Basketball Schedule
Announced for CSTC

After a short period of inactivity during the Thanksgiving vacation, CSTC cagers are back to daily workouts in preparation for their opening game of the season. New members of the basis-Oshkosh include Dick Lee and Vernon Piotrowski.

The following basketball schedule for the current season has been released by Coach George R. Berg.

- Sat. Dec. 15 River Falls Here
- Thurs. Jan. 10 Oshkosh There
- Fri. Jan. 18 Platteville Here
- Thurs. Jan. 24 Milwaukee Here
- Fri. Feb. 5 Platteville There
- Sat. Feb. 16 Milwaukee There
- Thurs. Feb. 21 Oshkosh Here

As this is a tentative schedule, some of the dates may be changed. If present plans are successful, the January 10 game may be dropped in lieu of games with River Falls and Stout.

Basketball this year will again be played on a non-conference basis.

Conference sports were ruled out for the duration by the presidents of the Wisconsin State Teachers' Colleges in 1943. To date, this ruling has not been rescinded. The coaches and athletic directors of the conference colleges have recommended that all inter-collegiate sports be replaced on a conference basis and it is hoped that this resolution will be acted upon in the near future.

Publications Prove Interesting to Many

Each week the POINTER office receives publications from other colleges and high schools. From the papers mailed to the Pointer this year have been gleaned some items of interest to the student body at CSTC.

The Exponent of Platteville reports that Miss Marjorie Huginin, director of the class in Shakespearean drama, is making arrangements to take her students to Madison to see the "Comedy-of Errors," The play is being staged by the Wisconsin State Teachers college of Milwaukee State Teachers' college.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kachel of Whitewater announce the engagement of their daughter, Marie, to Dr. Arthur S. Lyness of Stevens Point. Miss Kachel graduated from Milwaukee, director College and is now teaching in the Oshkosh schools. Dr. Lyness studied at Chico- volo University and received his master's and doctor's degrees from Iowa University. He is the registrar at Central State Teachers college.

NOTICE

The Faculty auditing committee requests the presence of advisors, presidents, and treasurers of student organizations at a meeting in Room 115 on Thursday, at 10:05 a.m., for the purpose of discussing the audit and administration of student organization accounts.

This meeting is important and roll call of officers will be taken. Questions and suggestions will be welcomed.

Radio Workshop
Prepares Scripts

Every Monday at 3:15 p.m. sharp, you'll find the Radio Workshop gang hard at work down in Studio A.

Maybe you're wondering what goes on there. At present a survey is being made of the favorite programs of school children throughout the state — Tom Mix holds the lead.

On the Workshop Staff are: Frank Kostuck, Max Kopchinski, Marjorie Hales, Lennart Abrahamson, Jane Miller, production and Miss Gertie L. Hanson, director.

Jane Miller is scheduled to read "Lost We Forget" on "Our College" today. Quincy Doudna, head of the Rural Department, will be the speaker on "Our College" on December 5.

Students Urged To Back Card Party

An all-school benefit card party, sponsored by the Student Council, will be held Thursday evening, No- vember 29, in the Training school gym. The doors will open at 8 o'clock. The card games will start at 8:30 P.M. Bridge, "500" and other card games will be played. A lunch of cake, ice cream and coffee will be served later in the evening.

The purpose of the card party is to raise money for the social calendar, the activities of which will benefit the entire student body. The social fund alone, obtained from allocations, is not sufficient because the enrollment is still low.

Students are urged to turn in the money from the sale of the school card party tickets, which were dis- tributed on Thursday, November 15, to Ed Lighthbody, Betty Fursten- berg or Ray Bartkowiak, on or be- fore Thursday, November 29. For the convenience of the students, there will be some one in front of the library to collect ticket money from them until noon on November 29. Betty Furstenberg may be reached at Nelson Hall.

Free Trade Discussed
By Faculty Member

Charles F. Watson discussed the question of free trade at the first meeting of the Inter-Collegiate De- bate team held last Monday. The next meeting is scheduled for Mon- day, December 3 at 4 o'clock.

The question being debated this year is: Resolved that the nations of the world should engage in free trade. Members of the faculty will lead discussions on the history and economics of the question.

The radio workshop debated and missed the first meeting, be sure to be there next Monday.

Party Is Successful

Horse shoes, ten-gallon hats, wag- on wheels, cacti and a camp fire converted the Training school gym into a rollicking "Wheel-In Dude Ranch," Saturday evening, November 17.

The high light of the all-school party sponsored by the Tau Gamma Beta sorority was a western floor show. A skit, in which a group of cowhands were seated around the camp fire chatting over the prospects of a new cook, opened the show. "Adeline" Westenberger, the cook's daughter, soon claimed the attention of the cowhands. Out of the east in a cloud of mist came the hoof beats of the lone stranger with his familiar Hi Ho Silver.

Other numbers on the program were given by the tap dancing cow- boys of the ranch, the group "Pistol Packin' Mama", "The Surrey with the Fringe" and "The Old Gray Mare" were introduced to the au- (See PARTY, page 3)

Ped Coaches Elect
Berg As President

Coach George R. Berg was named president of the Wisconsin State Teachers College conference at a meeting of conference coaches and athletic directors held at Madison. Berg was named on November 24. John Tierney of Milwaukee was elected vice-presi- dent and George K. Schloenhauf of River Falls was elected secretary.

At the meeting a 1946 football season schedule was adopted for the colleges. A recommendation was made that all inter-collegiate sports be replaced on a conference basis. The final decision, however, rests with the colleges who in 1943 disbanded conference sports for the duration of the war.

The following schedule was adopt- ed for CSTC's 1946 football season:
- Oct. 12, Milwaukee at Stevens Point;
- Oct. 19, Whitewater at Stevens Point;
- Oct. 26, Stevens Point at Platteville;
- Nov. 9, Stevens Point at Oshkosh.

Glee Club Receives
Bonds as Memorial

The members of the Men's Glee club are the grateful recipients of two 100-dollar bonds, which are the gift of Mrs. William M. Scribner, Sr. The bonds are given in memory of Seaman 1/c James M. Scribner, who gave his life in the service of his country. James attended CSTC during 1939-40, when he was a member of the Glee club.

Following is the letter which Norman K. Knutzen, director of the Men's Glee club, received from Mrs. Scribner:

"These bonds are for the Men's Glee club of the State Teachers college of Stevens Point, Wisconsin, donated by Mrs. William M. Scribner, in memory of James M. Scribner, a former member of the Glee club who gave his life that others might live."

"The bonds and interest are to be used in any way the Glee club wishes."

The boys of the Glee club are deeply appreciative of Mrs. Scribner's gift. They feel that it is a very fitting memorial to one of their number who paid the price that they might continue to give pleasure to others through their music.
Well, that lovely Thanksgiving vacation is gone for another year. Arriving back at school last Monday, we were quite like fresh, scrubbed, unmessed that short pause and are looking ahead to Christmas vacation.

From Mr. Burroughs comes word that Saturday, December 3, the halls will be open at 9 p.m. and will be open through the halls now can be identified as pledges, in the final stages before initiation, better known as "Hell Week". You'll agree with us that this is an excellent piece of recording, with Paul Robeson and cast and—will be worth a trip. So, if you're interested, keep your ears pricked for this. One last item in this vein, and that's the mentioning of Lorraine Bishop, whom we see rushing up and down the stairs, usually to meet Jack Burt.

Cheers for the "Weekly Reminder" that reared its head this week. Now that it's finally out in the sun and trying its wings, we should see some worth while developments and use of it soon. Incidentally, why not some of you other students ideas air them too? This "mum" business gets no dividends, so out with them!

Here's a bee in your bonnet, students, that's the opinion on having a two day spring vacation around the middle of the long, long second semester would probably benefit us more than we realize. Some of you no doubt will scoff, but many students in recent past have praised for reusing many old activities on top of changes in curricula. Anyway, it's an idea.

Miss Mason Reviews Books for Students

As a part of the observance of National Education and Book Week, Miss Sybil Mason spoke to the Junior High school students on Friday, November 16, about several recent books in the Training school library.

Miss Mason presented several books each of the following groups:
World War II and representative fiction. Under the title "The Land of the Russian People", by Alexander Nazaroff, was briefly reviewed as being back in school is over and you are now faced with your way from class to class in the few minutes allotted, it's time to settle down seriously to this business of book making. At this time you would feel the excusables not being used to new teachers and strange subjects, but you've had long enough to get pretty well used to it. It's really time to hit the books.

You may have started off with firm resolutions about getting assignments in on time, and even you planned a special project for biology and promised yourself to read an extra book a week. But, somehow, amidst the confusion of cooks at the Eat Shop, that football practice, and the new movie that hit town in midweek, you slipped up on them. You're already two days behind in your math, and haven't even started your book for this week. Come now, is this the way valedictorians are made?

Pick yourself a quiet spot. Set aside a special time for homework and stick to the schedule. Have all your equipment at hand when you begin so there'll be no need for a last minute hop and jump for paper or pencil between friends or professors.

And if you'll do the harder subjects first, when you're fresh and sharp, you'll find things much simpler. Instead of burning the midnight oils and popping your eyes lids up with toothpicks on the occasion of even when you start loaded with work, save some till morning, when you can get up early and get a new start. It's much simpler to do your homework now than to have to sit up all night and wish you had the time to finish it properly. And you don't have to stop periodically to wipe the sleep from your eyes.

So get on the homework wagon and start rolling. When you think Albert Einstein would be today if he skipped his math assignment every Tuesday?

Sigma Zeta Meets

Sigga Zeta held a social meeting in the Student Lounge November 14, at 7:30 p.m. A game ofcharades was played and refreshments were served.

A movie is being planned for the next meeting which is to be held on December 19, at 7:30 p.m.

War II books were "Beyond the Call of Duty", by Franklin Reck, and "Extra, U.S. War Correspondents" by Max Talmadge. These books tells of courageous young Americans who fought at the front and behind the lines that we might win the war.

There were many interesting books in the representative fiction group. Those reviewed were "The Singing Cave", by Margaret Leif­

Tom, "Mystery Schooner", by Terence Roberts and "Up at City High", by Joseph Gallamore.

Basketball History of CSTC Reviewed

With sports news scarce as nylon on the campus, your reporter became ambitious and attempted to dig into the musty files of CSTC, hoping to unearth sufficient information for a story on our Alma Mater's basketball history.

The task was scarcely begun, however, when it became apparent that someone had undertaken more than he had counted on. The files that do exist have gaps large enough to drive a jeep through.

Perhaps at a later date a more comprehensive story can be present ed. For the present, however, here are a few notes about CSTC basketball history.

Stevens Point has always been known for turning out fine basketball teams. With the coming of Coach Eddie Kotal to CSTC, a new era of athletics were ushered in, with the CSTC basketball teams taking their place among the top conference championships in 1952-53, 1953-54, 1956-57, and 1941-42.

One of "Point's" greatest teams played in 1953. Gaining state wide attention, the Pointers took all their games in stride, even going so far as to defeat the University of Wisconsin basketball team, 28-24. The outstanding players that year were lanky Art Thompson, and Edward "Moon" Baker. The season of 1942-43 saw Coach George R. Berg taking over as athletic director at a time when most of the male students were leaving for the military service. Sports dropped to nil and finally were discontinued in 1945.

Coach Berg, attempting to revive inter-collegiate basketball, organized an all freshman basketball team last year. Though there was no official conference, the team played five games with other colleges and lost only one game. The team was short lived, however, and had to be disbanded in mid-season when six of the ten members went into the service.

This brings us back to the resumption of peace time basketball. While no great prospects are in sight for this season, CSTC sports are definitely returning to normal.

Library Indexes Are Helpful to Students

College students are continually searching for material to be used in term papers, reports, and other assignments. In looking for such material the proper use of the library indexes is a valuable aid.

Students are acquainted with some of the indexes which are in the library: the Reader's Guide, Education Index, International Index, and the antecedent of these indexes, Poole's Index, which covers nineteenth century periodical literature. The library also has two new indexes to periodical literature which list all periodicals in existence. These were purchased by the library during the past year and are destined to become great indexes.

The H. W. Wilson Company, which publishes all our periodic indexes, has begun a revised work of the Poole's Index. Working back from 1800, two volumes have now been completed with the title, Reader's Guide to 19th Century Periodicals.
