Noted Explorer To Talk At Assembly

Alonso W. Pond, noted explorer, author, and editor, will give an illustrated lecture on Algeria in the auditorium at 10:30 on Thursday, May 15. Mr. Pond lived in Algeria and knew the language and culture which he will talk about in his lecture. Mr. Pond has been to the Sahara and the Sahara Desert, and has lived with the natives of the desert. He will talk about his experiences in the Sahara and the Sahara Desert.

Life Adventures

His personal experiences are all thrilling adventures. He drifted among thousands of bedouins, the nomadic tribes of the Sahara desert. He learned to ride a camel and how to handle a sword. He also learned to speak Arabic. Mr. Pond has been to many countries, and has lived in many places. He has been to Egypt, Syria, Iraq, and Iran. He has also been to the United States and Canada. He has seen many cities and towns, and has visited many historical sites. He has been to the Pyramids in Egypt, and to the Great Wall of China. He has also been to the Alamo in Texas.

As an explorer in the Sahara he has learned to know the natives of the desert and their way of life. He was a leader of three expeditions to Algeria and Tunisia and lived among the natives on the high plateau where our troops are now stationed. Many of those who heard his story to tell about in his vivid way with the aid of his exceptional pictures. Students are urged to turn out for this outstanding program.

Carnival Mentioned

In Finance Monthly

CSTC is becoming famous! The May edition of the "Campus Clip Sheet" carried the story about the college Spring Victory Carnival. The "Clip Sheet" is published monthly by the Education Section of the War Finance Division. It contains news of what colleges are doing in the war effort. CSTC's carnival is described under the heading "How About Some of These?"

Newspaperman Will Address Hour Club

Jack Morrow, a noted American newspaperman and speaker, will appear before the Talk of the Hour Club in the college auditorium at 8 p.m. on Monday, May 15. Mr. Morrow is the fourth speaker in an interesting series which has attracted increasingly larger crowds each time. College students will again be admitted upon presentation of admission tickets.

Mr. Morrow's background and experiences give him a wealth of valuable material from which to draw and he has held his leading authoritiy on the Far East.

University graduate and New York newspaperman, he served overseas with the Canadian in the World War. Discharged from the army at Vladivostok, Mr. Morrow returned to newspaper work with the JAPAN AFTERDUST of Tokyo and six months later was appointed editor of THE JAPAN TIMES & MAIL of Tokyo. In that position he was closely associated with the founder of the Kokusai News agency in Japan, which was the sole distributor of the Associated Press and Havas services in the Japanese Empire.

From Japan Mr. Morrow went to Hawaii, where he became editor and publisher of the Maui News. For 17 years he played an important role in recording events that make history during the post-war period in the Pacific.

Through his world-wide connections, Mr. Morrow has kept abreast with the lightening-likes moving on the political horizon, with its predictions of yesterday become the realities of today. His talks are known to be factual and are the coldest answers to emotionalism and propaganda.

Lucille Dunn Wins Frize At Soc Hop

Lucille Dunn proudly displayed more than 25 dans in her socks at the Soc Hop held last Wednesday evening. The appropriate prize awarded by Tau Gamma Beta sorority, sponsor of the affair, was a credit slip for a new pair of socks.

An entertaining floor show was presented by college, campus and town talent. Joan Jooen and Dolores Cowles sang several solos, Aviation Student Barry of San Diego performed as a magician, and Bob Wexenberg played two piano solos.

To Speak On Racial, Religious Subjects

Miss Ethel Alpenfels of the Department of Anthropology of the University of Chicago will address the college Sunday morning as part of activities on the campus Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. She will also speak in the auditorium at 10:30 a.m. on Friday. Her subjects will be religious toleration and racial prejudices. Miss Alpenfels is professor of historical anthropology at the University of Chicago.

Virginia Grassl Remains As Business Manager

Florance Flugaur will edit the 1944-45 POINTER, according to an announcement made today by Raymond M. Rightell, POINTER adviser. Mrs. Grassl will continue in her position as business manager of next year's paper.

Florsnce, whose home is in Stevens Point, is in the division of Primary Education, and she expects to have a major in English literature upon completion of her course in June of 1945.

An honor student, Florence was a member of the National Honor Society in high school and in college she was elected to membership in Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity.

Active in Publications

In active publication, she was on the staff of her high school newspaper and year book. In college, she has worked on the staffs of both the IRIS and the POINTER.

During the past year, Florence has sold two short stories; one was published in the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, and the other in our SUN-DAY VISITOR.

Throughout her three years in college, Florence has taken an active part in extra-curricular affairs. She is a member of Primary Council, president of Newman club and vice-president of the Student Council.

Will Teach at Madison

Mrs. Mildred Williams, supervising teacher at the training school, will teach grades three and four of the training school for the last two years and was assistant business manager of the 1943 IRIS.

"Ginny", a junior in the Home Economics department, lives in Stratford, Wisconsin.

Her extra-curricular activities have included membership in the Women's Glee club, the Forum, and the Home Economics club. She is recording secretary of Omega Mu Chi, a service club.

The last issue of the POINTER will be a special anniversary edition and will appear on Thursday May 18.
In A Job Like This

CSTC students have often admired the skillful lighting which has added so much to College Theater's many productions. Behind this unusually fine lighting system is a history which is known to few college students.

CSTC's present stage was developed under the direction of Dr. Warren Jenkins, a member of our English faculty, two summers ago. Mr. Phil Runke, a technical director, and Donald Colby, an electrician, produced the project and gave it financial backing.

When Dr. Jenkins came to CSTC in 1934 the stage differed greatly from its present appearance. The desire to remodel the stage was drawn up by Dr. Jenkins, Mr. Runke, and Mr. Colby. The plans were approved by the state engineer and the work was carried out under their supervision.

In addition to remodeling the stage, this trio designed a switchboard containing a modern type of dimmer. All the stage lighting equipment, with the exception of the spot lights, was designed here.

Use Special Circuit

The most important feature of the electrical equipment is the special circuit which was invented by the named gentlemen. The importance of this quality of this circuit is its unusual flexibility, which makes it possible to dim successive sets of lights without blinking.

This circuit, which has been patented by the inventors, is in use only at CSTC. It has been written up in several national and Chicago newspapers.

The other stage equipment is just as good as the electrical equipment. It incorporates the tag, a new network of ropes, pulleys and wires. The stage scenery is "flew" from these ropes, which are operated from the platform above the proscenium arch of the stage and from the "cat walk", a narrow bridge suspended over the stage. These features make CSTC stage unique for the purpose of giving students training in producing and managing stage plays, and the theater is recognized as one of the finest experimental stages in the country. The group of original designers have graduated since their success in the field, and their present students are no less successful. Mr. Colby is now the senior engineer in a large radio company.

WAA Takes in New Members

Five new members were taken into WAA at a meeting held at the reception room on Monday evening. The new members are: Alice Johnson, Bess Jones, Marion Lawrence and Yvonne Moreau.

Bette Davis was elected president of the organization. The elections for the school year 1944-45. Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Yvonne Moreau; Secretary, Bess Jones; treasurer, Alice Johnson.

Plans were made for a WAA picnic to be held on May 17. Members are asked to meet at the east entrance at 3:15 p.m.

Another week, another series of events brightening the CSTC calendar. It is always nice when we have patience May 30 is bound to come. (That's what they keep telling us.)

Last weekend was a big weekend for the girls in the Rural department. They were at Wisconsin Rapids for a conference, and I gather they had some interesting things from the University Short Course. I believe Phyllis Kolstad is an authority on this subject. The excitement of Winston Churchill she said, "It was just like we were in war." Roch had brought a horse and a trailer of water. We'll let you guess who followed us. We'll let you guess who followed us.

Students who were at CSTC last year will be interested to know that Mr. Howard "Sam" Barton was married last weekend in Galveston, Texas. His bride was his high school sweetheart, Miss Jane Christenson, who in turn is a native of Milwaukee for the past two years.

See Courtney

A couple carloads of CSTC students headed for Clintonville Monday night to hear Del Courtney. Among those present were Marion Christenson, "Bud" Hardrath, Percy Voight, Bernard Alberg, "Buzz" Gaebel, George Gunderson, Kay Kendall, and Betty Crowns. We'll let you guess who was with whom.

We've a question we'd like to ask Miss Fleischman, who is always watching the flying tigers, Brigetta? We can't help it if we've curious, you know.

We believe Marion Hemmrich deserves the award of the week for the outstanding enlightening remark in history class. As aThumbnail description of Winston Churchill she said, "He always looks like he had too much to eat!"

We always have our fingers crossed that the entire staff couldn't have said it better, Marion.

CSTC did it again! A romance began at school was climax last week at CSTC. Miss Ensign Bob Malecki took as his bride Miss Billie Eichorn, a Senior at CSTC. Billie left Stevens Point on May 3 and will return before the close of school.

Did you hear about the professor who walked into the classroom the other day and shouted: "Order, gentlemen, order!" The entire class responded, "Beer!"

Harriet Coey, president of the sorority, welcomed the guests and introduced the faculty advisors, honorary members and patronesses of the sorority. Ruth Thompson, senior, gave a farewell talk looking back on four years of sorority life at school. Dean Elizabeth Pfiffner read selections appropriate to the stages in a daughter’s life.
A tableau was presented depicting the various milestones in the life of all mothers and daughters. Sorority girls who took part were Betty Crowns, Helen Jacobson, Yvonne Moreau, Betty Pohlm, Charlotte Pressentin, Marlys Reed, Marilyn Boycks, Kathryn Kenney, Phyllis Eckels and Hazel Tibbits. Mrs. Ray mond Bourn, an alumna, and her daughter Nerita, and Mrs. Erwin A. Schwahn, honorary member, also took part. Virginia Grassl was the reader. The chorus, composed of Ruth Michelsen, Judy Graham, Ellen Gordon, Beth Johnson and Kathryn Kenney, accompanied by Marjorie Stimm, sang a song to fit each episode. Shirlee Tobi as took care of the colored spots for each scene.

Penicillin May Aid Daughter Of Engineer
Bernice Stien, daughter of George Stien, CSTC’s chief heating engineer, has been receiving penicillin treat ments in an effort to stop the erup tion of painful abscesses from her hips to her shins.
The abscesses occurred as a result of a fall on a freshly scrubbed floor at St. Mary’s hospital, Green Bay. Since that time Miss Stien has had more than 180 abscesses.
She has been in and out of hospi tals ever since. Medical interest all over the county has been aroused by her baffling illness. Sulfa drugs and other treatments have been used to stop the infection, but the ab­ scesses constantly recur. The results of the first penicillin treatments, however, indicate that this drug may be effective in curing the strange disease.
The case has attracted wide atten tion because Miss Stien has been given more administrations of so dienthal, a barbiturate anesthetic, than any person heretofore. She has had 153 injections of pen ticillin, so that her surgeon could lance the abscesses. The previous Ameri can records reported for multiple administrations of penicillin was 24.

Large Group Attends Rural Conference

More than 40 students in the Rural State graded department of CSTC attended an intercollegiate Rural Youth Conference at Wisconsin Rapids on Friday and Saturday, May 5-6. The group from Central State Teachers college was the largest one at the conference, which was held at the Wood County Normal.

The delegates participated in panel discussions and group conferences beginning on Saturday. Bertha Bennett, CSTC sophomore, represented the college on a youth panel, while Imogene Wojan led one of the interest groups.

John Stuart Curry, artist in residence at the University of Wisconsin, conducted an art appreciation discussion and showed pictures painted by rural Wisconsin people. The nature lore discussion was led by Wakelin McNeel, "Ranger Mac", whose striking appearance and delivery made a big hit with the delegates.

After a banquet on Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Chiang, Chinese students at the University of Wisconsin, spoke on the youth movement in China.

Elect Gamma Delta President

Irene Ludwig was elected president of Gamma Delta for next year at a meeting held on Thursday evening. Joyce Rathke was elected vice-president, Aletha Westphal, secretary, and Marian Grossman, treasurer.

Aletha Westphal, Ida Lau and Mildred Ross constitute the food committee for the Gamma Delta picnic to be held at Iverson Park at 5:30 on Sunday, May 14.

A Gamma Delta breakfast will be served at the Point Cafe at 9 o'clock on Sunday, May 28, at which time the new officers will be installed.

NOTICE

Students who would like to be considered as editor or business manager of the 1945 Iris should see Miss Glennon this week.
