Organizations Urged to Prepare Skits as Mardi Gras Approaches

The Mardi Gras carnival is only three weeks off. This should be a sufficient reminder to those organizations planning to participate to get busy. Their first step is to contact Don Vetter, chairman of the carnival, as soon as possible, and give him a general outline of their skits. A few organizations have already done this, but the rest are urged to do so right away.

The skits should not last longer than 10 minutes, if possible, and should be in a light vein. Some ideas from others years include singing, dancing, radio programs, acting out nursery rhymes and pantomime.

As for the technical side, all properties outside of standard stage equipment must be furnished. The lighting will be taken care of by the stage crew. Each participating organization is asked to have one person act as a technician to assist the stage staff in putting on a particular act.

Two New Additions to Faculty; Miss Wright Returns from Leave

CSTC welcomed two new members to its faculty at the beginning of the second semester. Miss Adeline Levin came to replace Miss Myrtle Spande as women's physical education director and Miss Kathryn Ausman came to be temporary kindergarten instructor in place of Mrs. Raymond E. Gotham, who has resigned.

Miss Levin, whose home town is Minneapolis, taught previously in Minneapolis and Alex, Minnesota and in New York state. She graduated from the University of Minnesota and received her Master of Science degree from Columbia university.

Aside from physical education her hobbies include flying and amateur photography. During the war she served in the Motor Transport division of the WAC.

Elk Mound is the home of Miss Kathryn Ausman, the new kindergarten instructor. She attended school at River Falls Teachers college, the University of Wisconsin, Central State Teachers college and received her Bachelor of Education

"First Come, First Served"

The date is Monday, February 28, and final dress rehearsals are on the preceding weekend. It is "first come, first served" on rehearsal time and place on the program. Cancellations will be made upon notification of the chairman, but no organization should have to cancel its skit.

The Mardi Gras is truly a college tradition. Past records show that in pre-war times a carnival and dance was held each year under the sponsorship of the Iris. Included in the carnival besides the skits was a carnival midway of booths and stands built along the first floor hall. The climax of the evening was a costume ball in the Training school gym, and the crowning of the Mardi Gras king and queen.

Second Since War

Last year, after a wartime lapse of six years, the Mardi Gras carnival was revived by the College theater.

Since the costume dance and the election of a king and queen had already become traditional with the CSTC Hobo Day and Homecoming festivities, these were dropped from the Mardi Gras celebration. However, the 1948 carnival was a big success, and all indications point to a bigger one for '49.

'Dancing in Dark' to Be Theme at Legion Hall Inter-Sorority Dance

There will be "Dancing in the Dark" on Saturday evening, February 19, when the two sororities on the campus, Tau Gamma Beta and Omega Mu Chi, jointly sponsor a dance with that as the theme. The dance, which according to tradition is "girl-ask-boy" affair, will be held at the Legion Hall with music to be furnished by Larry Woodbury and his orchestra. Admission will be $1.75 per couple.

Committees for the dance, which have a co-chairman from each sorority, are the following:

Decorations, Mary Due and Lorraine Thatcher; programs and tickets, Winifred Church and Julie Dean; orchestra, Pat Lasecke and Mary La Marche; chaperones, Pat Lavers and Pat Jones.

Co-chairmen of cleanup will be Joan Winter and Marjorie Finch; of publicity, Betty Dietz and Lois Moch; and of refreshments, Margaret Johnson and Margaret Hull. Janice Sisley and Mary Connor are general chairmen for the affair.

Prior to the dance, the sororities will hold separate dinners for the members and their invited guests; the Tau Gam is to be held at the Spa, and the Omega, at the Sunrise.

Caroline Krogness and Phyllis Kasper will head the invitation and decoration committees, respectively, for the Tau Gams, while Ruth Finch will be in charge of invitations and Mary Ellen Gmeiner, of dinner decorations, for the Omegas.

WSGA Sponsoring Tea

The WSGA Executive Board will sponsor a tea for all new women students enrolled at the beginning of the second semester. The tea will be held on Thursday afternoon, February 3, in Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner's office from 3:30-4:30 o'clock.

794 Students Enrolled As Second Semester Begins

Pointer Staff Changes For Second Semester

A few changes have been made in the Pointer staff since last semester. Since most students never let their eyes wander over the mast-head, the Pointer will faithfully reproduce a list of the entire staff hoping that these changes will be noted if placed in story form.

A few positions are still open on the staff. The business manager is prowling around in search of ad men and circulation staff personnel. The editorial staff is ever desirous of obtaining talented writers and typists. If you're interested in either department, drop around the office to see the editor or business manager.

The staff is as follows:

Eighty Bandmasters Expected To Attend CSTC's Band Clinic

A band clinic will be held at CSTC on Saturday, February 5, from 9:30-4:30 o'clock. According to Peter J. Michelsen, there are 80 bandmasters expected to attend the clinic. The entire school bands from Park Falls, Edgar, Weyauwega, Birmannwood, Medford and Iola, with a representation from Rib Lake, will attend. It is expected that several other schools will also bring their complete ensembles.

The CSTC band will play 20 contestants from Wisconsin Rapids and also some CSTC alumni have been invited to "sit in" and play with the band. In this manner, it is anticipated

58 New Students

The beginning of the second week of school shows a total of 794 students enrolled for the second semester, according to word from the Record office. Of this total 58 are new enrollments, and the remaining 736 are re-registrants. The total may be boosted somewhat by late registrations.

Enrollment, to all appearances, seemed to function smoothly on the first and busiest day last week. Except for a few students with high numbers and an extreme desire to get through the mill, there were not many who had to wait in long lines.

The new features noted in connection with registration were the small, blue temporary class cards for the instructors. These had to be filled in, with the students having to do the major portion of the pencil work, and this speeded processing immensely. Activity taxes had to be paid in advance this semester. It was noticed, too, that the direction sheets with enrollment numbers were collected in the library.

On the whole, the registration was characterized by much more speed and precision than has been the case in past semesters when long waits and confusion were the order of the day.

History Expert to Give Talk on Early American Explorations on Friday

Hjalmar R. Holand of Ephraim, Wisconsin will lecture on the early explorations in America on Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the college auditorium. Mr. Holand is an expert in Pre-Columbian American history, having specialized in this field for 40 years. Articles concerning his research have appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, Reader's Digest, Rotarian and other publications. In addition, he has written a history of Door county entitled "Old Peninsula Days."

Mr. Holand's talk will deal with one of the great expeditions to America in the 14th century. It is a generally known fact that there were several such expeditions before 1492. The expedition which spent eight years in America (1355-1363) will be the subject of his talk. This assembly should be a special interest to American history students as little is studied of the pre-Columbian period.

ed that the band will have about 65 members. Students and public are invited to come and listen.

CSTC Band to Give Concert in Oconto Falls and Manawa

The CSTC band, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, will take a concert trip to Oconto Falls and Manawa on February 10. The band will leave in the morning, play an afternoon concert in Oconto Falls and an evening concert in Manawa.

On the 17th of February, a similar concert will be played in the evening at Adams-Friendship.

Good Leadership Necessary

In his opening message to the student body last September President Hansen said, "We are living in perilous times and it is going to require qualities of leadership and keenness of understanding on the part of your generation to avoid some of the serious troubles which threaten us..."

Since that autumn day we have reached another milestone in the course of our education, namely, the opening of the second semester. To some of the seasoned veterans of the Stevens Point campaign, this evokes no great response; others, especially the newcomers, look forward with mixed emotions to what the next few months hold in store for them. Some await it with eager anticipation, some look upon it as a period of insufferable boredom; others are downright afraid, but all want to succeed.

All of the students at this institution have been admitted because a survey of their past records show that they are capable of doing college-level work. Nevertheless, there are certain ways in which a greater degree of satisfaction and benefit may be derived from school life. This is written for those who are willing to pursue a systematic program in the quest for success.

First, take a part in school activities. Perhaps you are a singer, an athlete or a writer. There are organizations which are ever in search of just such talent. Maybe you are an avid reader. In that case you will fit nicely in any one of several professional groups. In any event, don't hide your light under a bushel basket for any reason, real or imaginary.

Second, attend church regularly. No life can be complete without the comfort and inspiration which is afforded only by religion. There are churches of enough diverse faiths in town to fill almost any requirement.

Third, be courteous and tactful with all the people you come in contact with. The reason behind this axiom is readily apparent, yet it is the one most frequently broken. It will pay you dividends in any situation if you remember it.

Last but not least, formulate a study plan and stick to it. Make use of the college reference sources. Take a part in class discussions. Ask questions, and don't be afraid to express your opinions. It is surprising, even to upperclassmen, to find out how instructors welcome new ideas. People are apt to judge you incorrectly unless you remove your veneer of reticence or sophistication of what have you.

If we would all adhere to these basic tenets, we would be drawn out of our little hollow shells and develop the courage of our convictions, which is one of the prerequisites of true leadership.

Hey, Fellas! Nelson Hall Has Eight New Dormites

Eight girls have joined the ranks of the Nelson Hall dormites this semester. They are filling the vacancies left by those girls who are now keeping house at Sims cottage and who have found residence elsewhere.

Among the new residents is Helen Randorf, a senior, hailing from Plainfield. Helen started her college education at CSTC. She graduated with a two-year rural diploma in 1940 and since then has been teaching school and attending summer schools. She is a major in the field of intermediate education and plans on graduating this June.

Josephine Vesely, who calls her home town Mosinee, is a senior this year in the field of intermediate education. Besides her work in the intermediate division, she has gained a strong minor in history.

Eunice Rothweiler, a transfer student from Milwaukee State, is a junior this year. She is also a major in the intermediate division. Eunice's home town is Milwaukee.

Jacqueline Jennings is from West Allis. "Jackie," as her friends call her, is enrolled as a freshman in Junior college. She has made no definite plans for her future college education.

Thora Fink, from Marshfield, is a second semester freshman and a transfer student from Milwaukee State. Thora plans on making her major primary education.

Joan Schroeder, from Pulaski, transferred to Point from Milwaukee State. Joan is a sophomore in the two-year rural division.

Pat Faucett, Marinette, who is spending her second semester at CSTC, is a sophomore, having completed one year at Milwaukee Downer. She is a major in the field of intermediate education.

Pat Kelley, a sophomore, from Tomahawk, is a transfer student from the College of St. Scholastica, Duluth, Minnesota. Pat is taking as her major the three year rural course.

quite a few years, and a reserve in the budget allowed its purchase from school funds.

President Hansen Speaks

Last Tuesday's ceremonies included a short dedication speech by President William C. Hansen. President Hansen then presented the organ to Peter J. Michelson, director of the music department. After accepting it in behalf of the school, Mr. Michelson called upon Arthur Dankoehler of Milwaukee, organist of the Bradford company, to demonstrate the use and sound of the organ.

Mr. Dankoehler played a number of selections including: "Fan Fare in G Minor" by Ashford; "Church Bells" by Telle; "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" by Leon Gessel; "Night of Gladness" by Charles An-

New Organ Demonstrated At Dedication Ceremony In College Auditorium

CSTC's new electric organ was dedicated during appropriate ceremonies last Tuesday, January 25, at the college auditorium. The ceremonies made the newly installed organ a part of CSTC.

The new organ is a Hammond electric organ with a large speaker. A special feature of the organ is the set of degan chimes which give an added effect. The organ, like the school's big nine foot piano, was purchased from the J. B. Bradford company of Milwaukee. The music department had wanted an organ for

Nine Schools Compete In Debate Tournament

The district debate tournament was held here last Saturday, January 29. Nine schools competed in the event. Rhinelander, Mosinee, Stevens Point, Waupaca, Merrill, Wausau, Wisconsin Rapids, Antigo and Medford were represented.

Rhinelander, Merrill, Wisconsin Rapids and Wausau emerged victorious and will represent the Stevens Point district at the regional tournament to be held at CSTC on February 12. They will compete with the winners of the La Crosse and Oshkosh district tournaments. Judges will be chosen from the college faculty.

President William C. Hansen extended a welcome to the visitors at a luncheon held for debaters and coaches at Nelson Hall.

A request was made at the business meeting for a practice tournament in December and a first semester speech clinic next year. Leland M. Burroughs, of the college faculty, and Superintendent Albert Moldenhauer of Mosinee were selected to make the necessary arrangements.

OVER A COKE

Engagements, Weddings, Babies—

A CSTC graduate, Alberta G. Veeder, Marshfield, became the bride of Robert R. Schuelke, Marshfield, January 22.

Doris Ockerlander, graduate of CSTC, now teaching in South Milwaukee, is engaged to Dick Erwin, Wausau.

Marian Erickson, a CSTC student, is engaged to Francis Murphy, Tigerton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blaskey, CSTC trailer camp, are the parents of a son born Tuesday, January 25. Ray is a junior majoring in math in the secondary division.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Martini — are they going to call her Olive? Bill is a junior majoring in conservation in the secondary division. What's in a name?

Shall we try something strictly off the Cobb? I was in a Rush trying to get to work on time. The Buss was over-Due, and this resulted in my being late for work. My Schuh slipped in my Bootie as I got off the Buss. I was hurrying too Fast; my Heel hit an icy spot and I did a few Polka steps resulting in some hard Knox. I Kerst and limped inside. Winter being the victor this time.

As I was working I did some imagining about names —

Imagine the humor involved at the initial meeting of Miss Swallow and Mr. Crow!

What a party could be had if Brewer, Case, Beer, Goebel, Martini and Bahr were on the committee!

Wonder if the dormitory girls' conduct is governed by their director, Mrs. Angel?

I'd better conclude this before someone throws Stone(s) and listen to some soothing music, preferably an Overture.

Who would stoop to Tolo as to make a pun on names? That's Wright, I did!

Cheers

To all the faculty members at the game last Saturday and Wednesday (See OVER-A-COKE, page 4)

Additional Mid-Year Graduates Now Placed

The placement bureau of the Training school reports that several additional mid-year graduates have accepted positions.

Those now teaching are: James Cory, civics, history, and English at Merrill; Charles Bart, music at Arcadia; Sylvia Horn, grade one at Racine; Virginia Hull, general science, biology, and school nurse at Rothschild; Frederick Weller, geography and English at Spencer.

At the next meeting, Frederick Krempel of the college faculty will discuss the Catholic attitude toward labor and capital as expressed in the Papal Encyclicals.

Meet Mr. William Hong, A Native of Illinois

You have probably wondered about the young oriental-looking chap whom you have seen around since the opening of this semester. Well, let's introduce you to Mr. William Hong. Don't let appearances fool you, however, for William was born and raised in this section of the country, having lived in Illinois for the first 18 years of his life.

Of Chinese ancestry, Bill has made his home (pro tem) with his brother, a practicing physician, at Wild Rose, Wisconsin. He is enrolled in the Junior college here and smitingly admits that law or architectural work is his ultimate goal.

At 22, Hong is a veteran of four years service in the Army Air Corps. He is vitally interested in photography, having served in the Photographic Technical school while stationed near Tokyo, Japan. Bill did some wrestling in his high school days and acted as manager of the high school football team.

Pointers in Third Place Tie with 61-60 Victory over Platteville

The Pointers came from behind Friday night to take a hotly contested decision from the Platteville Pioneers by a 61-60 count. The win left the CSTC quint unbeaten in home play for this season and moved them into a third place tie with the Pioneers and La Crosse in the Teachers conference standings.

Platteville held a small lead throughout the first half and was in front 32-31 as the period ended. The Pioneers came back with a rush at the start of the second stanza to increase their lead by seven points before the Pointers, sparked by Tom Curry, started a rally that put them into the lead with just a few minutes remaining on the clock.

Senior guard Bob Hartman was really on as he connected on 7 of 14 shots for a fine .500 average and netted one gift shot to lead the scorers with 15 points. Curry was runner-up with nine points.

Collegiates Overpower Wausau Muskies 46-26

Coach Raymond E. Specht's Collegiates rolled to a one sided 46-26 win over the Wausau Muskies, in a preliminary game played at P. J. Jacobs gym, Friday night. The Collegiates piled up a 13-3 lead at the quarter and were never headed after that. Coach Specht used every man on the team in rolling up another in an impressive string of victories.

Bruce Menzel paced the local attack as he swished the meshes for 13 points on five buckets and a trio of charity tosses. Wienkauf was the top scoring Muskie as he tipped in 10 markers.

The Fifth QUARTER

A welcome addition appeared in the Point line-up against Platteville with the name of Big Bill "Moose" Ludwig, who is no stranger to Pointland fans. Ludwig's outstanding play was a factor in winning the co-championship last season. Bill was unable to play last semester due to an ineligibility ruling which followed his enrollment in another school during the summer session.

Offsetting the gain of having Ludwig back is the loss of Joe Haidvogel. Joe was tied with Chet Polka, freshman from Mosinee, for scoring honors during the first semester. Both men finished the first semester with a total of 59 points in conference games. Haidvogel played first-string for the Pointers for three years on the hardcourt and turned in outstanding performances on the gridiron. Joe's absence from Central State's sporting activities will be noticed by the student body and his teammates alike.

In the first seven conference games so far this season, Point has scored a total of 375 points as compared with 369 for their opponents. Polka leads the pack with 66 points. Below is the listing of the top 10 CSTC scorers together with their record, year in school and the city that boasts their residence.

Ivan "Red" Williamson was finally chosen as the new head football mentor at the University of Wisconsin. Williamson, former Michigan star, returns to the Western conference after several coaching positions on the east coast. After the truly un-sportsmanlike "Goodbye Harry" campaign, let's hope that Williamson is the answer to the Wisconsin football problem.

Among the candidates for the Wisconsin position was Win Brockmeyer who has given many Valley conference coaches a headache. With the hiring of Williamson, Wausau fans can breathe a little freer and the other Valley coaches can buy some more aspirins.

Getting back to the Teachers conference, high scoring River Falls still leads the pack after winning six and losing but one. Point, currently in third place, still has a chance of a share of the title if (and a mighty BIG if) River Falls drops a pair of games and the Quadtmen win the remainder of their games.

The next week is a quiet week for the CSTC cagers as they are idle until a week from tonight when they travel to Eau Claire to meet the Bruins. The following evening they visit Stout Institute at Menomonie for another conference game. On February 18, the Milwaukee Green Gulls invade Pointland for a return game and on February 26 the Pointers go south to match skills with the Quakers at Whitewater. The Quadtmen end their 1948-49 conference schedule on March 1, when the Titans from Oshkosh make their appearance at P. J. Jacobs Gym. More details and a preview of the coming games will appear in next week's Pointer.

LSA

The Lutheran Student association was entertained at the apartment of Miss Carolyn Rolfsen and Miss Marie Swallow on Thursday evening, January 27. An interesting discussion on the subject of the second commandment was led by Laurie Anderson.

After the business meeting Miss Rolfsen and Miss Swallow entertained the group with some of their records. Group singing was led by Norvin Holm. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

WAA

Miss Adeline Levin, the new club adviser who is to replace Miss Myrtle Spande, was introduced to the WAA at a meeting of the group held Wednesday, January 26.

Plans were discussed concerning the group's attendance at "Play Day" at La Crosse in March.

After the business meeting two games of basketball were played with Ruth Olson, Beverly Berg, Yvonne Jacobson and Betty Mehne as captains.

Sigma Tau Delta

The publication of "Flight", a magazine of student prose and verse was the main topic of discussion at a meeting of Sigma Tau Delta on January 12. The fraternity agreed to undertake the publication and President Melvin Carlson appointed Keith Fox, Bea Maliarik and Isabelle Stelmahoske to an editorial committee. Melvin Berg and Jack Steeves were selected as co-business managers, with Priscilla Sullivan and Jack Zei handling advertising.

The president also reminded the members of their invitation to an outing at Mr. Knutzen's cottage, Sunday, February 13, was set as a tentative date, but members are urged to watch the fraternity bulletin board for confirmation of the time and meeting place.

Chi Delta Rho

George Whitney, able editor emeritus of the Pointer, was elected president of Chi Delta Rho at the last business meeting of the first semester. Other officers are: Earl Cotter, vice-president; Maurice Mead, secretary; Bernie Alberg, treasurer; Dick Green, Pan Hellenic representative; George Emmerich, sergeant-at-arms.

A social gathering on January 25 was held in the lodge chambers of the Wing bar.

Gamma Delta

The Gamma Deltas held a party at the Bukolt park lodge on Thursday evening, January 27. The barn dance theme of the party was kept a mystery until the moment the group arrived at the Bukolt park lodge to find hay loft decorations and a roaring fire in the fireplace.

Old fashioned square dances, led by Bernice Yonke, provided the entertainment for the evening. All committee work was taken care of by officers and senior members.

Elections and a winter outing are tentatively planned for the month of February. Members are requested to watch the bulletin board.

Radio Workshop

Several members of the Radio Workshop graduated upon completion of the semester ending January 21. They include Jim Cory, publicity chairman; Frederick Weller, moderator of the Radio Workshop Round Table; Frank Kostuck, producer of the Music Album program. These graduates now occupy various positions. Jim Cory is teaching in the Merrill school system, Fred Weller listens in from the high school at Spencer and Frank Kostuck is enjoying a trip through the southwest with headquarters in Tucson, Arizona.

Several students joined the Radio Workshop at the beginning of this semester, and the Radio Workshop wishes to extend an invitation to any student interested in any phase of Radio production.

Remember to listen in daily at 3:15 p. m. for the Radio Workshop broadcasts through station WLBL, 930 kilocycles.

Cheerleaders Club

The Cheerleaders club held elections of officers at a meeting on Monday, January 31. The results were as follows: President, Warren Hamel; vice-president, Nancy Sannes; secretary, Carole Gilbertson; treasurer, Dorotheanne Rebella.

Members of the Cheerleaders club wish to express their thanks to the athletic board for its purchase of jackets for the club.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

Plans for the forthcoming Phi Sig Style Show on February 15 and 16 were discussed at the last meeting of Phi Sigma Epsilon held Tuesday, January 25. Castings were made and the committees for the event were appointed.

Following the Platteville game on Saturday, January 29, Harry Hemstock and his Jive Five, a musical aggregation, played for a post-game dance sponsored by the Phi Sig.

Tau Gamma Beta

The installation ceremony of the Tau Gamma Beta sorority was held Tuesday evening, January 18, in the Nelson Hall rec room.

The following officers were installed: President, Loretta Fenelon; Brandon; vice-president, Janice Sisley; Phelps; recording secretary, Margaret Johnson; Waupaca; corresponding secretary, Betty Dietz; Marshfield; historian, Ila Williamson; Brandon; press representative, Bea Maliarik; Chicago and Pan-Hellenic representative, Pat Lavers, Tomahawk.

Social Science Club

Rev. Edward C. Lewis, local Episcopal clergyman, will speak to the Social Science club at its regular meeting this evening in room 106. The title of his talk is, "The Political and Economic Outgrowths of the Religious Reformation."

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. and a short business session will precede the program. All members are asked to attend and other students and faculty members who are interested in the program are cordially invited.

Lesson in reporting—

A reporter on the staff of this illustrious publication was told to get more detail in her stories. Apparently her mind functions contrary to directions as this is what the reporter (?) brought in — the assignment — in one sentence!

Over-anxious public

The morning that Dr. Doudna's candidacy for State Superintendent of Public Instruction was announced in the Pointer he received a phone call inquiring if his apartment was for rent!

Thought the Pointer office would be dull Monday night without George Whitney but it seems he indoctrinated Art Witalison with his "Westbrook Pegler" ideas, as Art is now called "Eastbrook." Amazing what succeeding editors inherit!

I'll have competition next week as the editor emeritus will bring forth his column creation — so termed "Wry Chaff" by himself. The present editor made the statement that it would be so-termed over his dead body. Watch for the premiere.

cliffe; "Jubilant Geo" by Alfred J. Silver, dedicated to the faculty and students of the college; and "Clair de Lune" by Claude Debussy. He also played the accompaniment for "God of All Nature" by Peter Tschai-kovsky which was sung by the college glee club with Miss Gretchen Holstein as soloist.

Requests Played

Beside the prearranged selections Mr. Dankoehler played a number of request selections for the audience. He demonstrated the use of the chimes in some of his selections, and showed how the organ could be used to provide instrumentation that is lacking in the school band. The latter was done by imitating a number of instruments.

A bouquet of gladioli on the stage for the occasion was presented to President and Mrs. Hansen by Mr. Michelsen.
