Better Schools through Better Teachers' Theme of Conference

"Better Schools through Better Teachers" has been selected as the theme for the First Annual Teachers Conference at Central Wisconsin State College on Friday, April 8, it is announced by Dr. Charles A. Gorz, chairman of the conference committee.

Assisting in the arrangements are James B. Wetzlov, D.C., associate secretary of the national commission on teacher education and professional standards, and Robert G. Van Housen, director of the local Education Association, who will address the conference.

President Hansen to Speak

Preceding the address by Dr. Stein, seven high school forensics teams will present organ melodies by Gilbert W. Faust of the college faculty and an address, "The Challenge of the Conference Theme to the College," by William B. Church of the college.

Following the main address, the balance of the morning session will be devoted to group discussions, with five sections meeting independently to discuss the programs presented. The separate groups will report specific recommendations for implementing the teachers' theme for the close of the conference.

As leaders, panel members or recorders are several Stevens Point educators: L. D. Calver, Portage county superintendent of schools; Miss May Ross, CSTC faculty; Paul M. F. Christenson, opened as president of the students' body; superintendent of schools; A. G. Bostad, principal, P. J. Jacobson High School, Ben Hel, principal of the local Emerson high school and Miss Ruth Brabant, Stevens Point supervising principal. A noon luncheon will be served to those attending the conference.

Glee Club Will Sing

The theme of this institute will open with a 30-minute program of selected choruses by the Glee Club, followed by an address by Charles B. Waldren, Madison, state superintendent for vocational instruction, who will be presenting the State Curriculum Program which he is developing through the Teachers College.

More Orchids for Us

(Editors' note: The following letter came from Gladys Sobeetber, who was graduated from CSTC in 1948.)

Dear Gang:

Some of you veteran staff members will remember me, but for the benefit of you who do not, I was a reporter on the staff during my college career. My favorite trick was to come in, clanging after the dead-line on Monday night having my assignment. The next few minutes would be spent in hushed silence, while 'Ed' either approved or disapproved.

Anyway, I just had to sit down and write you, telling how much I enjoy getting the Pointer every week. It makes me feel as if 'I'm gone, but not forgotten' as a part of CSTC.

After I pour over the paper reading everything from the headlines to the copy, I then attempt to copy the copy to other CSTC grade now teaching in Marinette, I. I'm sure the editor of another student newspaper Phillips who avidly read it. So you see it does you good.

Thanks again for sending it. Best wishes to the staff and may every future edition be as succulent as past ones have been.

Sincerely yours,
Gladys Sobeetber

Final Library Science Course Not Yet Closed

Another course in library and bibliographical methods began Wednesdays and Thursdays last, with five two-hour sessions, 1:30-5:30 each Wednesday and the value of the semester. Some of the second hour will be used to work out problems in the first and to bring developed primarily through problems and, in addition, will be made available to projects, papers, reports, problems and studies in order contexts.

The course will include the study to the college library and its arrangement and will present the rudiments of methodical search for materials and information in the library. It will include some study in specific areas of research, and the materials on a topic are exhaustive, some training in elusive informing.

District High School Forensic Contest Will Be Held at CSTC

On Tuesday, April 5, CSTC will play host to the District High School Forensic League, an annual athletic competition between rural assemblies, the Training school and the college. The college will be the setting for the contest which will run simultaneously in the different states of this day. Students are cordially invited to the program, which is free of charge.

Activities will consist of original orations, non-original orations, four minute speeches, extemporaneous readings, a continuation of serious and declamation problems and serious declarative and humorous declamation. The program will be arranged by A. H. Mildenhover, science supervisor, and District High School forensics and director of the program.

The contest will be held in the field house at the college at 8:00 p.m. on the day of the event, with the program to be announced.

Band Homecoming Concert Highlights Busy Weekend

Sixteen members of the high school orchestra will perform at the homecoming concert which will be held in the gymnasium on Friday, held in the gymnasium on Friday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m. The program will include several popular numbers and several songs and will be presented by the homecoming committee.

May Many Alums Expected for Concert

A gala weekend is in store for CSTC when the fourth annual Band Homecoming and concert will be held in this Saturday and Sunday. It is a weekend which is expected from all parts of the state to enlarge the college band to 70 or 75 pieces.

The climax of the Homecoming will come on Sunday afternoon when band members will present a concert in the college auditorium. Members of the band and alumni will spend most of Saturday rehearsing for the concert.

Each Unit of the Homecoming will be accompanied by a house decoration, and this has created a great deal of excitement throughout the campus.

A banquet held at St. Paul's Methodist Church will be the keynote of the Homecoming on Saturday evening.

Men May Lose Smoking Rights if Unintidness Continues

Unless the male population at CSTC takes upon itself the task of being more tidy and appreciative of the facilities of the men’s smoking lounge it will likely be closed for the remainder of the school year.

This was the opinion of a majority of the Student Council members who, at their last meeting, discussed the proposal for the suspension of President William C. Hansen.

Since its opening last fall, the smoking lounge has been a continual point of controversy because of the evident incidence on the part of the students toward keeping it clean. The recent vandalism, broken chairs and extra tables has not aided the situation in any way and the continued neglect, carelessness, and comfort makes the chance of keeping the lounge further equipped quite improbable.

Treat Lounge As Own Home

Underscores we find that our pol- lutes members, of the college maintenance staff, must stop thinking of the lounge keeping it clean and presentable. According to President Hansen, the maintenance crew is not heavily enough staffed to warrant as much attention as it should receive.

Let’s Do Something about This!

One of the “attributes” of the college which most assuredly has an adverse effect on us and is a depressing sight to all regulars is the deplorable state of the men’s lounge.

Every man who has been in the last fall has no doubt seen the refrain of paddles hitting table tennis balls and the heads of unfortunate bystanders. This delicate situation was further augmented by an ankle deed propping of candy wrappers, coke bottles, cigarette butts and discarded paper, not to mention the horrid trimmings of the cleaning of the room. What solution then, do we have?

A person who should know what he is talking about told us that the lounge should be supplied with some good furniture and a rug, the implication being that the atmosphere of the lounge would be improved. We do not see how this can be an economical or any other setting for the lounge.

A second and more logical solution is to make the men’s organization on the campus responsible for the condition of the lounge. The Student Council has elected the power of the Student Council to draw up such a schedule and present it for approval to those concerned. In this way the lounge could be saved from the present state of neglect.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Newman Club

On Monday, April 11, at 3:15 p.m., a 15-minute radio broadcast will be conducted. This broadcast will include musical selections, and some numbers. All members interested in participating may contact the president.

At the meeting last Thursday, the Newman Club members heard a Fleur told of his unexpected visit with President Newman of the National Newman club, who spoke highly of the national convention to be held in Chicago. Any Newman member may attend.

Several club members went with Miss B. La Crose Sunday, where she spoke to the Newman club.

The club’s Palm Sunday group communion will be held at St. Stanislaus church, featuring a breakfast breakfast will follow for all attending.

Radio Workshop

Radio Workshop activities this past Friday were varied and at some times intense. Friday, being Senior Day, brought a succession of events that filled the studio.

The touring groups were enthralled by the members of the Workshop activities and later in the day a special broadcast feature was conducted by Dr. Raymond E. Gotham of the English Department. Following the Music a recording was made of a program produced by the students, and later used for the Demonstration school. This recording was played by station WLB at two o’clock.

The Workshop schedule this week includes the David Murray, the first in a series of Stephen Foster,” produced by the Radio Workshop under the direction of Dr. Gotham, this afternoon at 3:15, and the “Music Album” on Friday at the same hour.

Monday, April 4, is the “Our College” Broadcast, featuring a preview of the forensic talent that will be at CSTC on Tuesday, Marne Roth relates stories to children on Tuesday, and the “Round Table” discussion on Wednesday concludes the sche­ ule.

LSA

The Freshmen members took part in a program which centered around a copy of the Constitution of the LSA meeting held at the parish house March 24. Each member received a copy of the new constitution.

Following the meeting the group mar­ ted the fingerprints of the boys and girls who were played. The Freshmen also served refreshments for the meeting.

The new officers will be installed March 31, who will hold the fees at 7:30 o’clock in the parish house on March 31. Anyone who is interested in attending.

WGA

Co-sponsored with the STAFF, the WGA, was most evident last week in the posters which decorated bulletin boards all around the school. Hints to good etiquette and when to use good manners can be seen on the bulletin board. A sprangling college presents a good idea of what is in store for the younger students when they arrive.

garten and art and she is especially interested in art projects for the home and in teaching regulation in art lessons in the kindergarten.

Wanda is teaching in one of the rooms in the school. She is wondering how she will be able to keep the youngsters from becoming penniless and making a bee-line for the home. The reason she has this worry is that the cause has happened, and not too many years ago, to a little girl named Wanda you guessed it—Wanda! Wanda did return to kindergarten class and now that she is in high school she will no longer want to play because she will soon be going to high school.

Wanda Council

We don’t really expect that Wanda will correct or amend anything that has happened, the lounge, as Wanda will have you believe. ‘When we are both going to college and have our separate scholastic affairs, you will see how important of sharing our work wherever possible.’

It may be interesting to note that Wanda has decided to write a book about Wanda and the war. She will be published in time in the fall of this year.

Today is Senior Day for Local High School

Stevens Point High School Seniors will be guests of CSTC tomorrow morning for a program in the auditorium. The one planned for out-of-town Seniors will be given at a later date. The Senior Day’s activities will be group meetings by divisions and departments and reunions of deans, coaches and other faculty members.

Senior day last week was highly successful according to a report from Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, general supervisor of the student activities. Students attended from the following high schools: Abbotson, Mosinee, Black River Falls, Stratford, Waunakee, Waupaca, DePere, Appleton, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Lawrence, Bowler, Scandinavia, Rosholt, Ne­koma, Unioiny, Marathon, Edgar, Chippewa Falls, Manhattan, Wau­ hawk, Wabeno, Manawa, Pittsville, Eagle River and Burnwood.

Stevens Point
Grover-Nauta
Preliminary Round

March 31

A new record was set by the Grover-Nauta team at the College Bowling League Competitions, with a win of 30-29 over the Stevens Point team. The Grover-Nauta team, led by Coach Bob Leklem, and Gil Springer, scored a perfect 29 in their final game to secure the victory. The Stevens Point team, coached by John Roberson, and in the lead for much of the night, scored 26 in their final game to lose by a margin of 4.

The Grover-Nauta team was burned out after the games as they won both of their games from the Stevens Point team and got a new league record for a single game, rolling a 1003 team game. Reis and Nauta topped a 604 series.

In other games, the Phi Sig took two from AKL #2; Nauta’s, two from Chi Dels; Hannock-Baach, two.

College and High School Letter Editors Feted at Annual Banquet
Letter winners in basketball and football were inducted into the college high school were honored last Wednesday at the annual athletic banquet held at Stevens Point high school auditorium. “Player of the Year” awards were given to the outstanding standing athletes in their respective sports.

According to the coveted “Player of the Year” trophies were George Fuzzy” Emenrich, CSTC, football, and Bill Wagner, East High, CSTC, basketball.

For the second year in a row Cliff Manchek, high school, football; Nelson Hall, Negard, high school, baseball.

Captain George Emenrich is a Stevens Point State student and played fullback for the Pointers. He received the award for his consistent play.

Bill Wagner hails from Weyauwega, and plays forward on the Point hardcourt. Bill is only a Freshman and should be around for another three years to bolster the Pointers’ attack. Wagner started the season rather slowly, but ended the season with the reputation of being Point’s top scoring threat.

Manchek and Negard stood on the high school squad.

Former coach and now athletic director for the University of Wisconsin, Harry Stahldreher, was the featured speaker at the banquet. Dr. Negard declared that sports are not being over-emphasized and criticized over-realistic grades.

Senior awards were given to five from Recreation Alleys and AKL #1 won three from the Campus Cafe to move into third place.

Grover-Nauta bowled the high team series of the evening, 1259, paced by games of 1005 and 870. Hannock-Baach took runner-up honors, cracking out a 2462 series, which included a game. Alpha Kappa Gamma took third place, with a 1969.

Reis’ 604 series paced the individual bowlers followed by Lanigan, 506; Felton, 506; Nauta, 506: Minton, 577; Chick, 531; Wege, 450; Johnson, 359; Bensow, 514; Schmidt, 504; Henne, 505; Stenerson, 502 and Springer, 500.

Reis hit the high individual game also of 227 followed by Fornell, 226 Langis, 223 and 222; and Henne, 208; Chick, 208 and Minton, 203.

CSTC athletes, Emenrich, George Fuzzy” Flanagan, Bob Leklem, Cliff Manchek, high school, football; Nelson Hall, Negard, high school, baseball.

Sports Activity Heralds The Arrival of Spring
From all indications, Spring is here. A tour around town will give you the necessary proof as one sees activity on every corner lot that in any way resembles a baseball diamond. An announcement that local rivers and streams are beginning up still is another proof of spring.

Your reporter roam out on the town and with this spring, he found it literally buzzing with activity. Coach Frank Crow stated that track season is coming along nicely and if activity is any proof, it is cubic in its measure and “j Jesus.” The spring weather has also given the tennis court people good use, and to get out-of-doors for some much needed practice. James B. Mullins, who is the only man this week that any student interested in golf should see himself included. The only one that comes with nice weather and sunshine, and he will be around all around the campus this week as the state conservation department announced that the Wolf river has broken and fishing season should be opening up in stream in about two or three weeks.

What Do the Girls Think of Men?
Not Quite As Much As They Should

Two weeks ago the Pointer ran a feature-poll on college men’s opinion’s of college women. This week the situation will be surveyed from the female point of view.

After interviewing several females who were, unusual as it is to the species, noncommittal, Donna Ander­son, on duty as receptionist at Nelson Hall, submitted this opinion: “I think the college fellows on the whole are very friendly and the same would apply particularly to the fellows that come to the dorm. A bridge game happened to be going on at the dorm while your reporter was doing research. The girls were kind enough to stop playing long enough to make these nonchalant comments.

Barbara Wells: “Generally the fellows are O. K., although most of them are well occupied.”

Joan Feinhehrush: “I think most of them are very friendly, but it might be a good idea if some of them were tagged as being unattached or unattracted.”

Marion Stegman: “What men?”

Marian being engaged to a non-col­lege guy has her private opinions.

Ruth Lang, in an emusser mood, answered, “Bring them around, I’ll let you know later.”

Several weeks ago there found three girls listening to records in the living room and one woman seemed to be the topic of discussion so your reporter jotted down a few of the flying comments. Here they are:

April Fool’s Day Dates Back
To Sixteenth Century France

April Fool's Day is not a holiday recognized by governments or encour-aged by parents, but it holds its own as a special day of trickery and joking.

Why does this day fall on the first of April? Nobody seems to know—but it is widely believed that it got its start in France in the 16th century. At that time the calendar was divided into old and New Year, with the New Year, and its celebrations, being pushed back from the last of March to the first of January. When the New Year’s Day came during the last week of March the celebrations lasted several days, reaching a culmina-tion on April first. After the New Year was changed some people still pretended to have New Year’s celebrations on the old day, perhaps making fools of those who had forgotten the change of date.
