Alpha Psi Omega Will Present One-Act Plays January 10 and 11

CSTC faculty, students and friends will be treated to some fine stage plays by Alpha Psi Omega immediately after the Christmas season. On successive evenings, January 10 and 11, three one-act plays, "Suppressed Desires," "The Valiant," and "Curse You, Jack Dalton!" will be staged.

The directors, Jean Robertson, Ralph Roberts, and Donna Alderton, as well as the actors, are Central State students. The three plays are in the process of being reviewed this week by Leiland M. Burroughs, Robert S. Lewis and Miss Pauline Isaacson. The casts of these plays will be ready to go after New Year, for the technical rehearsals will be held before Christmas.

"Suppressed Desires" is a light comedy. "The Valiant," a play on the more serious side, is an old, well-known play which takes place in a prison. An old-fashioned melodrama,

"Curse You, Jack Dalton!" is in the humorous vein.

Alderton Directs
Donna Alderton directs "Suppressed Desires," Ralph Roberts, "The Valiant," and Jean Robertson, "Curse You, Jack Dalton!"

In "Suppressed Desires" the cast is as follows: Henrietta, Virginia Gmeiner; Steve, her husband, Harold Miller; Mable, his young sister, Sally Scribner.

The cast of "The Valiant" includes Warden Holt, Ralph Storm; Father Daley, Dick Francis; James Dyke, Jack Popeck; Josephine Paris, Dorotheanne Rebella; Dan, Bart McNamara; and an attendant, Gordon Bilgake.

"Curse You, Jack Dalton!"
The cast of "Curse You, Jack Dalton!" consists of Mrs. Donna Dalton, Lillian Lovedahl; Eloise Dalton, Eleanor Curtis; Jack Dalton, Willis Zick; Anna Alvarado, Joanne Wy-

The production manager is Donna Alderton and the stage manager is Don Helgerson. Louie Jacoboski and Jim Mulady are responsible for publicity. The make-up committee consists of Barbara Bea, Yvonne Melzer, Jackie Piehl, Betty Crook, Shirley Jacobson, Suzanne Swanke and Beverly Tibbetts.

In charge of properties are Joann Buhrdorf, Amy Kampenga, Frances Gerber, Joyce Moll, Ethel Farris, Donna Knoll and Florence Payne. Joan Fehrenbach and Mary Seales are doing the costuming work.

College Christmas Season Will Be Climaxed by Annual Concert

First Performance Sunday Night

The climax of the college Christmas season will be reached Sunday and Monday evenings, December 17 and 18. Peter J. Michelsen, director of the music department, has announced the program for the traditional Yuletide concert which will be held in the college auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

A new stage background has been designed by five students of an advanced art class, Eleanor Curtis, Dona Dahm, Bernice Delhinger, Dolores Newhall and Gerald Rued, under the direction of Miss Edna Carlsten, head of the art department.

Evaluating Committee To Visit Central State

In connection with its application for membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Central State Teachers college will be visited by an evaluating committee on January 4 and 5. The North Central, as it is more commonly called, is an accrediting agency for this part of the country.

An assembly will be held on Friday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of acquainting the students with what membership in such an association means and how it is obtained. President Hansen asks that every student, faculty member and employee be present at the assembly.

This evaluation, which is an important part of admission procedure, will be conducted by President John Emens of Ball State Teachers college, Muncie, Indiana and Dean M. J. Nelson, Dean of Instruction at Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Sorority Dinners, Dance Planned for January 20

Coming on the night of January 20 is the annual Inter-Sorority Dinner-Dance, the dance to be held at the American Legion Hall from 9 to 12 o'clock.

The music for the dance will be provided by the orchestra of Larry Woodbury and the theme for the occasion is based on the newly revived popular hit, "Harbor Lights."

The dance is open to everyone, and it is the one formal of the year to which it is customary for the girls to ask the fellows.

Preceding the dance, the three sororities, Tau Gamma Beta, Omega Mu Chi and Psi Beta Psi, will hold their formal dinners, to which the girls' dates for the dance are also invited. The dinners are open to all sorority girls and guests. The Tau Gams are having their dinner at the Cartwright hotel, the Omegas at the Sunrise and the Psi Betas at Jerry's.

The general co-chairmen for the affair are Barbara Lewis, Beverly Tibbetts and Elmarie Sbertole. Co-chairmen of other committees include Bonnie Dehlinger, Gretchen Holstein and Helen Reinecke, decorations; Mary Lund, Joan Fehrenbach and Florence Zanella, orchestra; Muriel Held, Joanne Schwartz and Beverly Barnes, publicity; programs and tickets, Nancy Sannes, Jeann Perry and Irene Morris; and Nancie Goebel and Elaine Ruffing, clean-up.

Faculty social committee. Miss Pauline Isaacson and Frederick A. Kremple, with the help of Mary Douville and Jim Hyer, are making the arrangements.

So it's 7:15 o'clock Friday evening at the Training school for everybody who wants the real Christmas spirit.

The scene depicts the silhouettes of the Madonna and child, and two angels, all constructed of white plastic foam. They will be shaded by overhead lighting. Centered in the blue background is a giant silver star and from it are colors blending toward the wings, changing with each fold of the curtain. The skilled handling of the lighting effects will be under the direction of James R. Hicks and his stage crew.

Orchestra Stars
To begin the concert the college Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Michelsen, will play "A Merry Christmas" by Carl Frangkiser. The professional, "O Come All Ye Faithful," Johan Reading, will bring in the 100 men and women of the mixed chorus and Girls' Glee club, who will march in by simulated candle light.

The Girls' Glee club and the orchestra will combine in "Lo, a Voice to Heaven Sounding," Dimitri Bortniansky, "The Birthday of a King," William H. Neidinger, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," Johann E. Bach, and "Holy Art Thou," George F. Handel. Joan Fehrenbach will be soloist for the last number and Marilyn Schilling will be the Glee Club's accompanist.

Following the Girls' Glee club, the orchestra will present "L'Arlesienne Suite, No. 1," George Bizet, with the movements "Prelude," "Minuetto," "Adagietto," and "Carillon."

Nativity Tableau
The traditional nativity tableau under the supervision of Miss Mary Roach will be portrayed as the second part of the program by college students. (See CONCERT, page 6)

Training School Pupils To Present Yule Concert

A Christmas concert will be presented in the college auditorium on Monday, December 18, at 2 p.m. by Training school students from kindergarten through the eighth grade.

The program, under the direction of Miss Helen Heel, will include various selections by the Training school orchestra, numbers by the entire chorus and selected vocal solos. The outstanding members of the chorus will also appear in the CSTC Christmas concert.

All college students as well as parents and friends of the Training school students are cordially invited to attend.

Afternoon Classes Will Be Moved Up Wednesday

The college administration is planning to shorten the noon hour and move up the afternoon classes one hour on next Wednesday, December 20, the last day of school in 1950.

The schedule to be followed is:
Noon Hour from 11:50 to 12:20
1:15 classes at 12:20
2:10 classes at 1:15
3:05 classes at 2:10
4:00 classes at 3:05

Any students who work during the noon hour and must make special arrangements should see the Deans before Wednesday.

A WINTER WONDERLAND is portrayed here in this scene of the college taken from the front campus immediately after the "great blizzard" of last week. It was necessary to send out a St. Bernard to rescue the courageous Pointer photographer who braved the elements for the sake of his art.

Get Your WAA Christmas Cheer in Lounge Today

The traditional Christmas cheer presented by the WAA will be given today from 3 to 5 o'clock in the student lounge.

Everyone is invited to stop in, relax, and enjoy the musical entertainment, decorations and refreshments of hot cider and cookies.

So if you're in a dither over last minute assignments, come in and stay as long as you want to. Don't forget! Today!

Dolores Jones, president of WAA will be the receptionist. Marcella Schantz and Donna Morgan are general chairmen for the occasion. Their committee chairmen are: Food, Helen Nulby; decorations, Virginia Trapiro; invitations, Rae Sturzl; head hostess, Norma Herrington.

WSGA Christmas Present

To all college women - a 12 o'clock night on Tuesday, December 19.

Nelson Hall Holding Annual Dinner Dec. 18

The Nelson Hall dining room will be the scene of the annual formal Christmas dinner on December 18. Co-chairmen planning the dinner are Lila Elmer and Donna Morgan. Doris Schultz is in charge of decorations and Ethel Farris and Marjorie Benson are responsible for furnishing entertainment. Jeanette Holm is chairman of the invitation committee.

After the dinner, the girls will go to the auditorium to attend the Christmas Concert.

Invited guests at the banquet include: President and Mrs. William C. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Michelsen, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, Miss Edna Carlsten, Miss May Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mott, Miss Carolyn Roloff, Miss Marie Swallow, Miss Monica Bainter, Miss Alice Hansen, Miss Bertha Glennon, Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Raddant, Mr. and Mrs. Burdette W. Eagon, Miss Mildred Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pieper and Mr. and Mrs. David Heenan.

"Operation Weekend" to Sponsor Caroling Party

"More fun!" "Great time!" "Big crowd!" "Lots to eat!" Did you, too, hear these comments following the big "Operation Weekend" activities? Well that's not all, for there's a big Christmas caroling party sponsored by the Student - Faculty Social committee coming up Friday night. All you gals and guys are asked to show up at the Training school at 7:15 o'clock and join the college in wishing Stevens Point a Merry Christmas.

The carolers, led by the Interfaith Council, will split up into groups that will sing carols within a nine block radius of the college. Following the singing, the groups will return to the Training school where there will be dancing and refreshments. The Newman club has taken charge of the refreshments which will consist of hot chocolate and cookies.

The funds for the entire occasion are being provided by the Student-

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $3.00 per year. Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

The Sweet and Sour

ORCHIDS—
The student council, promoter of Operation Weekend, is to be congratulated for a job well begun. The initiation of their new program, designed to keep CSTC students on the campus during the weekend, was very successful from all indications. We strongly recommend support of this program which we understand to be not one of coercion but one of providing recreation and entertainment for those students who do stay in town over the weekend. We feel that an operation of this type, if ably managed, will do much to reduce the number of students who go home because there is nothing to do in Stevens Point on weekends.

ONIONS—
In a news story in the last issue of the POINTER we described arrangements for Stevens Point's pre-Christmas celebration and parade which was held last Saturday. If, through this article, we influenced any CSTC student to go out of his way to see this parade we wish to apologize.

We have heard the following suggestion frequently since last Saturday: If there is to be a pre-Christmas parade next year why not let the college and high school students put it on? It probably wouldn't cost the city as much and it would be a lot better than the 1950 one.

AN ANSWER—

In answer to the author of the letter to the editor which appears on page 2 of this issue we would like to point out that:

1. We imagine that a student funds endowment for the POINTER was originally suggested by faculty members. We don't think they did it unwittingly.
2. The POINTER has been published since only 1895. According to historians the stone age was centered around 8000 B. C.
3. "Why worry?" the author says. We wish he had half our worries.
4. In answer to that "self-answerable" question — the POINTER could be a financial success if the money collected on subscriptions and advertisements were used to pay salaries to the staff members and to hire other people with newspaper and writing ability. At present the chief salary of the POINTER staff members, who sometimes work as many as 15 hours a week, consists of uncomplimentary remarks, seldom made to our face. Occasionally we receive a compliment.

IN CONCLUSION—

This is the last issue of the POINTER for the year '50. We would like to take this opportunity to wish the students and faculty of CSTC a Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Young Republicans

The Young Republicans' last meeting was characterized by heated discussion and lively, sensible controversy. With Bert Davies and Ferd Hirzy voting yes, the group defeated a motion to support a program on the principle of FEPC by 16-2. A similar proposal commending Walter Kohler's stand for fair employment on a state level, proposed by Joe Stadler, was passed by a vote of 12-6. Tentative topics for the next meeting will be "Should 18 year olds vote?" "Legalized Gambling," and Destruction of Democrats."

Social Studies Club

Last Tuesday, December 7, the Social Studies club heard an informal talk on the "Conditions for a Just War" by Father Edward Lewis. The talk principally revolved around just what type of war and warfare could be sanctioned morally by the churches.

There will be a business meeting at 4 o'clock on Thursday, December 14, in the Rural assembly for the express purpose of reorganizing the constitution of the Social Studies club. Committees will be appointed. All social studies majors and minors are invited to attend.

Wesley Foundation

Tonight, Wesley Foundation will present the play, "The Other Wise Man" at 7:30 o'clock in the St. Paul's Methodist church. After the pantomime there will be a candlelight ceremony. The public is invited.

Omega Mu Chi

Omega Mu Chi sorority held its regular meeting on December 5 at the home of Mrs. Harold M. Tolo, Park Ridge with Mrs. Albert Harris as assistant hostess. Both women are honorary members of the sorority. After the business meeting the group sang Christmas carols and a lunch of plum-pudding and hot spiced grape was served by the hostesses. The singing of the sorority songs ended the evening. Esther Murat Berndt, an alumna now teaching at Laona, attended the meeting.

The Omega Mu Chi knitting bazaar was held Wednesday, December 13. Articles for sale consisted of knitted socks, mittens, baby sweaters and gloves, hand painted ties, stuffed animals, aprons and candy.

Alpha Kappa Rho

Members and guests of Alpha Kappa Rho were entertained on Monday evening, December 11, by Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Michelsen at their home. The dinner table had as a center piece a large red candle surrounded by greens.

After dinner the members and guests gathered around the Christmas tree in the living room and sang carols.

Guests were President and Mrs. William C. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bukolt, Miss Helen Heel, Gilbert W. Faust, Mrs. Carman Lane and Gundaris Pone.

Vice-President of WVIC Will Speak on January 4

"Merv" Kyler, vice-president and general manager of the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Social Studies club on Thursday, January 4. The WVIC is a private organization controlling and regulating the waters of the Wisconsin valley reservoir system for the paper mills and power plants situated on the stream.

Mr. Kyler, in his position, is known as the boss of the "nation's hardest working river." He will speak on "The Development of the Wisconsin Valley Reservoir System." Everyone is invited to attend.

SLY ★ LINES

Christmas and snow—what a wonderful combination, but it is hard to try to inject any humor into the situation. Even if the other two wise men were here, I don't see how it could be done—it's snow us.

Yes, winter has arrived. How can you tell? It's easy — the annual snow slides off of the roof, there is the mad dash through the entrance to escape the drips (careful, don't take this the wrong way), and finally the clump, scrape, drag of stadium boots and the wet bleachers at the basketball games.

Sure hope the snow keeps up — yes, keeps up — then it won't come down!

Don't get discouraged — it is all in the way you look at things, as the following story shows.

English Instructor trying to inspire pupils: What do you think of when you see snow?

First Student: I think of the wonders of nature and the beauty that snow brings into the world.

Geography Major: I think of the warm front, the cold front and rising air.

Realist: I think of all the hard work that goes into shoveling walks etc.

Veteran: I think of girls.

E. I.: Why?

Veteran: I always think of girls!

The snow keeps coming and blowing around and soon it will be vacation time. Hope all the dears have a good Christmas and that good boys all get a couple of well-filled stockings.

Christmas cards will soon fill the mail and Christmas spirits the male. (or—the male will soon be full of Christmas spirits.) Happy New Year!

FAMILIAR FACES

Rudolph Horn's oft-seen, good natured face and auburn hair will not be in view during the second semester for his many CSTC friends. For soft-spoken Rudy, a senior in the Secondary division, will graduate this February.

Rudy, besides fulfilling the duties of a "daddy," is active in various school activities and practice teaches at P. J. Jacobs high school. Perhaps his most treasured job is president of the Glee club. He is a three year man

Rudy hails from Detroit, Michigan, despite the fact that he lists Chili, Wisconsin, his wife's home, as home town. His wife is a CSTC graduate of '46 — formerly Elvira Lindow. They have a three-year-old son, Gregory Charles.

Rudy spent three and one-half years in the army, six months of it as an Air Corps cadet at CSTC in 1943-44. He then went back into the infantry and left training camp a "second john" (that's a second lieutenant). He served overseas in Germany.

Majoring in Geography

Horn is planning on graduating with a major in geography and minors in history and biology. He is not heading for the teaching field right away, but is going on to study geography in a graduate school.

"Mr. Horn's" geography class at the high school, composed mostly of juniors and seniors, does not give the stern practice teacher "too much" trouble, Rudy reports.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Having been unwittingly endowed by a student fund, the Pointer, since their paper regretfully made its debut somewhere back in the stone age, has been carelessly basking in a stagnant policy of "why worry."

To more ably put across my point, I submit a self-answerable question. How much of a success would the Pointer be financially if it had to go out and sell its copies to the students? Now let me think.

Offer Trip to Europe For Winning Essay

A scholarship trip to Europe next summer, with all expenses paid, will be awarded to the person who writes the best essay entitled "Why I Would Like to Go Hosteling in Europe," it is announced by officials of American Youth Hostels, New York City.

The winner in nation-wide competition for this trip will join one of the supervised groups sponsored by AYH and will spend eight weeks abroad. He will have his choice of trips to the British Isles, Central Europe or France and the Rhineland.

Entrants may use any number of words they choose in their essays up to 1,000. Entries must be postmarked not later than April 15, 1951. The winner will be notified by mail within two weeks and his name will be announced in the summer, 1951, issue of Hosteling magazine.

Faculty Elect Their Officers and Chairmen

The election of faculty officers and committee chairmen by the faculty was held last Thursday. Those elected as officers are Leland M. Burroughs, chairman of the faculty, Robert S. Lewis, president of W.E.A. and A. W. T. C. local units, Miss Pauline Isaacson, secretary, Miss Monica Bainter, treasurer, and Miss May Roach, member of the executive board.

Those elected as chairmen of faculty committees are Kenneth W. Boylan, auditing; Miss Bessie May Allen, alumni; Robert S. Lewis, assembly and commencement; Warren G. Jenkins, curriculum; Leland M. Burroughs, forensics; Mrs. Mary S. Samter, resolutions; Gilbert W. Faust, social; Nelis R. Kampenga, library; and Fred J. Schmeckle, bus. They will take office at the beginning of the second semester in February.

Training Directors Holding Conference Here

The directors of training and the directors of the elementary and secondary divisions of the nine Wisconsin state teachers colleges have scheduled a conference at CSTC for December 13 and 14. Problems of common interest among the colleges will be discussed at the meeting.

in the Glee club and sang in the Mixed Chorus for a year. He is also a member of the Forum and the Social Studies club and spent a year in the International Relations club.

Drives College Bus

Six month's experience driving a Greyhound bus continued at Central State, for Horn is one of the college bus drivers. He also drives a high school bus on Thursday. Although he likes driving a bus, he is not considering it as a career. Rudy says bus driving is "okay for a single person," but he is married.

Merry Christmas

I welcome this opportunity to extend Christmas greetings to all of you. I hope it will be your good fortune to be able to spend most of the holiday period in your own family circle. For the fifth time in the past 10 years, our Christmas holiday season is overshadowed somewhat by the fact that we are engaged in a war, and not all family circles will remain complete. Nevertheless, the message of the season is "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men," and I hope the spirit of that message will prevail in your activities throughout.

Wm. C. Hansen, President

Christmas 1950

Peace and Good Will Toward Men?

Christmas — 1950. Is there heard anywhere in this bewildered world a sigh of relief that at least the human race has come this far, to celebrate the anniversary of the birth of Christ? Considering how diligently man places all the odds against himself, his continued presence on this earth is a miracle. Perhaps, however, during these brief magic days of Christmas, it isn't proper to dwell on past mistakes and bad faith.

At some time in their lives, most people attempt to "turn over a new leaf," repeating softly to themselves, "Everything's going to be different from now on!" Now it would not be out of place in that respect to consider the vow of the free world in 1945 never again to be caught short. "It's going to be different the next time" — remember? Then think of the first Christmas and imagine all mankind standing in wonder at the manger the night of Christ's birth, promising, in all honesty, to be men of good will, ready to live in peace on this earth.

What Happened?

Well, what happened — and does it matter? Forgetful people and forgetful nations can renew old promises and will conceivably pull themselves together again and make something of the future, leaving the past to fester in their memories. 'Tis a time-honored way of doing things, but when will it end?

Some suffering character in the Bible once said that God would not suffer him to fall into the hands of his enemies. It is not certain whether this man was religious or excessively optimistic, but his hope is the essence of why we have a Christmas. Oh, Christmas is a pretty package, a tinsel of joy, wrapped in ribbons of laughter. For us, it's laid in a world of crystal white, echoing the shouted greeting of good will between men. Could it be possible that this picture has a different face, another meaning — that herein contained is the only chance of our civilization?

At any rate, it is worthwhile to reflect upon the first Christmas and Christmas — 1950.

The Roving Reporter Asks—

What Should Santa Bring to CSTC?

Attention Santa Claus! Prepare to load your bag with gifts galore. This week's roving reporter has asked CSTC students what they think you should bring our school this year. Here are their requests for a merry college Christmas.

Question: What should Santa bring to CSTC?

Sharon Sutton: "An automatic book-finder for the school library to make it easier on certain students."

Louis Jacoboski: "Please bring CSTC a college way of life that is high spirited. One where we can work together for our school, for the future and for the betterment of our nation."

Ruth Teetzen: "Elevators!!"

Verna Schaefer: "A whip for kids who don't attend school activities such as 'operation weekend' events, assemblies, and basketball games."

Ross Papke: "Please bring us a little device by which weekend plans which have never been done before will be possible and successful."

Norma Weber: "The guarantee that all good-looking men will be exempt from the draft."

Amy Tessmer: "A's for all students and beer in the bubbler."

Don Benz: "Out of consideration for the numerous landladies in Stevens Point, I wish Santa could give a June deferral to each male student and teacher at CSTC. My being single and of draft age has nothing to do with the request. Of course if Harry catches up on his letter writing and declares a national emergency (whatever that is) every hope because of you would be completely gone. Thanks, anyway."

Betty McGoff: "A Student Union."

Arlene Richmond: "Some brave gals who aren't afraid to enter the student lounge."

Howie Kumbier: "More deferments for men students!"

Bob Gruling: "The Thing."

Peggy Figel: "A swimming pool."

Marian Schwab: "Escalators."

Frances Gerber: "A longer Christmas vacation."

Tony Brylski: "I think that Santa Claus should bring so much snow that no one can go home for the holidays and all the students will have to spend the whole two weeks studying."

Training School Lunch Program Has Expanded

The Training School lunch program has expanded greatly since it made its first appearance this fall. At that time the average number of students taking advantage of the program was approximately 70, while at the present time, about 140 students are taking advantage of the program.

The major purpose of the hot lunch program is to provide a nutritious hot lunch for the rural students who attend the Training School. A secondary, but very important objective of the program, is to offer the student teachers training in the management and supervision of school lunch programs.

Since virtually all public schools are adopting similar programs, this training is thought to be very valuable.

Around the Circuit

The following is a quotation from the "Letters to the Editor" column of the Oshkosh Advance.

"Much has been said about the poor school spirit of the student body. The question may be asked, 'Where were the faculty members at this morning's student veteran sponsored program?' Very few were present. As a graduating senior, I realize it would be suicidal to sign my name to this; therefore, like a few fellow seniors, I wonder if it will see print."

This was followed by an editor's note as follows: "We shall expect a 'suicide' this week. The letter is printed because a 'senior's' name was known to a staff member. Letters to the editor must be signed."

Hard pressed for a demonstration, one of Platteville's student-fathers got up in front of his speech class and gave his nine month old son a nice soapy bath. P. S. — He got an "A".

Handel's "The Messiah" will be presented by Whitewater Teachers college on December 20. The leading parts will be sung by guest soloists from Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois. They will, however, get plenty of support from Whitewater's 98 voice college choir.

The laying of the cornerstone in Hathorn Hall, River Fall's new women's dormitory, is set for sometime this month. It was begun on July 31 and is named after Miss Irma Hathorn, dean of women for 29 years.

Eau Claire Teachers shared top honors with Notre Dame at the Bradley University speech tournament held last month. They both won ratings of superior in five events.

At Superior, Marilyn Pellerin, representing Tau Alpha Chi sorority, was chosen a "Petty Girl". The

Liberal Arts at Central State Is Still Undecided

The question of liberal arts at Central State Teachers college is still an undecided issue. A meeting of the Board of Regents was held recently but no further action toward the realization of such a program was taken. A bill passed by the 1949 legislature provides for the establishment of a liberal arts curriculum with the Board of Regents making the final decisions.

President William C. Hansen stated that it is a possibility that more definite action will be taken within the next six months.

Introducing Detecting Prof:

"Botanist Always Gets His Cultures"

Walter S. Sylvester pulled his genuine Dick Tracy Snapbrim Fedora ($1.75 at Woolworth's Kiddie Counter) to an appropriate angle and watched his Botany class file out the door on the trail of the illusive bacteria. He had given them their instruction; now they were on their own to bring back some good bacterial cultures. While he waited, he idly scrutinized a portion of the wall through his magnifying glass.

After a reasonable length of time, the groups returned, with the boys reeking of cigarette smoke and the girls rubbing the sleep out of their eyes. They all clutched their Petri dishes, however, and microscopes were quickly focused on their contents.

Sylvester gleefully peered at the results. "Ah, class, this Wisconsin river water culture is sensational. Its outlines are perfect!"

Several of the class snickered, for they saw that he had failed to put a judges were very impressed by her "beautiful eyes."

"Open House", a program on WTMJ-TV, recently featured Milwaukee State Teachers college. Various speakers told about the college facilities which are open to the public and entertainment was provided by the music department.

Those versatile LaCrosse athletes who are members of both the Cigar Bowl bound football team and the basketball team are really getting a workout these days. They practice football every afternoon and basketball every night. What a life!

Social Studies Questionnaire Will Ask Opinions of Students

Son Will Speak at Historical Meeting

Mrs. Mildred L. Williams will spend part of her Christmas vacation in Chicago, where she plans to go in order to see her son, William Appelman Williams, who has been invited to speak at the American Historical Society meeting at the Stevens hotel in Chicago, December 30.

Dr. Williams will speak on "Raymond Robins and Russian-American Relations, 1917-1938."

To get a sampling of student opinion, the Social Studies club will conduct a monthly poll in questionnaire form. Students are asked to clip these questionnaires from the Pointer, fill them in, and put them into a ballot box which will be placed near the library for that purpose. These public opinion polls will be conducted once a month.

The objective of this questionnaire (which is to be a regular monthly feature of the Social Studies club) is to obtain a cross section on current national and international issues. The results will be announced the following week in the Pointer. The Social Studies club feels justified in carrying on this program if only 100 students tear out the questionnaires and give their opinions. (Over 300 students voted in the Social Studies straw vote this fall at election time.)

Placements Available For Various Positions

Dr Raymond E. Gotham has announced that placement opportunities not only in the field of education, but for various positions are available through the Placement office. Recent placements in the teaching field include Patricia Harrison, who has accepted a position teaching a second grade at Chippewa Falls, and Marcella Schantz who has been offered a third grade at Rothschild. Both girls finish in February.

Addresses Air Reserve

Raymond E. Specht, CSTC geography instructor, spoke on Monday night to officers and men of Flight C, 9663 Volunteer Air Reserve Squadron. Mr. Specht's address concerned the geography of the Soviet Union, with particular emphasis on the economic geography of that country.

This reserve unit holds its meetings at the college.

Miss Hansen Tells of Christmas in Hawaii

Mele Kalekikama (pronounced Ma la Ka le ke ma ka) is the greeting you would hear if you were to spend your Christmas in Hawaii. The language and the climate are about the only things that you would find very different from Christmas in America, though, according to Miss Alice Hansen, seventh grade critic teacher, who taught for two years in Hawaii.

Being a territory of the United States, Hawaii has picked up the traditions and customs of the United States with very few exceptions. The same songs are sung. Santa comes to all, even Buddhists, who have picked up the day for another holiday. Sometimes palm trees are used for Christmas trees, but evergreens are imported along with holly and mistletoe.

Christmas cards often show pictures of the palm tree, green grass huts, brown skinned Hawaiians, and the native flowers, hibiscus, ginger and bird of paradise, rather than the United States traditional snow scenes.

Mr. Sylvester Attends Wis. Pollution Hearing

Walter S. Sylvester recently attended a conference of vital importance to every Wisconsinite. This was the public hearing of the Wisconsin Pollution committee which was held at Wausau on December 6.

State biologists and engineers appeared before the committee to give facts collected during the past year on industrial pollution of state waters. The representatives of industry then gave their stand and compromises were made by the committee.

Mr. Sylvester stated that excellent progress was made by the hearing and that the present board is the most competent one of recent years.

He also is planning to attend the organization meeting of the Citizen's National Resources association of Wisconsin to be held Saturday, Dec. 16, at Madison. This new organization will endeavor to combine all sportsmen, conservation, and industrial groups into one active body for the furthering of plant and wildlife conservation.

Mr. Lewis Gives Talk To Waupaca School Teachers

Robert S. Lewis spoke to the Waupaca city school teachers on Monday, December 11, at 3:15 o'clock. His subject was "Outside School Walls," a talk on the use of field trips in schools.

The talk was given in connection with a movie Mr. Lewis has secured from Montclair State Teachers college at Montclair, New Jersey. It is a film showing a group of students visiting a session of the United Nations in New York as part of their social science work.

Point Cagers Will Battle Green Gulls for First Conference Test

The Pointers will start playing for keeps on Wednesday night, December 20, when they engage the Milwaukee Green Gulls on the latter's home court. It will be the first conference test for the Purple and Gold squad.

Coach Guy Quandt is facing a tremendous rebuilding job this winter solstice. Gone are eight lettermen who were chiefly responsible for the big city dwellers' second place standings in last year's conference standings. Three returning monogram winners form the backbone of the "beer city" five. They are Wesley

Smith and Tom Pautsch, guards and Bob Kuhlman, center.

Milwaukee and Central State have both played one common foe, Milton. The Miltonians polished off the Gulls at Milton 61-59 and the Pointers in turn knocked off Milton, 64-55. However, the Pointers seem to be allergic to out-of-town courts and the outcome should be a close, tight game.

Coach Quandt will probably throw his entire traveling squad into the foray. The Pointer mentor has been employing a platoon system and will look to its added success on Wednesday.

★★ Knights Beat Pointers In See-Saw Game 79-64 ★★

The St. Norbert Knights finished strong on Monday night to nip a fighting Pointer crew, 79-64. The tide changed several times throughout the contest.

Romie Kosnar, leaping tena guard, led both teams in scoring with 21 points. Heading the Pointer offense was Don Schneiders with 15 points, Chet Polka with 14 markers and "Honus" Wagner with 13 points.

The Knight most responsible for the great Norbertine second half drive was Gene Biesenthal. The speedy guard dumped in six fast buckets immediately after the start of the second half to put the Knights in front.

Coach Quandt expressed satisfaction with the performance of his charges. The "enormous crowd" of Pointer participants in the game played to the hilt throughout the contest.

Ramblers and Phi Sigs Top Intramural Leagues

Dave Case and his Rambler aggregation paced the Red Division of the intramural basketball league with three straight victories. Following closely behind are the Jays, just one half game behind with a three and one record.

In the White Division the pace is set by the Phi Sigs and the All Stars, who have yet to taste defeat, while in the Blue Division three teams are tied for the league lead with one victory and no defeats.

Pieper's Collegiates Down Fond du Lac 52-46

The Collegiates, coached by Edgar W. Pieper, extended their winning streak to three straight victories as they defeated the Fond du Lac Business college last Wednesday night, 52-46.

Center Ronald Mehlum led both teams in scoring with 15 points. Ray Zwolinski also dumped in 13 points for the Pieper club.

The Collegiates, in addition to playing preliminary games prior to the varsity contests, are also entered in the St. Peter's League. Their record in this league stands at two wins and no defeats. The first win for the exiles came at the expense of City News, 59-37. Win number two was registered over the Phi Sigs 68-35.

FIFTH QUARTER

Last Wednesday night's opener with Milton gave the crowd all kinds of thrills and spills. The first shocker came before the tip-off. Coach Quandt pulled a big surprise when he started his so called "rushing five". These five "understudies" rushed the Wildcats right off their pins. The usually effective Dale Showers was bottled up during the entire game. The Purple and Gold mentor then threw in his scoring punch of Wagner, Polka, Schneiders, et al and tied the game.

The Pointers compiled a very creditable shooting average, hitting the hoop 20 times out of 58 attempts. The downstamers made 20 out of 76 attempts.

CONGRATS TO THE STUDENT COUNCIL AND THE BAND.

The pep rally held last Wednesday should have aroused the student body to the fact that Central State also has a basketball team to support.

Along with the pep rally, the eternal question of the effect of school spirit comes into the picture. What obstacles can a team overcome when a tremendous urge to win prevails? A few weeks ago this question was answered by a fired up Navy football team in their annual battle with Army. Although the experts picked the Cadet's to win by at least 20 points, the Middies pushed the Army squad all the way back to the banks of the Hudson River. The Navy win was a classic example of the result of a great desire for victory. Here at Central State, our basketball squad is ready to enter league competition. Although the Purple and Gold squad this year is rated as an average squad with average potentialities, our winning percentage could soar sky high with increased school spirit. It is necessary that every student that sings "The Purple and Gold" possess a tremendous desire for victory.

GOOD BASKETBALL HEAD — Central State Teachers college's Guard Jack Meleski has a good basketball head on his shoulders — at least that's the way it looked when this picture was taken during Wednesday night's game at P. J. Jacobs High school gym. The Pointers whipped the Milton college five for their first victory of the season. Those players that can be identified are Meleski, left, and Dick Kiefert, 13, and Bill Lipke, 24, of Milton.

Pointers Shock Milton, Win Encounter 64-55

Coach Hale Quandt threw a shock into the fans, but a bigger one into the Milton cagers last Wednesday at P. J. Jacobs gym by starting five, unheralded figures on the hardcourt. With determined aggressiveness these five, Rued, Miller, Schadewald, English and Meleski, lacking in height but sparkling in speed, rushed the Milton five into submission. By the time the worthy opponent regained his balance, there was a host of the old reliables around, Polka, Wagner, Schneiders, to mention a few, who proved to be more than a match for Milton. The Pointers won 64 to 55.

Leading the starting five was Gerald Rued, a senior playing his first year of varsity ball. His aggressive floor play and shooting ability were beautiful to watch. However, it is difficult to single out any one individual in this game, for the scoring was evenly divided and the victory truly belonged to the team. It belonged to every one of the 15 players Coach Quandt used in winning, and it belonged to Coach Quandt whose successful strategy played a deciding role in the victory.

Athletic events can not be won by players alone. The sentiment of Central State students is very instrumental in making this a successful season of basketball.

Around the basketball circuit we find that the Platteville Teachers are having difficulties winning their first game. Their third straight loss was inflicted by Western Illinois Teachers, 56-51. La Crosse's part time bounceballers took time out from football duties to defeat Winona, 66-63. Superior won over Macalester, 61-53.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION. Tom Curry and John Knipsel of La Crosse and Pat Smithwick of St. Norbert received honorable mention on the Associated Press annual little All-American team.

Jerry Stenz gained recognition from the American Bowling Congress for recently cleaning the four, six, seven, ten pin split. Stenz was the 27th fortunate in the country to clean the so-called "double pinochle," the fourth in the state, and the first in the city.

Knudtson's Market Lengthens Lead in College Bowling League

Knudtson's Market stretched their lead in the College Bowling League by taking a three game series from the second place Belke Lumber Company. The Campus Cafe knocked Don's Coney Island out of third place by taking all three games of their series. The AKL dropped two to the Chi Deltis and the Brunswick took two from the Phi Sigs making a three way tie for the cellar.

The top three high individual series were rolled by Jerry Stenz with a 578, Willy Thomas, 545, and Bill

Conachen with a 543.

"Bugs" Stenz also led in the high individual single with 212, but was followed closely by Willy Thomas, who topped a 205.

High single honors went to the Campus Cafe, who blasted a total of 930, followed by the Chi Deltis with an 879 total.

High team series also went to the Campus crew with a total of 2584 and Knudtson's took second with 2472.

100 Hear Arthur Jorgenson Speak At AKL 4th Annual Venison Dinner

Nearly 100 gathered at Nelson Hall for Alpha Kappa Lambda's fourth annual venison dinner and program on Saturday evening, December 9. Arthur Jorgenson, supervisor of education, Wisconsin Conservation department, gave the main address of the evening, presenting a balance sheet of conservation activities in Wisconsin.

Following Mr. Jorgenson's address, Mrs. Warren Jenkins presented the $50 Fox River Valley Garden club's scholarships to Bob Cook and Galen Parkinson. The program was concluded with a movie, "Sunrise Serenade" recently purchased by the conservation department.

Musical numbers included baritone solos by Bill Cook, accompanied by Frank Wesley. Gene Raddant, president of AKL, presided at the dinner.

Guests of honor, introduced by Walter R. Sylvester and Fred J. Schmeckle, included the following, several of whom were in Stevens Point for a conservation meeting on Saturday afternoon: Douglas Hunt, member of the Wisconsin conservation commission; George Sprecher and H. T. J. Cramer, assistant directors of the Wisconsin conservation department; W. T. Calhoun, head of the division of education and information, Wisconsin conservation department.

Edward Schneberger, head of fish management division, Wisconsin conservation department; Russ Nugeberger, supervisor of conservation clubs, Wisconsin conservation department; Walter Scott, administrative assistant, Wisconsin conservation department; Robert Travis, chairman of the assembly committee on conservation; Harvey Abraham, assemblyman and member of the conservation committee and legislative council.

History Classes Name Mac "Man of the Year"

A poll taken last Monday and Tuesday among 92 students of Dr. Harold M. Tolo's history classes showed that General Douglas MacArthur was the local choice for the honor of being "Man of the Year" by a vote of almost five to one over his nearest opponent, Premier Joseph Stalin. MacArthur received 47 votes and Stalin, 10. Secretary of State Dean Acheson almost edged out Stalin with nine CSTCers supporting him.

That popularity is a pickle thing is shown by a comparison of last year's polls with this year's. President Harry S. Truman, 1948's winner, and Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, CSTC's choice last year, did not receive a single vote in this year's poll. And General MacArthur, who won by such a overwhelming majority this year, received but one vote last year and none in 1948.

16 other candidates received from one to five votes in this year's poll. They are Senator Robert Taft, Senator Joseph McCarthy, U. N. Delegate Warren Austin, Winston Churchill, Trygve Lie, George Marshall, Jawaharlal Nehru, Al Jolson, Hopalong Cassidy, Charles Kellogg, Monsignor Sheen, Phil Harris, Mao Tse-tung, Ralph Bunch, Pearl Mesta, and Eleanor Roosevelt.

of the 1950 award of outstanding conservationist in Wisconsin; Larry Whiffen, president of the Milwaukee county conservation alliance and member of the executive council of the Wisconsin conservation congress; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wilsie, the former a member of the education committee of the Wisconsin conservation congress.

Les Woerpel, president of the Wisconsin Federation of Conservation clubs; Leo Gwidt, chairman of the Portage county delegation to the Wisconsin conservation congress; Tony Jelich, Portage county conservation warden; Mrs. F. Hammerstrom, research biologist, Wisconsin conservation department; and M. P. Pinkerton, Portage county agent.

Students Rate Operation Week-End Parties and Ball Complete Success

Ask anyone who was there, and he'll tell you that the "Operation Week-end" activities on the campus of Central State were a complete success. Friday night was perfect for skating, and the party following at the Campus Cafe defrosted everyone, both through the steaming hot chile, and the contagious friendliness of the students.

A really collegiate atmosphere enveloped the entire room with its group singing and comradeship. The large room was filled to capacity, and the students showed their diversity of tastes by appreciating both the classical perfection of Gundaris Pone's violin solos, and the up-to-date syncopation of Frank Wesley's piano playing. Everyone "got into the act," and there was much reluctance to leave when the party was over.

Sweater Ball Success

The Sweater Ball, too, was a gala affair. Proving that fun is where you find it, several students spent the afternoon decorating the Training school gym, and the Cinderella result put everyone in the mood for dancing. The professional sounding student orchestra, too, won raves from many of the dancers.

The highlight of the evening was the choosing of the best looking sweaters (male and female). By popular vote, Marjorie Benson and Bob McMann received the $5 gift certificates contributed by the Quality Store and Modern Toggery Shop, respectively.

Faculty guests at the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Raddant, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Boylan, and Mr. and Mrs. David K. Heenan.

To be a courteous driver means not only obeying all traffic laws but also giving other drivers a break. Impoliteness in driving is annoying to other drivers and may cause them to take unnecessary chances. Driving manners are just as important as table manners.

DON'T BE A SLOW POKE

1. When we drive too slowly in traffic we are unnecessarily restricting the flow of traffic.

2. Just as we keep out of the way of oncoming traffic we should not be an obstruction to traffic behind us.

3. "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you" is a good rule to follow in traffic.

The girls from Clintonville, Barbara Hanson, Marian Rulseh, and Jackie Piehl, provided entertainment by way of some easy on the ears harmony, and Andy Redmann and Dick Davis each acted out humorous pantomimes. Over 200 students and guests participated and enjoyed the Sweater Ball.

Sunday night, the Nelson Hall recreation room provided a fitting finale for the weekend. Card playing, dancing and group singing, combined with plenty of hot dogs and hot chocolate for everyone, made the week-end activities complete.

Offering Scholarship For Cataloging Records

Sometime either immediately before or immediately after Christmas, a CSTC student is to be chosen to receive a $200 scholarship for organizing and cataloging archaic Portage County papers and records, which cannot be destroyed.

This fall the Wisconsin State Historical Society went through these records for the county to determine if they could be destroyed. The county wished to evaluate the overcrowded vaults for newer records. A few were destroyable, but the majority had to be saved. Those which must be saved are in a very unorganized condition.

Dr. Warren G. Jenkins, representing the Portage County Historical society, appeared before the County Board proposing that $250 be appropriated for the purpose of cataloging these records. Dr. Jenkins also said that the college was petitioning the State society for the right of being a "sub-depository" for these records. The Board approved the proposal for the $250 and stated that it would give $200 to a CSTC history major of good scholastic standing, who will do the cataloging.

CSTC Christmas Spirit:

Artists Create Winter Wonderland

Walking into the art room these days is almost like paying a visit to Santa's workshop at the North Pole. The art students here at CSTC would put even Santa's busy elves to shame with their industry and enthusiasm. A really wonderful Christmas atmosphere is created through the able efforts of the art instructor, Miss Edna Carlsen, and the use of scissors, colored paper, and a little imagination by her students.

As soon as you enter the room you will be greeted by the many jolly Santas which seem to be everywhere — the plump little yarn dolls, the round red figures made from apples, and the smiling pictures of the good Saint pinned on the wall board. You will see his sleds being pulled by reindeer made of pipe cleaners or cut from cardboard. There are happy snowmen of plastic foam or cotton. Tree ornaments hang from the wall-board and a wreath is in the window.

The Yuletide spirit is further evidenced by the array of Christmas trees of various shapes and all sizes — some are paper, others are waxen candles, and some are branches painted white and decorated with miniature ornaments.

At the back, decorated with evergreens, is a Madonna and Child before which burn six white candles. There is also a Madonna and babe and angels cut from plastic foam. These figures will be used as decorations for the Christmas concert. Bernice Dehlinger, Eleanore Curtis, Dona Dahm, Dolores Newhall, and Gerald Rued were the art students who helped to complete this project.

And this is only the beginning. New ideas and projects are pouring in daily, and promise to make the art room a Christmas wonderland to delight any child or adult. Yes, it's wonderful! It's Christmas in the art room.

This enthusiasm and Christmas spirit is carried over in the dormitory. A lighted tree stands in the corner of the living room. A Yule log, red candles, and evergreens are also present. Downstairs in the recreation room a huge banner welcomes "ye merry weekenders." Another decorated tree stands near the fireplace and the mantel is decorated with evergreens and candles. The bulletin boards are festively decorated with angels and stars and carolers.

Want to Practice Teach Next Semester? Get Busy

Dr. Raymond E. Gotham has announced that all students who plan to apply for their initial practice teaching for the second semester are requested to do so before the Christmas vacation. Only those students who receive permission to take practice teaching from the directors of their divisions will be scheduled. Conferences concerning practice teaching assignments can be had in the main office of the Training school.

ents selected to enact the roles of the shepherds and the Wise Men. Leland M. Burroughs will again read the scripture message describing the heavenly event. The song of the virgin, "Slumber, Jesus, Slumber" will be sung by Connie Callsen, who takes the part of the Virgin, and "We Three Kings of Orient Are," by Franz Shubert, and "Cantique de Noel," will be included in the portrayal of the holy scene. Soloists will be Harriet Marking and Julie Dean.

The part of Joseph will be taken by Iver Erickson, the three kings by Gordon Sorensen, Marvin Mayer and Clarence Dallman, and the shepherds by Donald Stassel, Michael Piekarski and George Daniel.

Gundaris Pone, Latvian DP student at CSTC, will be the featured soloist of the evening, playing the violin selection "Romance in F Major," Franz Shubert. He will be accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Elza Pone.

"My Sheep Were Grazing," a 17th century Christmas ballad, and "The Christmas Story," W. A. Goldsworthy, will be sung by the combined Mixed chorus and Training school chorus. Miss Helen Heel is the director of the Training school chorus and will direct the first song.

Chorus Ends

The Mixed chorus will appear last on the program singing "Blessed Are They," F. Melius Christiansen, "Oh Lord, We Worship Thee," Johan S. Bach, "Let Thy Holy Presence," P. Tschesnokoff, and the "Hallelujah Chorus," George F. Handel, the last accompanied by the college orchestra. Muriel Held is accompanist for the chorus. Soloists will be Bryon Moen and Carla Kruse.

The concert will be open to all college students and faculty members on Monday evening, admittance by
