

Speaks to Assembly Girls Glee Club Begin Concert Tour

"I may not have quantity, but I have quality for an audience," commented Louis Lytton, American actor, after the hearty applause in appreciation of "I Am An American," a narration he gave at an assembly held Thursday, February 21, at 10 a.m. in the college auditorium.

"I Am An American" was a narration about Joe, an immigrant who strove to better himself and became a worthwhile American citizen who frowned upon creed and racial prejudices.

Mr. Lytton followed up his powerful monodrama with several dramatic readings, suggestive of various types of audiences. He concluded with one for a children's audience, a reading of "The Owl and the Pussy Cat."

The speaker answered questions the audience asked about actors and actresses. This was especially interesting because he was a personal friend of or knew many prominent actors and actresses.

"Dark World", a fantasy presented by Radio Workshop, proved very interesting and effective Thursday morning as part of the assembly.

The cast included Margaret Roberts as Amy; Alta Kromroy, Marge; Jane Miller, Carol; Frank Friday, dictator; Frank Kostuck, male voice; and Lennert Abramson in charge of music.

Dormite Grade Point Average Is High

Grade point averages of the Dormites for the first semester of 1945-46 have at last been disclosed. The over-all average was 2.07, which is an exceptionally fine one, slightly higher than a corresponding average for 1944-45.

A computation of grade points among the four classes resulted in this placement: Juniors first with 2.41, seniors second with 2.25, sophomores third with 1.92 and freshmen last with 1.72.

On third floor the average was highest, a 1.96, with one 3.0 student. Next was second floor with a 1.91 average, with four 3.0 girls. First floor finished with a 1.76 average.

Girls who are employed and who of necessity budget their time seem to have made the best averages. Those working in the Dorm had 2.22; dining room girls 1.94, receptionists 2.65, and ironing girls 2.81.

Nelson Hall may be proud of its five students who earned 3.0 averages. These five include Lenore Arnette and Dorothy Campbell, freshmen; Betty June Maki and Lorraine Peters, sophomores; and Doris Ubbelohde, a senior. Particularly commendable is the fact that all of these girls are working.

The Girl's Glee club, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, will begin their spring concert tour by presenting an informal concert at Marshfield on Thursday, March 7. In the evening, the girls will travel to Colby to present a formal concert.

The tentative program is as follows: "America", Ernest Bloch; "Steal Away", Fredrick Wick; "A Woodland Symphony", Beethoven; "I Have A Mother in the Heavens", white spiritual; "Green Sleeves", old English lute melody; "Music of Life", Cain; "Cavatina", Joachim Raff; "Little Damsel", Novello; "I'll See You Again", Coward; "Ave Maris Stella", Grieg; "Symphony", Alstone; and "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows", Carroll.

NOTICE

New students who have registered for the second semester should get their theater tickets at the Main Office. Each student is entitled to one ticket.

By popular vote the intra-mural basketball tournament has been divided into two halves. The basketball league consists of six teams, and a half will consist of each team playing the other teams once. The winners of each half will complete the season with a grand finale playoff. Since there are six games remaining to be played in the first round, plans are being made to speed up the program to allow each team to play two games per week. It was also decided not to admit any varsity player into the league so as to keep competition more balanced. Serving the tournament as referees are "Martin" Spangle and Ed Fencelon.

In games played last week Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, the Smokey Foooves delivered a 41 to 30 drubbing to the Link Trainers while the "7" Grams swamped the Big Bucks with a 50-30 score. Judd was high scorer for the Smokey Foooves with 12 points, while Swenson and Elliot led the "7" Grams with 20 points each.

The league went into action again Monday night, playing three games. In the first tilt the Boys Study Club turned back the Big Bucks by a score of 31 to 27. The second game witnessed the Link Trainers edge out the "7" Grams by one point. In the final game of the evening, the Smokey Foooves moved the Snafu Flyers out of their leading position by a 31 to 29 score.

Plans for a volley ball league are being formulated and will be announced in next week's Pointer. Watch the Athletic Bulletin Board for additional announcements.

Mardi Gras Carnival Custom Is Revived

Present Awards

Letters were presented to CSTC football and basketball athletes at an assembly held last Thursday. Bill Carnahan and William Nikolai received Senior Awards, Carnahan, a gold "S" with four bars for four years of basketball, and Nikolai, a gold "S" with two bars for two years of football. Receiving a second year award also for basketball was Art Crowns. Edmund Przybylski and Bob Hartman received captain's stars in football and basketball, respectively. Letters went to the following:

Football—Ray Bartkowiak, James Buelow, Jack Burt, George Emmerich, Dennis Firkus, George Hardina, John Judd, Robert Kunde, Charles Lane, Charles Laszewski, William Mellin, Vernon Piotrowski, George Quinn, Norman Rieves, George Spangle, Frank Stange, Bob Zieper, Nikolai, Przybylski, Hartman and Clinton Prust, team manager.

Basketball — Dick Lee, Clifford Lila, Art Pejisa, Lowell Loberg, Crowns, Dario Capacasa, Bill Carnahan, George Flugaur, Emmerich, Hartman and Zieper.

Bob Olk coached the basketball team most of the season because of Coach George Berg's illness.

Enrollment Increases

Enrollment at CSTC has increased considerably. To date, there are 451 students attending classes, as compared to the 246 here last year at this time. This semester brought 171 new students, 150 men and 21 women.

Of the 163 veterans in school, eight are women. Twenty-eight of the vets are former CSTC students.

Addition To Lounge Adds To Convenience

The Social Committee has added a new wastebasket and table lamp to the Student Lounge in order to make it more comfortable and convenient for student use.

The Student Lounge is a place for students to gather between classes and a place to relax in during lunch hours and free periods. Therefore keeping the room in order has been a task given over to the student body.

A minute or two spent in replacing a chair, straightening a rug or picking up candy wrappers and magazines will not be missed and surely will do much for increasing the attractiveness of the Student Lounge.

Special Features To Be Show and Dance

CSTC is in the midst of preparations for the traditional Mardi Gras which is to be held on the evening of March 5.

A program consisting of skits given by college organizations will start at 7 p.m. in the college auditorium and a prize will be awarded to the group giving the best performance. Frank Friday will be master of ceremonies.

The Mardi Gras masquerade ball will begin at 9 o'clock in the Training school gym. Anything from formals to overalls will be considered a costume at the ball, where students will find typical street scenes which live up to true Mardi Gras tradition. Along the "streets" will be concessions of many kinds.

The high point of the evening will be the crowning of the king and queen of the Mardi Gras. Candidates for queen are: Lorraine Bishop, Lorraine Peters, Mildred Ross and Jane Miller. Those for king are Jack Burt, Bill Mellin, Gus Rademacher and Ed Nigbor. These students were chosen at class elections held last week.

Vote For Candidates

With the purchasing of each dance ticket, a vote may be cast for king and one for queen. Each student may buy as many dance tickets as he wishes and thus cast several votes for his favorite candidates. Tickets for the dance are 12 cents and for the auditorium show, 18 cents, including tax.

The committees, who are planning the Mardi Gras are: General Chairman, Betty Furstenberg; tickets, Barbara Felker, chairman, Ann Kelley, Sylvia Horn and Kathleen Berg;

To Give Concert

After having been inactive for four years, the Men's Glee club is going to give its first assembly concert on Thursday morning, March 28. This concert is the beginning of a busy schedule for which the 32 members are practicing in their two rehearsals a week, under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen. The accompanist for the Men's Glee club is Bob Westenberg.

The Glee club will present its home concert on Wednesday evening, May 15, and requests for out of town concerts will be filled during March and April.

The termination of Glee club events will come on the night of May 16, when a banquet will be given for the members and alumni. All alumni are invited to attend.

Under The Rug

with Dave

Ah, ho hum, and all the other expressions that mark the end of a vacation. Last Friday was really a pleasant surprise (Hooray for Washington), and we thank President Hansen, and anyone else who negotiated that bit of a break in the term, from the bottom of our hearts. It was appreciated.

We're just a little insulted, though. Maybe some other of you ski enthusiasts noted with us that the long expected snow began on Monday morning, NOT Friday, as we had hoped. Guess we'll have to begin ordering our snow a little earlier.

Aha, a Mardi Gras at last! We understand that a majority of organizations are already far along with their skits for the "Big Show". Organizations, yes; classes, NO! At one of the recent class meetings response was nil when the subject of a Mardi Gras skit was mentioned. Hey, what's up? "Too busy". "Gotta work". Sure, these replies are all familiar to everyone; but it's all too obvious that some of these people who "love" to go to the college productions are just never "there" when it's time to roll up the sleeves and dig in.

If we're going to have a Mardi Gras, let's not have a flop. And a flop is partly caused by the failure of a large body of students to participate. That is to say, too many are expecting a Billy Rose production without exerting themselves. Why the blow-off? We recommend improving our not-so-hot activity record so far for the year with a big bang-up Mardi Gras. Come on, fellows, this is up to you, too.

Say, baby pictures seem to be the vogue around here. (Or haven't you been stopped by a proud papa yet?) Anyway, it sure is fun to get family history in the halls, these days, all the way from two months to two years. Robert S. Lewis of the faculty has been added to the list of proud papas, for his new daughter was born on February 24.

Before you forget the Mardi Gras idea, we're also wondering why the faculty doesn't remind us of ye old days, and put on a hum dinger skit themselves. Think of all the talent we've been missing. Now, we mean it. Faculty, it's time you unveiled again.

And that goes for all the vet associations functioning about school and town. Let's see some of these constitutions go into effect at school, and see them represented at the Mardi Gras. Absolutely, our final opinion is that there is just no excuse for not showing your colors at this outing. If there isn't room for it, then make room!

Adios

Betty Maki Is CSTC Delegate To Meeting

(Betty June Maki, who wrote the following story, attended a workshop meeting at Chicago of the Seventh Province of College Home Economics clubs as a delegate from CSTC.)

As I stepped into the lobby of the Allerton Hotel, I was impressed by the sense of American comfort and hospitality and was relieved to know that I was to spend the next two days in such an atmosphere. My first acquaintances were Wisconsin girls, since I shared a suite of rooms with them. The fact that I lunched with a fellow Sigma Zetan from another college made me feel that this is really a small world after all.

The next hour I spent assisting Miss Florence Bahr from Madison in registering the 72 representatives and their advisers from the 24 colleges present. The rest of the afternoon was very profitably spent in listening to a program presented by the Chicago Business Home Economics club. The general subject was the future of Home Economists in business. That evening the girls divided into groups and were taken by guides to dine at well known restaurants in Chicago. From there many went to see Ethel Barrymore in "Joyous Season".

Discuss Grad Work

The next morning we assembled again in the Italian Room for further activity. The day's program was centered around group discussions. The most informative discussion was

C. C. Squirrel

"It's the Talk of the Town"—the guys are back. And don't think C.C. isn't humming the tune as lustily as the rest of you CSTCers. But like all squirrels, I'm always looking for nuts to crack and even nice things like this can start me hunting for solutions of problems of my favorite campus kids.

For instance, C.C. is wondering how rusty this lapse of campus social life has left us on the "what to do's" along the line of correctness. After all it's the little things in the field of manners that can make a red-letter date or just an evening that you'd like to tear out of your diary!

We all remember that the most useful introduction on informal as well as formal every day occasions is the mere pronouncing of two names, "Betty Coed—Handsome New", but where do we go from here?

"How do you do?" is the accepted reply. When a fellow or gal meets some one whom he has heard much about and has long wanted to meet it would be natural to say, "I am so glad to meet you". But no matter what you see before you, hold back the hubba-hubba enthusiasm and don't say, "Charmed" or "Where have you been all my life!" And never, "Pleased to meetcha".

And if you meet someone on the street or away from school, someone who has been in one of your classes, but who has never been introduced, remember CSTC is known as the friendly college. Just skip the formalities and give out with a bright "hello" if there is any sign of recognition. If the fellow says "hello" first he may be considered forward, but if a girl says "hello" first she is just the one in which all the possibilities and phases of graduate work in Home Economics were analyzed. In addition to these discussions, representatives were chosen for state and province offices. Miss Marjorie Wiels from Milwaukee-Downer was the province nominee for national office.

That evening everyone donned her best bib and tucker and gathered at the Normandy House for a dinner meeting in the quaint Mexican Room. There we had a delicious dinner served by waitresses in Mexican costumes. Dr. Ojeman from Iowa State University, the principal speaker, talked on family relations.

Saturday morning the Province workshop was concluded with a general meeting and the installation of new officers. Thus came to a close a weekend happily spent in the Windy City.

"Joe College" Phrase Replaces "GI Joe"

To coin a phrase, "G.I. Joe" is now "Joe College", and as such is entitled to certain benefits and guidance from the government. In Stevens Point the place for him to find out just "what gives" is the Counseling Center located here in the college.

The Center is open to all returned veterans from this area who wish to go into some vocation and are entitled to receive the services it renders. E. T. Hawkins is in charge of this veterans' guidance program, with Arthur Unger and George Riley as assistants. They contact the vets and schedule appointments for them.

Joe then reports for his preliminary interview, which lasts about an hour. During this time, Mr. Hawkins discusses his family background, former education, interests and hobbies, previous working experience, and just what job, technical or otherwise he qualified for in the service and, last but not least what Joe, himself, has been considering.

Takes Many Tests

Joe then reports to Dr. Nels O. Reppen and Mrs. Allie Schunk to take a series of tests that have been determined by the interview. Joe must take about five tests in the course of three and a half hours, tests pertaining to intelligence, interest, personality and mechanical aptitude. All of these are tests approved by the Veterans' Administration.

When he is through with these, he has an interview with Dr. Reppen. They go over all the results and determine which vocation is best. Then they both report to Mr. Hawkins and the three of them talk it over. The objective chosen must be something Joe can go into after graduation, something practical for which his education will prepare him.

The brief on his case must be sent to the headquarters at Wood, Wisconsin, for approval, after which they send it back and Joe is notified to start his training program, which comes under the jurisdiction of Mr. Riley. He helps Joe choose his school and aids him in choosing the subjects to be taken.

So far 46 "Joes" have reported for this guidance and their advisement is completed. In helping each Joe, these service officers keep in mind any disability a veteran may have.

NOTICES

Student Council meeting minutes will be typed and displayed on the main bulletin board in front of the library and also on the Student Council bulletin board. The Student Council is the representative of the student body and welcomes constructive criticism and any suggestions for the betterment of the school.

Students graduating from four year courses in June, or at the end of the 1946 summer session, are urged to get the necessary blanks for credentials at the Training School Office. These blanks are to be filled in and returned to the Training School office as soon as possible.

Dorm Doin's

by Marion

"Hurray for George," rang through the halls last week as Dormites packed their suitcases to leave for the weekend, a weekend lengthened by the addition of Washington's birthday as a holiday. Nelson Hall was like a tomb until Sunday evening when the girls returned, bubbling over with the excitement of the vacation. Most of them had attended basketball games or tournaments, and the unanimous comment on the long weekend was, "It was grand, but it wasn't long enough!"

Jean Bredeson and her fiance attended the University Junior Prom in Madison last weekend. A birthday party in honor of Larry Peters was held in her room Wednesday night.

Lucille Vaughan and Lucille Lemsky are cultivating the attentions of a couple of gray squirrels. Vaughan bribed her little friend with chocolate peanuts, which were so fascinating that he followed her nearly to the door on the front porch at Nelson Hall. Lemsky coaxed "Oscar" inside the fire escape door on second where he sat eating with the greatest of poise, till a group of curious girls came up and frightened him out.

The February birthday girls enjoyed a party given for them in Nelson Hall's dining room Tuesday night. Decorations followed a Washington's Birthday theme, with a cherry tree as a centerpiece and small red hatchets as place cards. Guests at the dinner were Miss May Roach, Miss Edna Carlsten, and Mrs. Theresa Higgins. Mrs. Higgins' birthday is on George Washington's birthday. (Truthful Tracy!)

Last Wednesday at 5 p.m. Alice Klake became the bride of Jack Davis at a ceremony performed in Waupaca. The newly-weds spent their honeymoon in Milwaukee.

Two fellows wandered into the Dorm one morning last weekend and decorated the sign-out slip with scrolls, flowers and little notes to the girls whose names appeared on the slip.

One of the girls was called from Klink's to take a telephone call at the Dorm, only to discover it was a friend asking her to drop over to the Eat Shop.

Nelson Hall voted to put on a minstrel show for the Mardi Gras. Have you begun working on your skit yet? Don't forget the masquerade ball! We'll see you at the Mardi Gras next Tuesday.

Forum To Give Party

All Forum members are invited to attend a party tonight at 7 o'clock in the Training School gym. Each member may bring a guest.

During the evening juke-box dancing will be enjoyed. Bud Hardrath is in charge of the music. The entertainment committee, headed by Karl Paape, will present a movie. The refreshment committee, of which Dolores Cowles is chairman, will serve a lunch.

Have Initiation Dinner

Alpha Kappa Rho, honorary music fraternity, held its second semester initiation dinner at the Colonial Room of the Point Cafe on Monday, February 25, at 6:30 p.m.

President Eulah Walter welcomed the pledges, Betty Ruth Crawford and Esther Davidson, and former members, Rolly McManners, Steve Speidel, Johnny Edwards, Jack Perry, Harold Kahler and Louie Hammel. Herbert R. Steiner and Miss Sue Colman expressed appreciation for the part which the boys have played in making it possible for them to come back and once again participate in work of the organization. Peter J. Michelsen extended a standing invitation for next year's initiation to senior members who were attending their last initiation ceremony.

At the Michelsen's Treble Clef House a formal initiation ceremony was performed, followed by a program by the new members, Esther Davidson and Betty Ruth Crawford. Dolores Cowles sang two solos to conclude the program. A business meeting was held at which plans for an April concert were made.

Guests of the evening were Miss Colman, Miss Helen Meston, Mr. and Mrs. Steiner and Mrs. Michelsen.

Mardi Gras is a French expression meaning fat Tuesday, and refers to an obsolete French custom of leading a fat ox through the streets during the festival parade usually held just before the Lenten season.

Climaxes The Season

In America it has been celebrated by the people of New Orleans since 1827. In that city, Mardi Gras Day is the climax of a carnival season. From dawn until sunset, the streets are filled with masked revelers in costume.

At CSTC the Mardi Gras has been held in many forms. One of the first was the Fair and Supper which started about 1907. Later this evolved into a vaudeville affair in which each college organization had a part. Outstanding skits were frequently put on by the faculty. The object of these events was to make money for the Pointer and Iris.

Later it was decided to have this festival in the spring and call it the Mardi Gras. This, also, has varied from a large carnival with stunts, games and dancing to just a plain costume ball.

considered friendly. (But, men, the motto of Wisconsin is "Forward"!).

When you're walking with some honey down Main street lane, there's only one place for the fellow and you know where—but two gals and one fellow may confuse the proper thinking. The lucky fellow in this case still takes the curb side.

Since eating is always bound to present itself in the conversation, are you in the know about who orders the hamburgers and malteds (more power to you if it turns out to be steak) when you actually do have a waiter at hand? The old rule recommended that a gal gave her order to her date, who in turn gave it to the waiter, who had patiently been standing by with a deaf ear. It is now agreed that the simplest way is for each to give his own order to the waiter, the girl first.

And, girls, hair combing in public is still taboo—for sanitary as well as social reasons—so let's keep it as private as brushing teeth. As for make-up, touch up a bit if you must but if you aren't smooth enough graciously excuse yourself to the powder room.

These few reminders ought to give you a fair start at being a personality who knows his "pleases" and "thank yous" — a personality who knows that good manners are merely appreciation of other people's sensibilities.
