

'New Look' Covers Subject Well

As far as we can determine, this "new look," which has become the great American issue, gains the eyes, as long as it remains in moderation, but when it gets out of hand it ends up with the "eyes" and that is about all we are sure of at this point. But it would seem that most of the people favor most of it most of the time. In any event, it is "the look" that counts, despite the multi-manners and means of achieving it.

Specifically, what the look is we haven't quite decided; it has assumed such a variety of shapes and forms! But we can investigate some of its many aspects, and maybe contemplate some of its influences. It's here, and here to stay for a while at least, if we can take the number of let-down hems as indicative of a trend. That's a sign of permanence, if we ever saw one.

The new look has invaded CSTC in varying degree and has met with varying approval. A critical glance about our campus reveals a new special neatness and femininity about our co-eds. Hemlines have run the gamut from extremely long to extremely short, and no doubt will continue to do so. Most of the hems for classroom wear, however, are down a bit from last year and the girls seem to favor the change, as long as it remains moderate, for school anyway. They think longer skirts are, by and large, more flattering; they are sure they are more comfortable, and as one gal aptly put it, they are certainly an advantage in cold weather.

Dark Stockings??

More stockings and neat little pumps are coming to the classroom. It is doubtful if they ever surpass old faithful, the saddle shoe, which, as proof of its staying quality, made a successful comeback immediately after the war, but they surely will offer considerable competition. However, the stockings in school which meet approval are the old shades, not the new darker ones. These are held exclusively for more formal occasions.

The really new and different is more in evidence in date dresses and formals. Here the girls go all out for high style and the new look has been aspirated to in as many different ways as there have been girls aspiring. Which is good, they all agree.

This new look is very much an individual affair and the form the new look will take very often goes back to just that, the form. The girls are aware that in this respect they are not all born equal and what is good for one is hardly ever good for another. They are for fashions which will be flattering and enhancing to them as individuals, but strangely object to dramatic adherence to fashion simply for the sake of fashion. Socratic wisdom, we would say. Many things, which are so fascinating under certain circumstances, are quite revolting in other situations.

Male Viewpoint

But enough of feminine comment. What do the men say? They all seem to believe that the first cause of all fashion is financial in essence and they frown upon foolish females success. (See LOOK, page 4)

Do You Want To Learn Typing?

Beginning second semester CSTC is offering the opportunity to learn typing here at the college under the following conditions:

1. It will not carry college credit, and will not be counted in your semester hour load.
2. Each student enrolled will be assessed a fee sufficient to pay the cost of instructions, probably about 15c or 20c per hour, depending somewhat on the number enrolled.
3. Veterans may enroll under the G. I. Benefits
4. Students will be accepted in order of application.

There are 20 typewriters available for instructional purposes and a room will be arranged on the first floor of the Training school. See your Adviser or Director if you are interested.

Debate Contest Here

The district high school debate contest will be held in the college auditorium on Saturday, January 31. Members of the coaching staffs of the various high schools will serve as judges. The inter-district contest will be held on February 14 and on April 2, the high school district declamation contest is to take place here.

During the first semester CSTC's speech department sponsored the high school district and inter-district one-act play contests. Leland M. Burroughs, college speech department chairman, is in charge of arrangements when the high school contestants meet here.

Four CSTC coeds clad in the typical apparel of campus sweethearts were found browsing in the stacks, so the Pointer photographer took this informal shot as they continued their research. Left to right: Polly Fitzke, clad in sweater and skirt; Pat Anderson, wearing the new monk's hood coat; Jene Fumelle, in letter sweater and skirt; and Martha Stock, dressed in a two-piece wool dress.

Whitney Succeeds Juetten As Pointer Editor

For the first time since 1943, a man will hold the top executive position on the Pointer. Mary Juetten, editor for the past three semesters, has completed her work on the Pointer, and George Whitney will assume the editor's duties on Monday, February 2. During the past semester Mr. Whitney held a leading role in the production of the college paper, namely that of business manager.

Bob Stenson, formerly assistant business manager, takes over the post of business manager.

Though the staff of the campus newsheet looks forward to the virile influence of the masculine point of view, everyone joins in a rousing cheer for the able leadership provided by the so-called weaker sex. The staff unanimously asserts that Mary has proved an untiring worker and a fine friend who is gifted with rare flashes of genius every Monday night about 11 p.m. The job of editing a newspaper, even so modest an attempt as the Pointer, is no mean task and Mary has given liberally of her time and effort.

Last June, Art Swenson was chosen Pointer editor for '47-'48 and when, early in September, he accepted a position on the Stevens Point

Drama Committee Lays District Plans

The Drama Festival committee, one branch of the Wisconsin Centennial committee, at a recent meeting held in Madison, formulated plans for three-day drama festivals to be held in each of the 10 districts into which Wisconsin has been divided.

Leland M. Burroughs, a member of the executive committee, has announced that the festival for this district will be presented in the college auditorium on May 2, 3, and 4. High schools in this area, religious groups, community groups and all types of school organizations will be extended an invitation to participate.

Sometime in the middle of February, all interested organizations will be invited to come to the college for a drama clinic. A member of the Wisconsin Idea Theater and members of the staff of the college speech department will at this time discuss with the groups the choice of plays, fundamentals of acting, and the purpose of the festival program.

The plays, which may be upon any subject, are to be presented in a festival rather than competitive manner. The Centennial committee will select plays from one of the 10 districts to appear at the State Fair in August.

Leap Year Ushered In by Omeg Formal

The 1948 Leap Year will be officially opened on Saturday, January 17, when CSTC women will have a chance to invite "that" fellow to the Omega Mu Chi annual semi-formal dance. The Castilians will furnish the music and "Winter Wonderland" is the theme. This last dance of the semester will be held in the Training school gym from 9 until 1 o'clock.

Preceding the dance, the Omegas will entertain their dates and guests at a formal dinner at the Sunrise.

Marge Schrank is the general chairman of the dance and her committee chairmen are: Invitations, Mary Ellen Gmeiner, Waupaca, corresponding secretary; program and tickets, Althea Boorman; decorations for the dance, Liz Stadler and Mary Jane Rankin; publicity, Wanda Counsell; refreshments, Pat Jones; chaperones and entertainment, Jene Fumelle; decorations for the dinner, Lorraine Thatcher; gab fest, Gerry Roberts.

Admission to the dance is $1.50 per couple. Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Harold M. Tolo and Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Harris.

Schmeckle Attends Science Convention

The world's largest meeting of scientists assembled in Chicago during Christmas vacation for the one hundred fourteenth meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and Associated Societies.

Fred J. Schmeckle, head of the conservation department, was one of the 7000 teachers and professional scientists in attendance at the meetings held in seven of Chicago's leading hotels.

Mr. Schmeckle, who attended the convention from December 27 through 30, states that new trends in the teaching of the sciences were presented. Of special interest to him were the techniques and standards for science teacher training discussed at this meeting.

NOTICE

Because next week is the final exam period and the following week is registration and the beginning of the second semester, there will be no Pointer until February 5.

At the request of the Pointer, Pat Jones, Katie O'Connor and Kay Taylor dressed in tea gowns and posed against the grand piano in the Student Lounge. Their gowns show the new dropped hemlines and the bustled suit jackets so popular now.

Chicago Philharmonic Thrills Packed House

A large crowd of music lovers packed the college auditorium on Monday evening and thoroughly enjoyed the concert presented by the Chicago Little Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of George H. Shapiro.

In the first half of the program, the orchestra presented the overture to the opera "Figaro" by Mozart, and the "Italian Symphony" by Mendelssohn.

During the intermission, Miss Dolores Barron, soprano, sang two solos, "One Kiss" by Romberg and an aria from "La Traviata" by Verdi.

The second half of the program was devoted to music of a lighter vein and included the "Carmen Suite, No. 1," by Bizet, three picturesque studies by Debussy, "Perpetual Motion" by Strauss, and the Saint-Saens "March Militaire France."

The delight of the audience was evidenced by their demanding three encores from the small group of very accomplished musicians. The encores included "The Flight of the Bumble Bee" by Rimsky-Korsakov, "Three Fawns Marching" by Berlioz and a "Hungarian Dance" by Brahms.

As CSTC's music director, Peter J. Michelsen, observed, "This assembly of musicians is the best organization of its kind ever to appear at CSTC." The enthusiasm of the audience supports this statement.

Were You the Hitchhiker?

Mrs. Wm. G. Hloucal of Mosinee, writes me that two students rode with them on Sunday to Stevens Point. One of them she thinks left his jacket on the seat in the car. WHO IS SHORT A JACKET? Get in touch with her if you are interested in recovering it.

Register on Monday

All Junior College students are to begin registration on Monday, January 26, by going first to their advisers.

The advisers will help each student prepare his program and will direct him concerning the several steps in the registration process.

In some instances advisers may take care of the planning of the program prior to Monday, January 26. If students receive notice to call on their advisers prior to that time, this may be completed, thus causing less delay during the regular registration.

That Their Path May Have Light

The dance that followed the River Falls-Central State game on Friday evening, January 9, was a charity benefit that netted a considerable donation for the World Student Service Fund.

The WSSF is a most beneficial organization whose prime purpose is to alleviate the chaotic conditions that exist in the European institutions of higher learning and to aid the foreign students in preparing themselves for the severe period of reconstruction that must be carried out in practically every European country.

There is no finer program for promoting world peace than the activities of the WSSF. Students, no matter where they live in the world, or no matter what their religion, race, or belief happens to be, have a strong understanding of one another. To the last man they are employing themselves in promoting a lasting, peaceful world of which they will be the future leaders.

While the present world leaders fret and fume across the parley tables and accomplish nothing, the WSSF and other relief organizations go on in their small but effective way and accomplish great things.

Don't let this relief program end at CSTC with this one benefit performance. Continue to support this worthy cause until our more unfortunate cousins are able to walk alone along the paths enlightened by our entire cooperation.

Gone Is the Smudge And Washday Drudge

Surprise, surprise — Rolly Sacho finally got a job!

Yep, Rolly is in charge of the Worth-Moore Washerette at 124 South Second street. Rolly's Dirty Clothes Emporium features 10 of those masterful Bendix washing machines.

As every husband knows, a Bendix is something his wife nags and coaxes for in order to lighten her laundering troubles. Now maybe that wife of yours thought she was getting one of those peachy machines for Christmas — and at the time you didn't quite have the folding lettuce to satisfy her wishes; therefore she had to settle for a box of candy. All this made for a happy Christmas morning spent ducking caramels.

Well, buddy, get back on good terms with your ever-lovin' spouse. Tell her to wrap up your dirty socks and whistle her down to Rolly and his charming wife. Slap a few slugs in a great, big beautiful Bendix, then just sit back and wait for it to digest the dirt and grime — rinse 'em and spin 'em damp dry or completely dry. Then you can wrap up your sparkling shirts and socks and take them home again, and when your wife sees this, you'll have to restrain her from ripping one of Rolly's babies away from the plumbing and taking it home with her.

And you single college guys and gals can well profit by this advice too. Aren't you getting sick of toting that beat-up laundry box down to the post office and wondering what they will do to your shirt collars? Worse — isn't your mother getting sick of pulling out clothes that have been worn until she has to soak 'em in liquid chlorine to get them white again?

Well — Rolly's phone is 1831 — appointments avoid waiting — and if you can't wait at all — Rolly will do everything for you.

Better let a Bendix fix you up, and you'll get around looking like a mail-order model instead of your baby brother's old teddy bear!

Mrs. Wiewel Takes over Kindergarten Position

Mrs. Dale Ashburn, who has served as the kindergarten and music supervisor at the Training school for the past year and a half, left Stevens Point last week to join her husband in Milwaukee. She will teach afternoon kindergarten at the Fischer school in Wauwatosa. Mrs.

Klink's Now Campus Cafe

Soon students will be walking across the campus for their customary reviving at the "Campus Cafe", now affectionately known as Klink's. The new owners, Claude and Lillian Uphagrove, and their two sons, Fred and Jim, have taken over this campus haunt and are changing the name as soon as the new sign is finished. Mrs. Uphagrove has been an employee of Klinks.

The "Campus Cafe" will now be open on Friday and Sunday evenings under its new management. The coop is continuing as it has previously without change.

Mr. and Mrs. Uphagrove like the friendly students and express the hope that the college people will make "Campus Cafe" a frequent stopping off-place.

A Chance to See Art at It's Best

Students and faculty! Here is your chance to see an exhibition of some of the current works of several of our present day artists.

Miss Edna Carlsten has 24 beautiful Gelatone prints sent by the American Artists association of New York City on display in the art room. The originals were done by contemporary artists such as Grant Wood, Thomas Benton and John Stuart Curry, all of whom are regional artists, and others such as Aaron Bohrad, an artist correspondent during the past war, Peter Hurd, Paul Sample and many more. All of these artists have works hanging in various large art museums throughout the country and have gained prominence by their interpretation of American life.

If you have a little time to spare between studying for exams, come to the art room, relax, and enjoy these paintings. Everyone in CSTC should see them.

NOTICE

Typing Instruction Offered—College students desiring to learn to typewrite may enroll for classes held on Tuesday evenings or any afternoon between two and four o'clock at the Stevens Point School of Vocational and Adult Education, 1045 Clark St. Course fee: $1.25.

Ashburn was formerly Patricia Doherty before her marriage last summer.

Mrs. Bernard Wiewel, wife of CSTC's Dr. Wiewel, is replacing Mrs. Ashburn for the remainder of the semester. Mrs. Wiewel has her master's degree from Iowa State college.

Faust Assumes New Role

Congratulations are in order for the former Miss Helen Weber and Gilbert W. Faust, who were married on Saturday, December 20, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at Frame Memorial Presbyterian church in Stevens Point.

Following the wedding, which was attended by relatives and a few friends, the newlyweds greeted about 85 guests at a reception in the Church parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. Faust are residing at their home at 223 Center street after returning from a two week's honeymoon in New Orleans, La. The bridegroom is a chemistry instructor at Central State Teachers college, and his bride is vice-president of Weber Life-like Fly company.

Personality Stressed

At a meeting of the freshmen women on Tuesday night, January 6, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, dean of women, presented a short movie entitled "Shy Guy". The subject of this movie was the improvement of personality and social relationships in our school. It stressed the importance of helping ourselves by helping others.

The meeting was well attended and Mrs. Pfiffner announced that this was the first in a series of movies stressing personality.

Writers! Let Your Light Shine Forth

Have you hidden talents in the field of composition? Would you like to see your efforts transformed into print?

Psi Beta Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, is again publishing Flight, a magazine of original prose and poetry written by students on our own campus. Previous to the war, Flight was an annual publication and members of the publication staff wish to ask the aid of all CSTC students in making this first post-war edition one of the best.

Any short prose or poetry selection will be accepted and considered by a committee of faculty members and members of the local Sigma Tau Delta chapter. The best contribution will be included in Flight. Selections may be submitted by students to any English instructor or to the editor, Bill Golomski. It is asked that authors' names appear on the contributions.

If you would like to become more fully acquainted with a previous issue of Flight in order that you may have an idea as to what kind of composition wins the most appraisal, any Sigma Tau Delta member will be happy to assist you. Publication of Flight will occur in the spring.

NOTICE

All Seniors who have not filled out activity slips for the Iris must do so immediately. The final opportunity will be Thursday, January 15, at 4 p.m. in the Iris office, located on the west end of the first floor — (Math. Dept. Office).

"U-Rah-Rah! Team Team!"

Yes, the WAA girls were filled with enthusiasm last Wednesday night! It was the last night of volleyball tournaments and each girl was determined that her team must be the winning team.

The first game was between La Verne Collum's and Alice Schram's teams. Each girl was at her best. The final score was 40-36 in Schram's favor.

The next game, between Lorraine Goth's and Alice Schram's teams, proved to be as exciting as the first game. Goth's team couldn't win championship (they lost too many games before), but if they won this one they would be tied with Collum's team for second place.

The battle was much like the first one, but Goth's team continued to gain. The final score was 42-30 in Goth's favor.

Between the games a business meeting was held. The main topic of discussion was the question of joining the National Women's Athletic association, which was agreed upon.

Plans were made for the volleyball party which will be held the first meeting next semester. Committees for the party are: Refreshments, Lorraine Goth, chairman, LaVerne Collum, Betty Mehne and Angelina Dextoter; entertainment, Carol Mews, chairman, Julie Dean, Audrey Shepstone and Muriel Neerhof.

All-star teams were chosen by Miss Orisa Laman, faculty adviser, Lillian Douglass, Volleyball sporthead, and the three team captains. From these one honorary team will be chosen, to be announced at the party which will close the volleyball season.

After the close of the volleyball season the girls will take up basketball. There will be a few nights of basketball, during which time new members will be accepted. Then basketball tournaments will begin under the direction of Lorraine Goth, basketball sporthead.

* Radio Workshop *

The Radio Workshop group are developing a skill that equals the ease and smoothness of professionals!

That is a statement often made by those who tune in WLBL to the college produced programs on Monday through Friday at 3:15 p.m.

If you are interested in inside dope about Nelson Hall, tune in the "Our College" program on Monday, January 19, when Miss Leona Bovee, director of the Girls' Dorm will be interviewed.

For the young grade school audience, the story of our own Wisconsin boys and girls will be narrated as Elizabeth Allen tells of "Mitty and Mr. Syrup" by Halberg. That's on Tuesday, January 20.

Anne Huntzicker, Arlene Kromroy, Verne Lotz, Maurice Mead, John Stanton and producer John Kowaleski, the Radio Workshop Players in general, will present Arch Obler's "Mr. Pip" on their coming January 21 program.

Rene LaMaide and Frank Kostuck can be heard each Friday on the "Music Album", featuring the best in classical music.

* Home Economics Club *

Second semester officers for the Home Economics club were elected and installed at a candlelight ceremony in the home economics parlors on Monday evening, January 5. They are: President, Betty Maki; vice-president, Helen Nigbor; secretary, Lorraine Goth and press representative, Ethelyn Olson. Fern Horn, treasurer last semester, remains in office.

The Wisconsin Home Economics association convention will be held at Stout Institute this year on January 21.

Mardi Gras Tradition Seeks Revival Here

Mardi Gras, a traditional celebration in New Orleans, has also been a CSTC tradition. Last year proved the exception and Mardi Gras was not presented. This year, however, College Theater seeks to revive this evening of fun on Tuesday, February 10, and college organizations and individual students are invited to promote the show and contribute to the program.

The entertainment revolves around an all-school talent show, composed of ten-minute vaudeville acts.

Organizations, groups, or individuals who have an "Act" are encouraged to submit the name of their entry and the chairman to any member of College Theater by January 31.

The stage will be available February 2, 7, and 8 with dress rehearsal on February 9.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Secondary Division on Monday, January 19, at 7 p.m. in the College auditorium. All students enrolled in the Division are expected to be present.

Raymond M. Rightsell, Director

NOTICE

I would like to thank all those who willingly and voluntarily, without compensation, devoted their time and talents to the publication of the Pointer this last semester. It is indeed a pleasure to work with such a group of people.

Pointers Avenge Earlier Defeat — Whip River Falls Falcons, 51 - 47

Coach Hale Quandt's CSTC basketball team played their best ball of the season on Friday night at the P. J. Jacobs gym here in Stevens Point, when they tipped the powerful River Falls Falcons, 51-47. It was sweet revenge for a 62-51 defeat at the hands of River Falls earlier in the season.

The Pointers kept big Nate De Long, sixth leading scorer in the nation last year, well in check and as a result bottled up the Falcons highly touted offense. The sharp-shooting of Newman Benson kept

The Continental Clothing team bowlers dropped a three game series to the Phi Sigs and as a result dropped out of first place for the first half.

Grover-Nauta took advantage of the losses by the Continentals and took two of three games from the Faculty and went into first place in the league.

In other meetings, Hannon-Bach won two games from the Chi Deltis and Brunswick captured a three game series from the Lyric Theatre.

The Phi Sigs captured team honors as they rolled a 2297 series and 786 and 775 singles games.

Pointers Face Five Opponents in January

The Pointers have five more games scheduled for the rest of the month, all of them conference affairs.

On Friday, January 16, they will meet Platteville at Platteville, and on January 20, 24 and 30 they play Oshkosh, Milwaukee, and Platteville, respectively, in home games at P. J. Jacobs High school gym. On January 31, they travel to Whitewater for their fifth conference game.

Point fans have an excellent docket of home games for the rest of the month. Oshkosh is the defending champion of the Southern Division, and with the same quintet back again this year, they have high hopes for the 1948 season. The Pointers will have to get by the hurdle if they have hopes of capturing the conference crown in '48. All CSTC fans who saw the Milwaukee-Point game last year, remember the referees awarding the game to Point on a forfeit and will never forget it. Newcomers who weren't here last year will certainly be missing something if they fail to see this contest. Platteville always comes up with a strong outfit and will give the Pointers some very tough competition.

The Fifth Quarter

The game the other night against River Falls turned out to be an excellent game. That fact was shown in the cheers of the crowd who, for once, acted like a group with college spirit. Keep up the good work.

In that game, the Pointers garnered revenge for a earlier defeat this season at River Falls. In an earlier game, Nate De Long, their stellar center made 27 points. Hale Quandt was heard saying that De Long was one of the better players in the Middle West. The Pointers held him to 15 points in Friday night's game by putting two men on him—Joe Haidvogel behind him and either Hartman or Ludwig facing him. It proved successful.

Both teams were unusually "hot" on long shots. That kept the game going at a terrific pace. Haidvogel was the "hottest" scoring 17 points. If Joe keeps up his torrid scoring pace and all-around play, he should make the All-Conference team easily.

The one black mark against the game was the refereeing. The short referee with glasses must have been far-sighted, and had glasses fitted for near-sightedness. He did call two or three right though — certainly not more than that.

De Long went out on fouls early in the second half. He was really mad—can't say that we blame him. After the game he went charging up to the referee and a few tense words were spoken. The referee was lucky he had glasses on.

The CSTC-Stout game proved an exact reverse of the River Falls game. Both teams looked tired after the long Xmas vacation. The Pointers used every player in gaining their victory. Stout had some very good players, but had not team-work between them. The refereeing in this game didn't half measure up to the college cage standard.

Other games if interest around the Teachers College League are as follows: Milwaukee State 68, Platteville 61; Eau Claire 51, Superior 48; Oshkosh 56, Whitewater 40.

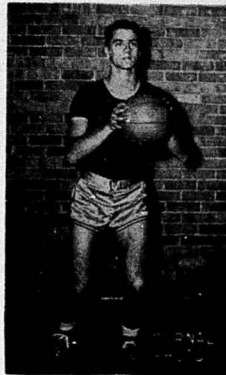

In the Oshkosh game, Richie, their

Presenting Bob and George

An outstanding member of the Pointer basketball team this year is Bob Hartman. Bob sinks buckets from the guard position and ably uses his ability to the utmost advantage of our top-notch team.

George Flugaur is another top notch performer you have been watching at the other guard spot. George also dribbled, passed and dropped buckets for the local high. He did a three year stint there and for his remarkable work in '44 was awarded an all-conference position.

big center poured 22-points through the hoop. He led Oshkosh to the championship last year. He will be the boy to watch when Oshkosh invades CSTC.

The college team, after trouncing River Falls, have listed themselves as definite threats for the championship. The team has vastly improved during the season thus far and hasn't reached its peak yet. Quandt's squad will have rough competition in such teams as Oshkosh's defending champs, Milwaukee and Eau Claire. But if they look as good all season as they did against the River Falls quintet, the title is a cinch.

In a rough, free-scoring basketball game played Tuesday night at P. J. Jacobs gym here, CSTC tipped Eau Claire Teachers 66-65.

The Pointers trailed 35-31 at half-time, but came back strong in the second half to win the game.

Dick Lund dropped in two free throws in the last five seconds to give the Pointers the lead and the ball game.

the Falcons in the game as he connected on eight baskets and a charity heave for a 17 point total.

For the Quandtmens, big Joe Haidvogel tipped in five buckets and seven free throws for 17 points to top the local quint in scoring. Besides doing the heavy scoring he helped turn in a good job on guarding the great De Long and holding him in check.

The entire Point team, starters and reserves combined, played brilliant ball in racking up the non-conference win.

CSTC Defeats Stout

On Tuesday night of last week, the Pointers outclassed Stout. Institute, 44-34, in another non-conference affair played at the P. J. Jacobs gym in Stevens Point.

The local quintet, paced by Tom Curry and Joe Haidvogel, led throughout most of the ball game and rolled to a win in the comparatively low scoring contest.

OVER A COKE

Hitched and Bewitched—

The rush was on for the ministers and the jewelers over the holidays. This is clearly evidenced by the society column and the sparkling finger wear. Those who took the tying vows were: Violet M. Kluck and Willard L. Knutson, both students at CSTC; Arvela Vogl and Gerald Klingbeil, (Mrs. K. is employed at Welsbys and Mr. K. is a student here); Jeanette E. Nelson and George N. Stertz, the groom a CST-Cer; Theodore Leo Fritsch, former CSTC student and Green Bay Packer fullback, and Helen P. Campion.

Then there are those who announce their intentions with that traditional diamond.

Frances Hoffman wears the ring of a star basketball player at CSTC, George Flugaur. Jacqueline Hall, dormite, and Duane Barnhart, Wau-paca; Marty Stotk, January graduate, and Johnny Henshaw, Long Island City, N. Y.; Everett Humke and Mary Stewart, former student of CSTC now attending Eau Claire State Teachers college; Gail Smith, a last year's senior teaching in Antigo and Don MacSwain, former CSTC student now attending an electrical school in Chicago; and to conclude the list mention must be made of Lucy Chappell who received a "dime-mond" for her birthday from "One who cares." See Miss Chappell for further particulars and to the rest "Congratulations."

The "New-Look"

Santa Claus must have become fashion wise this Christmas with the appearance of all these ankle length garments carried around on the campus coeds.

Unfair Discrimination

Bernard, seven years, is much concerned with the question of "equality of sacrifice." At school he learned with much surprise, that his teachers received salaries for the time spent in imparting information to him. It aroused a strong protest.

"Do they get paid for teaching me?" he asked. "It's not good enough. They only stand there and talk. We do all the work."

A Skating We Will Go.

With a "1,2,3-bang" skating has slid into the recreational spotlight. The weather has been ideal and the skaters seem to like being out in the invigorating air. So here's to happy landings!

Tragedy Strikes

Students at CSTC are grim. The ceilings are overcast with clouds of gloom. Semester exam time is here. Study has become intensive as well as extensive. Cheer up, kids, it'll be over in a week. May the best men win!

ORGANIZATIONS

ary 24. Delegates representing the CSTC club will be Joyce Kruger and Lorraine Meyer.

Miss Leona Bovee director of Nelson Hall, spoke to the club after the business meeting on what to expect in the teaching field and how to cope with the problems which arise. She is well qualified to speak on the subject since she has had a great deal of experience in the home economics teaching field.

YWCA

Members of the YWCA gathered around a cozy fire in the dorm Rec room, Thursday, January 8, to make tentative plans for the coming semester.

A Valentine's party is being planned for the members and their guests to be held in February. The girls sang songs to conclude their meeting.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity elected second semester officers at its regular meeting, Tuesday evening, January 6.

Those selected to head the fraternity for the rest of the year are: President, Ray Bartkowiak; vice-president, Alan Malm; secretary, Lewis McDermott; corresponding secretary, Kenneth Grover; treasurer, Ernest Link; historian, Melvyn Carlson; guard, Daro Buchanan; Pan-Hellenic representative, Walter Johnson.

Omega Mu Chi

Members of Omega Mu Chi sorority chose their officers for the second semester at a recent meeting. Elected were: Pat Jones, Fond du Lac, president; Virginia Hansen, Marshfield, vice-president; Geraldine Roberts, Fond du Lac, recording secretary; Jean Crosby, Stevens Point, corresponding secretary; Marjorie Schrank, Stevens Point, historian; Marilyn Bobbe, Nelsonville, press representative; Leone Hein, Stevens Point, chaplain, and Virginia Hull, Stevens Point, Pan-Hellenic representative.

Election of a treasurer and assistant treasurer was not held at the meeting, for these officers, Lorraine Thatcher, Waupaca, and Marjorie Kohler, Stevens Point, were elected earlier for a term of one year instead of a semester.

Newman Club

A basketball game highlighted the program of the meeting of the Newman Club, Thursday, January 8, at St. Stephen's school gym. Two teams were chosen from the boys present, with the rest of the group cheering for their favorite team.

Rev. John P. Trant read an article that was given as an address by Monsignor Fulton Sheen. The members then discussed various sections of the address.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting, January 29. In preparation for this a nominating committee composed of Norbert Koller, Ken Veselak and James Grassl, will set up a list of possible officers and these will be posted. Refreshments were served following the basketball game.

Round Table

A panel discussion on the preparation of intermediate, upper elementary and Junior High teachers was held at Nelson Hall Monday night. Participating were Principal E. H. Boettcher, Wausau, Principal S. J. Knezevich, Port Edwards, Principal Ben A. Held of the Emerson school in Stevens Point and Principal Burton Pierce of the M. D. Bradford Jr. High school at the college.

Franklin Pearson is the president of Round Table, the student organization in the division of intermediate, upper elementary and Junior High school education which sponsored the panel discussion. In addition to the members of Round Table the audience consisted of several faculty members from the Junior High and intermediate grades in the Training school. Also in attendance were President and Mrs. William C. Hansen and Quincy Doudna, director of the division. The discussion was preceded by a dinner in Nelson Hall.

cumbing to such costly frivolity. They rather approve the recent emphasis upon "the lady," but shy away from undue fragility or over-sophistication. They object vehemently to artificiality in any respect. And this brings to mind the aspect of waist cinchers and padded hips. These seem to be matters of wide divergence of opinion, and individual preference seems to be as close as we can get. The whole question, according to the all-important male mind, is greatly a problem of the person concerned. If tailoring adds, well, tailor; if femininity is fetching, then femininize.

This sudden interest in more flattering fashions and beguiling appeal would appear to be related to the very real fact that there are more men on the campus. A word of warning, in passing, though, that this writer gathered along with the above information: The girls can fool some of the fellows all of the time, all of them some of the time, but there does come a day of reckoning.
