Jane Miller Will Head 1945 IRIS
Kathryn Kenney Named Business Manager

Announcement was made today that Jane Miller will be editor of the 1945 IRIS, college yearbook, and that Kathryn Kenney will be business manager.

Jane, whose home is in Wisconsin Rapids, is a sophomore in the division of secondary education, with a major in English. She has been columnist for the POINDEXTER this year. Especially active in the Radio Workshop, Jane was narrator for the program, "Your Story Time", which was broadcast over WLWL.

Kathryn, who comes from Marshfield, is a junior in the division of secondary education, majoring in American history. She was assistant business manager of the 1942 POINDEXTER, is a member of the Girls Glee club, and is the newly elected president of Omega Mu Chi sorority. Both girls belong to the Forum, organization of secondary division students.

IRIS Especially Welcome

The IRIS will be especially welcome next year because, for the first time in several years, there was no IRIS published this spring. The size of the yearbook will depend upon the size of the enrollment in 1944-45, for most of the money needed to

Present Awards To Winners On Class Day
Awards were presented to outstanding students of CSTC at class day exercises this morning in the auditorium.

The Chi Delta Rho Student Cup, a trophy for the encouragement of scholarship, was presented to Jackie Stauber. Her name will be engraved on the cup, displayed in the college trophy case. Carol Ockerlander received the Alpha Kappa Rho honor award, presented to an outstanding senior girl. This trophy, with the winner’s name, is shown in the organization’s glass case on the first floor.

Gold POINDEXTER keys were presented to Jackie Stauber, editor-in-chief, and R. Virginia Grassl, business manager. Bronze keys, for one year of exceptional service on the POINDEXTER staff, were awarded to Beth Johnson, Florence Flugair, Jane Miller, Amenzo Warden, Hazel Tibbetts, Maude Pounder, Merle Weberg and Violet Foemmel.

Awards were presented to seniors who have been members of the Glee club. The following gold treble clef pins for four years service: Mae Hoffman, Ruth Thompson, Brigetta Fleischmann, Ruth Chrou.

URGE ATTENDANCE AT SPECIAL BROADCAST

Are you coming to the special radio broadcast assembly this afternoon? Oh—come on! It’s going to be fun. The assembly is this afternoon 4:15 p.m. and will be broadcast by the Radio Workshop over WLWL. The program is Robert Riflemen. The script was written by Jane Miller and Mr. Riflemen.

Pep Assembly

The program will start off with a locomotive cheer from the student body led by Genevieve Swett. Then Bob Riflemen will do some reminiscing followed by the singing of "The Purple and The Gold". This will be sung by the Girl's Glee club and the faculty. President William C. Hansen will give a welcome after which the Girl's Glee club will sing "Little Song of Life". After reviewing "the good old days", Gerald Torkelson will sing a solo. Following this Bob Riflemen will interview Miss Sue Colman on our boys in the service. A dedication to the boys in the service will be made. As the next thing the Girl's Glee club will be presented by the announcers for the anniversary made by Mr. Riflemen. Mr. Torkelson will give a speech on the program and the program will close with the Girl's Glee club and the student body singing "The Alma Mater".

Don’t forget, The assembly’s at 4:15 this afternoon.
In Closing:

This is your last POINTER of the school year 1943-44. We hope we have published a paper each week which has met with your approval, even though limited funds have not permitted us to carry out the work as we wished.

Another year has come to an end. For many of you, it’s just another year. But for many of us, too, it’s the end of our college work. Though it seems good to think that there will be no more worries for a while, we know we’re going to miss CSTC. These past four years have meant a great deal to many of us. It’s nice to realize that this end of the last year is going to seem strange in the fall when we shall not be coming back to enroll.

We’d like to urge you who will be here to make the very most of your opportunities in college. Don’t neglect the regular work to be done, for that’s what you’re here for. But if you’ll enter extra-curricular affairs, just as many and as varied as you know you are able to handle, you’ll come to know what great value there is in these activities. Then you’ll know you all the characteristics of a well-rounded individual. War has curtailed the functioning of many of the groups, but there are still opportunities for all. Go into radio work or dramatics, enroll in a musical organization, take an active part in a religious group, work on the POINTER or IRIS staffs. There’s wealth of possibilities for those who will step forward.

In closing, may we thank the many persons who have been so cooperative with our efforts in publishing the POINTER this year. Our staff has been very dependable. The splendid support and help given by Miss Glennon, Mr. Rightsell, and President Hansen have been invaluable. Thank you, all of you.

To Florence Flugur, next year’s editor, and her staff, we extend our best wishes for success. To those of you who will return to CSTC next fall, we hope you’ll have an enjoyable year.

Alma Mater

Hail Stevies Point, the school supreme,
O Central College, thou art queen.
Hail Alma Mater, thee we love.
For thou art great, all other schools above.

The Purple and the Gold

By Kenneth Pray

Other schools of valor boast,
Of victories gliste.
Of laurels never lost,
Of triumphs by the score;
Let them tell you of their prowess,
Of warriors strong and bold,
But their colors ever lower
To the Purple and the Gold.

Our men are all victorious
Through every state around.
Our athletes and debaters
Are winning great renown.
Though we’re proud of a Wisconsin,
Whose fame’s in story told,
Our hearts’ with Alma Mater
And the Purple and the Gold.

To the banks of old Wisconsin,
When years are past and gone,
As schoolmates we have parted,
Our lessons all are done,
We’ll return and show our comrades,
We’re loyal as of old,
And cheer them on to victory
‘Neath the Purple and the Gold,

“Claudia”, Play, Will Open Celebration

The opening feature of the anniversary celebration will be the College Theater presentation of CLAUDIA, a comedy drama in three acts. The play, written by Rose Frankel, will be given in the auditorium at 8:15 p.m. on Friday, May 26.

CLAUDIA is a modern play about an American girl, who even after she had been married could not give up her dependence upon her mother. An understanding husband, plus a fund of humor, mixed with tragedy, compelled Claudia to face reality. CLAUDIA is a delightful comedy, poignant, witty, and original in the characterization of its chief actress.

Directors in Charge

Co-directors of the play are Leland M. Burroughs and Dr. Warren G. Jenkins. Members of the cast are: Claudia, Marian Laws-Movius, David; Dick Becker, Mrs. Brown, Marjorie Stimm; Jerry Seymour, Bernard Allberg; Julia, Elvira Lindlow; Fritz, Mrs. Lewis; Butch, Bertha; Nells, Nelda Dopp; Dorushka, Yvonne Morcau.

Members of the technical crew, in charge of lighting, scenery and properties, are Roger McCullum, Bill Terrill, Gertrude Heike, Phyllis Edels and Edythe Oslin. Judy Graham will be in charge of the auditorium.

Awards

Silver pins were presented to the following for their three years service: Alice But, Carol Ockerlander, Joyce Thorson, Rose Marie Howeys and Lois Beaurefeind.

A gold pin, the highest award given by the WAA, was presented to Mae Hoffman, Senior; Letter S's

Original Faculty, Small in Number
Old Normal Catalogue
Very Similar To Today’s

The catalogue published by the State Normal school in Stevens Point for the years 1891-95 was not so very different from the catalogues which are published now. Many of the same features are included.

The courses listed during the first year were two year elementary course, a four-year English-scientific course, four year courses in Latin and in German, and a one year professional course.

Floor Plan of School

A floor plan of the school was included. The basement was much the same as it is today, except that a play room for the children of the Model school was located where the Health Service is now. A balcony containing a running gym was in the college gym and was but recently torn down.

Most of the first floor was taken up by the Model (Training) school. The regular Normal classrooms were found on the second floor. The library and reading room were in the area now occupied by the main offices, the present library reading room was a large study hall. The President’s office was found where the library office is today.

The third floor was made up of laboratories for the science courses.

Present Concert

On Sunday, May 28

An anniversary concert will be presented by the music department on Sunday afternoon, May 28. The program will be presented by the Girl’s Glee club and an orchestra composed of about 30 members. The concert will be given in the auditorium at 3:30 p.m., and the college students, alumni and townspeople are invited to attend.

Program To Be Given

The program will consist of:
- “Grand March from Aida”, G. Verdi
- “Ballet Egyptian”, A. Luigini
- Orchester Vocal bass solo, Gerald Torkelson
- “Overture Pique Dame”, Fr. von Suppe
- “La Zingara”, Orchester Vocal solo, Gerald Torkelson
- “Overture Pique Dame”, Fr. von Suppe
- “Little Song of Life”, Albert Malotte
- “Only a Rose”, Rudolf Friml
- “Onward, Ye Peoples”, Jean Sibelius
- Welcome To Spring”, Gabriel-Marie Girls Glee club
- “Wedding Day at Troldhauen”, Edvard Grieg
- “Overture Magic Flute”, Wolfgang A. Mozart

Orchestra
The orchestra will be composed of alumnas, out of town members and regular college students.

Students may obtain free tickets for the concert at various business places downtown. The list of places will be posted on the main bulletin board and on Mr. Michelsen’s bulletin board.

Seniors Accept Teaching Positions

Ten more seniors have accepted teaching positions for next year. Those from the high school are: Elizabeth Prey, English and social science at Seymour; Jackie Steuber, history and social science, Monona; Carol Clark, history and social science, Auburndale; Carol Ockerlander, history and social science, Auburndale.

Home economics students who have accepted positions are Brigetta Fleischmann, Kimberly; Luella Christ, Birnamwood; Dorothy Schurf, Niagara, and Ruth Lindsay.

Two alumni replacements that have been announced are Norma Truesdale, home economics at Hartford and Marcelle Martini, ’42, grade one at Marshfield.

Recent placements in the Rural Education include: Evelyn Sanger, Beaver Center school, Clark county; Mildred Sanger, Maple Center school, Clark county; Margaret See, Valley school, Marathon county; Clara Winter, primary grades, Boulder Junction; Mamie Sherman, Fabius school, Waushara county.

The list of places for the concert will be made.

Congratulations and Best Wishes

I want to commend the POINTER staff for having done a fine job this year under real handicaps. You have published an interesting and newsg paper in spite of the dearth of college activities, and you have done it on greatly reduced revenues.

Our congratulations also to those who are graduating. We wish you success and happiness in your work as a teacher. Nothing else that you might do would contribute more in service to your country.

We hope those who are not graduating will plan to return next September to continue their studies. In the meantime, may you have a pleasant and profitable summer vacation.

The celebration ends on Tuesday, May 30, with the commencement program in the auditorium at 10:30 a.m. Mr. Stephen M. Corey, of the University of Chicago, will be the commencement speaker.

Orthman School Source Of Observation Work
The Orthman Demonstration school, which is located on the campus on North Fremont street, is a one-teacher school in which the students in the Two Year Rural State Graded course do one-half of their practice teaching. It was built in 1925, during the presidency of John F. Sims. It was the result of an interesting effort on the part of Oscar W. Neale, director of the Rural-State Graded division, to secure the best type of training which he felt necessary for the most efficient preparation of teachers for the open country and small population centers.

Miss Besse La Vigne has been in charge of the school continuously since it first opened. Several different methods have been followed in securing pupils for the project, but since 1925, by arrangement between the college and the District No. 1 in the Town of Carson, the entire enrollment of the Rocky Run school has been transported by bus.

Students interested in working on the 1944-45 POINTER staff are asked to see Florence Flugur or Miss Bertha Glennen immediately.

Amusing Incidents
Of 50 Years
by Jane E.

Fifty years at CSTC have brought more than just professors, lectures, textbooks and students. If you can take yourself back to the days when this school was built, you will remember that those were the gay nineties. Those were the days of top buggies rumbling over block pavements, wooden Indians on the curb, German bands, souvenir spoons, Spencerian penmanship, and the mustache cup. The coeds at CSTC were in the Gibson girl era, and when they reigned supreme. Pine stumps were in evidence everywhere, sawmills buzzed and residents of Wisconsin lived a frontier life.

Romance Was Active

The romantic spot about which you may read is the stone quarry behind the Old Normal Building. The quarry was surrounded with trees and filled with buttercup flowers. This was the spot where coeds would rendezvous and horsemen would tie their horses to the tree limbs which overhung the streets.

Romance must have been in the air. The year 1895 carries this romantic news item: "On Wednesday evening, December 11, Miss Ethel Kirwan was united in marriage to Mr. Robert D. Rood. Miss Kirwan has the distinction of being the first Normal student to enter into the state of matrimony."

Girls were thinking about boys a few years ago, for in the 1909 Iris the Stevens Point Normal girls ballotted, rating men on several points. Two figures well known to alumni and students who received recognition were the former F. N. Spengler, who was then the most bashful man in school, and H. R. Steiner, who received the most votes for a distinction that in these modern days is better left unnoticed.

Eat Shop Built

Just five years after the school came to the building which is now the College Eat Shop, it first began harboring students when a woman opened her home to serve sandwiches.

In an athletic discussion in the Normal publication of 1897, football is discussed like this: "By many, football is considered a brutal and non-intellectual game and one tending to develop the animal side at the expense of the humane side of life. In fact by a person who is in the stage of play, it is classed even lower than prize fighting." Wonder what they thought of the game the boys of CSTC are playing now?

IRIS First Appears

The first Iris lists the students who were attending the Model School at that time. In the grammar grades was the name of Walter Murat, a local attorney. Ensign Atwell, who is also an attorney, who the intermediate grades and today his grandson is attending the Training School. George Atwell was in this same group and is in present time with the Atwell Abstract Co. A number of primary students may be recognized. Among the list is the former Gladys Park and her husband Ross Joy. Two employees of the Soo Line Road, John McCullum and Karl Strope, were listed as schoolmates. Willis Boston who now runs the Boston Fox ranch and Frank Kelly of the Continental Clothing Co. were included. Also in the primary group was the name of Ruth Weller. She is now living in Madison and is the widow of the late George B. Nelson, for whom Nelson Hall was named. Mr. Nelson was a former regent here, and, up to the time of his death, was a supreme court justice in Madison.

Active Social Life

There was social life too, varied from the present time according to a Normal Pointer of 1902: "A bicycle club was organized by Prof. Colver, and several delightful runs were taken into the country around the Stevens Point."

May we be forgiven a chuckle as we look back over these things to those days when ox teams plodded the streets of Stevens Point and the campus was abundant with wild flowers. CSTC is still to each alumnus the school it was when he walked the halls.

Junior High Named

For Faculty Member

The Training School, completed in 1930, has its Junior High named in honor of Mary D. Bradford, a member of the original faculty. Transferring the children to the new building released the quarters formerly occupied by them on the first floor of the main college building, when it was known as the Model school.

The legislative sessions of 1925 and 1927 appropriated the sum of $200,545 to build and equip a laboratory for demonstration and practice teaching. Construction of the Training School was begun in November 1928, and the building was first occupied in January 1930. Alfred J. Herrick is principal of the Training school.

though, after looking at the pieces of art, didn’t seem very pleased. He asked, “Why don’t Mr. Pray, when he buys anything, not those that have been broken?”

Add West Wing

In 1900 the west wing was added. This addition provided a secondary assembly room, new quarters for the art department, and new rooms for the model department. The Normal could now take care of 500 students. In 1902 the domestic science department; and not those that have been broken?"

In 1909 John F. Sims became president in 1905.

In 1908 the first summer session began. The average enrollment for summer sessions since then has been up to 45.

Offer Rural Course

In 1912 the "Country School Teachers’ Training Course" was introduced. A model rural school was obtained in the country. Miss May Roach was the regular teacher. The Orthman Demonstration school on the campus was not built till 1911.

The east wing was built in 1914, Nelson Hall was opened in 1917, and the Training School was built in 1918.

In 1926 Dr. Robert Dodge Baldwin became president and held this office until 1930, when Frank S. Hr. succeeded him. Recent presidents have been Philip E. Finney, Ernest T. Smith, and William C. Hansen.

Classes Until Noon

Miss Collins said that classes opened at 8 o'clock and continued until noon. In the afternoon classes began at 1:30 and school was dismissed at 4 p.m.

"The school was just like one big family," says Miss Collins; "it was very homey like. All of the sports took place where Goerke Field is now.

Mrs. Vaughn mentioned that classes were often accompanied by the sounds of hammering which came from the nearby rooms in which the carpenters were still working.

"Everything was very new to us," she said, "and it was very much like a new town opened up. The citizens of Stevens Point worked hard so that the school could be built here.

There was a grove where Sim's cottage is now, and the students often went there for picnics. Bird studies were often conducted there, too.

Mrs. McDonald said that "It was always a very beautiful campus." When Mrs. McDonald was young she lived in this section of town and she remembers playing on the lawn before the college was built. Her daughter Ethel and son Robert both graduated from CSTC.

Every morning at 8:45 all of the students met for assembly. President Puy read literary selections or if he had any admonitions for the students they were given then. Singing took place every morning and the students went from the assembly to their classes.

Strange Customs In CSTC's Past

During the fifty years which have passed since CSTC first made its appearance as a Normal school, many strange customs have held sway here.

For instance, hazing was a popular sport among CSTC's early students. Any class officer and all debaters were in constant danger of life and limb. For some unknown reason, the president of the Sophomore class was a favorite subject for this pastime.

Much Class Rivalry

It was common practice for the Juniors to attempt to kidnap the sophomore president on the evening of the class banquet. Many hair raising escapes can be told about these early pupils. Once the intended victim escaped his pursuers by dressing as a woman and walking down the street between two members of the faculty, who were puzzled to see the strange young lady. Another less fortunate spent a long night in the cemetery, where his played classmates had left him, after first binding him hand and foot.

The Junior class always considered itself the ruler of the room but this title was disputed smartly by the seniors. Each of these two rival classes was anxious to prove its supremacy by nailing its flag to the pole on the roof of the college.

After one class had raised its flag, the other class would tear it down and put their banner up in its place. One night a group of Juniors who were busy nailing down the hat leading to the roof were trapped by the police, who mistook them for prowlers!

Juniors Gain

The Juniors gained a point in their favor when they managed to print the word JUNIORS in large letters on the skylight above the library. This, naturally, was more than the seniors could stand, and a group of them reached the roof in a moment. After reaching the roof, a few Seniors discouraged the ardent Juniors from mounting the ladder leading to the roof by the simple method of stamping on their hands, while the rest of the committee removed the offending word.

Debating contests occupied an important place in CSTC's early days. Despite the hazing debaters had to undergo, everyone wanted to be on the debating team. The Oshkosh-Point Junior debate was an event of the greatest importance. The enthusiasm and the excitement of the students could be satisfied only by going to the debate on a special train or by meeting the returning train and carrying the victorious debaters away on their shoulders. Of course, CSTC always beat Oshkosh! Another debate of importance was one sponsored by the Athenaeum and the Y. M. C. A., two literary clubs for men. These clubs were very serious but occasionally they tangled horns over such a question as: "Resolved, that Billy Dineen should have his hair cut, since it is both unsanitary and a blemish to the landscape."

Rabid Athletic Spirit

Athletic events also flopped the college with enthusiasm. It was the custom on the evening before a game for the students to parade around town, stopping at the home of any college professor to serenade him or to ask for a speech.

The seniors would sometimes "treat" the juniors to a Hallowe'en party. One of the high spots of the party was a trip to Hades. In order to get there the unfortunate guests had to cross the river Styx (made of dumbbells) while the dancing imps who laughed at them and the electric bulbs which burst all around them added to their enjoyment.

Another important social event of the year was the fair and supper held in the fall for the purpose of raising money for the athletic department. A minstrel show was always an important part of the fair, which also included booths and side shows of various kinds.

Gradually the fair and supper was replaced by the Mardi Gras which was the year was the fair and supper replaced by the Mardi Gras which was always one of the people they had to say they were part of the people they watched!

Furthermore it is rumored that a mailbox hidden on the campus played an important part in the romance of our present dean! Wonder what he would have said if he had known that his mail was intercepted several times by his classmates!

Name Cottage For Late President

The Sims Cottage is named in honor of the late President John F. Sims. In 1912 he was instrumental in getting appropriations from the state legislature for the building of this home economics cottage which is one of the first of its kind to be built in the United States.

The cottage was completed in 1914. Each side consists of six rooms including a living room, dining room, kitchen, three bed rooms, linen closet, bathroom, halls, closets, laundry, basement and attic.

The director of the Home Economics department, Miss Bessie May Allen, is the resident supervisor. Four girls in this department live in each half of the house for a semester and really "keep house." They pay board, but no rent, and this board money furnishes the budget to cover all expenses. It gives them an opportunity to experiment with the principles of homemaking and prove their skills as housekeepers.

Early POINTER
Differed Radically

In December, 1895, the POINTER appeared for the first time. It was called the NORMAL POINTER, and in appearance as well as in content it differed radically from the paper you are now holding in your hand.

The first part of the paper was given over to literary efforts. "The Angel of Mercy", "My Window Garden" and a poem called "The New Year" are examples of the compositions included in this division.

Do Research

Under local items an interesting account can be read of an investigation being carried on by Professor Sylvester and Miss Crawford in an effort to find the perfect chair for school children.

General news tells us that the stuffed animal collection now in the Rural Assembly began during 1895 with the purchase of 120 birds and 50 or 60 mammals from Milton college.

The football season for 1895, one of CSTC's first athletic seasons, included three victories and one defeat; the last game being dropped to CSTC's old rival, Whitewater.

First POINTER Out

The editorial staff for this first POINTER included: Jay S. Hamilton, editor in chief; Margaret Ashman, literary editor; Elizabeth Jones, executive editor; John T. Clemens, local editor; Leslie S. Everts, athletic editor; H. L. Gardner, business manager; Florence A. Pray and E. F. Priest, assistant business managers.

Miss Ashman, the literary editor, since became famous as a novelist. She wrote a series of books for girls about college life which obviously centered around the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Adventures Use

Among the advertisements that appeared in this first POINTER were those for Taylor's, Arenberg's and McCulloch's. All three of these firms have continued to advertise in the POINTER to the present time.

Although the POINTER has changed completely in both appearance and style since 1895, much success is due to the firm foundations laid in those early years.

Lucille Wishlinski
Head The Tau Game

Officers of Tau Gamma Beta sorority for the first semester of next year were installed at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. William C. Hansen, patroness, on Tuesday night. Lucille Wishlinski is the new president; Joyce Ruthke, vice-president; Doreen Short, recording secretary; Dolores Rondeau, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Davids, treasurer; Grace Lepak, assistant treasurer; Jeannie Cantanach, historian; Margaret Johnson, press representative; Joan Joosten, Pan Hellenic representative.

A feature of the meeting was the showing of movies taken during pledging this semester. A movie on Wisconsin was also shown. Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting; Miss Helen Meston, adviser, poured.

From Major General Aurand to the women of Central State Teachers College

I know how close the war has come to you.

The young college women of America understand the origins of this war and the vicious nature of the enemy. More than that, you understand what sacrifice is demanded to win the war. You have watched college classes dwindle as more and more young men were needed to fight. It is important to you, it is important to all America that these men return as quickly as possible.

When I tell you that your eager minds and skillful hands can do something real about speeding the soldiers' victorious return, I know you will take the opportunity.

Yes, those soldiers need your help. The Army needs your contribution to its full fighting strength.

Henry S. Aurand
Major General, U. S. Army
6th Service Command, Commanding.
