Armistice Day Program in Auditorium-Friday Morning

The college will observe Armistice Day with a program in the college auditorium at 11 o'clock Friday, November 11. The program will open with the audience standing at attention facing the east during the playing of taps, as has been customary at each of the previous programs. This will be followed by some selections by the band, and the band will also close the program with some appropriate numbers.

The speakers will be Dean Herbert R. Steiner, who will speak on the importance and significance of Armistice Day, and Dr. Quincy Doudna, who will speak on the importance of American Education week which is now being observed. After the close of the program college classes will be suspended for the balance of the day in observance of the day.

This Week Observed As American Education Week

This week, November 6 to 12, is American Education Week, an annual observance which comes each year on the week of Armistice Day. The National Education association started American Education Week soon after the end of World War I and has sponsored it ever since.

The NEA has selected the theme, "Visit Your Schools," for this year and also has designated different themes for each day in the week. CSTC will observe American Education Week at the Armistice Day assembly on Friday.

CSTC's among Writers In October Wisconsinciler

Three members of the personnel of CSTC are among the writers in the October issue of the Wisconsinciler, or magazine of the Wisconsin Council for the Social Studies.

Miss Marie Swallow, secretary at the Training school, Miss Pauline Isaacson of the history department and Raymond E. Specht of the geography department, are represented among contributors to the Wisconsinciler. Miss Swallow's article is entitled "Wilderness Habitants," Miss Isaacson's "Women in Wisconsin" and Mr. Specht's "Geography and Social Science."

Social Committee Lists Rules Governing Use of New Silver and Dishes

New dishes, silver and a coffee maker have been purchased for use by college organizations. The following rules for the use of them have been drawn up by the Social committee:

1. Application for use of the dishes must be made in advance to Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, dean of women.

2. One person in the organization wanting to use the dishes, silver or coffee maker must be responsible for signing for the articles to be used. The number taken out and the number returned must be checked.

3. All broken or lost articles must be reported and replaced by the organization using the articles.

4. All articles used must be washed and replaced in the cupboard.

5. The person responsible should check to see that the above rules are observed.

Mr. Specht Attends National Safety Congress in Chicago

Raymond E. Specht, CSTC's Driver Education instructor, attended the National Safety Congress on October 26 and 27 in Chicago. Mr. Specht was present at the meeting of the driver education section of the Congress.

During the first meeting the discussion centered around attitudes and ways and means of developing them, methods of instruction and their strengths and weaknesses, off-street practice areas, the cost of driver education courses, and teenage drivers and their effect on insurance rates.

On the second day of the conference, driving practices were discussed. Some of these were bad steering, signal failures, left and right turns, stopping at railroad crossings, watching uncontrolled intersections and speed control in general.

Students' Comments

A few of the students in Mr. Specht's Driver Education courses who have their own cars have the following comments on what the course has meant to them.

Don Sprise, who is enrolled in the Education 209 course, states that, "It has slowed me down about five miles an hour in city driving and made me conscious of correct clutch action."

Harold Humke, also a 209 student, says, "I have been made conscious of some bad driving practices I've had, such as getting out on the traffic side, and starting a car from second gear."

Chet Polka, who has a driver's liense, but is taking the Education 85 or beginner's course, states, "I'm glad to have the opportunity to learn the correct procedures."

Nancy Sannes, also taking the beginning course, says, "The course has made me aware of the many details of safety in driving, details which are so often overlooked by most drivers."

LSA Float Judged Best In Homecoming Parade

The LSA float was judged as the best float in the 1949 CSTC Homecoming parade on October 29. Originality, construction and impression were considered in the judging. Second place went to Omega Mu Chi sorority. The third place prize, given to the Faculty float, was transferred by the faculty to the Nelson Hall

THANK YOU!

I should like to extend my most sincere appreciation to those who helped make this Homecoming such a successful one.

I shall always remember it and be grateful.

Paddles, Ties and Ribbons Are Signs of Greek Pledging Season

Dr. Gotham on Symposium

Dr. Raymond E. Gotham appeared on a symposium last night at Port Edwards. His topic was "Educational Opportunities for Youth." Representatives of church, business and commerce also appeared.

Greeks At It Again

Blue and white paddles, red satin ties, and a variety of multi-colored ribbons plus a good deal of fanfare would indicate that the "Greeks" are pledging once more and such is the case.

Tau Gamma Beta and Omega Mu Chi are the sororities while Phi Sigma Epsilon and Chi Delta Rho are the fraternities on the campus. Each semester they pledge various students through a three week shakedown cruise during which he is shaken down.

The climax of the season comes on hell-night, this year November 18, a night aptly named. On Saturday, November 19, the pledge will be formally initiated and will attend the Pan-Hell dinner and dance, the proud wearer of his organizational insignia.

Identification Marks

The Chi Delt pledge can be distinguished by his blue and white meat-ax with built in blood overflow, his Robin Hood hat and respectful attitude towards superiors. The Phi Sig hopefuls sport like attitudes. They have "Canoe" paddles and wear breathtaking red bow ties. Both groups keep a close diary of their activities and have an intense desire to collect autographs.

Omega aspirants are characterized by yellow and lavender ribbons which are garishly displayed in their hair. Pins are used as a measure of efficiency. The more demerits, the more pins. Buttons serve the same purpose for the Tau Gams. A large number of buttons indicate a laxity in several respects on the part of the pledge. Long pink and blue ribbons draped arm length down the front are considered standing operating procedure for the Tau Gams.

The pledges are subjected to a good deal of attention on the part of actives and the rest of the students who look on them with a mixture of pity and awe. They may be apt recipients of "Texas" Guinan's favorite greeting, but they are still an indispensable part of college life.

Introductory Course in German Now Offered

An introductory course in beginning German is being offered this semester. The instructor is Reiner Rodenhauser, German student from Bavaria, who recently entered CSTC.

The class, which meets four times a week on Monday through Thursday, will stress grammar and easy reading. At present, 20 students are enrolled in the course. There is room for a few more, but registration will close this week. Credit will be offered in proportion to the academic load a student is carrying.

Miss Van Arsdale Is Elected A.C.E. President

Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, third grade supervisor in the Training school, was elected president of the Wisconsin branch of the Association for Childhood Education, at a meeting of the group in Milwaukee last week. The Wisconsin group is part of the national and international Association for Childhood Education.

Mrs. Mildred Williams, second grade supervisor at the Training school, was chosen one of the association's vice-presidents, to direct activities for the primary grades. Miss Mary Hand of Sheboygan, a CSTC graduate, will be the chairman in charge of the kindergarten-primary section.

Miss Swallow and Miss Rolfson Enjoyed Vacation in Ozarks

Miss Marie Swallow, Training school secretary, and Miss Carolyn Rolfson, administrative assistant, returned recently from a 2300 mile trip to the Ozark Mountains of Missouri and Arkansas. They left Stevens Point October 15 and returned October 23. The trip was made in Miss Swallow's new Dodge business coupe.

After crossing the Mississippi River into Iowa, they proceeded on to Hannibal, Missouri, the home town of Mark Twain. While there they saw the museum and the famed Tom Sawyer fence.

The next portion of their trip was through the Northern Ozarks to Springfield, Missouri. As they approached the Southern Ozarks near Branson, Missouri, they got into the country made famous by the book, "Shepherd of the Hills." Miss Rolfson visited some of the places mentioned in the book such as Sammy Lane's Cabin, Old Matt's Cabin, Mutton Hollow, Uncle Ise's post office at Natch, Missouri, and from there they drove over Dewey Bald Mountain.

The remainder of the trip was sought to Conway, Arkansas, west to Ft. Smith and north through the Boston Mountains to Eureka Springs, Arkansas. There they witnessed the Hillbilly Festival parade.

After returning to Springfield again and crossing the "Lake of the Ozarks" over the Hurricane bridge, were Carole Gilbertson, Joan Swan and Nancy Sannes.

Royalty of another sort were also selected with the choosing of Dolores Kosbab and Kelly Douglas as Hobo Queen and King. Talks by Dean Herbert R. Steiner and John Kowaleski, emcee, were also given. Cheers and band music kept the program at a high pace.

At the bonfire Friday evening, Queen Marge lighted the fire, cheer-they proceeded north to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota, to spend the weekend with relatives before returning to Stevens Point.

Our Apologies

In making up the masthead of the Pointer we committed an unpardonable sin of omission by leaving out the names of three members of the circulation staff, Elaine Ruffing, Barbara Higgins and Mary Lou France.

Elaine and Barbara type the addresses for the lengthy Pointer mailing list; Mary Lou assists in folding the papers and attaching the addressed folders.

Our sincere apologies to these loyal and dependable co-workers.

Interested in Aviation?

Lieut. B. M. Rothwell of Glenview Naval Air Station will be at CSTC on Tuesday, November 15 in the interests of Naval Aviation Cadet procurement. He is especially interested in interviewing graduating Seniors and those students who plan to terminate their education at the end of two or three years.

Lieut. Rothwell will be in the room adjacent to the Physics office from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

FROM THE STUDENT COUNCIL

On behalf of the Student Council I should like to thank those organizations and those individuals who helped to make our Homecoming the success that it was. Special thanks goes out to the Pointer for its publicity coverage of the event.

Thank you,
John Kowaleski,
President, Student Council

Can't Stop To Concentrate

Congratulations are in order to the Student Council and its president, John Kowaleski, for organizing the extensive Homecoming celebration. The CSTC band made a fine showing on its first formation work.

Although Mrs. Pfiffner did not get to the Milwaukee Teachers' convention because of her sister's illness, she had been contemplating a ride down with several men on the faculty. One worried male, Mr. Harris by name, wondered if she shouldn't get a permit from Dean Steiner to ride unchaperoned in the car.

The absent minded professor angle has been overworked, but when one can't even recognize his own clothes perhaps it should be mentioned. Dr. Tolo, Mr. Epple and Dr. Pierson shared a hotel room while at the teachers' convention. Each was traveling lightly and carefully hung up the clean white shirt which each had brought along to wear the following day. Dr. Pierson "made his do" for a day and a half, then decided he had enough bacilli collected and reached for his other. It was gone, only to be discovered on Mr. Epple's back. Dr. Tolo led the cheering section.

A thing to be kept in mind by long winded speakers for their audiences — Confucius say: "Mind can absorb only as much as seat can endure."

Charlie Eschenbauch has been passing out cigars right and left since his wife, Bernice, presented him with a seven pound, eight ounce son last week.

Evidently Dr. Doudna trains his son in efficient methods! A student teacher on noon hall duty at the Training school watched Gary Doudna carefully write "Gary X X X Nancy D." on the blackboard, surround it with numerous "Save" signs, then walk away rubbing his hands and saying "There! I've done my duty!"

Some gleanings from our sister newspapers that might prove of interest:

From the Concordia Courier comes this "humor." "A professor's life for me. According to the testimony of one professor on this campus, teaching is a snap. I quote: "Boys, some of you will go out into the world to teach; others will have to go out and work."

Wisdom from the Oshkosh Advance: "In anticipation of mid-semester our tabloid offers the following bit of wit:

- F—ierce lessons
 - L—ate hours
 - U—nexpected company
 - N—ot prepared
 - K—icked out."
- Some CSTCers could take heed of the "wit" offered.

Scout Training Program Begins on November 15

The Boy Scout Leadership training course will begin in the Training school gym on Tuesday, November 15, at 7 p. m. Its purpose is to provide training for young men interested in Boy Scouting and capable of handling Scout work. The course will be under the direction of S. W. Kilander, Scout executive, and Charles J. Williams, field representative.

Dr. Raymond E. Gotham is the training chairman of the Samoset Council. The course consists of six evening meetings which will terminate prior to the Christmas holidays. At present, over 25 men have registered. Any others who are interested are requested to come to the Training school office.

Chi Delta Rho
 Everett Humke, Mel Berg, Bernard Sbertole, George Mosey, Gene Smiley, Nile Woltman, Bill Joanis, Gary Nelson and Fred La Leike are currently undergoing the "water cure" as pledges of Chi Delta Rho. Alums and guests met for a social get-together at Iverson lodge on Friday evening, October 28. A business meeting was held on Saturday at the Belmont.

Selck's Burr Oaks Inn was the scene of the first party held October 23. Dr. Harold M. Tolo and Raymond M. Rightsell, advisers, were guest speakers. The first pledge dinner was also held at Selcks on Thursday, October 27. Dr. Tolo and Gilbert W. Faust were guests. Pledgemaster Bill Bart took over his duties as shepherd of his flock of nine at that time.

Primary Council
 Primary Council met Monday evening, November 7, with Miss Elsie Grime as guest speaker. She gave a very enlightening talk on kindergarten activities.

It was decided at the meeting that the Primary Council will award a scholarship to an outstanding girl in the primary division. The award will be made to a second semester Junior girl who has attended CSTC during her entire college career. She must have average or better than average grades and be in need of financial assistance. A committee composed of three faculty members and two from the Primary Council will make the selection, the first of which will be made in May of next year.

Home Ec Club
 At a Home Ec club meeting held Monday, November 7, plans were made for a Christmas Sale on Thursday, December 8. Co-chairmen are Ruth Olson and Mary Jane Buss.

It was also decided by the club to send a $9 Christmas gift to a foreign country through an organization called "World Friendship among Children."

After the business meeting, refreshments were served.

LSA
 LSA members were well rewarded as their float, "Pointers Plowing Through to Victory" received first prize in the Homecoming parade. Dorothy Thompson was elected secretary of LSA for the remainder of the term at the last regular meeting. Treasurer, Carla Kruse, urges all members to pay their dues as soon as possible.

The next meeting will be held tonight, at 8:00 o'clock in the parish house. Norman E. Knutzen will speak on hymnology.

Wesley Foundation
 The Wesley Foundation will meet tonight, at 7:30 o'clock, in the dorm rec room, Dean Herbert R. Steiner is to be the speaker for the evening. After his talk there will be a discussion period and refreshments will be served.

Omega Mu Chi
 Among those who were served at tables decorated in purple and gold were 35 alumnae of Omega Mu Chi sorority at its pledge-alum dinner held Saturday, October 29, at the Sunrise cafe.

A purple and gold flag was at each place, and the center piece of each table was a gold megaphone with the Greek letters of the sorority on it. The speaker's table had "Homecoming '49" printed in purple on its megaphone. At each side of the megaphone were tall yellow candles. The decorations on the fireplace carried out the same theme.

Mistress of ceremonies, Arlene Krompov, presented Homecoming queen, Marjorie Finch, a member of the sorority. Mrs. Don Larson, an alum and past president, spoke on rushing and pledging and Mrs. Ben Glennon, another alum, and past president, also spoke.

Miss Bertha Glennon, an adviser, was made an honorary member of the sorority.

Ruth Finch, pledge chairman, introduced rushees and gave the pledge activities. Following her talk the rushees became pledges in a candle-light service. The new pledges are: Ann Phelan, Nancy Sannes, Jackie Jennings, Isla Mae Friberg, Carol Mews, Nathalie Hogland and Dolores Kosbab.

Honorary members present were Mrs. Harold M. Tolo, Mrs. Leland M. Burroughs and Miss Glennon. Mrs. Mary Samter, adviser, was also present.

Pin-ups and Sex

An editorial in the Peptomist, official publication of Superior State Teachers college, concerning the poor attendance at assembly programs was purposely printed under the misleading headline of "Sex and Free Love" so people would read it!

This jocular attempt to elicit a response from readers was probably very successful. It smacks of one well known syndicate which uses screaming headlines like "War Declared" with a small "maybe" in fine print below.

It brings to mind the sad case of editorial writers whose only readers are the people who are well informed anyway. What Sherman said about war might hold true for the predicament that editorial writers are sometimes in. Perhaps, after all, the country does need something besides the nickel beer.

Reminiscent of the war-time urge to defigy the American girl through the medium of the pin-up picture is the report that several portraits of the candidates for Homecoming queen were removed from wall posters — no doubt to grace bachelor quarters in town.

After surveying some of the glamorous poses of the girls we feel that, at least from one "viewpoint," there was ample justification for pilfering the pictures. From another standpoint, mutilation of what is (or is meant to be) artistic is classified as vandalism.

It would seem that college students, especially those in a teachers college, could exhibit better taste in their ideas on what is acceptable and what is not.

Reiner Rodenhauer, a Former German Student, Now at CSTC

Instead of responding to a formal salutation, Reiner Rodenhauer, the German student from Munich now enrolled at CSTC, is warming to the greeting, "Hi ya, Reiner!" which he now receives from his classmates.

to three Americans with the military government. One of those three was Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, CSTC Training school supervisor, on leave in Germany as an education specialist. Her stories of our typically American college brought him here.

Likes Small Town Life

Reiner says he is more than glad that he came because he wanted a picture of American life in a small town, which corresponds to his own way of life in Germany. He is here on a government scholarship.

He likes the "personal atmosphere" and the social life in which the faculty takes such an active part. He chuckled long over Miss Roach's participation in the Homecoming parade and Mr. Steiner's pep talk at the assembly program.

Our Homecoming celebration particularly fascinated him. "Compared to German universities we have many traditions," he thinks Cheerleaders seemed to attract his attention, for they were something entirely new and they had lots of schwing! — (Pep and enthusiasm!) The "Rah-Rah" business was amazing he says.

Opinion on Football

Many students have asked him his opinion of football and whether or not he thought it was too rough. "Men are not made of chocolate," is his answer.

In so far as speech is concerned, he is not afraid of slang though his eyes opened wide when he was told that he would be "shot" for the Pointer. They opened even wider when he saw what he considered a very unflattering picture as the result of this "shooting."

However, Reiner Rodenhauer finds Stevens Point and CSTC a very nice way of living in an American way.

WSGA Holding Banquet

All college and faculty women are cordially invited to attend the banquet sponsored by the Women's Self Governing Association at 6 p.m. Wednesday, November 30, at the Presbyterian Church hall.

The guest speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Herbert V. Kohler, a very prominent citizen from Kohler, Wisconsin. She will speak on the famous women of Wisconsin. Tickets will be on sale for $1.25.

REINER RODENHAUER

The army transport on which he came to this country docked in N. Y. three weeks ago. A scant four days later he arrived in Stevens Point. He now stays at the home of a college instructor, Raymond E. Specht.

Reiner was in the German army from 1939 to 1945. During the summer of 1945 he was a prisoner of war in an American prison camp in Italy.

Attended University of Munich

After he was released he returned to his home in Bavaria where he worked for a short time as a carpenter and then enrolled at the University of Munich which was reopened the next summer.

His previous education consisted of three years of elementary schooling in Bavaria and eight years of secondary schooling, six in Bavaria, and two in Berlin. There he had a "solid" schedule of classes—straight through from 8 a.m. til 1 p.m. He studied a set curriculum where there was "no choice, you don't take it, you get it!" He studied Latin, French and three years of English which apparently gave him a good foundation in this language because he speaks English fluently.

Pointers Clinch Tie for Title By Defeating Whitewater 20-15

Hail the Champions! That's the good word about Central State campus this week as vacationing students and teachers returned to find their Pointers had clinched a tie for the Teachers conference football championship.

The Pointers did it in a blowout snowstorm "down under" at Whitewater last Wednesday by a score of 20-15, marking CSTC's first taste of championship since 1946 when they were the victors over an underdog River Falls team last Saturday. LaCrosse Teachers gained a share of the championship with CSTC. Each team ended conference play with five wins and one loss.

Jack Potter and Jimmy Koehn were outstanding in the Point victory at Whitewater, but as in earlier games, it was Central State's spirited team play which accounted for the hard-earned win. Witness Point's opening kick-off which Whitewater's Bailey took on a criss-cross and race 90 yards to a touchdown. Within seconds they had grabbed a 7-0 lead. Lesser teams might not have rebounded as CSTC did that first quarter — to score two touchdowns and take a 13-7 lead. But lesser teams don't win championships, either.

Potter Scores

Koehn, Potter, and Brandt carried for three successive first downs, with Potter bouncing over left tackle to cap a 42 yard drive for Point's first score. Kulick's successful kick brought a tie 7-7 score.

Then late in the initial quarter Jack Brandt scooted around left end from his own 44 to Whitewater's 39 yard line. Potter failed to gain on two ground tries and then faded back to throw a long pass which Koehn caught on the 15 and carried into the end zone. Kulick's kick was wide and Central State led 13-7.

From then until the third quarter the going was tough. Whitewater added two points when Brandt was trapped for a safety midway in the second quarter, and the half ended 13-9.

The second half was largely a defensive battle with Point's linemen staving off the ever-threatening enemy offensive. Neitzel, Fick, Lorenzen, Kowalsky, Dehlinger, Scheel, and Joswiak bore the brunt of the attack and their efforts were evident in the fact that Whitewater netted only 70 yards by rushing.

Jerry Lizon, Jack Leichtenberg, and Dave Bliese played alertly in the secondary and all but five of Whitewater's 20 passes fell harmlessly to the ground.

Potter Again

It was in the midst of these activities early in the third quarter that Point recovered a fumble on the Whitewater 34. From here Walt Samelstad employed the old "statue of liberty" to Jim Koehn, and the latter sped all the way to the one yard line. Potter plunged it over, and Kulick kicked the point to bring the score, 20-9.

Whitewater immediately began to throw passes but not until the waning moments of the game did they connect for a touchdown. Erickson threw from his own 26 to an end, Miller, who made a circus catch in the end zone. Seconds later the game ended, CSTC 20, Whitewater 15.

The victory was sweet, not only to the team, but to Coach Hale F. Quandt and his assistants Marv Hansman and Jerry LaFleur, who guided the Pointers so successfully all season.

Pointers Whip Oshkosh In Homecoming Contest

The CSTC Pointers made Homecoming week-end a complete success as they trounced cellar dwelling Oshkosh, 40-13 before a very large crowd at Goerke field on October 29.

The Pointers racked up three TD's in the first quarter and added two more in the second stanza to lead a 33-0 halftime lead. Coach Hale F. Quandt used all his reserves throughout the second half and only

La Fleur and Hansman Ass't Football Coaches

Two men have been working with the football team all year, yet many of the CSTCers don't know that they helped to mold the 1949 championship team. They are the assistants to Coach Hale F. Quandt, Jerry LaFleur and Marv Hansman. Both these men have played an important role in coaching the championship outfit of CSTC. LaFleur is a senior and Hansman, a special student at CSTC.

Jerry hails from Wabeno High school where he was quite an athlete. Prior to entering the service he played here at CSTC under Eddie Kotal. In 1946 he starred for the Pointers under George Berg as they tied with Milwaukee for the championship. With a lot of playing behind him, he is well versed in the finer points of the game.

Marv is a native of Stevens Point, winning a host of letters in all sports at P. J. Jacobs High school. He's a graduate of Ripon and has a physical education degree. He too is well versed in football techniques and is an able assistant to Coach Quandt.

Intra-Mural Basketball Program Well Underway

A large program of intra-mural basketball got underway this week with two leagues in operation. The Alphabet league, which plays Tuesday and Wednesday after school is functioning with eight teams, while the Independent league, which plays Monday and Thursday nights, has the record high total of 16 teams entered this year.

The schedule for the leagues for next week is:

Alphabet League

Tuesday, Nov. 15
4:00—ABC vs. STU
5:00—VWYZ vs. PQR

Wednesday, Nov. 16
4:00—DEF vs. MNO
5:00—GHI vs. JKL

Independent League

Monday, Nov. 14
6:00—P.U. vs. Wonders
7:00—Zippers vs. Tigers
8:00—Blackhawks vs. Stags
9:00—Cadavers vs. Ramblers

Thursday, Nov. 17
6:00—Chi Delts vs. Raiders
7:00—Ghosts vs. Pubs
8:00—Jays vs. Pirates
9:00—Kazoos vs. Northerners

then could Bob Kolf's Titans do any scoring.

The Purple and Gold line was superb as they opened wide holes on offense and couldn't be budged on defense. So great was the Pointer forward wall of defense that the Oshkosh ground attack was held to a minus five yards for the entire game.

Game Captain Jimmy Koehn and Ken Kulick each crossed the Titan goal twice. Kulick also accounted for four extra points to score a total of 16 points.

The Fifth QUARTER

Well sport fans, "We dood it!" The team that wasn't given much of a build-up by the other schools, is now the co-champion of the Teachers conference. Other schools didn't waste much time thinking about the Pointers, but we bet they're reconsidering now.

Congrats to Coach Quandt, his assistants, Jerry LaFleur and Marv Hansman, and the team for really bringing home the bacon to CSTC.

What a game it'd be if the co-champs of the league, LaCrosse and CSTC, were to meet. Both teams are powerhouses but our money would still ride on the Pointers. They're great.

Speaking of great teams, "Ivy" Williamson hasn't done bad down at Wisconsin, either. For a team that was picked for the cellar, they're doing all right. Don't count them out of the Rosebowl scramble yet. It would be nice to see the fighting Badgers out at Pasadena come New Year's Day.

There's a fellow around the college who's busy with athletics all the time, all day long. The man of course is George R. Berg, men's Physical Education director and director of intramural sports. There's always a sport going on for every man in the college and Mr. Berg handles all of it. Each year the program gets larger. If you don't think he's busy, take a look at the intra-mural bulletin board. It'll give you some idea of all he has to do. You sometimes wonder if he hasn't got an extra set of arms.

Stevens Point reaped a bountiful harvest in championships this year. The high school took the Valley conference honors and the Pointers the Teachers college crown. With basketball getting under way at both places, perhaps they can carry on in championship style. We hope so. There's always room for more trophies.

The Tune-In Ballroom took a two game lead in the college bowling league, after last week's play. The Brunswick and the Phi Sigs, now in a deadlock for second place, stayed within close striking distance of the top rung, however.

Knudtson's turned in the top team total of the week, cracking out a 2360 series. They were followed in order by the Tune-In, 2309 and Dutch's, 2292.

The Phi Sigs rolled the high single game, topping the maples at a 829 clip. One pin behind, with an 838 single, was Dutch's with Knudtson's taking third honors on an 812 game.

Marv Johnson bowled the high individual series of the evening with a 564 series. He was followed by Ralph Roberts, 552; Gil Chick, 540; Boneske, 538 and Frank Schmieder, 534.

Ralph Roberts cracked out the high single game, hitting 225. Marv Johnson bowled games of 212 and 205 and Gil Chick hit the other high game, rolling a 211 single.

Dine-A-Mite Inn Lawrence, Kan.

Meeting the gang to discuss a quiz—a date with the campus queen—or just killing time between classes—the Dine-A-Mite Inn at the University of Kansas at Lawrence, Kansas is one of the favorite places for a rendezvous. At the Dine-A-Mite Inn, as in all college off-campus haunts everywhere, a frosty bottle of Coca-Cola is always on hand for the pause that refreshes—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Breathe Easy, Boys It's Over for a Year

Dogpatch for a night — that was the Training school gym Wednesday, November 9, from 8 to 11 p.m. The costumed fellows and gals of CSTC were the residents of this mythical mountain town. The event was the Sadie Hawkins dance, sponsored by the YWCA. Admission was by marriage license or Shmoos and they were bought by the girls.

The chaperons for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Quincy Doudna and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Specht.

The music was quite different from the usual Dogpatch style. Instead of mountain ditties, the L'il Abners and Daisy Maes "et al" danced to popular records.

Otherwise it was just another backwoods "gat-togadder." There were shmoos and kigemies on the walls, cider and doughnuts to eat and a little corner devoted to Lower Slobovia.

The evening's entertainment was presented by five CSTC lovelies in a humorous skit as part of the floor-show directed by Angie Wittman. They were Joan Jewell, Mary Searles, Harriet Hennig, Betty Rae Warner and Ruth Finch.

Patty Harrison and Margie Finch were in charge of decorations and refreshments, respectively.

Radio Workshop

Anyone interested in music can spend a pleasant half-hour every Friday at 3:15 o'clock listening to the Radio Workshop broadcast over WLBL. The Music Album, which features classical and semi-classical music, under the direction of Daryl Fonstad and Burnett Burch, offers excellent entertainment. Featured this week is the music of the American composer, Deems Taylor. The program will be built around his suite, "Through the Looking Glass." The imaginative music is based on Lewis Carroll's immortal fairy tale, "Through the Looking Glass and What Alice Found There." Following programs such as this is an opportunity to enlarge one's cultural horizon.

The College Round Table offers an interesting discussion today. "What I Expect of a College Education" is the topic for this week's broadcast, which is under the direction of Frederick A. Krempel.

Fan mail — lot of it — is coming in for a program under the direction of Ed Pliska and Arlene Kromroy. The Book Corner, every Tuesday at 3:15, seems to have many listeners. The next book to be reviewed will be "The Lazy Beaver." Your younger friends would enjoy it — mention it to them.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

The 1949 Homecoming was celebrated by the Phi Sigs with the holding of "open house" to welcome back alumni. There was an air of happiness about the Phi Sig house that afternoon following the football game, as old friends met and reminisced about their past school days.

The Phi Sigs were very proud of their candidate, Marjorie Finch, who was chosen to reign as Homecoming Queen.

Now that Homecoming is but a memory the Phi Sigs have turned their thoughts to the matter of pledging. The new pledges are the following promising candidates: Don Jaeschke, Eugene Polzin, Don Rush, Tony Whelihan, Lee Miller, Bob Worth, Gilbert Chick, Frank Schmidler, Carl Brill and Bob Okray.

Gamma Delta

A roller skating party, arranged by George Negley, was thoroughly enjoyed by members of Gamma Delta at the armory on Thursday evening, October 27. Modern and old time juke box tunes were played for the skaters.

Erwin Yanke, club president, handled financial arrangements, while Doris Zimpelman took charge of the refreshments.

Initiation and installation of new members will take place in the church parlors this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Rural Life

Scavenger and peanut hunts were the highlights of the Rural Life Halloween party held at Bukolt park on Monday evening, October 31. The group also participated in games, relays and social dancing.

Dr. B. J. Przedpelski, assistant county agent, talked to the Rural Life club at the November 7 meeting. He compared the social life in Poland with that of the United States. He pointed out that there is a greater difference in comparing the social life than there is in contrasting educational systems.

Dr. Przedpelski gave the club an excellent background about Poland. He discussed Poland's governmental policies and also gave first hand information about the situation in Poland just before and during the second World War.

Tau Gamma Beta

The Tau Gamma Beta sorority alumnae-pledge dinner was held Saturday evening, October 29, at Jerry's All-American cafe.

Vari-colored gourds were assembled in pumpkin bowls and on greens to serve as center pieces.

Phyllis Kasper, sorority president, acted as mistress of ceremonies. Dorothy Thompson, a pledge, spoke, and Janice Sisley gave a short talk on behalf of the activities. Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, an alumna, reminisced about past happenings in the sorority.

Guests at the dinner were Mrs. Gilbert W. Faust, Mrs. C. R. Raze, Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, Miss Doris Ubbelohde, Mrs. Frank N. Spindler, Mrs. Pfiffner, and Mrs. William C. Hansen.

Nine girls were pledged to the sorority at a ceremony at Nelson Hall preceding the dinner. The girls are: Lila Elmer, Brooklyn (Wis.); Carol Emmerich, Hamburg; Mary Douville, Wausau; Marjorie Myers, Iola; Jean Yeager, Wittenberg; Norma Mayer, Junction City; Romana Byrne, Antigo; Jeanette Holm, Tigerton; and Dorothy Thompson, Curtis.

Pat Lasecke and Barbara Bea are the pledge chairmen.

Band Formations Are Result of Hard Work

Among the new events at the '49 Homecoming celebration was the formation marching of CSTC's band. Peter J. Michelsen and Walter R. Sylvester worked with Walter Peterson, band president, Harry Hemstock, James Whelihan, Jack Whitney and Fred Brewer, as a committee of band members, to help perfect the formations the band displayed at the half of the Homecoming game.

The marching program began as a maneuver of lead soldiers on a replica of the football field. As the program progressed, the band members were given numbers which were to be their stations in the formations. They practiced first without instruments. Then, after learning the footwork, the band carried their instruments and practiced keeping their movements to the music.

In the coach-pumpkin formation used at the game great care was given to practicing the "in and out" movements to allow for the least amount of motion possible. Each band member was furnished with a mimeographed copy of the formation on Saturday to enable him to check his place.

The band selection "After the Ball" was arranged by Jack Whitney.

Mr. Sylvester has expressed the desire to develop a more extensive program for a marching band during the coming year.

HOMECOMING

leaders led cheers and the pep band played. Miss Adeline Levin was speaker at the rally. Following the bonfire, an informal dance was held in the Training school gym.

Saturday brought the parade, the alumni luncheon, the big game and the Homecoming dance in the P. J. Jacobs High school gym with Jimmy James' orchestra.

The event-filled Homecoming weekend was concluded with a concert by the Men's Glee club, directed by Norman E. Knutzen, on Sunday afternoon.
