

CSTC To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

The fiftieth anniversary of CSTC will be celebrated this year in a program of events extending over a three day period from May 26 to May 29.

The celebration will begin on Friday night, May 26, when College Theater presents the three-act comedy, "Claudia", in the college auditorium.

On Saturday afternoon, May 27, in the home economics rooms Omega Mu Chi and Tau Gamma Beta sororities will give a tea for returning alumni. That evening at Nelson Hall alumni will be guests at a banquet. It is planned to have speakers for each decade from 1894 to 1944 and to seat alumni according to those decades.

Plan All School Picnic

The music department, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, will present a concert in the auditorium on Sunday afternoon, May 28.

Alumni who may remain for graduation exercises on Tuesday, May 30, will be guests at an all school picnic to be given late Monday afternoon.

Arranging Homecoming events is a faculty committee under the chairmanship of Herbert R. Steiner, assisted by a student committee representing the Student Council. On this latter committee are Ruth Phelan, Rose Marie Howes, Florence Flugaur and Ed Nighbor.

The POINTNER is planning a special fiftieth anniversary issue to be published on May 17.

NOTICE

Sigma Tau Delta will meet this evening at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Leland M. Burroughs.

Give Placements For Graduates

The Training school has announced the placement of the following students, who will graduate May 30.

Girls Glee Club Entertains Schools

A bus load of girls from the Glee club went on two trips last week. On Tuesday, April 18, the bus left the college at 9:30 a. m. arriving at Clintonville in time for a dinner served by the home economics department. Miss Anita Campbell, who graduated from CSTC in January, is one of the home economics instructors there. After dinner the girls sang for a full high school assembly. In the evening a concert was given in Wittenberg where several former CSTC students are teaching. Charlotte Reichel, an alumna teaching there, directed a number on the program.

Served Dinner

A different group of Glee Club girls went to Port Edwards, Thursday, April 20. A dinner was served by the high school home economics department, after which the girls were at liberty to wander about the modern and well equipped school. The concert was at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. The girls visited the Paper Inn after the concert.

Peter J. Michelsen, head of the music department, announced that there may be one or two more concert trips this year.

AVIATION STUDENT AND INSTRUCTOR KILLED

Aviation Student Clifford R. Sabo, of the 97th College Training Detachment, and his instructor, Robert L. Anderson, lost their lives when their training plane crashed in flames near the Stevens Point airport early Tuesday afternoon. Both men were burned, and all except the motor and metal framework of the plane were destroyed.

A/S Sabo's home is in Choteau, Montana and Instructor Anderson lived in Champaign, Illinois.

Neenah; Margaret Murrish, class '42, grade 4 or 5, Manitowoc; Janet Tiffany Shanklin, class '42, home economics, Holmen.

Those who went out at mid-year and have reported staying on next year are:

Marguerite Berger, English and History, Unity; Anita Campbell, home economics, Clintonville; Edna Clark, home economics, Alma Center.

May graduates from the two year rural course who have accepted positions are:

Bertha Bennett, Elm school, Dane county; Neva Bork, Diamond school, Adams county; Lenore Colvin, Sawyer school, Marathon county; Laurice Cook, East Easton school, Adams county; Violet Foemmel, Elmwood school, Clark county; Betty Klopotek, Heffron school, Portage county; Phyllis Kolstad, Rudolph Graded, (1-4 grades); Georgia Newby, Major Whiteside school, Portage county; La Von Schmidt, Morgan Graded, Shawano county; Philomene Selz, Fairview school, Clark county; Betty Stange, Wittan school, Marathon county.

Student Council Plans A Trip To Blood Bank

Soc Hop Will Be Sponsored By Tau Gams

Something new has been added! CSTC is about to experience its first Soc Hop. Maybe you've never been to a Soc Hop but the girls of Tau Gamma Beta sorority promise "lots of fun for everyone". The dance will be held on Wednesday, May 3, in the Training school gym. Dancing will start at 7 and continue till 10 o'clock. All soldiers and civilians who can scrape up 12 cents are invited to attend. A floor show has been planned and prizes will be given to the two people who can show the most mends in their socks. In order to leave the feet free for dancing, all shoes will be carefully checked at the door.

Name Committees

Merle Weberg and Bernice Glisczinski are co-chairmen. The three committees are: Entertainment, Jeanie Cattanaach, Dorothy Davids, Joyce Rathke, Marjorie Prey, Lucy Wislinski, and Brigetta Fleischmann; refreshments, Dolores Rondeau, Georgia Vannie, and Grace Lepak; publicity, Bess Jones, Nan Songe, Nelda Dopp, and Carol Ockerlander.

Chaperones for the Soc Hop will be Miss Mildred Davis and Mrs. Mildred Williams.

AWTC Will Meet Here On Friday And Saturday

A biennial meeting of the Association of Wisconsin Teachers colleges will be held here on Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning.

A highlight of the conference will be the panel discussion in the library at 7:30 Friday evening. The subject will be "The Role of the Teachers Colleges in Post-War Education in Wisconsin," and it will be led by Presidents Hansen of Stevens Point, Baker of Milwaukee, Davies of Eau Claire and Polk of Oshkosh. There will be a reception afterwards and refreshments will be served. At the Saturday meeting, plans will be made for the next biennium. Delegates from Stevens Point will be Dr. Arthur S. Lyness and Burton R. Pierce. Dr. Harold M. Tolo is a member of the nominating committee.

College To Share Part Of Expenses

A trip to the blood bank at Milwaukee was planned for college students at a meeting of the Student Council held last Monday evening. The trip to Milwaukee will be in the school bus, and college funds will be allotted to pay for the actual traveling costs, but meals and other expenses must be paid for by the donors taking part.

Date Not Definite

The date for the trip has not been set definitely, but it will be some

Are you afraid to donate blood? College students who have done so say that it isn't painful at all.

"There is nothing to it," declares one college blood donor.

"After it's over, you will feel mighty good for having done something to help the boys over there who are fighting for us. Who knows? Maybe the pint of blood you donate will save the life of some boy who went to school here."

time in early May. Students are asked to watch for notices on the main bulletin board on the second floor. Since the bus holds only a limited number everyone who goes must have had a physical examination to determine whether or not he is fit to donate blood.

Name Committees

Further business at this meeting included the appointing of Student council members to work with the faculty on various committees. Marilyn Boycks, Joyce Rathke, Betty Pohlman, and Rose Marie Howes will work with the faculty on the social committee. The officers of the Student council, Ruth Phelan, Florence Flugaur, and Rose Marie Howes will assist the faculty Homecoming committee.

College Theater To Give Comedy

STAR-STRUCK, a one act comedy with an all-girl cast, will be presented by College Theater during the regular assembly period at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, May 4. Phyllis Eckels will direct the production, and the following students are on the cast; Judy Graham, Hazel Tibbetts, Barbara Felker, Betty Pohlman, Edythe Ofstun, Virginia Clark and Gertrude Heike.

Judges Music Contests

Peter J. Michelsen judged a music festival at Tigerton, where five bands competed, on April 25. He will be a critic at a concert by the Weyauwega High school on Friday, April 28. The next day Saturday, April 29, he will judge a festival at Colby in which five schools participate.

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year. Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Are women gold-diggers?

Roger McCallum: It is about a 50-50 proposition. Watch the 50 that are.

Jeanie Cattanaeh: As a rule I don't think girls are gold diggers, but there are exceptions to every rule.

Kay Hansen: Depends on the woman.

Charlotte Pressentin: The majority of women are not, but there are some.

Rose Marie Howes: Who wouldn't dig for gold if it was in sight?

Amenzo Warden: I haven't met one. Maybe I'm lucky.

Percy Voight: The majority of girls are gold diggers, but an occasional exception is sometimes seen.

Joan Joosten: Are you kiddin'?

Edythe Ostun: Ain't it the truth!

Lieut. Bill Nikolai: I can't say. As far as women are concerned I have had insufficient experience with them to answer the question. So far I haven't met one.

Lieut. Bill Nikolai arrived on furlough last Friday evening just in time to come to the all school party. Bill graduated recently from Spence Field, Moultrie, Georgia. Bill said he felt like kissing Wisconsin soil when he jumped off the train. "Next time I come home," he said, "I'm going to fly! And when I fly over CSTC, I'll fly upside down!"

Another returned serviceman was Lieut. August Rademacher who graduated from Pecos Field, Texas. Gus is well remembered by CSTC students, especially by the Juniors, for he was president of his class when he left last year. It was grand to see Gus again—here's hoping he returns soon to stay longer.

Pointers are saddened to hear that Lieut. Art Crowns has been reported missing in action. Art is thought to have been lost over Europe. His many friends at CSTC are still hoping to hear good news about Art.

Cpl. Roman Cooper of Great Bend Army Air Field, Great Bend, Kansas, visited CSTC last Monday.

Another former CSTC student now at Pecos, Texas, is A/C Roy Arndt. Roy, who is taking advanced training in aviation, visited school last week.

"India Is Many" Says
Ebright, Lecturer

"India is not one, India is many," said Don Ebright in his lecture to the Talk of the Hour club Monday night in the college auditorium. In a humorous yet informative vein, Mr. Ebright, who has just returned from six eventful years in India where he served as an American teacher, youth worker and chaplain to British troops, went on to give picturesque illustrations of this statement.

Mr. Ebright, told of the cultural, economic and religious heterogeneity of the peoples of India. Religion is the dominant factor in the lives of the Indian people, he said. A Hindu rises, puts on his turban, goes to a Hindu tea stand where he has his tea and then proceeds to his own temple for prayer. A Mohammedan, on the other hand, puts on his fez, and goes to a mosque where he unrolls his prayer rug and proceeds with his prayers. The entire life of an Indian is prepared for him in formal acts of his religion.

The Indian army is composed of two million native volunteers, two-thirds of whom are now in overseas service in Italy, North Africa and Abyssinia. American soldiers arriving in India receive all their cotton uniforms from Indian manufacturers as a good will expression of lend lease between India and America.

In regard to the question of Indian independence Mr. Ebright stated that the common distrust which the Indians have for Great Britain is far outweighed by the hatreds and distrusts which the Indian factions have for each other. Psychologically he believes that it would be a good thing for India to have its independence but materially it would not be.

The speaker was introduced by William C. Hansen, president of the Talk of the Hour club.

Letters

To the Editor:

If the active and happy participation of all people present in the various activities is the measure of the success of a project, then the All School Party last Friday night was truly successful; all those who had any part in the initiation and planning should have a feeling of satisfaction.

The Freshmen who sponsored "Come as you were when the ship went down" are to be congratulated. They not only provided an evening of fun in a period when that is a rather difficult thing to do, but they also gave us an opportunity to learn how to provide for an evening's entertainment when that responsibility may be a part of our jobs.

A Faculty Member

To the Editor:

When it was announced that the Freshmen were to sponsor a "Come as you were when the ship went down" party, there were some rumblings of discontent. If these same individuals attended the party I am sure all such doubts and groans were dispelled.

The party was very well planned and carried out, and reflects great credit on the Freshman class. It went a long way to prove that war or no war, scarcity of entertainers or no, CSTC is still able to provide entertainment of a consistently high level.

Taps For Spooky;
School Feels Loss

Tragedy loomed forth in the O. F. Nixon household on Wednesday, April 12, when news came that Spooky, the Nixon's black cat, had been killed. Dr. Nixon had let him out in the morning as usual. When Spooky did not come in for breakfast it was thought that he was having a good time elsewhere. Later in the morning a neighbor came in to tell Mrs. Nixon that some children had found the dead Spooky in Nixon's yard. It is believed that Spooky had been hit by a car, as his head and shoulder were injured.

Spooky had been part of the Nixon household since the day "Babe" Nixon found Spooky injured and nursed him back to life. Since then he has been a part of the life of both "Babe" and Bob Nixon, CSTC alumni.

The Phi Sigs and the Chi Delts both claimed him at various times and no one could be around the Nixon household without knowing Spooky. He had his own special technique in gaining admittance or in getting out of the house. He did not meow like an ordinary cat. No sirrie! Spooky got up on a rocking chair on the porch and knocked it against the window to get in. To get out—he just did what he shouldn't do, he was sent out when he scratched around the table leg or chair.

Spooky, faithful companion and spirit of the Nixon household, has departed for the unknown. His memory will remain in the hearts of those who knew and loved him for his winning ways and clever escapades.

Rural Students Enjoy
Their Cadet Teaching

Rural students spent the week following Easter vacation cadet teaching in country schools in their home counties. Their reactions to their week of practice teaching were many and varied.

"The sample was wonderful," explained Lenore Bras, "but now we can't wait for the real test. I've found out why teachers often say "Look it up and tell the class on Monday."

Laurice Cook and Adeline Hager were also enthusiastic about their teaching. "I can truthfully say that I believe that it did me more good than any observation work could possibly do," said Laurice, "because it was the real situation and what we'll be teaching next year."

Practical Experience

"Cadet teaching has helped me very much," Adeline declared. "It gave me a chance to use what I learned and it also showed that there is still much that I haven't learned."

"One of the big jobs," Alice Tredler reported, "is to plan your assignments carefully and keep your children busy. You have to see that they do their work, and not try to make you think they are doing it."

Pearl Albrecht found the children of the school she visited unusually good. "Maybe some of the excellent behaviour on the part of the children was company manners, but I think most of it was not unusual. The teacher and the children were grand and I enjoyed it ever so much," she said.

Some Parts Irksome

Veda Eskritt found some aspects of teaching rather disagreeable. "The breezy room, strong soap, cold lunches and lesson plans were somewhat irritating, but I certainly did fall in love with the first grade," she stated. "I'm anxious to be starting in a school of my own."

Betty Mae Stange declared, "When situations arise involving mischievous or crying children, silly girls, and naughty boys, I now have a clearer idea of what to do. I now have more confidence in my ability to teach than I did before."

Debate, Forensics
Contest Held

Elimination contests in debate and forensics were held at the Training school last Friday morning. Howard Campbell was student chairman.

Judges of the debate, who were three members of the 97th. Training detachment, awarded the decision to the seventh grade affirmative team, composed of Jerry Jayne, Dick Toser and Jim Samter. The sixth grade negative team was composed of John Swanson, Tom Beach and Carl Podeweltz.

Winners in serious declamations were Joan Deuschman, eighth grade, Nanette Timmer, seventh grade, and Eric Hedquist, sixth grade.

The winning humorous selections were given by Jean Robertson, eighth grade, Jane Moe, seventh grade, and Anne Gilfry, sixth grade.

Judges for the declamation contests were Jeanette Steege, Eula Erickson, and Solveig Waag.

Coaches were Miss Hazel Benton, Mrs. Edith Cutnaw, Burton Pierce, and student teachers Jean Gullickson, Beth Johnson and Marjorie Pree.

Chit 'n Chat

I do hope that by the time you are reading this we will be out from under this blanket of dews and damps. They tell me it's spring but I really haven't been able to see through the haze to know.

Let's all give three cheers for the swell party the Freshmen gave the school last Friday!! There was more school spirit shown there than we've seen for a long time. The food was excellent and I'm sure everyone enjoyed the group singing. We'll have to remember how much fun that was.

We saw some new twosomes who seemed to be having a good time. Eula Erickson and "Buzz" Gabelson were seen leaving together and right behind them were Jeanette Steege and Alan Christensen. We must have more of these—right, kids? It's a shame some people such as George Gunderson have such strong ties in their home town that they have to go running back to high school proms. Of course we don't know, but we think you missed something at the party, George.

The main attraction was Joe Wilcox's letting down his barriers and taking to ballroom dancing. That shouldn't be the last time, Joe. It's so much fun!

Ruth Thompson was a happy girl last week when Gus Rademacher arrived in town. Gus is now a lieutenant in the Air corps and very much looking the part. A fellow pilot and officer Bill Nikolai was here too, and he was seen about town with "Sunny" Johnson. Gus's visit also brought his sister Hansi to CSTC again. Guess Betty Pohlman joined them in a little gaiety at Schmidt's Friday night.

Joyce Connor took off for the weekend and had her fun in Madison. Lots doing in that big town and a friend to visit makes it even more interesting.

A/S Orville G. Smith ceased his drugstore flirtations this weekend and spent his time entertaining Miss Kitty Kelly. Is this going to become another of those two-somes?

On Sunday one of the A/S's was heard to say, "Boy I'm tired! We really got Painter married last night!!" Guess that means the affair was a success. Our congratulations to you, Bob and Doris. Judy Graham wanted to break tradition that night and kiss the best man instead of the groom; you guess why.

BRUNSWICK

Aiden Bowman and Pvt. Will Bode were married on Monday. Mrs. Charles Pearce (Donna Pett) expects to leave school soon for California to join her husband.

Everywhere, from the Eat Shop to Iverson Park, we have been seeing Ellen Gordon and A/S Clyde Dickson. That's all right, kids. That park is a nice place, or did you stop on the way?

We don't know whether Helen Lundgren has been singing "Anchors Aweigh" lately but we do know that a certain ensign and motorcycle have had a strong attraction of late. She has learned, too, that the riding is cold on those long trips.

The former Lillian La Marche, now Mrs. Edward Korzilius, is back in town. Her husband is somewhere in the Atlantic with the Navy.

A/S Louis Gruber adores singing and shouting which all adds up to tours and more tours. You and your pals are just too happy, that's all. Or are the lieutenants in too many places at the wrong time? If Wednesday comes, can the weekend be far behind?

Lieut. Karl Schenk of the Army Air Corps and Pauline Noble of the Waves were married recently in South Dakota. Both were former CSTC students.

Phyllis Eckels should be all smiles about now. Dick Olk has quit his job and is coming back to school this summer. Some people get all the breaks!

A/S Eugene Hanson took to a new sport on Sunday. It seems to be called "Spinning the Bottle". What does this mean, Hanson?

Bill Nikolai played Santa Claus to the POINTER staff last Monday eve. He treated the gang to ice cream, candy, peanuts, bubble gum, cracker jacks, tooth picks and TUMS!

Better leave for this week. Enough is enough. See you next week, kids.

Co-eds Model Gowns For Style Show

Lovely spring clothes were worn by the six models at the annual style show presented by Omega Mu Chi sorority on Tuesday evening in the Training school gym. More than thirty tables were in play during the card party which followed, and prizes were awarded the winners in auction and contract bridge, 500, hearts and pinochle. Refreshments were served to conclude the evening's entertainment.

The models were Virginia Clark, Eula Erickson, Virginia Grassl, Marian Lawrence, Betty Puaria and Gertrude Quinn. The clothes were furnished by Stevens Apparel Shop.

The general chairman of the affair was Judy Graham, and Harriet Coey announced for the style show.

Play, A Part Of Celebration

The cast for the College Theater performance of CLAUDIA has been chosen, and rehearsals are in progress. The play will be given as a part of the fiftieth anniversary celebration.

Those who have parts in the play are Marian Lawrence, Bernard Alberg, Dick Becker, Yvonne Moreau, Marjorie Stimm, Elvira Lindow, Burnett Burch and Nelda Dopp.

All School Party Is A Smashing Success

The all school party given by the Freshmen last Friday was a success, and all those who attended spent an enjoyable evening. The Freshmen showed ability as hosts and entertainers. The college gym was decorated with anchors, portholes and other suggestions of ships at sea. The games, score cards and refreshments carried out the theme, "Come as you were when the ship went down."

Individual prizes for excellence in games were awarded to Marjorie Stimm, Violet Foemmel, Don Gabelson, Bertha Bennett, Elizabeth Schultz and Jean Norton. Costume prizes were given to Jackie Stauber, dressed as a fisherman, and Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, who impersonated a seasick passenger.

Dick Becker, as captain of the ship, was master of ceremonies. Barbara Felker played several popular numbers on the piano. Yvonne Moreau read "Old Ironsides", Judy Graham and Marjorie Stimm did a tap dance, and Harriet Coey and Loretta Gotchy sang a duet, accompanied by Lenore Bras.

The refreshments were soft drinks, doughnuts and candy life savers. General arrangements for the party were made by Marilyn Boycks, president of the Freshman class, and Mrs. Mildred Williams, chairman of the faculty social committee.

Spring Picnic Planned

Newman club has decided to hold its spring picnic at Iverson Lodge on May 4 at 5 o'clock. Plans were made at a meeting held last Thursday in the Rural assembly at which time committee members, Philomene Selz, chairman, Mary Lou Okray, and Arlene Esselman were appointed. After the business meeting Virginia Grassl and Arlene Esselman gave reports on sections of the Papal history, "Papaent of the Popes", by John Farrow. Following these reports, Florence Flugaur read an article, "The Sea and the Pageant", written by Mr. Farrow and taken from the March 1944 issue of the EXTENSION MAGAZINE.

Leads Discussion

Margaret Seeger led a discussion on "Who Will Win the World" at a Gamma Delta meeting on Thursday evening, April 20. Plans for the rest of the year were made.

A picnic will be held at Iverson park on Sunday, May 14, and there will be a Gamma Delta breakfast on Sunday, May 28. The last regular meeting will be held on Thursday, May 4, at which time there will be an election of officers for next year.
