New Bulletin Board Shows Coming Events

The new glass front bulletin board for the purpose of announcing the coming events is now on display in the main office and was first put into use last Tuesday.

Any important notice that concerns all the students may be posted on the bulletin board. However, the office reserves the right to choose the subjects posted. Such things as club meetings and other notices which concern only a portion of the student body will not be posted.

The new bulletin board is not to replace the weekly calendar. It is merely to enable the student body to become more interested in the events of the week.

Thank You

Fellow Students:
I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you who have helped to make Homecoming such a tremendous success for me. Your kindness will always be remembered.

Sincerely,
Irene Morris

United Nations Week

Like most of the other 51 weeks of the year, the coming week has a special title and significance. It has been called "United Nations Week." The purpose of this annual event is one of gratification that the United Nations organization is significant enough to be heralded in such a manner. On second thought, it is just a little disappointing to know that because of years of operation, the United Nations is not common enough so or universally accepted to escape the seemingly necessary glaring of the "war horses" that was to be the case.

We have come to the point where we believe that any community enterprise that needs a "shot in the arm" will go to the people that it is a little bit of fun. It isn't right, in fact, it is dangerous and unfair to think that the United Nations.

The past three years have not been easy ones for the United Nations, and the road ahead does not appear very smooth. The most wonderful accomplishment of the organization so far is the fact that it has remained as well as it has this year, despite a series of stormy sessions that ensue within the midst of its members is indeed a greater accomplishment than the results from a war.

There are those scolding individuals who will challenge the worth of the United Nations and will want to know just what it has done so far. To answer them would be very difficult, especially because the members of the organization have not been spectacular or revolutionary. In short, there is no one that has done anything at all. It has done a great amount of work in the direction of alleviating the physical and mental suffering of the peoples of war-torn countries. The United Nations has not been able to come to the aid of the cold war in which our country is playing such a major part.

We will start with a discussion of the United Nations. As the UN has asserted itself and brought to fruition national functions the Joint Assembly that was held this week, it signifies enough to this meeting to do away with the seemingly necessary graying of the "war horses."

During United Nations Week, catch up on your reading concerning the United Nations and its functions. But, when the week is up, don't leave this important knowledge concerning it. An informed public is a rational and a brave one.

Omega Mu Chi Tea Is Huge Success

Between twin punch bowls encircled by graceful rows of grapes, a graceful vase filled with green and yellow roses, a sumptuous buffet to receive the annual Fall tea given by the Omega Mu Chi sorority, a successful afternoon of refreshment was held.

The success of this tea is evidenced by the large number of students that Omega Mu Chi proudly displayed for the first time.

The whole theme was further carried out by a combination of light and dark green leaves secured with a gold bow. These served as favors and were pinned on each guest as they arrived.

The reception line from 3:30 to 4:30 were Mrs. Palmer Taylor, soror company to Broadway, March 1, for a two day engagement at the Adelphi Theatre, in a programme of four ballets, three of which — "Hear Ye! Hear Ye! " Love Song" and "Gold Rush." The New York performers, "Iberian Monos." a variation of Ravel's famous "Blood and Gold." Mr. H. Grootius, Alexander of Russia and Beatrice Webb will become a reality.

On the other hand, knowledge concerning it. An informed public is a rational and a brave one.

Dancing Star Ruth Page

Ruth Page, world famous dancing star and premier dancer of the Chicago Opera Company's ballet for nine seasons, has appeared with great success in every engagement of the world. A few years ago while appearing in a ballet in London, the London "Times of London" hailed her as "the fairest of all" to come as a partner, Bentley Stone.

President Hansen and Dr. Gottman To Attend Chicago Conference

Gottman will attend the fall meeting of the University of Chicago Alumni Association Wednesday night, it was announced to be held October 25-26 at the Palmer House. On the program will be an address by Dr. Gottman, who is the program committee and will act as chairman of the October 26 morning discussion.

Familiar Faces

The petite brunette who wore the crowned and exercised the prerogatives of Homecoming Queen during the past weekend is probably now the "familiar face" on the campus.

For the convenience of the young gentlemen hereabouts who would like to extend their information on the opposite sex, an interview was arranged between Miss Morris and the Pointer editor. Miss Morris has long gone on her quest, but did the crowd back down? This meant every-thing to the players. When their turn came, it was a little bit of fun from the audience. The second half of this interview will be published next week.

By this time you should be recuperated from your laryngitis, in general, your Homecomingite. The big game is on Saturday night next year. This Homecoming really went over with zip. A salute to the players for a job well done and a tip of the hat for even bigger and better ones. And remember, it's the Homecoming of that day! Order! Point! The Pointers come from behind in 22-12 victory over Platteville

The Pointers added a note of success to their 1948 Homecoming as they subdued the Platteville Pioneers 22-12 here at Stevens Point last Saturday. It was the first impressive game turned in by the Pointers this season as they passed, run and kicked to overcome a 12 point deficit to go on to win, by a ten point mar-

POINT CAFE
At Annual Nelson Hall Open House after Game
Approximately 400 people were served coffee, doughnuts and cider at the annual open house held at Nelson Hall after the football game Saturday afternoon. The guests conegregated in the rec room where the decorative scheme followed Hol-lowen ideas. Jack-o-lanterns with doughnut sticks protruding as ears were the centerpieces for the serving table. The rec room had balconies. Floating from its rafters, and con-stalls cluttering its corners; these mixed with the overjoyed football spectators made for a hilarious open house.

Several alums and guests were present at the Homecoming dinner at Nelson Hall Sunday evening, including Dean Elizabeth Pflisser and daughter Mary. Mrs. Pflisser introduced Miss Margaret Mitchell, point, who sang "I Love Life," at the request of the girls. She was followed by Julie Dean and Gladys Rindfleisch, who sang a number on request.

Among the other guests were Miss Myrtle Zimpelmann, Mrs. Milton Zimpelmann, mother of one of the dormitories, the Ladies' Institute Flugger, Doris Ubbelohde, Olive Crawford and Pat Carver.

Many Alumni Present At Homecoming Game

The annual Homecoming game was held on Saturday, October 19, with the alumni and students of CSTC's alumni and former students cheering for their respective teams. The game was well attended, with the band playing a lively mix of songs to keep the crowd energized.

AKL Takes First

The first prize in the serious float division went to Alpha Kappa Lambda. A freshened Point will beat a burned out Platte ville. A covering of small fresh fruits was the general idea. Stevens Point, while Platteville had dead, bent twigs for their theme. A weeping, walling funeral party sponsored by "our gang" was the winner of the first place in the novelty division. The runners-up were the "swinging to victory" WACA's in the serious division, and the Eating Co-op's. "Nothing but it" in the bag, showing a cow and a goat, came in second in the humorous division.

Referees were served and dancing concluded the evening.
