Assembly To Continue Series Of Movies

"There's Magic in Music," a full length movie, will be shown at an assembly on Thursday, February 17. This Parent's Magazine "Medal of the Month" winner portrays a visit to Interlochen, the famous music school in Michigan. Such stars as Alan Jones, Susanna Foster, Lynne Overman, Richard Bonelli, Iris Petina, and Tandy MacKenzie are in the program. It is presented in both a technical and artistic appreciation and interest in better music, while "The Music Album" introduces different types of music to the radio audience.

The programs for the week are as follows:

Weekly Program

Monday, 1:15-1:30, Movie Reviews, Robert H. Riflem an
Tuesday, 1:15-1:30, Your Story Time, directed by Mr. Michael E. Kautzen
Friday, 3:30-4, Music Album, Ralph Hawkins
Saturday, 1:15-1:45, The Army Hour, 97th Training, Infantry, the Eighth Grade, Hugh Brown, 2:30-3:15, The Symphonic Hour, Robert H. Riflem an

"Movie Reviews" is a new radio program appearing this semester. The aim of this program is to promote interest in the better movies. Betty Furstenberg is the script writer, and Mr. Riflem an is the narrator for "Movie Reviews."

Twelve Piece Band To Play For Formal

The Swing Shifters, twelve piece orchestra of Wisconsin Rapids, under the direction of William Grahame, will play music for the Omegas' Snow Ball Saturday night at Hotel Whiting. Not only will glittering snowflakes and jolly snowmen greet the couples who attend the formal but this new orchestra will be an extra special attraction.

Tickets are now on sale at the Shopping Service for seventy-five cents. There will be dancing from nine to one.

The chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Wood and Mrs. and Mr. Leland M. Burroughs, President and Mrs. William C. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Steiner, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam L. Moreau, who will be special guests.

Will Address Group

A dinner will be given at the First Lutheran church on Tuesday, February 22, at 5:30 p.m. Rev. Berk dier Mrs. L. J. Berk dier, executive secretary of the Lutheran Student Service Commission, will be the guest and speaker of the evening. Tickets may be purchased from the LSA president, Marion Hemrich.

Alumni Letters Show Varying Life

Letters from CSTC alumni reflect the many new experiences they are having. Once again the POINTER brings news of its former students.

Pointers will be sorry to learn that A.C. Charles Wildermuth is in the hospital at Fort Snelling hospital at Fort Snelling, Min n esota, with an injured leg. Everyone hopes that it isn't serious and that "Chuck" will be well again soon.

Liet. Guy Roberts (location unknown) describes an experience of his this summer. He lived at a Jap zero, only to have the pilot bail out before he even opened fire. Could it be that the little yellow men are getting wise to themselves?

Word has been received that Maj. Otis Michelsen has been attending Link trainer school at Lub bock, Texas. Sergeant Michelsen is taking advanced instrument training.

Radio Workshop Program

The Radio Workshop of Central State Teachers college has announced a new broadcast schedule for this semester. Their educational and musical programs are given in the interest of promoting better radio listening.

"Your Story Time" and "Real Americans" are children's programs especially useful in the classroom. "The Teaching Hour" is especially useful in the classroom. "The Teaching Hour" is devoted to the discussion of the point of view, Robert H. Riflem an, the narrator.

Training Detachment will be an extra special attraction.

Two-One Act Plays Are Work Of College, Training School

Have you heard about the double features? It is getting to be a rite! Yes sir—on February 24 at 10:30 there's going to be a super deluxe only program in the auditorium. Here are some of the details.

One of the features of the program will be the one-act play, "He Got the Job!" This play, which has an all boy cast, will be presented by the eighth grade of the Training school. The play is about mankind manners and mending speech or how NOT to get a job. The setting is in the office of an executive of the present day. Miss Hazel Benton is directing the play and the cast is as follows:

College Play

The other feature is "Sleeping Dogs." This Royalty play also has just one act. "Let sleeping dogs lie" may be a wise old saying, but it did not help Miss Amarailla Price conduct a nationwide poll on the question, "Are you happy with your husband?" Here Miss Price breaks up the happy home of the Sloanes after being chopped over the head with a gold fish bowl—will draw your own conclusion.

The cast is composed of the following college students:

Joe Phillips, Bill Terrill; Ned Sloane, Percy Vought; Peggy Sloane, Virginia Grassl; Minnie Phillips, Marian Lawrence; Miss Price, Judy Grady.

Leland M. Burroughs is directing this play. Warren G. Jenkins is in charge of the technical production and Robert S. Lewis in charge of make-up.

Everyone is invited to attend this assembly program — February 24 at 10:30—don't forget!

Notice To Graduates

All students who expect to receive a degree or diploma at the close of this semester should make application for graduation by filing in the blanks on certain cards customarily used for that purpose at the registrar's office this week.

A. S. Lynes, Registrar

Any students wishing to have credentials sent to the Wisconsin Training school office and who are not now enrolled for practice teaching should notify Miss Swallow there. There's going to be a new Training school office. This should be done now even though you don't plan to graduate until at the end of the summer session.
YWCA Has Boy-Girl Party

Man shortage? There certainly was no man shortage at the Y-Dub party Thursday night. Every Lassie had her Laddie—some handsome ones there too! Y-Dubs who were there weren't missed a lot of fun at this boy-girl party held in the recreation room. Games were played, refreshments were served and fun was had by all.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday night, December 26th, at Marie Marie Swallow will speak on Alaska and show moving pictures of it.

NOTICE!

Formal initiation of new members is scheduled for the evening meeting of Sigma Tau Delta, to be held in the POINTER office at 3:30 p.m. on Friday. It is important that all members are present.

Graduate Takes Responsible Position

Clarence J. Krumm, a graduate of CSTC, is now in charge of a government built school at Badger, Wisconsin, home of the Badger Ordinance Works.

The modern 30 room school includes one of the few 24 hour a day administrative buildings of its type in the country and has an extended school program that may prove a pace setter in the national educational field.

The 250 Badger families can continue producing smokeless powder, confident that their children are getting the best education that today's educators can provide.

The Teachers Have 'Em Too, Students

In a recent poll taken among faculty members the POINTER attended, there was a surprising list of teachers—what qualities they dislike about college students.

Peter J. Michelson's answer was that they are all alike, and he exclaimed. Leland M. Burroughs echoed his thought in his answer: "What don't I like about college students? Why, I like them all!"

Dean Herbert Steiner entered a plea for more universal learning of "whispering as a fine art." Every member of the Y-W has a student with whispers in a low mumble that is very annoying, but", he added hastily, "such cases are very rare."

Norman E. Keutner dislikes the expression "I don't care." "It's even worse than 'I don't know' he contends, 'For that, at least, is frank.'

Doctor Harold M. Tolo is bothered when students insist that "history repeats itself", but otherwise he is well satisfied.

Miss Audrey Davis gave "lack of daily preparation" as her pet peeve, while Miss Gertie Hanson said, "I'm annoyed when students forget' to read."

But when students insist that "history repeats itself", but otherwise he is well satisfied.

Dr. Tolo was pointing out in one of his history classes that the Australians liked the Americans. Probably because they are there, he said. Why not? To stress his point he added, "You know, like a group of cadets." He was happy—that was one point he didn't need explanation.

Lay Plans For Series Of Guest Speakers

Students of Central State Teachers college will have the opportunity to hear certain outstanding speakers this semester if plans now in process for organization of the Stevens Point "Talk of the Hour" club materialize.

Under the auspices of the Redpath Bureau, this club is being organized by a committee of townspeople who are interested in being informed on the vital problems facing our country. At least five guest speakers will appear at evening forums in the college auditorium, and at these forums college students will be guests.

Among the several speakers available are Jack Morrow, a noted newspaperman and former editor of the Japan Times, who can discuss with authority problems of the Far East; Senator Vojta Benes, a distinguished Czechoslovakian statesman, educator, and historian, who speaks about his own country; Ernest W. Riggs, heroic president of Anatolia college, Greece, who escaped just before the Germans took over his college, and Dean E. Smith, who was a former Standard Oil Company manager in Burma, India.

CSTC faculty members on the organization committee include President William C. Hansen, Miss Bessie May Allen, Miss Lydia Pfeiffer and Dr. Harold M. Tolo.

"Across the Atlantic in the British Isles the Yanks are trying to fit American slang into the dignified British manner. Such razzing is preferable to the loud-mouthed voice to the student who calls that locker home.

And home is what it is. Take a look inside the average girl's locker. It resembles a miniature department store. Of course the books are thrown in because they have to be there. The chewing gum and candy bar wrappers, the old math papers wadded up in a ball on the floor, the empty box of cold tissues all add to the homey atmosphere. The ripped bathing cap hanging on a hook might keep one ear dry in the shower, but what happens to the other ear?

Never mind, girls. It's your locker, so keep it the way you want it. After all, home is where the heart is, and by the letters seen stacked in some lockers, your heart must be there.

Etiquettips

Introductions tell tales. Indeed they do! In case you feel rather muddled and ill at ease when you must make an introduction, here are a few pointers to help you.

The name of the person whom you wish to honor is said first, as—lady's name first, then the man's; girl's name first, then the boy's; elderly person's name before the younger person's name. Catch? It's really easy if you remember these simple rules.

Of course there are exceptions to the above rules. Think you're ready for some of them?

If you find yourself introducing a very distinguished man to a lady who is not distinguished, for good measure's sake say the man's name first, as, "Mr. Distinguished, this is Miss Commonplace."

Introductions can make you or break you socially. Learn the few simple rules and you'll have to blush as red as a beet or feel like a one cent piece because you've made a blunder in introducing someone.

Entertains Tau Gamens
Mrs. William C. Hansen, honorary member of Tau Gamma Beta sorority, entertained the girls at her home at 525 Normal avenue, on Tuesday evening, February 8. Pink candles in blue wooden holders lighted the serving table, and pink and blue shades, the sorority colors, were carried out in the refreshments. Mrs. Frank N. Spindler, patroness, poured. Other special guests were Mrs. Robert Lewis and Mrs. George Berg, patronesses, and Miss Helen Meston and Mrs. Mildreda Williams, faculty advisers. The occasion marked the birthdays of Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Berg.

The picture case containing photographs of CSTC students in service, a gift of the sorority to the college, is being filled with pictures of the school's fighting men and women. Tau Gamma Beta requests that students, friends and faculty members turn in available pictures.

Have a "Coke" = A thousand miles is not too far to come... or being friendly with a Chinese cadet

Chinese flyers here in America for training have found that so simple a phrase as Have a "Coke" speaks friendship in any tongue. East, west, north, south, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes — has become the happy bond between people of good will.
