Oh Yes, the Males Can Do It Too!

Three CSTC men are due for their share of honorable mention for high grade-point averages earned during the first semester. The three are William Nikolai, a senior, who had a marks average of 15 points, Ray Pejas, a sophomore, 3.0 average of these hovered around the 10 hours and Charles Theisen, a freshman, who carried 17 hours and 67 points is also 2.0 average. Charles, who was drafted in February, is now in the army.

Interrumal Games Honors Announced

The Snafu Flyers won both of their games last week to cinch the championship in the first half of the Intramural basketball play. They smashed the Big Bucks 53-19, Monday night, with Porter and Worden sharing honors with 15 and 12 points respectively. On Wednesday afternoon they snatched the title by defeating the "77" Grams in a hard-fought thriller. After trailing 19-2 in the first period, the Grams came back with a strong rally, and the Flyers were extended to the limit to eke out a 36-33 victory. Porter of the Snafu Flyers and Elliot of the "77" Grams led their teams with 11 points each.

The Link Trainers shattered two league records as they beat the Big Bucks 70-43, Thursday afternoon. Their 70 points erased the old high mark of 67 points set by the Snafu Flyers, and "Buck Gerde" took 27 points armed Art Hinck's individual record by six markers. The game total of 113 points is also a new high.

In other games last week, the Link Trainers whipped the Boys.

To Exchange Play

"Blithe Spirit", which was so successfully produced by the College Theater, will be staged again when the same cast of characters will present it at Eau Claire State Teachers college on March 18.

Members of the cast are: Bill Mellin as Charles, Althea Boorman as Edith, Helen Firkus as Ruth, Ray Minton as Dr. Bradman, Louise Rogers as Mrs. Bradman, Ramona Putnam and Althea Boorman as Phoebe, and Pat Snow as Elvira.

The technical crew that will make the trip includes: Bill Ritchay, Bob Koziak, Jim Joyce, Ray Minford, Steve Strickland, Henry Feldman, Elizabeth Hinsen, and Pat Tomlinson.

Regional Lab Meet To Be Held Here

A two day school, one of five regional laboratories being sponsored by the American Red Cross, will hold its annual laboratory association, will be held here this week Friday and Saturday.

Teachers in village schools and country schools will find it very helpful to have some training in recreational leadership, according to Quincy Doudna, who represents the state association, which is sponsoring the laboratory.

"Smaller places cannot afford full time recreation leaders, so they must turn to their schools for help," Mr. Doudna stated. "Teachers are often called upon to assist with youth centers, scout troops, 4-H clubs, etc.," he explained. "One cannot become a full fledged recreational leader in a two day school." Mr. Doudna cautioned, "but it may be possible for further training to be given during the remainder of the college year for those who are interested." The leaders are appointed by student bodies and recreation authorities, in selecting teachers, give preferences to those candidates who have shown evidences of leadership in extra-curricular and recreational work.

Chi Delta Start Pledging Period

After a full of three years due to Uncle Sam's requirements, Chi Delta Rho, fraternity spirit is now in full swing on the campus of CSTC. Following their first rushing party at Klink's, which was attended by 45 members and guests, the second pledge party was held at Klink's on March 10.

President Louis Poulszy gave the orientation lecture after lunch was served. He then proceeded to diagrammatically the new pledges in their duties and requirements as prospective actives of Chi Delta Rho. "Big Bill" McDonald was appointed the guardian over the new pledgers, in the roll of official pledge master. From Big Mac the boys will learn what fraternity is all about.

Norman E. Knutzen, faculty ad­viser of Chi Delta Rho, also informed the pledges as to the standards and ideals which will be each man's responsibility as a member of Chi Delta Rho. The following named men expressed their desire to become members of the Chi Deltas and were accepted.

Pledge Sigma Tau

Second semester pledges of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary Eng­lish fraternity, were given their pledge duties at a meeting held in the Student Lounge last Wednesday afternoon. A pledge ceremony was conducted by Eudal Walter, presi­dent of Sigma Tau, and Eunice Goeler, historian.

Pledges include Helen Firkus, Rosemary Nelson, Joyce Kopitske, John Swinford, Sally Scribben, and Carole Church.

Touring the cast of "Call It a Day," leading characters include Tom Beach, Jean Jackson, Joe Strong, Joan Nesle, Allan Summers, George Butler and Rhody Marquard. Approximately 30 other pupils are additional members of the cast.

"One of the parts is played by Carl Podewitz, Anne Gilfry, Doro­thy Entzminger, Carl Wieman, Dale Summers, Gretta Wisol, Connie Martin, Janice Martens and Judy Clayton.

The cast of the play, "The Bid to Prom," includes Donna Hodge, John Swinford, Sally Scribben and Carole Church.

Stage managers are Jack Martin and Bartko, foreman, and property man is Richard Wiener.

Dorm Doin's
by Marion

Dorm life is on the downbeat this week. On the sick list we find Lucille Lemsky, measles; Thelma McAlarney, mumps; Dottie Below, appendicitis. Dottie Below, who was to go home on Saturday, had to be gone on the weather, or on the Mardi Gras. Dormites were proud to bring home first prize on their minstrel show.

Of the six girls who sit at table 13, three are ill. Not that we're per­ sistent, but some of the rest of the girls say they don't feel too well. Kathleen Berg visited at the home of Dorothy Loberg in Nelsonville this weekend. Marie Eisenhauer attended the wedding of her cousin in Chicago on Saturday. This weekend Helen Trevartha entertained guests from Neilsville.

Dottie Below and Doris Unbeholde spent an enjoyable Sunday afternoon on Rib Mt. Could be that appendicitis is due to too much exertion!

I think I'll stop by over the weekend to visit us. She entertained several Dormites at supper at the Walter H. Hewitt home. Elaine Becker went home Saturday to visit a favorite aunt and Uncle from Colorado, whom she has not seen in years and a half. She was not feeling very well but seeing Elaine that day, she went down town twice to try to take the bus home, and twice she came back to Nelson Hall and sign in again, because the bus was unable to get through the snow drifts. (She made it the third time!) Everything happens on the weekend.

Several popcon parties were held on second floor, Saturday. Pictures were taken at a few, we're told.

Speaking of birthdays, a birthday party was given for Lucille Lemsky on second floor last week, complete with cake, gifts and the birthday song. The nicest part of it was that Lucille isn't a year older. Her birthday was in September before the parties began, so her club just naturally had to honor her later.

Dolores Jelinek, Margaret Guth, and Betty Ann Richardson left on Sunday for a debate contest in Minne­ polis.

Newman club members please see bulletin board before Thursday evening and have your questions prepared for group discussion.

Omega's Pledge

Twenty-one Girls

At a candle light ceremony Sunday evening, March 10, 21 girls were pledged to Omega Mu Chi Sorority.

The pledging ceremony followed a buffet supper held at Hotel Whiting.

Lucille Vaughan, president, addressed the pledges and introducing Mrs. Charles Cashin, patroness, who spoke for a few minutes. Lucille introduced Mrs. Alice Harris, a former member, she presented Miss Syble Mason, a former faculty adviser, with a gift as a token of the sorority's esteem.

Other guests were Mr. Carl Jacob and Mr. Palmer Taylor, patronesses, Mr. Harold Tolo, Honor Member, Miss Bertha Glennon, and Mrs. Mary Samter, faculty ad­ visers.

The centerpiece on the buffet table was a white pottery bowl filled with colorful sweets, and between pewter candy holders white tapers. There was a single white candle on each small table.

The other sweets received back to Nelson Hall and sign in again, because the bus was unable to get through the snow drifts. (She made it the third time!) Everything happens on the weekend.

Fairlyland Built By Primaries

Welcome to Elfin Land! hangs above the brightly decorated stage, leading into the third grade fairy­ land at the training school.

Typical of fairyland is the tree trunk with doily curtains, which is the home of "The older folk of the woods". Present, too, on the scene is the wishing well and the red and white peppermint striped candy­tree on which the sugar elves are made by the class. A rainbow with pot of gold arches over a stone wall behind which, as one of the young­sters put it, lurks the bad witches.

Life size wild animals made by a CST art class are to be seen peering out from the cave and behind the trees. Hung around the room are paintings in keeping with the theme.

A program of original fairy stories is planned for the parents in the near future. With the money made from their Valentine Store, jellipops will be bought for the guests to pick from the candy­tree.

Tau Gamma Beta Pledges Named

Following a turkey dinner served at Hotel Whiting, eight girls were pledged to the Tau Gamma Beta Sorority at a圣诞 dinner, Sunday evening, March 10.

Clare Winter as toastmistress, intro­duced Carolyn Krogness, who spoke on what sorority means to her. Loretta Moore mentioned the girls who what she expects sorority to mean to her. Doris Ockerlander gave a musical reading. "Spring Fever", and "Mary Jane".

After the pledge ceremony there was group singing around the pisono. Nuts, mints and lemonade were served.

Guests were Miss Mildred Davis, honorary member, Mrs. Robert Schunk, alums, Mrs. Mildredre We­lliams and Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, family members.

The pledges are Darlene Morris, Lenore Arnette, Marianne Simonson, Barbara Krenke, Loretta Fenelon, Jean Neale, Pat Lavers and Jeanette See.

To speak with a brogue! (No, we didn't originate that.) To get on with the characteristics, we ask what blood IS thicker than an Irishman's? They all stick together like flies in honey, and there's no need to remind you that to anger one is to anger them all. But all is said and done, we'll just have to forgive them, for it has been mentioned time and again, they were born that way.

Don't think we've forgotten all the other families. Marion Carew, Ellen Gordon, Bill Ritchay, Joan and Ann Kelley, Don O'Brien, Pat Snow, and to top it off the students received novelties (not only Irish, but even Irish, even Irish) that is, four to try on. But if they have tried on. But if they have tried on. But if they have played with. And let's not forget the Irish brand of humor. We're afraid the Pat Mike jokes will be tried on. Shall we trample on Joe Miller's grave?) Not to mention the old pun about the man who got a trans­fusion of Irish blood and be­
To Offer New Course

As a result of recent faculty action, a new course called "Colloquium on Important Books" will be included in the 1946 catalog. It will be offered next year and will be under the direction of Dr. Warren G. Jenkins.

The course will include a general reading and discussion of eight complete books of eight different authors from the Greek era to the present. The colloquium will be a two year cycle of parts, each part giving two credits. The catalog names will be Colloquium 201, 202, 203, and 204.

Says Dr. Jenkins, who presented the details of the course to the faculty: "The colloquium is planned as an interdepartmental course with instructors from different departments participating in the discussion of those books which relate to the subject matter of their various departments.

It is planned that this colloquium be a two year cycle of reading and discussion of great books from the age of Homer to today. The initial section will be under the guidance of one instructor who will have the occasional assistance of instructors from other departments as they are willing and have the available time.

Each section will have a limited enrollment, and if the enrollment should at any time pass that limit, a second section under another instructor will be provided.

"The parts of the course, although numbered in sequence, need not be taken in that numerical sequence. Each part will include the reading and discussion of books both ancient and modern, and there will be sufficient flexibility in the choice of books to satisfy the interests of each section.

"It is hoped that this course may help students improve their reading ability, increase their desire to know what great minds have thought, evaluate the theories of the twentieth century in the light of the human learning of the past three thousand years, and by giving them this introduction to stimulating thought, incline them to continue such reading and thinking after they leave college. This course is planned neither with the intention of limiting enrollment to students with high scholastic records nor with the intention of making "scholar" of them; on the contrary it is believed that as many students and citizens as possible, especially teachers, should be acquainted with these masterpieces,"

Holds First Session

The student-faculty bowling league holds its first session at 7 o'clock this evening at the South Side bowling alleys. The schedule for tonight consists of: Chi Dels vs. Faculty; Phi Sigs vs. "7" Grams; Lobbers vs. Team 7; Klink's vs. Team 8. In the future, the schedule will be posted on the Phy Ed bulletin board each week.

Our sincere thanks to the Freshman class who nominated us and to our many friends who voted for us in the recent King and Queen contest held in conjunction with the Mardi Gras. It made us very happy.

Primary Council Meets

Jane Miller presented several recordings of old Norse fairy tales at a Primary Council meeting in Studio A on Monday night. The stories were recorded by Mrs. Gudrun Thorne-Thomsen and prepared by the American Library Association.

The recordings included translations of "Gudbrand-on-the-Hillside", "Sleeping Beauty", "Balder" and "Tales from the Volsunga Saga". Miss Gertie Hanson conducted a discussion of the recordings.

To Have Supper

Members of Wesley Foundation will gather at St. Paul's Methodist church at 5:30 next Sunday afternoon for a St. Patrick's Day supper. In charge of the supper is Marjorie Beawer, assisted by Jean Neale, Elaine Becker, Ann Huntzicker and Mary Noble. A worship service, conducted by Doris Ubbelohde, will follow the supper.

All Wesleys who plan to attend the supper should sign the notice on the Wesley bulletin board by Thursday afternoon.

At a meeting last Thursday night, Marjorie Beawer led an interesting discussion of the topic, "The Effect of College Life on Religion". Plans were made for a joint meeting to be held with LSA on April 4.

Wesley pictures for the Iris will be taken this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the third floor studio. All members are urged to be present.
