

Blood Donors Pledged; Students Asked To Enroll

CSTC has pledged 70 blood donors for the Red Cross Mobile unit which will be here October 16-19 at St. Peter's Auditorium. Thirty-five people are to go on Monday, October 16, at 4 p.m. and 35 people are to go on Wednesday, October 18, at the same time. The college bus will furnish transportation.

Students who wish to be included in one of these groups must register with Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner before 4 p.m. Thursday, October 5. Students who are not 21 years old should bring parent's permit blanks with them as they register. These blanks can be secured at the main office. Faculty members should register at the main office.

The college feels certain that 70 students and faculty members will be able to give blood, so it has secured this convenient block of time for their use. A pint of blood is not much to give when one thinks for a moment of the boys who are giving their lives over sea.

Who knows? Perhaps your pint will save the life of some fellow who sat beside you in class or drank a coke with you over at the Eat Shop. Register with Mrs. Pfiffner today!

Men Will Sing Again

Twenty young men answered Norman E. Knutzen's appeal for a Men's Glee club last Monday. Mr. Knutzen rehearsed the group for the first time that afternoon and has made tentative plans for further meetings.

"After a silence of two years," commented Mr. Knutzen, "it was grand to hear a vigorous chorus of male voices again."

Peds Reveal Secret of Earning A Million

CSTC's faculty members didn't always draw teachers' salaries. They earned their first money in various interesting and maybe more lucrative ways! For example—

President William C. Hansen earned his first money in Withee in the year of 1900. While he and a friend were examining a steam driven automobile, they were asked by the driver to bring two pails of water and pour them into the car. The boys were given a dime for their labor.

Dean Herbert Steiner built the fires in a small country school house every morning. Even then, you see, Dean Steiner was interested in schools.

Like all small boys Dr. Arthur S. Lyness wanted money to spend at the fourth of July celebrations. He earned it by hoeing potatoes at a penny a row.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner earned $40 a month working with her father in a small country bank.

Dr. Harold M. Tolo, when about

Former Sea Bee Will Lecture October 9

On October 9 the Talk of The Hour club is holding its last lecture of the season. Henry M. Hedges, an engineer in the SeaBees will give a talk about the Island of Bora Bora, illustrated with beautiful colored films. Until the SeaBees came, Mr. Hedges and his wife were the only white people on this island paradise.

The material presented by Mr. Hedges will undoubtedly be of great interest to college students. A poll will be taken at this meeting to determine whether or not the Talk of The Hour club will be continued. All persons interested are urged to attend.

NOTICE!

Students interested in signing up for a Home Nursing Course should see Nurse Mary Neuberger at once. The purpose of this course is to give instruction in the care of the sick in their own homes during the present emergency.

Speaker To Lecture On Indian Life

"Indians As We Have Not Known Them" will be the subject of a talk by Mrs. Angus J. Lookaround of Shawano, Wisconsin, in the regular assembly period on Thursday, October 5.

Mrs. Lookaround, a white woman, who is the wife of an Indian, will be dressed in full Indian costume for this program. She will have with her copies of two books she has written, one of which is Talking Waters, a collection of lyric poems about Indian life. Any students who wish to buy copies of either of the books may do so at the assembly and have them autographed by Mrs. Lookaround.

eight years of age, trapped muskrats in Central Minnesota, on his two and one-half mile hike to country school. He received twelve cents each for muskrat hides and five cents for a pocket gopher. Too bad some of CSTC's students can't go trapping on the way to school.

Miss May Roach, as a school girl, hurried home every night to pick up the potatoes that her father had dug during the day. Her wages were a penny a bushel, and she saved the money for Christmas presents.

Miss Gertie Hanson combined business with pleasure. As the oldest in the family it was her privilege to ride on the hay. For driving and stamping it down she received a penny a load.

Leland M. Burroughs helped pay his way through college by planting and harvesting 20 acres of wheat.

When Peter J. Michelsen was 12 years old he played in an orchestra at a banquet in Norway. He earned seven crowns which is equivalent to $1.75.

Student Council Elections Will Be Held Thursday

Teachers Will Meet Friday At Wausau

The thirty-second annual convention of the Central Wisconsin Teachers association will be held this Friday in the Central school auditorium at Wausau High. High lighting the morning program will be a lecture on "How Shall We Treat the Germans after Defeat?" by Emil Ludwig, well-known lecturer and biographer. Mr. Ludwig is regarded by many as the greatest living German-born writer. He is declared to be the foremost lecturer on post-war planning in America today.

Dr. Clark Kuebler, president of Ripon college, will talk on "Educational Imperatives for the Post-War Period."

Stevens Point participation in the program includes an opening concert by the Stevens Point High School Band directed by Herbert L. Rehfeldt, a report on the Committee on Resolutions by Chairman Wm. C. Hansen, president of CSTC, and recognition of life members by Frank S. Hyer, former president of CSTC.

In addition to President Hansen are Norman E. Knutzen, who is on the Executive committee, and Dr. Harold M. Tolo, a member of the Committee on Nominations.

School will be closed on Friday in order that faculty members may attend the convention.

Junior High Elects Officers For Year

All classes at the Training School Junior high have completed their organizations and made plans for the semester. Seventh grade president is Carl Wieman; vice-president, Eunice Behr; secretary, Alfred Wegner; and treasurer, Dorothy Entz-minger. Richard Wiener and Sally Scribner are representatives to the Student Council. Robert S. Lewis is faculty adviser.

Carol Woodford is president of the eighth grade, with vice-president, Don Bloebaum; secretary, Jean Ann Hull; treasurer, Don Marquard; Darrell Benson and Norma Entz-minger are representatives to the council. Burton R. Pierce is adviser of the eighth grade.

In the ninth grade Hugh Brown was elected president, Jim Coleman is secretary-treasurer and Jim Goetz is representative to the council. Mrs. Edith Cutnaw is adviser.

The Student Council has Bertram Davies as president and Robert Krubsack as vice-president. The secretary is James Briselden and the treasurer is Jane Moe. Two members of the Student Council are elected by each grade.

Candidates Announced For Classes, Divisions

Elections for Student Council will be held on Thursday, October 5, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. The election booth will be on the second floor outside the auditorium.

The candidates for Student Council are: Senior class, Jeanie Glenzer, Irene Mork and Rose Marie Howes; Junior class, Alice Klake, Edward Nigbor and Ameno Warden; Sophomore class, Arlene Sicklinger; Freshman class, Lorraine Peters, Robert Cashin, Naomi Barthels, Delores Jelinek, Harold Bemowski and Patricia Nelson.

Primary Division, Jackie Bregger and Lucille Dunn; Intermediate, Marion Grossman; Rural State-Grade, Helen Braatz; Secondary, Margaret Johnson.

Names May Be Added

The number of representatives elected from each class should total four. Since the number of candidates from the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes is insufficient, students may write on the ballots the names of candidates whose nomination papers have not been filed.

Students are urged to be sure to cast their votes in the coming elections. The Student Council presents an opportunity for every one to participate in school government. Active support of the Council now, when the school year is just beginning, means a successful year for the Council and an enjoyable one for the student body.

Basketball Games Scheduled Again

Because of the small number of men enrolled there will be no college football games at Central State this year. However, there will be a number of basketball games scheduled with nearby schools. George R. Berg, athletic director, has plans for several intra-mural sports events also.

Plans are being formulated for a number of basketball games with schools in this area. These games will not be official, however, and will not be recorded on the books. Many of the college men are in the armed forces reserves, but Mr. Berg hopes to hold the nucleus of a team for the season.

In the near future there will be a tennis singles tournament for all college men. Following this there will be a football tournament. This tournament will consist of two parts, kicking and passing. All men interested in these events should contact Mr. Berg as soon as possible. They may sign up on the bulletin board in the hall outside the athletic office.

As other contests are organized they will be announced in the Pointer or weekly college calendar.

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year. Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

What does this cool, crisp autumn weather remind you of? Football? That's what we thought. It takes us back to a few years ago when football was in full swing at CSTC.

My, my, just look at the football material among the Freshmen. Cheer up, kids, better days are coming. Anyway, you now can concentrate on your studies and be content with your daily gym classes.

From all reports, the reception was a great success. However, we girls are somewhat disappointed. Imagine, all the men dressed in their zoot suits and huddled together in one little corner.

And another thing, with the man shortage the way it is, it just "ain't" fair for two men to escort one girl home. That's what happened to Jessie Rustad, but we never did hear which one was the winner.

Roses to the faculty for their idea of wearing name cards at the reception. It certainly was a great help in getting acquainted.

As a result of the reception, Eleanor Ofstun was pretty much rushed over the week-end. He is a freshman named Don Jersey.

Guess what? The first "campus" of the year occurred Sunday night when Joan Kelley got home two minutes late. This is another reminder of the "good ol' days." Now, Paul, you had better not do that too often. By the way, Paul Pasternacki was examined and licensed as a Merchant Marine deck officer recently. He was commissioned a Second Mate (Lieut. S. G.) aboard specific types of merchant marine vessels. He is rated as a cadet-seaman until completion of essential college credits here. Paul is a former Army Reserve Officer.

Are you all eating lots of liver to build up your hemoglobin? And be sure to tip the scales at 110, or you won't be able to be a blood donor.

We were mighty glad to see Jack Washatka home from the South Pacific. We won't try to express Barb Felker's feelings upon seeing him.

With tryouts for "The Bride Wore Red Pyjamas," well under way, we imagine that Mr. Jenkins is combing the town for red "p.j.s." What do the sales clerks say, Professor?

That old bell is just about to ring for our next class, so we "gotta" scam.

'Bye now. See you next week.

per" (late permission to you) every week, provided our academic work is up to standard. The girls have a choice of either Wednesday or Sunday evening.

Tuesday, September 26. This evening the dinner was served family style, much to the discomfort of many girls who were not quite up on the finer points of being a good hostess. The hostess list for this week is: Betty Furstenberg, Ellen Gordon, Marion Grossman, Edythe Ofstun, Marion Hemmrich, Shirlee Tobias, Dolores Rondeau, Mary Ann Hotvdt, Kathryn Kenney, and Arlene Lloyd.

Wednesday, September 27. We can thank Mary Lou Hutchins for the funniest thing that happened today. She stayed out ten minutes into her "late per" just to get the feel of having one.

Thursday, September 28. We had a party tonight for all the September birthdays. The birthday table was a picture done in yellow tapers, bronze dahlias, white linen, and of course, the cake. Incidentally, girls, you have tasted Tomato Soup Cake. Good, isn't it?

Lucille Lemsky, Mavis' Dumdei, Geraldine Walters, Alice Klake, Betty Furstenberg, Joan Kelley, Bernadine Peterson, Shirlee Tobias, Buclah McConley and Eileen Leiby were our birthday girls.

Strange Customs In CSTC'S Past

A romantic spot that did much to further CSTC's budding romances was the stone quarry behind the old Normal school. The quarry was surrounded with trees and filled with buttercup flowers. This was the spot where coeds would repose while their boyfriends hitched their horses to the tree limbs which overhung the streets.

Another interesting and romantic custom took place after school dances, when the unattached students would rush gleefully to the window at the end of the first floor hall to watch the "sparking" couples walk down Normal Avenue. When someone mentioned this little item to Mr. Steiner recently, he laughed and remarked: "Maybe some of the students did that, but I didn't! I was always one of the people they watched!"

Furthermore it is rumored that a mailbox hidden on the campus played an important part in the romance of our present dean! Wonder what he would have said if he had known that his mail was intercepted several times by his classmates!

Debating contests occupied an important place in CSTC's early history. A debate of great importance was once sponsored by the Athenaeum and the Forum, two literary clubs for men. These clubs were very serious but occasionally they tangled horns over such a question as: "Resolved that Billy Dineen should have his hair cut, since it is both unsanitary and a blemish to the landscape."

ways a flurry (?) of dust mops and dust pans. We do admit, however, our rooms would never pass a GI inspection. Some of us have to do a hurry-up job to finish before the four o'clock deadline.

There wasn't any "Stormy Weather" today, but Shirley Haskins sings it very convincingly. And Boogie-woogie! Come over to dinner sometime and hear for yourself.

Sunday, October 1. The girls at Nelson Hall held open-house this afternoon. Tea was served from three o'clock until five o'clock. Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, Miss May Roach, Miss Susan Colman and Mrs. William C. Hansen poured.

The guests were shown Nelson Hall from the third floor to the laundry. Many of the faculty members saw, for the first time, how the college women really live at Nelson Hall. All morning the girls were busy rolling tiny sandwiches and tying them with colored ribbons. Other girls arranged the baskets of dahlias which were placed in the living room.

Review History Of Central State

The Pointer made its first appearance in December, 1895. It was then called the NORMAL POINTER, and was given over to literary attempts rather than news.

The west wing was added in 1900. This addition gave the school a lot of new space. It provided a second assembly room, new quarters for the art department and the model department. The domestic science course was started in 1902.

The building which is now the College Eat Shop came five years after the school.

The first Iris was published in 1901. It had 95 pages which were made up mainly of pictures and titles.

John F. Sims became president in 1905. The Orthman Demonstration school was built during his presidency. He was instrumental in getting appropriations from the state legislature for the building, which was the first of its kind in the United States.

Among the early students, hazing was very popular. It was practiced particularly on the class officers and the debaters, and the president of the Sophomore class was a favorite subject.

In 1908 the first summer session began. In 1912 the "Country School" (See HISTORY OF CSTC, page 4)

Are you afraid to donate blood? College students who have done so say that it isn't painful at all. Read what some of them have to say:

Dolores Rondeau: I felt fine — no ill effects at all. I'm going to give another pint.

Dorothy Radtke: Taking the blood didn't hurt at all. The only thing that hurt was pricking my finger to get a sample of blood. I am anxious to go again.

Irene Ludwig: It didn't hurt at all and you feel so grand afterwards to think that you did something to help our boys overseas.

Arlene Semanko: I felt fine. Went shopping all afternoon and didn't feel bad at all.

Lucille Vaughan: I felt rather light-headed at first, but about 15 minutes later, I felt fine.

Anne Kelly: There's nothing to be afraid of. The blood test beforehand hurt more than the actual giving. I fainted afterwards, but it was just from fright.

Irene Mork: It didn't hurt a bit. All the while I was giving mine, I was wondering if maybe someone like General Patton or Eisenhower would get my blood!

Sigma Tau Elects

Irene Ludwig was elected president of Sigma Tau Delta at a meeting held last Wednesday evening in the Student Union room. Other officers elected are: Florence Flugaur, vice-president, Edythe Ofstun, treasurer, and Janet Good, historian.

Dates for future meetings were set tentatively and programs were planned. After the business meeting, Norman E. Knutzen entertained the group with humorous readings from a group of poems in the Scandinavian dialect.

Dorm Diary

Sunday, September 24. We had company for dinner this noon. Two former 97th Air Corps students took advantage of our open-door policy. Mike Godish and Bernard Hanson from Camp McCoy were very special guests. After all, they are men!

Mrs. Bea Crosby came as a guest of Mrs. Ethel Hetzer. Pat Brooks, now a Cadet Nurse at Marquette University, spent the weekend with Mary Murphy, and Betty Ruth Crawford entertained her sister, Olive Crawford, a CSTC alumni, who is teaching at Tigerton.

Speaking of sisters, there are several sisters of former Dormites and students here. Doris Ockerlander, Dorothy Loberg, Kay Prey, Antoinette Tushinski and Eleanor Ofstun are among them.

Monday, September 25. This is a great day of rejoicing for the Juniors and Seniors. The faculty housing committee has granted us a "late

Home Ecs Meet

The girls at Sims Cottage were hostesses to the Home Ec club on Monday evening, October 2. At the club business meeting, Arlene Semanko was elected vice-president and Bernadine Peterson was chosen press representative. Other officers are Gertrude Heike, president, Dolores Rondeau, secretary, and Bess Jones, treasurer.

Appointments for committees for the year were read by the president. These are: Program committee, Hilda Buchholz, chairman, Mary Asenbrenner and Arlene Semanko; Social committee, Betty Haberkorn, chairman, Doreen Short, Helen Wiczorek, Catherine Firkus and Doris Ocklerlander.

After the business meeting, group singing was led by Dolores Rondeau with Margaret Johnson as accompanist.

WAA Plans Outing

Come one, come all! There's going to be a great BIG WAA picnic today. Every college woman is invited to come out and gather in a little fresh October air. Just meet at the east entrance at 4:30. Don't forget now—that's TODAY.

Morning Worship Told

When Gamma Delta met Sunday evening, October 1, at St. Paul's Lutheran church, the meaning of the morning worship was explained to the group by Rev. W. F. Ludwig.

Plans are being made for a social, in which Reverend Hahn of the Synodical Student Welfare Committee will be the guest of Gamma Delta members.

Make Plans For Picnic

Plans for a picnic to be held on Monday, October 9, at the Community Lodge at Iverson park from 4:30 to 7 p.m., were made at a meeting of the Primary Council held last Monday evening. Geraldine Walters is the chairman of the committee in charge of this event.

Several members of the Primary Council volunteered to help distribute Junior Red Cross enrollment material among the grade schools of the city.

Primary Council has 27 members this year. While only upper classmen are eligible to become members of the Council, Freshmen who plan on entering the Primary department are invited to attend the meetings.

Glee Club Elects

This fall the following members were elected for the administration of the Glee club: president, Eulah Walter; vice-president, Joyce Rathke; secretary, Joan Joosten; treasurer, Marjorie Stimm; business manager, Irene Ludwig.

SIGMA ZETANS!

All active members of Sigma Zeta are invited to attend an organization meeting to be held today (Wednesday) at four o'clock in Room 103.

Junior High Boys To Play Football

Bob Krubsack, Lowell Viertel, Don Marquard, Billy Sanks and Don La Brie of the Junior High Department of the College Training school have been asked to play with the freshmen football team of P. J. Jacobs High school. Coach Rebholtz saw these boys in one of the inter-class games scheduled at the Junior High and invited them to play with his freshies.

Bob Krubsack will play tackle; Lowell Viertel, guard; Billy Sanks, half-back; Don Marquard, half-back; and Don La Brie, quarter-back.

Teachers' Training Course" was introduced.

One of the important social events of the year was the fair and supper held for the purpose of raising money for the athletic department.

The east wing was built in 1914. The training school was built in 1917. In 1926 Dr. Robert D. Baldwin became president and was succeeded by Frank S. Hyer in 1930. More recent presidents are Phillip F. Falk, Ernest T. Smith, and William C. Hansen.

Nelson Hall was opened in September of 1917. During the fall of 1918 it housed soldiers of the Student Army Training Corps instead of college girls. After that Nelson Hall became the home for college girls again until last year when it was again taken over by soldiers who were stationed in Stevens Point.

Schmeckle Field, named in honor of Fred J. Schmeckle, was undertaken by the athletic committee of the college in 1932.

Have a "Coke" = Welcome back

... or giving a returned soldier a taste of home

There's an easy way to make a soldier on furlough feel right at home. It's to offer him refreshing Coca-Cola. Have a "Coke" is always the hospitable thing to say. In many lands overseas, as in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, —has become a happy symbol of hospitality, at home as everywhere else.
