Welcome Back,
Dean Steiner!

Mr. Steiner Returns
After An Operation

Students and faculty are welcome to welcome Dean Herbert R. Steiner back to CSTC. Shortly before Christmas vacation, Dean Steiner became a patient at St. Joseph's hospital in Marshfield where he underwent an operation on his left eye. While convalescing, he became ill with pneumonia and had to return to the hospital.

Mr. Steiner, who returned to his duties here at the beginning of this semester, has lost none of his cheerfulness and keenness. When asked by a Pointer reporter, for a statement on the press, he declared: "I think it is much easier to be back teaching than to lie in a hospital bed all day—even though I was waited on then! One thing I noticed about the school was that the faces I thought I knew pretty well look much better than when they did during my operation, when many things were just a blur.

"There isn't really a great deal I can say, but I'm tickled to death about the way every thing turned out. I'm very happy...maybe if I had both my eyes I would see too much."

Officers Installed

The following officers of Alpha Kappa Rho were installed for the second semester by the former vice-president, Joyce Rathke, at a meeting held at Peter J. Michaelson's home, on the evening of January 29. President, Irene Ludwig; vice-president, Estelle Behling; secretary, Dolores Air Power; treasurer, Joseph Kalina, Eugene Cholewinski and Alvin Kaziaik are returned from the University of Wisconsin. Elizabeth Pfiffern and Mildred Ross are in charge of the Alpha Kappa Rho, honor-fraternity.

Sympathy Extended

CSTC's students and faculty extend deep sympathy to Mrs. Edith Cutnaw in the loss of her son, Pfc. Kent Cutnaw, who lost his life on December 29 while aboard a transport that was torpedoed in European waters.

Honorary Fraternities Give Radio Programs

A new series of Radio Workshop programs is known as the ‘Hall of Hearts’. Each week, the programs will be sponsored by Alpha Kappa Rho, an honorary music fraternity. The theme is called, "Say It With Music," and presents the music of a different composer each week.

The second nine weeks will be sponsored by Sigma Tau Delta, the national honorary English fraternity. Plans for their programs have not yet been completed.

Rev. Davies Speaks

Reverend Bertram Davies spoke on 'The Bible As Literature' at a meeting of Sigma Tau Delta held in the student lounge on the evening of Wednesday, January 31. After Reverend Davies' talk, Edward Plank, an honorary member of Sigma Tau Delta, read a humorous article he recently had published called "The Confessions of a Long Haired Musician."

After the meeting, a light luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Leland M. Buehmann were host and hostess for the evening.

Memorial Books Are Received by Library

Through a memorial established in remembrance of A.C. William Winkler, an associate professor of mathematics for the years 1918-1940, a number of books have been added to CSTC's library. A.C. Winkler was killed in an automobile accident at Dover Field, Florida, where he was in training.

Fuller Patterson's "Flowers' Philosophy" is a book about one of us who love life most, the very ones who so keenly seek to live the fullest life possible, must take the long chances that in so many cases cut it short. Among the memorials are: Cervantes, Don Quixote De La Mancha; Curie, Madame; De Segeray, Victoria Through Air Power; De Voto, The Year of Decision, 1846; Forbes, Paul Revere; Shirer, Berlin Diary.

Delzell Reappointed

CSTC's regiment, Wilson S. Delzell, was reappointed to membership on the board of normal school regents on Wednesday, February 8. He served on the board for approximately six years, having been originally appointed to fill the term of the late George H. Martens in 1939. His new term will expire in February, 1950.

Owing to presence of sick students and family, the faculty and students much appreciate the fine work that Mr. Delzell has done for the school and are extremely pleased that he will continue as their regent.

New Students Enroll
For Semester's Work

Sixteen new students have enrolled in the State Teachers College for the second semester. They represent many towns, and a variety of previous occupations.

Three of the students are returning from Rosary College, Misses Bessie Lafayette, Misses Edna Carlsen, Sybille Mason, Leah Diehl and Bessey May Allen; invitations, Misses Gertie Henderson and Mildred Davis; program, Misses Rose Barber and Hyloyn Rockefeller. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Colman and Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffern.

Committees Chosen

Come looking as well as feeling like a valentine, and that includes anything from a fine lady to a comic bear. If you prefer not to dress up, get into your best party mood and come anyway. The following committees have prepared a wonderful time for all:

Entertainment, Misses Bessey Lafayette, Marie Swallow and Myrtle Spande; decorations, Misses Mary Samter, Misses Edna Carlsen, Sybilie Mason, Leah Diehl and Bessey May Allen; invitations, Misses Gertie Henderson and Mildred Davis; program, Misses Rose Barber and Hyloyn Rockefeller. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Colman and Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffern.

While the Pointer cannot give a detailed account of the party, the following committees have prepared a wonderful time for all:

Faculty Women to Sponsor
CSTC Valentine Party

All college students are cordially invited to attend the Valentine party to be held on Saturday, February 10, at 8 p.m. The party will be in the "Hall of Hecks", commonly known as the college gym. The party is sponsored by the faculty women, assisted by the social committee.

Initiation Is Held

Dr. G. M. Wessing of Wisconsin Rapids spoke at a meeting of Sigma Zeta on January 17. In his talk, "The Application of Physics in the Paper Industry," he explained laboratory tests used in paper production.

After this talk, formal and informal initiations were held. Roger McCallum and Edward Denk were initiated into membership. Bess Jones was accepted as an associate member. After the initiations a lunch of coffee and donuts was served in the Home Economic parlors.

The committee in charge of initiation was Patty Fuusterman, chair- man; Mary Ann Hotvedt and Mary Aasenbrener. Hilda Buchholz and Betty Habetz were in charge of the lunch.

Smith Will Lecture
At "Talk of the Hour"

Dean E. Smith, a keen American business man, who lived in the Far East for more than a quarter of a century, will speak in the college auditorium Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. He comes as the third speaker in the Talk of the Hour club series.

This native of Wisconsin has chosen for his subject "Burma, China, and the Far East." He had been in the Far East since 1915. Twenty years of this time he spent as manager for the Standard Oil Company of Burma. Mr. Smith was in Burma at the time the Japanese began the war of the Far East and was behind the British lines in January, February, and March of 1942. During the month of April, he was with the Chinese army and returned with the remnants of the British forces into India in May. He then came to the United States in July of 1942. He knows Burma, China, India, the East Indies, Singapore, and Malay intimately.

College students will be admitted to the lecture upon presentation of their activity tickets.
Dorm Diary

by Janet

Your writer scarcely knows where to begin after so long a lapse between issues. This is partly due to an overdraft of romanticism in the air here. As yet there are no coupons needed for that, only the second malarkey.

Mary Lou Hutchins had a grand time seeing Earl Packard, a former aviation student here. And we might add, Earl had a grand time visiting all his friends here at the dorm too. Of course Elvira Lindow really walked away with her reputation during these events, and she had another boost Sunday, when Rudy called her to say "hello".

That brings us to this week's mystery... Who sent that ring to Betty Furstenberg?

The beginning of the second semester has brought us several new dormmates. Jean Markee and Elizabeth McLaughlin have moved into the dorm. Mrs. Mary C. Dusen, Estelle Behling, Elizabeth Stadler, and Mrs. Frances Glaza are new students as well as new dormmates. They have been through the rigors of introductions, and we hope they feel at home now.

This second week into the new semester has also brought a particular favoritism to the mailman. He has been bringing those official-looking envelopes holding grades. Needless to say, there have been many surprises.

Sunday's snowstorm brought difficulties as well as fun to the girls.

Khaki Komments

It isn't every soldier who gets shipped to England and then gets put in the movies. That happened to Pvt. Ronnie Craig. Ronnie and his pals went down to Welwyn Studios in London to spend a minimum watching rehearsals for the picture "I Lived In Grosvenor Square," starring Anna Neagle and Dean Jagger. They needed some extra fellows to fill in for a dance scene, so Ronnie "corralled a slick-chick" and began to jitterbug.

Miss Neagle's partner couldn't "saddle up" just right, so after the first dance several of the dancers the producer asked Ronnie to try it, and he was really "in the groove". He said that it was really good and the scene was shot seven times before it was just right.

The dance was one in which the girl is tossed from the left knee to the right knee of her partner, between his legs and over his head. Ronnie had helped him do it for several times till the end of the lift. Miss Neagle weights about eight or nine stones (one stone equals 14 lbs.) so it was hard work. It was a very enjoyable work for Ronnie.

"Many thanks for the copy of the Pointer," Eldred Judd, now overseas, wrote in a recent letter. "I read it over so many times I think I have memorized it."

Leland Malchow, somewhere in England, has accumulated a great deal of material on the English rationing system. He would be glad to send some of it over, he declared in a letter received here, to express thanks for the Pointers that have been sent to him.

Sgt. and Mrs. Earl Siebert, stationed on San Antonio, Texas, recently announced the birth of their baby daughter, Sue Ann, on January 10, 1945. Little Miss Siebert weighs six pounds, six ounces. When Dr. Prince, this he declared, "beat him by two ounces!" Sgt. Siebert was editor of the Pointer in 1940-41 while the former Barbara Gerdes, also graduated this semester, was Editor-in-chief.

Pfc Jay Swett in debating where to spend a pass thought that Rome would be the best place. He hopes to get in touch with Fred Fink and Bill Nikolai.

To Receive Members

Dick Olk, Bernice Winn and Kay Hansen will be initiated into the College Theater at a meeting to be held Thursday, February 7, at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium.

The officers of College Theater are: Marjorie Stinem, president; Betty Good, vice-president; The Ofsun, secretary and Roger McCullough, production manager.

Three one-act plays will be presented on the evening of February 21 in the auditorium. These plays were written by students in Mr. Burroughs' class during the first semester of this year and will be directed by students. Two other student-written plays will be presented at assemblies later in the year. More information about these plays will appear in an early POINTER.

Student Opinion

To Whom It May Concern:

Segram grades were supposed to have been submitted by the 26th of February. I must wait another week to find out these same grades. Just what justification can be found for sending students' grades to parents? We are not the student who worked for those grades must wait a comparatively long period of time after he himself can know what progress he has made?

Are college students considered so juvenile that they cannot be trusted with their own work? Within the memory of all college students are old high school grades, and were not mailed to parents then. Are college students considered so juvenile that they cannot be trusted with their work?

L.S.A. Plans Radio Program
L.S.A. under the direction of Reverend C. Russell Johnson, began a study of the Book of Revelations at a meeting held February 1, in the girls' recreation room.

Plans were made for a radio program to be given in the near future, and a game of "Bible Lotto" was played.

At the next meeting, February 13, a brief service in preparation for "World Day of Prayer." Sunday, February 18, will be conducted. Each member is asked to bring a small donation for the occasion.

Vacancy Is Filled
Betty Brooks was elected vice-president of Primary Council at a meeting held last Monday evening.

Betty fills the vacancy left by Audrey Short, who became president of the Council following the resignation of the former president, Alice Breseke. Alice graduated at the end of the first semester, and is now teaching at West Bend.

Y.W.C.A. To Have Party
The members of the Y.W.C.A. are invited to attend a Valentine party to be held on Thursday evening, February 5, at 7:30 in the dorm recreation room. It will be a "Kid's Party" with the members dressed as little boys or girls.

TAU GAMMA CHOOSES OFFICERS
Joyce Ann Rathke was elected president of Tau Gamma Beta sorority at a meeting held recently at Sims cottage. The following officers were also elected: Nelda Dopp, vice-president; Bess Jones, recording secretary; Kay Hansen, corresponding secretary; Joan Joosten, press representative; Delores Rondeau, historian.

Presiding at the candlelight installation was Lucille Lee Wishinsky, outgoing president. The Jean Mailer scholarship pin was presented to Nelda Dopp by Irene Mork. Helen Lundgren was hostess for the evening.

Oral Reports Given
Bess Jones and Helen Weizerek gave oral reports on the "History of Home Economics" and "Home Economics and Education" at a short meeting of the Home Economics club held on Monday evening, February 5, at 7:30 in the student lounge.

Facts Learned About Stained Glass Window

Many students have been wondering for a long time about the significance of the large stained glass window at the end of the corridor on second floor. After much research, it has been learned that this window is a memorial tribute to Miss Alicia De Riemer, faculty member at CSTC from 1900-1903, who died while here. The window was purchased by funds jointly collected from the faculty and the students who were here at this time.

Miss De Riemer taught in CSTC’s Geography department. Besides her work in this field, she was also known for her musical talents and abilities. She was a skilled pianist and organist.

The window was first placed in an outside wall on the west side of the building. It has since been moved to the inner west wall of Charles C. Evans’ office where everyone can see the inner west wall of Charles C. Evans’ office where everyone can see the splendor of this beautiful stained glass memorial window.

Skip: Hop, do you know anything about Valentine parties? I heard some of our CSTC faculty women talking about one for next Saturday night.

Hop: Yes, I heard them, too. They talked about costumes and hearts, but in hushed tones. I understand that a very charming Queen of Hearts will be present with the Knave of Hearts. I wonder who they will be?

Skip: I wonder. They also said that on that night divided hearts shall become as one. Now what could they have meant by that? Hop: And did you hear about the “March of Hearts” and “tripping the light fantastic”? I’m sure something unique is being planned.

Skip: If what they say about the refreshments is true, there will be some tasty crumbs for us.

Hop: Yum! Yum! I’m going to take a heart in my beak and go in on a wing and a prayer. Are you coming, Skip?

Skip: It’s a date!

WESLEY TO HOLD PENNY FAIR

Have you any extra pennies that are just meant to bring you fun? Bring them along to the Penny Fair sponsored by Wesley Foundation on Thursday evening, February 15, which is being held at St. Paul’s Methodist Church. For anyone who wants enjoyment, there’ll be food, fun and entertainment.

Wesley Foundation hopes to see you there and will show you how to make a penny go a long way!
