Omega Mu Chi Entertains Rushees

Red carnation corsages were pinned on the rushees of Omega Mu Chi sorority as they were greeted Thursday evening at a party held at the home of Mrs. Earle Kidder, sorority patroness.

During the evening a musical charade and a quiz contest were conducted, and Elvira Lindow and Clarice Bergen were awarded prizes.

Lunch was served from a table decorated with a center piece of lighted flower candles floating in a crystal bowl of water and surrounded by a fan of red carnations, which were reflected in the bright glow in the mirror base. A small bouquet of red carnations flanked each side of the centerpiece, Shirley Tobias, president, poured.

Joyce Larson La Brot, alumna, gave a short informal talk. Other guests present were Ruth Michelsen Bentz, alumna; Mrs. Charles Cashin, a special guest on this occasion.

These books were constructed by the Handicraft class under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, will be rushed, guests included Mesdames Mason, and Mrs. Mary Samter, faculty adviser. Mrs. Coleman was a special guest on this occasion.

Scrapbooks Displayed In College Library

An attractive group of scrapbooks is now displayed in the reading room of the college library. These books were constructed by the Handicraft class under the supervision of Miss Edna Carlsten. A great variety of books and materials is evidenced in the books.

Some of them have gay chintz covers, others show the dainty pastels of flowered wallpaper, and while others have covers of beautifully polished wood. Many of them are decorated with clever designs.

This display is indicative of the fine work done by the art department. College students are invited to see the display in the library.

Students Urged To Give to Red Cross

To the students of CSTC:

The Red Cross War Fund drive is on this week. Every student here should make a contribution this year, no matter how small. A box for that purpose is at the information window of the Union.

If any student can manage to give one dollar to this cause, and there should be some who can, do not put it aside, but give it to Miss Rolffon and get an official receipt.

This is an opportunity to show just how willing we are to make a personal sacrifice in appreciation for the great ones that are being made for us each day.

Wm. C. Hansen, President

ATTENTION SENIORS

Commencement announcements were selected at a meeting of the senior class in the auditorium last Thursday morning. The announcement selected costs $1.00 per piece and must be ordered from Florence Flugaur, secretary, or before March 16. All orders must be paid for in advance. Orders for cards will not be taken by senior class officers but must be ordered the week, and at the moment school and its students by done the school and its students by

It seems that a service could be done the school and its students by moving this fine collection out where it can be seen. The third floor is partly vacant and might serve as a good place. At any rate, this matter seems worthy of consideration.

Senior High News

Elections for the second semester officers of the Mary D. Bradford Junior high were held recently. The following are the second semester candidates: President, James Samter; vice-president, Carl Wieeman; secretary, Carol Woodford; and treasurer, Eric Hedquist. These elections were directed by Robert S. Lewis.

The Junior High is now looking forward to one of its biggest events, the annual declamatory contests. The contest will consist of both humorous and serious declamations. A boy and girl winner have always been selected and their names are engraved on cups placed in the Training school library. For the past two years it has been impossible to obtain cups, however.

The two Junior high school teams have been playing lots of basketball of late. Freshmen and sophomore playing games were played. Training school seventh grade defeated St. Stephen's seventh by a score of 14 to 12. The M.D.B. girls team was defeated by St. Stephen's eighth by a score of 15 to 18.

At the beginning of the second semester, Jane Moe became editor of the Junior Pointer, a quarterly publication of the Mary D. Bradford Junior high school. Ann Gilfry is the assistant editor and Patricia Lorendale is the business manager. James Samter, last semester's editor, has transferred to the position of Correspondent.

The Dorm Diary by Janet

This is being written in Wausau this week, and at the moment school work in general seems comfortably distant. A weekend anywhere is recommended for folks who are tired of campus life.

This week, Lady Luck has been especially good to Nelson Hall girls. Alice Klake spent several delightful days in the company of an equally delightful man. Arlene Lloyd didn't sleep much Wednesday night because of a couple of phone calls from the direction of Salt Lake City. We understand April has taken on a new significant other. Only Vi hadn't been to bed yet. She seems just on reading 'forever' that night. And then two morning Anna Lang found a little mouse in her dresser drawer. He had evidently migrated up to the sleeping quarters.

We have our monthly fire drill at 3 a.m. Sunday morning... and just as that clunky alarm went off merrily up on the third floor.

The Dormites were hostesses to several guests the past weekend including Rose Marie Howes, who is teaching at Belknap and Ruth Miller, a guest of Elizabeth McLaughlin. Frances and Martha Miller, a guest of Elizabeth McLaughlin, were overnight guests the past weekend in one of its biggest events, the annual declamatory contests. The contest will consist of both humorous and serious declamations. A boy and girl winner have always been selected and their names are engraved on cups placed in the Training school library. For the past two years it has been impossible to obtain cups, however.

To Whom It May Concern:

In Room 208 on the second floor are several cases containing a large collection of rocks and minerals. These rocks and minerals are of interest to students of geography and would be of others.

However, in order to examine the specimens one must clamber over numerous boxes, chairs, etc. Provided, of course, that one even knows where they are. This is definitely a detraction of the observatory.

Wittich Addresses Practice Teachers

Dr. Walter Wittich, director of the Bureau of Visual Education at the University of Wisconsin, spoke last Monday to seniors teaching at the Training school on the subject of visual education in grade schools and in high school.

Illustrating his talk with several typical text films, Dr. Wittich declared that the text films should be used to bring into the classroom those experiences which are too vast or too minute for the teacher to present adequately.

Dr. Wittich pointed out that in order to get the most good from text films, the teacher must prepare the children to see the films just as carefully as she prepares them for a reading lesson.

There is a large library of text films available for rental at the University of Wisconsin, he said. These films are all of the best type, and when used correctly, they are of actual help to teachers.

Doris Ubbelohde presented a report on Russia's historical background at a meeting of Grammar Round Table held last Monday evening in the geography room. Following this, Misses Leah Diehl and Lydia Pfeiffer and the members of Grammar Round Table, with the aid of Charles F. Watson and Miss Gerrie Hanson, discussed Russia's present day government, war policies and possible post war plans.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, April 16. The topic for discussion will be announced at a later date.

BOYS SEEK

was pleading so tightly that there was danger of its being squashed before he could finish it. When his teacher showed him the proper way to hold the orange he sixed sadly and said, "Gee, I guess I'll never be a very good cook."

Aside from such minor blunders, the boys are making excellent progress. They are not guilty of the sins so common to some girls cooks. They are very neat, they wear no fingernail polish, their short hair is concealed beneath white caps, they do not gossip, and they are very strict about performing their own duties.

One of their favorite tasks is scouring the sink, and they are also fond of cleaning stoves.

The boys possess another quality very rare but valuable in a good cook. This is accuracy of measurement. Every teaspoon of flour must be level to the very last grain in order that the boys feel justified in expecting a perfect product.

Although they have no love for washing the cooking dishes and they think that dish washing is not a masculine skill, the boys have accepted the inevitable. What is more, they have shortened their labors by forming an assembly line. One boy clears and stacks the dishes, another washes, another wipes and still another puts them away. Thus the work is accomplished painlessly and in a relatively short time.

NOTICE
Every student who expects to receive either a diploma or a degree at the close of this semester is expected to come to the Records office as early as possible to file a written application for graduation. Cards will be provided for this purpose in the office.

CHRISTMAS FUND USED FOR SOCIAL SERVICE

For the past three years many members of the faculty have contributed the money that they would spend sending Christmas cards to other faculty members to a joint fund to be used for a social service fund. This year the money was deposited in a box placed at the information window, and the contributors signed their names to a slip of paper bearing the heading, "I chose to greet you this way. Merry Christmas!"

This manner of extending Christmas greetings was entirely voluntary and some people used other ways to extend their greetings.

This year the money collected, $22.75, has been turned over to Mrs. Mildred Williams, chairman of the faculty social committee, and will be used to purchase something for the Student Lounge.
