"Years Ago" to be Presented Here May 3 and 4 by Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega's second production of the year, Ruth Gordon's "Years Ago," will be presented in the college auditorium at 8:15 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 3 and 4. The play is under the direction of Leland M. Burroughs, assisted by Jean Robertson and Barbara Bea, student coaches. James R. Hicks and Bernard F. Wivel are technical advisers.

The setting for "Years Ago" is a typical New England home in a by-gone era. Period costumes have been furnished by the Dave Miller company of Milwaukee. Antiques were borrowed from Mrs. George Warner's Antique Shop, Stevens Point.

The cast of "Years Ago" gave its first performance at an evening assembly program at the Antigo High school on Monday, April 24.

Donna Alderton, as Ruth Gordon Jones, is a young girl living with her retired sea-captain father, played by Melvin Berg, and her mother, Dolores Kosbab. Despite the protests of her parents, Ruth is determined to go on the stage. Her father wants her to be a physical culture instructor and brings into their home an athletic Miss Gavin, Shirley Jacobson.

After a long hard battle Ruth decides that she will — See the play yourself to find out what happens. It's a comedy hit from Broadway. Completing the cast are Dorthianne Rebella, Elmarie Sbertole, William Joanis, Richard Francis, Donald Douglas, and a cat who portrays Punk, a cat. This three-act comedy, according to critiques, should provide many entertaining moments.

The production crew's manager is Edward Furstenberg; stage manager, Maurice Mead; publicity, Phyllis Kasper, Janice Sisley; make-up, Phyllis Mykleby, Arlene Kromroy, Virginia Gmeiner; hair stylist, Virginia Trapino; properties, Jean Robertson; costumes, Donna Alderton; scenery, Donald Helgerson, Arlene Kromroy, William Joanis, Fred Wenzel; stage crew, Donald Helgerson, Fred Wenzel, Robert Flint, William Cable; art, Fred Brewer, Lorraine Laszewski.

Regents Acknowledge Work of Mrs. Jonas

A resolution was passed at the State Teachers College Board of Regents meeting last week expressing appreciation to Mrs. Frances Jonas for her long and faithful services as janitress at CSTC. Mrs. Jonas retired recently. She has been replaced by Mrs. Regina Przybylski.

Other Staff Members Announced

The "big-wheels" of next year's Iris staff have been named! In the head position will be George "Jim" Greathouse, editor-in-chief, Suzanne Swanke, associate editor, Alvin Long, business manager, Ruth Schein, advertising manager and Richard Francis, chief photographer.

The newly selected staff heads, have been notified of their appointments earlier than usual this year so they can more closely observe assembling and printing procedures.

Amazingly Efficient

Greathouse, the editor, comes from Port Washington. He has done reporting on the Pointer and has amazed the present yearbook staff with his efficiency in scheduling pictures for the Iris. Though he does not have definite plans in mind as yet, he states that he wants the 1951 Iris to be informal . . . "in order to catch the spirit of the school." "And," he states, "there will be openings for everyone who wants to work on the yearbook."

Associate editor Swanke has had a year of experience working as the head of the copy staff. She comes from Tigerton, and has already distinguished herself on the campus in the Girl's Glee club and Mixed Chorus.

Long Proves His Ability

Long, the man who will be the financial wizard, has proven his ability by conscientious work on the business staff this year. His home town is Eagle River.

The advertising manager, Ruth Schein, is a Stevens Point girl and comes from a long line of salesmen. Her pep and saletalk sold many of the ads for the present book.

A Natural Choice

Chief photographer Francis of Medford has grown with the Iris for three consecutive years. During this time he has done almost all the photography. In reality, it is the photographer's work that makes the book, and with his experience the student body can be assured of good pictures. He is also the Pointer photographer and is not pictured because, as usual, he was taking the picture.

Several students have already designated their interest in working on the 1951 book. Among them are Virginia Fischer, who will assist in the advertising department, Norma Mayer, who will be busy in the copy group, and Marilyn Gossage, who has become particularly interested in layout work.

The editors and managers are anxious to have present sophomores and freshmen contact the heads of the various Iris departments immediately for the privilege of working in the fields of their interest.

CSTC to Participate In Scholarship Contest

CSTC has been selected by the Board of Trustees of the Chicago College of Optometry to participate in a scholarship contest which will be open to students from 150 colleges and universities throughout the country. Each scholarship is valued at $1200 and will cover all fees, tuition and laboratory expenses incurred during the three years of professional study. For further information as to requirements, examinations, etc., inquire at the Pointer office.

Presses to Roll Soon

1950 Yearbook Nearing Completion

Soon the presses will roll turning out the 1950 Iris, for the bulk of the copy is at the printers and most of the cuts are back from the engravers. The general theme of this year's book is based on the idea that CSTC students are drawn from all over the state of Wisconsin. The cover based on this theme, was designed by Jim Goetz, a freshman of the Iris staff.

Something new has been added this year. The background color of the cover, which is dark green, will be evident throughout the entire book by using a new type ink, a double tone in a green-black shade. Copy writers under Virginia Gmeiner's direction, having turned in all their stories and are now finishing the identification and composing the captions.

Bill Worzalla reports he and his assistant, Pete Thomas, have not been behind in their duties either. The ad section of this year's book has brought in more money than ever before in Iris history. In addition to the financial improvement, the ad men are happy to announce that these ads will have more pictures and better slogans than in the past. Even this section carries out the theme of the yearbook, for business concerns from the surrounding towns have advertised this year.

At this rate of speed, Editor Harry Johnson expects to have the 1950 Iris ready for distribution at the end of next month.

Training School to Give "Tom Sawyer" Operetta

Members of the seventh and eighth grades at the Training school will present the operetta, "Tom Sawyer," an adaptation of Mark Twain's story by Theodosia Pymmer, on Thursday, May 11 at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium.

The three act performance is under the direction of Miss Helen Heel, music supervisor at the Training school. Student teachers, Grace Peterson, Beverly Barnes and Harry Hemstock are assisting with the production.

Teacher Colleges Faculties in Weekend Conference at Madison

The biennial conference of the Association of Wisconsin State Teachers Colleges will be held in the Loraine Hotel in Madison, Wisconsin, on Friday and Saturday morning of this week. School will be closed on Friday in order that faculty members can attend the meeting.

Governor Oscar Rennebohm is expected to attend the Friday morning opening session and to address the conference briefly. Nearly 500 members of the administrative and instructional staffs of Wisconsin's state teachers colleges are expected to attend the conference.

Conference Speakers

Dr. G. Lester Anderson, dean of teacher education, College of the City of New York, has been scheduled to address the conference at the opening session on the topic, "Facing the Future and Teacher Education." He will be followed by Dr. Maycie E. Southall, professor of elementary education, George Peabody college, Nashville, Tennessee, who will discuss "Practices of Promise in the Education of Elementary Teachers."

The afternoon session from 2 p.m. will be devoted to a series of 20 sectional meetings, round tables, and discussion groups concerned with specific problems of education in the teachers colleges.

Following the conference banquet at 6:30 Friday evening, R. L. Lewis, First Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction, will make an address on "What the Department of Public Instruction Expects of the Teachers Colleges."

Miss Roach to Talk

Other speakers at the banquet will include Eugene R. McPhee, see (see TEACHERS COLLEGES, page 4)

Fraternities Change Dinner-Dance Date

The date of the annual inter-fraternity dinners and dance has been changed from May 6 to May 5 as a result of the inability of the two organizations, Chi Delta Rho and Phi Sigma Epsilon, to secure either a favorable place for the dance or an orchestra for the former date.

Both social fraternities, however, have been proceeding with their plans for the annual boy-meets-girl event. The Chi Deltas, under the dance-chairmanship of Gary Nelson and George Mosey, have secured Cliff Hoene's orchestra for the dance and have reserved the Sunrise Cafe for their dinner. Co-chairmen Lee Miller and Harry Hemstock of Phi Sigma Epsilon have not located a definite dining place as yet. The dance will be held at the American Legion club.

Give "Words' Worth" Your Words Worth

Attention you literary geniuses and those of you who write passably, as well. Words' Worth, the literary publication of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, is in need of more material before going to press. Remember this year's issue is to be composed of humorous works, in addition to the usual serious writings.

If a contribution is considered exceptional by the fraternity's judges it may be sent to the national magazine, The Rectangle, official publication of Sigma Tau Delta. Last year two poems written by CSTC students were accepted and printed.

Contributions of both serious and humorous prose and poetry will be accepted until the deadline which is May 3. Place your contribution complete with your name in the box for the purpose in the Pointer office.

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $3.00 per year. Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

The Snow Should Have Stayed

"Spring has sprung; the grass is riz. I wonder where the flowers is?" runs a popular ditty. Although recent weather cannot be cited as proof, spring has actually arrived driving away the "snow that hides all scars."

Some of those scars are readily apparent at any one of the entrances to the main building, particularly the east entrance. The profusion of cigarette butts and assorted litter at the approaches to our college would goad an army first sergeant into wrathful action. Fortunately for the male components of our student body, we do not have top sergeants enforcing the rules.

The situation reminds us of the family living room on Sunday morning with the comic strips scattered hither and yon. No one notices the difference until visitors arrive, at which time the place is hurriedly made presentable. Inasmuch as such fast action is not possible here, we wonder what impression our littered landscape creates on visiting firemen.

We must appeal once more to the student body to refrain from flipping long butts away at the side of the steps thirty seconds before the last bell rings. In one sense we can look forward to coming "hard times" because then those butts will be smoked so short they will be inconspicuous.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

LSA

The Rev. Paul Bierstadt, regional secretary of the Lutheran Students Association of America, will speak to the LSA members today at 12 noon. Members are to watch the bulletin board for the meeting place. Rev. Bierstadt will speak on program-planning for the forthcoming year. All members are urged to attend regardless of the time that they may arrive.

At the next regular meeting, a report will be given on the Land O' Lakes Regional conference, which was held at Duluth, Minnesota.

On Sunday, April 25, the group's Deputation team visited Morris, Wisconsin, where it explained to some of the members of the congregation what it is doing on the campus. A fine program led by Norvin Holm was climaxed by a Norwegian benevolence, comparable to a smorgasbord. Last night the group traveled to Greenwood where it staged another program.

"S" Club

Plans were laid for the spring picnic to be held at Iverson Park on May 24 at the regular meeting of the S club in the Campus Cafe on April 19.

Committees selected were: Food and refreshments, Dick Berndt, Bob Dehlinger and Ellsworth Gauke; entertainment, Charles Hanke, Warner Christian, Dick Lorenzen; cleanup, Jerry Scheel, Dave Bliese, Roger English; firewood, Dave Specht, Dave Case and Jerry Lizon.

Several members volunteered to help work at track meets in response to Coach Frank W. Crow's appeal.

Radio Workshop

The Junior Radio Workshop presented their comedy, "Say It With Flowers," from the Workshop studios on Wednesday April 26. The 13 members of this group, under the direction of Daryl Fonstad, have been meeting every Tuesday for rehearsals. This semester they have concentrated on analyzing radio productions, and in producing a few varied scripts themselves. Their first show was a fantasy, the second one a comedy and their third will be a humorous mystery. Members do all phases of broadcasting — announcing, dramatics and sound effects, putting into actual practice techniques they have learned.

Can't Stop To Concentrate

Stephen Leacock is credited with this statement of profundity: "Every professor will tell them (the plain man) that the first-year students at college are simply hopeless and ought to have stayed at least a year, or call it two, at high school. The students in the second year ought never to have left the first; the third-year men haven't the proper grounding for their work; and the fourth-year are so rotten that they have to be given degrees to get rid of them. And as for the graduate school, the students in it should never have been admitted; they are not yet fit for advanced work." If we gave the above quotation a little thought, we might see that there is more truth to it than irony.

We know one thing — the description of the first-year student was in evidence the other evening at the assembly program. With all the cat-calling in supposed appreciation of the very enjoyable selections presented by Slocum and Charles, we are forced to contemplate the behavior of the student body — in case there were any second, third, or fourth-year representatives — in the event of a visit from the President and Mrs. Truman. Not that we are inferring Mrs. Truman isn't so-called whistle-bait — we will leave that for more qualified experts to determine. The point of this is summed up with (1) this isn't high school, and (2) the assembly committee does not follow the precedence of hiring burlesque entertainers. Just tuck this piece of advice into a fold of your garter or, as sure as we sit here writing this, you'll end up being social enemy, number one!

We've saved our society news so we could give it to you in one dose this week. So here it is.....

Don F. Schmeckle, son of Fred J. Schmeckle of the CSTC faculty, and Marion Miller, daughter of Joseph Miller, Stevens Point, who was a special student at CSTC, were married Saturday, April 8, at Crown Point, Indiana. Mrs. Schmeckle was graduated from P. J. Jacobs High school, the Out-of-Door school, Sarasota, Florida, and the Rollins college, Winter Park, Florida. Mr. Schmeckle, a graduate of P. J. Jacobs High school and the U. of Wisconsin, is employed as electrical engineer by the Whiting Plover Paper company.

Mary Jane Rankin and Art Crows, both former students of CSTC, were married in Milwaukee Saturday, April 8.

Lucille Dunn, of Oxford, a graduate of CSTC, became the bride of J. C. Morgan at a ceremony in Van Nuys, California, Saturday, April 1. They will make their home in Santa Paula, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis, both grads of Central State, became the parents of a son Saturday, April 22. Mr. Davis used to be with the Veterans Administration at the college and Mrs. Davis is the former Alice Klake.

school, university, and college social studies teachers. CSTC will be represented by Miss Gertie Hanson, Miss Frieda Schlueter, Frederick A. Krepmler, and Dr. Harold M. Tolo.

Devices for teaching current affairs, reading maps, and other timely topics will be discussed in the various meetings held during the day from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

This Wisconsin Council is affiliated with the National Council for Social studies, and many CSTC teachers are members of both groups.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Pointer Banquet committees Thursday, May 2, at 4 o'clock. Check list of committees posted in Pointer Office.

FAMILIAR FACES OF CSTC

Down in the basement of CSTC, across from the men's smoker, are the whitewashed rooms of the chemistry lab — a place where, 'tis said, some mighty amazin' and amozin' things happen. Helping the chemistry teachers clear up any confusion down there are the two lab assistants — Bernie Alberg and Bob Morgan. Well, Bernie's been interviewed, so now the assignment is to get Morgan's story.

Morgan is from Marathon, Wisconsin, ("Yes, it is a Greek derivative word. In fact, it's only 13 miles from Athens.") After graduation in June, he plans on working for a few months. He would like to find a position as a high school chemistry teacher some place in northern Wisconsin, where the hunting and fishing are good. He

"Some fuming sulfuric acid had spattered on her face. I grabbed her and shoved her head under the faucet, and washed the acid off. She was lucky she had glasses on or her eyes would have been burned. It was a real pleasure helping a nice girl like that."

Sigma Zeta Member

When he isn't busy dodging student experiments or pushing young women into sinks, Morgan spends much of his time with Sigma Zeta, national honorary science fraternity. He was elected vice-president last May and took over the presidency at mid-year when President Elroy Gotter graduated. Today he is going with other members to the Sigma Zeta convention in Alton, Illinois.

Morgan's duties in the lab stockroom sound very simple. He hands out equipment, answers odd questions that only freshman students can devise and is the crying wall for students whose fractioning columns have just collapsed or those who made a mistake in analysis. This last job requires some explanation. Morgan gives out the salts and alloys to the qualitative analysis students and then checks their findings with the stockroom sample.

Custodian of Alcohol

He is also custodian of the lab's supply of ethyl alcohol.

In a confidential tone Bob told the reviewer, "Maybe it's my imagination, but there was more alcohol used when the bottles were on the shelves instead of the stockroom. I think we'll start asking for draft cards before we give it out."

Those future high school chem students of his in northern Wisconsin will be quite lucky, because he is so helpful. People around here won't forget the many times he's pushed rubber out of the cork borers for a person, or bravely tried to push a 7mm. tube in a 3mm hole with the aid of glycerine or strong language, or held with nary a murmur the white-hot breakers some jokers have handed him. Most amazing is the fact that he is still clear-eyed, sane and seemingly happy.

His experience in the stockroom has given him a facility in handling the chemicals and formulae that both frightens and is the envy of beginners.

"Yes," he declares with confidence, assuming a philosophical pose, "I've learned a lot about chemistry behind this counter, but even more, and this is the best part — about students."

is on the senior honor roll. "I'm a Chi Delt," he explained gravely, "and all Chi Delt's are on the honor roll!"

Morgan's experiences as a lab assistant have taken some fascinating turns.

Came the "Bang"

Bob related, "I think the best boner anyone ever pulled here was the case of a fellow who put some nitro-benzene, HCl, and tin in a round-bottom flask and plugged it tight. Then he went out for a coke. Well, I was just sitting there while behind me the hydrogen in the flask was building up. I got up and turned around and heard this 'boom.' The thing had hit the ceiling. Some of it hit Bernie in the face; the rest landed on the stool I'd just left."

Incidentally this student is still around but he is not majoring in chemistry. Morgan also likes to recall the time he went to the rescue of Joann Kenney.

Six Outstanding Assemblies Scheduled for Summer Session

Students attending the summer session at CSTC will have the opportunity to enjoy six outstanding assembly programs it was announced by Dr. Arthur S. Lyness, chairman of the Assembly committee.

During the week of June 19th a play, yet to be contracted for, will be presented.

The week of June 26th brings to CSTC Jerold Frederic, an outstanding pianist of the younger generation. He brings his own Steinway piano with him and uses it for all of his concerts. He carries this piano on a specially constructed trailer.

Walt Goodie Family

The Walt Goodie family, a group of colored musicians from Watertown, Wisconsin, will perform during the week of July 3rd. They will present a fantasia of strings and vocal presentations. There are seven members in the Goodie family, and each is an outstanding artist.

Katherine Flowers will bring eight dancers to present the entertainment for the week of July 10th. Interpretive dancing will be stressed throughout their program.

Radio And Television Stars

A male quartet, the Cavallaires, will be on hand the week of July 17 with a program of favorite musical numbers. The quartet is heard on the radio each week and is also viewed on television. Each summer they make a limited tour. The quartet is made up of Chicagoans.

The sixth and final concert held the week of July 24th will feature the New York Woodwind Quintet. Five young performers who present individual as well as ensemble selections comprise the quintet. This program will conclude the assembly series at CSTC during the summer session, 1950.

Mrs. Samter Plans For Maine Summer

Mrs. Mary Samter, first grade supervisor at the Training school, will act as a reading consultant in an elementary workshop at the University of Maine during the summer session. In addition to her work as reading consultant, Mrs. Samter will give one or two lectures during the six weeks summer session beginning on July 3 and ending August 11. She also hopes to have the opportunity to take some courses at the University while she is there.

Men's Glee Club's Three-Day Concert Tour Enjoyed by All

The Men's Glee club, under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen began its recent three day concert tour with an appearance at the Clintonville High school on Wednesday afternoon, April 12. That evening a concert sponsored by the Women's Club was given at Bonduel.

After remaining overnight in Marinette, the group proceeded to Escanaba, Michigan where they sang at the Senior High school at a morning assembly. They were entertained at lunch by the home economics department, after which they sang at the Junior high school. The group enjoyed an excellent dinner at the House of Ludington where they gave an impromptu concert.

Stay in Escanaba

The group stayed in Escanaba and sang before the high school students at Menominee, Michigan, the following morning. Friday afternoon the club ended its tour by singing at Marinette High school.

Soloists were Paul Zei, tenor, Norvin Holm, baritone, and Carl Torkelson, bass. Accompanists were Frank Wesley and Robert Karstner, who also played several numbers.

The audiences of this tour totaled over 3500 people. Mr. Knutzen stated that from the standpoint of audience reception this was the finest concert trip the club has ever taken. Thirty members made the trip.

Further concerts have been given since this weekend trip. On Wednesday, April 19, the Glee club gave a concert at Port Edwards sponsored by the Holy Name Society. The final home concert is scheduled to be presented May 8 before the State Federation of Music clubs in the college auditorium. Another concert will be sung in Mosinee on Wednesday, May 3.

U. of W.'s Science Hall Scene of Social Studies Council's Annual Meet

The Wisconsin Council for Social Studies is holding its annual meeting at Science Hall at the University of Wisconsin, Saturday, April 29. The theme of the conference is "Teaching Current Affairs." The highlights of the day's program is a talk on "Current Trends in Foreign Policy" by an eminent historian, at the luncheon which will be held in the Memorial Union.

This statewide conference will be attended by approximately 150 high

Pointer Trackmen Break Two Records — Titans Win, 77-54

Records were broken in three events during Saturday's track meet and although the Pointers were responsible for two of the feats they lost to the visiting Oshkosh Titans by a 77-54 count. Inability to score points in the running events cost the Pointers many valuable points.

Coach Bob Kolf's boys accounted for ten firsts to the five firsts taken by Coach Frank W. Crow's Pointers.

In the record department, Al Dippel of CSTC clipped 2 seconds off the old mark when he stepped the 120 yard high hurdles in 16.8. Harold Pinther then wound up and tossed the discus 131 feet and 7 inches for another new mark. Doug Ritchie's fling of 170 feet and 1 inch with the javelin also established a new record.

Oshkosh's two Z's — Zarnott and Zoch combined to give the Titans four firsts. Zarnott won the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash and served as relay anchor man. Zoch won the 440-yard dash and the shot.

For the Pointers, Bob Gilbert turned in a fine job while winning the two mile marathon. A grand slam in the pole vault also gave the Pointers an added boost. The versatile Harold Pinther scored the most Pointer points with a first and three thirds.

CSTC Tennis Squad Loses First Match to Oshkosh

The doubles combination of Bob Johnson and Dave Case saved the Pointers from being shut out Saturday morning as the Oshkosh netmen scored a 8-1 win. It was the first match for both tennis squads.

In the singles Bill Bart lost to Tebo by a 1-6; 6-3; 1-6 count, Ery Korth was defeated by Messerschmidt, 1-6; 0-6 and Jim Christenson lost to Dahl, 0-6; 1-6. Dave Case was dumped by Keith, 4-6; 1-6. Bob Johnson lost to Bartman by a 3-6; 0-6 tune, and in a long winded affair, Jim Benson lost to Rather, 3-6; 6-2; 6-8.

In the doubles for the Pointers Jim Christenson teamed with Ery Korth but lost to Keith and Messerschmidt, 0-6; 4-6. Then the lone victory for the Pointers came with the combination of Bob Johnson and Dave Case beating the Titans Tebo and Dahl by a 7-9; 7-5; 7-5 count. In the last double event Parr Eyes and Kelly Douglas lost to Oshkosh's Rather and Bartman, 4-6; 1-6.

BR-R-R — Because of the annoying uncooperativeness of Old Man Weather, the tennis men have been forced to practice in slightly cumbersome sweat suits. However, this handicap doesn't seem to cramp the style of Jim Christenson and Bill Bart.

CSTC Track Team Leaves Today For Eau Claire Triangular Meet

The Fifth Quarter

A look at our sister institutions reveals a variety of sports being offered. Baseball is on top for La Crosse, Eau Claire, Platteville, River Falls and Stout.

Over at La Crosse 18 lettermen are working out for the track squad. Incidentally, La Crosse won its first track meet last Saturday defeating Luther College and Winona Teachers.

At Whitewater, Dick Bailey, described as a one man track team, heads the Quaker runners. Dick's specialty is the pole vault in which he is expected to do 13 feet. He also covers the hundred in 10.2 and participates in the broad jump.

Did you see that big boy, Zock from Oshkosh, run that 440? Man, he must have had a shot of adrenalin to go like that.

If you think the New Yorker Magazine is devoted entirely to the higher pursuits of literature you should take a glance at the weekly appearing article entitled "The Racing Track". Why the titles that appear in these articles threaten to run the Green sheet, official racing paper containing all the tips, right off the newstands. If you want to get the dope on the approaching Kentucky Derby take a look at the New Yorker — you might even impress your friends with your choice of reading matter.

A look in the future — The Milwaukee Gulls will lose 17 lettermen for their football squad via the graduation route.

In comparing last year's meet with the times registered during Saturday's meet we find that the time this year for the hundred yard dash was 10.2 as compared with 11.15 last year. Last year the two mile took 11.30.5 but this year it only took 11.24.4. However last year the height for the pole vault was 10 feet 9 inches and this year only 10 feet were attained.

The track team embarked for Eau Claire this morning for their second test of the young season. Not contented with only one foe, Coach Crow's proteges take on two opponents in the form of the Eau Claire Blugolds and the River Falls Falcons.

Last year the Purple and Gold came out on top of the threefold heap with 74½ points to River Falls, 52. Eau Claire managed to win 35½ points, Stars for the Falcons in that meet were two distance runners, Van Tahenhoue and Veith. Chief point maker for the Blugolds was Zeig, who runs the 100 and the 220. Coach Crow expects added difficulties from these gentlemen during the course of events this afternoon.

Weak In Running Events
The meet on Saturday proved that the Pointers will have to sharpen up in the running events. Coach Crow was pleased with Al Dippel's showing in the hurdles and also Tom Albers, who despite misjudging his pace at the outset, finished strong. Harold Pinther, Bob Kowalsky and Dick Lorenzen showed plenty of oomph in heaving the javelin and discus and Bob Gilbert ran like Man O' War to win the two mile.

The CSTC thinclads will hardly have a chance to catch their breath from Thursday's hostilities when they entertain the St. Norbert Knights here on Tuesday. Post time is 2:30 p.m.

The Knights will come to town with practically the same squad they had last year. Such speedsters as Holton, Herbert, Ritchey and Smithwick will be featured.

Day Room College of the Holy Cross (Worcester)

THE TOMAHAWK

In Worcester, Massachusetts, one of the favorite spots of students at the College of the Holy Cross is the Day Room on the campus. They like the Day Room because it's a cheerful place — full of friendly collegiate atmosphere. And when the gang gathers around, ice-cold Coca-Cola gets the call. For here, as in college haunts everywhere — Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Training School Third Graders Visit Museum

Training school third graders boarded the college bus to travel to Oshkosh to see the Oshkosh Museum on Friday, April 21. They were accompanied by Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, supervisor at the Training school, and nine student teachers. Six fifth graders who were chosen by their class to go as representatives also made the trip.

Although the primary purpose of the excursion was to see the Indian exhibit and the pioneer room, both of which are related to what the third graders have been studying, the group saw many exhibits which they adjudged to be very interesting.

One of these exhibits which intrigued the third graders was the toy room. But the one they voted most interesting was a huge hand-made clock which tells time not only in minutes and hours, but in days and years. A pioneer log cabin was voted the next most interesting exhibit.

Miss Van Arsdale, under whose direction the trip was made, reported that it was a great success.

CAN'T STOP

Kolstad, nee Jackie Stauber, was the editor of the Pointer during her career at CSTC. Her husband is the coach at Mondovi. They have one other child, a girl, Collette.

President Hansen is a grandpa again! And this is really an occasion! His daughter Kay Hansen Dean became the mother of a boy last Friday night, April 21. The reason for the rejoicing — President Hansen is the father of four girls and Mrs. Dean's first child was also a girl.

Grace Pehoski, of the college office staff, became engaged to Floy Wojcicki, of Stevens Point, over the Easter holidays.

Jan Sisley, Pointer news editor, is wearing the fraternity pin of George Whitney, a former editor of the Pointer, now teaching in Clintonville.

Alice Higgins, a graduate of Central State, who has taught in Algoma for 25 years, was honored as Algoma's "first citizen" in a celebration held recently. Her former pupils gave her $700. The school board gave her a $100 bonus and her present pupils gave her another $100. Miss Higgins was quite thrilled with the honor, according to the newspaper story. (Something for beginning teachers to anticipate in their future years!)

A science teacher generally teaches science, a math instructor generally instructs math, but here is what an English teacher is supposed to do. An English teacher teaches reading, writing, listening, speaking, citizenship, mental health, five other Cardinal principles, movie appreciation, radio appreciation, acting, ideals, justice, tolerance, democracy, and two subjects besides English.

We wish it would get warmer too, so we could drag out the time-worn remarks about the campus lolling. Even the squirrels are chattering their complaints from the tree limbs. They don't care for wet feet either.

Dr. Wievel Attending Trees for Tomorrow Camp

Dr. Bernard F. Wievel will spend today, Friday and Saturday of this week in Eagle River at the Trees for Tomorrow Camp as a consultant conservation educator. This camp gives high school students a chance to find out about actual practices of conservation.

The entire 2 1/2 day session is based on field trips. The attending high school students are briefed in the morning on what to expect to find on the field trips and are given an opportunity to discuss what they have observed after the trips have been completed. This discussion is followed by a short quiz.

Most of the high school students attend the Trees for Tomorrow Camp on the basis of scholarships granted by organizations in their localities interested in conservation.

The session for April 27 to 29 will be attended by high school students from Rothschild, Menomonee Falls and Wittenberg.

Slocum and Charles Present Fine Program

Mildred Slocum, soprano, and William Charles, bass-baritone, presented a delightful program Thursday evening, April 20 in the CSTC auditorium. Much has been said of their vocal talent and the audience indicated by their applause that all praise was justified.

The program itself was varied and interesting. Novelty-tunes as well as old favorites and classical numbers were presented. Miss Slocum's solo "Ohie Meneche" by Giannini and "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," Mac Ginsey, by Mr. Charles were judged the outstanding solos by audience applause.

Duet numbers especially well received were "Indian Love Call" from "Rose Marie" by Herbert, and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" from "Naughty Marietta" by Herbert.

The two performers were brought back for bows between groups of songs and as an encore Miss Slocum and Mr. Charles sang a novelty number entitled "The Singing Lesson."
