Politicians, Where Are You?

After the spirited election trials last fall in which banners flew from every tree on the campus, and every ancient village in town had at least one campaign slogan decorating its exterior, it seems strange to report that the fever has abated.

Three weeks advance notice was given regarding the deadline for filing the candidates' names for the election. This whole affair has been characterized by a general lack of interest. In fact the number of votes cast in the school for the Club on Tuesday, May 10, was only 177, whereas the total number of names on the ballot to fill the vacancies on the Council, Membership on the Student Council is, or should be, one of the most coveted of the many academic backdrops. The reason they earn it by shouldering a considerable share of responsibility concerning the discharge of certain administrative and governamental functions around the college. In short, it is an office that cannot be treated lightly.

Our one ray of hope in the general apathy and gloom seems to be the presence of a number of junior and senior class members who are upper classmen with the same old snap and fire that they exhibited during the first semester elections.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

There will be election of officers for the round table at a meeting this Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Bethesda Room in the Library. The current officers and candidates are: Dave Null, president; Alice Shelly, vice-president; and John W. Johnson, secretary.
Three Meets Remaining Schedule For Golf, Tennis, Track Teams

School is rapidly drawing to a close and as a result the spring sporting activities around the State Teachers colleges. Here at CSTC two meets remain on the docket for the golf, tennis and track teams before the final day of the year in the form of the state meet.

Next Saturday the local golf, tennis and track teams travel to Oshkosh to participate in a triangular meet with Oshkosh and Whitewater. Coach Crow and his trackmen have had a great season so far this year winning three straight meets. But the triangular meet at Oshkosh will provide the acid test for the Painters. Earlier this season the Painters defeated Oshkosh mainly through field events. Oshkosh almost completely dominated the weights while the Painters piled up their winning points from the field.

In the triangular meet on Saturday they will have to face the same competition in weights from Oshkosh and according to Coach Crow will meet plenty of trouble from Whitewater, in the field division. From previous meets with other teacher's colleges Whitewater has proved to be very strong and fast on the sprints. This meet will be a great test through the Oshkosh-Whitewater-Pointers meet victorious, they will be ready indeed for the competition in the state meet at Milwaukee on May 29.

Dormites Give “Thanks to Mom” at Nelson Hall

The Mother-Daughter banquet was held at Nelson Hall on Saturday, May 7, and was attended by 127 persons. The banquet, traditionally held the Saturday previous to Mothers’ Day, is the dormitory’s way of honoring and saying “thanks to Mom” for all things done throughout the year.

A spring meal was used for the decorations. Flowers, leaves, birds and other items pertinent to spring made the tables and buffet in the dining-room attractive.

Carolyn Keoghs, dorm vice-president, acted as toastmistress. She called on Mrs. Margaret Angel, director of the dormitory, and Mrs. Elizabeth Pfeiffer, dean of women, for a few words. Mrs. A. R. Gulch of Eagle River, mother of Marie Guth, spoke in praise of the daughters, and Mary Due, dormitory president, told of dormitory life and spoke words of appreciation for the mothers.

Joan Fehr sang “Just Hold My Hands Tonight,” Julie Dean and Gladys Kindleisch gave a vocal duet, “Smiling Through,” and Barbara Clark played a piano solo.

Miss Keoghs was the general chairman. Committee chairmen were Misses Ellen Gesmer, decorations, Mary Stimers, invitations, and Phyllis Koper, program.

Before entering the service Jerry spent some time in Michigan working as a lumberjack. This business, however, is much less romantic than the tales of Paul Bunyan. Jerry reveals, although he gained considerable experience and background for his work in conservation. The time spent in trapping, too, has now become a valuable part of his education.

Council President

The dignity of his office as president of the Student Council, the recent interest in the Newman Club and his club, the association with Alpha Kappa Lambda, and the interest, the friendship, the interest in public speaking through Radio Workshop and debate is a summation of Jerry’s interests and attitudes. Being a conservativist naturally heightens his interest in hunting and fishing and in handling a gun or a fishing rod. Jerry demonstrates equal dexterity with both his right and left hand.

At this writing Jerry is awaiting news concerning his application for a position in the State of Wisconsin’s Soils or Conservation service. He would prefer to work directly in a career in conservation to teaching the subject in high schools.
