with the cave in and the inevitable “spring fever” there is always some spring ailment which seems to sneak up on a person. This time, it is the influenza, and there is no cure for it except by taking Care.

Dr. Fred A. Mars, health officer for the city of Stevens Point and for the health service at CSTC, has closed St. Michael's Hospital to all visitors except close relatives because of the epidemic of colds and influenza which has struck the city.

Dr. Mars reported that over 10 per cent of the student body at CSTC is absent from classes at the present time because of illness, namely colds and flu, and more students are expected to be absent as the cause of these diseases.

Most of the time, with a little precaution and forethought, it is possible to avoid these spring ailments which suddenly sneak up on people. Any slight breath of warm weather finds the co-eds and fellows dashing outside to soak up the sun. The basketball teams have been out on the grid and the Training school minus coats and scarves. With little regard for health considerate, many students have dazed their eyes because there is a threat of a warmer than usual sun rays of the earth.

Coming from warm rooms, the sudden chilling effect is just what is needed to cause an attack. It is hard to get a good meal. Students who have burned the midnight oil ought to believe it doesn’t take a lot of energy to get up on their back.

The Health Service is open to all students every day, with Nurse Mary Neuberger available at all school hours. Dr. Mars is available at the health center at any time. The students are urged to come in coughs here before allowing time to increase the condition of infection. It is difficult to get well, but it is definitely easier to get well if the sick people are isolated.

So let’s all use a little common sense in these next few weeks. Remember, what is good for the goose is good for the gander, and there’s still a likelihood that it will roar like a lion before the month is over.

Radio Workshop A continued discussion on "Labor and Management" will be the theme of "Our College Roundtable" on Thursday, April 19, at 8:00 WIBL, with the usual members of the Radio Workshop present. The discussion will be broadcast live. Friday’s "Music Album" features a program of Italian music. The songs are sung by Renato Gardolli, "Tosca," by Tschakowski. Everything different will be presented on our "College program" next Monday. More information will be given later. A Workshop radio meeting will be a radio interview with Miss Lillian Pearson, editor of the Drummer. The Workshop’s fan mail, is mute evidence of the fact that the public, as well as the staff, is interested in the Workshop and that CSTC is broadcasting again.

Girls’ Glee Club The Girls’ Glee club trip to Madison was closed for last Monday, March 11, was cancelled because of an epidemic at a school there. This trip has been postponed.

The Glee club will tour to Wisconsin on March 20, 21 and 22. The trip will be presented at the school. On Thursday, March 17, the girls will travel to Oshkosh to present a concert at the Teachers College exchange. This will be an all day trip.

The club will have a banquet for the members on Sunday, March 26, at the Presbyterian church, the club’s sponsor. The officers for the year are Nelda Dopp and Pat Thorpe. Mildred Spieholtz is in charge of entertainment.

Grammar Round Table

Dr. Edmund G. Gotham has a short talk on "Jobs and Salaries in the teaching field." Their short meeting, the 11th Grammar Round Table held last Monday evening in Studio "A" of the University was considered by Dr. Gotham "to have services a double purpose." Among the qualities of a good teacher were listed a trained mind, personality, beauty, and the ability to make human beings understand.

A panel discussion followed which was more largely scheduled by the main consideration, along with the reason for the present lack of trained teachers.

Quincy Doudich, director of the University’s teacher education program, said groups of students enrolled in the upper elementary and intermediate division to make trips to outstanding elementary schools in this section.

The next meeting is scheduled for April 11.

Wesley Foundation Wesley Foundation Church, had an entertain- ment last Thursday evening at the home of its host parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ludden. The worship program was led by Jean Smith and was followed by an address by Rev. Edwin Reed on "Minimum Essentials of Religion".

During the business meeting a report was made on plans for the spring "Students’ Movement" which will be held in Wheaton on April 18 and 19.

The High school MYF group was entertained at a "Dine-a-queue" supper at the club Sunday evening and Arlene Kroymann presented "The Ten Commandments of God." (See ORGANIZATIONS, page 4)
The Fifth Quarter

Well, basketball season is over and another phase of the sports world is making its call. With the coming of warmer days, CSTC's free-footed will be burning up the turf in preparation for the spring track meets. Meanwhile daily workouts in the gym are taking down that winter waist line.

CSTC lost a good track man when Polzin dropped out at the end of the first semester. Polzin held the state 440 Conference pole vault record back in high school and that same spot appears to be the week one for CSTC.

Baseball is coming back into the minds of many CSTC students. The city league seems to be quite popular throughout the Point but how about a college baseball team? It's never too early to start—over too late.

CSTC's younger brothers, namely the Point High School Panthers, looked pretty all right in the playoffs last week. That same kind of hard playing will be the making of state champs whether it's the Panthers or any other team.

Maybe this intramural golf tournament needs a little explanation for the benefit of the person who wondered if there wasn't too much snow to play golf. Well, it is played with a baseball and it IS played in the gym. Trick shooting goes a long way in copying the style of chump and there was a fine demonstration of this technique in the first round which was shot off last week.

With the close of the basketball season we find Gerry Haidvogl out ahead in the individual scoring by 33 points in conference games. His average for the six games played is 13.5 points per game. In non-conference ball Gerry ran up an average of 13.0 points per game.
