State Teachers Gather at Milwaukee This Week for Annual Convention

About half of the faculty will go to Milwaukee this week where they will attend the State Teachers convention being held today, Friday and Saturday, November 4, 5 and 6. They will enjoy a varied program of educational conferences and entertainment.

After hearing a message of "Greetings" from the Wisconsin Educational association president, G. W. Bannerman, the convention will get under way. "Greetings from the State" will be given by Governor Oscar Rennebohm, as the second number on the program this morning in the huge Milwaukee Auditorium. The first major address, "For Such an Age," will be given by Herold C. Hunt, superintendent of schools of Chicago and president of the American Association of School Administrators.

The final address of the morning will be given by Ethel J. Alpenfels, a noted anthropologist, who will speak on "The Roots and Routes of Human Understanding." Her theme, packed with ideas, will try to show how we can make the world a better place in which to live.

Two Speakers Friday

Two speeches will make up Friday morning's program at the auditorium. "The Role of Education in Foreign Affairs" will be the subject of the speech by J. William Fulbright, Democrat senator from Arkansas. Senator Fulbright gained national recognition with the Fulbright resolution which was the forerunner of the United Nations. A. L. Sachar, historian, biographer, educator and former news commentator over WMAQ of Chicago will give a talk on "The Tapestry of American Life."

The Saturday morning speakers are Bergen Evans, author of "The Natural History of Nonsense," who has chosen for his subject "On Being Funny," and Captain Carlos Fallon

Get Your Track Shoes, Men; The Race Is On!

Girls! Here, at last, is the opportunity you've been waiting for. November 12 has been proclaimed Sadie Hawkins Day here at CSTC. You'll probably never have a chance like this again, so start working on "him" now.

A Sadie Hawkins Day test course has been set up on the front lawn of the campus. This is for all you hardy females who need to use force to catch your man. Any woman who trips, lassoes or tackles an eligible bachelor on the test course on Sadie Hawkins Day has the privilege of taking him to the dance at night.

The Sadie Hawkins dance, sponsored by the YWCA, will be held in the Training school gym, from 8 to 12 p. m. Admission is 30¢ per person.

If he can run faster than you can, come to the dance anyway. You'll have another chance to get him there, and his luck can't hold out forever.

Those few who aren't interested in the opposite sex will enjoy reading the funny papers on the ceiling. There will be a floor show and dancing to records. Everything will be done in typical Dogpatch style.

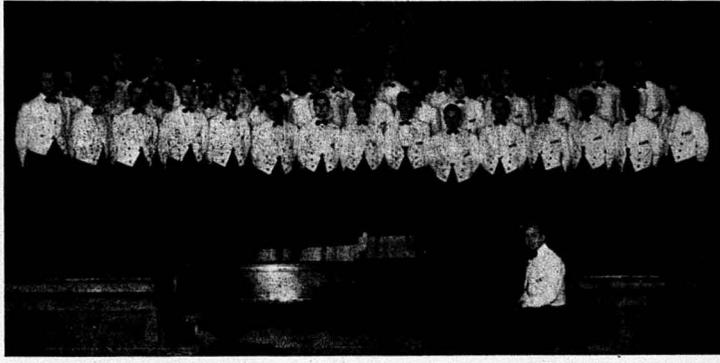

Another good thing about this dance, girls, and fellows, too, is the fact that you won't have to worry about what to wear. Just come in jeans, or the oldest clothes you can find.

Kickapoo Joy Juice and Preserved Turnips (cider and doughnuts to you) will be served for refreshments.

The dance promises to be a big success. If you doubt this, ask anyone who was there last year.

who was born in Bogota, Republic of Colombia, and who has since become a Captain of International Red. (See CONVENTION, page 3)

Central State Symphony to Present Fall Concert Sunday

The Central State Symphony orchestra will give a fall concert Sunday, November 7, at 8:15 o'clock. The orchestra, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, has 56 members, 27 of whom are students at CSTC. The other members of the orchestra are from Marshfield, Wisconsin Rapids, Nekoosa, Wausau, Clintonville and Oshkosh. Rehearsals have been held every Wednesday evening.

The concert will open with the "Rienzi Overture" by Richard Wagner. Following this, the orchestra will play "Symphony No. 40" by Mozart.

After a 10 minute intermission the concert will resume with the playing of "Overture and Allegro" from the "La Sultane Suite" by Francois Couperin. In continuing, "Ase's Death" from the "Peer Gynt Suite" by Grieg and an Irish reel, "Molly on the Shore" by Percy Grainger will be played. The program will conclude with the "Grand March" from "Aida" by Verdi.

Students who have paid the tax on their activity tickets will be admitted free to the concert. Those who have not must pay 15¢ tax. Tickets may be obtained from Mr. Michelsen. No student tickets will be sold at the door and all tickets must be called for Thursday afternoon.

Play Contest Postponed Until November 19

The district high school one-act play contest, which will be held at CSTC and was originally scheduled for Tuesday, November 9, has been postponed until Friday, November 19. The plays will begin after a business meeting at 10 o'clock. All the high schools in various leagues in their district that have a rank of "A" will participate. The judge of the plays will be chosen by the new district chairman who was appointed on October 1.

The contest will be followed on November 22 by the regional one-act play contest consisting of schools in the Stevens Point, Oshkosh and La Crosse districts. This contest will also be held at CSTC. W. G. Schmidt of Kaukauna High school is the regional director. Leland M. Burroughs, James R. Hicks, and Bernard F. Wiewel and members of the College Theater will take charge of local arrangements and act as hosts.

charge of the Armistice program and full particulars will be published next week. All college classes will be suspended during the afternoon of Armistice Day. The program will begin at approximately 11 o'clock.

Aptitude Tests Open to All Interested Students

A series of five aptitude tests will be given to all interested students beginning Monday, November 8, in Room 216. The hours of 10:05 a. m. and 4 p. m. Monday or Wednesday will be used for a period of three weeks. If students have class conflicts at those hours, special appointments will be arranged at a convenient time.

The tests are useful as aids in deciding the suitability of a present college course and in determining a future program, says William Crane of the college testing program for veterans. An individual discussion of the test results will follow the completion of the tests.

Vocational information is available in the Guidance Office and offers detailed information about several hundred occupations. Duties, salaries, training and personal requirements are given in pamphlet form.

Pointers Will Meet Stout Saturday Night

In a non-conference tilt the Pointers will meet Stout Institute at Goerke Field, Saturday night, November 6. Both teams ended the season with three wins and three losses for a tie for fifth place.

Stout has scored 85 points while 90 were scored against them. The Pointers have tallied 77 points but have allowed their opponents to score only 65.

The Pointers could raise their season's average to a .625 by defeating Stout and by a pre-conference victory over Mission House.

Saturday, November 13 will be the last opportunity for CSTC'ers to see the Quadrantmen in action, for it will be the last home game of the season. The Pointers will meet DeKalb College at DeKalb, Illinois, on Saturday, November 13, for their last game of the 1948 season.

Foreign Language Students Receive New Aid in Phonograph Records

The foreign language department recently acquired a new aid for the teaching of languages in the form of phonograph records. These records, according to Miss Mildred Davis, instructor of languages, "are an excellent means to impart to students speaking ability in foreign languages." With the war, there came an emphasis on foreign languages and the necessity to teach the army and navy the languages quickly. Records were used extensively and foreign languages at last came into their own.

There are 36 phonograph lessons in French and 36 in Spanish, accompanied by two conversational manuals which synchronize with the records. The first, the "Speaking and Pronouncing Manual," follows the first 26 lessons, while the "Advanced Manual," covering the last 10 lessons, is devoted to famous classics, commercial terms and business letters. The narrators are Iturralde, born in Carcastillo, Spain and Pierre Macy, born in France and educated at three French universities. Both College women who are interested in working with younger girls in connection with the Girl Scout program should contact Dr. Raymond E. Gotham at the Training school. No previous work in scouting is required.

Dr. Gotham points out that often such experience may be a factor in securing a teaching position.

Mr Knox of Training School in Hospital

William B. Knox, sixth grade supervisor at the Training school, underwent an appendectomy at St. Michael's hospital late Sunday evening.

During his absence the sixth grade students will be supervised by Charles Reeves, a student at the college.

are now professors at Williamsburg, Virginia.

The French classes have already heard Charles Boyer, not as the familiar movie star, but as the powerful narrator of an album on "Principles of Democracy" which includes writings of Voltaire, Hugo, Clemenceau, De Gaulle and other great Frenchmen.

These records promise to be a great boon to the language student, for by being able to hear as well as see a language, associations are much clearer.

Address by Senator McCarthy to Highlight Armistice Day Program

The Armistice Day program to be held next Thursday morning, November 11, will be highlighted by an address by Joseph McCarthy, junior U. S. senator from Wisconsin. Senator McCarthy is appearing elsewhere in Stevens Point on Armistice Day and has consented to speak at the college also.

The Assembly committee has

Second Social Science Club Meeting To Feature Panel of Local Churchmen

The second official program-meeting of the newly formed Social Science club will be held Thursday evening, November 4, at 7:30 p. m. in Room 106.

The program committee is trying to vary the programs by having movies, speakers and panel groups, by both students and speakers. This week's meeting will feature a panel composed of local churchmen, the Reverends Orville Wold, First English Lutheran church; Jans Vander Graff, St. Paul's Methodist church; Edward Lewis, Episcopal Church of the Intercession. The forum will discuss "Where Does Moral License End and Liberty Begin?"

Meetings of the Social Science club are held the first and third Thursdays of each month. All majors and minors in history, geography, social and political science are urged to attend and join the club. The larger the group the better the programs that can be obtained.

All those students interested in the scheduled program are urged to attend.

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year.
Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The annual convention is at hand and again we are subjected to several days of utter confusion because some of the faculty think it their duty to attend and others do not feel they need attend. After three years of watching this procedure and then today at Training school conference being handed two sheets of paper titled CODE OF ETHICS IN THE TEACHING PROFESSION, I feel moved to express the thought that has risen annually for three years.

Two of the points listed in the "Code" stated "To become affiliated actively with professional associations" and "To keep an open mind toward all forms of professional progress." In the technique courses we have repeatedly been told to join the various organizations in whose interests our field of work lies, and to work actively to become better teachers. Now we are seeing examples of the doctrine being preached put into practice.

Do our instructors attend the meetings and take active part? How are we to realize the worth of these organizations if the college faculty feels they are of so little benefit that they need not attend? I feel strongly that the faculty owes it to the students as prospective teachers to be leaders in all meetings of this type. Furthermore, they owe it to themselves to be constantly exposing themselves to the progress in educational ideas and methods which are advanced in teachers conventions, and lastly they owe it to their profession to do everything in their power to stride forward with education.

Good teachers can not sit at home and study and read only the journals covering their fields and expect to be good teachers (this is not my idea; I've heard it expressed many times by this faculty).

If the teachers convention is not worth attending then let us as future teachers know that it is not worth attending and do not close school haphazardly but keep it running fully. It seems to me, as I personally come closer to the professional goal that I have chosen, that more teachers could stand a yearly fall to look back over the past year's achievements and to pick up a few new ideas for the next year's work. Where is there a better place than the convention? Either we should get one hundred percent behind the teacher convention program or we should be one hundred percent against it. There can be no half way point toward making good teachers. Let us go one way or the other.

Charles Bart

Everybody Buy a Share

During the next few days you will probably be called upon to contribute your financial bit to that most worthy of organizations, the Community Chest. We hope that you will give as much as you can and will present it in a free and benevolent manner that has always been so typical of the American people, especially college students.

We know that there are any number of places for your money to go these days. You have just bought a new winter Stetson, or you have just paid your sorority dues. Maybe you have made a down payment on a nice conservative "sparkler" and want to get it paid for in full before the young lady of your choice changes her mind. But, no matter how good an excuse you have to part with your money, no excuse is as good as the Community Chest.

The Community Chest is not necessarily a charity organization. It is the extension of a good-neighbor policy which reaches to all parts of the world. We, who are more fortunate than some of our neighbors, should get great satisfaction out of being able to use this convenient medium by which we can make someone's path a little brighter.

The organizations benefitted by the Community Chest are almost too numerous to mention. Naming a few, they are: Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, clinical societies, relief agencies, child welfare, foreign relief societies and many others. To people all over the world, the Community Chest has taken the form of a big sister or brother who hovers over them protectively.

We hate to crack the old chestnut about doing your Christmas shopping early, but if you're shopping around for some good Yuletide bargains you can't lose if you buy a few shares in the Community Chest.

Page-Stone Concert Well Received by Large Crowd

Ruth Page and Bentley Stone, ballet artists, presented an excellent concert in the college auditorium last Thursday night. This unique type of assembly program was well-received by a large student and faculty audience. The enthusiastic applause demanded several curtain calls for each number and some of the dances drew encores.

The program was very well balanced, including romantic duos, humorous caricatures and serious interpretations. Although the comic satires and characterizations seemed to draw the most response, the interpretations and duos were unexcelled in their flawless routines and appropriate costuming.

Miss Ruth Gordon, the able accompanist of the troupe, played two piano solos. They were very well received but Miss Gordon was handicapped in that the audience could not see her play. If the piano had been in view, no doubt she would have had much more response.

The large crowd which attended this concert was the school's way of thanking Peter J. Michelsen, as chairman of the assembly program committee, for securing this enjoyable trio of artists. The performers, too, must have been heartened by the excellent reception given them here.

Interviews Held for Teaching Positions

N. P. Cupery, superintendent of schools at Shawano, and Mrs. Olga Brunner visited the Training school on Thursday, October 28, interviewing candidates for mid-year teaching positions. Superintendent H. B. Mennes of Neenah and Miss Mary E. Willis, elementary supervisor, were at the Training school Tuesday, November 2.

OVER A COKE

The "Witchin' Hour" is past—Halloween with all its tricks and treats is gone for another year. About the most humorous thing that happened in this vicinity was the placing by "unknowns" of the "Men Working" sign with the red flag attached on the front lawn of Nelson Hall.

Congratulations

To Miss Hazel Bleck and Dr. Raymond E. Gotham. They're engaged!!

To Madeline Williams, CSTC student, and John Pliska, Stevens Point. Madeline received an engagement ring from John for her birthday. John works in the Boston store as a radio technician.

To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bart on the birth of their daughter, Sarah Alicia, last Thursday.

Demonstrations, plus—

Speech classes have brought out some interesting demonstrations of various skills. One girl spoke on the finer points of culinary art and brought a sample of her cooking to class. If all classes served refreshments on the side! Another student attempted to kindle a fire with flint—Indian fashion. One fellow showed the process of taking finger prints. Very informative classes according to reports.

Don't let this happen to you—

You've heard of this "absent-minded professor" line. This happened to a college instructor, but no mention will be made of the locale. Miss Instructor made an appointment with the photographers for a certain date. The time came and she strolled into the building she presumed to be the proper place and inquired of a young man, apparently in attendance, if he would be able to take care of her.

He replied that he would be glad to as soon as she was ready. Miss Instructor looked puzzled, and the attendant, trying hard not to smile, said, "You see, lady, this is a funeral parlor."

This one is for the biologist—

It's hard to appreciate the flower of womanhood now that the stems can't be seen.

Question of the week—

Q. Do you know why there are more auto accidents than train wrecks?

A. Whoever heard of a fireman hugging the engineer!

Student's lament—

I think that I shall never see
A D as lovely as a B
A B whose rounded form is pressed
Upon the records of the blessed;
A D comes easily, and yet
It isn't easy to forget
That D's are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a B.

Training School Now Has Additional Room Ready for Interviews

In order to provide for the increasing demands for interview space, a second interview room has been arranged for at the Training school. A storeroom adjacent to the main office has been reconverted into an office. This has been done in anticipation of several superintendents visiting the Training school office shortly after the new year to interview seniors. Heretofore only one room was available. The students will find this a more convenient situation in which to meet with prospective employers.

Room 210 was formerly a "catch-all" for materials only frequently used. During the summer cupboards were installed around the three walls of this room and assigned to various grades. This will permit each supervisor to store equipment where it will be readily available. Much material formerly held in the room that is now the principal's office has been discarded.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Tau Gamma Beta

Six girls were pledged to the Tau Gamma Beta sorority at a pledge dinner held at Nelson Hall Sunday, October 31. The pledges are Barbara Lewis, Augusta; Marjorie Lodziński, Stevens Point; Beatrice Madarik, Chicago; Irene Morris, Mosinee; Elizabeth Omernik, Amherst Junction and Elizabeth Torzewski, Amherst.

Preceding the candle light pledge ceremony a dinner was served to the guests and members in the Nelson Hall dining room. The table was lighted by smiling jack-o-lanterns and tall orange tapers. Place cards were in the form of pumpkins.

Following the dinner Pat Lavers, toastmistress, introduced Mrs. Robert S. Lewis, patroness, who spoke to the pledges on "What Sorority Can Mean to You." Caroline Krogness, as an active representative, welcomed the pledges and talked about the benefits of sorority membership. Concluding the program, Carol Collins and Ila Williamson sang a duet "Singing Along," accompanied by Betty Dietz at the piano.

Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. F. N. Spindler, patronesses, Mrs. Mildred Williams, adviser, Miss Helen Meston and Mrs. William C. Hansen, honorary members and Mrs. Gilbert W. Faust, alumna, were guests at the dinner.

WSGA Members Hold First Social Event

Figures attired in weird costumes (sheets and bed spreads from the dorm) greeted CSTC coeds as they entered the Training school last Friday night for the first WSGA (Women's Self Governing association) party of the year. They were then escorted into the gym where a huge black spider hung in an orange and black web forming the false ceiling.

Each girl was assigned to a team. The teams were to select one member and dress her in a costume fashioned from stray material at hand. A "newspaper" tiger with orange crepe paper stripes and a little brown umbrella designed by the "owl" group won first place by applause.

Following that stunt the group was led in games and square dancing by Joan Kenney and Bernice Yankee. Punch and cookies were served for refreshments, after which the evening concluded with dancing.

General chairman for the party was Anne Huntzicker; entertainment, Joan Kenney, Gerry Roberts; food, Sylvia Horn, chairman, Catherine Weber, Joyce Krueger; publicity and decorations, Susan Hosmanek and Kay Pierce. Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner is adviser for the WSGA.

Familiar Faces

One of the Seniors who is currently a student teacher is Isabelle Stelmahoske. She likes it — says it keeps her on her toes.

Isabelle was born two decades ago in Stevens Point. She graduated from St. Joseph's Academy in 1945 and entered CSTC in the fall of that year. She has been news editor and reporter for the Pointer, past president of Sigma Tau Delta, perennial secretary of College Theater, copy editor for the Iris and a member of Newman club.

Isabelle is in the Secondary division with a major in English and minors in history and Spanish. No dislikes color her school career; she has enjoyed all of her activities. It will suffice to mention that Miss Stelmahoske's grade point is a husky 2.68. She wants to teach after graduation and is not particular where. The one stipulation is that the school be a small one.

A "Jack-of-all-Trades"

One of her most interesting jobs outside of school was a receptionist and "jack-of-all-trades" at the local studio of WJHR. A most exciting experience was hanging out of the studio window holding a microphone for an announcer who was conducting a man-on-the-street interview when World War II ended. Isabelle also is a familiar figure in the telephone office where she works full time in the summer and part time during the school year. Amateur writing ranks high on the hobby list. Isabelle had a story accepted once but didn't renew her subscription to the magazine so she doesn't know if the story was ever published. She often leaves stray manuscripts in books around the house to the hilarious enlightenment of family members whose critical remarks decidedly embarrass the young writer. Other hobbies include bicycling, art work (pastels only), movies, stage plays and music from the listening standpoint. She is a mediocre sports fan.

Call Her "Issy"

Isabelle's favorite foods are hamburgers, with French-fried shrimp running a close second. Her closest friends have nicknamed her "Issy." Her ambition in life is to teach from three to five years and then do graduate study in either English or history. Even an inveterate gambler wouldn't bet against her chances of success — the odds are overwhelmingly in favor of it.

Pointers Sink Whitewater in Mud at Goerke Field, 20-0

Despite the mud and rain, the Pointers rolled over Whitewater to the score of 20-0 Saturday night at Goerke Field as they ended conference play with three impressive victories and three defeats. The Quadtmen in their last three games played truly championship ball as they ran, blocked and passed in the kind of ball that would crush any of the conference teams encountered.

The Pointers scored early in the first quarter after taking over on the Quaker 38 yard line. They marched the ball to the Point six when English tossed a short pass to Haidvogl for the first six points. Curry converted and the score stood at 7-0.

The Pointers failed to score again until the third quarter when Whitewater's Bailey fumbled on his own 35 and Joe Haidvogl recovered. On the second play after the Quadtmen took over, English passed to Curry who was required to do some fancy running to enable him to enter the end zone for another T.D. Curry's kick was blocked and the score was 13-0.

In the last quarter the Quakers were forced to punt and the CSTCers took over in mid-field. Small, but hard hitting, Koehn and Curry put forth a real display of running as they moved the ball to the two yard line. Emmerich smashed into the end zone and Curry converted to make the final score 20-0.

lations of the highest level in the U. S. Army Air Force. He will speak on "Let's Watch Our Own Backyard."

Orchestra to Play

The teachers will be entertained this evening by the famous Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra conducted by Thor Johnson. Mr. Johnson is a native of Wisconsin Rapids.

Several CSTC faculty members will take part in the numerous sectional meetings that will be held on the afternoons of Thursday and Friday. Fred J. Schmeckle will speak on "Conservation Education in the Classroom" at the Conservation sectional meeting Thursday afternoon. Miss Mary Ullman, Junior High school supervisor, is chairman of the Geography meeting which meets Friday at 2 p. m.

Norman E. Knutzen is to act as moderator at a panel discussion on the "Use of the Radio in School Public Relations" to be held Friday afternoon in the Public Relations sectional meeting. Robert S. Lewis is chairman of the Radio-visual Aids group which will conduct a panel discussion on FM and television as future teaching tools at a sectional meeting to be held Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Edgar F. Pierson is temporary chairman of the Association of Wisconsin Teachers colleges salary committee, which is to meet in the Hotel Wisconsin, Thursday afternoon. Albert E. Harris and Mr. Knutzen are among the delegates on committees of the AWTC.

Representing the Wisconsin Education Association meetings to be held in Dr. Raymond E. Gotham of the Training school.

The athletic committee on policies and eligibility rules will hold a meeting of conference representatives on Thursday. Dr. Pierson is the CSTC representative.

It should be noted here that many of the CSTC faculty members who attend are so occupied with activities on the various committees and participation in sectional meetings that they find little time to attend the general meetings.

A reunion of CSTC Alumni will be held at the Milwaukee Vocational school, Room 204-A, Thursday, November 4, 4:5-30 p. m. Miss Syble Mason is chairman of the faculty alumni committee.

Training Directors Hold Annual Meeting

The Directors of Training held their annual meeting yesterday at the City club in Milwaukee. The annual meeting of the Directors of Placement is being held today at the same club. Dr. Raymond E. Gotham of the Training school is president of both these organizations and will be present at the meetings.

Dr. Gotham will be speaker at an assembly at the P. J. Jacobs High school, Monday morning, November 8. The subject of his talk will be "Education and the Future" in keeping with the theme of American Education week.

Training School Junior Pointer Staff Announced

The staff of the Junior Pointer, the bi-monthly publication of the Mary D. Bradford Junior High school, has been announced for the semester. Annette Bras of the ninth grade is the editor, with Arlene Golonski serving as assistant editor. Other staff members are: Business manager, Lois Nelson; composition editor, Joe Daniels; sports editor, Jerry Quandt; art editor, Dick Gage; humor, Joseph Roy; ninth grade reporter, Sally Miller; eighth grade reporters, Karen Mortensen and Joseph Roy and seventh grade reporters, Mary Braatz and Jim Marko.

Student teachers serving as advisers to the staff members are Marjorie Beaver, Isabelle Stelmahoske and Virginia Hansen. The staff and its advisers are working under the general supervision of Mrs. Edith Cutnaw of the Training school faculty.

The Fifth Quarter

After six enjoyable and exciting weeks the 1948 Teacher's Conference schedule came to a close. The Southern division didn't fare too well what with Eau Claire and La Crosse taking the top two berths.

Though getting off to a slow start, the Pointers came through with a good brand of ball to end up in a three-way tie for fifth place with Stout and Superior.

Superior finally turned the tide last week-end by handing first place Eau Claire its first defeat of the year. The score wasn't close, for Superior crushed the Bruins 13-0. La Crosse moved past River Falls into a tie with Milwaukee for second place by downing River Falls 39-13. It was the Falcons' second loss and put them in fourth place.

Milwaukee stopped Platteville 13-6 to move into a tie for second. It put Platteville way down on the bottom with six straight losses.

Stout moved into a tie for fifth by downing the Oshkosh Titans 18-0.

ORGANIZATIONS

Rural Life

The members and advisers of Rural Life spent a most interesting evening last Monday when six of the upper classmen of the Rural divisions, Doris Cutler, Beth Hughes, Marion Erickson, Jim Wood, Bernice Yonkee and Elizabeth Torzewski presented a panel discussion on the re-districting of school districts in Wisconsin. Miss Torzewski told the group how the district she came from, together with nine other districts, was reorganized into one large district at Amherst.

Chi Delta Rho

The Chi Delta Rho fraternity members were hosts to the first semester pledges at a dinner at Selck's Burr Oak Inn, Sunday evening, October 31.

President Jim Buelow conducted the meeting after the dinner. The imaginary "finger bowl" was passed and the pledges were made acquainted with all actives and alumni present. Faculty advisers at the dinner included Norman E. Knutzen, Gilbert W. Faust and James R. Hicks.

Pledging season began officially on Tuesday evening, November 2. Greg Quinn is pledgemaster this season and Keith Fox is the assistant.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

The second rushing party of Phi Sigma Epsilon was held Sunday evening, October 31, at Iverson Lodge.

The pledging season officially began Tuesday noon. This season's pledges include Alan Bowers, Ralph Crain, Louis Jacoboski, Gerald Kitzrow, Larry McKinnon, Elliott Riggs and Donald Yahar.

Pledgemasters are Louis McDermott, Ray Bartkowiak and Cliff Robbins.

College Theater

College Theater has announced that the technical rehearsals of the play "Life With Father" will start Monday evening, November 8.

The production staff includes John Kowaleski and John Zylka, production managers; Don Vetter and Norman Dineen, stage managers; Dick Miller, electrician; Dick Kowaleski, Marne Guth and Ray Bartkowiak, publicity managers; Katie O'Connor, Bernice Yonkee and Isabelle Stelmahoske, properties; Helen Trewartha, Jean Zahner and Donna Alderton, make-up. This list is subject to additions and changes and any people interested in College Theater work are asked to see one of the managers.

"Life With Father" will be presented on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, November 17 and 18, in the college auditorium under the direction of Leland M. Burroughs.

Round Table

Miss Mary Ullman, social studies instructor in the Junior High school, will act as adviser to the Round Table, it was announced this week by Dr. Quincy Doudna, Director of Intermediate, Upper Elementary and Junior High school education. The

Navy Seeks Officers

Lt. Commander W. L. Hahn of the Office of Naval Officer Procurement will be at CSTC today to interview Senior men who are interested in joining the Naval Reserves of the regular navy.

Interviews between Lt. Comdr. Hahn and those who are interested will take place in the office of Dean Herbert R. Steiner. The hours for interviews are from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m.

Round Table is the division's organization.

The next meeting of the group will be held on Monday evening, November 8. Dr. Doudna will discuss the college program for the preparation of teachers in the fields which make up the division. A questionnaire will be filled out by each student to assist in counseling work.

Officers for the group will be elected at the business meeting. Because of the rehearsal of the Men's Glee club, regularly scheduled for the same evening, the Round Table will meet at 8:05 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the rural assembly.

Omega Mu Chi

The Omega Mu Chi pledge party was held Sunday night in the Nelson Hall rec room. Three students were pledged to the sorority, Esther Murat Berndt, Stevens Point, Joyce Kruger, Westfield, and Marjorie Finch, Waupaca. Freshmen are not pledged to the social sororities the first semester.

A Halloween theme was carried out in the decorations, complete with pumpkins, ghosts and witches. Lunch, consisting of ice cream with pumpkin centers, cookies, nuts and coffee was served by candle light at small tables.

A game was played, honors for high scores going to Margaret Hull and Mrs. Harold Tolo, and for low scores to Marion Hummel and Lois Mozuch.

Mrs. Tolo delivered an address, followed by an alumna speech by Rosemary Nelson and the pledge chairman address by Priscilla Sullivan in the absence of the vice-president, Helen Trewartha.

Guests included Mrs. Charles Cashin, patroness, Mrs. Tolo, honorary member, Mrs. Mary Samter and Miss Bertha Glennon, faculty advisers, and Miss Nelson, alumnae representative.

Jean Crosby served as general chairman, assisted by Julie Dean in charge of entertainment; Mary Schadewald, invitations; Margie Roberts, transportation; Mary Ellen Gmeiner, decorations; and Virginia Hull, refreshments.

Primary Council

At the regular meeting of Primary Council Monday evening, November 1, the members decided to continue the practice of having a Christmas party.

Miss Gladys Van Arsdale spoke of the hardships with which she was faced in setting up her school for American children in Germany. With the exception of Spain and Portugal, she has been in every Western European country. During these visits she took many colored picture slides which she showed to the group.

Special guests were Miss Susan Colman, Miss Hazel Bleck, Mrs. Mary Samter, Mrs. Mildred Williams and Miss Edna Carsten.

Radio Workshop

A special bulletin has been prepared and published by the Radio Workshop and is now available. This bulletin contains the broadcasting schedule, program previews, names and pictures of the Radio Workshop and WLBL personnel and a list of recommended programs. All interested may obtain a bulletin for themselves or their friends by calling for one in the Radio Workshop studios.

"There are things to be done" — one of the important problems of our time will be dramatized by a large cast of Radio Workshop Players today in a radio play written by Mitchell Grayson. The production is directed by Marne Guth.

A program of recorded symphonic selections with the theme "Romance" will be narrated by Frank Kostuck on the Music Album on Friday, November 5. Beatrice Maliarik and Daryl Fonstad are in charge of production.

National Education Week is observed on Monday, November 8, when the "Our College" program has the Junior High school students as guests.

Children of the primary grades who have followed the adventures of "Pogo" will want to join him on "Pogo's Train Ride" on Tuesday, November 9. Marne Guth will narrate the story.

On Wednesday, November 10, the "College Round Table" will discuss the aspects and effects of the elections which took place on November 2. A lively post-mortem discussion is anticipated.
