Co-eds Again Will Occupy Nelson Hall

Nelson Hall life, which has been absent from the campus of CSTC, will return again this fall. Since March of 1945, the women's dormitory has been occupied by aviation students of the 97th Training Detachment, and their leaving makes it possible to open the hall to girls of the college.

Present students who have made reservations are Betty Brooks, Lucille Dulslear, Rosella Goodspeed, Ellen Gordon, Marion Grossman, Signe Hill, Betty Johnson, Bernadine Peterson, Betty Pohlman, Audrey Walters, Rose Barber, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, will be director of the dormitory.

Lieutenant Governors Given A New Station

Lieut. Howard Govern, formerly with the 97th CTD has been transferred to the 314th CTD at Ellensburg, Washington. During his year here at the college, Govern was technical, mess, rationing, intelligence and athletic officer.

Will Address Madison Radio Conference

Miss Gertie L. Hanson will speak at the "Better Listening, Better World" meeting, fourth annual Wisconsin conference for better radio listening, to be held in Madison on Saturday, April 22, in the assembly hall of the state capitol. Miss Hanson, state radio chairman of the Business and Professional Women's club, will represent that organization on the "Listening Highlights" portion of the conference. Miss Lydia M. Pfeiffer, president of the local chapter of the B.P.W., will accompany Miss Hanson.

An interesting feature of the conference will be a forum on international relations. University students will be present.

Listen To The Tale Of The Editor's Alarm

The POINTER staff was hard at work as usual (?). Typewriters clicked steadily, but otherwise the silence was deadly. A group of busy writers worked quietly over their brilliant and polished articles.

Suddenly a head was lifted, then another. A story had filled the room. "Poison" whispered one. "Japs" whispered another. "The school is on fire, there's a third.

After the last entire the entire staff, led by its dauntless news editor, had crowded into the hall trying to find the cause of the unusual scent. "This way," cried the business manager, sniffing like a bloodhound.

The rescue party dashed down the stairs, led by the afflicted editor, who paused, with an admirable presence of mind, to suggest that someone find an axe. "In case we have to break down any doors."

Before this timely suggestion could be carried out, someone noticed a thin crack of light showing beneath a closed door in the otherwise dark hall. The door opened slowly, while the entire staff stood frozen in three steps (it was a warm night, too)

What would the opening door reveal? Was it a man? Was it a Jap? Was it a Dog face? No! it was—one of the janitors!!

The mystery was explained in a moment. A rust preventing fluid applied to the pipes had caused the mysterious odor.

The staff trooped back to the office feeling that if there had been an emergency it would have been entirely capable of coping with it. Soon one of the typewriters began its steady clicking again. The other writers wrote fast and furiously. Silence descended once again over the POINTER office.

Hold Play Tryouts Last Of This Week

Tryouts for CLAUDIA, a three act comedy, will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday afternoon of this week in room 207. This production is to be presented by College Theater as part of the fiftieth anniversary celebration in May.

"Squadron X" Has Left For Santa Ana

After many postponements, a group of "Sqd X" men left April 14 for Santa Ana, California, where they hope to continue their air cadet training with the Army Air Corps. Another small group of former 97th men left for Las Vegas, Nevada, to enter another type of training for the air forces.

A number of others have been transferred to an infantry division and left for Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, on Monday.

OGMAS To Give Spring Style Show

It's spring again, and time for the annual card party and spring style show, sponsored by the Omega Mu Chi sorority. This year, as in the past, all students of CSTC and townsmen are invited to this card party and style show, which will be held in the Training school gym on Tuesday, April 25, at 8 p.m. All card games may be played and prizes will be awarded the individuals with the highest scores in auction and contract bridge, 500, pineapple and hearts.

Judy Graham is the general chairman, and the committees are: Ticket and refreshments, Martha Pres- tine and Genevieve Swett; advertising, Betty Pohlman, Alice Bath, and Katherine Hope; refreshments, Gertrude Heke; refreshments, Virginia C. Andrews and Betty Puryses; materials, Jackie Stau ber, Marian Lawrence and Yvonne Moreau; style show, Marjorie Stim me; style show, Mary Ellen Gordon.

The clothes for the style show will be furnished by Stevens Apparel, and models will be girls from the sorority.

The price of the evening's entertainment, including refreshments, is only twenty-five cents.

Speaker To Lecture On The Indian Situation

Speaker To Lecture On The Indian Situation

Returned from six eventful years in India is Don Ebright, who will be a feature member of the Talk of the Hour club and college students on Monday evening, April 24, in the college auditorium. He will speak on the present Indian situation.

Mr. Ebright interviewed Nehru and other prominent Indian leaders while he served as an American military chaplain to British troops.

In November, Mr. Ebright spoke at Marquette State Teachers college, and this praise was given him: "The general impression was one of satisfaction and enjoyment. The audience felt that he had a wealth of information which he presented in a logical and entertaining manner. We were blessed with his speech."

The lecture will begin at 8 p.m. College students will be admitted upon presentation of their activity tickets.

Movie Coming

SO RED THE ROSE will be shown at a regular assembly program on Thursday at 10:25 a.m. in the auditorium. The full length movie features Randolph Scott, Wendell Corey, Ann Blyth, and Walter Connolly. It is a version of Stark Young's Pulitzer prize winning, sensitive story of the Civil War viewed through the eyes of a great Southern family.

A lot has happened since we last went to press. The term is ending, and gone. Spring has come and gone and come again. But the AFG and ATF boys have just gone. We certainly hope they didn't go to far away lands, but whether they landed in Santa Ana, Las Vegas, or old good camp McCoy.

There were many farewell parties during the last week but among the more impressive were those made by Johnny Gauthier and Jimmy Jones. I understand that there were even men who left even one of the cooks on the staff at Nelson Hall. Why they have something to be remembered.

Mr. Righetsell had some mail come to his desk requesting women to become radiomen. It all seemed to be so convincing. We should and could well understand how they train women to repair radios but many of them are still wondering how they are going to make them.

Aiden Bowman left the ranks of Central State last Monday and it won't be long till she leaves the ranks of single women. Best wishes to both her and Private Will Bode. He has grasped the halls of our school too, you know.

Louie Erdman was around last weekend and it seemed like he belonged right here. Louie is majoring in chemistry at the "U", but how much would you like to bet there is still a soft place in his heart for CSTC?

It was good to see Jack Rasmus son around too, and we were glad to hear that he thinks army life is a place to be back here at school as soon as he has his job done. That's what we like to hear, isn't it?

"Dok" Tolo has an 8:30 class that seems inclined to report in shifts. They are of two minute in and out and between 8:30 and 9:30. One of the classes is getting ready for defense jobs this summer. We're sure Doc understands.

CSTC's building architect, Florence Flugaur, had a short story in the "Sunday Visitor," Catholic church paper for April 16. This is the sixth story that Florence has had (and paid for) as she saw one of her literary masterpieces in print. She was with New Super last summer. Martha Stock and Johnny Gauthier seemed to be a frequent two-ome in those last weeks before he left. We think that was quite all right! Seemed natural to see Mary Hutchins and Carl Billings too. Cary will be reunited with Howard Hooper, however, we just tried to see.

There seems to be something new in the mail line nowadays. Just ask Jeanie Cattanach. Betty received last Monday. It didn't say a word:

"Jeanie Cattanach is back from her visit. She has been South spending some time with her fiancé. Hope she had a nice trip. We could hardly blame her if she had forgotten about school up here, could we?

Another lucky girl is Audrey Priem, who spent a pleasant time in Sioux City, Iowa, recently. She was visiting her Herb, a former aviation student here.

We predict that spring is here to stay, but those rheumatics, roller skates and fun have. Bye now!

The wife of General Mark W. Clark lectured recently at White water State Teachers college. She related the details of the American visit to Africa, and of the invasion. Mrs. Clark also showed slides made from pictures sent to her by General Clark.

A campus Legion post for college men in the armed forces is being organized. We hope some S.T.C. college. The purpose of the post will be to help all veterans who have an honorable discharge.

The problem is one that need not worry Home Economics girls for once because the law requires that semester is the one they spend at the Sims cottage.

The John Francis Sims cottage, the residence of the late President John Sims, is built on the college campus facing Fremont street. It was completed in 1916, and a group of Home Economics girls, under the direction of Miss Bessie May Allen, moved in on December 8.

All Home Economics girls are required to spend one time at the cottage. At present, they spend one semester during either their Junior or Senior year. The Sims commode eight girls a semester, but because of the decreased enrollment, only half of the cottage is being used. Most of the lives at the cottage as director and house mother for the girls.

Gives Practical Experience

The cottage is planned for the purpose of giving the girls practical experience in their work. The duties of the house are divided into four groups, and the girls rotate these jobs weekly. At some time or other, there is a maid, a cook, a housemaid, a girl, mistress of the house, and the housemaid.

The mistress presides at the meals, acts as hostess, shops, keeps the accounts and plans the meals with the cook. The cook prepares the meals, and keeps the kitchen clean. The dining room girl takes care of the table, cleans the basement, acts as waitress and assists the cook. The housemaid has charge of the cleaner, cleans the rooms and makes the beds. And if you think all this sounds like work, you're right!

Faust Pleased With Life In The Navy

Ensign Gilbert Faust, on leave of absence from CSTM's faculty, is now attending school at Fort Schuyler, New York. Ensign Faust finds navy life strenuous but enjoyable. Perhaps it seems strange to be a student rather than a teacher for a change.

"In a recent letter he describes his new life with enthusiasm and humor. "Today we had our first session of chemistry and there are some among us who admit that it was a bit rough. If I can find someone to carry me up and down stairs (ladders in the gym) I'll get along all right. I can navigate on level ground alone."

Men Well Treated

Ensign Faust "looks forward" to having all his spare moments filled with studying. The typical day at Fort Schuyler lasts from 0630 to 2230 (10:30) o'clock. "As a rule," he writes, "we're treated very well, as belts our position as officers. We don't even have to make our own beds, the mess attendants pick up our dishes and to make our own beds, the mess alone. You 'Come as you were when the Fort Schuyler lasts from 0630 to with studying. The typical day at having all his spare moments filled, today and campus maintenance.

Enjoying Group Life

"I've never had 99 room-mates before, but I'm getting used to that... You know that there is a great thrill in living and working with a group which is entirely dedicated to one cause, and under such circumstances even this communal life is not too distasteful. Our staff officers from the captain on down are a mighty fine group of men."

The more I see of this organization, the more I know it's the best organization in the world. You need never be ashamed of any service you may ever have to accept from the navy, because it can't be beat! I've absolutely no regrets at joining up with this crowd. I'm proud to be a part of it!"

THE TRUTH

"Little scraps of paper Little drops of ink, Make the college janitors Speak not what they think."

PARTY

Come For A Good Time

Each chairman has appointed his own committee and upperclassmen as well as the faculty have cooperated to help make the party a success. Here is a chance to have fun, be gay, forget about books and studies, mix with your fellow students and get to know the faculty other than in a classroom. Everybody dresses to carry out the theme, students and faculty too, and we'll see you when you "Come as you were when the ship went down."

is another irksome duty, but their pleasant neighbor, George Stien, often does this task for them.

Food Is Big Issue

One of the pleasures of staying at the cottage is the really wonderful food the girls eat every day. Often the first thing that greets a visitor is the odor of some delicious dish the cook has just taken from the oven. There are few "down and out" failures, but occasionally the prunes are burnt, or there is some other little accident. Part of the fun of staying at the cottage is "rounding up the stray food" and having a little picnic. Two of the most important events at the cottage are the two formal dinners served every semester. The two girls who cook the meals are also the hostesses, while the other two girls act as the waitresses. The service at the dinner is completely formal.

Cottage housekeeping is strenuous at times, but it is a very valuable experience. It gives the Home Ec girls many pleasant memories. Living at the cottage is just about next door to living at home.

No Hurry To Marry

Co-eds at Montana university don't believe in love at first sight. And despite the wartime trend, they're in no big rush to get married. These facts are revealed in a campus survey of attitudes toward engagement and marriage in a sociology class titled, "The Family."

The conclusions were based on the answers of 95 university women proportionately allocated among the four college classes. The average age of the group was 19.

A romantic 18 per cent of those questioned looked upon "love at first sight" as a requisite to a happy marriage, but an impressive 82 per cent thought there's nothing to it.

The co-eds agreed 25 is the ideal marriage age for men, and 25 for women.
