CSTC's Basketball

Dinner Is Planned

The girls of Nelson Hall will have their Thanksgiving formal dinner on Tuesday evening, November 20. Following the traditional turkey and amber-colored dinner there will be a ceremony of blessing the house, an impressive Thanksgiving service for the girls' home away from home. Elvira Lindow is general chairman of the dinner. The committees are: Decorations, Elizabeth Stadler, Dolores Jelinek, Naomi Barthels and Doris Ockerlinder; menu, Nelda Dopp, Betty Maki; invitations, Dolores Schulist, Tonie Tushinski and Lucille Mantei.

Schedule All-School Card Party Benefit

The Social Events committee, with the help of the student body, will put on an all-school card party benefit sponsored by the Student Council. A dance will be held Thursday, November 29, in the Training school gym. The tickets are 35 cents. The doors will open at 8 o'clock, and card games will be played. There will be four kinds of cards played. A lunch of cake, ice cream and coffee will be served later in the evening. Betty Furstenberg is general chairman. The other chairmen are: Tickets, Ray Bartkowiak; advertising, Joyce Proctor; lunch, Alice Hetzer; properties, Barbara Felker, prizes and tallies, Ed Przybyl ski; administration, Ed Lightbody. The committees will be chosen from the student body by the chairmen.

Each student in the student body is expected to sell two tickets. The tickets will be distributed in front of the auditorium after the assembly Thursday. Names will be checked as students pick up their tickets.

Student council wishes students willing to run the card party to contact Barbara Felker, Betty Furstenberg or Ed Lightbody. The card party will start at 8:30 p.m. There will be dancing plus a floor show, and refreshments will be served by the ranch hands.

Home Ec Meet

This week end Nelson Hall will be host to twenty Home Ec enthu­siasts from all parts of the state. These girls, representing sixteen high schools, ten home economics teachers, and Mrs. Martha Schmidt from the State Department of Home Economics will meet to organize a new State Home Economics club.

Friday night the college Home Economics club will entertain the visitors in the Rec room at Nelson Hall. With the game "Cootie" for entertainment, and chocolate milk and doughnuts for refreshments, a "lots-of-fun" evening is anticipated.

Dean, Students Speak at Nearby Towns

Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, dean of women, Jane Miller and Doris Ockerlinder spoke to the high school seniors and their adviser at Almond last Thursday afternoon. The seniors there were entertained at the Progress club, an organization which sponsors a youth center in Almond.

Jane Miller discussed the Radio Workshop with the CSTC, and Doris Ockerlard spoke about her work at the "Playdium", Stevens Point's youth center. She also gave a reading, "My Rival".

On Monday evening, Mrs. Pfiffner spoke at a library tea given by the Monday Night club of Waupaca. Mrs. Pfiffner spoke on "Parents Responsibilities".

Dorm Doin's

by Marion

With the big day just a week and a half off, Dormites met in a house Friday evening in Mr. Scott's room in celebration of Thanksgiving. On November 20, a formal dinner will be held at Nelson Hall, after which Dormites will join in a ceremony of tricks or "Blessing the House" before the living room fireplace.

A number of the girls enjoyed the noon Monday celebration in Madison this week-end. Pat Lavers, Mavis Dumede and Jeanne Cone, escorted by Mavis's cousin, ARM 3/c E. J. DuMedie made up one party. Lucille Mantei, Dorothy Loberg and Marne Guth also participated in the festivities. Jeanne, we notice, is still in touch with the navy. "Sonny" called her again last night.

Joan Joosten, a CSTC alum was greeted at a barbeque party on third floor Saturday night.

Newly engaged is Sally Williams to Bob Everts, a navy man. Sorry, we don't know his rank. A faithful husband, although, a new one for Ann Mlanga, who lives downtown in all the rain Monday night to get some headache tablets for her one and only.

Marie Schrader has started a new hobby of collecting profiles of her dorm friends. Marge draws them while you sit.

If you have ever any trouble with your radio, call on radio man Stalder for help. With no other tool than a fingernail file, Liz demonstrated in the old game of "Tricks or Treat," and it worked. After division of the spoils, she will be Opus 22 by Taulba de Sarsate and "Ramona Andeluza" from two Bukolt.

Veteran Speaks at Student Assembly

Bill Nikolai, senior class president and Air Corps veteran of the European theaters, spoke on the significance of Armistice Day at a student assembly held Monday morning. The speaker described the Armistice as being the end of a long nightmare for the average veteran. The men returning from the wars are in a confused state. Having fought a war that they thought would put an end to tyranny and oppression, they find the world reverting to turmoil. Labor and capital clutch at each other, the barriers of the cold war hovers over Asia and Europe, and international distrust is wide spread.

In conclusion Mr. Nikolai stated, "We veterans feel that we are losing the peace. It is upon you that we depend. We beg of you, don't let us down." By Ivan Dimitri, the story and photographs of the most exciting and least known of American military branches, the Air Transpor Command; "General Ike Eisenhower" by Delos Lovelace, the story of this war's well known general; "Too Much Salt and Pepper" by Sam Campbell, the story of two real-life prickly porcupines who are lovers and thwart, and "One on the Edge of the Fjord" by Alta Hol verson Seymour, the story of a Norwegian girl who with courage and intelligence helped combat the German invaders when they overran her country.

The books which will be on display in the training school library all week and can be reserved for future use by signing for them at the desk. On Monday, November 19, at 8:45 a.m., they may be checked out by those who reserved them.

New books have been added to the primary and intermediate sections also, but they will be displayed on display are "Flight to Everywhere" at a later date.

"The Song of Harvest Home"

"Come, ye thankful people, come,..."

The Thanksgiving Day has a deeper meaning to many of us this year. We can indeed raise the "song of harvest home" with thankful hearts, for God has once again blessed us with peace.

Sacrifices of the past years and the memory of those who miss more and more as others who live return have soothed us. Yet, with these serious thoughts, has come a deeper appreciation of the blessings which are ours.

This country was founded upon an ideal of democracy. We have paid a price for it, a price that we must work to make that price serve in the realization of the lasting peace which is the prayer of all people.

Remembering this, let us make Thanksgiving a day of dedication, that the 'harvest home' may endure.

The committee which will plan this assembly as follows: Reception, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Pierce; refreshments, Miss Lydia Pfeiffer; decorations, Miss Edna Carlsten; program, Ednah Walter and Elvira Lindow; general committee, Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, Miss Leah Diehl and Mrs. C. A. Cutnaw.

Display New Books

Since November 11-17 is also set aside as National Book Week, in the library, will be a display of new books of special interest to the journalism field. The training school library has been reorganized this fall and a special reading room has been set aside for special science books. The meeting place which will be on display are: "Sky Highways" by Trevor Lloyd, a study of the "Abraham Lincoln's World" by George F. Furt, the story of life and history-making events in Lincoln's time, and "The Declaration of Independence" by Julian P. Boyle, which brings together for the first time reprints of all known copies of the Declaration in Jefferson's handwriting.

Other books which will be on display are "Flight to Everywhere" at a later date.

Appoint Committees

The Newman club held a religious discussion under the leadership of Father Theisen at their regular meeting held on Thursday, November 8, in the Rural assembly. Father Theisen presented each member of the group with a new catechism which will be used for the basis of future religious discussions.

During the short business meeting which preceded the discussion plans were made for the Christmas party and a social committee was appointed as follows: Dick Westenberger, Jack Whitney, Lucille Lemsky and Mary Juetten. The following members were chosen to work on a program committee which will meet and outline the program to be followed for the remainder of this semester: Helen Wiczkorek, Ed Fenelon, Ed Przybyszki, Rosemary Nelson, Monica Gill and Isabel Stelmahoskey.

Libraries Display

Many New Books

The theme of National Book Week, which is observed November 11-17, is “United Through Books.” This suggests the need of a broad background of information which can come as a result of wide reading. This is conditioned by the student’s effort to increase his ability to read and understand, which necessitates the student’s reading to the left as well as in the middle or to the right side of an issue. Now, more than ever before, there is a need for well-informed citizens and this applies especially to college students who are training to become teachers.

The Training school library and the College library have new books on display during the entire week. Students may examine these books and if there are any they are particularly interested in they may reserve them at the desk. When ready for use, the books will be issued in order of reservation.

LaFOLLETTE

complete attitude of servility with which the German people respond to the conquerors. Also, segregation of young men over a period of time will undermine social conditions and bring about warped attitudes and behavior in our youth.

It is Senator LaFollette's belief that we are better equipped to give general training in our present system of public education. Technical schools and similar organizations are prepared to take care of the education of our youth without compulsory military training.

In the United States, we have always maintained that the family and the church have been the basis for our moral and intellectual strength. Compulsory training will take youth away from these influences at the most critical period in life. The military system cannot substitute for the family, church or school.

In conclusion, Senator LaFollette said that at the present time there are sufficient volunteers to fulfill our military quota, and that there was no need for a hasty decision which might fasten peacetime military service on our youth forever.

NOTICE

The Tau Gamma Beta sorority has presented the Student Lounge with a new end table, the exact duplicate of the one already there. The two end tables can now be used in making attractive groupings of furniture in the lounge, and also will provide more space for magazines or books.

The end table was purchased with proceeds from the "Cotton Swirl", a party given last spring by the sorority.
