Convocation Speaker Guest at Assembly

August Derleth, Wisconsin author of some 40 books, columnist and book reviewer, spoke at the Portage-Wood County Teachers Convocatian held in the CSTC auditorium Friday afternoon, February 8.

His subject was "How An Author

Creates his Characters". His talk, short and informal, was followed by questions from the audience.

Mr. Derleth used specific illustration in getting across his points. He is fundamentally interested in people and creates his characters largely from real people. He spoke of "les-sons" he had learned and profited by from various experiences.

'A writer or creative artist", Mr. Derleth began, "sees something which affects him with its beauty and impressiveness and he takes it into his conscience where it goes through a process of mental digestion and may come out ten years later or next week."

Derleth said that the two kinds of characters, the imaginary as well as the real, are actually based on life. "An author must be true to his characters, which ever kind they are, keep within their capabilities, and stay true to them and he won't make mistakes," is Mr. Derleth's advice.

In some stories, the thematic type, which he prefers to write, characters are cut to fit the theme. His publishers suggest a theme and Derleth goes out and finds a real what he sees. Wind Over Wisconsin is that kind of book. The story Renna, which first appeared in Redbook is another.

'To know a character's capabilities is to know many, many people," concluded Mr. Derleth. He ended his speech abruptly and called for questions. Most of them pertained to his method of working. Derleth has no

Wisconsin Author Is Mr. Morrison To Be

Donald Scott Morrison will give what is called a "Conversational Concert", in the college auditorium on Thursday morning, February 14.

Mr. Morrison, a native of Ohio and one of America's most interesting young pianists, has studied in both Europe and America. He is enjoyed by his listeners wherever he appears and has won the interest of audiences from coast to coast.

In his concert, Mr. Morrison traces music and music forms through the centuries. The first part of the program is played on the harpsichord, which he carries. The second part is on the pianoforte. As he presents the works of the great masters of music, he will tell of their lives, and in make-up and authentic costume impersonate them. It is concert, lecture and good show, all rolled into one.

Honor Two Retired Faculty Members

Alfred J. Herrick and Charles F. Watson, retired faculty members, were honored at a faculty dinner in Nelson Hall, on February 6.

Dr. Warren G. Jenkins, chairman of the faculty, presided over a short program which followed the dinner. After a welcome by President William C. #### Present Play

Anyone journeying backstage in the college auditorium will find a hum of excitement as students who are producing Noel Coward's comedy, "Blithe Spirit", prepare scenery and lighting for dress rehearsals.

The play will be given in the auditorium on the evenings of February 19 and 20. CSTC has been invited to give this play at Eau Claire Teachers college early in March, and in exchange the Eau Claire college theater will come here to present a

Pointers Will Play Milwaukee Saturday

Thursday evening the CSTC cagers will play host to St. Norberts in a game to be played in the P. J. Jacobs High school gym. The Pointers will be out to avenge an earlier 52-46 defeat at the hands of the Knights. The tip-off is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Saturday the Point quintet jour-neys to Milwaukee where it will engage the Milwaukee Teachers. In a previous game the Pointers dropped a close decision 42-40 to the Green

Gulls.

Last week CSTC dropped two games to Platteville and Whitewater, there, both by scores of 49-41.

Playing a ragged type of ball the Pointers were no match for the Platteville teachers. Flugaur was top scorer for the Pointers again with 16

The story behind the defeat by Whitewater was too many fouls. The Point men outscored Whitewater on baskets 15-14 but the 24 fouls CSTC committed gave the winners their chance. Whitewater scored 21 free throws out of 25 attempts while Point connected on 11 out of 19 free throws

Here is the vital information about these "experimenters": First, Roger Warbelton, his wife, Pauline and small daughter Paula, age six months. Pauline is from Madison and Roger is a home town boy. He was an Aviation Radioman, 3rd Class in Bombing Squadron 11, of the Navy Air corps. Roger is a freshman in the Secondary division at CSTC and plans to obtain his B.S.

Secondly there is Foster W. Diley and his wife, June, from Waupaca. He was a captain in the army in the Chemical Warfare unit. "Bud" is a junior, a transfer from Milwaukee State Teachers college. June has her degree from there in the Primary division.

Roger Redding and Gloria, his wife, are both from Lake Nebaga-non, Wisconsin. Roger was a staff sergeant in the 87th Infantry division, which was part of Patton's Third Army. He saw action in the E.T.O. Enrolled as a freshman, he plans to go into the Conservation course, newly offered this year.
