Music Department Presents Yule Concert Sunday, Monday Nights

Cled in gayly colored gowns and posed against a background of stained glass windows, CSTC’s Women’s Glee club, under the direction of Peter J. Michelson, sang to an audience of townswomen, students and out-of-town visitors at last Sunday’s Christmas concert. The music department of CSTC will present its 17th annual Christmas concert on Sunday and Monday, December 14 and 15, at 8 o’clock in the college auditorium. Under the direction of Peter J. Michelson, the concert will be given for the general public on Sunday afternoon at 3 o’clock and Monday evening for college students.

Members of last year’s student body are pictured in the roles of “A Christmas Carol,” and the students of this year will be the students of next year.

Senior Ball, Last Formal Flig for 1947

Looking especially attractive in a red and black plaid taffeta formal and a corsage of red roses which set off the red and black plaid suit of the Senior Ball, led the grand march out of the ballroom. The Senior Ball, 1947, student class president and king of the ball.

The most exciting day at the school is the Senior Ball, during the seniors and others, also had their formal attire. Among the seniors, Howard Paul and his orchestra furnished the music from 8:45 until 1:45 p.m. in the training school gym. The decorations carried out the “after graduation day” theme. On the stage in cap and gown was a life-size “sweet-girt graduate” with her diploma in hand. Behind her on the stage was the “senior class” in formal attire, indicating this to be the class of ’48, and on the platform in the corner was a bouquet of gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums.

To carry out the graduation day idea still further, there was suspended from the ceiling a huge mortarboard surrounded by diplomas, one for each member of this year’s class. Two enormous diploma columns, tied with purple and gold streamers formed an alcove at the rear of the gym.

CSTC Will Be Host For Central State Symphony

CSTC will be the center of the Central State Symphony orchestra recently organized in Stevens Point. The orchestra is interested in good music. Peter J. Michelson, head of the music department, will direct the orchestra. At the hiring of personnel, the, orchestra will be composed of arts, from Clintonville, Marshfield, Wausau, Wisconsin Rapids and other central Wisconsin communities.

The orchestra is interested in providing financial aid to the students who wish to participate. The program will include a variety of music, including classical and contemporary compositions. The orchestra will perform at several concerts throughout the year, and is available for special events and engagements.

CSTC will be the host for the Central State Symphony on Monday, December 14, at 8:00 p.m. in the college auditorium. The orchestra will perform a selection of works by various composers, including Beethoven, Mozart, and Tchaikovsky. The concert will feature the orchestra in their full glory, with exceptional musicians performing on a variety of instruments, including the strings, brass, and woodwinds.

The concert will be followed by a reception in the Alumni house, providing an opportunity for audience members to mingle and network with the orchestra members. Refreshments will be served, and the event is open to the public.

This exciting event promises to be a memorable occasion for music lovers, and is not to be missed. Join us for CSTC's presentation of the Central State Symphony and experience the power of live orchestra performance.
Where Are The Pool Halls Of Yesterday?

The famed Old American institution, the pool hall, is on the verge of becoming extinct. Most people do not perceive pool halls as smoke-belching "dens of iniquity" because they have never seen one.

Above this scene of disheveled hanging cues and smoky atmospheres, some people believe that smoking does little to enhance the "atmosphere" of the pool hall.

Sponsoring a bill to ban smoking recently re-argued against smoking in the entrances to the college building; still others find that it would be a loss to the student guest that they might easily find sweet and fast rule all over the campus.

The cold weather, together with the deteriorating pool halls, may make pool-hall smoking among the members of the enlarged student body here at CSTC, has created a serious situation in

Wesley Foundation
An atmosphere of gayety pervaded the Wesley Hall at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, where the Christmas party was held. That occasion was the Penny Carnival. Carnival games, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, and various junk foods were served. The Christmas tree was trimmed with lights and garland and the Lenten boughs, a big snow scene, and a large cathedral window, were glistening with icicles. Christmas lights were also used. The following groups singing Christmas carols were: Nancy Becher, Lola Van Beeker, Ruth J. Lewis, and Betty Whadda-ya tryna t do, g'mma is always doing the gracious act.

Cordially of Senior Class
We wondered why Miss Golman, the supply closet, left her position on a "comfortable" couch at the Senior Ball. After casual inquiry Miss Golman, donate her services and put one of those gummi that screw up in your face to your face. She is also a great cook.

There's No Time
Mr. Lewis (prof.) is having trouble with his students and who insist upon thinking that 9:00 o'clock is a convenient time. The Senior Class -- not Central States-- Time.

We hear that the Deans have-'a new idea... "Kiss me quick. Not sure, makes me sick."

All Men Aren't Wolves--
We hear that two men have disapproved a CSTC coved fairy way with happiness. "You look just like your half-breed horse from the east".

Holiday Spirits--
We are glad to report that one fellow remarked, "It isn't often my mind gets into the festive spirit and her son sits up at the same time!"

The Making of a Good--
We hear that the President from the "Top Fat Poppers" for their theme "Doing in" has a pretty soon at the rate the refreshing drink is running in the Monday evening. Thanks to Dr. Ervin J. Gough and the Round Table for their recent contributions.

Primary Grades Have Thanksgiving Cust
It is the custom of the Primary De-

School to hold a Thanksgiving dinner that gives the children an opportunity to help those less fortunate. The service was held in the third grade room. A large cathedral window, made by the students, was used as a backdrop. A table that has been covered with a white cloth on which are lighted candles. A large variety of fruits, nuts, and in poems, a song, and the like, were sung. All of the Primary children walk around the room and place their offerings on the table.

School clothing and shoes were brought to the school by the Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, third grade supervisor who is there when needed. Miss Van Ardiale has contact with the parents of the children and young people of Germany who have been killed or whose names have been written to the records of the American Children's Home, which position to deliver the mission that it reaches her.

The boxes were packed and wrapped for shipment. Antonio Paraz, whose daughter Judy is in the third grade, was surprised that it was sure to deliver the correct to the post office.
Eau Claire Wins Rough Opener On ‘Point System’

The Fifth Quarter

Eau Claire, using the same team as they had last year, outplayed the Pointers, Saturday night, December 6. The final score was 73-48. Eau Claire looks like a strong contender for the Teachers College Championship.

Fire-works started at the beginning of the second half when an Eau Claire player took a swing at ‘Mouse’ Ludwig, big GTC center. Mouse immediately clamped a half-shoulder on him. From that point on, the basketball game seemed to be a contest for the man who could get away with the most fouls. Elbows and knees were flying in all directions.

The Eau Claire player didn’t have a chance with Ludwig. We are reminded of last year when a wounded deer charged Mr. Ludwig. He stood his ground and after a short scuffle managed to kill the deer with his gun.

Speaking of hunting incidents, we talked to two of the teams in two games that ended with five points against the Mosse. This statement is in action in the afternoon and the Independent League plays at night.

The University of Wisconsin Badgers opened their cage schedule Saturday afternoon with a 55-50 victory over Marquette. According to reports they do not have as capable a team this year as they did last year.

Jim Moore, former star of P. J. Jacobs high school, and Bob Mader of Wisconsin Rapids saw in action in that game.

In another game of interest, La Crosse whipped Platniall 59 to 36 in a non-conference game.

Jerry Good, the Pointer guard, had a good game. He scored 10 points in the second half and led his team to victory.

The Northern Michigan Maroons are still in a bad way. They lost their last two games and are now at the bottom of the standings.

The Hopefuls, with Dick Muhl and Hanks McTrusty dumping in 17 and 18 points respectively, team five swept a 49-35 victory over team four.

The flush camera caught some of the players in mid-air as the Pointers and the Rhinelander Logumocers fought for possession of the ball at a game played in the Eau Claire High School gym on Monday, Dec. 1. Ludwig, a pointer, caught the ball, and on his shoulder. He is responsible for the safe return at the end of the game of all books lost in his possession. A replacement charge will be made for books.
