

CSTC Represented at Student United Nations Conference

The POINT

SERIES VI VOL. II

April 15, 1948

No. 21

Five delegates from Central State Teachers college attended the Student United Nations conference which was held in the state capitol building in Madison on April 9, 10, and 11. The delegates were George Gynn, Gerald Czarnecki, Pat Rice, Leonard Ringstad and Joseph Moravec. The conference was sponsored by the Wisconsin Student association.

The Student United Nations conference was convened with the hopes of promoting an understanding of the United Nations, its aims and its purposes, by affording students an opportunity to work within a facsimile of its structure. The conference created a forum of students for the discussion of international problems which may confront the United Nations now and in the future. Such a discussion forum, acting under the rules and organizational procedure of the United Nations, helped to stimulate the study and further the understanding of the various cultural, political and economic differences between the member nations.

Governor is Speaker

The first meeting of the General Assembly was called to order at 1 o'clock on Friday afternoon. Charles White, chairman of the Wisconsin Student association, introduced the speakers. Governor Oscar Rennebohm welcomed the delegates to the capitol and commented upon the high aims of the organization. He was followed by Leroy Lueberg, assistant to the president of the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Lueberg welcomed the conference members to the university and its facilities and expressed his hope that the delegates would obtain the valuable experience and information that they desired.

The keynote address was delivered by W. D. Allen, counsellor to the British Embassy at Washington. The text of Mr. Allen's address dealt specifically with the problems that the assembly was to discuss. With

Seniors Sign Contracts For Positions Next Fall

CSTC seniors will be active in the teaching profession next fall. Proof of this statement rests on the many contracts already signed by local teachers-to-be.

The following list gives seniors who have accepted positions, the grade or subject they will teach and the location of their school.

Elementary: Carol Schöneck, Two-year rural, Grade 4 at Elcho; Dolores Lepak, Primary, Grade 1 or 2, Appleton; Franklin H. Pearson, Elementary, Principal, Washington School; Lorraine M. Levra, Primary, Grade 1, Tomahawk; Wilma Allen, Three-year rural, Kindergarten, Wausau; and Warren H. Soeteber, Intermediate, Grade 6, Kenosha.

Elwood E. Dyke, Intermediate, Grade 6, Kenosha; Gladys Soeteber, Three-year rural, Grade 3, Marinette; Margaret Schindler, Two-year rural, Grade 4-5, Marinette; Marie J. Holst, Two-year rural, Rural School, Pittsville; Lucille Tanner, Primary, Grade 1, Wausau; Esther L. Matz, Two-year rural, Grade 5, Elcho; Joyfe Taylor, Two-year rural, Grade 2, Elcho; and Irma Scott, Intermediate, Grade 5, Kenosha.

Secondary: Betty Ruth Crawford, English and Spanish, Watertown; Lillian Korzilus, Home Economics, Shiocton; Edward Korzilus, Science and Geography, Shiocton; Lorraine Peters, Chemistry and Science, Marathon; Margaret Brecht, English and Library, Park Falls; and Foster W. Diley, History and Band, Washington Junior High School, La Crosse.

Tau Gam Dinner-Dance To Be Held on Saturday

April showers bring May flowers and it is hoped that the flowers will turn up in the form of co-eds in formal attire at the annual Tau Gamma Beta dinner-dance to be held Saturday evening, April 24.

The dinner for the girls and their escorts is scheduled to take place at the Sunrise Cafe. At the conclusion of the dinner, the couples will return to the Training school gym for the semi-formal dance, which is open to all college students.

The Castilians have been engaged to furnish the music for dancing during the hours of 9 to 1. Admission charges are $1.50 per couple. A complete list of committees will be published next week.

President Hansen to Attend Chicago Meet

President William C. Hansen will attend the University of Chicago Conference on Teacher Education, to be held at the Palmer House on Monday and Tuesday, April 19 and 20. President Hansen is the only representative from Wisconsin colleges appearing on the program, which is under the direction of Dr. William S. Gray of the University of Chicago.

On Monday morning, a panel discussion will be held on the topic "What Can Be Done to Recruit Capable Students for Teacher Education?" Paul Cook, Executive Secretary, Phi Delta Kappa, Homewood, Illinois; J. E. Grinnell, Dean, Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute, Indiana; Mr. Hansen, and Russell Seibert, History Department, Western Michigan College of Education, Kalamazoo, Michigan, will participate.

Together with Dr. Grinnell and Dr. Wynand Wichers, Western Michigan College of Education, President Hansen will discuss, "The Selection and Indoctination of the Teacher-Training Faculty" on Tuesday afternoon.

Cast Goes to Town On Play 'Our Town'

Noticed lights burning in the auditorium the other night and decided to stop in and snoop around. It was a rehearsal of "Our Town," the College Theater production due this month on April 27 and 28.

As usual, Jean Walker's bubbling laughter dominated the scene, although it did delay rehearsal for 20 minutes, put the rest of the cast into similar hysterics, and perturbed Coach Burroughs. Earl Dryfoose tramping up and down the cat walk, and Jack Zylka beating up Jo Ann Lindemann, didn't help the situation, of course.

"Lindy" gets married in this play y'know. Too bad, fellows! Mel Berg, again a father (in the play) has trouble with his son. Seems the young man won't chop wood for his mother.

Charles Bart, the town drunk (only on stage, of course), had trouble leading his chorus of religious singers, mainly due to John Stanton's soprano. Bernard Alberg couldn't quite decide how to mow the lawn without a lawnmower!

As Donna Alderton balanced atop

"Flight" to Appear After Long Absence

"Flight" has gone to press! After weeks of collecting, editing, arranging and rearranging, members of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, announce that CSTC's own magazine of prose and verse has gone to press and will be ready for sale in the near future. This will be the first edition of "Flight" since 1942.

This 16 page publication represents the best creative work of our student body. Some contributions have been made by Sigma Tau Delta members, but more have come from the student body as a whole. In addition, the various English teachers have submitted the exceptional compositions of their students. All entries have been checked by Editor Bill Golomski and by several of Sigma Tau Delta's faculty members.

As only a limited number of copies will be available, students are advised to watch the bulletin boards for further notice and to purchase their copies as soon as they are available.

a crickety stepladder—the visit was drawn to a close.

Radio Workshop Players to be Guest Performers

A recent gesture of recognition and respect for the achievements of CSTC is the invitation extended to the College Radio Workshop by radio station WDLB of Marshfield, Wisconsin. That station has invited the entire Workshop group to broadcast through the facilities of WDLB on Saturday, April 17, from 1:15 to 2 p. m.

The story behind the invitation dates back to the early part of last month. In quest of talent for the newly established AM and FM station at Marshfield, C. C. Richelieu, the manager of WDLB, visited the local college studios. As with most people who see them, the studios, the programs and in general, the entire "setup," to put it in Mr. Richelieu's words, "impressed me very much." It was then that the idea for the program was born.

High Compliment

The significance of the invitation is two-fold. In the first place, it is an outright acknowledgment, by a competent authority, of the high quality and expert workmanship of the Workshop programs — a fact that we are apt to take for granted. In short, it is a compliment of the highest degree. In the second place the invitation represents an opportunity for each of the interested and capable radio-minded enthusiasts to "make good." Mr. Richelieu is definitely enthusiastic over the possibilities of a number of Workshop members.

Only once before in the nine years since the foundation of the Radio Workshop has such an occasion been paralleled. Miss Gertie Hanson, director of the Workshop for the past eight years, comes in for a great share of the credit for this successful showing. However, like all regular broadcasts, this special program will be directed and produced entirely by the student members with Miss Han-

Zeta Chapter Wins Cup At National Conclave

At the National Conclave of Sigma Zeta, Honorary Science and Mathematics society, held last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at Ball State Teachers college in Muncie, Indiana, Zeta chapter of CSTC was selected to receive the "Founders Cup" given annually to the chapter most active and contributing the most to the success of the conclave.

The program was highlighted by addresses given by Dr. Nathan H. Woodruff, chief of the Isotopes Division, Atomic Energy Commission, Oak Ridge, Tennessee. Friday afternoon, Dr. Woodruff spoke on "Radioisotopes, an Educational Project" while Saturday morning he gave a demonstration lecture on "Radioisotopes, Scientific Tools."

Radioisotopes was also the subject of the Friday evening banquet speaker, Dr. John Stocking, Roentgenologist, Ball Memorial Hospital, who spoke on "The Use of Radioactive Isotopes in Medical and Biological Science."

Gilbert W. Faust of CSTC was re-elected recorder-treasurer of the national organization. Other officers of the group for the coming year are Dr. Chester W. Bennett, Kappa Chapter, Western Illinois State college, Macomb, Illinois, president; Dr. Robert L. Shelley, Xi Chapter, Ball State Teachers college, Muncie, Indiana, vice-president; Sister Mary Clarence, Sigma Chapter, San Antonio, Texas, editor; Standleigh M. McClure, Beta Chapter, McKendress College, Lebanon, Illinois, historian; and Dr. Donald Miller, Xi Chapter, Ball State Teachers college, past president.

On Friday and Saturday mornings, student papers were presented. Betty Maki presented her paper on "The Use of Proteins in Modern Therapy" and Carl Stapel, Zeta Chapter's guest from Appleton Senior High School, gave his demonstration of "The Seeing Ear."

Educational field trips were conducted through the Ball Brothers Glass Company and the Ball Memorial Hospital on Friday afternoon.

Zeta chapter also extended an invitation to hold the 1948-49 Conclave at CSTC in Stevens Point and the invitation was accepted.

Zeta chapter members attending the conclave were Lorraine Peters, Betty Maki, Ed Boycks, Dick Miller, John Schuren, Elroy Gotter, Greg Quinn, Mr. Faust, and Zeta Chapter's guest, Carl Stapel.

Homecoming Concert Sunday at 3 P. M.

The college band, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, will present its annual homecoming concert on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the college auditorium.

The first part of the concert will be given by the college mixed chorus and band. Their selections will be: "Wotan's Farewell and Fire Charm Music" from "The Valkyries," by Richard Wagner; "Lady of Spain," Tolchard Evans; "Acropolis March," Harry Hughes, with Marjorie Loberg of Mishicot as guest conductor; "The Vanished Army," Kenneth Alford, with Louis Hamel of Minocqua as guest conductor; selection of Jerome Kern songs; "Prelude," Jean Beghorn and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," Peter J. Wilhousky.

After the intermission the following selections will be played by the band, "Dedication," symphonic poem, Carl Frangkiser; "The Great Century," a march by Ernest Weber, with Kenneth Strand of Augusta as guest director; "Herbert L. Clarke's Triumphant March," T. B. Bayer, with Norman Hinkley of Prairie du Chien as guest director; "Overture Pique Dame," F. V. Suppe; three dances

Elocutionist Wanted

Each week we thumb through the exchange papers received from other colleges to see if their publications can possibly be as good as ours! Oftentimes the answer is in the affirmative, the verdict lying in the fact that they are able to print fascinating stories about the guest artists and lecturers who have visited them with startling regularity.

Such news is very disconcerting to us in more ways than just professional competition. It tells us that the students of CSTC are missing some very fine professional entertainment that has appeared at practically every college in this area except ours.

CSTC students present good programs—of that there is no doubt. But everyone would like to hear and see something new and something professional in the way of assembly entertainment.

As we remember it, outside entertainment always drew a good crowd of students to the assemblies. Since there should be more convocations to strengthen the ties between students and faculty members, the present situation can be rectified by securing the entertainment that comes close to us on its way to other colleges but never quite reaches us.

Teachers College Rally Mrs. Pfiffner Attends Convention in Chicago

The Association of Wisconsin Teachers colleges will convene at Milwaukee State Teachers college on Friday, April 30 and Saturday, May 1.

The opening session at 9:30 a.m., April 30, will be addressed by G. W. Bannerman, superintendent of schools in Wausau and president of the Wisconsin Education association, and Dr. Paul J. Misner, superintendent of schools in Glencoe, Ill. Departmental subjects will be considered at sectional meetings.

Guidance services at the colleges will be discussed by Dr. Irving Stout, director of training at Milwaukee, Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, Stevens Point, and H. C. Wilkerson, Platteville.

Dr. J. Martin Klotzsch, Milwaukee State Teachers college president, will lead a panel discussion at 8 p.m. on "Wisconsin State Teachers Colleges—Retrospect and Prospect." Joining in the discussion will be Edgar G. Doudna, Madison, resigned secretary of the state board of normal school regents, and President William C. Hansen.

Dr. Harold M. Tolo is secretary-treasurer of AWTC.

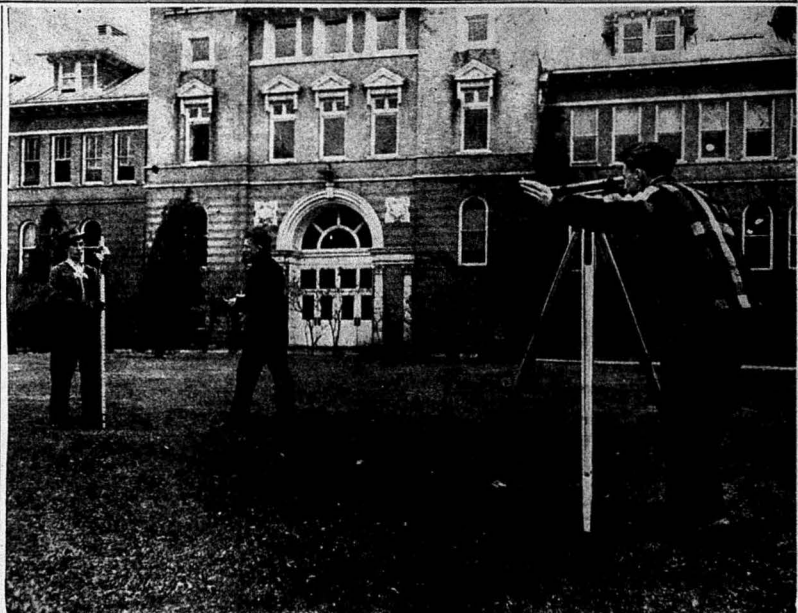

The entire faculty of CSTC will be in attendance at the Milwaukee meeting, so school will be closed on Friday, April 30.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, along with 1,600 other Deans of Women from colleges and universities all over the United States, attended the Council of Guidance and Personnel associations held at the Stevens Hotel, Chicago, March 29—April 1. The convention's theme was "Personnel Work as a Profession."

One of the greatest thrills of the convention, according to Mrs. Pfiffner, was seeing and hearing renowned workers in the educational field. Among those were Dr. Sarah G. Blanding, president of Vassar college, and Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence college. Dr. Blanding conducted a forum on "International Relationships" while Dr. Taylor, whose views on modern education were expressed in a recent issue of Colliers Magazine, gave a talk on "Giving College Back to the Students."

All but one of the State Teachers Colleges were represented at the meeting and one morning the deans from the several Wisconsin colleges had breakfast together. Mrs. Pfiffner expressed much gratitude for the fine cooperation that exists among the deans and the friendly attitudes shown among the Wisconsin colleges. The groundwork was started at the meeting for better coordination.

Plotting a new Mason-Dixon line across the CSTC campus are three members of the newly-inaugurated surveying course taught by Walter R. Sylvester and listed in the catalogue as Math 120. Holding the "rod" (the gadget that looks like a curtain stretcher) is Earl Dryfoose. Standing in the middle and copying sweet logarithmic nothings in a notebook is Carl Rochester. Harold Brandt is the one who seems to be directing traffic as seen through a telescope (level to you).

OVER A COKE

"Side Show" of the week

There was a grand opening at the hospital last week when Janice Sisley had her appendix removed. Best coming out party held in a long time. The Pointer staff hopes that nobody got Jan into stitches.

That bound Ken Bentley and Elaine Nelson in the bonds of matrimony last Saturday, April 3. Congratulations!

As good as any reason

A university student newspaper conducted a survey among co-eds on why women go to college. Wrote one: "I came to school to be with wit, but I ain't."

Good or bad?—It's still a reputation (Overheard on a bus coming from Chicago to Point—this conversation between three soldiers who were familiar with the situation—) "Yeah, the only good thing about Stevens Point is the women at the college—only they think they're doing you a favor by going out with you."

Then came the dawn
There's nothing like moonshine to end a perfect day.
Spring has sprung

After a long winter of "Slap Her Down Again, Paw" we'll soon be hearing "Batter up!"

Warm weather affects some people one way—others another. When asked what she did over this last weekend Janet Thatcher said that she hit a skunk on Rib Hill—(With a car.)

Scientists have almost all agreed that life is practically impossible on the planet Mars. It isn't so easy on Earth.

And then there's the one

About the pious parrot. When a string tied to his right leg was pulled he would say "God Bless Our Home." When a string on his left leg was pulled he would say "God Bless America." What would happen if you pulled both strings at once? asked a man. "Why, I'd fall over, ya dope!" was the parrot's reply.

It's simple

Just to prove how easy it is to learn a foreign language, here are a few simple translations.
bona fide—A bone for Fido.
alter ego—Change my egg order.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Radio Workshop

Each Monday afternoon at 3:45 rolls around a hush falls over the studios of the Radio Workshop. Daryl Fonstad in the control room flips a switch, makes a gesture, and the "Our College" program is on. From the moment that John Kowaleski purrs ".....presents the Our College program" until Maurice Mead concludes the program with the college news, you can rest assured that the best in listening pleasure is yours. The stress is on the word "Our" and more likely than not you'll find some personality, some talented artist that you know, performing in the best professional style. Or it's quite likely that you may hear one of the faculty instructing, informing or entertaining. The keynote of the program is variety and quality. This coming Monday, April 19, Grace Peterson will appear as guest artist, presenting a number of piano selections.

Tuesday, April 20, Our Book Corner with Elizabeth Allen will continue its series of animal stories for children with the story of two deer "Dash and Dart."

The Workshop Players heard each Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 will present Oscar Wilde's "Caterpillar Ghost" on April 21.

Having completed the discussion of the Palestine problem, the College Round Table will continue its discussions of other current issues on Thursday, April 22.

Music of the masters for your listening pleasure will be presented on the Music Album, Friday, April 23, as Frank Kostuck, "MC" presents selections by Saint-Saens. The program is made possible by means of records.

Student Council

Student Council members met for their regular meeting on Wednesday, April 8, at 4 p. m. President Merlin Brunner read a letter thanking students for a contribution to World Student Service Fund. CSTC is one of the five colleges in Wisconsin which has supported this cause. Mr. Brunner stressed that conditions are still difficult in foreign countries and our continued help is urgently needed.

Alpha Kappa Rho

Jack Whitney became a member of Alpha Kappa Rho at an initiation ceremony at the home of Peter J. Michelson on Monday evening, April 5.

Jack presented a program on Wisconsin composers. He also sang an original composition, the writing of which is one of the requirements to become a member of this musical organization.

The rest of the evening was spent playing cards, after which refreshments were served.

Gamma Delta

Gamma Delta will meet tonight at the home of Pat Grover, 136 Algoma street, here in Stevens Point. A business and social meeting will be held at 7:45. Plans will be made for the spring picnic and a review of the state convention held last week-end in Madison will be given. All members who were unable to attend the conference are asked to make special effort to be present at this meeting to help discuss and adopt some of the issues of the convention. Those members who have not paid their dues should take care of this with Treasurer Ernest Link as soon as possible.

Newman Club

An informal chat between Miss May Roach and members of the Newman club highlighted their meeting last Thursday evening at St. Stephen's school.

Plans are being made for the club's annual spring picnic to be held on Thursday, May 13.

A baccalaureate communion and breakfast in honor of senior members will be held at St. Stephen's church on Sunday, May 30. Bill Jensen, Norbert Koller, and Marjorie Lodzinski were chosen as a committee for the occasion.

The Wesley Foundation will be guests at the next Newman club meeting, April 22.

Meeting in Madison Today

A meeting of the joint committee of the Boards of Higher Education in Wisconsin is being held today at Madison.

President William C. Hansen is secretary of this group and Wilson S. Delzell, local regent, is also attending.

NOTICE

Student organizations are again reminded that the Social Calendar committee will meet on Monday, April, 26, at 7 p.m.

At that time, organizations that wish to have dates reserved on the Social Calendar for next year should be represented at the meeting by their presidents and an auxiliary delegate.

The meeting will take place in Room 113. Presidents and delegates are cautioned to be there promptly.

Familiar Faces

Did you ever know anyone whose real hobby was making and keeping friends? Before you shake your head and say "uh-uh," wait a minute. Come to think of it, you do know Jeanette See, don't you? She is the girl you saw as you moved down the "receiving line" on registration day at the main office. She's also the brown-eyed girl you've been meeting at the information desk any day during the past three years. Since she was a freshman, Jan has been giving requisitions, information, and help to all comers at the college office.

Before CSTC knew her, young Miss See was a well-known 4-H club member in her home community at Rudolph, Wisconsin. Her education was obtained from St. Michael's School, Junction City and Rudolph High school, where she was valedictorian of the 1945 Senior class.

Farming holds a lot of interest for her. Up until a year ago, when her parents moved to Wisconsin Rapids, Jeanette had spent her life on their farm. With her three older brothers, she learned to drive horses, haul hay, and, yes—she can milk cows!

While she doesn't sing, or play the piano to provide the conventional entertainment, Jan holds a more sure key to anyone's heart. She bakes prize-winning apple pie, and loves to do it. Does she sew, too? One week-end she tossed off a new dress-complete. Many girls do practice these homely arts, but not all girls enjoy them as much as she.

Her friendly, dimpled face will be seen at the Training school where she is practice-teaching, in and out of the office, the dorm, the Eat Shop and at meetings of Tau Gamma Beta, where she has served as president and Pan-Hell representative. At the present Jeanette is president of Primary Council and is Newman club's press representative for the third year.

Band Homecoming Dance

A dance, sponsored by the college band, will be held in the Training school gym on Saturday evening, April 17, following the Band Homecoming dinner at the Methodist church.

Music for the dance will be furnished by a group of 12 members of the band who will be assisted by various visiting alumni.

Dancing will be from 9 to 1 and the admission charge will be 75¢ for couples and 40¢ single admission.

The Fifth Quarter

College intra-mural sports have been at a standstill since Coach George Berg was taken ill. His absence has terminated the table tennis tournament. Also, a lot of men around school have been patiently waiting for the softball leagues to begin. The teams are all formed. The only tie-up is the formation of a suitable schedule. The spring season brings the urge to get out on the diamond. They are all hoping that Coach Berg gets back soon to start the season, since the end of the semester is approaching rapidly.

Milwaukee State, Oshkosh State and Milwaukee Extension participated in a triangular indoor track meet last week. Milwaukee State overpowered their opponents by taking nine firsts. Final tabulations were Milwaukee State, 104; Oshkosh State, 33.5; and Milwaukee Extension, 24.5. Ken Levenson of Milwaukee State was the only double winner, taking firsts in the 440 and half-mile runs.

College football is an honest sport!! Here is proof. Larry Jensen, star fullback of the University of California Bears, was made ineligible by a faculty ruling stating that he should concentrate on studies instead of extra-curricular activities. However, he enrolled in Head Coach Lynn Waldorf's course, "The Theory of Coaching." The course calls for field laboratory experience which means that he must attend all spring football practices in full uniform. He can't take part in spring scrimmages, but the course calls for similar maneuvers. Jensen is the only one in that course of study!

There will definitely be no track at CSTC this year. Coach Quandt stated that this was due to lack of facilities and equipment for track. He plans some track meets for next season though. The school has no hurdles and the cinder track is in bad shape. Improvements are to be made next summer. The school could stand a lot of new athletic equipment. That equipment always seems to come next year.

The Lyric Theatre team was dropped from undisputed first place in the College Bowling league as a result of a brace of defeats handed them by the Chi Delts. The Grover-Nauta team took advantage of the Lyric's ill-fated defeats to take three games from the Phi Sigs and moved up into first place.

Other pairings saw Hannon-Bach take two of three from the Brunswick and Continental take two games from the Faculty.

Grover-Nauta tipped over 2485 pins to rack up the high team series for the evening. Continental hit for a 2425 series for second place and Hannon-Bach toppled a 2382 series for third best.

Continental rolled the high game of the evening, an 898 game. Hannon-Bach racked an 876 game and Grover-Nauta hit two identical games of 868 to gain other team honors.

Reis rolled the high single series of the evening topping the pins at a 551 clip. Other high series were rolled by Minton, 546; Grover, 544; Prihoda, 543; Kulick, 536, and Green, 513.

Minton rolled the high single game of 221 and followed up with another good game of 193. Other high games were bowled by Reis, 206; Prihoda, 203; Kulick, 199; Knope, 195; Peters, 193, and Green, 190.

Gridders Show Promise — Gulls' Throne Is Shaky

Approximately 50 stalwarts are working under Coach Hale Quandt and assistant Coach Ray Specht in spring football practice being held this year for the first time in quite a few years.

The team has been divided into two squads, the "Whites" and the "Purples," with an intra-squad game scheduled as a climax to the training period. The candidates have been putting in some gruelling practice sessions with general conditioning work being of prime importance. The squad had their first scrimmage Monday evening and the team looked rough and ready, with some flashy running and hard tackling being displayed.

Coach Quandt has 16 lettermen out for spring sessions along with four numeral winners from the '47 squad. The lettermen are: Ellsworth Gaulke, honorary captain of last year's eleven, Dick Berndt, Chet Dezeinski, Ken Kulick, Jim Koehn, George Emmerich, Jack Chvala, Dick Parsons, Cliff Robbins, Jim Dalondar, Gary Bartelt, Dick Lorenzen, Tom Curry, Jack Young, Charles Hanke and John Isham.

The numeral winners are Pat Love, Robert Fritsch, Norris Lindquist and Don Yahr.

A new system is being tried this year by Coach Quandt. A lot of tricky plays are being run off during the spring training period. After a season for the players to become thoroughly acquainted with the system, the Pointers should be a smooth-working eleven next fall.

Plan "Conservation Day"

Plans for a "Conservation Day" to be held on Friday, May 7, are being made by the Conservation department.

Observance of the day will be shown through a campus tree-planting project dedicated to the first graduating seniors of the Conservation department. Displays of conservation activities will take place throughout the day and movies will be shown at 10 a.m.

A school-wide "Bow-Tie Dance" in the evening at the Training school gym will complete the day's festivities. Alpha Kappa Lambda is in charge of planning the dance program.

A Letterman Talks Back

(Editor's note) The following letter of opinion is published upon the request of the author and does not necessarily represent the views of POINTER staff members.

To the "S" Club:

In answer to your request that all letters, numerals, and insignia of high schools and other colleges be removed from sweaters worn at CSTC, I should like to say:

A letter, whether from a college, a high school, or a kindergarten is a mark of achievement, just as is a diploma or a discharge button. You wouldn't think of asking the undergraduates of CSTC to remove high school class rings because they have not yet earned a CSTC ring.

During my senior year in prep school, I earned letters in football, boxing, and track. The right to wear the jacket and letter I was given should be determined by the institution that gave it. I have also earned a major letter at a university which is an institution equal to CSTC in scholastic and athletic achievement. You would have me remove that letter. That is like transferring a soldier from the infantry to the air corps and denying him the right to wear his purple heart and combat badge.

To enforce such rulings the lettermen of CSTC would have to warn violators and then turn them in. It is not becoming of any athlete to turn in, tattle, or squeal on an infractor. Such actions develop childlike jealousy and are not conducive to healthy student relationship. If a student is proud of his previous school and has an award of achievement from it, be it a letter, an honor society pin or a forensic badge, the only factor determining its right to be worn, should be the wearer's conscience.

Sincerely,
Harold C. Pinther, Jr.

Stevens Point Athletes Feted at Annual Banquet

CSTC athletes and Coach Hale Quandt were feted last Thursday night along with the P. J. Jacobs High school athletes at the annual Stevens Point athletic banquet sponsored jointly by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Bleacher Coaches.

George Flugaur and Ellsworth Gaulke were named as the most valuable CSTC athletes in basketball and football respectively. Flugaur was a mainstay in the Central State co-champion basketball team, while Gaulke was a stellar center and line backer on the 1947 gridiron team. Gaulke was also named honorary captain of the football squad earlier in the year.

Bob Dehlinger and Bill Snow were named as the outstanding sportsmen from the high school.

The annual award to "Mr. Hush", an oldtime Stevens Point sports fan, went to Frank J. Blood, who has been a resident of Point since 1871.

Principal speaker of the evening was Bill Chandler, head basketball coach of Marquette university. Chandler stressed the importance of determination and fighting spirit. His humorous reminiscences of a long coaching career amused his listeners.

Coach Quandt was asked to introduce the Central State guests and stated, "Never have I had the privilege of working with such a grand bunch of fellows."

Faculty Dinner At Nelson Hall

On Monday evening, April 12, the CSTC faculty and their wives gathered at Nelson Hall for a three course dinner given by the faculty to honor Mr. Victor E. Thompson who retired last June after 29 years on the faculty. Miss Besse La Vigne, who spent 21 years at CSTC, and Mr. Charles C. Evans, who became a faculty member in 1920 and who retired in 1946. Mr. and Mrs. Evans, however, were unable to be present since they have been spending the fall and winter months in St. Petersburg, Florida and have not returned yet this spring.

Special guests were former President and Mrs. Frank S. Hyer, Regent and Mrs. Wilson S. Delzell, Mr. A. J. Herrick, Senator and Mrs. Oscar W. Neale, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Watson, Mrs. Joseph V. Collins and Mrs. Frank N. Spindler.

Norman Knutzen read the Wisconsin centennial prayer written by Dorothy Enderis of Milwaukee to start the program. Dr. Warren Jenkins, chairman of the faculty, extended the welcome and introduced the toastmaster, President W. C. Hansen who presided. Dr. Arthur Lyness gave a reading on "The Voice of the Low I. Q." and the "Barber Shop Quartette" composed of Mr. Quincy Doudna, Mr. Loutz Gage, Dr. Lyness, and Mr. Norman Knutzen presented some selections.

Gifts were presented to Mr. Thompson by Peter J. Michelson and to Miss La Vigne by Mr. Neale.

Arrangements for the party were made by the Social committee of the faculty.

Miss Bessie May Allen had charge of the floral arrangements which were in the school colors, purple and gold. The banquet arrangements were in the hands of Miss Leona Boeve. Miss Lydia Pfeiffer, Miss Edna Carlsten, and Mrs. Mac C. Butts were hostesses for the party.

Dr. Gotham to Represent CSTC at Milwaukee Meet

Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, as representative of Central State Teachers college, will attend a meeting, called by the State Department of Public Instruction, at the Schroeder Hotel, Milwaukee, on Friday, April 16.

Also attending will be one representative from the nine Wisconsin Teachers colleges, from Stout Institute, the county normal schools, the liberal arts schools and the University of Wisconsin.

The purpose of this meeting is to initiate a critical study of the effectiveness of teacher-training programs in these institutions and to advise changes after careful research.

A subordinate committee, composed of three representatives each from the teachers colleges, liberal arts colleges, county normal schools and one from Stout Institute and one from the University, will prepare research instruments to gather essential data on the matter of efficiency in teaching. Dr. Gotham is one of the three Teachers college members on this committee.

The committee members, through actual contact with Wisconsin teachers, will seek advice from them as to which phases of their training they felt were very helpful and which phases were inadequate or unnecessary.

tion of curricula among the Teachers colleges.

Throughout the conclave, emphasis was put upon more guidance training in the colleges. Stress was also laid upon "gracious living" as one of the goals of present-day society. Three separate meetings were conducted on racial and religious differences, viewing the problem from both the student and the faculty angles.

One forum of especial interest to Mrs. Pfiffner was conducted by Dean Louise Sharp of the University of Michigan entitled, "How Deans of Teachers Colleges May Assist in Attracting Fine Young People to the Teaching Profession".

RADIO WORKSHOP

son acting as guide and director.

Talented Twosome

The first quarter hour of the scheduled 45 minute program will feature Frank Kostuck singing a number of well known songs. His accompanist will be Grace Peterson. It is Frank who handles the Music Album heard each Friday.

Virtually the entire Workshop staff will participate in the concluding half hour dramatic production, one that is consistent with their practice of presenting unique types of literature to a general audience. The production is the radio adaptation of a 1938 Best Short Story, the fantasy by Robert Ayre entitled "Mr. Sycamore." It's the story of a dissatisfied postman, who, bored with life, decides to change himself into a tree. As you may suspect, the idea produces chuckles, laughs and guffaws.

The Cast

The announcing for the program will be handled by Bill Parks, the narrator—Frank Kostuck. The cast will include John Kowaleski, Marne Guth, Bernie Alberg, Alta Kromroy, John Stanton, Maurice Mead and Ann Huntzicker. Also participating will be Marjorie Hales, Arlene Kromroy, Althea Boorman, Betty Richardson, Rene LaMaide and John Eid. Richard Kowaleski will be in charge of sound effects and the program will be produced by Daryl Fomstad.

As an added note of interest, Mr. Richelieu has hinted at a repeat performance later in the spring. Incidentally, for the past six months, all Workshop programs have been on the recommended listening list published by the Wisconsin Association for Better Radio Listening.

Gamma Delta Members Attend Madison Meeting

Eleven members of the CSTC Gamma Delta chapter were privileged to participate in the first regional conference of Lutheran college and University students held in Madison last Saturday and Sunday.

This meeting was called and planned by the University of Wisconsin students to unite Lutheran students in their common goals.

Those attending from here were George Negley, Marjorie Schrader, Charlotte Paulson, Lorraine Meyer, Mary Stimers, Robert Putzier, Louise Oelrich, Gladys Rindfleisch, Jerry Quinnell, Elda Buchholz and Bernice Yonkee, accompanied by Reverend W. F. Ludwig.

Honey Atmosphere

The Madison students were gracious hosts. A honey atmosphere prevailed creating a feeling of oneness. Out-of-town students were housed in the various dormitories. Meetings were held at Calvary Lutheran University church, which is a rustic stone church on the University campus. It is the students' church away from home where they study, lounge, prepare their Sunday evening cost supper and worship with Pastors W. C. Burhop and E. F. Klug.

To find out more about campus activities two panel discussions were held with a student from each school taking part. George Negley represented CSTC on the panel "Living a Christ-centered Life." Regular meetings, Bible study and special attention to Freshman guidance were discussed as well as private prayer and devotion. Lorraine Meyer explained the Gamma Delta activities of CSTC on the panel "Our Student Group Program."

Candle Light Service

One of the most memorable parts of the conference was the Candle Light Vesper Service held Saturday night. The University Lutheran students choir led the group upstairs from the banquet to the candle lighted chapel humming "Beautiful Savior." Pastor Lueders of Oshkosh delivered the vesper sermon.

Plans were briefly sketched for a conference again next year, a tour of the Madison campus was made and group pictures were taken on the church steps.

UNITED NATIONS

the conclusion of the speech, the general assembly began debate. It was decided that the subjects suggested by the committee of the Student association would be the agenda. The assembly adjourned and the committees retired to their rooms.

There were three committees in session at the conference. The trusteeship committee discussed the disposition of the Italian colonies of Libya and Tripolitania. The political and security committee discussed the veto power and also recommended the termination of British control in Egypt and Sudan. The third committee (Social, Cultural and Humanitarian) acted on a covenant of human rights.

College Represents India

Delegations from the colleges represented the various member nations. The local delegation represented India. Now, CSTC delegates are giving talks in history and speech classes on the Student United Nations conference. Students who are interested in hearing some of the problems discussed and methods used should contact some member of the delegation or a class instructor.

A total of 16 colleges were represented at the conference at Madison. Australia was represented by the Mission House from Plymouth; China by the University; Great Britain by the University; and the United States by the University. Also present were students from River Falls State Teachers, Oshkosh State Teachers, Racine Extension, Grinnell College, Platteville State Teachers, Edgewood college, Milton college and Central State Teachers college.
