Who Wants To Be a Statistic?

In this modern world statistics can be quoted on such varied subjects as the number of smashes involving famous flush cars or the number of days on which the Washoe has wintered. Sometimes these figures are drawn from the history of the Washoe or the statistics covering the Washoe's relations to the Washoe Turtles' "vintage." A weekend never goes by but what an assortment of these cars are seen on the highways of Wisconsin. Our state is characterized by fickleness of weather. In fact, during the transition period between summer and winter the weather may be downright treacherous.

We all know who cars should get them properly winterized. Above all, we hope that all drivers exhibit common sense in the operation of vehicles in inclement weather. In this way we may avoid beetles, including ourselves, who are permanently disabled or have wooden overcoats.

A Thanksgiving Thought

Thanksgiving — a day devoted by the people of this state to the service of that great and glorious God, who is the origin of all the good that can be seen or imagined. Not an opportunity to take a vacation and stuff yourself with a meal at all the trimmings. A little thought — tracing such a day back to the day when the Pilgrims first saw the country, that might give us some idea of what Thanksgiving means in the spirit of this day.

It is gratifying to see that we all have united in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country.

"It is alleged a schoolboy in Kansas has invented a new wedding dress. The dress, which is said to be simple and one that any girl might wear, was adopted by the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, Rutger's University.

The dress is to be held at Nel sson Hall and will be for members of the fraternity and their invited guests.

A Purpose Behind Every Speech

Is May Roach's Main Mission

Since 1914 Miss May Roach has been an active member of the parent-teacher group. She feels that because she has an excellent education, the higher she learns, she offers a service and an example to others. That is the main reason why she travels to such places as Green Lake, La Crosse and Mosinee to speak before groups like Parent-Teacher organizations, school clubs, and school-board conventions. And she has no trouble at today finding an audience.

She is concerned with the many essential selfishness and hopes that education will make them more aware of the needs of others. "It is no fun, no one enjoys it, but you "spend time on the job that is needed to enable her to persuade her audience. Miss Roach has years of training in speaking and deliberating.

Two Rules

From Professor John F. Sinn, former president of Catholic University, Miss Roach learned two rules which she has obeyed during her career. Miss Roach will never appear before an audience without a written outline or a men oral division, Miss Roach has been going his practice teaching at the high school.

From Tigerton

Bernie is a native of Tigerton, Wisconsin, son, great-grandson of the Tigerton High School. He completed one year at CSTC before the family moved to Mosinee, where he attended high school for two years. After 18 months with Uncle Sam, Bernie came to CSTC to study engineering, and later to take the course in "knowledge" at the opening of the second period of the fall semester. The first year of the 1950 summer school session (if all goes well) Bernie will receive his degree in engineering, major in chemistry and minors in physics.

Future plans for Bernie are bound to include a certain Bev Jones, President of the U.S. Navy, who became Miss Roach on June 6, 1948. (They still make a very happy couple, how little they did to see each other, and how much they like "no gripping" his wife.)

FAMILIAR FACES OF CSTC

One of the famous Dale Carnegie books is entitled "Little Known Facts About Well Known People." Upon browsing through this book we found the following "Little Known Facts About a Well Known Person" in the division of education.

The story of the student-teacher relationship is an interesting one in itself. A student-teacher relationship is a relationship of two people who are permanently disabled or have wooden overcoats.
Northland to Try Merits of CSTC Cagers Monday Night

What kind of a basketball team will CSTC have this year? This question has been puzzling armchair sportswriters as they scan over the campus ever since Point wrapped up a share of the football championship 15 days ago. Who precisely will make up Coach Hol’s team? Coach Hale F. Quandt is natural to respond to this question. One thing is certain — there’s no lack of material so far as the incoming students are concerned. Quandt reported that over 40 candidates are expected to report for training school gym in preparation for the season’s opener against Northland college next Monday, November 21, at P. J. Jacob high school gym. Some of these, game-time, the squad of 40 will be pared down to 20 or possibly 15.

Five Lettermen Return
Although the team is yet strong when the final squad selections are made, there are five returning lettermen of the 40-team. They are forwards Chet Polka, Bill Wagener and Eugene Polan, center Gene Fredham, guard Jim Christenson. Absent from the roster because of graduation and transfer are Curry, Hallman, Flugga, Kalopolous and Ludwig. They were particularly the ones missed and will be no doubt be plaguing other college fives after he is eligible to play on the home squad at the beginning of the next semester early in February. Fortunately, Curry will join the Indians too late to play against Point on January 12 at La Crosse.

With only a nucleus of last year’s veterans on hand, then, the basketball outlook is a large measure upon last year’s “Collegiates” — the second team that is, and upon newcomers.

Hopefuls From “Collegiates”

For the Collegiate group Bruce Nienk, Dick Lorenzen, Doc Strackell, Bill Conrach and Walt Statel were the ones who carry the load together with Jack Dasbarner, all of whom will be in the All-Star team. The hopefuls plus the veterans form the so-called first team as indicated in the following positions.

Other candidates are English, Feigley, Lewis, Lodow, OKaryk, Boush, Partchak, Kieckboer, Douglas, Strand and Martin.

Open Against Northland Monday

This, then, is the outlook, as far as anyone cares to commit himself. CSTC’s basketers are yet to prove themselves, but they hope to begin doing that against Northland next Monday night in the first of a 22-game schedule.

The past has shown that basketball teams frequently win games in direct proportion to the number of their supporters. Therefore, they would do well to note that the forthcoming games are likely to be a matter of no small enough for them, on a Monday night.

Special Student Prices For High School Games

In the interests of CSTC students who are alumni of P. J. Jacobs High School and other students interested in high school athletics, the Pointer prints the following statement from R. A. Gerke, chairman of the high school athletic committee:

“College students may purchase regular student general admission tickets (price $2.50) to all high school home games upon showing their CSTC student activity card. However, since it is only fair that a student reserve section be open only to high school students wishing to reserve a seat will be required to pay the regular adult reserved seat price.

This is the policy which was followed during the past football season and which will be followed at basketball games and other events.

Incidentally, the first school basketball game is Friday night in the P. J. Jacobs gym where Point plays Madison High school.

The month will again produce another “November monster” as Wisconsin's mildminds to the woods Saturday in an attempt to reduce the deer herd to an optimum size. The antlerless deer season will last five days and will close November 23.

Intra-mural basketball got under way last week in two leagues. There are five teams in each league. The play is really hard and fast. If you don’t believe it, stop down in the gym some night and watch it. It’s really good.

See where the Wisconsin Teachers College is in exhibition games over the weekend. The game against Winona Normal 26-14; Milwaukee was blanked by St. Norberts, 28-0 and Spooner, 35-0; and against the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 26-14; last night, the locals lost. Defense was stout, who edged upper Iowa, 14-13. Looking over the basketball schedule set up for the Pointers this year, we were really surprised. That’s a schedule in any league. Twenty-two games and all of them against good teams. You’d better chalk off the dates of the home games and be sure to see them. You’ll really miss something if you don’t.
