Thanksgiving—Then and Now

Thanksgiving, 1949 style, presents a picture of a table, with legs straining to support the full weight of its contents, with a press at its very edge. If you are wondering why, it is because, waiting impatiently for its millennium. As a matter of fact, not even the pressed tablecloth is guaranteed to be visible when the turkey is purchased at their favorite store—cooked in the pleasantly surrounding and untainted air of the Thanksgiving kitchen, —do they stop to think why this particular day, why this particular day, why this particular day should be celebrated? It is a day for family, and for the nation as a whole, and for the American people. It is a day that should be celebrated. It is a day that should be observed with proper ceremony.

We are, of course, a family table on that day, let us think of the reasons why we are gathered together in the first place. It is a day for family, and for the nation as a whole, and for the American people. It is a day that should be celebrated. It is a day that should be observed with proper ceremony.

Now, the last Thursday in November has been designated as the day for the President. The President's proclamation only recommends that the day be observed properly. It is not compulsory. It is up to us, the citizens of this land, to observe the day in a manner that is appropriate to the day. It is a day that should be celebrated. It is a day that should be observed with proper ceremony.

Miss Gladys Van Arsdale will show colored slides taken during her recent stay in Germany as an exchange student. These slides should prove to be of general interest to the members of the club and to the general public. Miss Van Arsdale will be present to answer any questions that may arise. The Social Science Club meeting will be held in Room 106.

All the members of the club were asked at the last meeting to bring their best original work for selection. In addition, all other majors or minors in one of the social sciences are once more urged to attend.

Sadie Hawkins Day Dance Will Be Attended

If you looked out over the campus on Friday, November 12, you probably noticed that there was a lot of activity in the gymnasium. The Social Science Club met there under the leadership of Miss Van Arsdale. The meeting was held in Room 106. The program included a presentation to the members by the Social Science Club. The program was well attended, and the members were happy with the results.

Sadie Hawkins Day will be celebrated on Friday, November 12, at 7:00 p.m. in the gymnasium. The theme of the dance will be "A Night in Old Europe." Sadie Hawkins, a character in the Broadway musical "42nd Street," will be the hostess for the evening. The dance will feature music from the 1920s and 1930s, and will include a variety of dance styles. The event is open to all students and faculty members. For more information, please contact the Social Science Club at 555-1234.
The Fifth QUARTER

Football, king of the fall sports, bowed out of the limelight in the State Teachers colleges this weekend as they drew the curtains on the 1948 season.

Five of the teams had ended their season before this last week-end and the others finished them. The remaining five teams found competition in out-of-state schools as Milwaukee played at Central Michigan, Superior at Duluth, Stout at Michigan Tech and Cross at Winona, while the Pointers were at Northern Illinois.

Highly favored Milwaukee bowed to Central Michigan 21-6. Two out of the three periods came back and score twice in the fourth and best Winona 17-13. Superior downed Duluth 21-6, while Stout lost to Michigan Tech 13-7.
