Stewart and Humke to Reign At Annual Junior Class Prom

The Junior Prom, reigned over by Queen Mary Stewart of Greenwood, and King Everett Humke, will take place on Saturday, April 23, at the Stevens Point Arena.

The royalty will reign over this annual semi-formal affair amid southern Wisconsin and Milwaukee area students by the music of Howie Emerson and his 11-piece orchestra. These music makers from Milwaukee will entertain the dancers from a simulated south- ern Wisconsin setting.

Queen Mary Stewart, a former CSTC student who is now teaching at Abington High School, will reign with her prince, Everett Humke, as they will lead the grand march. Second place will be awarded to Mary J. Kowalski and Kathy Grineck, and in line will be vice-president John Zastrow and his partner, Mary Chevalier.

Tickets will go on sale on the calendar of the junior class, open at 10 cents a ticket.

Mississippi Historians To Hold Annual Meeting

The Mississippi Valley Historical Association will hold its 18th annual meeting at Madison on April 15 and 16. CSTC will be well represented at this meeting by the social science faculty members who will attend. The meeting will be held jointly with the University of Wisconsin-Platteville Association of Alumni and the Wisconsin Sociey of Mississippi Valley Historians.

Mrs. Mildred Lockhart of Columbia University, Marietta Smith of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, Walter C. Taylor, Robert L. Jenkins, Beth W. Severson, and Grace P. Jenkins of the University of Wisconsin-Platteville will be among the speakers.

The Mississippi Valley: Its Changing Relations with the Nation and World. West Topics for discussion will include the industrialization, artistic developments, political and international influences, agricultural and literary trends and literary events of the Mississippi Valley; historic regions of the United States; Wisconsin and Iowa in their national personages; and early American history. Sessions will be held in the Lorraine hotel and the State Capitol.

CSTC Social Club Sponsoring Series of “Coffee Clutches”

How many students blush when being introduced to someone, or exhibit extreme tightening of the vocal cords when making an introduc- tion? Social pose, or the ability to entertain someone, is a part of the undergraduate social scene. The one who can do this well has an edge over those who cannot.

The CSTC social committee is endeavoring to correct this situation in a unique way. The committee is sponsoring a series of five “coffee clutches,” and to each it will invite a mixed group (men, too) of 15 or 20 students. Freshmen through Seniors, plus faculty members. Some of the group will be asked to perform the tasks which are necessary at such a social event. It will thus be an excellent experience and fun too.

One Party Presented Already

One such party has already taken place Thursday evening, March 31, at the Stevens Point home of Mrs. Elmer Reddick. The guests were members of one of Miss Pauline Jasman's speech classes, and the hosts were also members of the same class. Ralph Roberts directed the music, Larry Mr. Kinnen poured. The Home Eco- nomics club provided the coffee and sweets.

The idea proved to be successful, so the social committee has decided to hold five more periodically through out the remainder of the semester. They will all be in Mrs. Pfeiffer's office and the Home Economics club will supply the food. Any CSTC stu- dent can now be prepared to receive an invitation to a “coffee clutch,” and, after brushing up on a few simple rules of etiquette, he or she need not be the least bit hesitant about going.

Easter Recess Begins Wednesday Afternoon

Easter recess will begin at the close of afternoon classes on Wednesday, April 13, according to the notice handed out by President William C. Hansen. The Wednesday afternoon recess will always be called for other recesses and it was felt that these little extra periods would again be dismissed.

Classes will be resumed on Tues- day, April 19.

Because of the Easter recess, there will be no Noeter for the next two weeks. The next Noeter will be pub- lished on April 28.

WSGA Banquet To Be Held at Legion Hall

Miss Mary Ralch will be the speaker at an all college women's banquet sponsored by the WSGA this Thursday. The banquet will be held in Legion Hall on Stevens Point, April 24, at six o'clock.

The banquet is being sponsored by the newly organized Women's Student Governing Association and is the only social event being given by the WSGA this semester.

Prevention of 1952 Week Begins:

Red Line is a year usually set aside for "official" fire prevention week. We don't have an idea what week that is, but it is a question to the local units of the CSTC we have to operate fire prevention on 57 weeks of the year.

Now that spring has sprung and the sludge color of burning grass and rubble fills the air, we should be prepared for a fire hazard. Too rapidly we can evacuate the building, it is hoped that the building can be abandoned almost as quickly as the classrooms at the coasting.

Probably our greatest hazard is connected with the operation of the auditorium (although some firm mind in the faculty) is not fire worthy. The auditorium, on the second floor, is frequently filled to capacity and intricate electrical hook-ups are often necessary for lightening. These factors combined could lead to a flash fire and resultant panic with possible loss of life.

We don't expect a fire, but we must not be fooled into a false sense of security. The students should have a card which states what exits they know to be in case of emergency. We should memorize those words. The thing to remember when we hear "battle stations" is to keep our wits about us. None of us want to feel the burning coal prematurely.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Alpha Kappa Lambda

Robert Elias, Editor, a chemist from the Whiting-Plover paper mill, presented a paper at the convention of the Wisconsin paper mills at a meeting of Alpha Kappa Lambda, Tuesday, March 30.

Mr. Elias pointed out that the big green light which is now being shown with the development of the synthetic process and utilizing the sulphuric waste which is being dumped into rivers and streams, means a better life for the streams of their oxygen supply, than the disposal of the waste into the water. Mr. Elias also stated that if a practical method were devised to use this effluent, Wisconsin's major pollution problems could be solved.

He concluded his presentation by quoting figures which indicates that much of the water in the state has been accomplished through the efforts of the University of Wisconsin's laboratories and through the use of synthetic paper mill waste.

Radio Workshop

Everyone delights in the unusual adventure story and those who have their radios tuned to WBLZ, 1220, Monday to Saturday from 3 to 7 p.m., the Radio Workshop Players present one evening of Gamma Delta in the "Voyage through Darkness." The play is under the direction of Mr. Peter, and is a freshie; the music is provided by Fred Nastl and Maurice Mead.

Mr. Peter, who is a member of the Language Club, directed the original stories from the organizations in our campus on Monday at 5:30 when the Newman club presents a radio play on the subject of dreams, "The Voyage through Darkness."

An exciting story for children entitled, "A Rotten Boy," is held under the direction of Mr. Peter, who is a member of the Language Club. The production is presented by the Radio Workshop Players.

The campus personality for this week is our only known to all of us, Mr. Peter, on Tuesday, April 12, Daryl Fonstad and Mr. Peter is the announcer and Richard Rhee is the control operator.

Gamma Delta

There will be a short business meeting of the Gamma Delta at the Gamma Delta Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

For the big boys and girls, too!

After attending a third grade composition class at a nearby school (purely as observers — al those who don't give a damn will feel that it was the first class he'd been in for some time in which he felt he should leave before it was too late) — we feel that the Parent reporting staff could not possibly have given us such literary geniuses — "Read your paper (assignment) over to see if it's all right" — but instead of the work that comes into the Parent reporter's -for fact, it isn't even begun in some cases! (Spring flowers to you all and especially to the Parent reporters.)

Congratulations, Grandpa!

Mr. and Mrs. George Fuglar were parents of Longines to Sunday, April 3. Mrs. George Fuglar is the former Frances Huffman. George is a student at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Davie's to Present the "Heirless" Reading

The American Association of University Women is sponsoring a reading program on "The Heirless," a play by John Galsworthy, at 8:30 p.m, Sunday evening, April 10, 8 p.m.

Attractive and charming Barbara Davis of Margate Falls will give a reading of "The Heirless," a play by John Galsworthy.

The play was a great success in Chicago last fall. Basil Rathbone, of the movies, and British actress, is scheduled to star in the New York Settling.

As a sequel to the first story, James describes New York society of 1850 in the neighborhood of Washington Square. Jane Galsworthy has taken the place of Dr. Arthur E. Sloper, President of the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Sloper is from Ohio. He attended Oshkosh State Teachers College, and received his Bachelor of Science degree there. During the fall of 1912 he met Mr. Peterson, who joined the Signal Corps, and had a child, a daughter. His father forbids the marriage, both to save his daughter's reputation and to prevent his son from being a "disgrace seeker" and because he has always despised her for being so plain. He is in a new church marriage, but in doing so, dooms her to poverty and loneliness.

This entertainment is presented by the American Association of University Women of University of Wisconsin dance.

All students, faculty and the public are invited to attend.
Three Pointer Teams Preparing For Oshkosh Meet on April 23

Though the last week of practice has come to a minimum, CSTC's sporting activities are progressing at a rapid pace. The track, tennis and track teams are working diligently in preparation for the season's opening sporting event at Oshkosh on April 23. On that date, all three teams will travel to the home of the Titans to compete in their respective contests.

Coach Frank F. Crow the track team is progressing nicely, although last week's snow was no help in getting the team in shape. The trackmen are beginning to show themselves and should be all set to take on Oshkosh come April 23.

Other pairings saw Brunswick with two uners from the Chi Delta; Recreation Alleys two from the Campus Cafe and Hanson-Bach two from AAL 21.

The league leaders rolled the high team series of the afternoon with a 2922 series, followed by Nick NgorNs 2412 and the Brunswick 2410. Nick NgorNs held the high game, 26, followed by Grover-Nau-

Below is a complete list of all those who will make the trip to Oshkosh on the 23rd.

In the golf department, Coach James R. Hicks has been holding practice four afternoons a week with 10 men. He seems well satisfied with the work-outs that have been held. The roster of golfers include Bill Edwards, Ed Gunseker, George Holcombe, Norbert Lety, Donald Meyek, Bruce Menaul, Harold Paulsen, Gerald Rodal, George Phillips, and Jerry Schuy.

The Fifth QUARTER

The first basketball season since the merger of the northern and southern division has been completed — but not with a chink of perfect harmony. An article that appeared in the Oshkosh Advocate, OSTC school paper, echoed some of this discord. Below is a direct quotation taken from the Oshkosh Advance.

"Last week I told you about the merger of the Northern and Southern Conference Basketball League. Now I'd like to point out actual facts that the coaches of the Southern conferences have sent me.

| "As you can see, all these totals are even in most cases. The referees were picked by the king coach and they did a pretty fair job of calling the fouls so that the visiting teams didn't have to return home with a feeling that we gave them a bad deal. It is rare to see statistics of the games played at home you can also see that if the totals are uneven they are in favor of the visiting team."

In summary:

"Figures talk for themselves in most cases, but I'm not going to stop with just figures. There are a few outstanding games that I'd like to tell you about.

"Quoting Coach H. F. Quindel of Stevens Point: In the 23 years of coaching, we never got a poorer deal than we received at home. I've seen HOMERS in the past, but nothing like that. Five of our men went out on fouls and two more ended the game with one i cach. THEY DIDN'T LOSE A MAN."

"The Coach of Whitewater wanted us to see the great difference in the totals of both games and the games away. (34-34 at home)

But away they were 58-38, that's a 20 foul difference, for only two games."

The Titans had a bad deal at Superior. The foul column showed a 24-12 record. That's a big difference when so very few fouls are called. After the game, one of the men connected with the athletic department of Superior said, 'If we have to win ball games that way (meaning the poor refereeing) I'd rather see the school lose.'

"Well, students, I just wanted to let you know these odd facts regarding our Northern neighbors. If the fact remains that we areBUFFER in the Southern conference than they are in the Northern then why don't they let us play the game in our back yard and let them play in theirs?" Thus ended the Oshkosh Advance.

Out in this country, Easter customs in the days when settlements were still primitive, Miss Nelson Allen lived her Easter. It was not customary at that time to put too much emphasis on the day, but this day, is holy and radiant. "If the ground thawed sufficiently, we were able to have the horse-drawn sleigh and, having eaten the only meat that would keep over the winter, we would take it as place at the table," she stated. Miss Allen’s Experiences

Miss Allen went on to tell about her experiences with the recognition of Easter. While she was attending high school near her home she saw more emphasis put upon attending church. As a resident of the city of New York while attending Columbia University, she had occasion to attend church services on Fifth Avenue where one can find some of the world’s most beautiful churches. She said that the church ceremonies were some of the most impressive that one could behold. Miss Allen complained that her first attempt to attend one of these church ceremonies ended in failure because she didn’t have a courtesy ticket. For the next several years, however, she was able to attend.

April 17 will find the college faculty and students at their respective homes or at the homes of friends or relatives. It is the hope of the Pointe staff that no one will get an overdose of vitamins from having eaten too many eggs or get a case of pneumonia from exposure while searching for some phlegm.

"Fuzzy" has an attitude toward life that is as simple as it is effective. He likes to have fun, "be out in the sun," and like the people I meet and the places I visit at CSTC." What "Fuzzy" does anything it is because he enjoys doing it. This explains his interest in CSTC and his "sticking to the gridiron.

And as for the future, well, now that "Jenny" Lewis is wearing his fraternity pin, the only thing that "Fuzzy" is concerned about is whether or not he can find a place where the fish are big and plentiful and where the hunter never comes home empty handed.

Dean Piffner to Hold Meeting of Householders

Mrs. Elizabeth Piffner, dean of women, will hold a meeting of the college in whose homes college girls live today at 5 3/4 o’clock, in Room 160. Mrs. Piffner will be discussing concerning problems which arise from time to time. Preparation for a new housing list for summer school and for fall will also be considered.

Following the meeting of the householders, refreshments will be set out by the economics factors, at which time the house presenters will serve as hostesses. Beverages, chairman of the house presenters, will pour.

45 Towns Represented at District Forensic Meet

In the biggest district forensic ever held at CSTC, 173 Senior and Junior High school students from 45 different Wisconsin cities vied with each other last Tuesday for ‘A’ rating and the right to go to Madison for the state High school forensic meet.

Cities represented were Wisconsin Rapids, Loyal, Marathon, Wittenburg she had a hard time however, and we were able to attend.
