron team some "spring" in its step during conference standings. Playing before a home crowd, the Pointers should close the season with a win. Co-Capt. Ken Parr and Teddy Frisch, Frankie Koehn and Roy Otto, will play their final home game of their careers for their Alma Mater.

Tea For Mrs. Jonas Was Happy Occasion

One of the happiest social events of the year for a small group of people on the campus occurred last Wednesday afternoon in the reception and dining rooms of the Home Economics Department. The occasion was a tea given by the women of the faculty under the leadership of Miss Meston to honor Mrs. Frances Jonas, who is now in her twenty-fifth year of service in the maintenance division at Central State.

The table in the dining room was beautifully arranged with tall white tapers on each side of a large bouquet of flowers from Mrs. Jonas' own garden, but the center of interest was a huge cake which had been artistically decorated for the occasion.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT PRESENTS SYMPHONY

The 62 piece Wisconsin Symphony orchestra will give two concerts in Stevens Point on November 27. These will be given afternoon and evening, in the 25,000 to 50,000 for a single concert. Each winter the orchestra is also heard in concert series at the Milwaukee Auditorium.

The orchestra concerts have been an important part of Milwaukee's musical life since 1935. The visits to the cities of the state are more recent. Last season 25 Wisconsin cities had concerts by the Wisconsin Symphony.

Included in the orchestra's personnel are outstanding musicians of the state many of whom are widely known through their work in theaters, on the concert stage and for recordings.

Among the many tributes paid to the orchestra are those of Andre Kostelanetz who recently conducted the orchestra at a concert in Washington D.C., one of whom is his wife, Lily Pons, appearing as soloist.

John Charles Thomas who was recently soloist with the Wisconsin Symphony appeared in the orchestra's concert series in Washington D.C., at which time his wife, Lily Pons, appeared as soloist.

Music Department head, Professor Jacobson, will conduct the opening concert November 27.

Mrs. Jelinek Tells Her Interests

A couple of weeks ago, we told you that a new manager of the Nelson Hall dining room was on her way. Now that Mrs. Jelinek has arrived, we shall proceed without further ado.

Her first love as well as her profession is food. To be more specific, her specialty is chop suey but her favorite dish, though it's difficult to narrow down to just one.

Classical music with a dash of Gilbert and Sullivan interests her and time was when she sang with the International Opera Chorus in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Jelinek says she was always too busy to nurture any pet peeves. Her children are two sons and a daughter. The elder son is a Martin in lawyer in the state. In fact, Mrs. Jelinek has always taken her business and her family. "I'm going to have to cut out big salon so I can take care of my children."

"I'm going to live in the country and have a garden (she loves flowers). But right now she's more interested in making our "dining room" a success. And we say 'More power to her.'"

Students Make Changes In Favor of Music

From math to music, from biology to boogie woogie, from chemistry to chorus (these are the changes made by some of CSTC's musicians).

Eddie Wells, trombonist with the College Playboys last year, left the College orchestra's ranks to play for his wife, Lily Pons, appearing as soloist.

John Charles Thomas who was recently soloist with the Wisconsin Symphony rehearsed with the orchestra in Washington D.C., in the orchestra's concert series. The orchestra appeared Son Fitch's Bandwagon about six weeks ago, and are present playing at Biloxi, Mississippi.

Norbert Gons has formed his own orchestra. Students may have heard it at various college dances. The orchestra played at a resort at Eagle River for the entire summer. Arrangements have been completed for an engagement in Florida for the fall and winter.

Harr "Krupa" Erdman, who made his fame in the world of drums with the Playboys last year, has left school to become a music student at Norb's orchestra.

Mr. Gons, also with the Playboys last year, has joined Norb's dance band to take over double duties as vocalist—cornetist.

MRS. JELINEK TELLS HER INTERESTS

Wednesday night, the Alpha Kappa Rho, honorary music fraternity, held its pledge initiation meeting. Pledges of the organization are Neoshia Stay and Patricia Carver.

Formal initiation banquet and ceremonies will be held November 17.

ALPHA KAPPA RHO

Monday night, the Alpha Kappa Rho, honorary music fraternity, held its pledge initiation meeting. Pledges of the organization are Neoshia Stay and Patricia Carver.

The dinner and musical program was well attended.

Social Organizations Announce Pledge Lists

Rushing week is over and yesterday the fraternities and sororities began in the pledge period. From now until November 29th actives will have at their command pledges to run their errands, press their trousers, do laundry, and do sundry other tasks and otherwise entertain them. The misery of the pledges will end at the Pan-Hellenic's formal on November 29th, at Hotel Whitling.

Hallowee'en was the theme of the second rushing party given by the Tau Gamma Fraternity, which had its buffet supper at the Wilson Dezel home Thursday night. Cards were played to conclude the evening's entertainments.

Tuesday evening prospective pledge, active and guests attended the pledge party in the Room of the Point Cafe. The following are Tau Gam pledges: Marie Collins, Margaret Clark, Bernice Eakin, Grace Gilmore, Kaylyne Mastey, Charlotte Wieser, Marjorie Prey, Thelma Parrott, Alva Thompson.

Chi Delta Phi Rush included some of the members of the National Philanthropy Day pledge list. They entered at 7:00, Sigma Tau Delta... 8:00, Gamma Delta... 7:30, L.S.A.... 9:00, Bowling, Saturday, 2:00, Milwaukee game.

RUSHING CALENDAR

STUDENTS IN A DEMOCRACY . . .

Several members of the faculty and student body have remarked to this department about the conduct of the students at the lecture in the assembly last Thursday. The walking in and out of the room and the rustling of the books and papers during the course of the lecture is certainly not in keeping with the best rules of etiquette. If we do not care to listen to the lecture ourselves, let us at least keep quiet in order that others may hear. A guest lecturer is not like a teacher; he cannot stop his speech and order for order when his audience becomes noisy. He can only keep on speaking and form an opinion of his hosts. How our ears will burn when someone asks Dr. Chyle about our school!

Then, too, the action of the student who even went so far as to challenge the speaker to answer antagonistic questions calls for comment. Dr. Chyle was kind enough to offer to answer questions from the floor. Being a guest, he did not expect to be asked any questions which would require a defensive answer. Certainly he did not expect that he would be heckled for the answer to any question which he considered it best to leave unanswered. The attitude of the heckler was distinctly out of order. A faculty member (names furnished on request) has stated: "I surely hope that Dr. Chyle does not judge our whole school by that one student."

In a democracy, we may think and say as we please, but society gives its approval to those who conform to the common principles of right and wrong. It is wrong and is certainly neither smart nor intelligent to cast aside the rules of courtesy in order to exercise the right of freedom of speech.

Dope From Pils

The temperature drops, and out come the winter coats. Sport-minded students greet the cold waves—others just mutter a few loud burters. Ideal football weather—which brings to my mind some of the queer, secretive actions of Point's guardsmen to keep us from returning from Minnesota. Howie Stimm took a prolonged bus ride and walked in millions of rain drops—and all for a woman—and to top it off wore Olga's coat. Joe Goodrich came back the proud possessor of two dogs, but didn't have them very long. The halls are again being invaded through the Post Office. —Virginia Stroppe isn't the only one that likes to see us out away from here and around again. Our camera man, Bob Vennie, doesn't spend all his spare time developing pictures. —We found out, Nelson Hall and Marshalls, have a special spot on this social list. —Sunday's visitors at the day at the dorm and Marathon was represented—how about that Pat Maguire? If he can't come to see her, he sends her candy—just ask Eve Mastey to verify that.

ON STAGE

With Hannah Kaufman

INFORMATION: The Kilty Trumpeters will be on our stage tomorrow at ten. —This department overheard that the C.S.T.C. fellows are trying to reserve the first ten rows!

CELEBRATION: Theatre was the best form of conversation. —Ice cream and apple cider dominated the scene when members gathered together last Thursday evening, in traditional manner, to celebrate the birthday of College Theatre. In looking back upon the accomplishments of the organization, in seeing the cooperative spirit, the professional attitude exhibited by its member, one concludes that College Theatre, at the age of five, is a most precocious child, and one which commands respect.

DRAMATIZATION: The cast for the one-act play as announced by directors: Iris Precourt, Jack Acton, Bob Handley-side, and Hannah Kaufman—are as follows:

THE BRIDE WORE RED PANSIES: D. J. Raddatt, Phyllis Ecks, Ronnie Craig, Gilbert Halverson, Frank Friday.

GOODNIGHT, PLEASE! Russell Fredericks, Ida Mae Wood, Grant Thayer, Virginia Lee, Katt Mittelstedt, Marion Alberg, Merle Jenkins.

Production is scheduled for Thursday, November thirteenth.

-Babe Nixon is doing likewise with Phyllis Behn better known as the 'camped' kid. —When the class officers are elected and there is any thing to do, I suggest we appoint Ed Valentine to do it—seems he had a little experience.

-Mississippi is trying to break into his old league again—I'm the french that gets him I suppose—Bob Malecki had his first date in some time at a dormite Florence Theisen again—La Vernet Barnum has been seen around with Bette Grütta Fleischmann—See you Saturday at the game—"PILS"

Gives this advice to the students—"IT ISN'T SO MUCH THE WORK YOU DO, BUT THE WAY THAT IT IS DONE THAT COUNTS."
Pointers Bow To St. Cloud 20-14

FROM THE LOCKER ROOM

by Jimmy Kudla and Jack Russmussen

Central State's dressing room was a quiet place, a few minutes after the Pointers had absorbed a 20-14 defeat at the hands of St. Cloud's Huskies. The Kotalmen didn't have anything to cheer about but their heads were held high. They were defeated, yes, but they were defeated by a great unbeaten football team. And the wrenched the ball from Roy Otto, our mighty tackle who took the ball behind the goal line and scooped all afternoon without a rest. "We sure wanted to win that one—we gave them everything we had but it wasn't enough. We knew we were in quite a ball game and I think St. Cloud feels the same way. This was just St. Cloud game. They outplayed us and deserved to win. The Minnesota collegians were quite happy over their victory. They extended their winning streak to six straight and averaged last year's 12-6 defeat suffered at the hands of the Purple and Gold griddlers. Incidentally, Central State was the first school to cross the Huskies' goal line twice this season. Previous to this Mankato was the only school to score twice in a game."

Next Saturday St. Cloud will play Beloit Teachers for the championship of the teachers conference of the state of Minnesota. St. Cloud has a honey of a team. It has in the seating capacity of about 5,000 people and it only has a grandstand on one side. A press box is above the grandstand and a play by play account of the game is given. A football gridiron is included within this vast setup. The gridiron was like a bed of roses. It was tops. The Huskies have two of the highest paid coaches in the country. Coach Filippi and D. F. Vonhill. These two boys don't have anything to show for it. They are triple threats. They excel in running. Opponents have difficulty in bringing them down. The way Filippi ran last Saturday, Coach Bierman of Minnesota Golden Gophers would have been tickled to death to have him for a reserve man on his national championship squad. Roy Otto tackled the ball and the wrenched the ball from Roy Otto, our mighty tackle who took the ball behind the goal line and scooped all afternoon without a rest. "We sure wanted to win that one—we gave them everything we had but it wasn't enough. We knew we were in quite a ball game and I think St. Cloud feels the same way. This was just St. Cloud game. Tea For Mrs. Jonas, Happy Affair

Miss Allen, in the name of the faculty women, paid tribute to Mrs. Jonas for her years of unselfish service to the college and to the comfort and welfare of the students and faculty who have known her during the quarter century she has been here. She then presented her with a material token of appreciation, a white gold watch.

Just as the guests were preparing to leave, a beautiful bouquet came to Mrs. Jonas from the Tau Gamma Beta Sorority.
