prominent festivities on the Dorm's spring social calendar, to be held on Saturday, May 4.

Tall yellow tapers and yellow the tables. Small corsages, tokens of appreciation, are to be at each mother's place.

daughter, Mary, and Mrs. William C.
Hansen and Helen are to be guests at the affair.

Immediately after the banquet a short, informal program is to be held. Talks are to be given by Mrs.
Pfiffner and Miss Rose Barber. Doris

Mary Maki will edit the 1946-47
Pointer, according to an announcement made today by Miss Bertha Glenmon, Pointer adviser. Betty Maki will be the business manager.

Mary, whose home is in Clintonville, is a sophomore in the secondary division. Her major is chemistry.

Active in publication work, Mary was on the staff of her high school newspaper. She has served on the Pointer staff the last two years as a typist, publicity editor and news editor.

During her two years as a student here, she has been active in extracurricular work. She is vice-president of Newman Club and a mem­

Phi Sigs To Sponsor Formal Dinner Dance

The Alumni association of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, which has recently reorganized, will sponsor a formal dinner-dance on Saturday, May 25, at Hotel Whiting. The dinner-dance will be held by popular request of the many Phi Sig alumni who are back from the service, plus those out in the teaching and business fields.

The Alumni association of Phi Sigma Epsilon extends an invitation to members at CSTC to attend its Alumni meeting and dinner-dance.

The student body has worked on and its formal dance beginning at 9 o'clock at Hotel Whiting.

All members of Phi Sigma Epsilon should mail their reservations to secretary Bob Becker, 422
Clark St., Stevens Point, before Saturday, May 18.
3rd Graders Construct Pioneer Kitchen Unit

The third graders of the Training School are building a constructed kitchen and a covered-wagon in connection with the pioneer unit they are studying. The traditional fire-places and cooking utensil are to be found in their kitchen.

Dorothy Radtke, Althea Westfall, and Jean Huescher, the students who will graduate in the Primary division, recently visited the Wausau schools in which they will be teaching next fall.

How to recognize the wild flowers, which ones are not to be picked, and the correct way to pick them is a topic for the fourth graders. They have planted tomato seeds and flax and are anxiously watching their growth.

"Books We Like, and Poems We Wrote" is an interesting publication of the fourth grade. It contains a book report of all of the poems inspired by the season. Every youngster has contributed something to the project.

Dr. Trytten to Speak

A meeting of the Parish Forum of the Church of the Intercession will be held Monday evening, May 6, at 7:30 o'clock in the Parish House.

Dr. Roland Trytten of the college chemistry department will lecture and lead a discussion on the nuclear physics of the atom bomb. The Reverend Edward C. Lewis, rector of the church, will be moderator.

The Nuclear Fission and Moral Fissures involving the moral and political issues of the atom bomb.

The general public is welcome to attend.

Junior High School to Hold Forensic Meet

The thirteenth annual forensic contest of the Mary D. Bradford Junior High School will be held on Friday, May 3, at 7:15 p.m., in the College auditorium.

Dr. Swanson, of which John Swanson is chairman, will open with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Following this, the following questions were debated: "Resolved that one year of full time military training be required of every able-bodied male citizen of the U.S. before attaining the age of 25 years.

On the seventh grade affirmative team are Barbara Dehart, Rhody Marquard, Joan Neale, and Rod Can, alternate. The seventh grade negative team includes Tom Beach, Donald Taylor, Bill Greton, and Joan Neale, alternate. Dr. Nels O. Reppen will judge the debate.

On the eighth grade affirmative team are Donna Johnson, May Johnson, and Joan Neale, "Sec For Two". Leland M. Burroughs will judge the debate.

By far educators expect at least 70,000 ex-G.I.'s to be enrolled in colleges and universities throughout the United States. Some of the state universities are already overcrowded. So far 41% of all back-to-school G.I.'s have packed into 38 schools, largely ignoring 712 other fully accredited institutions.

Last month the University of Michigan reported an enrollment of 13,714, the largest in its 109 year history. The State and Purdue have already begun to turn down out-of-state applicants. The American Council on Education estimates that 250,000 total enrollment will be 25 per cent above the peak figure of 1,400,000 reached in 1939-40.

If that computation will apply to enrollment at CSTC, we may expect 1,490 students next fall, for our total enrollment in 1939-40 was 1,192, including a college enrollment of 820 and a high school, special and post graduate students.

Ex-G.I. students are welcome on our campus because they are generally very personal and friendly. Some are returning from a seasonal and, better stimulated by a greater ambition to excel in their work than the average student. To quote the New York Times, "The thirst for higher education among our veterans, unexpectedly widespread, is a healthy symptom that should be encouraged."

Under The Rug

with Dave

Well, the exam schedules are out! One nice thing about them is that they always appear early enough to give us a head start. Just about a month left, this time.

We've heard that Mr. Michelson's boys are going to be making fried chicken with band alums last weekend.

Anyway all the girls drifted over there in search of ties to wear with their uniforms, and we're sure the dear of her death, Prof. Dave, hadn't that many himself!

Of course you've seen all the lounges on the campus these last few days. They're all free and blissful and happy. Have you seen the Millie Ross-Steve Spie­del-two-some-strolling arm in arm? If we catch you behind recent develop­ments you'll be interested to know that they have become engaged, by gum!

All the lovely weather may be outside, but Rene LaMaide seems to bring a lot in with her; it's her glowing expression, have you noticed?

We caught Miss Barber dig­ging in the Dorm lawn the other day. Her reason? Transplanting the shrubbery.

If you read bulletin boards you've noticed that very shortly the Men's Glee club will give a concert in the auditorium here. On the side we've been hearing that you use any stray tuxedos any male might have around school; the tail fellows (40 long) have been having quite a few. If you can't find yours, fit, so anyone can accommodate them by all means see Mr. Knutzen.

Attend Convention

Bess Jones, Betty June Maki, Kathryn Peterson, Betty Haberkorn and Frances Kutchner, accompanied by Miss Beasie May Allen, were CSTC representatives at a con­vention of the Wisconsin Home Economics College clubs in Madison last week.

The convention opened at 8:30 o'clock on Saturday morning with a group of panel discussions on the following topics: "Malini: Your Home & Club Outstanding," "Keeping Your Membership and Raising Finance," and "Planning Interesting Meetings." Panel discussions were also held in the Madison Room at the Memorial Union.

The afternoon meeting consisted of a series of talks on various careers in the field of Home Economics. This was followed by a tea at the Home Management House and a tour of the University campus.

One night last week, a bright flare suddenly appeared behind the Dorm. After the flurry of excite­ment, Marie Eisenhammer ran bravely out and tramped out the fire. Fooyi, said the gals on third, "I heard they always appear just before the end of term, but that's no answer to our new hair style."

Perhaps some of you knew Eileen Kobs, an alumn of CSTC, who died two weeks ago. We were sorry to hear of her death, and we're sure the dear of her death soon, Prof. Dave, hadn't that many himself!

Dear Ed.

I shan't make super talk. Just want you to know I've heard terrific things about your school. You see, I'm a talent scout and it's only natural that I should be interested in do­ing a show at CSTC. The "prey" has given me a date that's def , May 23.

The kids at Central must have hip ideas. If you urge the brains who have scrumish ideas about their talented friends to put the word on paper, it would be great. All they need do is address the envelope to: Talent Scout at CSTC, drop it in the Student Mail Basket and I'll be able to give you a great show. All I need is the infor­mation that I should get the names of these hip Pointers.

Many thanks to you for your trouble, Ed. I'll be hitting Point on May 6 and I expect to find lots of mail. Natch!

Yours,

Joe Mafroe, Talent Scout

Class Tree Planting Project is Enjoyed

Students enrolled in conservation on the fourth grade courses have been engaged in planting trees this spring as a reforestation project. The Fores­try and Conservation Departments have combined their efforts, the students have set their goal at 25,000 trees. At the rate the trees are being planted, this goal should be reached by the end of the week.

The Boston forest, covering 20 acres, has been finished and a new one, situated four miles west of Waver, has been started. This one covers 120 acres.

Students who are doing this work are getting experience in both hand and machine planting.

Choose Officers
Jean Neale was chosen to lead Wesley Foundation as its president during the coming year at a meeting held on April 11 at St. Paul's Methodist church. Other officers elected at the meeting are: Program chairman, Marjorie Beawer and Jean Smith, and secretary-treasurer, Clinton Prust.

Wesleyans will be guests of LSA at a picnic this Thursday evening. Members are to meet at Nelson Hall at 6 o'clock.

On Sunday evening, the Wesley group will enjoy a 6 o'clock supper at St. Paul's Methodist church. The supper will be followed by a service in which the new officers will be installed. Dorothy Below is in charge of the program. Chairman of the supper is Catherine Daniels. She will be assisted by Gladys Soetheber, Marjorie Beawer, Jean Neale and Clinton Prust.

L.S.A.'ers Hear Choir
The L.S.A.'ers returned from their trip to Wausau last Thursday evening enthusiastically praising the concert presented there by the St. Olaf Choir of Northfield, Minnesota.

Thursday evening L.S.A. is entertaining Wesley at a picnic at Iveson Lodge. The group will meet at Nelson Hall at 6 o'clock and proceed from there. The Wesleyans and Lutheran students are all invited to be present.

Leads Discussion
N. E. Moore, Marathon County Superintendent, gave an interesting talk at a Rural Life club meeting held on Monday, April 15, in the Rural Assembly. Mr. Moore talked about the part the county superintendent's office plays in helping the teacher and about the teacher's responsibility in the school.

During the business meeting Anita Lang gave a report on the Campus Cooperative meeting she attended in Minneapolis a few weeks ago.

The Chi Dels took three in a row from the Gutterballs last week to move into a tie with the Faculty for first place in the bowling league. The Faculty held on to their share of first in spite of losing two out of three to the Sad Sacks. The Phi Sigs won two out of three from the Lobbers, and Bemke's beat Seagramps by the same margin.

The games to be rolled tonight will mark the end of the current bowling season. At this writing there is a strong possibility that the final standings may show a tie for first place. The two first place teams bowl against the two second place teams, and anything is likely to happen. The schedule for tonight (with the handicaps listed in parentheses) is as follows:

Chi Delts vs. Sad Sacks (2); Phi Sigs vs. Faculty (13); Seagramps vs. Gutterballs (43); Lobbers vs. Bemke (6).

Sports Interests Increased Here

Interest in sports is running high again at CSTC. Students no longer are willing to remain dormant but are anxious to have the college participating in all the sports it took part in before.

Track has started off with a bang. Twenty-five to thirty men are trying out for the various events and already some of the men are turning in mighty fine records. From all indications a pretty fair track team is in prospect.

A practice track meet will be held at the High school today at 3:30. An official meet with the High school will be held at a later date. The college track team will participate in the Oshkosh meet to be held on May 11, and if it comes through in fine shape, it will also take part in the Milwaukee event on May 18.

On the tennis front this week it's drives, slices, and net balls as the men battle it out in a Round Robin to determine the better seeded players. There is no way of knowing at present just how many men will be on the tennis team. Acting coach Larry Bishop is very anxious, however, to have a team ready for the Oshkosh meet. Men out for tennis are Leath Alexander, Art Swenson, Pete Johnson, Conway Mass, Chuck Larsen, Grant Thayer, Louis Posluszny, Charles Bart and Morton Shaffon.

CSTC golf, which is being organized by Gene Harrington, is progressing very well. Not all the men are turning in their scores, however, and Gene urges them to do so, regardless of the score. A school golf tournament is being planned and handicaps will be assigned on the basis of score cards turned in.
