

"Skin of Our Teeth" Playing Here next week

College Theater Will Present First Play of Current Season

Members of the College Theater have been hard at work the past few weeks preparing for the presentation of "The Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder. It will be presented to the public next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, November 20-21, at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium.

Mr. Burroughs Directing

The play, a comedy under the direction of Leland M. Burroughs, portrays the typically American George Antrabus family of Excelsior, New Jersey, who have survived fire, flood, pestilence, the seven year locusts, the ice age, the black pox and the double feature, and in spite of this they look upon the future with alarming optimism. They have survived a thousand calamities by the skin of their teeth. The play is a tribute to their indestructibility.

Large Cast for Play

The cast, a large one, consists of 40 characters. Following is a list of the principal characters: Announcer, Ray Minton; Sabina, Mrs. Doris Rappa; Mr. Firzpatrick, Merlin Brunner; Mrs. Antrabus, Marne Guth; Dinosaurs, Mickey Rybickie; Mammoth, Margaret Roberts; Telegraph Boy, Sheldon Lipshutz; Gladys, Kathleen O'Connor; Henry, John Zylka; Mr. Antrabus, Melvin Berg; Doctor, John Steeves; Professor, George Whitney; Homer, Eugene Diercks; Miss E. Mause, Eli-nore Bowman; Ushers, James Be-low and Ed Fenelon; Fortune Tell-er, Catherine Timmer; Hester, Ma-deline Rose; Ivy, Tulla Marros. Groups of 10 students play the parts of the refugees and conveners.

Olk is Production Manager

Busy also is the technical staff under the direction of Robert S. Lewis and Warren G. Jenkins. Production Manager Richard Olk has the following staff to handle the back stage technicalities: Stage, Bill Rit-chay, Harold Foss, Wilmar Cox, La-Verne Larson, Ray Bartkowiak, Max Kopchinski. Make-up; Dolores Je-linek, Zetzi Dietz, Helen Trewartha, Elaine Czarnecki, Louise Rogers, Pat Snow, Betty Richardson. Properties; Bill Mellin, Helen Firkus, Rene LaMaide, Norman Dineen, Janice Milton. Lighting; Ray Bartkowiak, LaVerne Larson.

Few Teachers Able to Attend State Meet

Have you been wondering who those lucky teachers were who, being able to get rooms, attended the Milwaukee Teachers' convention last week?

CSTC was represented by the Training school and Rural Demonstration school teachers whose classes were dismissed, and by Miss May Roach, Miss Bessie May Allen, Miss Susan Colman, Robert S. Lewis, Miss Edna Carlsen, President William C. Hansen, Miss Gertie L. Hanson, Dr. Arthur Lyness, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, Miss Bertha Glennon and Peter J. Michelsen.

NOTICE

The Pointer has received a Student Opinion signed "A Student of CSTC." Conforming to general newspaper practice, the Pointer will be glad to publish this letter if the writer will leave his or her name with the editor or put it in the Pointer mailbox in the main office. The name will not be published, but the Pointer must know who the writer is.

"Atomic Age", Theme for Education Week

American Education Week is being observed this week from November 10 to 16. "Education for the Atomic Age" is the general theme for this year, which marks the 26th anniversary of this observance.

The two main purposes of observing this week are school visitation and educational interpretation. The first seeks to bring the people to the schools, and the latter to bring the community to the schools.

Daily topics for the week are: Sunday, "Practicing Brotherhood"; Monday, "Building World Security"; Tuesday, "Facing New Tasks"; Wednesday, "Developing Better Communities"; Thursday, "Strengthening Home Life"; Friday, "Investing in Education"; and Saturday, "Promoting Health and Safety".

Band Uniform Fund Receives Donation

Of special interest to students, especially those in the college band, is the news of a five dollar donation from Miss Marjorie Loberg, one of the prominent alumni of CSTC now teaching at Wonewoc. Miss Loberg was accompanist for the Girls' Glee club for three years while in CSTC. She also played solo clarinet in the college band and was a member of the directing class.

The donation is for the band uniform fund and is an addition to the fine start made for this fund by Fredrick Parfrey of Beaver Dam, also an alumnus of CSTC.

College Honorary Societies Are Active

It should be of interest to all students to learn that there are several honor societies here at CSTC. Although these organizations have been, and are, active throughout the school year, many students are unaware of their existence.

There are four honorary societies at the college, three of which are now active. These societies are known by various combinations of Greek letters and have different requirements and purposes. The four are Alpha Kappa Rho, Alpha Psi Omega, Sigma Tau Delta and Sigma Zeta.

Alpha Kappa Rho, local honorary music fraternity, is open to all, except freshmen, who have a one point five scholastic average. In addition, a person must be a leader in the music department, have passed a test given by the faculty adviser, have a semester's credit in either band or chorus directing and belong to one music organization. Alpha Kappa Rho is active at the present time and is under the leadership of Steve Speidel.

Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, is a relatively new organization on the campus, being chartered as the Eta Delta Cast in 1938. Members of College Theater, who have done exceptional and special work in acting or producing plays, are admitted. The cast in no way aims to take the place of College Theater, but rather serves as a means to give special recognition to those in it. Requirements for membership are varied for both the acting and technical sections. No special grade point average is necessary other than the graduating necessity, one point zero. The fraternity has three members in school, Dr. Warren G. Jenkins, Leland M. Bur-

Band Will Present Music Assembly

The college band will present a concert of popular music this morning at ten o'clock in the auditorium during the regular assembly hour. The program is entirely in the hands of student directors from Music 108. Members of this class are freshmen through seniors, and interpretation of the music will be exclusively their own. If you would like an hour of real enjoyment be sure to be present at this concert.

The program will be as follows: "On the Street", by Grant Connell, Max Kopchinski, director; "I'll See You Again", Noel Coward, Harry Hemstock, director; "Pavanne", Morton Gould, Foster Diley, director; "American Youth", W. Pettee, Steve Speidel, director; "Tumbling Tumbleweeds", Bob Nolan, Ann Kelley, director; "Stardust", Hoagy Carmichael, Jack Perry, director; "Strike Up the Band", George Gershwin, Bill Mellin, director; "Vogue Overture", G. Holmes, John Edwards, director; "Yankee Doodle Blues", George Gershwin, Walter Peterson, director; "March Heroic", G. Holmes, Fred Brewer, director.

Freshman Receives 4-H Club Award

Merle Welk, a freshman in the Rural-State Graded division, recently received the Pomona Grange Award for her assistance and help in carrying on the 4-H program during the past year. This award was presented to Miss Welk at a 4-H achievement program held on Saturday, November 2, at the Roosevelt Junior High school in Fond du Lac.

Last year she received the Kiwanis Junior Leadership Award and the Land O' Lakes Award for Junior Leadership.

roughs and Robert Burkman, but is inactive this semester. It will be re-activated next semester.

Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, is represented by the Psi Beta chapter at CSTC. Juniors and seniors who have at least 15 hours of English with a two point average in this field are considered. Outstanding ability in creative writing and literary criticism are necessary in addition to a good character, a good scholastic standing and the ability to fill the needs of the organization. Sigma Tau Delta is active and intends to take in members this year.

People having exceptional ability in the sciences usually are in the Zeta chapter of Sigma Zeta, national honorary science fraternity at CSTC. Juniors and seniors with at least 12 semester hours in science, mathematics or conservation and who have a two point average in this field and a two point scholastic average are eligible, providing their major is in this field. Sophomores are eligible if they meet the above qualifications, but need a two point average for at least 8 semester hours rather than 12. The sophomores or others meeting the latter requirements may be accepted as associate members. Associate members may participate in discussions but cannot vote or hold office. Sigma Zeta is active and intends to take in members and associate members this semester.

This explanation of honorary fraternities is brief but should be sufficient to indicate that it is an honor to be in one and something to strive for. The organizations are small but of varied interests, so that those students of ability can be recognized in their own field.

Armistice Day Commemorated at Assembly Program

An Armistice Day program was held in the college auditorium last Monday, with Don Larson as Master of Ceremonies. The college band opened the assembly with the playing of "America". Stephen Speidel played "taps" while the audience faced the east and observed a minute of silence. Two veterans, John Ziehlke and George Whitney, gave brief but memorable speeches on their thoughts of the meaning of Armistice Day.

President William C. Hansen, as the main speaker of the day, proposed that the students consider the selection of a memorial for the members of Central States' student body who lost their lives in World War II. He concluded with a short discussion of the meaning of National Education Week and how it may be used by those who will be going out to teach.

The band, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, highlighted the program with several selections, and the assembly was concluded with everyone singing the "Star Spangled Banner".

Men's Glee Club to Hold First Program Next Thursday

The Men's Glee club will make its initial public appearance on Thursday, November 21, at 10 a.m. in an assembly concert in the auditorium. The present plans call for a group of songs by the Glee club and additional selections by a group consisting of about 45 voices.

The Men's quartet will sing at a dinner meeting of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday, November 19, at the Parish House.

On the evening of November 26, in the college auditorium, the complete club and various ensembles from within the club will present the first public concert of the year. This concert, sponsored by the men of the club, is for the purpose of raising money for the band uniform fund. The entire proceeds will go to that fund.

A quartet composed of Carl Strassburg, first tenor, Charles Bart, second tenor, Frank Kostuck, baritone and Carl Torkelson, second bass, with Wayne McGown at the piano, will make its appearance at various concerts this year. Other attractions of equal character are the piano solos of George Bishop, the tenor solos of Wally Bartosz, who is accompanied by Robert Westenberger, the regular glee club pianist, Frank Kostuck's baritone solos, which are accompanied by Barbara Felker, pianist and cornet solos by Steve Speidel of the college band.

Presentation of Memorial Proposed to Honor CSTC's World War II Dead

An effort is being made to complete the list of CSTC students who gave their lives in the last war, World War II. This information is desired in order that all may be included in a proposed memorial to be presented by the school.

Navy Examinations Planned for January

The Navy announced recently that the first nation-wide competitive examination for its Officer College Training Program has been scheduled for January 18, 1947, and will be open to high school seniors or graduates within the age requirements. Successful candidates will be given a four-year college education at government expense and will be commissioned officers of the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, or of the Reserve, upon graduation. Application forms must be forwarded in time for receipt by December 17.

Choice of NROTC or NACP

Students selected by these competitive examinations will be offered entrance in either the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) or the Naval Aviation College Program (NACP). Those selecting the former program will attend one of the 52 colleges or universities having NROTC units where they will receive from the government the cost of their tuition, books and normal fees and $50 a month for the four-year period of education. Upon graduation, they may be commissioned in the Regular Navy and will be required to serve two years on active duty if commissioned. Upon completion of these two years, they may apply for a permanent commission in the Regular Service or transfer to the Reserve and return to civilian life.

Chance to Train for Commission

Those selecting the Naval Aviation College Program may go to any accredited university, college or junior college or their choice, providing they are accepted for entrance, and receive the same government benefits. After two years of study they will enter a two-year program of flight training and flight duty as midshipmen, after which they will be commissioned as officers and serve a year on flight duty. Upon completion of this duty, they

New Student Group Has Been Formed

The young people of the Frame Memorial Presbyterian church have recently formed a Westminster group. All young people of college age are invited to attend the meetings which are held on alternate Sunday evenings.

The next meeting will be held on Sunday evening, November 17, at the Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock. The following officers have been elected: Janet Robinson, president; Robert Anderson, vice-president; Barbara Razner, secretary; Jim Neale, treasurer.

Plans to draw up a constitution and to choose a faculty adviser are under way.

Edward McAllen, Clarence Henkel, Benjamin Kordus, Sidney Berg, Gideon Carswell, Ronald Elliot and Jack Vincent.

An attempt is also being made to complete the records of all the students who served in the armed forces. The information desired includes full name, address and date of birth, branch of service, date of entry and rank; parents name and address; married or single status; and dates of attendance at CSTC, division and degree.

If readers have any information concerning any people who should be included in the records they are asked to send it to The Pointer, CSTC, Stevens Point, Wisconsin.

Student Organizations

Wesley Foundation

Jean Neale of CSTC was elected president of the Wisconsin Methodist Student Movement at a meeting held in Stevens Point on November 8 and 9 at St. Paul's Methodist church.

Other officers elected are: Louis Daniels, River Falls, vice-president; Duane Parks, Eau Claire, secretary; Lois McConnell, Superior, treasurer. Rev. Clifford Fritz, Stevens Point, is the state director of the organization.

Guest speakers at the meeting included Dr. Kirby Page, of La Habra, California, well-known author and international leader of the peace movement, Miss Dorothy Nyland, a national worker from New York, and Rev. James Buxton of Milwaukee. Quincy Doudna led recreation on Friday evening.

The conference was attended by 70 delegates, representing Wesley Foundations on 14 college campuses in the state.

A business and devotional meeting was held by the Wesleys on November 7, at St. Paul's Methodist church. Miss Dorothy Nyland was guest speaker.

She called attention to literature and other materials which would aid in planning programs and discussions, and explained the purpose of the bonds of the Methodist Student Fellowship fund.

Grammar Round Table

Visual Aids and a demonstration on the use of slide projectors and motion pictures film projectors were given by Louis McDermott at Grammar Round Table last Monday evening in Room 106.

After the demonstration, members of the club attended a short business meeting at the home of Quincy Doudna. Business included the appointment of Walter Franke as press representative, and the appointment of committees for a Christmas program. At the conclusion of the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Doudna.

Radio Workshop

A brief schedule of the presentation of Radio Workshop for this week is as follows: On Friday, November 15, the "Music Album" will present music of the West. On Monday, November 18, "Our College" will present campus varieties, featuring news by Jim Cory.

On the "Books and Authors" program on Tuesday, November 19, Jean Walker will present a book review of "Halldor Laxness, The Author of Independent People" by H. Laxness, and also "Independent People" by the same author.

On Wednesday, November 20, the "Radio Workshop Players" will present an adaptation of Norman Corwin's radio play, "Ann Rutledge".

Chi Delta Rho

Chi Delta Rho fraternity held its first rushing party on Tuesday, November 5, at the Iverson Park lodge. Approximately 50 people were present. Grant Thayer, frat president, gave a short introductory address of welcome and acted as master of ceremonies throughout the evening. Short speeches were made by Carl Torkelson, Gilbert W. Faust, Raymond M. Rightsell, Norman E. Knutzen and Ed Przybyski.

The frat officers were introduced and then the evening's card session was resumed. A refreshment committee composed of Art Pejsa and Vincent Brunner served hot dogs, pop and cup cakes. After the pledges were taken home, the activities held a short business meeting and elected Charles Larsen as pledge-master.

A turkey dinner, complete with trimmings, was served at the second rushing party held at the Belmont Cafe, on Sunday, November 10, at 6:30 p.m. Approximately 35 active, rushers and guests were present. Entertainment was provided by the Firemen's Band and a group of men from the Glee club. Grant Thayer acted as M.C. and introduced the following speakers, Dr. Harold M. Tolo, Mr. Rightsell and Mr. Knutzen, all of whom gave short talks on fraternity life and activities.

Newman Club

Initiation of approximately 60 students into the Newman Club highlighted the events of the club's meeting held on November 7 at St. Stephen's school auditorium.

Other business included the purchasing of a juke box, the discussion of plans for a Christmas party and the subscribing to three magazines to be placed in the college library. The magazines chosen were: "The Common Wheel", "The Extension" and "The Catholic Digest". The latter is a gift from Father John P. Trant, the club's chaplain.

Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served by Bill Golomski, Theresa Brill and Ed Przybyski, and were followed by social dancing.

An amateur program will be featured at the next meeting on November 21 at St. Stephen's school.

Gamma Delta

An impressive candlelight procession service held in Bethel Lutheran church of University City, St. Louis, Missouri, opened the Annual International Gamma Delta convention, November 8-11. Six CSTC representatives from the local Beta chapter who attended the convention included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zander, Verna Genrich, Mary Stimers, Mildred Speidel and Ellen Whittingham.

Saturday's activities began with a business meeting at 9:30 a.m. During the rest of the morning a religious discussion and memorial service was held, followed by a luncheon at Concordia Seminary. Immediately after lunch, students of the Seminary led the group on a tour of the campus, including the Lutheran radio station KFQU, where representatives from each state were interviewed.

The day was climaxed with a formal banquet in the Missouri room of the Statler hotel. During the banquet there was an interesting program which included a speech, a vocal solo and a monologue.

On Sunday morning the convention was climaxed with a special convention service, dinner, a business meeting and installation of newly elected officers.

On their return trip home, the local students went through Springfield, Illinois, and saw the home of Abraham Lincoln and the capitol building.

NOTICE

According to word from President William C. Hansen, school will close at noon on Wednesday, November 27, for Thanksgiving recess, and will open again on Monday, December 2. Therefore, there will be no Pointer issued during the week of November 25, because of this vacation.

How to Be Popular In One Easy Lesson

Popularity, fame, success — ah, those fleeting, will-o-the-wisp, intangible qualities! What is it that makes one man beloved by all and another man an innate, selfless soul — condemned to admire from afar the renown gained by others? We could not attempt to define that quality, but we shall endeavor to show how you, by diligent application of the forthcoming principles, can attain at least a smattering of popularity among your fellow men.

To begin, always speak in a loud, arrogant tone of voice. Be sure to contradict everything which is said by those near to you. Emphasize your statements by tapping the listener on the chest with your forefinger. If you win the argument, always say, "See, I told you so." If it looks as though you'll lose the discussion, just say, "Aw, you're crazy!" and talk about something else.

Borrow money from your friends as often as possible. Never be apologetic about asking for money. Act as though you are doing the fellow a favor by coming to him for money. If the creditor should ever become bold and ask when you intend to pay him, act hurt and injured and pass the matter off with a joke. On occasion, lend money to others (not too much, though) so you can casually mention it to them when there are a lot of sweet young things within hearing. This makes you appear rich and benevolent. (This, naturally, does not apply to CSTC, where the sweet young things are interested in a man for what he is, and not for the amount of money he possesses.)

Another point you don't want to overlook is the art of mooching cigarettes. Many students acquired this habit while in the service and have developed it into a fine art. It is not uncommon for some fellows to go for days without purchasing a package of cigarettes.

Don't fail to mention your successes to any and every person who will listen to you. Whether it's an "A" on a French test, or "This shows work" on a Colman theme, be sure that all of your associates are informed about your wonderful self.

Be sure to minimize your shortcomings, if you admit that you have any. Find an appropriate alibi for any poor marks, lost fights, etc. If you talk loud enough, you can get away with murder on this count.

Lastly, don't fail to insult and ridicule all of those who are unfortunate enough to remain near you. If somebody slips and falls down, be sure to laugh. If someone unknowingly comes to school with a hole in his socks, call everyone's attention to this glaring fact.

To sum it up, we want to say that if you follow the rules set down here, you will undoubtedly secure for yourself a certain type of lasting recognition. You will inevitably become the principal figure in Stevens Point's first lynching case.

RADIO WORKSHOP BROADCASTING OVER WLBI

Omega Mu Chi

Five girls were pledged to Omega Mu Chi sorority on Sunday evening, November 10, following an informal dinner held in a private room at Hotel Whiting.

The pledges are Jean Crosby, Janet Dupre, Barbara Lupient, Mary Noble and Helen Trewartha.

Lorraine Peters, president, was toastmistress. After welcoming everyone, she introduced Toni Tushinski, vice-president and pledge chairman, who, with a take off on Patrick Henry's "give me liberty or give me death" speech, gave the pledges a hint as to what to expect during the two weeks of pledging.

Honorary member, Mrs. Leland M. Burroughs, spoke briefly, pointing out wherein lie the true virtues of a sorority. Representing the alumnae, Mrs. Jack Davis, the former Alice Klake, directed her speech to the pledges, telling them the reasons for the pledging period.

Other guests at the dinner and pledge ceremony were Mrs. Palmer Taylor, Mrs. Charles Cashin, Mrs. Carl N. Jacobs, patronesses and Miss Bertha Glennon, faculty adviser.

The sorority colors, purple and yellow, were carried out in the floral decoration of the tables. On the head table was a centerpiece of purple and yellow chrysanthemums flanked by white candles in crystal holders. Adding color all along the tables were the placecards, each an individual mum in a tiny glass tube. (See ORGANIZATIONS, page 4)

Looks like the V dash flies are doing their best to uphold the USN tradition of being lady-killers. Their efforts are not entirely without success.

The shortage of women here at CSTC has driven some of the more intrepid swains to the local high school for companionship.

Dorm Doin's

Miss Leonā Bovee took leave of us on Tuesday to travel to Milwaukee for the Teachers' Convention. In her place Miss Miriam Moser was (busily) acting housemother and Miss Myrtle Henriksen was dietitian.

(We're anxious to become teachers, too—so we can go to conventions!)

To be "pun-y", we could mention the fact that someone opened a Dorm window last week and influenza, (hold those groans—we'll spare you!). Such a statement would naturally hold no humor for the girls who were victims in the last few days.

Scarcely will there be found anyone as harassed as Gladys Rindfleisch was Friday afternoon when she found herself without a suitcase just as she was to leave. On the other hand, the two culprits who arrived in Tomahawk with the then missing baggage weren't exactly

Who's Whose

In order to give the writers of the "Seeing Eye" a rest, this column has been compiled to take its place this week.

Been trying all week to get enough "dirt" to fill a good-sized shovel, but it appears that everyone has been behaving.

But, anyway, there was a nice moon last week, but it sure was cold out. Not cold enough to keep the "regulars" from walking out to Joe's, though.

What ever happened to the Lewis-Arnette combination?? They used to be so CHUMMY once, and look at them now.

Speaking of couples, Harve Abrahamson and Mary Ann Barton seem to be getting along quite well. Comment?

And we noticed Ken Kulick chatting daily (and sometimes weakly) to a cute little blonde. More about this later.

Glenn "Playboy" Souik finally got his car back from the repair shop. Fair warning, girls! And, speaking of cars, did Joe Worth ever find HIS???

OVERHEARD:

Gretchen: "Why did you leave your girl's house so early last night?"
Allen: "We were sitting on the sofa, and she turned the lights out. Guess I can take a hint."

Too bad about the cold weather driving the "getting acquainted" couples from the campus. It always seemed more private sitting out there chatting in the sunshine than it does inside. C'est la guerre.

Have made mental note of the fact that a number of "steadies" have become engaged. We have always held the belief that it is better to have loved and lost.....MUCH better.

SIMILE: As out of place as a hiccup in an 8:15 class on a Monday morning.

Noticed that XYZ letter in the Pointer last week. Don't tell us Swenson is at it again!!!

We've heard a lot of comments in Klink's about people letting their hair down. Must be a reference to the damp weather, that is.

According to Mary Juetten, Pointer editor, her name is pronounced without sounding the "U"..... would it be safe to say that the Pointer is Juetten-propelled??

The Honorable J. Buckley Gerdes waltzed into French class the other morning, looking sharper than usual. Must have gone to a different embalmer.

L'ENVOI:

She: "Now what are we stopping for?"

He: "I've lost my bearings."
She: "Well, at least you're original. Most fellows run out of gas."

happy with their new "possession". The situation finally was straightened and the missing link (suitcase, rather) was restored to Gladys after an eventful week-end.

Ten members of Wesley Foundation were guests in the dorm over the week-end. They were out-of-town delegates to a convention of that organization. Other week-end guests were Joyce Dumdei and Lu Vaughn.

Barbara Lupient is the proud possessor of a diamond given her by Percy Voight. 'Tis said the happy day will be sometime during Christmas vacation. Congratulations!

The engagement of Doris Ubbelohde, former Dormite, to Larry Hitt of Texas, was announced recently. Doris, now teaching in Appleton, was last year's Pointer editor and vice-president of the Dorm council. Larry, a returned veteran, was a summer school student here in 1946.

In a hotly contested game played at Milwaukee on Saturday, Coach Kluge's Green Gulls defeated the Platteville peds 24-12, to share co-championship honors with Point in the southern division of the Wisconsin State Teachers Conference.

Milwaukee, which turned in the best offensive and defensive records in both divisions, suffered only one conference loss, a 12-6 defeat at the hands of Coach George R. Berg's Pointers.

Second Bowling Loop Begins Its Schedule

Taking advantage of the lapse between the football and basketball seasons, CSTC bowling rolled into the sports limelight last week. Adding additional interest to the bowling scene was the entrance of the new Veterans' Bowling league.

The new bowlers took to the basement of the South Side alleys to turn in high scores, which indicates that they will be giving the older College league serious competition before long.

Rural Life took the lead in the league by turning in an 806 game and a 2177 series. The Boozers were second high in single games with a score of 747. Newman Club followed closely with 741. In the high series Mal Carlson's "Gas House Gang" Bears finished third with a 2042 Bears finished third with a 2042 series.

R. Blaskey paced the Veteran bowlers with a high single game of 201 followed by Sengstock with 199, Donahue-194, Rohde-189, Laffe-187 and Kuenn-186. High series for the night were Blaskey-513, Sengstock-508, Laffe-489, M. Schaefer-486 and Rohde-481.

Weekend sporting interest centered on the Army-Notre Dame clash, which found two evenly matched squads battling to a scoreless tie. With our money on Notre Dame, yours truly "sweated" through this tilt of the year. The game caused many a blood pressure to soar to unheard-of heights.

Joe Negard, that consistent bowler, hit another 200 game to capture the head in the college league. Joe has a 164 average, which is tops this week. Must be inspired by Junior!

Last week, bowling alleys were the scene of a very enthusiastic three game series between the Phi Sigs and the Chi Deltas. Al Kaziak and "Red" Roberts starred for their respective frats when they were each responsible for a victory in the last frame. Phi Sigs took two out of three to win the series. In six inter-frat games, each frat has won three and lost three.

Ray Blaskey of the new bowling league turned in a 201 game and a 513 series to cop first place with a 171 average. What power!

Bob Hansen and his boxing crew members are busy these days scurrying around college nooks on the lookout for stray boxing equipment. A sizeable amount of equipment has been located to date and the potential pugilists hope to commence training soon.

Sad Sacks	7	17	666

The CSTC bowling league began its second round of competition last Wednesday night, and several events of importance were noted. Swan's Dive established themselves as the team to beat by winning three straight from the Sad Sacks to tighten their grip on first place. The Phi Sigs took two out of three from the Chi Deltas to tighten the race for second, third and fourth places. This, incidentally, evened the inter-fraternity series at three victories apiece.

Seagrams' Seven won two out of three from Mosinee to move into a tie with the Phi Sigs, one game behind the third place Mosinee team. The Faculty beat Moxon House two games out of three to break an 11-game losing streak. Moxon House, by defeating the Faculty in the third game, moved out of the cellar position ahead of the Sad Sacks.

Formella, Lewis and Negard Star

Starring roles for the evening were played by two short fellows and one tall one. Jimmy Formella came through with a fine series to lead his Swan's Dive team to their sweep over the Sad Sacks. Jim "Spec" Lewis paced Seagrams' in their defeat of Mosinee, and Joe "Pappy" Negard sparked the Phi Sigs attack in their hotly-contested victories over the Chi Deltas.

Negard rolled a 524 total to win high series honors for the night, followed by: Lewis, 515; Formella, 506; Bartkowiak, 484. Formella's 219 was high for single games, followed by: Negard, 207; Lewis, 197; Zych, Whitaker and Bartkowiak, 181.

Negard Leads Individual Averages

The Phi Sigs got a 2275 series to top the team scoring, and Swan's Dive rolled 2245 for second high. Mosinee hit an 805 game for single game honors, with second place going to the Phi Sigs with 787. Negard holds the lead in the individual average column with an average of 164 in 24 games. Other high averages are: Zych, 163; Larson, 158; Knope, 154; Formella, 152; Springer, 152; Kaziak, 152; Whitaker, 152; Bartkowiak, 150; Lewis, 150.

65 Hopefuls Attend First Cage Practice

Basketball at CSTC began on Monday with approximately 65 men reporting for the first practice session. More men are expected before the end of the week. The squad will probably be near a hundred before the coach begins cutting.

Monday's drill consisted of light floor work. The large squad was split into two groups, and each group practiced short shots under the watchful eyes of Coach Berg.

Most of last year's squad plus a few regulars from pre-war seasons turned out for the first practice. Many of last year's stock of high school players round out the squad. With a squad of this size there will be keen competition for a berth on the regular quintet. It's too early to make any predictions for the coming season, but the student body is backing Coach Berg and the boys, and hope they will fare as well as, or better than they did in football.

STUDENT OPINION

Dear Editor:

Last week, in this column there appeared an article written by an anonymous character, XYZ.

This matter at first seemed so trivial that I was a bit reluctant to give it further mention.

This XYZ declares that the cognomen, "Pointers", a nickname, which has seen CSTC through thick and thin on the gridiron and basketball court for over 30 years, should be cast aside in favor of a more fitting appellation.

It also seems that anyone who disagrees with our worthy constituent will, henceforth, be branded as a highbourn traditionalist. If I be that, then let me make the most of it!

XYZ also coincides the name "Pointers" with that of "motionless dogs". So far I've yet to hear any member of any athletic activity here at Central State, irrespective of XYZ, gripe about this "made up insult".

What my friend failed to mention is the fact that the canine, termed "Pointer", is motionless only when he has reached his goal, and the others are out of breath and attempting to catch up. He Points the way in which the others may follow.

Folks, if that doesn't identify "our boys" of good old Central State, then I'm a monkey's uncle.

I say, I defy any upstart to tear down our tradition. Let us continue to "Point" the direction—and let the other institutions continue to follow. What do you say, "Pointers"?

(Signed) R.S.T.

To the Editor:

To many, the criticism of the Halloween party, in the Seeing Eye in the last issue, was an unjust, abusive affront. People who are so callous and base-minded should not be associated with our school paper.

To the Pointer staff:

It's always a happy day when the Pointer arrives, and I want to thank you for your thoughtfulness and courtesy in sending it to me. It is the only touch I now have with the college and all of its activities.

So I read it with much interest. I get the impression that every one is having a lively time.

Even the football team seems to respond to help. Keep up the fine spirit.

I hope you on the Pointer staff are enjoying your work. Anyway, you give me much pleasure.

So again I thank you and send my best wishes.

LSA

A cornet solo and an interesting report on the Land o' Lakes Regional LSA Convention afforded a special treat for members of the LSA who gathered in the Student Lounge last Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The solo, "The Lost Chord," was played by Joan Paulson, who was accompanied at the piano by Betty June Maki. Don Jorgensen and Orval Moser, representatives of the local LSA chapter at the Regional Convention, then conveyed the experiences to the group. They also outlined briefly the topics, "Racial Problems", "Vocations", "Missions", "Christian Faith", "Local Congregation", "European Christianity", and "Ecumenical Christianity", which were discussed at length during the seminars.

Kathryn Peterson, president, presided over the business meeting and Hildegard Kuse led the group in devotions.

"S" Club

A proposal for scheduling meetings on the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month at four o'clock was considered at a meeting of "S" club on Tuesday, November 12. Only a few members attended and a discussion concerning important business was postponed until the next meeting which will be held in Room 103 on Tuesday, November 19. It is important that all members be present.

Here's Your Pointer

Every Monday night from 6:30 on, a faithful staff of earnest, ambitious, hard-working people gather in the Pointer office to slave away over a week's accumulation of news and a few previews of coming attractions. These people comprise the editorial staff of the Pointer.

First to arrive, usually, are the typists and the news-editor, followed shortly thereafter by a breathless editor, who after dropping hurriedly into the swirl chair behind her desk, starts correcting copy and throwing it at the typists. Pointer typists are known for their ability to decipher and decode writing, shorthand and hieroglyphics.

From here on, amid the crash and clatter of typewriters, the news stories are assembled and readied for the linotypists.

The news-editor corrects typewritten copy as it comes from the typists. It is he who checks for errors made in transferring stories from longhand to typewritten copy. Eventually he gets around to making out assignments for the coming week's Pointer issue, a job which really demands a "Seeing Eye".

The assistant news-editors help correct copy and write news-stories for the typists, and to them go the job of helping with the odds and ends.

Passers-by often find the staff enjoying a good laugh over some story, typographical error, etc. Mike Fortune's pet mouse has furnished some good entertainment.

The composition editor and his assistant receive the copy after it passes the final proof reader and to them goes the "head" aches of the stories. A good news-story deserves a good head—and the composition editors have what it takes to give them such heads. Each headline must be fitted into space between a column and sometimes it takes much head scratching, doodling and application of higher mathematics before the head is made to fit.

Reporters wander in at intervals to bring in overdue assignments, or just to see how things are going, and in between times the Men's Glee club can be heard practicing for the coming concert. "MacNamara's Band" sure peps things up besides appealing to the Irish on the staff.

By 10:30 the staff is beginning to wilt and things are stepped up so that everyone can get home to do that math or history assignment.

Coke bottles which appeared mysteriously from nowhere (ask the typists about this) are now empty and some busy person is collecting them in the Final Copy wire basket.

The editor sits quietly chewing on her pencil, grinding out the week's editorial. Incidentally, the Pointer stories should be extra sharp from now on since the Pointer has finally, after two and a half years of trying, acquired a brand new, shiny pencil sharpener.

After the typists close shop, the office is so quiet you can hear a paper clip drop. The final proof is reshuffled and rechecked. More than once the question, "Where's the Seeing Eye?" or "Where's the story on the Student Council?" sends news-editors on a hunt for the missing story.

But before long the yellow sheafs of copy are finally slipped into the folder marked "The Pointer" and tucked under the editor's arm. After a final glance around the room the editor turns out the lights and locks the door behind another night's work. By this time the lights in the main building have been turned off and the halls are quiet as a tomb. So, with this Frankenstein setting, it doesn't take long for the remaining editorial staff to rush home to bed.
