They Live by Deeds, Not Years

There is a long Memorial week end to come, but it promises to be one of the most gripping. No man today, but the soldier of the past, will re-ture; and to the back of the mind of the man who stood at the front, are the memories that pride the most. They are not pleasant, for they bring back the memories of the war. It is not a pleasant picture.

Play Day Success, Lumbago Exempted

Members of the Women's Athletic association were horsethieves at a successful Play Day last Saturday when more than 125 girls from a dozen high schools in this area were guests of that organization.

Play Day dawned gray and drizzly, entirely in keeping with the theme of the day's circus. Hardly ever in the course of history has a circus been held without rain falling some time during the day.

As a result of the early morning drizzle, the dressers left the breakfast table in haste and dashed over to the college to rearrange the program for the day and to plan for holding all activities indoors.

Just as activities were about to be begun, however, the sun began to shine. Miss Orla Lahan and the WAA's headed a sigh of relief and proceeded with the program according to the original plan.

Morning activities included volleyball and peteza in the gym and kickball and roller skating on the courts, terminating with a number of relays held on the athletic field.

Lunch was served at Nelson Hall and eaten on the college campus. Despite Miss Lahan's warning that they "might get lumbago" if they

The Pointor
Missa Pfieffer Closes Career after Twenty-one years of Faithful Service

On September 6, 1948, after having completed 21 years of teaching at the University of Wisconsin, Miss Pfieffer was thevited to attend the training school which the Training school staff will make available to children during that period.

That alone may mean little to the comparatively new persons here. Those who have attended the Training school, or the teaching profession in general, will find the statement and pass on to something more exciting. Those plans were in a perfect state of equality—of years of service and maintenance of an exacting and generous person. By itself, the first sentence will bear no meaning for some of the readers. Read on, and know of a real person.

Home at Franklin

Near the west side of a river at Franklin, Wisconsin, is the home of the Pfieffer family. From that home Miss Pfieffer went on to schools at Plymouth; Oshkosh, Winnepeg, Toronto, Niagara; and the University of Wisconsin. Miss Pfieffer's first professional experience was in teaching for two years at a salary of $4,500. This was followed by a period of two years of teaching in a high school in the fair city of London, Ontario. For the past ten years, she has been a principal of the Sheboygan County Schools, and is now the representative of the Sheboygan County school board, having been a member of the staff of the school board for over ten years.

It is true that Miss Pfieffer must have enjoyed her work at Sheboygan School, but the fact remains that she has been a genuine friend of young people. The awards for participation in four schools at Plymouth; Oshkosh Women's Athletic Association, have been a testimony to her efforts. The women's association, which is composed of a group of women from the community, and the Sheboygan County School Board, have both been active in the organization of the women's association, and it is true that Miss Pfieffer has been a genuine friend of young people.

Miss Lynda Pfieffer (1925-1928) was one of the most beloved members of the Sheboygan County School Board. Her enthusiastic service was marked by her dedication to the betterment of the educational system in Sheboygan County. She was a driving force behind the establishment of the Sheboygan County Scholarship Fund, which continues to provide financial assistance to students in the area. Her contributions to the community have earned her the respect and admiration of all who knew her.

The Magic Touch

Miss Pfieffer was the cornerstone of the educational system in Sheboygan County. Her dedication to education and her commitment to the well-being of young people were evident in everything she did. She was a role model for all who knew her, and her influence will continue to be felt for many years to come.
