New Books Placed In Circulation

The new books recently on display in the alcove of the library have been put into circulation. Most of them may be found on the leisure reading shelves in the main room of the library. If a particular book is in, but not there, any student desiring to obtain it may ask the librarian to make a reservation for him. The student will be notified when the book is available.

Fiction Selections

Two of the more humorous novels are "Roughly Speaking" by Louise Randal Pierson, and "Two Bottles of Relish" by Whit Burnett. "Roughly Speaking" is the hilarious story of Louise Pierson's long swim up the Mississippi in pursuit of happiness. "Two Bottles of Relish" is a series of short, funny, and incredible tales.

An interesting and exciting account of the Black Hawk War is found in Iola Fuller's book "The Shining Trail". "The Apostle" by Sholem Asch is a novel depicting the life of St. Paul. Mr. Asch is also the author of "The Nazarene" and "Three Cities".

Two heart-warming books are found in "Many Men One Thunderhead" and John P. Marquand's "So Little Time". Both books are modern and up to date. "So Little Time" is a novel of the present war and "Thunderhead" is a sequel to "My Friend Flicka".

For those of you who revel in romance, there is the book called "Centennial Sunrise" by Sherwood Ideal. This book is packed with humor of the 1880's.

War Journals

Last but not least are the non-fiction war journals. Some of the new books are "Flying My Co-Pilot" by Col. Robert L. Scott; "South from Corregidor" by Lt. Comdr. John M. Merrill and Pete Martin; "Tunis Ex-Pedition" by Darryl F. Zanuck; "Wildcats over Casablanca" by Lt. Lt. Col. George B. Wood, and "Spin in Dumbwacks" by Albert E. Iden.

97th Trainees Enjoy Thanksgiving Dinner

Thanksgiving Day may be past, but the memory of it will live long in the hearts of the men of the 97th CTD.

They had a dinner fit for the ruler of Shangri-La. How would you like 575 pounds of roast turkey and 46 quarts of cold apple cider? The menu ran something like this: Apple Cider, Roast Turkey, Giblet Dressing, Mashed Potatoes, Frozen Peas, Giblet Gravy, Cranberry Sauce, Tomato and Lettuce Salad, Celery, Olives, Hot Rolls, Pumpkin Pie with Whipped Cream, Milk, Coffee, Salted Nuts, Mints, Assorted Fruit, Cigars and Cigarettes. To make the occasion complete, the men were encored from their last class of the day.

Faculty Members Big Their Deer

Raymond M. Rightseller and Robert Riffman, of the faculty, shot a buck on a recent hunting trip. Both deer were shot near Mr. Rightseller's cabin, which is between Haverly and Gilding. The snow was knee-deep and it was necessary for a truck to break a trail to the cabin, which is located above a mile and a half off the road. Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Schmecle joined them for the last four days, and Mr. Schmeeckle bagged a doe. It was quite a job to get the deer out of the woods because of the deep snow, but it was worth it, says Mr. Schmeeckle.

College Bus May Run For Holidays

The college bus may be available to take students home for Christmas vacation if there are enough students interested.

The bus would make the run north through Wausau, Merrill, Tomahawk—and Rhinelander, coming back through Amberg and Wittenberg. It would leave the college some time Friday, December 17. A small charge would be made to each student using the bus, but this would no more than cover the cost of operating the bus.

Any students who are interested should contact Mr. Schmeeckle as soon as possible, so that definite plans can be made.

Letters From Alumni Exhibit New Spirit

Many of the alumni of CSTC have traveled long from our campus. Their new experiences and impressions are reflected in the letters that have come from them to students and faculty members here. Here are more excerpts from their letters.

Sgt. Leland J. Malchow, American

Air Base, Casper, Wyoming:

"How much longer will the war last? The answer is obvious—it won't last half as long if everyone puts forward a little effort."

Bob Malecki, U.S. Naval Training School, Cornell University:

"We have classes and labs from eight to five every day and then from one to three hours of classes at night. I stopped to hang up my coat and got to class a couple of minutes after the gun. I must have you think dropping inconspicuous (perplexing and confusing questions) decisions? So would the persons who have been reading over your note in the library makes him too concerning etiquette will be answer."

Corporeal Joe Nagrad.

Fort Sill, Oklahoma:

"Not long ago I was dodging any bombs for my life—now I'm dodging 'gigs' for having a button open!"

Ensign Myron Sharkey, Naval Observation Base, Melville, Rhode Island:

"We in the Midwest really don't know what war is. The people out here are really living it every minute and can go down to town to get a coke, soup, coffee, and milk to us three times a day."

Staff Sgt. Don Larson

A discussion on the "Moscow Agreement" will be led by Aviation Student Richard Stripe and Edward Roche at the next regular meeting of the Social Science Club, December 2, at 8 p.m. in Dr. Nels Reppen's office.

No problems are solved, but these discussions help the participants to understand the issues talked about and to form more intelligent opinions.

date tips

Dates are funny things. Making them hard and breaking them is harder. A blind date doesn't mean that the blind can't see. If you get a lemon instead of a date, be a peach about it. That sounds fruity, but it really turns into a horn of plenty in the end. You've heard the saying, "There's gold in them there hills," but that doesn't mean in men. When they ask you to the Eat Shop for a coke, don't order a double fudge sundae. You may supply Merve and Irene with a new dishwasher. The golden rule for dating is to have a good time. It's up to you. If you enjoy yourself, your companion can't help having a "splendiferous" time, and after all, a little bit of acting for others, even friends may be your start to Hollywood.

Thirty-two college women rolled bandages at the Red Cross rooms during the week of November 15. This is a great improvement, but more students could turn out. Won’t you help?

Young woman. He met her at the front walk and escorted her into the building. After the dance was over, he took the girl back to the front walk, where he had to leave her. “Them days am not gone forever.”

Esther Anderson and Jesse Rustad are the Freshmen’s champion “rusher eaters”. After gym each Tuesday and Thursday they can be found outside room 101 gulping ice cream sandwiches with all their might, hoping to get them consumed before the bell rings. When they enter class they remain meek and quiet — you wouldn’t recite either if your mouth contained a quarter of an ice cream sandwich that conditions forced you to masticate slowly!

I caught a glimpse of Bill Carnegie, better known as “Carny”, of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, about school the other day, but it must be he was in a hurry. I can report that he was looking fine.

PFC Robert E. Lee is home on furlough after graduating from a radio school at Trux Field, Madison Wisconsin. He found his way to that house on Normal ave. as soon as he got home. He met her at the front walk and escorted her into the young woman. He met her at the front walk and escorted her into the building. After the dance was over, he took the girl back to the front walk, where he had to leave her. “Them days am not gone forever.”

College Y Meets At Lyness' Home

Members of the executive and work project committee of College Y enjoyed a 12:30 luncheon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Lyness on Sunday, November 21. At the business meeting held after the luncheon, plans were discussed for future meetings during the school year. The next meeting is to be held on December 8 and the place will be announced later.

Members who were present included the officers Marjorie Stimm, Amenzio Warden, Alice Johnson, Phyllis Eckels and Marian Grossman. Other members of the committee present were Edward Nigbor, Lois Brock and Raymond La Barge. A former CSTC student, Ludmilla Gruny, was also a guest at the luncheon.

The College Y has a library of books which are kept in the Lyness' office. They may be checked out by any student regardless of whether or not he is a member of the Y. A list of these books is to be compiled by the librarian, Marian Grossman, in the near future.

YWCA To Have Party

The Y-Dub Christmas party, originally planned for Thursday, December 9, has been changed to Thursday, December 2. It will be held at Mrs. William C. Hansen's home.

The committees are: food, Doris Belongia, chairman, Helen Rasmusen, Etta Owen, Ruth Lindsay, entertainment, Phyllis Unleaf, chairman, Alta Niven, Betty Colbert.

The members of YWCA are asked to watch the bulletin board for further notice.
