Blood Donors Pledged; Students Asked To Enroll

CSTC has pledged 70 blood donors for the Red Cross Mobile unit which will be stationed at St. Peter’s Auditorium. Thirty-five people are to go on Monday, October 16, at 4 p.m. and 35 people are to go on Wednesday, October 18, at the same time. The college bus will furnish transportation.

Students who wish to be included in one of the group outings should bring blanks with them as they register. These blanks can be secured at the main office. Faculty members should register beforehand.

The college feels certain that 70 students and faculty members will be able to give blood, so it has secured this convenient block of time for their use. A pint of blood is not too much to give when one thinks for a moment of the boys who are giving their lives over to their country. Perhaps your pint will save the life of some fellow who sat beside you in class or drank a coke with you over at the Eat Shop. Register with Mrs. Pfiffner today!

Men Will Sing Again

Twenty young men answered Norman E. Knutzen’s appeal for a Men’s Glee club last Monday. Mr. Knutzen rehearsed the group for the first time that afternoon and has made tentative plans for further meetings.

“A new silence of two years,” commented Mr. Knutzen, “it was grand to hear a vigorous response. I feel sure the first time that after noon and has made tentative plans for further meetings.

Speaker To Lecture On Indian Life

“Indians As We Have Not Known Them” will be the subject of a talk by Mrs. Angus J. Lookaround of Shawano. The program will be open to the assembly period on Thursday, October 5.

Mrs. Lookaround, a white woman, who is the wife of an Indian, will be dressed in full Indian costume for this program. She will have with her copies of two books she has written, one of which is Talking Waters, a collection of lyric poems about Indian life. Any students who wish to buy copies of either of the books may do so at the assembly and have them autographed by Mrs. Lookaround.

Peds Reveal Secret of Earning A Million

CSTC’s faculty members didn’t always draw teachers’ salaries. They earned their first money in various interesting and maybe more lucrative ways! For example:

President William C. Hansen earned his first money in Withee in the year of 1900. While he and a friend were examining a steam driven automobile, they asked the driver to bring two pails of water and pour them into the car. The boys were given a dime for their labor.

Dean Herbert Steiner built the fires in a small Wisconsin country school house every morning. Even then, you see, Dean Steiner was interested in schools.

Like all small boys Dr. Arthur S. Lookaround used money to spend at the fourth of July celebrations. He earned it by hoeing potatoes at a penny a row.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner earned $40 a month working with her father in a small country bank.

Dr. Harold M. Tolo, when about eight years of age, trapped muskrats in Central Minnesota, on his two-acre farm and one-half mile hike to country school. He received twelve cents each for muskrat hides and five cents for a pocket gopher. Too bad some of CSTC’s students can’t go trapping on the way to school.

Miss May Roach, as a school girl, hurried home every night to pick up the potatoes that her father had dug during the day. Her wages were a penny a bushel, and she saved the money for Christmas presents.

Miss Gertie Hanson combined business with pleasure. As the oldest in the family, it was her privilege to ride on the hay. For driving and stamping it down she received a penny a load.

Mr. Leland M. Burroughs helped pay his way through college by planting and harvesting 20 acres of wheat.

When Peter J. Michelsen was 12 years old he played in an orchestra at a banquet in Norway. He earned seven crowns which is equivalent to $1.75.

Student Council Elections Will Be Held Thursday

Teachers Will Meet Friday At Wausau

The thirty-second annual convention of the Central Wisconsin Teachers association will be held this Friday in the Central school auditorium at Wausau High. High lighting the morning program will be a lecture on “How Shall We Treat the German Men After Defeat?” by Emil Ludwig, well-known lecturer and biographer. Mr. Ludwig is regarded by many as the greatest living German-born writer. He is declared to be the foremost lecturer on post-war planning in America today.

Dr. Clark Kuebler, president of Ripon college, will talk on “Education for the Post-War Period.”

Stevens Point participation in the program includes an opening concert by the Stevens Point High School Band directed by Herbert L. Rehfeldt, a report on the Committee on Resolutions by Chairman Wm. C. Hansen, president of CSTC, and the recognition of life members by Frank S. Hyer, former president of CSTC.

In addition to President Hansen are Norman E. Knutzen, who is on the Executive committee, and Dr. Harold M. Tolo, a member of the Committee on Nominations.

School will be closed on Friday in order that faculty members may attend the convention.

In the ninth grade Hugh Brown was elected president, Jim Coleman secretary-treasurer, and Jim Goetz is representative to the council. Mrs. Edith Cutnaw is adviser.

The Student Council has Bertram Davies as president and Robert Krubschie as vice-president. Secretary is James Brielsen and the treasurer is Jane Moe. Two members of the Student Council are elected by each grade.

Basketball Games Scheduled Again

Because of the small number of men available, the number of college football games at Central State this year. However, there will be a number of basketball games scheduled with schools which are not members of the eight team sport. Bob Berg, athletic director, has plans for several intra-mural sports events also.

Plans are being formulated for a number of basketball games with schools in this area. These games will not be official, however, and will not be recorded on the books. Many of the college men are in the armed forces reserves, but Mr. Berg hopes to hold the nucleus of a team for next year.

In the near future there will be a tennis singles tournament for all college men. Following this there will be a tennis doubles tournament. This tournament will consist of two parts, picking and passing. All men interested in these events should contact Mr. Berg if possible. They may sign up on the bulletin board in the hall outside the athletic office.

As other contests are organized they will be announced in the Pointer or weekly college calendar.
Strange Customs
In CSTC's Past
A romantic spot that did much to further CSTC's budding romances was the stone quarry behind the old Normal school. The quarry was surrounded with many flowers. This was the spot where coeds would repose while their boyfriends hitched their horses to the tree limbs which overhung the water.

Another interesting and romantic custom took place after school dances, when the unattached female would rush gleefully to the window at the end of the first floor hall to watch the "sparkling" couples walk down Normal Avenue.

Debating contests occupied an important place in CSTC's early history. A debate of great importance was once sponsored by the Athenaeum and the Forum, two literary clubs for men. These clubs were very serious but occasionally they tangled over such a question, "Resolved that Billy Dineen should have his hair cut, since it is both unsanitary and a blemish to the landscape."

In 1902, the "Country School, was started" at the quarry. The girls at the school, were usually served family style, much to the discomfort of many women who were not quite up on the finer points of being a hostess. The hostess list for this week is: Betty Furstenburg, Ellen Gordon, Marion Grossman, Edythe Ofstun, Marion Hemmich, Shirley Tobias, Dolores Rondeau, Mary Ann Hotvedt, Kathryn Kenney, and Arlene Lloyd.

Tuesday, September 26. This week we served family style, much to the discomfort of many women who were not quite up on the finer points of being a hostess. The hostess list for this week is: Betty Furstenburg, Ellen Gordon, Marion Grossman, Edythe Ofstun, Marion Hemmich, Shirley Tobias, Dolores Rondeau, Mary Ann Hotvedt, Kathryn Kenney, and Arlene Lloyd.

Wednesday, September 27. We can thank Mary Lou Hutchins for the funniest thing that happened today. She stayed out ten minutes into the "Presentation" just to get the feel of having one.

Thursday, September 28. We had a party tonight for all the September birthdays. The birthday table was the picture done in yellow tapers, bronze dahlias, white linen, and of course the cake. Incidentally, girls, you have some tomato Soup Cake. Good, isn't it?

Lucille Lemsky, Mavis Dumdei, Geraldine Walters, Alice Klake, Betty Gurnberg, Joan Kelley, Betty Badenister, Shirley Tobias, Buelah McConley and Eileen Leiby were our birthday girls.

Review History of Central State

The Pointer made its first appearance in September, 1895. It was then called the NORMAL POINTER, and was given over to literary at- tempts rather than news. The printing was added in 1900. This addition gave the school a lot of new space. It provided a second assembly room, a music room, and a second science department. The Music school course was started in 1902. It was a period during which the College of Music School was built under his presidency.

Are you afraid to donate blood? College students who have done so say that it isn't painful at all. Read what some of them have to say:

Dorothy Radke: I felt fine...no ill effects at all. I'm going to give another pint.

Dorothy Radke: I felt fine. I didn't feel cold sweat, but about 15 minutes later, I felt fine. Went shopping after dinner and didn't feel bad at all.

Lucille Vaughan: I felt rather right-headed and felt a bit tired. After dinner sometime and hear for yourself.

Sunday, September 24. We had company dinner this noon. Two former 9th Air Corps students took advantage of our open-door policy. Mike Godish and Bernard Hanson from Camp McCoy were very special guests. After all, they are men!...Among the early students, hazing was a great success. However, we girls are somewhat disappointed. Imagine, all the men dressed in their zoot suits and huddled together in one little corner.

Another thing, with the thing humor of all the students, is the "non-majors" coming to the dinner. That's what happened to Jessie Rustad, but we never heard which one was the winner.

What does this cool, crisp autumn weather remind you of? Football? That's what we thought. It takes us back to a few years ago when football was in full swing at CSTC.

My, my, just look at the football material among the Freshmen. Cheer up, kids, better days are coming. Anyway, now you can concentrate on your studies and be content with the games played by the "major" seniors.

What do the sales clerks say, "How're you doing?" today, but Shirley Haskins tasted Tomato Soup Cake. Good, laundry. Many of the faculty members saw, for the first time, how the dormitory girls did a heavy laundry. It was done by the "major" seniors.

Teachers’ Training Course” was introduced.

One of the important social events of the year was the fair and supper held for the purpose of raising money for the athletic department.

The east wing was built in 1914. The training school was built in 1917. In 1920 Dr. Robert D. Baldwin became president and was succeeded by Frank S. Hyer in 1930. More recent presidents are Rev. F. Falk, Ernest T. Smith, and William C. Hansen.

Nelson Hall was opened in September of 1917. During the fall of 1918 it housed soldiers of the Student Army Training Corps instead of college girls. After that Nelson Hall became the home for college girls again until last year when it was again taken over by soldiers who were stationed in Stevens Point.

Schmeekle Field, named in honor of Fred J. Schmeekle, was under-taken by the athletic committee of the college in 1932.

Pointer Staff Chooses New Junior Reporters

Mary Frances Cutnaw and Jean Sydney Jackson have been added to the Pointer Staff as Training school correspondents. Mary Frances will cover Junior High News and Jean will report news from the first six grades.

Mary Frances, the daughter of Mrs. Edith Cutnaw, is 13 years old.

Primary Tea Given

The mothers of the children in the Primary Grades at the Training school were entertained at a tea Monday sponsored by Mrs. Mary Samter, Mrs. Mildred Williams, Miss Gladys Van Arsdale and the Seniors of the Primary department.

The purpose of the tea was to acquaint the parents with their children’s teachers, and to show them the surroundings in which they work.

Have a “Coke” = Welcome back

There’s an easy way to make a soldier feel right at home. It’s to offer him refreshing Coca-Cola. Have a “Coke” is always the hospitable thing to say in many lands overseas, as in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes — has become a happy symbol of hospitality, at home as everywhere else.
