

Girl's Glee Club To Begin Tour

The singing assembly scheduled for Thursday morning, March 14, has been postponed until a later date. On that day, the Girls' Glee club will leave CSTC at ten o'clock for Clintonville, where they will present a concert in the afternoon. That same evening they will travel to Tigerton to give a second concert.

These concerts will be divided into five parts. The first part will consist of the following songs: "America", from the symphony "America", by Ernst Block; "Steal Away", a Negro spiritual, arranged by Frederick Wick; "A Woodland Symphony", from the Fifth Symphony by Beethoven, with Marianne Simonson as soloist; "Ave Maris Stella", by Edward Grieg; "I Have a Mother in the Heavens", a white spiritual, arranged by Chas. F. Bryan, with soloist Esther Davidson.

For the second part of the program, Doris Ockerlander will pre-

SYMPATHY

CSTC's students and faculty extend sympathy to Dr. O. F. Nixon in the recent death of his mother.

Chi Delts Start Pledging Period

After a lull of three years due to Uncle Sam's requirements, Chi Delta Rho fraternity is now in full swing on the campus of CSTC. Following their first rushing party at Klink's, which was attended by 45 members and guests, the second pledge party was held at Klinks on March 10.

President Louis Pozluszny gave the orientation lecture after lunch was served. These instructions indoctrinated the new pledges in their duties and requirements as prospective actives of Chi Delta Rho. "Big Bill" McDonald was appointed the guardian over the new pledglings, in the roll of official pledge master. From Big Mac the boys will learn what to do and what not to do.

Norman E. Knutzen, faculty adviser of Chi Delta Rho, also informed the pledges as to the standards and ideals which will be each man's responsibility as a member of Chi Delta Rho. The following named men expressed their desire to become members of the Chi Delts and were accepted as pledges:

Oh Yes, the Males Can Do It Too!

Three CSTC men students are due for their share of honorable mention for high grade-point averages earned the first semester. The three are William Nikolai, a senior, who had a 3.0 average for 15 hours; Arthur Pejasa, a sophomore, 3.0 average for 10 hours and Charles Theisen, a freshman, who carried 17 hours and made a 3.0 average. The first two are returned veterans, while Charles, who was drafted in February, is now in the army.

Intramural Games Honors Announced

The Snafu Flyers won both of their games last week to cinch the championship in the first half of the Intramural basketball play. They smashed the Big Bucks 53-19, Monday night, with Porter and Worden sharing scoring honors with 15 and 12 points respectively. On Wednesday afternoon they snared the title by defeating the "7" Grams in a hard-fought thriller. After trailing 19-2 in the first period, the Grams came back with a strong rally, and the Flyers were extended to the limit to eke out a 36-33 victory. Porter of the Snafu Flyers and Elliot of the "7" Grams led their teams with 11 points each.

The Link Trainers shattered two league records as they beat the Big Bucks 70-43, Thursday afternoon. Their 70 points erased the old high mark of 67 points set by the Snafu Flyers, and "Buck" Gerdes' 27 points topped Art Hinek's individual record by six markers. The game total of 113 points is also a new high.

In other games last week, the Link Trainers whipped the Boys'

Junior High School To Present One-Act Plays

Regional Lab Meet To Be Held Here

A two day school, one of five regional laboratories being sponsored by the Wisconsin Recreational Laboratory association, will be held here this week Friday and Saturday.

Teachers in village schools and country schools will find it very helpful to have some training in recreational leadership, according to Quincy Doudna, who represents the state association which is sponsoring the laboratory.

"Smaller places cannot afford full time recreation leaders, so they must look to their schools for help," Mr. Doudna stated. "Teachers are often called upon to assist with youth centers, scout troops, 4-H clubs, etc.," he explained. "One cannot hope to become a full fledged recreational leader in a two day school," Mr. Doudna cautioned, "but it may be possible for further training to be given during the remainder of the college year for those who are interested."

Superintendents and boards of education, in selecting teachers, give preferences to those candidates who have shown evidences of leadership in extra-curricular and recreational

Phi Sigs Stage Get-Together

Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity staged a "get-together" with their pledges last Sunday night at the Hotel Whiting. Dr. Edgar F. Pierson, honorary member, presented a short talk which was followed by card games. Instructions and "all the dope" were given to the 16 pledges at this time by President Bill Carnahan.

The fraternity held its first party of the current rushing season in the main dining room of the Hotel Whiting on Thursday night, March 7. Bob Becker, a Phi Sig alumnus, spoke on the fraternity history.

No doubt you will be seeing these fellows in "performance duty" during the following weeks. Hell Night, March 29, will be the grand finale of the current rushing season and precedes the Pan-Hell dance on Saturday, March 30.

Will Be Given Friday, March 15

Mask and Wig, dramatic club of the M.D.B. Junior High school, will present three one-act plays in the College Auditorium on Friday, March 15, at seven-thirty o'clock.

The three plays, all comedies, are: "Call It a Day", coached by Patricia Snow and Louise Rogers; "A Bid to the Prom", coached by Betty Furstenburg; and "Elmer", coached by Ramona Putnam and Althea Boorman.

In the cast of "Call It a Day", leading characters include Tom Beach, Jean Jackson, Joe Strong, Joan Neale, Allan Summers, George Butler and Rhody Marquard. Approximately 30 other pupils are additional members of the cast.

In "Elmer" parts are played by Carl Podeweltz, Anne Gilfry, Dorothy Entzminger, Carl Wieman, Dale Summers, Greta Wisiol, Connie Martin, Janice Martens and Judy Clayton.

The cast of the play, "Bid to the Prom" includes Donna Hodgden, John Swanson, Sally Scribner and Carole Church.

Stage managers are Jack Martin and Dale Summers, and property man is Richard Wiener.

Pledge Sigma Tau

Second semester pledges of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, were given their pledge duties at a meeting held in the Student Lounge last Wednesday afternoon. A pledge ceremony was conducted by Eulah Walter, president of Sigma Tau, and Eunice Goeler, historian.

Pledges include Helen Firkus, Rosemary Nelson, Joyce Kopitzke, Helen Jacobson, Monica Gill, Clara Winter, Mary Lou Hutchins and Elizabeth McLaughlin.

Back the Red Cross

This week, throughout the city, the Business and Professional Women's club is sponsoring a drive for the American Red Cross. Miss May Roach, faculty member, is co-chairman of the drive.

Students who wish to become members of the Red Cross, and who wish to contribute one dollar or more, should take their contributions to the Record Office. Mrs. Arla Bender will fill in a membership card as a receipt for them.

Any amount less than one dollar may be left at the college information desk where a box will be placed especially for contributions. Students are reminded that any amount will be welcome and especially appreciated if it is in by the end of this week.

Dorm Doin's

by Marion

Dorm life is on the downbeat this week. On the sick list we find Lucille Lemsky, measles; Thelma McClyman, mumps; Dottie Below, appendicitis. We'll have to blame it on the weather, or on the Mardi Gras. Dormites were proud to bring home first prize on their minstrel show.

Of the six girls who sit at table 13, three are ill. Not that we're superstitious, but some of the rest of the girls say they don't feel too well. Kathleen Berg visited at the home of Dorothy Loberg in Nelsonville this weekend. Marie Eisenhammer attended the wedding of her cousin in Chicago on Saturday. This weekend Helen Trewartha entertained guests from Neillsville.

Dottie Below and Doris Ubbelohde spent an enjoyable Sunday afternoon on Rib Mt. Could be that appendicitis is due to too much exertion!

Vi Lindow stopped by over the weekend to visit us. She entertained several Dormites at supper at the Walter H. Hewitt home. Elaine Becker went home Saturday to visit a favorite aunt and Uncle from Colorado, whom she has not seen for 6 years. The fates seemed to be working against Elaine that day. She went down town twice to try to take the bus home, and twice she had to come back to Nelson Hall and sigh in again, because the bus was unable to get through the snow drifts. (She made it the third time!)

Everything happens on the weekend. Several popcorn parties were held on second floor, Saturday. Pictures were taken at a few, we're told.

Speaking of birthdays, a birthday party was given for Lucille Lemsky on second floor last week, complete with cake, gifts and the birthday song. The nicest part of it was that Lucille isn't a year older. Her birthday was in September before the parties began, so her club just naturally had to honor her later.

NOTICE

Newman club members please see bulletin board before Thursday evening and have your questions prepared for group discussion.

Omegas Pledge Twenty-one Girls

At a candle light ceremony Sunday evening, March 10, 21 girls were pledged to Omega Mu Chi Sorority. The pledging ceremony followed a buffet supper held at Hotel Whiting.

Lucille Vaughan, president, acted as toastmistress, welcoming the pledges and introducing Mrs. Charles Cashin, patroness, who spoke for a few minutes. Lucille introduced and welcomed back Mrs. Albert Harris, a former honorary member. She presented Miss Syble Mason, a former faculty adviser, with a gift, as a token of the sorority's esteem.

Other guests were Mrs. Carl Jacobs and Mrs. Palmer Taylor, patronesses, Mrs. Harold Tolo, honorary member, Miss Bertha Glennon and Mrs. Mary Samter, faculty advisers.

The centerpiece on the buffet table was a white pottery bowl of daffodils and purple sweet-peas, between pewter candelabra holding white tapes. There was a single white candle on each small table. The pledges received novelty white pottery vases with cactus plants as favors.

Fairyland Built By Primaries

"Welcome to Elfin Land" hangs above a gaily decorated archway leading into the third grade fairyland at the training school.

Typical of fairyland is the tree trunk with doily curtains, which is the home of "The old man of the Woods". Present, too, on the scene is the wishing well and the red and white peppermint striped candy-tree on which hang elves and fairies made by the class. A rainbow with pot of gold arches over a stone wall behind which, as one of the youngsters put it, lurks the bad witch.

Life size wild animals made by a CSTC art class are to be seen peering out from the cave and behind the tree trunks. Hung around the room are paintings in keeping with the theme.

A program of original fairy stories and plays is planned for the parents in the near future. With the money made from their Valentine Store, lollipops will be bought for the guests to pick from the candy-tree.

THEM IRISH!

The Irish are back again! Yes, begorra and cushlamachree! St. Patrick's day has come around once more, and this year we find the ranks of Irishers are more than doubled. Miss May Roach still leads the parade, though; in fact, each year we wait to see if the entire Rural dept. won't blossom forth in green on March 17, but as yet nothing quite that colossal has happened. Immediately following Miss Roach in the Green ranks are such Irish notables as Miss Bertha Glennon, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, Mary Murphy, Bill Carnahan, Jim Crumney, Jim Sullivan, and Dolores Cowles. And that is only the beginning!

But right here we must mention the age old controversy between the red-headed Irishers and the black-headed Irishers. It seems that the more we inquire of either group, the more heated the argument becomes; that is, which are the true Irish stock, the "reds" or the "blacks". Far be it from us to decide the issue, but we do find the two sides well represented in school. Upholding the brunette case are Ed and Loretta Fenelon, Foster Diley, Bill Mellin, Elizabeth McLaughlin, and Lucille Vaughan. Not to be daunted, the redheads are represented by Miss Margaret Ritchie, Monica Gill, Earl Catter, Pat Elliot, and Connor Dieneen.

And so it goes. Each year we ask ourselves and others just what is it about Irish blood that sets apart its possessors from the rest of us? And each year we find the question still unanswered. We might, however, mention some Irish traits, to begin with, the Irish brand of humor. We're afraid the Pat Mike jokes will never die. (Shall we trample on Joe Miller's grave?) Not to mention the old pun about the man who got a transfusion of Irish blood and be-

Intramural League Begins Second Half

The intramural basketball league began the second half of their schedule Monday night. In the opener, the Boys' Study club beat the "7" Grams, 43-25. The second game was a closely contested affair in which the Snafu Flyers, first half champions, defeated the up-and-coming Link Trainers, 35-33. The Smokey Foooves whipped the Big Bucks in the nightcap, 51-27.

High scorers for the night were as follows: Brunner, 18 points; Emmons, 13 points; Lane, 10 points; Podvin, 10 points; Frickey, 10 points.

Tau Gamma Beta Pledges Named

Following a turkey dinner served at Hotel Whiting, eight girls were pledged to the Tau Gamma Beta sorority at a candle-light ceremony, Sunday evening, March 10.

Clare Winter as toastmistress, introduced Carolyn Krogness, who spoke on what sorority means to her. Lenore Arnette, a pledge, told the girls what she expects sorority to mean to her. Doris Ockerlander gave a musical reading, "Spring Fever", and Mary Juetten sang "The Desert Song" at the conclusion of the program.

At the head of the T-shaped table was a centerpiece of white tulips and lavender iris supporting several thin white candles. Three bowls of mixed flowers and white tapers completed the decorations.

After the pledge ceremony there was group singing around the piano. Nuts, mints and lemonade were served.

Guests were Miss Mildred Davis, honorary member, Mrs. Robert Schunk, alumna, Mrs. Mildred Williams and Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, faculty advisers.

The pledges are Darlene Morren, Lenore Arnette, Marianne Simonson, Verle Krienke, Loretta Fenelon, Jean Neale, Pat Lavers, and Jeannette See.

gan to speak with a brogue! (No, no, we didn't originate that!) To get on with the characteristics, we ask what blood IS thicker than an Irishman's? They all stick together like flies in honey, and there's no need to remind you that to anger one is to anger them all. But after all is said and done, we'll just have to forgive them, for, as it has been mentioned time and again, they were born that way.

Don't think we've forgotten all the rest of you Emerald islanders; Marion Carew, Ellen Gordon, Bill Ritchay, Joan and Ann Kelley, Don O'Brien, Pat Snow, and to top it off Harold Irish. (Harold admits he's only part Irish, but even that bit can be trying.) So the rest of you "furriners" had better heed this warning and prepare yourselves for the green deluge that is sure to come the remainder of this week. In closing, we have to remind ourselves of one Irishman who said, (and incidentally did a good job of summing up the whole thing): "A sense of humor is like a shillelagh; it's a good thing to have around, especially when the joke is on you."

To Offer New Course

As a result of recent faculty action, a new course called "Colloquium on Important Books" will be included in the 1946 catalog. It will be offered next year and will be under the direction of Dr. Warren G. Jenkins.

The course will include a group reading and discussion of eight complete books of eight different authors from the Greek era to the present. The colloquium will be a two year cycle of four parts, each part giving two credits. The catalog names will be Colloquium 201, 202, 203, and 204.

Says Dr. Jenkins, who presented the details of the course to the faculty: "The colloquium is planned as an interdepartmental course with instructors from different departments participating in the discussion of those books which relate to the subject matter of their various departments.

"It is planned that this colloquium be a two year cycle of reading and discussion of great books from the age of Homer to today. The initial section will be under the guidance of one instructor who will have the occasional assistance of instructors from other departments as they are willing and have the available time.

Each section will have a limited enrollment, and if the enrollment should at any time pass that limit, a second section under another instructor will be provided.

"The parts of the course, although numbered in sequence, need not be taken in that numerical sequence. Each part will include the reading and discussion of books both ancient and modern, and there will be sufficient flexibility in the choice of books to satisfy the interests of each section.

"It is hoped that this course may help students improve their reading ability, increase their desire to know what great minds have thought, evaluate the theories of the twentieth century in the light of the human learning of the past three thousand years, and by giving them this introduction to stimulating thought, incline them to continue such reading and thinking after they leave college. This course is planned neither with the intention of limiting enrollment to students with high scholastic records nor with the intention of making 'scholars' of them; on the contrary it is believed that as many students and citizens as possible, especially teachers, should be acquainted with these masterpieces."

Primary Council Meets

Jane Miller presented several recordings of old Norse fairy tales at a Primary Council meeting in Studio A on Monday night. The stories were recorded by Mrs. Gudrun Thorne-Thomsen and prepared by the American Library Association.

The recordings included translations of "Gudbrand-on-the-Hillside", "Sleeping Beauty", "Baldur" and "Tales from the Volsunga Saga".

Miss Gertie Hanson conducted a discussion of the recordings.

To Have Supper

Members of Wesley Foundation will gather at St. Paul's Methodist church at 5:30 next Sunday afternoon for a St. Patrick's Day supper. In charge of the supper is Marjorie Beawer, assisted by Jean Neale, Elaine Becker, Ann Huntzicker and Mary Noble. A worship service, conducted by Doris Ubbelohde, will follow the supper.

All Wesleys who plan to attend the supper should sign the notice on the Wesley bulletin board by Thursday afternoon.

At a meeting last Thursday night, Marjorie Beawer led an interesting discussion of the topic, "The Effect of College Life on Religion". Plans were made for a joint meeting to be held with LSA on April 4.

Wesley pictures for the Iris will be taken this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the third floor studio. All members are urged to be present.

Have Discussion

Betty Maki, president of LSA, conducted a devotional meeting at the Parish house on Thursday evening, March 7.

Evelyn Hougum presented the topic "Forgive Us Our Trespases", which was followed by a discussion.

After a brief business meeting the group adjourned and went to the First English Lutheran church to hear Rev. A. W. Dickhart, from Lutheran Bible Institute, deliver the first of a series of Lenten sermons.

Plan Concert

A regular meeting of Alpha Kappa Rho was held at the Treble Clef house, Peter J. Michelsen's home, Monday evening. During the business meeting plans were made for the Alpha Kap concert to be given on April 11 at an assembly. Mixed chorus numbers were sung by the group after the meeting. Cookies were served by Eulah Walter.

Students who plan to attend the Recreation Laboratory should pay the $1.00 registration fee Wednesday afternoon at the booth across from the library. This should be done Wednesday, as going from 10 o'clock classes to the Recreation Lab, will not allow time for registration on Friday.

A list compiled from Wednesday's registration will enable Mr. Doudna to know which students will have to be excused from classes. This includes not only Rural division students but also all students who have registered for the laboratory.

Senior Rural students are busy unpacking the art exhibits which are continuing to come in this week. The exhibit of rural art by Wisconsin amateur artists will be hung in the Art room through March 28.

Following this, the entire glee club will sing "Green Sleeves", an old English lute melody, with Dolores Cowles singing the solo; "Music of Life" by Noble Cain; "Cavatina", a choral paraphrase by Joachim Raff, with the flute obligato by Peter J. Michelsen.

A piano solo by Rosemary Nelson, the accompanist for the Girls' Glee club, and a vocal solo by Dolores Cowles will make up the fourth part of the concert.

The entire group will conclude the program with: "I'll See You Again", by Noel Coward, including a trio consisting of Esther Davidson, Dolores Cowles, and LaVerne Haskins; "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows", by Harry Carroll, and "Symphony" by Alstone.
