

Eau Claire Players Well Received Here

The Eau Claire players put on a fine performance of "You Can't Take It With You" in the college auditorium last Monday evening at 7:30 p.m.

A titter here, a slight chuckle there, and a hearty guffaw more than a few times showed that the filled auditorium was genuinely amused.

"You Can't Take It With You" is a piece of madcap foolery mixed and thoroughly stirred by Moss Hart and George Kaufman.

Virginia Oldenburg and Galen McGinnis deserve laurels for their portrayal of Penny and Grandpa. (Who is going to forget Grandpa saying grace?)

Congratulations to the cast and its director, Earl Kjer.

The cast: Penny, Virginia Oldenburg; Essie, Rene Bretag; Rheba, Barbara Nystrom; Paul, Eugene Koplitz; Mr. De Pinna, Everett Metcalf; Ed, Clarence Imislund Jr.; Donald, Norbert Sabin; Grandpa, Galen McGinnis; Alice, Alice Berkeley; Henderson, Gordon Pscheidt; Tony, Robert Couture; Boris Kolonkhov, Thomas Ritzinger; Mr. Kirby, Curtis Crain; Mrs. Kirby, Joan Hardy; J. Man, Joe Plunkett; Jim, Marvin Larson; Mac, Vernon Eide; Olga, Winifred Taft.

As guests of College Theater, members of the cast were served coffee and cake after the performance.

CSTC College Theater will journey to Eau Claire to present "The Silver Chord" on Monday, November 24 as an exchange play.

District Play Contest Here

The annual district High school one-act play Contest will be held in the college auditorium on Monday, November 10. The contest will begin at 10 a.m. and continue through the afternoon, nine leagues being represented from high schools in this area.

Superintendent N. R. Capre, Melford, is general chairman of the district contest. Winners in the district go to the state contest at Madison on December 4.

Miss Pauline Isaacson and Leland M. Burroughs judged one-act plays at Neokosa, Marshfield, and Wittenberg previous to the district contest.

Milwaukee Convention Offers Varied Program

The program of the Wisconsin Education association convention at Milwaukee offers teachers an interesting weekend with speeches, discussion opportunities and evening entertainment.

Here's a brief idea of some of the highpoints in the convention being held November 6 (today), 7 and 8, with the main sessions at the Milwaukee auditorium.

Carl Van Doren, who is rated as one of the ten most important contemporary writers, will be one of this morning's speakers. He will talk on the subject: "World Government - The Way to Peace." The other speaker at today's session will be Vivian Kellems from Connecticut, president of the Kellems Products, Inc. and a leading figure in American industry. Her address will be on "Removing Discriminations Against Women."

Friday's speakers will be John Guy Fowlkes and Ezequiel Padilla. Mr. Fowlkes, the recently appointed Dean of the School of Education at the University of Wisconsin, will speak on "The Social Significance and Responsibility of Teachers."

Mr. Padilla of Mexico, a leading advocate of democratic ideals, will

Band Uniform Fund Continues To Grow

Another contribution to the band uniform fund has come to Peter J. Michelsen from Ruth Chrouser, a CSTC alumna now teaching at New Holstein. Miss Chrouser writes:

Dear Mr. Michelsen,
Spent last evening viewing a movie that centered around college life. In the course of the movie they sang their Alma Mater. The movie wasn't too sharp so my mind began to wander and I began to think about my Alma Mater and of course my first thoughts were of you and the band. Then, like a bolt out of the blue, I remembered the letter about the band uniforms and also recalled that I had done nothing about it. I felt about an inch high and resolved that tonight I would do something about it. As my high school principal told me—way back in high school days—"Ruth, you are well qualified for a college professor" and believe me he didn't mean because of my brains.

Am almost ashamed to send it now but I'm sure you can use it anyway. Each year we are given a visiting day—plan to use mine as a means of getting to Stevens Point. Wish me luck—Be seeing you.

Sincerely,
Ruth Chrouser

Six Members Added To College Theater Staff

Althea Boorman, Margaret Guth, Alta Kromroy, Kathleen O'Connor, Bill Golomski and John Zylka were accepted as members of College Theater at a meeting on October 29, in the Theater room.

Ray Bartkowiak was elected production manager for the year at the business meeting conducted by Norman Dineen in the absence of Bill Mellin, president.

The following committee heads were appointed for the coming production "The Silver Cord": Stage, Ray Bartkowiak, Norman Dineen and Bill Golomski; make-up, Helen Trewartha, Betty Richardson, and Alta Kromroy; properties, Norman Dineen and Isabelle Stelmahoske; tickets and program, Dolores Jelenick; publicity, Rene La Maide and Bill Mellin.

Robert S. Lewis, faculty adviser, then spoke briefly to the group on College Theater activities.

Miss Hanson Attends Broadcasters' Meeting

Miss Gertie Hanson, director of the Radio Workshop, attended the eleventh annual meeting of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters at Hotel Sheraton in Chicago from October 27 to 29.

Many nationally known figures in the field of radio participated in the conference.

Dr. Lee De Forest, "The Father of American Radio," was the guest of honor at the banquet on Sunday. William B. Levenson, president of the Association for Education by Radio, Franklin Dunham, chief of the radio division of the United States Office of Education, Clifford J. Durr, commissioner of the Federal Communications Commission, and Dr. Harold C. Hunt, president of the American Association of School Administrators were a few of the well-known men who took part in various phases of the meeting.

A former member of the CSTC faculty, Miss Helen Parkhurst, participated in a panel concerned with children's programs. Miss Parkhurst broadcasts a unique and interesting program, "The Child's World," every Sunday at 6 p.m. over station WENR.

Miss Hanson also attended productions at station WBBM, WGN, and WMAQ, three of the large commercial stations which are interested in educational broadcasting.

CSTC's Growing Pains

CSTC's growing faculty had all but depleted the available desks and files in the building when the War Assets department sent shipments of these much needed items to Wisconsin Teachers colleges last week.

This equipment had been used by the Federal Indian Service in Chicago, which has now returned to Washington.

According to President Hansen, CSTC's desks and files were distributed among those members of the faculty who had the least office equipment.

It's Rough Now, Wait Till Hell - - - Week!

Greek pledging has begun and to 25 sad looking individuals "chins-up" is all that can be said. These unhappy people can be seen trudging up and down the corridors with grimy notebooks in hand - which notebooks must be up to date or at least to all appearances.

Besides these notebooks, each sorority or fraternity seems to have found some other duties to be carried out - or else.

The "scullies" of Omega Mu Chi, for example, find that a very slight dip with a "Good morning, Miss 'Omega,'" seems to help start the day right.

The prospective Chi Deltis seem to think it to their advantage to "carry at all times" those shiny new paddles and the Phi Sigs agree. Shoes which show dust on a white glove man would for their owners and red bow ties have been seen sporting the campus.

On the last two Tuesday nights, the pledges were busy with entertaining by serenading and dramatics and even the fellows discovered what a thrill a game of jacks or a hopscotch tournament can be.

It can't last forever, though, and after surviving "hell-week" the underdogs will end the pledging season by attending the Pan-Hell formal on Saturday evening, November 15.

Large Attendance At Regional Conference

One of the largest regional conferences of school supervisors and administrators was held at the Training school here on Thursday, October 30. This conference was one of 29 scheduled throughout the state by the State Department of Public Instruction during the last two weeks of October.

The purpose of the conference was to provide an opportunity for school supervisors and administrators to discuss problems of common interest in small groups, permitting everyone in attendance to participate. There were no speeches or prepared program. The problems discussed were those submitted by the schools of this region in response to a questionnaire sent out from the Training school office prior to the conference.

Problems Discussed

Of particular concern to the group, problems which were most thoroughly discussed were the following: 1) State Curriculum Planning Program; (See CONFERENCE, page 4)

The Spectorator Editor Visits Pointer Staff

Robert Couture, the "Tony" of the Eau Claire State Teachers college production of "You Can't Take It With You" is editor-in-chief of The Spectorator, weekly newspaper at ESTC.

During his visit here on Monday with the rest of the play's cast, Mr. Couture visited the Pointer office and expressed a great deal of admiration and envy over the fine equipment with which the Pointer staff is able to carry on its work. According to him, the Spectorator staff at Eau Claire is laboring under considerable difficulty because of lack of equipment and working space.

Should Give Thanks

When the Pointer staff hears stories like this they appreciate more and more the very favorable circumstances under which they work. However, Mr. Couture and his colleagues are to be complimented on the fine newspaper that they are able to publish in spite of lack of equipment.

If any of you are interested in knowing what is going on in the many private and state colleges throughout Wisconsin and the adjoining states, drop into the Pointer office and browse among the exchange issues that are always in the wire basket on the Business Manager's desk. It's a good way to discover what is happening in the other "salt mines" and it makes one realize that CSTC is not the only school of higher learning in the world.

President William C. Hansen is to be the principal speaker at an Armistice Day program to be held in the college auditorium on Tuesday, November 11, at 10:45 a. m.

Students are urged to go immediately to the assembly in order to stand at attention at 11 o'clock.

Opening the assembly will be the presentation of the colors by three college men under the supervision of Colonel Ferdinand Hirzy. The college band will play the "Star Spangled Banner" followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag. (If the beginning numbers take more time than anticipated an interruption will be made to allow for the minute of silence at 11 o'clock.) Marne Guth will present readings of American Prose.

The band under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen will highlight the program with several selections and the assembly is to conclude with the playing of "America". Leland M. Burroughs and Mr. Michelsen are in charge of organizing the Armistice Day program.

Following the program, school will be dismissed for the rest of the day.

On Executive Group

Leland M. Burroughs has been appointed to the executive group of the State Centennial Drama committee for the Wisconsin state centennial. He will attend the first meeting to be held at the Memorial Union, University of Wisconsin, on the morning of December 5.

LSA Represented at Regional Conference

The Lutheran Student association of CSTC was represented last week at the regional conference of the Land O'Lakes region of the LSA at Camp Iduhappi, Minnesota. Delegates attending were Marjorie Hales, Alta Kromroy, Tom Hagen, John Olson, John Eid and Orval Moser.

The conference was attended by students from three states, Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin, to discuss the theme "Jesus Christ is Lord," which was divided into seminar groups consisting of "Jesus Christ is Lord" in 1. politics, 2. the community, 3. the church, 4. the campus and 5. in the home.

John Pierson of Gustavus Adolphus college, St. Peter, Minnesota, gave the main address of the conference.

Foreign Student Aid

On Sunday morning, the entire assemblage participated in a joint communion service at which a collection for Lutheran student action was taken up. The money will be used for aid to students of foreign lands in order that they may continue their education and gain a better understanding of Americans.

The annual business meeting was also conducted at the conference during which time the constitution was revised, allowing smaller colleges equal representation with the larger colleges in the voting. Officers for the coming year were also elected and duties for the summer Ashram were given to Stout, River Falls STC and Eau Claire STC.

On the return trip, CSTC's delegates stopped at Stout Institute, Menomonie, where they were treated to a luncheon given by the LSA from Stout.

You're Doing A Fine Job - -

There is an organization in, on and around the campus that is rarely appreciated by the college people. This organization is comprised of young fellows whose responsibility is greater than many people are aware. We are referring to the Police Cadets from the M.D.B. Junior High school.

The Cadets are organized and sponsored by the Stevens Point Police Department which supplies the boys with badges, raincoats and caps. The Cadets of the city are credited with having helped prevent a traffic fatality so far.

The cadets are stationed on all street corners and main highways where school children going and coming from school must make crossings. It is their duty to see that the children cross only on the cross walks and do no "jay walking" or take unnecessary chances in crossing the streets. It might be worthy of attention to note that this should also apply to college students. Even though we're usually in a hurry, let's cooperate with these Cadets who are doing such a nice job!

It is interesting to observe the system the Cadets use in calling each other "off duty" when the final bell rings for classes. The cadet stationed closest to the building calls down the street to the cadet stationed on Klink's corner; he in turn yodels to the one stationed a block west on Main street. Then the boys leave their posts and join each other at the Training school.

You will see these Cadets early in the morning, at noon and in the afternoon, guiding, warning and advising their classmates on "safety-first" for pedestrians. You're doing a fine job, Cadets, so keep it up. We're behind you 100 per cent.

Training School News

The fifth grade group have been discussing industries of their state, stressing the dairies. They took a bus ride to the city, took an inspection tour of the Point Bakery and a trip to the Cloverland Dairy. The following day they churned butter and made some cottage cheese for their lunch at recess, under supervision of Dorothy Severson, Areluis Hall and Miss Lydia Pfeiffer.

A gym decorated with cats, witches, skeletons and a parade of ghosts presented an appropriate setting for the Halloween parties held by students at the Training school last week.

Thursday, October 30, the fourth, fifth and sixth grades held their party. All the pupils dressed in costumes which were judged. A grand march led by student teachers Audrey Jones and Don Jorgensen was a highlight of the program. Games and refreshments completed the program.

The primary department held a similar party Friday afternoon, October 31. Each grade gave a stunt for the group while prizes were awarded for the funniest costume in each class.

Student teachers assisting were Kay Breslin, Ethel Wherrit, Martha Stock, Dolores Lepak, Marcia Gunderson, Kay Taylor, Bernice Wanke and Muriel Narron.

The Junior High School held their party Friday evening. Students came dressed as scare crows, clowns, pirates, ghosts, goblins, tramps and other interesting characters.

Gene Barrow acted as master of ceremonies for a varied program consisting of songs, skits, a musical reading, a magic act and truth or consequences.

At 9:30 a delicious lunch was served on a long table decorated with witches, pumpkins and goblins.

The party was planned by the student council with a volunteer student committee assisting them.

A Brownie troop has been organized for third and fourth grade girls under the leadership of Mrs. S. N. Winarski. Mrs. Walter R. Jacobson and Carol Karner are assisting her.

About 20 girls in the troop enjoyed a Hobo Hike last week. This ended with a lunch consisting of the food they had gotten along the way.

Plans for future activities are now in progress.

Ghosts Run Rampant At Halloween Party

Big ghosts, little ghosts, tramps, Indians, pixies, mustachioed brides and others invaded the basement of the Orthman Demonstration school last Friday, October 31. The reason? A Halloween masquerade party.

The basement decoration created a distinct Halloween atmosphere. The windows were hung with eerie Halloween transparencies. Orange and black crepe paper streamers acted as ropes from which black cats and glaring paper jack o'lanterns were hung. Lighted pumpkin lanterns leered at the group from their positions on the floor. Walls and window sills were decorated with catwalks, witches and owls.

The children bobbed for apples, held a paper relay, a gum chewing relay and "pinned the nose on the pumpkin".

Elaine Wittta received the prize for being the most accurate in the latter game.

The climax was the grand march. Prizes were given for the most elaborate and funniest costumes. In the first group Jack Hauber (Indian Chief) was first and Cora Merrill, (bride) second. In the latter group — Gerald Halverson (Halloween pixie ghost) was first and George Broziak (little old lady) was second. Halloween whistles were awarded to the winners.

Gerald Halverson then treated the group to candy lollipops, after which packets of Halloween candy and favors were distributed.

The party was under the guidance of Miss Ruth Steinbring, supervising teacher. She was assisted by student teachers, Carol Schoneck, Virginia Morris, Angeline Dooxater and Marion Lewandowski.

Martha Stock Accepts Merrill Teaching Offer

Martha Stock has accepted a position as first grade teacher in the Merrill city schools for the second semester of this year. She will have a class of 14 first grade children. This is the first position filled among the mid-year graduates.

Miss Stock, who lives at Harshaw, Wisconsin, near Rhineland, will receive her B. E. degree.

Thus far, two superintendents have visited the Training school looking for teachers for the second semester. They are Charles B. Walden, superintendent of schools at Merrill and G. W. Bannerman, superintendent of schools at Wausau.

OVER A COKE

Lament—
Oh, little, lonely, lonesome pine
Each night I listen to your whine
It chills the marrow of my bones
To hear the rustling of your cones;
Someday I think, I'll take an ax
And cut your gosh darn trunk down.

To set you straight—
Homer wasn't written by Homer but by another man of the same name.

Milton wrote "Paradise Lost". His wife died and he wrote "Paradise Regained".

The body of Helen of Troy was found in King Tut's tomb.

Monsoon: A French gentleman.
Humidor: A Spanish bullfighter.

Diabolic: A man who went around with a lantern hunting an honest man.

I Pledge Allegiance—
Alta Kromroy and Marjorie Hales really went all out for Halloween by putting a pair of p.j.'s on the flag pole at Camp Iduhappi, Minnesota.

An old, old story—
Little Willy came running in after Sunday school all excited. He ran to his mother and said in one breath:

"Mother, today in Sunday school we sang about a cross-eyed bear named Gladly."

Willy's mother looked perplexed. She couldn't imagine how a story like that could come out of Sunday school, so she asked if he had his Sunday school papers with him. Sure enough, on one was the hymn for children "Gladly, the Cross I'd Bear".

Laurels
Thanks to Miss Edna Carlsten for her work making the social calendar bulletin board. It was a big job and it's really appreciated.

Formula for Dull Classes
One bright (?) student suggested wearing colored glasses to dull classes so the instructor wouldn't know if you were sleeping. The idea wasn't bad, except the lad didn't know if it would work in his case 'cause when he sleeps his jaw falls open. (Well, it was an idea!)

Just Plain Stuff—
Here's a pleasant bit of information: the month of November is the possessor of not four but five Saturdays and five Sundays, plus two and a half days of vacation, which leaves 17½ of the 30 prescribed days to be spent in, you guessed it — school. Well, it is a pleasant thought when you think sometimes that you're fighting a war with text books—and you're not winning.

Before we know it, we unsuspecting souls will be caught in a pre-Christmas rush.—It always happens.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Alpha Kappa Lambda

The Alpha Kappa Lambda held its regular meeting on Wednesday, October 29 in the rural assembly at Central State Teachers college where the main event of the evening featured Joe Moravec, a member of the club, who introduced a song which he wrote and composed for the Conservation club. His Conservation Hymn won praise and wholehearted approval by all the members present.

The business meeting included decisions upon events for the date of December 11, at which time the Alpha Kappa Lambda will have a venison steak dinner for its members at Nelson Hall. After the dinner a dance, open to members and their guests will be held at the Training school. Several names were discussed for the dance and "The Sportsmen's Ball" was selected. Plans are being made to have two floor shows during the dance, featuring a premiere of college talent.

Committees Appointed

The following committees were appointed by president George Sappenfield: Dinner committee, Fred J. Schmeckle, club adviser, Ed Korzilius, chairman, Al Kaziak, co-chairman; dance program committee, Bernard R. Wiewel, adviser, Bill Mellin, chairman, Roy Swenson, co-chairman.

Entertainment committee, Walter R. Sylvester, adviser, Joe Moravec, chairman, Tony Isherwood, co-chairman; decoration committee, Raymond E. Specht, adviser, Charlie Stimm, chairman, Norman Dineen, co-chairman; advertising committee, Robert S. Lewis, adviser, Leonard Rohde, chairman, Jerry Czarniecki, co-chairman; invitation committee, Jim Stoltenberg, chairman.

Tony Rides Again

Tony Isherwood was the speaker of the evening. His topic was "Tony Rides Again" in which he told the group how he took a month's trip of 7,500 miles through the west for a very reasonable amount of money this past summer.

Tony told of the erosion he noticed in the west and also of the great strides in the conservation of forestry in Washington and Oregon.

Other highlights of his talk were about the impressive grandeur of the Redwood Forests in California, the Sacramento Valley, the world's largest fruit growing valley which has a harvest time every month of the year. Fresno and its huge vineyards and wineries were also mentioned. Truck farming is carried on in vast areas in California providing there is water. Production is not based upon fertility but available water.

Tony stressed how soil conservation practices are being used in these great areas by the progressive orchard and truck farming owners.

Tours Southwest

Interest was added to his talk by telling of his visit to Los Angeles, Hollywood, the Delmar Race Tracks, San Diego, a visit across the border in Mexico and about his return via Arizona, Boulder Dam, Grand Canyon, New Mexico and Denver, Colorado.

To top the evening off, a very interesting and colorful film of a fishing trip up in the extremes of Alaska was shown by the Weber Life-Like Fly company.

LSA

LSA's annual Halloween party was held at the First English Lutheran church last Thursday evening, October 30. The group participated in a scavenger hunt after which a lunch was served by Betty Maki and Kathryn Peterson.

During the evening, Reverend Orville K. Wold spoke to the group on the origin of Halloween. The Tonight the meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Lounge. Reports on the regional convention will be given at this time.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

At the second rushing party of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, held on Sunday, October 26, at Iverson Lodge, 13 men were invited to be pledges.

During the past week the pledges have undergone part of the traditional initiation with success and are (supposedly) looking forward to Hell week.

Pledges accepted by Phi Sigma Epsilon are as follows: Reuben Brulke, Fredric Brewer, Charles Bruce, Daro Buchanan, Robert Cole, Horace Coleman, Warner Christian, John Isham, Robert Marquardt, James Richards, James Whelihan, Carman Lane and James Stauss.

Chi Delta Rho

The pledge season for Chi Delta Rho was launched Tuesday night, October 21, at a "get-acquainted" party held at the lodge in Iverson Park. The prospective pledges had the opportunity of looking over the actives and vice versa.

On Sunday evening, October 26, a pledge dinner was held at the Belmont hotel. After a turkey dinner the pledges were introduced and officially welcomed by Percy Voight, pledge master. President Jim Cory acted as M. C. and called upon faculty advisers, Dr. Harold M. Tolo, Norman M. Knutzen and Gilbert W. Faust to address the group. They spoke on the responsibilities of the fraternity and the position of the fraternities on the campus.

Alum guests were Roman Cooper and Jimmy (Doc) Kulidas.

The evening was concluded with the singing of the Chi Delta Rho song and a cheerful "See you next week, fellows" to the pledges.

Men pledging the fraternity are Frank Sliva, Duane Counsell, William Ludwig, Ed Korzilius, Dave Walczyk, Charles Theisen and Harlan Stoltenberg.

Educational Panel Part of Convention

One of the interesting sectional meetings of the Wisconsin Education association's annual convention in Milwaukee is scheduled for Thursday, November 6 at 2 p.m. in the Vocational school, room 654. A panel, consisting of five men, representing different professions, will discuss the question, "Is Educational Research a Good Investment?" The discussion will be led by Dr. Raymond E. Gotham of the Training school.

The participating members of the panel are: Dr. A. S. Barr, School of Education, University of Wisconsin; Dr. C. E. Von Eschen, Board of Education, Beloit; Roy Matson, Editor, Wisconsin State Journal, Madison; R. O. Tjensvold, Industrial Relations Division, Allis Chalmers Mfg. Co., Milwaukee; O. W. Neale, State Senator, Member Senate Educational Committee, Stevens Point.

Present Different Views

The purpose of the panel is to provide an opportunity for the presentation and discussion of differing views concerning the values of an educational research program in the public schools. Those who advocate an extensive research program recognize the need for providing objective, understandable and convincing evidence of the values and accomplishments of the school program to be made available and interpretable to the average citizen.

This group feels that the increased interest in the schools today is not

First Basketball Session Attracts 42 Candidates

Approximately 42 candidates responded to Coach Hale F. Quandt's opening call for basketball candidates. The opening practice session was held early last week and the number of hopefuls has been growing rapidly since that time.

With the closing of the football season many more players turned out, including quite a few lettermen from last year.

Coach Quandt has been stressing fundamentals with the boys, with only brief scrimmage sessions being held.

The coach has over a month to work with the group before their first game of the season. On December 5 they will travel to Stout to open their conference play.

A good deal of material is on hand for this year's team, with a large group of lettermen back in the fold. The rest of the team will be made up of fellows who starred in their respective high schools, but whether they can come up to college basketball standards remains to be seen.

Only Four Home Games

Only four home games are on the docket for the Pointers this season. On January 20 they meet Oshkosh and on January 24 they entertain Milwaukee. Then on February 14, they meet Whitewater here and close the season on February 21 against Platteville.

The complete basketball schedule is as follows:

- Dec. 5—Stout-There
- Dec. 6—Eau Claire-There
- Dec. 17—River Falls-There
- Jan. 16—Platteville-There
- Jan. 20—Oshkosh-Here

Brunswick	5	16	712

The Phi Sigs bounced up and took three games from the league leading Continental Clothing team in the college bowling league last week. As a result the Clothiers find themselves in a tie for first place, instead of having undisputed possession of it.

The Grover-Nautá bunch took advantage of this break and swept three games from the Faculty and moved into a first place tie.

Top Teams Tussle

Next week these two top teams meet in a play-off for first place and some of the best bowling of the season should be seen when these two teams clash.

In other games rolled, the Chi Delts captured two of three games from Hannon-Bach and the Lyric Theater rolled three wins over last place Brunswick.

Veselak rolled the high series and game of the evening with a 549 series and 207 high game.

Other high series were rolled by Minton-548; Zych-542; Sengstock-524; Knope-510.

High single games were hit by Abrahamson-200; Grassl-205; Minton-202; Sakanich-202.

Zych Leads League

Bowling at the end of the first round finds Zych boasting the highest average of 172. Second place is shared by Mellin, Veselak and Sengstock with 162 averages. Minton, with a 161 average, completes the top five. Other high averages are held by Knope-160; Prihoda-159; Springer-156; Grover-156; Cory-155; Sliwa-154; Grassl-155; Baldwin-153; Carlson-153 and Porter-152.

The Fifth Quarter

Final Standings

Platteville	1	2	1
Whitewater	1	2	1
Oshkosh	1	3	0

In a conference game last weekend, Milwaukee State swamped Oshkosh 32-0 to cinch undisputed first place for the Green Glubs. Whitewater moved into a third place tie with Platteville after their victory over the CSTC gridgers. The score in that game was 13-7.

Whitewater won its first game in two seasons as it drubbed the Pointers. The game was played on a slippery field, thus eliminating all the trick plays. Stevens Point threw away two touchdowns — one on a fumble inside Whitewater's ten yard line and the other on a long pass dribbled off the fingers of end Joe Haidvogel in the end zone. By the way, Joe's arm was injured early in the game but he continued playing. The Pointer touchdown came on a ten yard plunge by Tom Curry after a sustained drive.

Curry and Potter, Point halfbacks had leg injuries and neither was able to play his usual hard-driving game at Whitewater.

The team had a six hour layover at Madison Saturday night. Rumors had it that a good time was had by all.

Hats off to Win Brockmeyer, Wausau's great football coach. He is rated as one of the four best coaches in the state high school football circles. His team won its ninth consecutive championship in the Wisconsin Valley Conference this year. They have remained unbeaten in 58 consecutive conference games. His worst record is as follows: 105 victories, 12 defeats (mostly non-conference) and six ties. CSTC has many fellows on the squad that played under Brockmeyer.

Now that football season has ended, basketball pops into mind. The CSTC cagers already have one week of practice behind them. Hale Quandt, formerly of Tomah High School, has taken over the duties of head basketball coach. Coach Quandt states that all the men with previous basketball experience should get out there and try out for the team. How about it, fellows?

Point Drops Finale To Whitewater 13-7

CSTC dropped their second conference game of the season Saturday when they were nipped by the Whitewater Quakers 13 to 7 in the season's finale played at Whitewater. The win for Whitewater was their first conference win in two years.

This game could have gone either way with both teams battling it out at even terms for most of the game, only to have Whitewater push over a tally in the final five minutes of the game.

Whitewater scored early in the first period on a drive of 55 yards. Red Wagner surged into the end zone for the score and the extra point was good.

Fumble on One-yard Line

Point pounded right back and looked as if they were going to score, but a fumble on the one yard line ended that threat. It was that bad break for Point which spelled the margin of defeat.

The Pointers threatened several times in the first half, but could not score until the third quarter when a Whitewater punt was blocked at mid-field. A pass from Gordon Parsons to Tom Curry put the ball on the Whitewater 10 yard stripe. On the next play, Curry circled right end to go over for the score. Ken Kulick kicked the extra point to tie the game up at 7 all.

Wagner Scores Again

With but five minutes left in the ball game, Whitewater, aided by three Point penalties, went over for the score. Wagner bulled over for the game winning touchdown from the two yard line.

The Pointers tried hard to get that score back, but the gun went off before they could tie the score and Whitewater won 13-7.

It's the House That Matt (Klink) Built

Mention going to Klinks and someone yells, "Hey, find out who's there!" All that can be said is that any place brewing over 10 pounds of coffee or mixing enough cokes to use 10 gallons of coke syrup on a busy day, must have plenty of people sippin' through their straws.

One afternoon (between showers) this reporter went there to gather atmosphere. After floating around a while (gathering above mentioned atmosphere-wolf calls or the Bronx, either way you want to take it!) we finally seated ourselves in one of the knotty pine booths Matt Klink made. (He designed and built the whole works — though Mrs. Klink assures us, she helped too!)

"When Seldom Is Heard"

Now turning to fact, it seems that once upon a time Klinks was just the house on the corner, the home of a kindly old couple, Mr. and Mrs. Duke. However, even they had "the heart of an inn keeper" and sold milk and cream (provided by their cows pastured in the back yard) to the students.

When Grassmans (then running the place next door) bought the home, they transformed it into the Gingham Tea Room. The tea room was just what the name implies — small tables with gingham clothes, and gingham covers for the chairs. The food was good, people came there and business boomed.

When the Swensons bought the Eat Shop the Grassmans concentrated on the tea room, enlarging it on the north and west sides.

The Call to Duty

However, the Grassmans, both CSTC graduates, couldn't get teaching out of their blood. When Mr. Grassman accepted the principalship in an Ogdensburg school, and his wife a teaching position there, Mrs. Elsie Miner (Mr. Grassman's sister) operated the tea room. Mrs. Miner claimed she made more running the Tea Room than the other two did teaching school. (Just goes to show people are more food hungry than knowledge starved!) Finally Mr. Grassman, who had always been interested in horses (not the ponies, silly!) went in to the saddle horse business. He has a riding academy in Madison and runs a summer camp for girls at Hancock, Camp Shangi-la.

The Tea Room, under new management and named "The Goal Post," became a high school "hang out." The Goal Post specialized more in snacks and coke than in serving meals.

Finally Klinks bought the corner lot and made it what it is today. Thinking it over, there seems to have been a co-operative movement between the place and the school that started a way back. (No, not the student co-op organized there last year.)

Today the tradition of going to CSTC started by the Grassmans is being carried on by Roy Klink — Hold high the torch, Roy — (not just for those gals either!)

ORGANIZATIONS

air at the Wesley Foundation Halloween party Thursday night, October 30. Franklin Pearson was in charge of the "tunnel of horror" through which each member warily walked before the festivities of the evening began.

Typical Halloween games were played with the group separated into teams as pumpkins, cats, ghosts and witches. There were such games as "Murder" and the rolling of potatoes across the floor—by means of the nose. Confusion ran riot in the balloon contest.

Phyllis Kasper was in charge of the decorations and her committee consisted of Lillian Douglass, Harriet Obinger, "Jackie" Hall and Janice Sisley. In charge of the refreshments of "witches brew" (cider) and "solidified smoke rings" (donuts) were Lola Van Ornum and Madeline Williams.

The Wesley Penny Fair which was scheduled for November 6 is postponed until further notice. Watch for it.

Radio Workshop

The Radio Workshop will observe American Education week on Monday, November 10, at 3:15 o'clock. Participants will be members of the Mary D. Bradford Junior High school Radio Workshop under the direction of Alta Kromroy and Mrs. Edith Cutnaw.

On Wednesday, November 12, the college Radio Workshop Players will present "Judgment Day" produced by John Kowaleski and Daryl Fonstad.

WAA

The annual volley-ball tournaments started with a bang for Goth's team last week, when they defeated Collum's team 44-30 and Schram's team 33-30.

The three teams will continue to battle it out over a period of six weeks, according to the following schedule:

Nov. 5: Collum vs. Schram, Collum vs. Goth; Nov. 12: Schram vs. Goth, Schram vs. Collum; Nov. 19: vs. Collum, Goth vs. Schram; Dec. 3: Collum vs. Schram, Collum vs.

Goth; Dec. 10: Schram vs. Goth, Schram vs. Collum.

Games start at 7 and 7:40 p.m. Any team with less than six members present five minutes after the scheduled time must forfeit the game.

The point system is being used for determination of winners. A team receives two points for each game won and one point for each game tied.

At the close of the semester two all-star teams will be chosen by a committee consisting of the three captains, the volley-ball sports-head and the faculty adviser.

TRAINING SCHOOL

Twenty-two fifth, sixth and seventh grade girls have organized a girl scout troop with Mrs. Carl Hackburt as leader. Shirley Brechler and Carol Kreger are assisting her, while Jean Walker helped in the organization.

The first meeting included election of officers and planning for the coming year. The officers are President, Lois Nelson, secretary, Gail Podoweltz, and treasurer, Suzanne Monroe.

Most of the girls are starting their Tenderfoot rank but some are working for a first-class badge.

The Halloween Party of the primary grades was held Friday afternoon in the Training school gym. Attired in costumes that evidenced ingenuity, the children played games, after which a lunch was served.

Those who won prizes for unique costumes were: Third grade, Tommy Litzow, first, and Arlene Perron, second; Second grade, Georgia Lee Taylor, first, and Mary Bersch, second; First grade, Madelyn and Susan Jones, first, and Tony Albrecht, second; Kindergarten, Raymond Dorn, first, and Tommy Razner, second.

based on any sound and convincing understanding of the value of the schools but rather on the faith that public education is essential for the democratic way of life. The continuously increasing cost of public education will be supported, according to this group, only by a public which is convinced by objective evidence that the educational program is accomplishing the results expected. To provide this evidence an extensive research program is essential.

No Public School Research

That the public schools have not generally included a research program as a phase of its public relation activities is evidence of either a lack of interest in this problem on the part of many school officials or insufficient funds for this service. Other school officials feel that the public will support education without the necessity of providing the results of research as convincing evidence of the accomplishments of the school.

The difficulties of providing sufficient funds for the minimum essentials of a school discourages still other school officials from attempting to add the costs of research expenditures to mounting budget costs. Since any effective research program would of necessity include the services of classroom teachers, special teachers, supervisors and principals as well as the superintendent, the increased load to an already full program would add to problems involved.

These are suggestions of the points of view which will be discussed by this panel.
