First Meeting of Newly Formed Social Science Club Announced

Temporary chairman Lewis McDermott of the newly formed Social Science club has announced that a meeting of the organization will be held this evening in Room 106.

All major and minors in the fields of history, geography, economics, social science and political science are asked to attend the meeting as a membership campaign is to be launched and a schedule of programs for future meetings will be discussed. Also at this time a constitutional committee will be appointed to begin drafting a permanent constitution for the organization.

Students who do not have a major or minor in any of the social science fields but who have an interest in the social problems of the day and in the development of better understanding among social science teachers are invited to attend the meeting and to become associate members of the organization.

A movie will be shown following the meeting.

Bus Will Be Available For Big Oshkosh Game

On Saturday, October 23, the CSTC football squad will go to Oshkosh State Teachers college to play in the Homecoming game there. In order to help the Quadmen on to another victory an extra busload of students is being sought to attend the game.

Reservation for seating space on a bus can be obtained in front of the second floor bulletin board this afternoon and tomorrow until 4 p.m. Round trip tickets are $1.10 per person. If P. J. Jacobs High school finds it needs all its transportation facilities for a football game to be played on Saturday the trip is subject to cancellation. Plans will definitely be known this morning.

For a good football game at a very nominal fee see the Oshkosh game next Saturday. This project is being sponsored by the Cheerleaders club.

New Bulletin Board Shows Coming Events

The new glass front bulletin board for the purpose of announcing the coming schedule of events is now in use. It occupies a prominent place in front of the library across from the main office and was first put into use last Tuesday.

Any important notice that concerns all the students may be posted on the board. However, the office reserves the right to choose the subjects posted. Such things as club meetings and other notices which concern only a portion of the student body will not be posted.

The new bulletin board is not to replace the weekly calendar. It is merely to emphasize coming events of interest to all the students. As President Hansen says, "It is one spot to advertise conspicuously the coming events."

Notices will be posted in chronological order. The upper part of the board will be devoted to events of the immediate week. Those farther in advance will be posted on the lower part of the board. Miss Grace Pehoski, office secretary, is in charge of listing the events on the board.

Thank You

Fellow Students:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you who helped to make Homecoming such a tremendous success for me. Your kindness will always be remembered.

Sincerely,
Irene Morris

Date Set for Production of "Life With Father" by College Theater

The Broadway play "Life with Father" will be presented Wednesday and Thursday, November 17 and 18, in the auditorium by the College Theater with the following cast:

Father, Charles Bart; Vinnie, Mary Jane Rankin; Clarence, William Janis; John, Louis Jacoboski; Whitney, John Nason; Harlan, Virginia Ann Gmeiner; Cora, Althea Boorman; Mary, Jean Robertson; Dr. Lloyd, Bernie Alberg; Dr. Humphreys, John Stanton; Dr. Somers, Gerald Foster; Margaret, Dolores Kosbab; Annie, Harriet Platt; Delia, Isla Mae Friberg; Nora, Nancy

The 1948 Homecoming celebration is now a matter of history, but it will be long remembered for its potent combination of zip, zing and zest.

The proceedings began on Friday with the annual observance of Hobo Day. The Hobo King, chosen by applause at the pep assembly, was John "Andy" Anderson who came attired in a flowing suit "draped" in the latest autumn fashion. A becoming bulge in his pocket revealed a bottle of hair tonic (?). Runners-up were Mary "You-all" Noble and Marge "Stick-out-my-tongue" Schrank. The climax of the program came as the curtains parted to reveal Irene Morris as Homecoming queen. She was crowned by George Emmerich, captain of the football team. Arlene Kromroy, Lucy Chappell and Katie O'Connor composed the Queen's court of honor.

Fun and More Fun

The glow in the sky that townsmen saw later in the evening wasn't the aurora borealis as was popularly supposed but turned out to be a huge bonfire (all combustible material furnished by freshmen) on Schmeckle Field. While the fire raged, a rousing pep meeting took place led by the Cheerleaders club. The noise clearly approximated the din at the battle of the Little Big Horn, but, according to available information, no one was annihilated. The meeting resolved itself into a snake dance that wound its devious way up Main street to the Square via the business establishments of some of the pillars of the community. The trail led from the Square to the Training

College Politicians Air Views at Soap Box Forums

Forty-five minutes of open political discussion is held in front of the main entrance to the college every Tuesday and Thursday beginning at 12:30 p.m.

General politics are discussed and speakers have been presenting the views of each of the major and minor parties. Joe Moravec, Keith Fox and Larry Eagleburger have occupied the "soap box" so far. The attendance has been good, the speeches persuasive and the heckling spirited.

The purpose of these forums, which will continue every Tuesday and Thursday until the general elections on November 2, is to develop the core of opinion of the students at CSTC by discussing various political parties and current political issues.

If sufficient interest continues to be shown at these rallies, they will be continued after the elections with other subjects as the topics for discussion.

Conference on Driver Education To Be Held at CSTC Oct. 28

A series of conferences on driver education for school administrators and high school teachers will be conducted at several Wisconsin state teachers colleges during the last week in October. The conference on the CSTC campus will be conducted on Thursday, October 28.

Agencies cooperating in sponsoring these conferences are: the University Extension Division, University of Wisconsin; State Department of Public Instruction; Wisconsin Motor Vehicle Department; and the Association of Casualty and Surety companies.

The conference is open to high school teachers, supervisors, counselors, and administrators interested in safety and driver education courses for secondary schools. The emphasis will be placed on providing courses in how to drive properly, rather than on basic courses in how to drive. Certificates of attendance will be awarded to each registrant who remains through the conference period.

The program will begin with a welcome address by President William C. Hansen at 9:30 a.m. The morning will be taken up with talks by men representing the sponsoring agencies listed above. At 1:30 p.m. William B. Knox will lead a panel discussion on "Teacher Training and Safety Education" for the administrators present. Following this, general discussions will be led by various members of the instructional staff. At 4 p.m., Robert S. Lewis will discuss "Audio-Visual Aids and Their Effective Use."

No charge will be made for registration or for text material distributed at the conference.

When asked what her specific interests were, Mrs. Angel hesitated before replying with, "Cooking, gardening, sports, (she named bowling as a preference) and music. Although I can't play anything, I like to listen." She gave the impression that she was interested in a variety of things, the hesitation meaning she

Mrs. Angel Replaces Miss Pfeiffer as New Mother of Nelson Hall

Miss Lydia Pfeiffer, retired fifth grade supervisor, who has been serving as temporary director at Nelson Hall, left Tuesday evening for Denver, Colorado, where she will assume her position in the accounting department of the Brown Palace Hotel there.

The position of dorm director and dietitian is being filled by Mrs. Margaret Angel. Mrs. Angel considers Independence, Wisconsin her

CSTC Women Organizing Local Chapter of WSGA

CSTC women are organizing a local organization of the National WSGA (Women's Self Governing Association). The function of this democratic group is stated in its name. Each woman student will automatically become a member of the association.

Officers will be elected at the end of the first semester. At present a board of twelve is in charge of the organization. This board is made up of representatives from Nelson Hall, rooming houses which house four or more girls, city residents, and those who work for their room and board. The board officers are Mary Due, president; Geraldine Roberts, vice-president; Lorraine Meyer, secretary; and Lorraine Thatcher, treasurer.

The first social function of the WSGA will be a Halloween party at the Training school gym on Friday, October 29. All women students and faculty women are invited.

Plans are made to bring a WSGA representative from another college to explain "The Place of WSGA on Campus." Watch the POINTER for notice of her appearance.

Mrs. Angel stated that she knew she would grow to like Stevens Point very much, principally because of its friendliness.

United Nations Week

Like most of the other 51 weeks of the year, the coming week has a special title and significance. It has been called "United Nations Week."

Our first impression of this honor is one of gratification that the United Nations organization is significant enough to be heralded in such a manner. On second thought, it is just a little disappointing to know that after three years of operation, the United Nations is not common enough or so universally accepted to escape the seemingly necessary glaring publicity that comes with being the "slogan of the week."

We have come to the point where we believe that any community enterprise that needs a "shot in the arm" is badly-hooded during a week that bears its name. It isn't right, in fact, it is dangerous and unfair to think that of the United Nations.

The past three years have not been easy ones for the United Nations, and the road ahead does not appear very smooth. The most wonderful accomplishment of the organization so far is the fact that it has remained as an entity at all. The very fact that it is still in operation despite the stormy sessions that ensue within the midst of its members is indeed a great consolation to a troubled world.

There are those scoffing individuals who will challenge the worth of the United Nations and will want to know just what it has done that has been of any value to the world. It must be admitted that the accomplishments of the organization have not been spectacular or revolutionary.

On the other hand, no one can say that it has accomplished nothing at all. It has done a great amount of work in the direction of alleviating the physical and mental suffering of the peoples of war-torn countries. These deeds are over-shadowed by the sensational news that accompanies the cold war in which our country is playing such a major part.

The Palestine situation is at least one notable occasion where the UN has asserted itself and brought home to fractious nations the lesson that when it says it stands for the perpetuation of peace, it means just what it says.

Only time can give us the true story of the United Nations and whether or not it was organized before its time. From what we have seen, the time for it is at hand. If nations will stop remembering what they did in crucial situations in the past that can be likened to situations of the present and will start planning for the future instead, the empty dreams of Hugo, Grotius, Alexander of Russia and Beatrice Webb will become a reality.

During United Nations Week, catch up on your reading concerning the United Nations and its functions. But, when the week is up, don't desist in your quest for knowledge concerning it. An informed public is a rational and a brave one.

Dancing Star Ruth Page And Partner to Appear Here in Dance Program

Ruth Page, world famous dancing star and premier danseuse of the Chicago opera, will appear in a dance concert in the college auditorium on Thursday night, October 28, at 8:15 o'clock. Appearing with Miss Page in her widely praised program of dance impressions is her partner, Bentley Stone.

Miss Page, who, with Mr. Stone, was co-director of the Chicago Opera company's ballet for nine seasons, has appeared with great success in every continent of the world. A few years ago while appearing in a ballet in London, the "Dancing Times of London" hailed her appearance as follows: "Ruth Page, easily the most important American ballet leader today, brought her

Omega Mu Chi Tea Is Huge Success

Between twin punch bowls encircled by small clusters of grapes was a graceful vase filled with green and Tokay grapes which formed the centerpiece for the annual Fall Tea given by the Omega Mu Chi sorority on October 13, in the Home Economics parlors. These decorations set off the new lace table cloth which the Omegas proudly displayed for the first time.

The fall theme was further carried out by a combination of light and dark green leaves secured with a gold bow. These served as favors and were pinned on each guest as they arrived.

In the reception line from 3:30 to 4:30 were Mrs. Palmer Taylor, soror-company to Broadway, March 1, for a two day engagement at the Adelphi Theatre, in a programme of four ballets, three of which — "Hear Ye! Hear Ye!" "Love Song" and "Gold Standard" — were given their New York premieres. "Iberian Monotone," a variation of Ravel's famous "Bolero," remains her greatest contribution in imaginative choreography. It was repeated in a form considerably developed and much more daring than at its original performances here about five years ago. "Always an interesting artist and with a striking stage presence and a gift for satire and drama, Miss Page is welcome among us again."

Mr. Stone is an attractive young man of light gracious dancing style and pleasing manner. In "Love Song" he was briefly permitted a leaping sequence that gave evidence of what he could do.

This unique type of assembly program has been arranged for by the assembly program committee under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen.

Patroness, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfifner, dean of women, Mrs. Wanda Counsell, sorority president and Virginia Gmeiner, co-chairman of the tea. At 4:30 Mrs. Counsell and Miss Gmeiner were assisted by Mrs. Harold Tolo and Mrs. Carl Jacobs. Miss Bertha Glennon, adviser for the group and Mrs. Earle Kidder, patroness served punch from 3:30 to 4:30. Their positions were later taken over by Mrs. Mary Samter, adviser, and Mrs. Leland Burroughs, an honorary member.

General co-chairmen for the tea were Virginia Gmeiner and Marilyn Bobbe. Other committee heads consisted of food, Marge Schrank and Mary Noble; decorations, Mary Connor; entertainment, Helen Trewarth; publicity, Andrea Olson; cleanup, Beth Hughes and Marion Hummel; invitations, Ruth Finch.

OVER A COKE

By this time you should be recuperated from your laryngitis, in general, your Homecomingitis. The big week-end is past and a memory until next year. This Homecoming really went over with zip. A salute to a successful celebration and a hope for even bigger and better ones. And we'll win again that day! Order? Point!

A fellow and several containers of beer for companions were on the bus coming up from Milwaukee last week-end. The fellow looked perplexed, stood up and asked if there was anyone on the bus from Stevens Point. A voice to the affirmative was heard from the rear of the vehicle. The inquiring individual turned and asked if he could borrow his can opener.

The question arises, — is this a general characteristic?

More of the man with the arrow—

There's a young lady in Nelson Hall who will probably remember the Homecoming of 1948 quite well. She is Marne Guth, who received an engagement ring from Ellsworth Gaulke last Friday. What a way to start a week-end!

A former student, Ellen Stippich, Fennimore, is to be married on October 28 to Robert E. Bowen, Mt. Hope.

Kathryn Rosenow, former CSTC'er, and Roger Forseth, Wau-paca, were married last Saturday.

A sequel to "Harri-et"

A physician was called upon to attend a maternity case late on a Saturday night. Things progressed according to nature and a baby was delivered before midnight and a twin followed shortly after midnight. Which one was the girl?

Ans.—The baby born after midnight as there is no mail delivery on Sunday.

(Author's note: Please, don't tell me any more. I don't want to start a fad.)

Apologies to Mr. Lewis

With all due respect to Mr. L. and his heckling said writer of column, this quip can't be passed up, considering its source.

Serious "General" Bob Wainwright giving a dissertation on the sewage disposal system at Madison in a geography 207 class had this to say, "They're making a 'big stink' about it."

To The Editor

Homecoming at CSTC this year has been the most successful in years. It was started first of all by the spirit shown at election time by the campaigning candidates. Never can I remember as much rivalry in school. The wheel kept rolling and a better contest was fought for the honor of being Homecoming queen.

The pep assembly was another great show of enthusiasm and school spirit and throughout the week-end it never died.

Now what was behind all this sudden show of spirit? In my opinion the glory is completely in the hands of the new students, especially the Freshmen. They brought with them, this year, something that old CSTC had lost in the past few years. I want to thank the Freshmen.

You could no doubt see the influence upon the football team. Things looked pretty bad for the eleven the first half; but did the crowd back down? This meant everything to the players. When their spirit was low, they got new spirit from the audience. The second half showed that.

So, the winning of Saturday's game can be placed directly in the hands of the Freshmen. So Freshmen of now, don't lose your spirit in the on-coming years. Keep it up and the best will follow you to victory and better spirit.

Sincerely,
Dick Lorenzen

"Man of extinction" at CSTC during the Homecoming festivities was John "Andy" Anderson of Beloit who was chosen Hobo King at the pep assembly Friday. The past weekend was filled with social obligations for the king and he and his fastidious appointments were a familiar sight where all the best people congregated. President Hansen and Dr. Gotham to Attend Chicago Conference

President William C. Hansen and Dr. Raymond E. Gotham will attend the fall meeting of the University of Chicago Teacher Education conference to be held October 25-26 at the Palmer House in Chicago.

This meeting of the conference will be devoted to a discussion of problems relating to the improvement of curricula in teacher education.

Dr. Gotham is a member of the program committee and will act as chairman of the October 26 morning discussion.

Familiar Faces

The petite brunette who wore the crown and exercised the prerogatives of Homecoming queen during the past weekend is probably by now the most "familiar face" on the campus.

For the convenience of the young gentlemen hereabouts who would like to extend their information on the opposite sex, an interview was arranged between Irene Morris and the Pointer editor. Miss Morris has long gone on her queenly way but the editor is still panting and carrying on like an irresponsible school boy (which, come to think of it, he still is).

Irene hails from Mosinee where she graduated from high school in 1947. At present she is a sophomore enrolled in the primary division at CSTC. She is active in several organizations on the campus including Newman Club, Primary Council and the Cheerleaders club of which she is treasurer. She also spends time as a soda fountain attendant (you

Hawthorne Classic to Be Broadcast by Radio Workshop Players Today

For an intriguing quarter hour of radio listening, tune in WLBL today at 3:15 p. m. when the Radio Workshop players present Nathaniel Hawthorne's classic "The Ambitious Guest." It is being produced by John Kowaleski, Marne Guth, Daryl Fonstad, Richard Kowaleski, and other members of the Radio Workshop players.

A half hour of symphonic selections following the theme "The Dance" has been arranged for and will be presented on Friday, October 22, from 3:15 to 3:45 by Frank Kostuck, Beatrice Maliarik and Daryl Fonstad.

The Radio Workshop would like to remind everyone that on Monday, October 25, Miss May Koch will talk about the Alumni Homecoming at Milwaukee in an appearance on the "Our College" program. Tuesday, October 26, brings exciting stories to children of the primary grades. On Wednesday the International Relations group, in observing United Nations Week on the campus, will conduct a panel discussion as a substitute for the "College Round Table" broadcast.

All program begin at 3:15 p. m. and are heard through the facilities of the WLBL radio station.

can't go around calling a queen a jerk) at the Campus Cafe.

Like most of her predecessors, Irene is a great sports fan and football is her favorite among them. It's nothing short of spectacular to see her regally holding court on one day and then cutting capers with the best of them in Cheerleaders row at Goerke park stadium on the next.

Irene likes so many things that few of them stand out as more important than others. Her dislikes, on the contrary, are few, but she states in no uncertain terms that studying is one of them.

The biggest thrill of her life was becoming Homecoming queen of CSTC. This is to the credit of the college because she was also Homecoming queen at Mosinee during her senior year in high school.

Irene's ambition is to teach school, but we give a wry grin and conclude that, from all "appearances," her chances of being a career woman are pretty slim.

Pointers Come from Behind in 22-12 Victory over Platteville

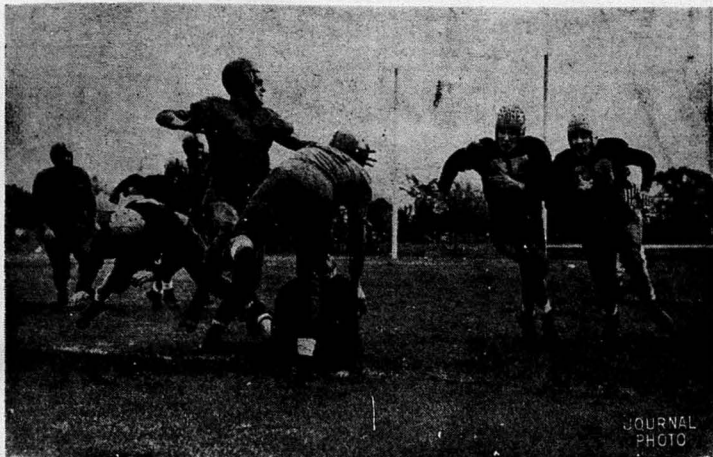

The Pointers added a note of success to the 1948 Homecoming as they drubbed the Platteville Pioneers 22-12 here at Stevens Point last Saturday. It was the first impressive game turned in by the Pointers this season as they passed, ran and kicked to overcome a 12 point deficit to go on to win, by a ten point margin.

The first quarter could well be termed a "quarter of fumbles" as the Quandtmen continually lost control of the ball and allowed the Pioneers to score all 12 of Platteville's points while they themselves were held scoreless. During the second quarter the gridmen of CSTC found themselves for the first time this season as they really dug in, to the approval of the huge Homecoming crowd.

Pioneers Score First

Platteville drew first blood in the first quarter when Webster tossed a pass to Butts who scampered into the end zone for the first six points. One of Point's eight fumbles set up the second Pioneer touchdown with Webster throwing to Seiler to make the score 12-0.

Platteville backs DeBruin, No. 39, and Webster, No. 35, had great expectations on this play of the Homecoming game. Their hopes were rudely shattered by Jack Thompson, third from right, and Charles Hanke, next to Thompson, who came in to break up the play. "Humph" Neitzel is at the extreme left. The Quandtmen won, 22-12.

In the second quarter the Pointers marched the ball to the Platteville five yard line when they fumbled to muff their first scoring thrust of the game. Platteville tried a punt only to have it blocked by Dick Lorenzen. Scheel recovered and crossed the goal for the first Stevens Point tally. Curry converted, and the score stood 12-7 as the half ended.

Emmerich Scores on Plunge

In the third quarter some great running by Bliese and Thompson, sparkling passing by English and Counsell with some exceptional receiving by Haidvogel and Hanke set up the second touchdown. George Emmerich, game captain, plunged through the line for the six point reward. Curry's kick was wide.

Emmerich, who averaged five yards on each of 13 tries, went over again in the fourth quarter climaxing a 58 yard drive by the Pointer. Curry's conversion was good to make the score 20-12.

Hanke Adds Two

The final two points came after Curry punted a ball out of bounds on the Platteville five yard line and Hanke smeared the carrier behind the goal for a safety.

A great deal of credit must be given to Emmerich, who was mighty rough and to Counsell and English for some really brilliant passing. Haidvogel and Hanke must be congratulated for their passing and receiving and also Thompson and Bliese for some fine running. "Humph" Neitzel played his usually fine game and Fick and Lorenzen for once used their weight to an advantage. The entire Point line must be given credit for their defensive play as they held the Pioneers scoreless in the last three quarters of the game.

Pointers Invade Titan Territory on Saturday

Saturday afternoon the Pointers invade Oshkosh to face the Titans in what should be the game of the week among the second division teams. Last year CSTC slid past Oshkosh by a score of 13-7 in a conference opener.

The Pointers have faced three first division teams and one second this season, whereas Oshkosh has met two first and two second division clubs. Milwaukee beat Point 14-0 and trounced Oshkosh 19-7 as the Titans gained the honor of being the first team to score against the Green Gulls.

Superior drubbed Point 26-7 and smeared Oshkosh 26-12. Both Oshkosh and CSTC have beaten Platteville which has not gained a victory yet this season. Last place White-water held Oshkosh to a scoreless tie last Saturday. Point's other game was a 13-7 loss to first place Eau Claire.

Statistics point to a fairly even game as the Pointers have scored 36 points to 33 for Oshkosh, but Oshkosh has allowed their opponents to score 51 as compared with 65 for Point's opponents.

Other games slated for Saturday in the Teacher's College conference will find La Crosse (3-1) at Milwaukee (3-1), Eau Claire (4-0) at River Falls (4-0), Stout (1-3) at Superior (2-2) and Platteville (0-4) at White-water (0-3-1).

Mrs. Pfiffner introduced Millicent "Mike" Blissett, an alum, who, sang "I Love Life," at the request of the girls. She was followed by Julie Dean and Gladys Rindfleisch, who sang a number on request.

Among the other guests were Miss Myrtle Hendrickson, Miss Miriam Moser, Mrs. Milton Zimpelman, mother of one of the dormites, the Misses Florence Flugaur, Doris Ubbelohde, Olive Crawford and Pat Carver.

Capacity Crowd Present At Annual Nelson Hall Open House after Game

Approximately 400 people were served coffee, doughnuts and cider at the annual open house held at Nelson Hall after the football game Saturday afternoon. The guests congregated in the rec room where the decorative scheme followed Halloween ideas. Jack-o-lanterns with doughnut sticks protruding as ears were the center pieces for the serving table. The rec room had balloons floating from its rafters and corn stalks cluttering its corners; these mixed with the overjoyed football spectators made for a hilarious open house.

Several alums and guests were raine Laszewski, Lois Vroman, Margaret Jones, Kathleen Kollock, Deiores Plaine, Gertrude Collum, Colleen Schroeder and Dorothy Thompson.

Following the meeting, Miss Bessie May Allen gave a very interesting talk on her trip to South America. Her talk was supplemented with colored slides.

Miss Emily Wilson poured as cake and ice cream were served.

Newman Club

Magic tricks by Saul Shafon highlighted the evening's entertainment at the Newman club meeting last Thursday in the Knights of Columbus hall.

The next meeting will be held to initiate new members. A committee for the occasion was appointed with Rose Dulske as chairman and Dick Abb and George Mosey, assistants.

Rev. Stanley Chilicki, chaplain, addressed the members and entertained them with several piano selections.

Refreshments were served and dancing concluded the evening.

Wesley Foundation

Tonight is the occasion for the big Wesley hayride that has been looked forward to by all members. Everyone will meet at the Methodist church this evening at 7:30 and proceed from there on the hayride.

Upon returning to the church parlors, members will be served refreshments.

Chi Delta Rho

Following the football game Saturday, the Chi Delta Rho actives and visiting alumni attended a meeting and get-together at the South-side Bowling Alleys. The subject of buying a fraternity house was discussed and the alumni voiced unanimous approval of the project. Monetary pledges are now being solicited from all alumni in order to build a housing fund.

The first semester pledging season is about to get under way. An informal smoker for prospective pledges and actives will be held at Iverson park lodge on Sunday evening, October 24.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

After the football game Saturday, the actives and alumni of Phi Sigma Epsilon and their wives and guests were entertained at a party at the Knights of Columbus hall.

At that time an alumni organization was formed and the following officers were elected: Don Larson, Stevens Point, president; Pete Peterson, Amherst, vice-president; Jack Davis, Stevens Point, secretary-treasurer.

Alpha Kappa Lambda

Richard Hemp, president of the Wisconsin Conservation congress, was the guest speaker for Alpha Kappa Lambda last Wednesday evening.

Mr. Hemp stressed the importance of the conservation major at CSTC. According to him, the educational field is the most important in conservation and will always be so.

school gym where a dance was held under the auspices of the Student Council.

Saturday morning's big event, the parade, started with a show of Peter J. Michelson's uniformed band. This was the initial wearing of the uniforms at Homecoming, making the band a showy lead-off for a fine parade.

AKL Takes First

The first prize in the serious float division went to Alpha Kappa Lambda for their "A freshened Point will beat a burned out Platteville." A covering of small fresh evergreens represented Stevens Point, while Platteville had dead, bent twigs for their support. A weeping, wailing funeral party sponsored by "our gang" was the winner of the first place in the novelty division.

The runners-up were the "swinging to victory" WAA'ers in the serious division, and the Eating Co-op's "No kidding — it's in the bag," showing a cow and a goat, came in second in the humorous division.

Judges were Mayor Ben W. Dag-neau, L. A. Amundson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Miss Beverly Paulson, women's editor of the Stevens Point Daily Journal.

Nelson Hall Invaded

After the game with Platteville in the afternoon the crowd invaded Nelson Hall's rec room to consume doughnuts, coffee and cider and to hash over the football game or just renew old acquaintances.

The Greek organizations had their "get-togethers" with their alumni after the game and open house at the dorm.

The various reunions dispersed to allow the students and alumni to attend the "S" club dance which was held in the P. J. Jacobs High school gym. Tom Temple and his orchestra furnished the music for the dance which was well attended by jubilant celebrants of the victory over Platteville.

Concert Closes Day

On Sunday afternoon the Men's Glee club under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen gave their first concert of the year, a fitting conclusion to a glorious week-end. Esther Davidson, an alum, was guest soloist for the Glee club.

The success of the Homecoming celebration just past can be attributed largely to the Student Council. In general charge of the events was Gerald Czarnecki, president of the Student Council. Jim Cory served as parade marshal.

mend regulations for upland game birds. In 1933 the scope was widened to take in all fish and game.

Curriculum Conference Meets Here Tomorrow

The second annual Regional Conference on Curriculum Development sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction will be held at the Training school Friday, October 22.

Charles Walden, formerly superintendent of schools at Merrill and now state curriculum coordinator, is in charge of the meeting, with Dr. Raymond E. Gotham handling local arrangements. The Training school will be closed since the sectional meetings will be held in the classrooms. Student teachers will be in attendance during their free periods and customary teaching hours.

These conferences will be held in
