Hallowe'en Dance Given by Tau Gams

On Friday night, in the gaily decorated Training gym, about 200 guests enjoyed the annual intercollegiate dance. The occasion was the Social Committee's Hallowe'en party, sponsored by the Tau Gams. An entertaining floor show was presented by the 'Ghostly Master-ceremonies'. Frankie "Weener" Kostuck, accompanied by a student orchestra, sang several popular songs and Doris Ockerlnder joined in for some "Hallowe'en" songs. "Joe Ituendi" Dreyfus played several classical piano selections. Freshmen Elizabeth Winkle, Thomas Crawford and included Evelyn Markward, Loretta Fenelon, Jeanette See and Lenore Arnette.

Home Ec Hear Speaker

Mrs. Allen Hodell of the Wilshire Shop gave members of the Home Economics Club suggestions and information as to the selection of costumes at a meeting of the Home Economics club on Monday evening. She emphasized the importance of coordinating the costumes and wearing them in groups. She were Loretta Fenelon, Jeanette See and Lenore Arnette.

Frost Froh Opinions

What do freshmen think of college life? The question is timely, since first-year students are in the majority at CSTC. To answer the question, "Do freshmen think college life is what they expected?" the reporter did an interview with a large number of freshmen.

The reporter's interview was not accepted. "Oh, there's nothing wrong with that," said one, "Just give us words for an answer. This makes the question really difficult to answer. We're not perfectly sure of ourselves." Another, a freshman, replied, "College is fine, but there isn't enough co-education." The reporter was not satisfied with this answer, and the interview continued.

"Another female thought school was very nice, but 'a lot of fun and a lot of fun.'"

Coming across a well-known college student, who was with her roommate and reported this story with a real side-splitting laugh, she expressed her opinion, "College is fine, but there isn't enough co-education," she groaned. If all this moaning and groaning is discouraging any faculty members, remember that college is the army—no one admits he's having a good time, even when he's dying of laughter.

Training School Has Hallowe'en Parties

On Thursday afternoon, October 31, the Training School will be open to the voices of costumed figures as the Primary party, and the Intermediate party held their Hallowe'en parties. The primary children and their teachers were able to party from 1 to 3 p.m. and the Intermediate grades had theirs from 3 to 5 p.m.

At the Primary party each grade presented a short program after the costumes were turned into the party. Prizes were given for the funniest and most original costumes. After partying everyone, pop corn and apples were served as refreshments.

Joyce Kopitske, student teacher, was chairman of arrangements for the party.

The Intermediate group started their afternoon of fun with a grand march led by Betty Dietz, Dorothy Witke, Beatrice Abraham, Marcel A. Krykoska, Bernice Marquardt and Celia Erdman. Prizes were awarded for the most original, funniest and prettiest costumes. Judges for the contest were Jean Schaefer, Dorothy Ramsey, Joyce Gertie L. Hanson, Virginia Kotila, Bernice Marquardt and Mildred Stueckman.

The general committee in charge was composed of Harry Jones, Martin Schaefer and John Bronzeno of the Rural Supervision department.

Navy Trainees Quartered on Campus at CSTC

V-5's Make Training School Their Home

The first floor of the Training school has been turned over to the Army Air Corps trainees for a time during the war, has again been turned into a "college" dormitory. The trainees are banking in converted classrooms, with George R. Faust as "house mother".

The V-5's come from just about everywhere. Where do they eat? Mr. Faust replied that arrangements are being made for the boys to eat at the dormitory, adding, "I guess most of them don't eat now. They haven't received their checks yet."

Each room selects a representative to serve on the group, subject to Mr. Faust's approval. There is a set of rules drawn up to govern their behavior in the dormitory, including rules for the use of study lamps, but there is a storage of clothes in the house, and the dormitory is used as a lounge and game room.

Local Cagers Will Start Drills on Monday

With basketball about to enter the limelight in the World of Sports, thoughts once more turn to the leather sphere and the prospects for the coming season.

A tentative schedule has been announced and the first practice session will be held Monday, November 11. Due to a shortage of equipment, men who report for the first day of basketball practice must furnish their individual equipment unless the squad is cut to a minimum.

The Pointers will have more than a month to prepare for their first tilt with St. Matthew’s on December 17. The local team won one and lost one in last year’s series with the Green Knights. The regular Southern Division of the Wisconsin State Teachers College conference will open for the Pointers on January 17 when they tangle with Milwaukee there. This season splits the two game series with the Green Gulls last season.

Glancing at the schedule, many double-headers are noted. A double-header, two games played on consecutive days, is strenuous for any basketball team. Unless two complete teams are involved, a second game normally finds a weary quintet. The Pointers, with four of these double-headers scheduled, are in for a strenuous season.

Boxing Has Star-Studded Past at CSTC

Inter-collegiate boxing, which will soon make its reappearance on the campus, has had a very colorful history at CSTC. Besides being one of the leading minor sports at Central State, boxing was very popular among the other state teachers colleges. It is hoped that these colleges will resume the sport on a full scale basis.

Delving into the musty pages of CSTC history, it appears that boxing first achieved notable success at Point in 1935. Under the supervision of former coach Eddie Katal and Dr. Warren G. Luke, a boxing squad was organized and managed by Russ Beppier, a student coach. Among the participants that year were Ben Slawinsiki, Bruno Slawinski, Phil Gilbrert, Art Laibs, Alvin Zorzuf, Russ Beppier, Pete Zabor- sky, Chuck Torbenson, Lloyd Hayes and Stan Rosnack.

Boxing continued through '35, '36 and '37 from which the bouts were sufficient to purchase sweaters and golden gloves for the members of the squad.

In 1957 the CSTC battlers turned in a very gutsy showing and entered the state tournament at Superior. Champions for that year were Ed Michals, Charles Tobrkon, George Hubbard, Calvin Cook, Inman Whipple, Bill Carley, Charles Spock, hawk and Fred Nima.

Central State put out one of the best boxing teams in 1938. The squad managed by student coach Inman Whipple had as its outstanding fighters Cal Cook, Chuck Torbenson, Young, Whipple and Ben Luke.

The 1939 season was highlighted by the Pointers capturing the Golden Gloves tournament held at Wisconsin Rapids. The squad, coached by Mickey McIntyre, included Young, Felix, Granski, Drobnick and Lang, in the tournament. Louis Drobnick won the 135 lb. championship in the novice division.

The points and gold battled, coached by Drobnick, enjoyed a pretty fair season in 1940 winning (See BOXING, page 4)

Congratulations to the new bowling league! It seems like old times to see the sport reappear again at CSTC sports. The writers of this column have been known to say anything about "A Sports for All" Program initiated at CSTC. With intra-mural basketball and volleyball on the way, there is no reason why every one can’t participate in some type of sport. The main stumbling block at present appears to be a lack of directors.

The state spotlight this week will be on the Milwaukee-Platteville tilt. Both teams will be keyed up for a victory and a royal battle can be anticipated. If by chance two宓vies tie each other, the Pointers will take over as undisputed champions of the Conference’s Southern Division.

Point can really look forward to a successful basketball season. Prior to coming to CSTC, Coach Berg established a reputation for turning out good basketball teams. Now with the coach in good health again and a record turnout of basketball material, the Point will undoubtedly be a really slick team.

If the proposed Student Union ever materializes, it definitely should include eight bowling alleys, enough to accommodate a league at a time. With the present enrollment, four men’s leagues could easily be organized. As it stands, most men’s offices are big about the girls by the way. We haven’t heard anything further about the bowling league. Let’s get going girls!

With the enrollment going up as it has been recently, more administration buildings will be needed. Any further buildings on the campus, however, would simply crowd out our existing sports facilities. How about setting aside active school organization getting on the ball, compiling statistics on the campus and the need for expansion, and then present the case to the Board with a request to purchase additional land. If we wait another five years we’ll have to build the big buildings. We won’t be in any room for outward expansion. What about you, Student Council?

Swan’s Dive Defeat Phi Sigs to Hold CSTC Bowling Loop Lead

Sad Sacks 7 14 .670
Macon House 7 14 .640

Swan’s Dive held their lead in the CSTC bowling league for the third straight week by defeating the Phi Sigs’ two out of three games, led by Dario Capacasa and ‘Just Married’. Jimmy Formella, Swan’s extended their streak to 10 victories in their last 12 games. Although they lost one game, the Chi Delts took two from Mosinee to remain in second place. Mosinee stayed in third place, two games ahead of the Phi Sig’s and Seagars’ Seven. In other games, last Wednesday, Macon House won two out of three from the Sad Sacks, and Seagars’ Seven swept three straight from the Faculty. This marked the Faculty’s ninth straight loss.

M.D.B. Enjoys Its Hallowe'en Party

Guests, witches, gypsies and other Hallowe'en characters haunted the Training school gymnasium on Thursday, October 31, during the annual Mary D. Bradford junior high school Hallowe'en party.

The evening began with a grand march, during which the most comical and most original boy and girl costumes were selected.

A skit called "Hallowe'en Judgment Day" was presented by the eighth grade class. The audience was very much amused at the crimes held complete. This is rushing season so keep your eye on these rushers and the Greek organizations. They are an integral part of our education and entertainment. With the large increase in enrollment, they should achieve pre-war greatness. That is for now, so keep your eye on the "Seeing Eye".

Another highlight of the evening was the game "The Romance of Cindarella," a very modern version of the old familiar tale.

By the time this is printed, the first rushing parties of both fraternities and sororities will have been completed. This is rushing season so keep your eye on these rushers and the Greek organizations. They are an integral part of our education and entertainment. With the large increase in enrollment, they should achieve pre-war greatness. That is for now, so keep your eye on the "Seeing Eye".

Dean's Office Moved

After 21 years of occupancy by Dean Steiner, the Dean of Men's office has been taken over by the math department, which needed larger quarters this year. Mr. Steiner has moved into Victor E. Thompson's old office which overlooks the west entrance of the college.

When interviewed, the Dean stated that he was highly pleased with his new office. In Mr. Steiner's own words, 'The new office is lighter, airier and has less room to get lost in.'
