

Banquet Is Enjoyed By Pointer Staff

The club dining room at Hotel Whiting was the scene of a banquet Sunday evening for the 35 members of the Pointer staff and guests, the first of its kind to be held.

Table decorations were in purple and gold, the school colors of CSTC. The color scheme was attractively carried out in a bouquet of purple and gold flowers, and gold tapers decorated at the base with purple. Placecards for the guests were miniature booklets in purple and gold representing bound copies of the Pointer. Staff members found their places by means of tiny black and white Pointers bearing their names.

Speeches Are Given

After dinner speeches were given by Miss May Roach of the college faculty, Florence Flugaur, editor of the Pointer, Doris Ubbelohde, newly chosen editor of the Pointer for 1945-46, Eulah Walter, newly appointed business manager, James Samter, Junior High school reporter for the Pointer, Miss Bertha Glennon and Raymond M. Rightsell, faculty advisors. Edythe Ofstun, composition editor of the Pointer, acted as toastmistress.

Two solos, "Gypsy Love Song" and "When You Look In the Heart of a Rose" were sung by Mary Juetten, typist on the Pointer staff. Mary Ann Hotvedt, Pointer business manager, played two solos, Grieg's "Wedding Day at Troldhaugen" and "With Lofty Stride". Mary Ann acted as accompanist for Mary Juetten.

President William C. Hansen, who was unable to attend the dinner sent his greetings to the staff by means of a letter which was read by Florence Flugaur. President Hansen said in part:

Gowns are Modeled At Annual Style Show

Lovely spring clothes were worn by the nine models at the annual style show presented by Omega Mu Chi sorority on Tuesday evening in the college auditorium. Over 100 people attended the card party which followed in the college gymnasium. Prizes were awarded the winners in auction and contract bridge, 500 and pinochle. Refreshments were served to conclude the evening's entertainment.

The models were Betty Brooks, Betty Pohlman, Marge Stimm, Betty Jean Hougum, Dorothy Jenkins, Janet Benn, Clarice Bergen, Dolores Schulist and Janice Milton. The clothes were furnished by Stevens Apparel Shop.

The general chairman of the card party was Ellen Gordon, and Marge Stimm was chairman of the style show. Kay Hope announced for the style show. Dick Olk and Roger McCallum helped with the technical production.

Former CSTC Student Killed in Action

T/5 Joe K. Goodrich, CSTC 1938-1942, was killed in action on Luzon in the Philippines on April 8. While attending CSTC Joe was very popular among students and faculty members here. He was a sport enthusiast and a member of the college football team.

He had been wounded by shrapnel in the back, neck, and hand, in December, 1944, at Ormoc Bay in the Philippines. He recovered in three weeks from the wounds received in that battle, for which his outfit received a presidential citation. He also had been awarded the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantry badge.

Joe participated in the Munday Bay, Sador, Aitape and Morotai campaigns in the south Pacific before going to the Philippines.

Hardware Chorus To Present Concert

The Hardware chorus, under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen, will present a concert in the college auditorium at 8:15 o'clock on the evening of Wednesday, May 9. The chorus, which is composed of both men's and women's voices, was organized by the members of the Hardware Employees club.

College students and the general public are invited to attend the concert. No admission will be charged.

The program will open with two numbers sung by the mixed chorus: "Beautiful Savior," by F. Melius Christiansen, and "Let My People Go," by Scott-Waring. Bonnie Baldwin will be the soloist in the first number and Ray J. Weiss in the second.

Next Rita Okray will sing three soprano solos, "Desert Song," by Romberg, "The Nightingale and the Rose" by Rimsky-Korsakoff, and "Because" by D'Hardelot. Jean Bulholt will be the accompanist.

A men's chorus will sing three numbers, "On Great Lone Hills," by Sibelius, "Dance My Comrades," by Earl-Bennett and "When Day is Done" by Katscher. Mr. Weiss will be the soloist.

The mixed chorus will follow with another group of numbers, "The Night is Young," by Seusse, "Too-Ra-Loo-Ra-Loo-Ral" by Shannon-Trinkhaus, and "Hymn to a Hero" by Lovett-Waring. Jane Fulton will be the soloist for the first number and Betty Deringer will be the soloist for the last.

Miss Baldwin will next sing a group of three solos, "Sapphic Ode" by Brahms, "Wind Song" by Rogers, and "Fiddle and I" by Goodere. Ma-

Dean Will Give Tea Honoring Seniors

As has been the custom for the past few years, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffer has invited the Seniors and the faculty women to a tea honoring the seniors. This year she has also invited the mothers who will be here for the Mother-Daughter banquet, and their daughters whether they are Seniors or not. The tea will be held at the Home Economics parlors on Sunday, May 6, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Alpha Kap Members Feted at Paper Inn

The members of Alpha Kappa Rho were entertained by the faculty members, patronesses, and alumni last Wednesday evening, April 25, at a dinner served in the Oak Room of the Paper Inn at Port Edwards.

During the course of the dinner Edward J. Plank, an alumnus, played his "favorite" selection, "Rum and Coca Cola" on the orthaphonic.

Throughout the evening, at different intervals, Peter J. Michelsen was presented with a cigar from each member of the organization. (They had a priority). Mr. Michelsen was properly grateful for these favors.

Dolores Cowles and Joan Joosten sang two duets, "Wanting You" and "Alice Blue Gown", and Dolores Cowles followed with two solos, "Kashmiri Song" and "Falling in Love with Love."

After dinner Mr. Michelsen played two flute solos, "Gypsy Love Song" and "Solweig's Song" from "Song of Norway".

Following this Joan Joosten accompanied the group in singing familiar melodies. Dean Herbert R. Steiner soloed in "Peggy O'Neil" and "The Man On The Flying Trapeze."

Host and hostesses of Alpha Kappa Rho on this occasion were faculty members, Miss Helen Meston, Miss Susan Colman, and Dean Steiner; alumni member, Mr. Plank; patronesses, Mrs. Plank, Mrs. Michelsen and Mrs. Steiner and faculty adviser, Mr. Michelsen.

Dr. R. C. Gibson, Madison, Succeeds Him as Principal

Alfred J. Herrick will bring to a close his long association with Central State Teachers college when he leaves CSTC's faculty on July 1. Dr. Raymond C. Gibson of Madison has been selected as director of the Training school to succeed Mr. Herrick.

Dr. Gibson is at present principal of the Marquette school in Madison. He is a native of Kentucky and a graduate of Western Kentucky Teachers college at Bowling Green, where he also completed his work for his Master of Arts Degree. He completed his requirements for a Ph. D. degree at the University of Wisconsin in 1944.

He has taught and served as principal in a number of Kentucky elementary and high schools and as principal in the Franklin school as well as in the Marquette school in Madison.

Dr. Gibson is married and has two children. He expects to move to Stevens Point sometime in August and will take over the duties of director of the Training school at the beginning of the college year in September.

Mr. Herrick graduated from the Stevens Point Normal in 1902. After teaching a few years, he attended the University of Wisconsin, where he received his Ph.B. degree in 1909, and was made a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

As a faculty member, Mr. Herrick has been at CSTC for 33 years. He became a member of the Normal school faculty in 1912, when he came here to teach physics and agriculture. For the past 25 years he has been principal of the Training school.

MDB Student Wins Prize in Art Contest

James Samter, a pupil in the eighth grade at the Mary D. Bradford Junior high, won first place in the recent Helen Mears Annual seventh local art contest, class A, and second place in the district class A contest for eighth grade students.

Second place in the local Class A contest was awarded to Wilma Schmeckle and honorable mention was given to Nanette Timmer. Both girls attend the Training school.

James' and Wilma's pictures, together with four other Class A and B winners, will be sent to Milwaukee for a state contest. The local entries which did not place are being exhibited in the children's room at the public library.

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year.
Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Dorm Diary

by Janet

For once the sun shone this past weekend, and didn't all the girls look cute in their colorful spring prints. But today, as yours truly looks out across to the Eat Shop, it rather seems as if the sweaters and skirts are back again.

Several of us Dormites went to the Pointer banquet Sunday night. From the comments that were heard everyone had a grand time, even though we did have to compete with the photographers who were banquetting in the main dining room. When we were speaking, they were singing, and reversely.

You gals who were away for the weekend, look at the bulletin board. Don't forget that hayride party this coming Friday evening. The fun begins at 8:30, so put on your blue jeans and best straw hat and come on along. Suitors and refreshments will be provided.

While you're looking, notice the seating arrangement for the Mother and Daughter banquet to be held Saturday evening at 6:30 p.m. The Dormites have kept the telephone wires busy ordering flowers, candles, and favors for the dinner. Committees have written the invitations which were sent to our mothers, or mother substitutes. To date, the reservation list adds up to 153. It's more fun to wait and find out what the decorations will be, so even though some of us know, we aren't telling. That goes for the menu, too. Needless to say, we are doing everything to show our Moms a good time. We'll even clean our rooms.

If anyone accidentally wandered into Nelson Hall on Sunday, April 29, and wondered why we had turned oriental, that was a silver tea which was given to aid Chinese nurses. The girls were very much interested in the curios which the committees gathered from here and there. The flower arrangements were especially lovely—wonder where the apple blossoms came from? The Dormites were proud to show their living room to so many friends of the college, and those of us who went to the tea were very much pleased with the tiny parasols we received as favors.

The Dormites have until May 15 to reserve rooms for next year, and by the looks of the number of visitors that dropped in Saturday to look around, they'll be glad for the chance. Nelson Hall will see many new faces next year.

Friday evening, some girls on third floor were surprised to hear a masculine voice inquire, "Who's living in my room up there?" The voice carried a definite Southern accent which can't be conveyed on paper, but the general idea is here. A conversation followed. The fellow's name is Henry Isbell (remember?), a former trainee in the Air Corps here. The girls wouldn't go down to see him, so he left. Saturday, he reappeared, and a bicycle built for two accommodated both Lorraine Peters and him.

And that last remark brings us to the scandal sheet. What man of Mickey McLaughlin's was here again? Arlene Lloyd is back. She had the pleasure of a few day's vacation while her Romeo was home. Little Gerrie Walters had a long distance call from big Jerry, and Marion Hemmrich is expecting one. Pat Nelson is expecting another date this weekend. What's going to become of Mom, Pat?

The last day of the month saw the celebration of the April birthdays. The eight girls had as their guests, Dr. A. S. Lyness, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Michelsen. The decorations followed a spring theme which was carried out in the pale green tapers set around a centerpiece of iris, daisies and crocus. The place cards were pale green with violets on them.

The north end of second floor is anticipating a blessed event. Mrs. Robin, whose nest is on the fire escape, is expecting triplets and the Humane Society has posted a sign cautioning Dormites to maintain peace and quiet until the happy day.

Dr. R. Trytten . . .
No Mad Chemist

Dr. Roland Trytten, at present a member of the Ripon College faculty, will come to CSTC this summer to teach physics, and he will remain at CSTC to teach in the chemistry department next fall. This story, which appeared in the "Ripon College Days", will introduce him!

"Mad Chemist would not be a good title for Dr. Roland Trytten, for he is almost always smiling across the test tubes and reagent bottles that surround him in the laboratory up on the third floor in Ingram.

"Originally from Wild Rose, North Dakota, Dr. Trytten attended St. Olaf's College at Northfield, Minn., where he majored in chemistry, math, chemistry, physics, chemistry and took a little science on the side.

"St. Olaf's is noted chiefly for its famous choir, but being the possessor of a splendid monotone voice, Dr. Trytten went out for debate instead. He spent four years out-talking everybody within hearing, but now he prefers to pick out some budding young chemistry student and let him do the talking.

"Graduate work at the University of Wisconsin was followed by six months working in a control laboratory for Kimberly-Clark at Niagara, Wis. At the end of this time he was more than a little tired of looking at paper pulp, and he came to Ripon (See DR. TRYTTEN, page 3)

Khaki Comments

Marguerite A. Groves has arrived in India to serve the armed forces as an American Red Cross staff assistant. Until her Red Cross appointment, Marguerite was an instructor in the Army Air Forces Radio Mechanics School, Truax Field, Madison. She graduated from CSTC in 1935, and attended the University of Wisconsin and St. Louis University.

Cpl. Don Becker with the 10th Weather Squadron in Burma writes: "Speaking of Ted Fritsch, just about 10 days ago we saw the newsreel on the championship game. Golly, he did some nice running, didn't he? Makes a guy feel good to see a guy like Ted buzzing down the field."

Don reports that recently he had time for a buzz up China way. He says he was amazed at the merchandise that the merchants had in stock. "It is reported," he continued, "that one can buy anything from a 1942 Buick to a Parker 51 up there, if he has the money. A '51' sells for about $50 in American money, or maybe exchange is 600 to 1. That would be the comparative price. Since 50 times 600 equals 3000, you might wonder why they charge 3500 in Chinese money. The reason is simply that they want to get their hands on all of the American money that they can, and the bigger the denomination the better. They store it away against a rainy or postwar day. Chinese money is very unstable, but everybody there calls the American dollar the gold dollar. I played big shot when I got up there and bought ten bucks worth of Chinese money.

CSTC I. Q.

Want to test your wits? Let's see how much you know about CSTC. Count 10, for each of the following questions you answer correctly. 90 or better is excellent; 80 is very good, 70 is par, less than 70—where have you been all your life? Answers on page 3.

1. What is the name of our football field?
2. After whom is the Home Economic cottage named?
3. How many girls stay at Nelson Hall?
4. How many fire escapes does the college have?
5. Who is the head of the demonstration school?
6. Who is the editor of the POINTER? (pardon our modesty!)
7. How many semester hours must a student have to become a senior?
8. Who was the first president of CSTC?
9. Who is the director of the Primary Division?
10. What is the name of the college yearbook?

Mr. and Mrs. Watson
Are Grandparents

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Watson are proud grandparents, for a son was born to their daughter, Mrs. Ben E. Kovacs, the former Virginia Watson, on April 19 in Chicago. The baby, who has been named Brian Watson, weighed 9 pounds, 13 ounces at birth. Mr. Watson says the baby may be big, but that he was bigger, for he weighed 10 pounds. He is looking forward to the time when young Brian will be a star football player.

And then I didn't know where to carry it. Gad, I had money in every pocket!"

Roland Schlender, one of CSTC's outstanding Freshman boys, left last week to go into the armed service. Roland was active in various College Theater productions and was a member of the CSTC basketball team. He will be missed by both students and faculty.

S/Sgt. Asher H. Shorey is somewhere in France. In a recent letter he says—"Right now I am conducting business from a hole in the ground. It was too much work to dig not to use. On top of that I sort of feel like it is a good place to spend one's leisure time if there is such a thing."

"I haven't seen all of France, but I have seen enough to get a general picture of what the war is doing and has done. The people are in pretty tough shape; their homes in many instances have been demolished; they do not have enough to eat, neither do they have sufficient clothes to keep warm. What these people would call luxury, we in America would consider necessities. Many villages do not have a building in them that has not been touched in some way. It seems a crime, but guess that it has to be that way. So far the people have been friendly." Sgt. Shorey is the brother of Mrs. Mary Samter, Training school supervisor in the first grade at the Training school.

college where he has been the last three years, teaching chemistry with a side dish of math which he served up to the army boys during their sojourn on the campus.

"When asked whether he had any pet peeves, Dr. Trytten answered that if he did he never stopped to think about them and so he couldn't name them for us. He does have hobbies, though. Before little Kay made her appearance a year and a half ago, he and his wife used to spend their time on bicycles riding around the surrounding countryside. They consider their trip to Madison the worst thing they ever attempted. They set out from Ripon at noon one day, and pedaled weakly into Madison at 11 o'clock that night with their ardor for bike riding somewhat dampened.

"The young farm that Dr. Trytten put in the vacant lot next to his house is another thing of which he is proud. He raised five bushels of carrots, ate one bushel and quietly plowed under the other four. (Secretary of Agriculture, please copy.) The tomato yield from this plot of land was so great that he will flinch at the thought of facing another tomato across a piece of lettuce.

"This summer Dr. Trytten is going to leave Ripon for Central State Teachers College where he will teach physics at the summer session. Next fall he starts in teaching chemistry at the same school. He says that he will miss Ripon, that he hates to leave. We know that Ripon will miss him, too."

Class Tree Planting Project Is Enjoyed

Thirteen Conservation students armed with pails and shovels, boarded the college bus last Thursday morning bound for the annual tree-planting project which is a part of the Conservation course taught by Fred J. Schmeckle.

Approximately 1000 Norway pines were planted on the school forest acreage, which is near Plover. Planting trees was a new experience to most of the students, who eyed the shovels somewhat dubiously at first. However, after Mr. Schmeckle demonstrated the proper way of planting the seedlings, the students teamed up and worked with a right good will.

After the trees were planted the class went through the school "forest", which was begun eight years ago, and examined the growth of the trees planted since then. All of the students agreed that planting the trees was a constructive job and also a lot of fun.

Mr. Herrick organized the Junior High school and at his suggestion the students of the Junior High voted to name it in honor of Mary D. Bradford, a member of CSTC's first faculty, and one of Wisconsin's famous educators.

Mr. Herrick has been the director of placements for CSTC graduates, and has helped many of them to secure teaching positions.

From March, 1943 to May, 1944, when aviation students of the 97th College Training Detachment were here, he taught physics to the trainees in addition to his other duties.

Mr. Herrick's plans for the use of his leisure time after July 1 are indefinite.
