Foreign Language Students Receive New Aid in Phonograph Records

Two foreign language classes have recently acquired a new aid for the teaching of languages in the form of phonograph records. These records, according to Miss Mildred Davis, instructor of languages, "are an excellent means to impart to students speaking ability in foreign languages." With the war, there came an emphasis on foreign languages and the necessity to teach the army and navy the languages quickly. Records were used extensively in the military forces.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The annual convention is at hand and again we are subjected to second-rate goods. It is a great duty and honor for us to attend and do not feel they need attend. After three years of watching this procedure and then leaving it as being held on two sheets of paper titled CODE OF ETHICS IN THE TEACHING PROFESSION, I felt moved to express the thought that has nagged me.

Two of the points listed in the "Code" stated: "To become affiliated actively with professional associations" and "To keep an open mind toward the professional goals that I have chosen, that more teachers could stand a yearly half to look back over the past year's achievements and seek better goals. It is not immediately a better place than the convention? Either we should get one hundred percent behind the teacher convention program or we should be one hundred percent for the thing. I pray toward making good teachers. Let us go one way or the other.

Everybody Buy a Share

During the next few days you will probably be called upon to contribute your financial bit to that most worthy of organizations, the Community Chest. Many of you, I am sure, have contributed in a free and benevolent manner that has always been so typical of the American people, especially college students.

We know that there are any number of places for your money to go these days. You have just bought a new winter Steet, or you have just paid a farm payment. However, there is a down payment on the service conservative "sparkler" and want to get it paid for in full before the young lady of your choice changes her heart. But, no matter how good as a buying proposition this is for you, the Community Chest is still a buying proposition.

The Community Chest is not a charity organization. It is the extension of a good-neighbor principle which reaches to all parts of the world. We, who are more fortunate than some of our neighbors, should give our dollars toward the achievement of our dreams which we can make someone's path a little brighter.

Community Chest is almost too numerous to mention. Naming a few, they are: Salvation Army, Boys Scouts, Girl Scouts, clinical societies, relief agencies, child welfare, etc. Each of these organizations has been articulated to Community Chest and has taken the form of a big brother or sister who hovers over our heads.

We hate to crack the old chest about doing your Christmas shopping early, but if you are shopping around for some good Vultee bar- gains you can't lose it if you buy a few shares.

Page Stone Concert Well Received by Large Crowd

Ruby Page and Bentley Stone, bal- leoners, conducted a popular music concert in the college auditorium last Saturday evening. The type of assembly program was well received by a large student and faculty audience. The program was of variety type, and the audience demanded several certain hits from the program, and some of the dancers drew encore.

The program was very well balanced harmonious, with both serious and humorous caricatures and serious segments. The program is comprised of the clothes and characteristics seemed to draw the most response, the interest of the students was held in their flawless routines and appropri- ate combinations. Miss Ruth Gordon, the able accompanist of the troupe, played two songs without a break. They were very re- ceived but Miss Gordon was hand- cuffed in that the audience could not see her play. If the piano had been placed in the center of the room, we would have had much more response.

The large crowd which attended the concert was a show of appreciation for thakng Peter J. Michelsen, as the financial secretary for this committee, for securing this enjoy- able trio of artists. The performers, Frederick Adcock, Dietz, and Dietz, have been featured in the Community Chest, and the excellent reception given them there.

The Fifth Quarter

After six enjoyable and exciting weeks the 1948 Teacher's Conference schedule came to a close. The South ern division didn't fare too well what with Eau Claire and La Crosse taking the top two berths. Thanks to getting off to a slow start, the Pointers came through with a good brand of ball to end up in a three-way tie for fifth place with Stout and Superior.

Superior finally ended the tide last week-end by handing first place Eau Claire its first defeat of the year. The score wasn't close, for Superior crushed the Bruins 15-0. La Crosse moved past River Falls into a tie with Milwaukee for second place, knocking down River Falls 39-15. It was the Falcon's second loss and put them in fourth place.

Milwaukee stopped Platteville 15-6 to move into a tie for second. It put Platteville way down on the bottom with six straight losses.
